The First Signs of Disease are a Poor Complexion, Weakness, Emaciation and Lack of Vitality.

The first sign of returning health is increase of flesh, energy and strength Weakness, emaciation and lack of ambition simply mean that certain indispensable substances like inorganic Iron, which you must have to give strength to your blood, have become exhausted. To renew flesh, muscle and strength, the Iron must be restored. Chase's Blood and Nerve Tablets contain Iron in an active and condensed form with such tonics as Nux Vomica, Gentian, Aloin, Capsicum and Zinc Phosphide, which assists nature in making them a valuable flesh and strength builder and an efficient restorative to the nerves, giving health to the weak, emaciated, convalescent and overworked. Bemidji, Minn., Nov. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—C. E. Brown, Crookston, this morning started to judge the exhibits at the show of the Beltrami County Poultry association that opened here Wednesday in the new Kaplan building. Tonight the annual banquet will be held.

The exhibits of birds are pronounced unusually fine, many being brought here from the show just held at Thief River Falls.

Mondell Only Slightly Injured.

Washington, Nov. 26.—Representative Mondell of Wyoming, Republican leader of the house, suffered only a slight injury in his fall at his home here Tuesday, it was said at his office. The majority leader, his secretary said, would be back to his office today.

COLBY EXPECTED TO REPLY TO MEXICO

Washington, Nov. 26.—(By the Associated Press.)—Secretary Colby is expected to make known before his departure for South America on Sunday or Monday the nature of his reply to the recent letter of R. V. Pesquiera, confidential agent here of the provisional government of Mexico, setting forth the claims of that government to recognition by the United States.

Recent informal conferences between state department officials and Mr. Pesquiera are understood to have cleared the way for such an announcement. It was believed the Mexican agent had full knowledge of the position the American government would take when he left yesterday on a hurried trip to Mexico City.

While officials decline to discuss the substance of the reply now being drafted, it is believed to contain specific references to the matters in dispute between the two countries and a statement of what the United States will consider as a satisfactory solution by Mexico of some of her problems.

To Rebuild Birchmount.

Bemidji, Minn., Nov. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The directors of the Bemidji association are behind a movement to rebuild Birchmount Beach hotel on the shores of Lake Bemidji which was burned and after conferring with George Cochrane of that concern it was decided to float stock locally in a new corporation. Mr. Cochrane stated that he would be willing to take stock in the reorganized company to the extent of the investment now represented in the property. The directors and Messrs. Lyean, Vandersluis and Harnwell were named to confer with Mr. Cochran on this matter.

WEATHER IS HELPING ITASCA WOODS WORK

Grand Rapids, Minn., Nov. 26.—Logging operations in Itasca county are now well started. The weather has been all that lumbermen could ask who are just starting their winter's work, as there has been no rain and but little snow, making it possible to cut roads, clear landings and skidways, and to deck logs in the woods at a minimum of expense. A large number of camps have been opened during the past two weeks, and others will be started up in a few days.

Timber operators expect to be able to do better this winter than last, as there is a noticeable difference in the amount of money required to run a camp. Wages are appreciably lower, a cut of 10 per cent having been made a few days ago, and a still further reduction being expected. Prices of provisions are also lower. A considerable saving is noted in meats, flour, hay, oats and other camp necessities that must be purchased in large quantities.

Camps Now Working.

C. M. Erskine has three camps established in township 59, range 23, where his crews are cutting ties and pulpwood. The pulpwood will go to the Itasca Paper company. McVeigh Bros. of Grand Rapids have some camps farther north and are cutting pulpwood and also getting out timber for the Itasca Cooperage company.

Heavy logging operations will be conducted in the Bigfork section as usual. James Reid, the cedar operator, will have a number of camps this winter. One is located on Gale brook, east of Bigfork, the timber to be landed at the tracks in that village. Another camp will be some distance from Craig. Mr. Reid will also buy a large amount of timber from the settlers along the river. Peter Peterson of Bigfork has entered the logging business, and has a camp in the northwestern part of that township.

Aitkin School Vacation.

Aitkin, Minn., Nov. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The schools closed Wednesday for the Thanksgiving vacation and among the teachers leaving for the holiday were Misses Wilson, Grant and Quigley and Mrs. Quigley to Duluth; Misses Jacobs, Ludwig and Redlands to Minneapolis, and Miss Featherstone to Verndale.

DRINK HOT TEA FOR A BAD COLD

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of this Hamburg Tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacupful at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once.

It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.—Advertisement.

CAREER DUE TO MOTHER

Maj. Fauntleroy's Exploits for Poland Result of Boyhood Memories.

Pine Bluff, Ark., Nov. 26.—His mother's deep-seated sympathy for Poland, aroused by her poring over European history during a lonesome girlhood, is believed to be largely responsible for the career of Maj. Cedric Earle Fauntleroy, U. S. A., with the Polish air forces, where the major has been conspicuously mentioned during the past few months for his exploits against the Russian Bolsheviki. He is now in the United States on a mission for the Polish government, and plans soon to visit his mother, Mrs. May Fauntleroy, who lives at McGehee, Ark., a few miles south of this city.

"When I was a girl," Mrs. Fauntleroy said recently, "I lived with my grandparents. There were no children in the household and none near us. The five adults in the household talked of things that did not interest me. I was fond of reading, however, and grew to spend most of my time in grandfather's library. There I pored over big volumes of history. Poland's misfortunes made a deep impression on me.

Made Grievances Her Own.

"Childlike, I made the troubles of oppressed peoples my grievances. I have restored the Polish kingdom hundreds of times, in my imagination, and shed numerous tears because of the plight of Poland within the last century. I have fought her enemies and killed the plotters who destroyed her.

"Kosciusko was one of my much-mourned visionary friends, and according to my thinking, 'Freedom Shrieked When Kosciusko Fell' was the grandest ever written.

"Naturally, when Cedric was a child, I told him the stories of the tribulations of the Poles, and consoled him with the thought that some day, when he became a man, he might help set Poland free. I am sure that those memories have spurred him on in his activities against the Russians."

MADE LIQUOR FOR OWN USE; PARDONED BY THE PRESIDENT

Washington, Nov. 26.—President Wilson granted a pardon yesterday to John S. Schweinberg who pleaded guilty several weeks ago in Cincinnati to a charge of operating a liquor still. Schweinberg was sentenced to serve six months in jail.

The court and prosecuting attorney recommended Schweinberg be pardoned on the ground that he had been making liquor only for his own use and was ignorant of the law.

MERCHANT TAILORS TO ADVERTISE FACTS

Cincinnati, Ohio, Nov. 26.—Sponsored by a group of business men prominently identified with the wholesale woolen and trimming industry and leading retail dealers, there has been organized the Merchant Tailors' National Service bureau.

Chris E. Kriger, president of the Merchant Tailors' Designers' association, which is affiliated with the new organization, explained that "the object of the bureau is to conduct a country-wide advertising campaign with the purpose in mind of presenting to the general public the true facts regarding the merchant tailoring industry.

reflected here, and aim to add to the friendly understanding which becomes our two republics in their exceptional intimacy here.

"We are rather more than friendly neighbors, affecting the cup of most cordial association. We are spiritual partners in one of the gigantic advances of the twentieth century transportation. Your freedom and our genius and resources combined to link the oceans and the day will come when the commerce of the world will stage its surpassing pageant here.

Inspired by Trade.

"One cannot escape the inspirations and the impelling influences of commerce and trade. The adventurous navigators and discoverers came hither and revealed a Western continent to the Old World, but they came because they were inspired by a trade. Trade has made peoples eminent throughout all time, and this fact is no less true today than in the past.

"In your own republic you are aspiring to enhance your trade. The supreme problem is to further this essential trade, hold it everlastingly righteous and not forget the finer human accompaniments which are essential to spiritual, as well as material, upbuilding. It would be folly to produce and exchange if we failed to educate and uplift and exalt.

"You spoke of our America being mirrored here in our canal zone activities. I as well believe and trust that you find in the zone a reflex of a righteous America which believes in liberty for others which we demand for ourselves, and that you catch that spirit of ample justice and fair dealing which indexes the best human relationship.

Assures Friendship.

"I need not assure you anew of the friendship of our United States for your republic. We are deeply interested in the development of your good fortune. More, we want our proven friendship for you to add to the confidence of all America, North, Central and South, in our people and our government. We crave friendly relations, and we wish to promote them and make them abiding. We want a spirit of fraternal Americanism which befits the American continent, not in selfishness, not in rivalry of the Old World, but in a mutuality of interest and helpfulness to one another.

"Indeed I may speak for our republic. We choose peace and amity with all just peoples, and we crave for all Americans the happy relationship and cordial relationship and good will which you have uttered tonight and which I can so sincerely reciprocate and pledge to you and to your people."

wearing away, has been filled in with hydraulic dredgings from Superior harbor basin and is now in good condition.

Nearly Completed.

"The existing project is 95 per cent completed. With the exception of completing the enlargement of Superior harbor basin authorized by the river and harbor act of July 27, 1916, and completing the dredging of a shoal point in the southerly end of East Gate basin authorized by the river and harbor act of March 2, 1919, the existing project is regarded as completed."

Because of the balance on hand, no money is to be asked of congress this year for the Duluth project. It is estimated that not more than $63,500 will be spent this year and that the total necessary to complete the project will be $265,000.

Washington, Nov. 26.—Harbor and waterways improvement and maintenance will require appropriations of $78,207,665 for the fiscal year of 1921, according to estimates of Maj.-Gen. Lansing H. Beach, chief of army engineers, in his annual report made public today. He recommended a rivers and harbors bill total of $57,206,715, supplemented by sundry civil items aggregating $10,982,950 for continuing contracts and other items in other money bills.

The recommendations will be incorporated in the annual estimates submitted to congress at its session Dec. 6.

The Mississippi river, from its mouth to Minneapolis, will require $16,190,000, including provision for the Mississippi river commission, the report said. Muscle Shoals nitrate plant $10,000,000, New York harbor and its adjacent waters $5,800,000, the Ohio river $5,585,000. Philadelphia and the Delaware river will require $3,857,000. BOLD DIAMOND ROBBERY

The clerks had no sooner left than the bandit who was examining the diamonds threw ammonia from a bottle into the face of Mr. Henricksen. Mr. Henricksen staggered to his feet and ran from behind the counter to the place where the watchmaker was busy. The other bandit, with drawn revolver, struck Mr. Henricksen over the head with the gun and knocked him out. The clerk dropped behind the counter and escaped with a slight blow on the head.

The sack of diamonds was grabbed and the two men rushed out of the door just as Mr. Skogen was returning. This clerk met the men at the door but they brushed past him and, walking fast to Fourth avenue west, disappeared up the avenue.

Chase Is Unproductive.

O. F. Collier, president of the O. F. Collier Lithographing company, saw the men as they went past and when one of the clerks from the jewelry store came out crying "stop thief" he also took up the chase. The appearance of the clerk in short sleeves attracted the attention of Sergeant David Perry who, at the time, was watching the excavation work for the new water and light building. He jumped into an automobile driving past at the time and drove up Fourth avenue in the chase. At Second street the officer was informed the men had gone farther up but just below Fourth street a woman informed the officer that two men had passed that way but were headed down town.

The police were immediately called and given a description of the thieves. All sections of the city were notified and outside cities within a range of twenty-five miles were asked to be on the lookout for the robbers. It is not believed that the men have left the city and officers in all sections are searching diligently for them.

Heavy Loss in Diamonds.

The loss is confined exclusively to the diamonds taken. This is estimated at between $8,000 and $10;000. Among the valuables were two rings, one a diamond in a white fancy gold setting, the other a large stone in a man's ring.

The two men are described as being about the same height, 5 feet ten inches tall, well built, weighing about 170 to 175 pounds. The man who engaged the attention of Mr. Hendricksen is described as being well dressed and intelligent looking, with ruddy complexion, wearing a cap, a bluish V neck sweater and a three-quarter length overcoat. The other wore a mackinaw, a suit of a dark grey and a dark soft hat.

Up to a late hour today no trace of the two men had been found. A close watch is being kept of every avenue of escape and the descriptions of the two bandits have been given every uniformed and plain clothes man on the force as well as the entire personnel of the sheriff's office.

"I did not know what was going on at the other side of the store," said Mr. Blomstrom, who waited on one of the men. "The man who was looking at the watches pulled a long gun when he heard Mr. Henricksen yell, and I crawled under the counter. As I went under he hit me with something. I think it was his gun and I don't know what happened then until I found Mr. Henricksen lying beside me and the men pounding him with their guns. He was all covered with blood and groaning. As they went out Mr. Skogen came in and met them at the door putting their guns away. That is all I know of the affair."

ARREST HEAD OF SINN FEIN

Presided at Opening.

Arthur Griffith came into prominence in 1917, when he presided at the opening of the Sinn Fein conference in Dublin. In a by-election in June, 1918, he was elected to the house of commons for East Cavan and was returned for this constituency and Northwest Tyrone in the general election of the same year. Like the other Sinn Fein members, however, he refrained from taking his seat after the general election. Last year he was elected one of the vice presidents of the Sinn Fein organization. During the hunger strike of Lord Mayor MacSwiney of Cork he was the author of an appeal to President Wilson and all heads of governments on behalf of the lord mayor.

Prof. John MacNeill is a professor of law in the National university of Ireland. In May, 1916, he was found guilty by a court-martial of complicity in the Easter rebellion of that year and was sentenced to life imprisonment, but was released during 1917. In the general election of 1918 he was chosen to parliament as a Sinn Feiner, but did not take his seat.

Typhoid Breaks Out.

Dublin, Nov. 25.—There is an alarming outbreak of typhoid fever in the Skibbereen district. Several deaths are being investigated by the authorities, but no evidence has been uncovered to connect the outbreak with the alleged plot by the Sinn Fein to spread typhoid germs.

Prominent Inspector Wounded.

Dublin, Nov. 25.—Inspector Madden, who has been active against the Sinn Fein movement, was shot and wounded while walking along a street in Cork today. His wounds are not serious.

Constable Kidnaped.

Roskey, County Roscommon, Ireland Nov. 25.—Constable Dennehy was kidnaped Tuesday evening by armed men. Reprisals are threatened if he is not liberated.

Burn Buildings at Cork.

Cork, Nov. 25.—Several buildings were burned last night by a band of armed men. They gave the occupants of two houses only a minute's notice to clear out before setting them afire with petrol.

Protest to Pope.

Rome, Nov. 25.—Pope Benedict has received a protest, couched in strong terms, from the Irish episcopacy and clergy, headed by Cardinal Logue, primate of Ireland, against the "ferocious, bloody attacks of British police and troops on defenseless citizens, which are making victims of many of the innocent." Cardinal Gasparri, papal secretary of state, is to have an interview on the subject with Count De Salis, British minister to the Vatican.

him in the "dungeon" with a bread and water diet.

Testimony Corroborated.

Lonnie Williams, jointly indicted with Mason and four other negro circus hands for rape, also testified this morning. He corroborated the story about Mason being at work in the "big top" tent with him between 9 and 10 o'clock. Frank Spicer also testified that he was a property man with the show and was the one who got under the spinning table and kept it revolving while dogs and ponies performed on it. After that he rolled out the tubs for the elephants and attended to other duties of a property man, he said.

Mason was on the stand for cross-examination when court adjourned for the noon recess. He will be the last witness for the defense and the afternoon will be given over to rebuttal testimony on the part of the state and the summing-up arguments before the jury. It is regarded as likely that the case will be in the jury's hands late this afternoon.

HEALTH WEEK IS URGED BY GOVERNOR

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 26.—Governor J. A. A. Burnquist urges citizens of every community in Minnesota to observe next week as Health week and Dec. 5 as Health Sunday, that the entire state may realize the necessity of more vigorously fighting disease and give generous support to the 1920 Christmas seal sale, in a statement issued today.

A fund of $250,000, which has been determined as the least amount that will successfully finance Minnesota's fight against tuberculosis and other disease scourges next year, is the goal of the Christmas seal sale, which starts next Wednesday.

"After our annual Thanksgiving," states Governor Burnquist, "we are accustomed to begin preparations for the Yuletide season, when we make efforts to bring good cheer into every home, be it rich or poor, urban or rural.

"There can be little happiness in a home where death or serious illness is taking its toll. One of the best ways to spread Christmas cheer is through work for the alleviation of suffering and prevention of disease.

"I therefore urge that Dec. 5 be observed as Health Sunday in every church in Minnesota, so that the vital necessity for a continued and more vigorous warfare on tuberculosis and other preventable diseases be brought home to the people.

"I also urge that all business, social welfare, church and school organizations co-operate in the observance of Health week, beginning Monday, Nov. 29, with programs emphasizing the need for a more thorough knowledge of and necessity for the practice of the rules of health.

"Those who cannot aid in the public health movement by personal work, can give effective support to our public health organizations by purchasing Christmas seals and health bonds, the sale of which begins Dec. 1."

COURSE IN POLITICS TO START NEXT YEAR

Williamstown, Mass., Nov. 26.—An institution of politics, proposed by President Harry A. Garfield of Williams college, and authorized by the trustees in 1913, but delayed in opening by the war, will hold its first session at the college from July 28 to Aug. 27 of next year. Its object is to advance the study of politics and to promote a better understanding of international problems and relations. It is planned to have lectures by men of international prominence.

An unnamed benefactor has provided funds to cover the expenses of the institute for three years. It was announced that on his return to London, Ambassador Davis took with him an invitation to Lord Robert Cecil to participate in next year's session.

Board of Advisers.

Former President William Howard Taft; Archibald C. Coolidge, professor of history at Harvard; John Bassett Moore, professor of international law and diplomacy at Columbia; Philip M. Brown, professor of international law in Princeton; President Edwin A. Alderman of the University of Virginia; Jesse S. Reeves, professor of political science at Michigan university; President Edward A. Birge of the University of Wisconsin; W. W. Willoughby, professor of political science at Johns Hopkins university; President Harry Pratt Judson, University of Chicago, and James Brown Scott, secretary of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace.

CARLTON COUNTY MAN TAKES LIFE

Carlton, Minn., Nov. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Matt Emil Johnson, aged 30, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Johnson, who resides just across the road from the John Johnswold farm, in the town of Thomson, committed suicide by shooting, at his home last Monday morning. Mr. Johnson had been ailing with tuberculosis for some time and it is thought that despondency due to this was the cause of his deed. He is survived by his mother and two brothers, Fred and William, and one sister, all residing at home. They are all very progressive Finnish people and well liked in their neighborhood, which is about four miles from Carlton, on the Duluth road. The funeral will be held from the Finnish church next Sunday afternoon, with burial in the cemetery in the town of Thomson.

POLICE UNABLE TO LOCATE REVOLVER

Chicago, Nov. 26.—The disappearance of the revolver which released the bullet aimed at and striking dead Frank L. Mitchell Wednesday night caused the police today to believe Mrs. Geneva Mitchell's ready confession that she shot her husband while in the kitchen of their home.

Mrs. Mitchell's stories about the missing weapon ranged from one of her having thrown it in the yard to one that she threw it in the furnace. Search by the police was unavailing.

"Ritchie" and "Pinkie" Mitchell, Milwaukee pugilists, who the woman said were brothers of her husband, were expected here today for the inquest.

EXPORTS INCREASE, IMPORTS DECREASE

Washington, Nov. 26.—Exports during October increased by nearly $150,000,000 while imports decreased approximately $1,000,000 foreign trade figures made public today by the department of commerce show. Exports were valued at $752,000,000 against $605,000,000 in September, while imports were valued at $362,000,000.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed With Sulphur It Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular, because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it, and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft luster and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.—Advertisement.

FRIENDS START WORK IN RUSSIA

Philadelphia, Nov. 26.—The American Friends' service committee has announced that it is beginning relief work in Russia. It has just been notified that Miss Anna J. Haines of Moorestown, N. J., an experienced worker, who spent several years in Russia in relief work under the governments of the emperor and Kerensky, will soon arrive in Reval. She plans to go to Moscow, where she will cooperate with Arthur J. Watts, an English Friend, who has been working in Russia for the past six months.

Miss Haines will take $100,000 worth of supplies, mostly medical, into Russia, and she and her assistants will direct their distribution. The committee says the Friends will have complete control of all supplies sent to Russia and will allot them to institutions and the most needy of the civilian population. They will begin by distributing condensed milk, cod liver oil, chocolate, soap, shoes, stockings and woolen goods, in addition to medical supplies.

Medicines Needed.

Russia's greatest need today is reported to be for medical and sanitary supplies and clothing. The people of the agricultural districts are in want only of the medicines. Hospitals in Russia are said to have had no ether for five years and when operations are performed the patients are strapped to the operating tables.

Owing to the complete breakdown of the transport system in Russia, the greatest suffering was reported to the Friends to exist in large cities like Moscow and Petrograd, where a huge industrial population cannot obtain supplies. In those cities the distress is reported to be acute. Petrograd has lost 50 per cent of its population within the past four years.

Arthur J. Watts, the English Friend, moved about in Russia without any restriction by the soviet government and it is announced that the American Friends will have the same privilege. In October Mr. Watts cabled to the American Friends' service committee to send a representative to establish a permanent Anglo-American relief work. Miss Haines was sent in response to this call.

INDIANS GATHER CONES.

Cass Lake, Minn., Nov. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Indians of the Inger and Cut Foot Sioux district are making money gathering pine cones and shipping them to the forestry station here under the supervision of George Farley, Cut Foot Sioux forest ranger, where the seeds are extracted, and planted by men in charge of that department, the seedlings beings used in reforestry work in the Cass Lake national forest. This forest, which has a large area in Itasca county, extending from Ball Club to Inger, and across on the north side of Winnebigoshish lake to the county line, has also a considerable area in both Cass and Beltrami counties.

Mr. Farley reports that he has bought 604½ bushels of the cones this season, mostly gathered by Indians. One Indian made over $100 in this manner.

Methodists to Withdraw.

Atlantic City, N. J., Nov. 26.—The house of bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church, in session here today, decided to formally withdraw from the Interchurch World Movement, but to meet the obligation of $1,500,000 of the Methodist church pledged a year ago.

HOPE WILSON WILL ACCEPT

League Delegates Anxious for President to Act as Mediator.

Geneva, Nov. 26.—(By the Associated Press.)—The attitude among delegates of the assembly of the League of Nations toward the appeal of the league to President Wilson to act as mediator in the Armenian situation appears to be one of hope, with the expectation that the United States will relieve Europe and the league of an embarrassing question.

Behind the admitted necessity of doing something for Armenia there is a conflict of European interests involved. Great Britain, it is understood, would look with great disfavor on intervention by any power having rival interests. Action by the United States in Armenia, it is held, would involve no such complications.

In default of action by President Wilson, general opinion here is that France is the country most likely to offer favorable reply to the mediation appeal made by the council of the league yesterday to the various powers, at the same time the message to President Wilson was sent. Acceptance by France, however, it is understood, would be on condition of full support by the other powers.

President Receives Appeal.

Washington, Nov. 26.—President Wilson received today the appeal of the League of Nations that he act as mediator in the Armenian situation.

Mr. Wilson already has consented to fix the boundary lines of Armenia, but there was no information at the White House as to his ideas on the subject of mediation.

INCREASED THRESHER LICENSES IN ALBERTA

Edmonton, Alta., Nov. 26.—Thresher licenses issued by the provincial department of agriculture for 1920 exceed by 700 or 800 the mark set in 1919, and the total will reach at least 3,500, according to the government's statistics.

The officials estimated that the spring wheat yield for Alberta will be around twenty-five bushels an acre, one of the best in many years. The estimated average already struck by Federal authorities officially is twenty-two and one-half bushels for the province, with completion of official reports not likely until the middle of January. Last year the Dominion estimated an average of eight bushels of wheat for Alberta while the provincial records gave the general return of twelve bushels an acre.

Of the 3,500 threshing machines operating this season, about two-thirds are gas engine-driven and the others are operated by steam.

g Superior and even surit in boldness, Duluth today ed a daylight robbery which netted the thieves in the neighborhood of $10,000 and created a sensation on West First street which has perhaps never been equaled in crime annals of the city. Two men, apparently unaided in escape by a vehicle of any kind, robbed the jewelry store of A. L. and N. J. Henricksen at 321 West First street at 10 o'clock this morning, getting away with about $10,000 worth of unset diamonds, and up to noon not being caught although they left the store on foot and dashed up Fourth avenue west to Second street, where all trace of them was lost. The police are after them, believing that they are hiding in some of the alleys or outlying buildings not far from the scene of robbery.

THE lamp shades of today are expensive luxuries to buy, but any woman can afford to have a shade that would sell for a high price, if she is willing to pay for it in time and effort instead of dollars and cents.

Begin by studying your lamp and thus determine what size and shape of shade its height and contour demand. Of course a lamp may look well with shades of more than one style, just as you yourself find it possible to wear hats of different shapes; but there are two general rules governing height and diameter which will be found of great assistance in arriving at a decision. They are as follows:

The bottom diameter of the lamp shade should approximately equal the height of the exposed portion of the lamp.

The height of the shade, including fringe, if used, should be approximately two-thirds of the height of the lamp. Note that the latter does not include the electric bulbs and sockets, but only that part of the lamp which properly should be exposed when the shade is in position.—Good Housekeeping.

Badger Coeds Will Change Dance Methods

Madison, Wis., Nov. 26.—Jazz music is said to have brought conditions of dancing to a point at the University of Wisconsin where the dean of women, the dean of men, the owners of dance halls, and the girls are preparing to bring about a change.

"There is no denying that the music produced by the saxophone and the clarinet have a great deal to do with the quality of dancing," F. Louise Nardin, dean of women, said. "The cheek to cheek demonstrations and all other improper dancing are only cheap vulgarisms that reflect on the common sense of the girl. Wisconsin women are reacting against it as they should."

Action is to be taken through girls organizations to create comment unfavorable to the more recent methods of stepping the light fantastic dances. The Women's Self-Government association, the Mortor board, honorary senior women's organization; Crucible, honorary junior women's organization and the student senate all have taken active interest in the matter.

Fraternities and sororities will be asked to create committees responsible for censoring dances. Mrs. Nardin will recommend that a committee empowered to warn all who dance improperly, and then if they continue, to eject them from the dance be formed. It has been suggested that the saxophone and the clarinet be eliminated from the orchestras which furnish music for the dances.

Many Attracted to Shower at Orphanage

More than 250 friends of St. James orphanage were received by Rt. Rev. John T. McNicholas, bishop of the diocese of Duluth, at the orphanage yesterday afternoon, when the annual stocking shower for the little people of that institution, was observed. Mrs. Horace Magie presided during the hours, which were from 3 to 6 o'clock.

Donations of more than 600 pair of hose, together with a generous supply of shoes and a few toys, were gratefully received. The event of the afternoon which caused the greatest happiness to the little people of the orphanage, was the visit made by twenty-two little girls who have united in a group called the Sunshine club, and each of whom brought a nice warm pair of hose as a Thanksgiving gift to small boys and girls of the orphanage.

Litchfield, Minn., Nov. 26.—There are no exclusively masculine lines of endeavor, in the opinion of Mrs. Caroline Koerner, who at the age of 70 years has just retired after personally conducting a meat market here for forty years.

"If a woman wishes to do a thing, her sex is no particular handicap," Mrs. Koerner declares.

Side Talks

By Ruth Cameron.

ON FATHERS AND DAUGHTERS.

THERE is a certain kind of love which always charms me when I see an example of it. I refer to the love between a father and a daughter.

Of course, mother-love is the most powerful and the most unselfish love in the world, but the love between a mother and her little girl is something that is expected. We take it for granted that there is a close bond between them, but when we find a close bond between a father and his small daughter there is—to me, at least—something infinitely touching and appealing about this comradeship.

A Sight I Love to See.

I love to see a father walking off on a toot with a small daughter. More has been said about the father and son going off for their first hike or their first fishing excursion together, and that, too, is a sight that evokes a tender smile of sympathy and pleasure in their pleasure. But I like just as well to see a big man with his wee daughter trotting by his side, rigged out in her very best, her tiny hand folded in his big one—chattering as only a small child (and never a magpie, I am sure) could chatter.

There is an idea that the normal man wants a son more than he does a daughter, and that may be true. Man's philoprogenitiveness can hardly be satisfied without a son to carry on the name. A man with several daughters and no son is apt to feel cheated, and whether he does or not, is always pitied by his neighbors. But I think it is often true that when his family pride has been satisfied by the existence of a son, it is, nevertheless, the daughter in whom he really takes the keener pleasure.

How Many Men Spoil Their Daughters?

I know more than one man who is reasonably firm with his sons, but absolutely spoils a small daughter who can wind him around her finger.

Any man who is or has been truly in love with his wife is sure to be fascinated by this tiny replica of the charm in her that ensnared him. And the fact that this reincarnation is modified by the addition of some of his own qualities, and thus, perhaps, made easier for him to sympathize with and understand—put more into harmony with him, as it were—is the final touch of perfection.

I was thinking, when I began to write, especially of the relationship between the father and the wee daughter, but it is equally beautiful to see the companionship between them grow and develop when a small daughter grows into the big daughter.

A Bulwark for a Girl.

A mother walking proudly beside a tall son is a picture we always have loved to contemplate, but I think the companionpiece—the father glowing with pride over a lovely daughter—is just as appealing.

As girls go in more for athletics and for all the outdoor things, I think this comradeship is going to become more and more common. I know a girl who would rather play tennis with her father than almost anything else in the world, and out of that mutually loved game has grown a deep and understanding friendship between the two. Do you think any system of chaperonage would prove a greater bulwark to a girl's happiness than such a relationship with its inevitable calling forth of the wish to justify his pride and love? I doubt it.

By Laura A. Kirkman.

THE HOUSEKEEPER WHO SAVES.

I have received such an exceptional letter this week from one of my readers and I am going to print it here without any changes, as I believe my other reader-friends will find it as interesting as I have:

"Dear Miss Kirkman," it runs, "I have noticed that you often publish readers' discoveries dealing with the housekeeper's viewpoint and thought and inward struggles as well as those dealing with her household problems, and I am going to write you this letter in the hope that you will print it for other women to read. For it contains my secret of happiness—and others may find happiness, too, through it. I believe.

"I once read in some essay—one of Emerson's, I think—that either consciously or unconsciously everybody is seeking happiness. I have always been one of the unconscious seekers. For years I have lived alone, unmarried, with a small income to support me. I am now 37 (I can tell my age as I don't intend to sign my name to this letter!) I am not particularly economical by nature and up until this year have sort of 'jogged along,' making my month's income stretch through the month and not attempting to save anything out of it.

"But a few months ago the idea came into my head to start a savings bank account. I did it on impulse, never thinking what the step would mean in my life, never dreaming that saving would prove to be a great interest in my life—the thing for which I was unconsciously seeking.

"Everybody who has ever put a dollar in the savings bank knows that that dollar looks twice as big as a dollar outside of the bank (perhaps because it is drawing interest). No sooner had I got my little bank passbook home, than I began to think how many other dollars I could put into it! I began to scheme to save 5 cents here and 10 cents there, and just the fun of making my schemes 'pan out' meant equally as much to me as the knowledge that I was a little richer because of the few dollars saved.

"Now, I suppose there are many women who will say when they read this, 'Her so-called happiness is just the avaricious joy of the miser as he fingers his gold.' But this is not true. My new happiness, for which I have searched unconsciously all these years, springs from a great interest which is constant and which gives me an occupation—cutting down my expenses as much as possible in order to save.

"There are women all over this country who have never saved a cent. And many of these women are unhappy; some of them are seeking happiness in a round of pleasure, some of them are perhaps waiting for fate to change their lot, while others are dreaming of achieving a higher social status or some other longer-for goal. To such women I say, 'Just try laying aside a dollar, and if you don't begin at once to feel a certain power that only money in the bank can give one, and if you don't begin at once to experience the fun of contriving to cut expenses where before you never dreamed you could cut expenses; and if you don't find the game of saving a thrilling one—well, I know you will, for I was just like you and I did!"

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman in care of the "Efficient Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

AT THE THEATERS

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

ORPHEUM—Vaudeville; Hackett and Delmar headliners.
PLAZA, Superior—"Buddies."

NEW GRAND—Manager Chester Sutton of the New Grand was given an agreeable surprise yesterday. He expected theater-goers would sit around the hearthstone at their homes during the afternoon, but instead they filled the theater, the lobby and the street. The Grand has a corking good bill for the week-end.

"Off With the Old Love" is a comedy-drama of a surprise character, with a strong romantic vein, which G. Swayne Gordon and his associates present in polished style.

The Georgalis Trio present about the best sharp-shooting exhibition that has been seen here this season, if not in several seasons.

De Witt and Robinson, one of the pair a diminutive comedian, are one of the hits of the show in their "A Little Bit of This and That," composed of comedy chatter, tuneful melodies and nifty dances. A banjo and a piano are introduced effectively.

Novel melodies and exclusive dances make the act of Robert and Demont one of pleasing character. Several costume changes add to the attractiveness of the offering.

The pictures include "Human Bait," the twelfth of the "Hidden Dangers" stories; "In Wrong Wright," a comedy, and several short subjects.

ORPHEUM—Practically every one of the boys and girls who were with Gus Edwards' School Boys and Girls have worked their way up the ladder of success to very prominent positions. Lillian Gonne was the "Sassy Little" of the act, and the "Sassy" has stuck to her ever since. In fact, it has become a sort of trademark, and, in all probability, it will always be coupled with her name.

Since "School Days" Miss Gonne has been in vaudeville with Lew Brice and in musical comedy. She has just formed an association with Bert Albert, a youthful-appearing comedian, and together they are playing a musical skit called "On Their Way to School." The scene is a school playground with a boy and a girl engaged in many of the pranks that bring one back to his or her youth, and, of course, there is a liberal assortment of song, dance and chatting.

PHOTOPLAYS

NEW GARRICK—Will Rogers in "Honest Hutch."
NEW LYRIC—All star cast in "The Best of Luck."
STRAND—Norma Talmadge in "The Branded Woman."

NEW GARRICK — Crowds greater than the capacity of the New Garrick yesterday flocked to see Will Rogers in "Honest Hutch" opening a three-day run, with "Torchy Turns Cupid" as an added feature. How "Honest Hutch" makes a man of himself and uplifts his family, after being the town's biggest loafer, putting forth every effort to convince his neighbors that he had been saving money so he could spend fifty $1,000 bills he has found without bringing out embarrassing questions, makes an absorbing and decidedly humorous story. In the end he burns the money so that when he is asked to run for the legislature he is "honest, truthful, free and aboveboard," they tell him, and he admits that he "allers makes it a rule ter be." Even the few who may not be ardent admirers of Rogers will like this picture in which he has a sort of Rip Van Winkle role, and those who do like him will find cause of great enthusiasm. The Torchy picture and other attractions round out a fine program.

NEW LYRIC—Today's showings of "The Best of Luck," the remarkable spectacular picture, adapted from a Drury Lane theater melodramatic success, will close its engagement at the New Lyric. "Wedding Blues," the special Christie comedy, which is an added attraction, will also be seen for the last time. Starting tomorrow the very notable feature will be the last picture Olive Thomas made before the journey to Paris from which she never returned. It is "Everybody's Sweetheart," adding to her memorable repertoire one of the very finest characterizations of all. She is seen as Mary, an inmate of the county poor house ever since brought there as a child after a terrible railroad wreck. How she helps the store of happiness all around her, and how she finally finds family, wealth and the fruition of a beautiful romance makes the production a compelling one.

ZELDA—The announcement that Louise Glaum is to appear on a local screen is always a subject of great interest. And in securing Miss Glaum's newest silent drama the Zelda theater expects an unusual popular response, inasmuch as "Love Madness," this star's vehicle, which opens tomorrow, is said to afford her a superb opportunity for her art. "Love Madness" is from the pen of the prolific C. Gardiner Sullivan, who was the creator of Miss Glaum's earlier successes, "Sahara" and "Sex." The story is flavored with tense dramatic action and the star proves herself again supreme mistress of emotional characterization.

STRAND—"The Right to Love," coming to the Strand theater commencing Sunday, in which Mae Murray and David Powell are appearing, was adapted from the successful French play, "The Man Who Killed," by Pierre Frondaie and Claude Farrere. George Fitzmaurice, who produced Miss Murray and David Powell's last success, "On With the Dance," also directed "The Right to Love." In the cast are seen some of the best known players of the screen, including Alma Tell, Holmes E. Herbert, Marcey Harlam, Frank Losee, Marcia Harris and Lawrence Johnston. The story is laid in Constantinople, the capital of Turkey. One of its most pretentious scenes is that of the Embassy Ball. Now showing, Norma Talmadge in "The Branded Woman."

NEW ASTOR—The one and only "Doug" Fairbanks comes to the New Astor screen today for two days in "His Majesty, the American." It is a story of a missing heir to the throne of a mythical kingdom in Europe. "Doug" is the heir, of course, but no one would suspect it—at first—least of all "Doug," himself. When one finds him at the beginning of the story an excitement-loving, thrill-craving, adventure-seeking and gay New Yorker one is totally unprepared for later developments, journey to Europe and his capers among royalists and revolutionists are a treat for thrill and fun lovers. "Trailed by Three" is one of the added attractions. Starting Sunday the feature will be D. W. Griffith's "Broken Blossoms."

BADGER GIRL LOSES FINGERS BY SHOOTING

Eau Claire, Wis., Nov. 26.—The 10-year-old daughter of Frank Nowak, a farmer residing near Millston, is recovering in an Eau Claire hospital from a charge of small shot fired Wednesday. Three fingers of her left hand were shot off, her faced filled with small shot and one eye wounded. She had been playing with her brother when the shooting occurred. They decline to tell who fired the shot.

"TINKER BOB" STORIES

By CARLYSLE H. HOLCOMB

HE CARRIES HIS HOUSE ON HIS BACK.

TINKER BOB and Lady Duck gathered all of the chestnuts they could carry, and left those that remained for Sammy and Mr. Chipmonk and any of the forest dwellers might happen along. For sometimes Red Fox ate chestnuts, and so did Jerry the Jay, if any one would crack them open. The king left enough for all and had enough for himself also.

On their way home to the palace, Lady Duck spied something that to her was wonderful. She stopped short and stood silent for almost a minute as she looked at the strange creature before her.

"Quack, quack," said she, "Oh king, what is this funny looking thing that moves so slowly and seems to be carrying a house on its back?"

Tinker Bob heeded the word of Lady Duck and came to see for himself who was passing this way. "Oh," said he, "don't you know who that is? He is the fellow that always goes traveling just before the snow falls, and you can always tell when the winter is coming for he is as true as the wind himself. His name is Johnny Snail."

"But what is he carrying on his back? It is bigger than he is!" Lady Duck had never seen such a thing before in all of her life.

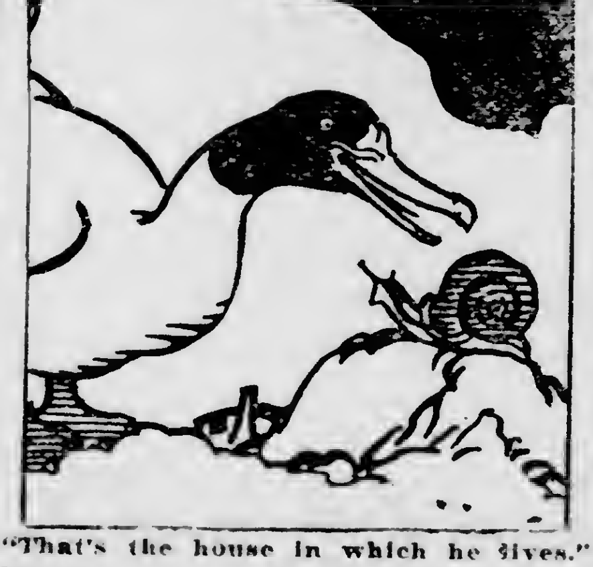
"That's the house in which he lives. You see he travels so slowly that he couldn't return home at night, so he carries his house with him. Then if any of his enemies come along he can draw himself up into his house, which is hard, and they can do him no harm. We will talk to him. He is so deaf that you have to talk loud and get very close to make him understand."

Tinker Bob took Mr. Snail in his hand and of course, Mr. Snail drew himself up into his house and the king had to wait a long time till he would consent to come out again!

When he did come out Tinker talked to him, like this: "Mr. Snail, where are you going today?" Mr. Snail could not talk but he pointed toward a large tree, and Tinker knew that he was trying to get to the tree before the snow fell and covered him up.

"How long before it will snow?" asked Tinker, for he knew that Mr. Snail could tell all about the time to expect the snow.

Mr. Snail made two very nice nods of his head. "That means two weeks," said Tinker to Lady Duck, "and he ought to know. We will have to hurry if we get to the Southland before a snowstorm comes along. You see, it will take him two weeks to get to that tree, for he cannot travel very fast, and he must get there before it snows. All right, Mr. Snail, we will put you down right where you were for you would be lost if we should put you on the tree."



"That's the house in which he lives."

This is what Tinker found out from Mr. Snail.

FAMILY DAYS IN ROLL CALL

Saturday and Monday Set for Families to Report Memberships.

Tomorrow and Monday will be "family days" in the Armistice day-to-Thanksgiving roll call of the Red Cross. Every head of a family, who has enrolled the members of the family, is asked to make returns on either of those days. The returns can be made direct to Roll Call headquarters, 507 Alworth building, to J. W. Lyder in the Northern National bank, or to any of the receiving stations for memberships in the department stores, hotels and clubs.

The roll call this year has been conducted along different organization plans than ever before and the events connected with it have not been as spectacular or accompanied by so many publicity features for the reason that the managers wanted to try out the plan of having the people make spontaneous contributions. For this reason no workers were sent out into the residence districts to solicit for memberships and each of the department stores was asked to provide receipts and buttons by its own sales force.

This has created some confusion among those who are accustomed to the old methods, but the results that are being attained seem to justify the faith of the Roll Call management in the general strength of the Red Cross. In the department stores the Roll Call is being handled by the clerks themselves. A sign has been placed conspicuously in each store and any clerk in the department where the sign appears will give membership receipts, buttons and banners on request.

The big idea behind the new method is to test out the actual public sentiment toward the Red Cross without artificial stimulation or side-show features. It has been declared by publicity men that no [illegible] could succeed unless it was accompanied by a number of incidental features to arouse the enthusiasm of the people. The American Red Cross has felt that it was not necessary to do this with its organization because the facts and history of the organization are so well known and its achievements have been so important that it was not necessary to do more than call the attention of the "children of the Greatest Mother" to the fact that their family dues were payable—to have them paid.

That is the reason the appeal of this campaign has been made in families by the heads of the families and in business and social organizations by the organizations themselves. The campaign will continue one week more in order to enable all the various sections of the city to make up their returns and send them to headquarters—and in order to clean up those sections that have so far not been touched.

Who drinks Yuban?

CHICAGO'S best-known social leaders. Women whose dinners are always charming, whether they are brilliant functions or informal affairs of ten or twelve.

The leading business men of Chicago. The men whose keen wits and clear minded vision have built Chicago from a village of the plains to America's second city.

The women of Chicago who are known as discriminating housewives. Who are solicitous of every influence that enters their homes, supervising personally the smallest details.

After trying one coffee after another, searching for a true coffee flavor—they welcomed Yuban as the coffee they had wished for.

Thousands of such men and women of Chicago drink Yuban—more than have ever chosen any other one coffee.

FAVORS LAKE VESSEL LINES

Bill Proposing Ownership by Railroads Hit by League Decision.

Completely reversing its former decision, the National Industrial Traffic league at a recent meeting in New York city declined to indorse a senate bill proposing railroad ownership of lake steamship lines. Word to this effect was brought back to Duluth by Fred S. Keiser, who attended the meeting as a representative of the traffic commission of the Duluth Commercial club.

The fight against the proposed bill was led by the Duluth commission on the ground that it would permit railroads to adjust lake freight rates in such a way that Duluth would lose its advantage as a lake port. Railroads now are not permitted to own lake boats under the so-called divorcement act, passed several years ago.

At the Louisville meeting of the league two months ago, the proposed bill was indorsed by a majority of seventy-one. Since that time an article against the measure, written by Mr. Keiser, has appeared in The Traffic World, the largest traffic magazine in the country, and copies of the article have been sent in pamphlet form to all members of the league. Failure of the league to indorse the measure, it is believed, will have an important effect on the action of congress.

At its New York meeting the league also reversed a former decision favoring a temporary increase on demurrage charges as a means of alleviating the car shortage. It was decided last week that in view of the present business depression which has made a far greater supply of cars available, increased demurrage charges were inadvisable. The local traffic commission fought strongly for the new stand. A committee was also appointed to meet with a committee from the American Railway association in December and advise them that the league would absolutely oppose any further attempt to increase freight rates.

Mr. Keiser was elected a director and a member of the league's executive committee.

HONOR PASTOR AND WIFE.

Rev. and Mrs. Kluxdal Given Big Purse and Reception.

Rev. and Mrs. Gumund Kluxdal were given a reception at Zion Lutheran church, Twenty-fifth avenue west and Third street, last night. The affair was in the nature of a surprise and recognition of Mr. Kluxdal's work as pastor of Zion church.

The reception was the occasion for the presentation of a $400 purse to the pastor and his wife. C. M. Hanson, chairman of the program committee, made the presentation speech. Rev. J. H. Stenberg, pastor of the First Norwegian Lutheran church, followed with a talk on "Appreciation." Mr. Kluxdal then responded with a review of the year's work, which included the subscription of $10,000 to round out the church's program. A buffet lunch was served by the women of the congregation at the close of the program.

"BUDDIES" DRAWS MANY DULUTHIANS TO PLAZA

Many Duluth people went to Superior last night to see "Buddies," the George V. Hobart musical play, at the Plaza, and a full house greeted the players. The play, the music and the company pleased.

This play, which entertained Broadway for a year, has a distinctly original story, clever dialogue, tuneful music, and is well staged. It will no doubt draw another large audience tonight.

The cast has been carefully chosen and numbers several good singers and players in its list. Joseph Herbert, Jr., Denman Maley, Olive Reeves-Smith, Carrie Redcliffe and others play prominent roles.

MORE BARGES FOR THE MISSISSIPPI

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 26.—Nineteen 3,000-ton steel barges and four towboats will be in operation on the Mississippi river between St. Louis and St. Paul by next spring, it is announced at the offices of the government barge line here.

Illinois coal probably will be carried north, the announcement says, and Minnesota iron ore on southbound trips. Twelve of the barges recently were released by the builders in Stillwater, Minn., and Dubuque, Iowa, and one of the towboats has been launched.

The barges are 200 feet long and when loaded to capacity have a 9-foot draft. They draw only one foot when empty. They have double bottoms, twenty-two compartments, and are fitted with pipe lines and steam pumps for receiving and discharging liquid cargoes such as oils and molasses. They are forty-eight feet wide and ten feet deep.

The war department, which has supervision over the service, has sent wireless outfits here to be set up in St. Louis, Memphis and New Orleans. Six towboats plying between here and New Orleans will be fitted up with apparatus for emergency purpose.

ALL RECORDS SMASHED SAY BIG DRUG FIRMS

Now Conservatively Estimated That Minnesota Will Require Over 65,000 Bottles of Tanlac for December and January Business.

CARLOAD ARRIVES FOR MINNESOTA

Wonderful Success Preparation Has Achieved Here Has Far Exceeded All Expectations.

Announcement has just been made by the Minneapolis Drug Co., the well known wholesale druggists, that they have just received a solid carload of Tanlac, containing 30,000 bottles, to supply the large and rapidly growing demand for this well known medicine in Duluth and surrounding territory.

The fact that approximately 468,080 bottles or over fifteen carloads of Tanlac have been sold and distributed by this firm since its introduction in this state a little over two years ago, is a business item that will, no doubt, attract attention and be read with widespread interest.

As a matter of fact, Tanlac has already become the sensation of the drug trade in the United States and Canada. In the entire history of the drug trade in this country no other medicine has ever made a record worthy of comparison with the truly phenomenal sales record made by Tanlac.

The greatest drug firms of the country have voluntarily come forward and stated in cold, plain figures the record-breaking sales everywhere. The enormous popularity of Tanlac is the one great outstanding proof of its merit. No remedy of less than superlative quality could possibly attain such a huge sales record nor gain, as has Tanlac, the unqualified endorsements of thousands of well known men and women who stand for the best in their communities.

The greatest test of any medicine is the "repeat" sales it enjoys. Tanlac's phenomenal record has been possible because of the fact that men and women who buy one bottle invariably return for the second. Tanlac accomplishes actual results and so, almost at once, wins the firm faith of its takers.

In just a little over five years' time approximately 16,000,000 bottles of Tanlac have been sold, an average of almost one bottle for every family in America. This record eclipses any achievement of the past in the field of medicine, and it becomes all the more remarkable when it is realized that Tanlac is sold only through duly authorized agents.

A further proof of the extreme popularity of Tanlac is the fact that it has now become necessary to have it shipped here in original carload lots and it is conservatively estimated that this market will require approximately 1,300 bottles per day for December and January business alone.

Tanlac is sold in Duluth at the W. A. Abbett drug stores under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative. Also the leading druggist in every town throughout the Northwest. Wm. Isaacson, Gowan; Geo. W. Swanson, Culver; Floodwood Merc. Co., Floodwood; Wilfrid Longtin, Grand Lake, P. O. Saginaw; Fairbanks Store Co., Fairbanks; George Lestic store, McKinley.—Advertisement.

HAS BIG SALE IN MILWAUKEE

Milwaukee Drug Co. Says Tanlac Is Undisputed Leader Among Proprietary Medicines.

The following letter has just been received from the Milwaukee Drug Co., of Milwaukee, Wis., one of the largest and best known drug houses in America, which gives ample evidence of the rapidly growing and widespread popularity of Tanlac:

Tanlac Company,
Fourth National Bank bldg.,
Atlanta, Ga.

Tanlac continues to hold the rank of undisputed leader in this territory, and the increasing sales after Tanlac has been the sensation of our trade for two years, is most phenomenal. Undoubtedly, it is giving entire satisfaction everywhere, and it is something that has come to stay. We say this because our best trade is in the districts where it has been in use the longest.

In the short period of two years' time we have given you orders for 304,932 bottles, thus breaking all records for this city.

Very truly yours,
Milwaukee Drug Co.

CHRISTMAS SEAL IN TWO CONTESTS

Duluth children under the age of 16 years and pupils of rural schools will have an opportunity to assist in the Christmas seal campaign and at the same time win for themselves a worth-while prize. Duluth students will be invited to enter a poster contest, the Red Cross Christmas seal being the subject, and the rural students will be given an opportunity of entering an essay contest for prizes. The subject for the essays will be the Christmas seals, but the rules and regulations will not be announced until next week, according to members of the Christmas seal committee who met at the Duluth Commercial club today.

Both of these contests will open next week and will close on Dec. 10 when all posters and essays must be in the hands of the judges, who will be announced later. The campaign opens Dec. 1 and will close after Christmas.

Seals will be on sale at the usual places the first part of next week, but the annual drive will not start much before Dec. 10, when a concerted drive will be launched in every section of the city. Duluth's quota this year will be much larger than last year and for this reason a great deal harder work will be necessary to obtain the amount. The drive throughout the county will start at the same time as the Duluth drive.

Utilizing the plan of organization to the fullest extent that the city may receive the greatest amount of good from the Duluth Commercial club was the suggestion offered to members of the club who are members of the division of commerce and industry at a meeting today noon by President Benjamin Finch. This was the first time that a general meeting of the committees of a division has been called and is part of the plan of activities of the club for the coming year.

President Finch asked for an estimate of the budget each committee would require and declared he would call a meeting of the committee of each division within a few days. He announced that the "Over the Top" dinner would again be devoted to waterways and port terminals, and hoped at that time to be able to announce that the committee had "sold" the club's budget of $50,000, which will be used to carry out a constructive, live program of activities.

President Finch's address to the members was as follows:

Need of Co-operation.

"In a city, such as Duluth, there is need for organized co-operative effort such as our Commercial club affords. To meet this need we have a well defined plan of organization. If you and other committees will follow out this scheme of organization we will have a well ordered plan with committees functioning in a proper businesslike manner.

"In the absence of Vice President Stockman of the division of commerce and industry, it is the duty and pleasure of your president to preside at the first meeting of his division.

"I believe this is the first time that all the committees of this division have been called together and it is my purpose to call a joint meeting of the committees of each division in the next few days.

"Let me state that as I have studied the plan of organization of this club it has proved that here is the organization that is, and can be, of most service to our city. The Commercial club does stand for advancement and upbuilding of Duluth. It has a membership of almost 1,500; it has quarters which it has really outgrown, and has now referred to its vice president of organization affairs one suggestion for increased room, which, if carried out, will provide an excellent meeting place for other clubs, trade associations, and so forth.

" 'Do you know' that Duluth ranks third of twenty-nine cities of its size in per capita wealth? If you don't know, I will tell you that this information was gathered by the educational committee last year, but its report could not be published because your club did not have the funds.

"Do you know 'that we raised 25 cents and spent 30 cents per capita for civic and commerce activities? 'Do you know' that other cities raise and use wisely 75 cents to $1, which would mean for Duluth from $75,000 to $100,000?

Receipts and Disbursements.

"In other words, our sustaining membership of 120 loyal firms, individuals, and corporations gave us $25,000 for this work last year; your club aded $5,000, from dues and profits, and our expenditures were a trifle over $30,000 for civic and commerce activities.

" 'Do you know' that our agricultural committee used $1,000 of the club funds and because we had no more, went out and raised $2,900 more to carry out their program? Our club has a ways and means committee, under Director Harper, whose work it is to provide these funds. But, gentlemen, our ways and means committee cannot increase our income unless we have a well prepared plan properly safeguarded and well worth doing. It is up to the civic and commerce division's committees to so function that their work can be sold to ourselves, and the business interests fo Duluth. We have got to give value received, for you and I will not give our money unless we know it is used for a good purpose and is there any higher or better object than to promote the interests of the city in which we live and call our home?

"Here is the agricultural committee; it met twenty-three times last year, doing real live constructive work, advertising our resources, assisting our farmers, putting on displays at the state fair and the potato show. Should they have to go out and get their own money as a separate unit of the club?

"I am informed that last year some $10,000 to $12,000 was raised outside of our club expenditures for publicity, good roads, agriculture and waterways. That meant several solicitations and probably mostly from the same people.

Must Get Help.

"How is the legislative and tax committee of the civic division to properly represent the business interests of Duluth unless you have assisted in solving the problem at home and can give them the information to present to our representatives and senators. This committee has to have funds to pay its own necessary expenses.

"The traffic committee of this club is supported practically by a few wholesalers, clearing house banks and board of trade through their subscriptions to the sustaining membership, but all business, wholesale and retail—many wage earners in them and in our railroads, too—are benefitted, if through proper rates more business is done here, more goods handled, and more cars moved. Is there any other organization that can do this?

"We are all interested in the 'Lakes-to-the-Sea' waterway project. It takes money to have delegates go to the various meetings. It takes money to study port terminals and to bring experienced men here to tell us about such terminals in other places, and it can only be done through an organization such as we have.

Budget for Each Activity.

"We now come to the only way in which a general program of activities can be carried on and funds raised and that is to provide a budget for each activity, and it is up to the committees of this division to make such for their own work, based upon last year's expenditures and the program they expect to carry out this year. When you have done this the finance committee will examine them, including the budgets from the committees of other divisions, and report to the board of directors, and when approved it is then up to the ways and means committee to sell your efforts to the business and professional interests of Duluth. Your vice chairmen must hand them in to the director chairman not later than Thursday noon of Dec. 2.

"Another thing before I close: Your directors meet regularly on the first and third Fridays of each month, or as often as required, and we request that you now set at least one day each month on which you will meet. Most of you lunch at the club anyway and is it asking too much for you to give one or two hours each month for your club and city? If it is too much for you kindly send us word so that others may be drafted for your work.

"It is possibly a little early to give out definite announcements for our 'Over the Top', dinner, but it will be devoted to waterways and port terminals with speakers of national reputation, and it is my hope at that time to announce that our ways and means committee has sold our club's budget so that we can have $50,000 to spend this year and carry out a constructive, live program including publicities and conventions, which we need to develop.

"In closing I do want to thank you for your attention and state that I appreciate the confidence and co-operation shown me by your other officers and it is my earnest wish that I may be of service to you during the ensuing year."

"The Struggle of Israel and Its Triumph" will be the subject of a sermon by Rabbi Israel Lebendiger at 8 p. m. today at the Talmud Torah, 319 East Third street. The meeting will be the first of a series of Friday night services inaugurated by Mr. Lebendiger, who came to Duluth several weeks ago from Youngstown, Ohio. Classes in religious instruction will be organized at 10 o'clock next Sunday morning, to which all parents are asked to send their children.

Warns Against Draying.

A warning against the use of commercial trucks for draying purposes for which the drivers charge a fee has been sent out by M. J. Segal, city license inspector. Information has come to his office, he says, that a number of drivers of trucks, after completing their day's work, have made use of the vehicles to do light draying, for which they have been in the habit of charging a nominal fee. Having no draying license, they are subject to arrest and a fine, Mr. Segal said. One driver for a local firm was found draying with the company's truck last week and when the matter was reported to the firm he was immediately discharged, according to Mr. Segal.

Marie, Mich., on a steamer along with George Ryan and the two had taken rooms at West Second street temporarily. He refused to give any reason for taking the drug.

An order to this effect, signed by Judge Page Morris, was received in Federal court today. It is expected that Carney's appeal will probably not be heard until the circuit court meeting at St. Paul in May.

New Bids Necessary.

A complete remodelling of the building at 531 West First street will be necessary before it can be equipped as a parcel post branch, Postmaster Thomas F. Considine said today. He estimated the cost between $6,000 and $8,000. Four bids have already been received and sent to Washington, Mr. Considine said, but it will probably be necessary to draw up a complete set of plans and advertise for bids again. The amount of work that must be done is far greater than was at first expected.

MORE MINES TO BE CLOSED

Butte Properties Affected by Condition of Metal Market.

Butte, Mont., Nov. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Reports continue in circulation to the effect that several mines now in operation are to be closed down on account of the condition of the metal market. At the present time the Anaconda company has nine properties in operation, and in addition there are the North Butte, East Butte, Davis Daly and Tuolumne working, although not by any means at normal. Of the zinc properties of the Anaconda company, the only one producing any large quantity of the metal is in operation. An effort has been made to ascertain the truth of the reports of impending further closing down, but the managers of all properties declare that there is not any present intention of further curtailment at the present time, nor any intention of a cut in wages. Through the close down of the Butte & Superior there have been thrown out of work close to 900 men, only forty men being retained for development work in the Black Rock. Of the 500 men employed in the Poulin, West Gray Rock and Alice of the Anaconda company, all the married men and those having dependents have been provided with work at other properties.

The Alta Property.

S. L. Bright of Chicago, who is at the head of the company of Eastern capitalists who have taken over the Alta property in the Corbin district, is at the property busily engaged in making preparations to operate the property on an extensive scale. Arrangements have been completed for the erection of a 1,000-ton mill and work is to be commenced at once. It is intended to equip the mill with the latest and most improved machinery, all of which has been ordered. The Alta in the past has been one of the richest producing mines in the state, and after a very thorough examination by mining experts the report, Mr. Bright says, fully justifies the new company in going ahead with mining on an extensive scale.

At 50 Per Cent Capacity.

The Anaconda, North Butte, East Butte and Davis-Daly are operating at between 40 and 50 per cent normal. The Anaconda smelters are operating at 50 per cent capacity and in [illegible] treated there is a considerable quantity of custom ore from small properties being operated throughout the state. The mill being erected by the Champion company in the Deer Lodge district is expected to be ready for the treatment of the silver output around the first of the year. The ore at the present time is being treated at the Washoe smelter in Anaconda.

Zinc Plant Curtailed.

Orders have been issued by the Anaconda Copper Mining company curtailing the output of the electrolytic zinc plant at Great Falls by 50 per cent. In other words, the output, which has been 10,000,000 pounds a month, has been reduced to 5,000,000 pounds a month. This, of course, reduces the force of men employed by one-half. It is understood that the Emma mine in this city, which is altogether a zinc and silver property, will continue to operate up to around normal for the present at least. The closing down of the Poulin, West Gray and Alice mines will reduce the ore output sufficently to correspond with the reduced output of the zinc plant.

Inspecting Mines.

A. S. Pomerol and C. H. Naeder, mining men from France, are in the city inspecting the mining properties and also looking over the electrical equipment for the operation of the mines. After looking over the leading mines of the Anaconda company they went to Anaconda and Great Falls to inspect the operation of the smelters and other plants. They also had a conference with Montana power officials in regard to electrical operations.

Flohart to Speed Production.

W. M. Woodburn, vice president and general manager of the Flohart Mining company in the Neihart district, has returned from New York where he went a few weeks ago on matters connected with the company. It is understood that Mr. Woodburn was able to satisfactorily straighten out some matters of finance, and that as a result silver production will go ahead on a greater scale than at present.

Canadian Ore to Idaho.

As a result of the ruling of the interstate commerce commisison allowing a cut in railroad rates from British Columbia, a large quantity of ore is coming into Idaho for treatment at the smelter of the Bunker Hill & Sullivan company smelter at Kellogg. Authority has also been given to the Oregon Short Line and the Denver & Rio Grande to extend special rates from British Columbia for lead ore and concentrates to the Midvale, Murray, Garfield and Tooele plants, smelting points in Utah.

North Butte.

Robert Linton, president of the North Butte company, after spending several days in the city, inspecting the company's property, has gone East. Mr. Linton stated that he was well satisfied with the operations of the properties.

DENFELD BOYS WILL GIVE BANQUET AND PROGRAM

Plans for the Denfeld Boys' club basket social, which is to be held Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the Denfeld school, are well under way. An invitation has been extended to all the girls of the high school, although the attendance is not limited to the school. Alumni of Denfeld are especially invited to be present.

Baskets brought by the girls will be auctioned off to the highest bidder and the entire proceeds will go to help defray the expenses of the club's delegates to the older boys' convention at Faribault.

High school clubs over the entire state will be represented at the conference and Denfeld's delegates will be elected at the next regular meeting of the club.

Following the supper the boys' club will provide an entertainment. Edward Harris, chairman of the committee on entertainment, has provided several novel features. Indications are that a record crowd will attend. There will be accommodations for 300 guests.

WEAK WOMEN

cannot hope ever to become strong and well again unless they have plenty of good, rich, red blood of the kind that organic iron—Nuxated Iron—helps make. Nuxated Iron is like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples, while metallic iron is iron just as it comes from the action of strong acids on iron filings. Nuxated Iron does not injure the teeth nor upset the stomach; it is an entirely different thing from ordinary metallic iron. It quickly helps make rich, red blood, revitalize wornout, exhausted nerves and give you new strength and energy. Over 4,000,000 people annually are using it. For sale by all druggists. Beware of substitutes. The genuine has N. I. stamped on every tablet. Always insist on having the genuine.

HIBBING PEOPLE QUITE THANKFUL

Hibbing, Minn., Nov. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Although Hibbing has been on the move during a good part of the year, due to the moving of many homes and dwellings to South Hibbing, that iron ore might be taken from underneath, business has been good, the mines have employed and are employing many men and the people of the world's richest village yesterday entered heartily into the spirit of Thanksgiving. With union services at the Presbyterian church and fitting exercises held in various other places of worship the people were reminded that the day is one to offer up thanks to the supreme ruler. All public buildings were, of course, closed and the day was a holiday in every way, although there was no formal and official observance of the day by secular public meetings beyond the usual dances and social functions.

Baskets of food were given to those families in need. The sick were sent flowers, hospitals received similar tokens and the prisoners in the jails were remembered by being given a turkey dinner.

The Fantasy club dance in the evening attracted the younger set, while local theaters had special programs.

EVELETH'S OUTLOOK FOR COAL IMPROVED

The deliveries are being made with as much discretion as possible and all who are in need of coal will be supplied with a sufficient quantity to keep them from suffering because of the cold until the distribution is back to normal.

MANY VISITED FINE HIBBING GREENHOUSE

Hibbing, Minn., Nov. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—One of the most successful chrysanthemum shows ever held here has ended at the new Bennett park greenhouses. Actual count showed that 2,600 people viewed the "mums" and the new greenhouses, all expressing their delight over the showing made.

Florists from many villages and cities in Northern Minnesota came here to inspect the new tropic, chrysanthemum, carnation, rose, fern and other sections of Hibbing's modern greenhouse, one of the finest in the state. The greenhouses are open day and evenings for the benefit of the public.

His Remedy and Book Sent Free.

Captain Collings sailed the seas for many years; then he sustained a bad double rupture that soon forced him to not only remain ashore, but kept him bedridden for years. He tried doctor after doctor and truss after truss. No results! Finally, he was assured that he must either submit to a dangerous and abhorrent operation or die. He did neither! He cured himself instead.

VIRGINIA REPORTS NO HOLIDAY ARRESTS

Virginia, Minn., Nov. 26.—(Special to The Herald.) — Thanksgiving day passed without an arrest being made by local police, a record in the history of the department. It is recalled by old residents that in the days when the saloons were so thick on Chestnut street a stranger could hardly locate another line of business days like Thanksgiving were always marked by a large number of arrests as a result of too much celebration.

There was a general observance of the day here but no formal affairs outside of church services and many family reunions as well as dances.

CALLED TO MONTANA.

Hibbing, Minn., Nov. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Called to Montana as star witness in a murder case, Indian Agent Hess, in charge of the enforcement of the liquor laws in this territory, will be away for several weeks.

Last summer two government officials on the Flathead Indian reservation near Missoula, Mont., were the principals in one of the most sensational murders in the state. The sheriff of the county was shot by one of his aides and the murderer later gave himself up. The government insisted on a complete investigation being made and Indian Agent Hess was summoned from Hibbing to find the real motive. Hess completed the examination of witnesses and made his report to Washington. Now he has been called back to give that evidence at the trial, which starts shortly.

During his absence the work in Hibbing will be under the direction of one of the other agents.

LIGHT SNOW; SATURDAY PARTLY CLOUDY; TEMPERATURE MODERATE

After an ideal Thanksgiving day, today furnishes the same kind of weather and except for a promise of light snow over tonight, tomorrow will see no change. The sun rose this morning at 7:27 and will set this evening at 4:24, giving 8 hours and 57 minutes of sunlight. Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"During the last twenty-four hours there was snow or rain in Pennsylvania, New York and New England states, and rain from Iowa southward to including Texas, and over Nevada, Oregon, Idaho and Washington. The barometer is high over Ohio valley states and Utah, and low over Saskatchewan and Mexico. Temperatures are running close to the seasonal normal, and the last twenty-four-hour changes were generally unimportant except that a rise has taken place throughout the great part of the Northwest. In the lake region the winds are light to moderate in force and mostly from westerly directions."

U. S. WON'T ISSUE PASSPORTS FOR RUSSIA

Americans, who intend to explore deep into Soviet Russia must do so at their own peril. The United States government will not even permit its travelers to carry American passports into Russia.

Notices to this effect are being sent all applicants for passports to any European country. Business men and relief workers alone are allowed to visit a few specified Russian cities. Any one desiring to enter further into the country must surrender his passport to an American consular or diplomatic representative. Failure to do so will result in immediate cancellation of the passport.

THREE HEARINGS BEFORE U. S. COMMISSIONER ENGELS

Three hearings are scheduled for 10 a. m. tomorrow before United States Commissioner J. C. H. Engels. Alfred Jaques, United States attorney, is in Duluth to conduct the case for the government. He arrived from his St. Paul office yesterday in order to spend Thanksgiving at his home here.

Passing a forged money order for $60 is the charge against Harold B. Lynch, 2510 Minnesota avenue, who was arrested Nov. 6. The alleged crime is said to have been committed in Superior.

James P. Conway is charged with having liquor in his possession at 1817 West Superior street. His hearing has already been continued several times because of his illness and the failure to obtain witnesses. He was arrested Aug. 19.

Alexander Belanger is charged with making mash on Sept. 21 at his farm near Cromwell in Carlton county. All three defendants are now out on bond.

ESCAPES WHILE ON WAY TO REFORMATORY

St. Cloud, Minn., Nov. 26.—As Sheriff Swanson of Becker county was bringing A. J. Goodman, sentenced to eighteen months in the state reformatory, from Detroit to the local institution Tuesday he escaped from the train.

Goodman had asked permission to enter the washroom of the passenger coach and had locked the door and when he did not return, the sheriff investigated. Goodman must have leaped from the washroom window while the train was speeding St. Cloudward at the rate of thirty miles per hour. The escape was made while the train No. 14, due here at 7:41 p. m., was at a point between Little Falls and Royalton, and the sheriff's suspicions were not sufficiently aroused to halt the train until Rice was reached. Search is being made for him.

KILL TWO BULL MOOSE.

Must Wait for Colder Weather to Bring Out Carcasses.

Thief River Falls, Minn., Nov. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Leonard Du Camp, W. L. Labree and Julian Provencher are hoping colder weather will come soon, that they may bring here the carcasses of two giant bull moose they killed during a hunting trip on the north branch of Rapid river, some eighty miles north of here.

As the swamps, where it is necessary to penetrate for moose, are not frozen and due to the inaccessibility of the country along the branch of the Rapid river, the moose cannot be hauled out until colder weather sets in and the country becomes passable for a team. They also killed one deer and brought this home.

Deer River P. O. Examination.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Nov. 26.—Civil service examinations will be held here Dec. 5 at the postoffice to select eligibles for the appointment to the postoffice at Deer River, which pays $2,100 annually.

USE SULPHUR TO HEAL YOUR SKIN

For unsightly skin eruptions, rash or blotches on face, neck, arms or body, you do not have to wait for relief from torture or embarrassment, declares a noted skin specialist. Apply a little Mentho-Sulphur and improvement shows next day.

Because of its germ-destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation. The moment you apply it healing begins. Only those who have had unsightly skin troubles can know the delight this Mentho-Sulphur brings. Even fiery, itching eczema is dried right up.

A Smooth, White Skin That Defies Weather

During the coming months of biting winds and intense cold, you who would keep your skins smooth, white and velvety, should turn your attention to mercolized wax. Nothing else will so effectively prevent or remove a chapped, roughened or discolored surface. By gradually absorbing the weather-beaten cuticle, the complexion is kept in perfect condition, and even the beauty of expression appears more pronounced. If your skin be coarse, blotchy, pimply, freckled, sallow or over-red, why not shed it? One ounce of ordinary mercolized wax, to be had at any druggist's, will completely transform the most unsightly complexion in less than a fortnight. Use the wax nightly, like cold cream, washing it off mornings.

If weather, age or poor health has marred your face with wrinkles, here's good news. You can quickly remove every line by using a harmless, refreshing face lotion prepared by dissolving one ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint witch hazel. The firmer, smoother skin, the more youthful appearance, even after one application, will astonish you.—Advertisement.

HEALS RUNNING SORES AND CONQUERS PILES

Also Stops Itching of Eczema in Few Days.

"I feel it my duty to write you a letter of thanks for your wonderful Peterson's Ointment. I had a running sore on my left leg for one year. I began to use Peterson's Ointment three weeks ago and now it is healed."—A. C. Gilbrath, 703 Reed Street, Erie, Pa.

I'd rather get a letter like that, says Peterson of Buffalo, than have John D. Rockefeller give me a thousand dollars. It does me a lot of good to be able to be of use to my fellow man.

For years I have been selling through druggists a large box of PETERSON'S OINTMENT for 35 cents. The healing power in this ointment is marvelous. Eczema goes in a few days. Old sores heal up like magic; piles that other remedies do not seem to even relieve are speedily conquered.—Advertisement.

TO OBSERVE BIBLE SUNDAY

Churches Will Join in Celebrating Tercentenary of Pilgrims' Landing.

Duluth churches will join with others throughout the country next Sunday in celebrating the tercentenary of the landing of the Pilgrims. Mayflower Universal Bible Sunday will be observed. Local pastors will do their part and many of the churches will give special recognition of the day.

The adult Bible classes of the city are joining in the observance. Sunday will close the city-wide campaign which has been running for eight weeks. This is the first campaign of this type—the four-square contest—that has ever been held here. It has been so successful that the classes have decided on another campaign for the whole winter, beginning Dec. 5.

Recognizing that large numbers who do not regularly attend Bible classes, have a real appreciation of what America owes to the open Bible and the character of the Pilgrims who came here for freedom of worship, the adult classes urge general attendance at church service and Bible class Sunday. Men and women who believe in the Bible, and who know that the problems which confront this day will be solved by the application of its teachings are invited to join in study and discussion. There could be no better way of celebrating this three hundredth anniversary of the Mayflower than by beginning regular study of the Bible at home and in company with congenial folks who meet weekly in the various churches, it is pointed out.

In speaking of the celebration scheduled for Sunday various pastors of the city gave it their indorsement as follows:

Pastors Give Indorsement.

Dr. A. W. Ryan, St. Paul's Episcopal church: "It is a great thing to have God's word emphasized, particularly for its cultural and spiritual values."

William F. Scoular, Glen Avon Presbyterian church: "I am glad that the attention of the nation is called to the Bible and the observance of Mayflower Universal Bible Sunday. The Bible was the book to which the Pilgrims looked for guidance in private and public life. The proper study of it will be of greatest service to us and our nation at the present time. Its principles must be followed if we would have the best. To be followed, they must be known."

Dr. C. N. Pace, First Methodist church: "America owes its origin and greatness to the open Bible. That greatness can only be maintained by loyalty to the teachings of the Scripture. It is not enough to pronounce eulogies on the Bible. Its teachings must be committed to heart and appear in conduct. If a new interest in Bible study results from the observance of Mayflower Universal Bible Sunday it will be eminently worth while."

Rev. W. L. Staub, Westminster Presbyterian church: "We observed Mayflower Universal Bible Sunday last Sunday morning from the standpoint of Thanksgiving; next Sunday we will observe the special day from the standpoint of the tercentenary."

Highest Expression.

Dr. E. R. Fitch, First Baptist church: "Religion is the highest expression of human life. It is the manifestation of soul in touch with the Infinite. By its transforming influence humanity has moved forward to its present standing, and the ascent of spiritual man has but just begun. The Bible admittedly records the noblest religious experiences of the ages. It reveals God's command and teaches the way of the highest life. The principles of its central figure, Jesus, are to become the axioms of social life and the kingdom of God that is to be. Every day is a fitting day to exalt the Bible, but the season in which we recall the Puritan founders of our nation is peculiarly a fitting time. The Bible was their meat and drink and on it they thrived, intelligently, spiritually and socially and laid foundations in moral living and standards of justice and truth that are the bulwark of this nation."

Rev. C. A. Eckstrom, Bethany Swedish Lutheran church: "The great need in the American churches today is the Bible; not as an ornament, nor as a pretext for a sermon, but open, taught, applied, and, as it were, flowing through the sermon from beginning to end. The Bible as a real power in the church has a real power in American life."

Hunter Kills Black Bear.

Red Lake Falls, Minn., Nov. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—R. F. Pray returned Monday from Puposky, bringing a big black bear which he shot in the woods near that place last week. A dozen or more hunters had been on the trail of bruin for more than two days, Jack Pahlen of Plummer being one of the hunters, but the bear ran onto Pray, who was out for deer, and Pray brought him down. The animal, a fine specimen, attracted considerable attention here.

The Herald prints today's news today.

Stock Red Lake Streams.

Red Lake Falls, Minn., Nov. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—E. A. Nelson received twenty cans of brook trout from the state fish hatcheries at Glenwood Wednesday and, with Fred E. Cyr and Vern M. Healy, took them out for planting in the Lost river, Hill river, Poplar river and Clearwater lake.

FRESH DROPS IN ALL GRAINS

Wheat Off to New Levels on Selling; Flaxseed Goes Down.

Duluth Board of Trade, Nov. 26.—Wheat market was firmer at the close on moderate bidding. December spring closed 6c off at $1.45½ bid; March 6c off at $1.47¼ bid; December winter 6c off at $1.44½; December durum 6¾c off at $1.48¼, and March, 5¼c off at $1.50. Rye closed 7½c off at $1.39 for spot; December, 7½c off at $1.29 bid and May, 4½c off at $1.29½ asked. Oats closed ⅜c up at 41⅜-42⅜c and barley unchanged at 50-67c for spot.

Wheat prices slumped to new low levels in the course of the early trading today. Fresh liquidation came and there appeared to be no support from any quarter. The demoralized foreign exchange situation cutting down purchases to a minimum, and a general disinclination on the part of the trade to go slow, were pointed out by operators as bearish factors.

After wheat prices had broken a maximum of 7c some short covering appeared and recoveries of 2½c in spring wheat were made. December spring was 4½c off at the noon-hour at $1.47, after selling down to $1.44½. March stood 5¼c off at $1.48 after selling 2c lower. December durum was 5¾c off at $1.49¼, and March, 5c off at $1.50¼. Cash demand was light with the relative basis in durum off 1c from Wednesday. Cash handlers experienced difficulty in disposing of their offerings.

Rye turned especially weak on reported re-selling by Norwegian importers. Lack of export demand from any quarter was complained of. December rye broke 7½c up to the noon-hour at $1.29, and May, 4½c at $1.29½. Cable advices were received to the effect that the English millers are curtailing their outputs on account of their large accumulations of flour. Heavy stocks of wheat, as compared with last year, are held over there.

There was being loaded out from the elevators today, 792,000 bu of all grains and some fresh boat charterings were reported.

Flaxseed Again Down.

Flaxseed prices continued to slide in the absence of crushers' demand, but short-covering operations led to recoveries from the low spots made during the session. A load of 279,000 bu of flax is being loaded out of the elevators here today for the East.

November flax closed 6½c off at $1.90 nominal, December 6½c off at $1.90 asked, January 6½c off at $1.95 nominal, and May 7@7½c off at $2.03 bid.

MARKET GOSSIP.

Broomhall cabled: "English flour mills situated at the ports have commenced to run on short time. This is in consequence of the very large stocks of flour now available in the country. Stocks of wheat and flour combined are reckoned at over 33,000,000 bu, compared to 12,000,000 bu this time last year."

Officials at the treasury at Washington declare that certain statements being circulated by various farm board organizations charging the treasury with responsibility for the decline in prices of farm products, will not stand analysis and constitute a misrepresentation of the facts. Treasury officials maintain that the price drops in agricultural lines as well as others is due to world economic causes over which government officials absolutely have no control, and that no official acts have tended to aggravate an already bad situation growing out of the World war.

The Chicago Trade Bulletin has issued a statement showing the acreage of wheat harvested in the United States last season, the yield per acre and the average farm price. It was shown that May wheat in all but ten years of the last fifty-four has sold at a higher range than did December. This year, however, December has sold higher than March, which is the nearest delivery to May. The value of the 1919 crop was $2,024,030,000, or the greatest ever known. The highest price ever known was made last year and the lowest, 52¾c, was reached in 1894.

Modern Miller says: "Winter wheat is making seasonable progress. In Kansas and Oklahoma much is being pastured. Growth in the more northern states was retarded by cold weather, but the crop is now making gains. Root growth is generally reported as satisfactory and in most of the territory there is a fairly even stand. There have been beneficial snows over the southwest and sufficient moisture is reported generally. Farmers are hauling comparatively little wheat to country loading stations."

CHICAGO MARKET.

Chicago, Nov. 26.—In a general rush to sell, wheat tumbled today to below $1.50 a bu, the first time since the World war. The immediate bearish factors were the bank situation in North Dakota, a break in the cotton market and a new downturn in foreign exchange.

British buying of wheat took place on the downward swing of prices, but rallies failed to last and the market fell as low as $1.47 a bu for March delivery. Opening quotations, which varied from 3¼c to 8c lower, with December $1.53½ to $1.56¼ and March $1.47 to $1.51, were followed by only moderate and brief recoveries from initial bottom figures.

Comparative firmness was shown later as a result of estimates that 1,000,000 bushels domestic grown had been bought for export by way of the Gulf of Mexico, making 4,000,000 bushels so far this week. The close was unsettled, 6@7¾c net lower with December $1.52½@1.53¼, and March $1.48 @1.48¾.

Corn weakened with wheat. After opening ⅝c to 1¾c lower, including May at 70½c to 70¾c, the market reacted a little, but then sagged again.

December corn touched the lowest point yet since before the war, but the market subsequently showed stubborn resistance to selling pressure. The close was nervous, at ¼c net decline to ⅜c advance with May, 71⅜@71½c.

Oats were depressed by the action of other cereals, starting ¼c to ⅝c down, May 47¾c to 48⅛c, and continuing weak.

An advance in hog values counterbalanced to some extent in the provision market the bearish effect of grain decline.

STOCKS ARE UNSETTLED

Rails Make Advances But Other Issues Are Under Pressure.

New York, Nov. 26.—Favorite issues recorded variable gains at the opening of today's stock market, the movement denoting further short covering. Within the first half hour, however, a sharp reversal set in, special weakness being shown by shippings and oils. Atlantic Gulf and Mexican Petroleum lost 3 points each, Royal Dutch 2, Baldwin Locomotive 1 and Canadian Pacific and St. Paul large fractions. Initial gains in Reading, Northern Pacific, United States Steel, Bethlehem Steel and American Sugar were forfeited. Exchange on London and other foreign centers was heavy.

Mexican Petroleum and Crucible Steel suffered extreme losses of 5 points, United Fruit fell 2 and Royal Dutch, Pan-American and Houston Oil 2 to 2½. Baldwin lost 2, Virginia-Carolina Chemical 3, International Paper 3½ and Vanadium and Lackawanna Steels 1½. Rails followed the general trend for a time but strengthened when buying of Atchison, Norfolk & Western, Southern Pacific, New York Central and Rock Island effected actual gains of 1 to 3½ points. American Woolen was first among the specialties to revive and Pittsburgh & West Virginia enhanced Wednesday's substantial gain on dividend rumors. Call money opened and renewed into next week at 6 per cent.

Secondary or low priced transportations were moderately benefited by the strength of investment rails, but coppers, the cheaper oils and tobaccos specialties fell back. Steels eased again on announcement that one of the largest producers had cut prices.

Transcontinental rails and coalers made additional gains later but oils, shippings, steels and food specialties were under increased pressure. The closing was heavy. Sales approximated 800,000 shares.

Paine, Webber & Co. wired from New York: "With call money down and time money coming down, Wall street is convinced that the era of tight money is ended notwithstanding that there still are some five weeks to go before the year will have been turned. Liquidation of inventories, the favorite explanation of two weeks when the first signs of a break in rates were discernible, has been replaced with liquidation with securities, now that the market apparently has been relieved of its weak spots, and the street is openly cheerful over the outlook."

A New York wire to Robinson-Macaulay company said: "A member of one of the biggest copper organizations in this country entertains the opinion that when copper sells under the 14-cent level, as he believes it will in the near future, it will mark the beginning of the end of the existing poor copper situation."

* * *

A New York wire said: "The Federal reserve system is not a cure-all, but it prevents panics. It is a significant fact that for the first time in the history of this country, a period of expansion has culminated and prices have declined decisively without a banking panic. Business houses entitled to credit will continue to receive it."

Logan & Bryan wired from New York: "While the impression prevails that in many instances the low levels have been established, still there are indications in other directions of liquidation not as yet having run its course. Conditions generally do not warrant the expectancy of much other than occasional upturns."

INVENTOR OF FAMOUS FOKKER COMBAT PLANE ON HIS ARRIVAL HERE

BETTER TRADE IS EXPECTED

Grain Men Hope for Broader Markets; Want Prices Stabilized.

With all the American grain and stock exchanges closed today for the Thanksgiving holiday brokers and the commercial interests are afforded an opportunity to study the situation and to devise any protective measures that may be considered necessary to prevent further price declines attaining dangerous proportions. That the markets in grains should be stabilized as early as possible, if confidence is to be restored and business placed upon a firm foundation, is the opinion generally held in trade and banking circles and it is predicted that plans to that end will be formulated in the near future.

Members of the Duluth board of trade are interested in the outcome of a meeting of the committee of sixteen of the American grain exchanges to be held in Chicago next Saturday morning. It is regarded as assured that trading in the May wheat option will be authorized at that meeting in deference to the wishes of the eight leading grain exchanges. It is conceded that a broader market in wheat would be afforded through the taking of such action, and it is believed that it would be almost immediately reflected in a better character of trading on the grain boards.

Expect Better Movement.

Improvement in the movement of grain from country points to the elevators here is counted upon in the short interval remaining up to the close of the lake navigation season, and fair shipments down the lakes with a view to reducing stocks on hand here to the lowest levels possible is looked for. Though the movement of grain to the terminals here this season has shown a large increase over last year, it has been far below the average of other years.

During the present crop year from Aug. 1 last up to yesterday, 49,700,815 bu of grain were received at the Head of the Lakes elevators, as compared with 18,454,875 bu during the corresponding period last year. Receipts included 25,294,798 bu of wheat, against 9,146,698 bu last year, oats, 2,247,383 bu, against 401,283 bu last year; barley, 2,640,848 bu, against 1,730,207 bu last year; rye, 8,150,394 bu, against 6,437,777 bu last year, and flaxseed, 2,361,202 bu, against 738,159 bu last year.

CARSON DENIES HE HAS BEEN INVITED

London, Nov. 26.—Sir Edward Carson, Ulster Unionist leader, today denied reports that he had received an invitation to appear before the committee of 100 in the United States and give testimony regarding the Irish situation. He said he would regard such an invitation as "gross impertinence."

It was announced in Washington on Nov. 23 that Sir Edward had been invited by the committee "to voice the view of the Ulster minority."

THE LAST CHANCE.

Washington Star: "Here's a mighty interesting map of the place where old Cap Kid is said to have come ashore frequently," remarked the willing worker.

"I thought you were supposed to be securing campaign funds," commented the hustler in tones of weary sarcasm.

"I am doing my best. But you can't ask any of the live ones for subscriptions without getting yourself talked about. I have about decided our only chance is to dig up some buried treasure."

Relieves Rheumatism

If You Haven't Tried Begy's Mustarine You'll Marvel at its Speedy Action.

Just rub it on; that's all you have to do, and you'll find that toothache, earache, headache or backache won't linger with you long.

Just think—a 30c box is equal to 50 blistering mustard plasters, but Begy's Mustarine cannot blister even the tenderest skin—the yellow box—30 and 60 cents.

In Memoriam

We miss you dear husband and father,
The embers burn low on the hearth,
And still is the stir of the household,
And hushed is the voice of its mirth.
We stretch our arms to you in longing,
And lo; they fall empty apart.

POLISH-BOLSHEVIK CLASH IS AVERTED

Warsaw, Nov. 24.—(By the Associated Press.)—Armed conflict between Polish forces and Bolshevik troops which have reached the Polish frontier along the Zbrucz river was narrowly averted yesterday when the Bolsheviki began a bombardment of the town of Podwoloczyska, about twenty-five miles east of Tarnopol. Polish military authorities protested against the bombardment, which caused the deaths of five persons and serious injury of sixteen others.

The Poles were preparing to attack the Bolsheviki when the bombardment stopped and the soviet commander sent a delegation to the town, explaining the place was fired upon because the Bolsheviki believed the place was east of the armistice lines in the hands of Ukrainians.

Gen. Parmykin's Russian army, which has attempted to co-operate with Simon Petlura's Ukrainians, has virtually been destroyed, it is said in dispatches from Tarnopol, and the Bolsheviki have reached the eastern bank of the Zbrucz along its entire length. Reports also indicate that Petlura's army, commanded by Gen. Pavlenko, has been wiped out. More than 25,000 fugitives from these armies have recently crossed the Polish frontier and have been disarmed by the Poles and sent to various internment camps.

OVER 100,000 ATTEND ITALIAN'S FUNERAL

Bologna, Italy, Nov. 24.—Nearly 100,000 persons today witnessed the funeral of Deputy Giordana, the Constitutionalist, who was slain during the riot at the municipal hall on Sunday. The wife and mother of the dead man followed the hearse and as they passed along the street, many weeping women kissed their hands.

The Nationalists have removed the name plate from a street called by the Socialist administration after Spartacus, substituting for it a plate bearing the inscription "Giordana street." In revenge, Socialists fired a dozen revolver shots at street car employes who declared themselves anti-Socialists while passing along this avenue. There were no casualties. Nationalists rushed to the rescue of the men who were attacked, but their assailants had disappeared.

Police officers have searched the house of Martelli, a Communist leader, who was arrested yesterday and declared they found books showing bank deposits of 40,000 lira. Martelli is alleged to have attended Sunday's meeting carrying a basket which contained bombs covered with napkins. On being asked as to the contents of the basket, he is said to have answered:

On the closed door of the chamber of labor, some one today affixed a placard bearing the inscription, "Closed for the Cowardly Murder of Giordana."

CHOOSING SPEAKER AND DIVIDING PATRONAGE BY THE HOUSE CAUCUS

By R. M. Hitchcock, Representative, Sixtieth District.

Hibbing, Minn., Nov. 26.—In response to an informal call of ten of their number about 100 members of the next house of representatives met in St. Paul last week. Along with them came some 100 former house members and others who wanted jobs in the next house. For two days former members wrung each other's hands like long lost brothers, new members submitted to a bewildering succession of introductions, groups formed, melted away, reformed and gossiped by the hour, twos and threes with heads close together whispered mysteriously (secrets of state), everybody hit the trail to room 334, where you stood first on one foot and then on the other waiting for a chance to whisper your heart's desired to Billy Nolan—Billy Nolan whom no group or gathering had as yet named for speaker but whom everyone seemed to think has a "cinch." Bill Nolan, who sympathized warmly with your ambitions and made you feel that you were almost as important as Jake Preus, while all the time you knew very well that he had his chairmen of committees picked out and written down on a paper in his inside pocket; Billy Nolan, speaker of the next house by common consent because every member of the last house swears he was the bst spaker any Minnesota legislature ever had. Through all this handshaking and ear-whispering and salve spreading, the job hunters and their impressarios (members towing their white hopes about) ran amuck.

Thursday afternoon and Friday morning the different districts caucussed and agreed upon the patronage which they would ask of the house. The Eighth district held its caucus, named McPartlin of Koochiching and Bernard and Kleffman of St. Louis county as its "steering committee," indorsed S. V. Saxby of Hibbing for second assistant clerk of the house and Jim Preston of Duluth for assistant doorkeeper and adjourned. A steering committee, it may be said in passing, is a bunch of shock absorbers to whom you can "pass the buck" whenever some good fellow buttonholes you and demands your vote for some other almost equally good fellow down in his district. The steering committee makes the going a lot easier.

Nolan Chosen.

At 2 o'clock Friday afternoon the members of the house met in open caucus, elected John B. Pattison of Stearns chairman and Otto Neuman of Traverse secretary and in about one minute unanimously named W. I. Nolan of Hennepin for speaker. Mr. Nolan was found without the slightest difficulty, was brought in and made the usual unusual speech for which he is noted. Oscar Arneson, for several sessions chief clerk of the house, was unanimously indorsed for that position. The caucus then recessed for twenty minutes to give the members of the steering committees of the various congressional districts an opportunity to put their heads together and agree upon a slate for the other house elective positions. The slate-makers did their work with neatness and dispatch until they came to the task of selecting a postmaster for the house. Here they stuck. The Second district demanded Morse of Murray, while the Tenth district insisted on Swanson, a former house member. Neither side would budge. The drawing of lots was proposed; objected to as savoring too much of gambling; overruled on the ground that politics is all a gamble anyway. So the two candidates were brought in and Swanson drew the postmastership and Morse drew the assistant postmastership, and both will draw the same salary, and everybody was happy, especially the members who had been cooling their heels so long outside in the hall. The caucus reconvened, heard the report of the combined steering committees, promptly ratified their action and adjourned.

The patronage allotted to the Eighth congressional district was that of second assistant clerk, and S. V. Saxby of Hibbing was unanimously named for that position. As the caucus included more than 100 of the 131 members of the house, its action is equivalent to election. Other house employes agreed upon were: Sergeant-at-arms, Henry Robel, Mankato; first assistant clerk, Charles O. Stevens, Warren; postmaster, S. J. Swanson, Cokato; chaplain, Rev. W. S. Howard, St. Paul; first assistant sergeant-at-arms, William McCracken, Spring Valley; enrolling clerk, Mark Buckman, Little Falls; engrossing clerk, Ralph Norgaard, Wheaton; assistant postmaster, C. O. Morse, Slayton.

Marketing Committee Appointed.

Probably the most important action taken by the house caucus, aside from the nomination of a speaker, was the determination to attempt a thorough going solution of the most serious problem which today confronts the farmer—the problem of securing a stable, farm-controlled market for the products of the farm. To that end the caucus named a committee of ten, one from each congressional district, to procure at once all possible data on the subject, digest this material and if possible whip it into the form of a bill or bills ready for the consideration of the legislature at its opening in January. It is hoped in this way that much time may be saved and that digested information upon this all-important subject may early in session be presented to the members for their study and discussion.

The committee of ten will confer with Governor-elect Preus, who has made co-operative marketing of farm products one of his most vigorously championed platform planks; the committee will advise with Commissioner Holmberg of the state department of agriculture, and it will thoroughly sift all material that can be secured; if possible it will draft the necessary measures to afford the farmers of the state relief. A subcommittee is already at work and the full committee will meet at the state capitol Dec. 2.

Col. R. A. Wilkinson of Washington county, Third district, is chairman of this committee of ten, and the other members are: George Wicker, First district; John G. Gerlich, Second district; T. J. Greene, Fourth district; W. I. Norton, Fifth district; A. E. Rako, Sixth district; O. C. Neuman, Seventh district; R. W. Hitchcock, Eighth district; N. T. Moen, Ninth district; Elias Nordgren, Tenth district.

The thought that seemed to be everywhere in the air during the two days of last week when the recently elected members of the next house met at St. Paul, the thought that seemed to be seriously present in every mind, was the thought that the coming session must see the enactment of sound and far-reaching legislation for the benefit of the people of the state. If this good resolution holds its strength unimpaired for four months after Jan. 1, 1921, the Forty-second legislature of Minnesota will become an epoch-marking body.

Who Was Who at the Caucus.

Perhaps the chiefest of all who were at the caucus were H. B. Crozier who writes such clevel political dope for the St. Paul Pioneer Press and Dispatch; Charles B. Cheney of the Minneapolis Journal, one of the keenest and best informed political writers in the Northwest; James A. Peterson, whose specialty is the fake "acid test" and flagrant misrepresentation of Northern Minnesota, one of the smartest slingers of the demagogic ink in the country; last but not least Vance Chapman, better and affectionately known as "Chappie," the County Chairman, whose well writen report of the caucus will be published in almost every country paper in the state. The Minneapolis Tribune's brilliant political writer, George E. Akerson, hovered in the offing, and saw pretty straight down into the schemes of each one of us.

C. J. Buell, a weedy sample of nature's biennial crop of quack-grass, was there too, butting into every conversation. Buell is the president, secretary, treasurer and whole body politic of the "Minnesota Tax Reform association," illegitimate offspring of Buell's amours with the tonnage tax, and whose sole purpose is to separate gullible St. Paul jobbers and wholesalers from their coin. Buell's strong line is boasting at the beginning of the session of the overwhelming vote he has for the tonnage tax and at the end of the session biting his nails in wrath and disappointment. Were it not for the fact that Mr. Buell is a bit busy just now disseminating information as to his own greatness, he would run up to Duluth some day and convert the whole town to the tonnage tax between trains.

The newly elected Nonpartisan Leaguers were not at the caucus—they unanimously stayed away. Half a dozen of the labor members were there, however.

Counted among the missing, also, were such house leaders as Ted Christianson, who will again be chairman of the appropriations committee; Charles H. Warner, reckoned as one of the keenest and cleverest of the house members; Ralph Parker, former speaker.

Some who were there: George Wicker, author of Amendment No. 3, which was beaten Nov. 2; John G. Gerlich, who turned the tables on his Nonpartisan league opponent of two years ago and "came back;" C. M. Bendixen, who denies that he has "struck hands" with Anthony Welch, league leader, on the tonnage tax issue; William C. Risse, newly elect from Red Wing, who was lieutenant in France of a company of over 200 Hibbing boys; George Nordlin, labor leader, flanked by J. P. Cummings and Albert James, Jr., mild of manner, but said to be capable of breathing terrible socialistic threatenings and slaughter; John I. Levin, who raised the salary of every district judge in the state $600 at the last session; Joseph A. Koslank, winner by seventeen votes, aged 23, youngest member of the house; W. I. Nolan, who brought home the bacon; Frank E. Nimmocks, famous for his glad hand and the white carnation that blooms forever fresh in his buttonhole; Victor Holmquist, who recanted from his Nonpartisanship, renounced the party and beat them hip and thigh; J. D. Ross, who flatly told his neighbors in Western Minnesota that a tonnage tax is unjust, and utterly refused to campaign, but had office thrust on him by more than 1,500 majority anyhow; Tom Girling, whose constituents are beginning to say it's no use to hold an election in his district—Tom always cops it off anyhow, and many others, including the following from the Eighth district: Cullum, Scribner, Bernard, Kleffman, Murphy, McPartlin, Hitchcock.

GOPHER GOLD STAR RECORDS RUSHED

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 25.—Members of the Minnesota war records commission are endeavoring to complete the records of gold star men in Minnesota. Memorial certificates are being sent daily to relatives of former service men who made the "supreme sacrifice" in the World war. It is hoped by Franklin F. Holbrook, executive officer of the commission, to complete mailing of certificates to next of kin before the term of Governor Burnquist expires in January.

FORBIDDEN FRUIT GRAPE SYRUP

from California — — the Garden of Eden

A delicious table syrup made from the pure juice of California wine grapes. Nothing is added—only water is taken out.

The red alicanti Forbidden Fruit Grape Syrup has the tang and wondrous flavor of the alicanti grape. It is delightful and delicious.

It is more economical than ordinary syrups. Its flavor is so pronounced that you only have to use a tiny bit.

The white muscat Forbidden Fruit Grape Syrup retains the distinctive flavor of the muscat grape, but introduces it to the palate in a new and delightful form. It is unlike anything you have ever tasted—so distinctive and pleasing.

The patented Serailian process retains the delicious flavor and bouquet that ordinarily escapes in the form of vapor when the grapes are boiled.

Forbidden Fruit Grape Syrup is delicious on hot cakes and waffles—on bread and muffins in place of jelly—in puddings, on ice cream and in sauces in place of wine.

Forbidden Fruit Grape Syrup makes a refreshing beverage that has the wine grape flavor. You simply dilute with water.

Forbidden Fruit Grape Syrup has high food value and is a wonderful aid to digestion.

THIS IS HOW BERT FARRELL PROPOSES TO PAVE SUPERIOR STREET, LAYING ASPHALT OVER PRESENT BRICK SURFACE; GOOD FOUNDATION

Scale ½ inch=1.Ft.

Scale 1.inch = 15. Ft.

The accompanying cut shows the plan of paving the avenue intersections of Superior street with hillside brick to give teams a foothold in climbing the grade. The avenues are now paved with sandstone, and it is the intention to lay brick from the sandstone to a point below the line of Superior street curb line. This will be done only on the upper side of the street, the lower intersections to be paved with asphalt to the sandstone blocks which are laid even with the Superior street building line.

The cross-section pictured at the top shows the base and brick of the street at present and indicates how the asphalt will be laid over the bricks. The city draftsmen in lettering the drawing reversed the appearance of the street, but it should be considered from the viewpoint of the lower part of the picture representing the upper side of the street and vice versa.

Superior street from Third avenue east to Eighth avenue west is to be paved with asphalt next spring, if the present plans of Commissioner J. A. Farrell are carried out. According to present arrangements the street will be given a coating of asphalt to a depth of two inches on top of the present brick pavement. The upper side of the street intersections will be paved with hillside brick, for half the distance from the center of the street, to give teams a foot hold.

"Superior street has for some time been badly in need of repaving," declared Commissioner Farrell, "and it is a question whether the street could go through another season without a new surface. I have studied the repaving of business streets in other cities and found that in many of the Eastern cities this plan of surfacing brick with asphalt has proven very successful. It is the cheapest form of paving for such a street and another big factor in choosing this class of material is that it will set and can be used inside of twenty-four hours.

"This would mean that during the entire time of paving the busiest street in the city it would be necessary to close only one block at a time to traffic. With concrete it would be necessary to close the street for a period of three weeks to allow the cement to set.

Curbs High Enough.

"The curbs along this street are high enough to permit of this form of repaving and by raising the surface, sufficient depth could be had to give it a good wearing quality. Another thing is that it would be impossible to get a better foundation than the present brick. It is perfectly solid and has settled as much as it ever will. We would first thoroughly wash the brick, cleaning out all the dust and dirt and then lay a binder of asphalt and rock on which the asphalt would be laid. The work would go forward rapidly as soon as started and owing to the quick setting of this form of paving, the street would be closed to traffic only a block at a time and this would be but for a few days.

"The street car rails would have to be raised two inches before the work is started, but if they should start at either end of the proposed job, the paving contractors could follow them without much delay. The present rails are laid on concrete stringers, running parallel with the rails and supported about every ten feet by wooden ties. These stringers settling and the ties giving has been the cause of the tracks shifting the way they have. The result is a very crooked line through the business district, which would be remedied when the rails are raised.

"Superior street needs repaving, possibly as badly as any other street in the city, and the public works department will endeavor to have the work done as early in the spring as is possible. Of course it all depends on the property owners along the street, but from conversations I have had with some and the opinions expressed, I have little expectation of any opposition to the improvement."

MANY GO TO CALIFORNIA

Large Number of European Immigrants to the Pacific Coast.

Chicago, Nov. 26.—Large numbers of immigrants from Europe are going to California, according to W. J. Black, passenger traffic manager of the Sante Fe system. He said they are mostly aliens who returned to Europe to fight for their native countries.

"The California-bound immigrants are chiefly French, Italians and Greeks who are very good agriculturalists and find in the vineyards and orchards of California the best opportunity for their abilities," Mr. Black said.

"Now that the war is over, most of them are coming back and they are furnishing California with the largest stream of immigration I think it has ever had. This has been going on some six months and increasing slowly. I believe they average between 600 and 750 a month."

No Immigrant Trains.

The immigrant trains that used to be run to Chicago before the war have not been resumed, Mr. Black said. One reason he said was that there were not enough immigrants to justify them, and another reason was that the Pullman tourist car was taking their place.

From information gathered from railroads here it does not appear that many immigrants coming West are settling on farms. Some plans are being considered by roads, F. W. Falligan, assistant to the supervisor of agriculture of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad, reported, for assisting immigrants with funds to locate on favorable lands in the Northwest. It requires some money, however, for the immigrant to establish himself on his own land, and the observation at several railroads is that as a general thing immigrants arriving here are not so "overly burdened."

APPEALS TO JEWS FOR CO-OPERATION

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 25.—An appeal for the co-operation of all Jews in America toward converting Palestine into a "true Jewish homeland" was made here today by Julian W. Mack, president of the Zionist organization of America, in an address opening the twenty-third annual convention of the organization.

Mr. Mack declared that the time for theoretical propaganda in favor of the principles of Zionism had ended with the creation of a free Jewish state in the Holy Land under the guarantee of a British mandate—that it is a definite and concrete problem now, the upbuilding of the Jewish homeland.

"For decades to come this will require the united effort of the whole Jewish people," he said.

Mr. Mack laid stress upon the necessity of all Jews laying aside their differences of opinion regarding how the task of reconstruction should be undertaken. He appealed for support for Sir Herbert Samuel, first high commissioner under the British mandate, who recently called for aid in securing a Palestinian governmental loan of £3,000,000 to be used for railway improvements, telephone and telegraphic lines, a road system and the erection of government buildings.

JAPS AT CHANG-TE FLEE TO KOREA

Tokio, Nov. 25.—(By the Associated Press.)—Reports today from Seoul, Korea, state that the Japanese consul at Chang-Te, Manchuria, has fled to Keizan with the Japanese inhabitants of Chang-Te, owing to the presence of 800 Chinese bandits.

The Chinese inhabitants of Chang-Te, according to the reports, declare the unrest in the region is due to the operations of the Japanese forces which recently entered Chinese territory to operate against Chinese bandits. They threaten a massacre of the Japanese residents as a retaliatory measure.

Few people were aware that they were sailing.

They were accompanied on the tender which took them to the Celtic by Mrs. MacSwiney's brother-in-law and Mrs. MacCurtain, widow of Lord Mayor MacCurtain of Cork, Mayor MacSwiney's predecessor, who was murdered in March last.

SAYS FAMILY OF FIVE NEEDS $2,632

New York, Nov. 25.—A living wage for a family of five in New York city is $2,632.68, it was estimated today by John P. Mines, president of the Printing Press and Feeders' union, in presenting demands for an increase of wages in the printing trade.

These figures were arrived at, he said, by an actual canvass of homes of printers and an analysis of current prices on 400 miscellaneous articles necessary to the average wage earners' household.

Expenditures were itemized as follows: Food, $871.80; clothing, $529.96; rent, $437.35; light and heat, $68.59; household equipment, $69.23; miscellaneous, $655.75.

It is a marvelous portrayal of the human body at its best. One beholds in its composite detail a true symbol of strength. It presents a figure of striking appearance in its erect carriage, clear skin, sparkling eyes, strong limbs, steady nerves and firm muscles; fairly vibrating in animation—keen, alert, fresh, and spirited; with an air of unbounded confidence and a face radiant in color and illuminated with a glow of hope and cheerfulness.

Could Nature have taken you for her model? Suppose you study yourself in the mirror of the present and compare your looks, your feelings and your condition with the general characteristics of this picture of the human body in perfect working order, all parts of which are sound, well organized and disposed, performing their functions freely, naturally.

If you fail in any single point of resemblance, you are not the picture of health. It's imperative, then, that you look to a means to rebuild your strength, energy and vigor—to bring your body up to a normal state of efficiency in all of its parts.

SHARKS REAP BIG PROFITS

Illegal Purchase of Savings Stamps and Thrift Stamps.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 26.—As a result of reports and arrests in other parts of the country, which indicate that financial "sharks" are reaping profits of hundreds of thousands of dollars through the illegal purchase at big discounts of United States War Savings stamps and Thrift stamps, E. C. Kibbee, director of the Ninth district government savings organization, has issued warnings and asks the public to present facts concerning these criminal transactions.

The Savings organization has been advised that at San Francisco, Jacob Soplin and Walter Kohn, officers of the Union Bond company, have been arrested by secret service men on warrants charging the men with having mulcted investors through War Savings stamps discount operations.

Complaints were sworn to by Stephen Connell, chief of the United States San Francisco secret service, on information furnished by C. A. Farnsworth, associate director of the government savings organization.

Poor Are Cheated.

A startling state of affairs, whereby the poor have been cheated out of their small savings, has been uncovered. One instance is cited in which a boy sold $100 worth of Savings stamps to sharks for $30.

By means of signs in windows, by personal solicitation with customers and by carefully worded advertisements, the sharks have managed to obtain, at greatly reduced rates, immense quantities of War Savings stamps.

In San Francisco the postoffice records show that the various dealers have cashed more than $100,000 worth of these stamps during the last few months.

The specific charge against the two men under arrest is the altering of the government obligation. The law provides that only the owner of stamps shall redeem them. These stamps may always be cashed in at the postoffice—and only at the postoffice as they are nontransferable—for more than was paid for them, each $5 stamp increasing in value 1 cent each month.

Is Height of Foolishness.

"To sacrifice these stamps to 'slickers' for 10 to 15 per cent or even more," says Mr. Kibbes, "is the height of foolishness on the part of the holders and makes a criminal out of the buyer."

The law also provides that a purchaser shall not buy more than $1,000 worth of these stamps in any one year. The San Francisco reports show that in that city this has been violated by the companies which, it is charged, have in their possession many thousands of dollars worth of stamps. Prosecution may also be instituted against such money-grabbing concerns for transacting, through the mails, an alleged illegitimate business.

Crooked buyers remove the stamps from partly filled spaces of the certificates and place them upon a new certificate in the name of an employe or agent and the stamps later are redeemed at the postoffice under the pretext that they were an original purchase.

POLAND HONORS NINE AMERICANS

Warsaw, Nov. 2.—(By the Associated Press.)—The American typhus fever relief expedition to Poland, the first organization of its kind in the history of the United States army, is preparing to leave soon for America, the work which the expedition organized to be carried on by the Polish health department. The expedition came to Poland intending to remain four months but its service was extended on two occasions, the work having been started in August, 1919.

In recognition of their services to Poland in the campaign against typhus fever the Polish government recently awarded the Commemorative Cross to the following members of the organization: Lieut.-Col. Harry L. Gilchrist of Cleveland in command; Maj. Lee R. Dunbar, Gloversville, N. Y.; Maj. Frank Dixon, Franklin, Ind.; Maj. Willis P. Baker, New York city; Capt. Paul H. Streit, Marlin, Tex.; Lieut. Robert C. Snido, Lexington, Va.; Lieut. Arthur Fox, Philadelphia; Lieut. Harold L. K. Albro, Waltham, Mass., and Lieut. Alfred N. Bergman, Omaha, Neb.

More than forty commissioned officers and 500 enlisted men, all of them volunteers, have been affiliated with the expedition from time to time, the organization consisting of about 200 men when the work began. During the stay its members have been distributed in all parts of Poland where there was danger of the spread of typhus, the Americans being attached to the different Polish sanitary organizations.

IS GOING TO REBUILD ROOF CHICKEN "FARM"

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 26.—Because of domestic pressure, Edwin L. Rosenberg, president and treasurer of the Milwaukee Seed company, stated yesterday that in all probability he would rebuild the scientific chicken farm and fancy pigeon loft formerly located on the roof of the building occupied by the company which was recently destroyed by fire.

Mr. Rosenberg said that for the first time in more than five years his wife had been forced to purchase eggs at the present price of 80 cents per dozen, and that "it was about killing her."

All that remains of the stock of 400 blooded White Leghorn chickens were a few with wing and tail feathers badly singed, who during the fire flew over the wire enclosure and to the ground forty feet below, and were picked up by spectators and taken home.

While chasing the chickens which they hobbled with string and placed in a convenient alley, some of the bystanders were thoroughly drenched by water lines being played on the fire. Mr. Rosenberg stated that he officially made these people a present of the chickens.

Were Laying Many Eggs.

The chickens at times were laying as high as 300 eggs a day, Mr. Rosenberg said. The coop which housed them was 80 by 30 feet and thoroughly protected by fireproof material. All modern improvements such as running water, electric lights and long French windows on the southern exposure were embodied in the coop.

The scheme originated, Mr. Rosenberg said, several years ago when he brought in a few chickens from his country home, placed them in a coop on the roof of his business establishment, to supply his children with fresh eggs. It was then found that the grain sifted from the seed was sufficient to feed a large number. The first coop was then fitted up as a pigeon loft and the new building with the improved runways and modern conveniences constructed.

Above the ruined building the pigeons, all of which escaped the fire, are circling. The birds, consisting of fancy strains of homers and runts, refuse to desert their old home, the runts perched on convenient buildings while the homers wing the air.

MANY IMMIGRANTS EXPECTED BY CANADA

Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 26.—It is estimated that the immigration movement into Canada for the present fiscal year will approximate 190,000, the newcomers being very largely from Great Britain and the United States.

The high water mark in Canadian immigration was reached in 1913, when 403,436 persons entered the dominion.

For the first six months of the present fiscal year Canada's immigrants numbered 95,005, an increase of 38 per cent over the movement for the corresponding period last year. In the matter of origin they were divided as follows: British, 52,768; United States, 30,763; others, 11,474.

At present the dominion is receiving a considerable influx of Polish Jews. These are being examined and must comply absolutely with the regulations before being permitted to come in. Many are being sent back.

Luxury in Music Without Added Cost

Every home can have music. Yet today there is still luxury in music; the luxury of rare refinement of tone such as you find in the Paramount Phonograph.

This luxury, however, costs you no more. It is simply a matter of choosing; comparing critically, selecting on merit, the only just basis.

CLAIM PERMISSION TO MAKE AIRPLANES

Dresseau, Germany, Nov. 24.—Written permission for construction of airplanes of the type sold to an American firm and held up in given by the Entente control commission, it is declared by the firm making the machines. It is also asserted that the shipment to America of the eleven machines now in the hands of the commission at Hamburg was sanctioned by an export commissioner, as they are of a civilian type. The construction of these machines has never been open to objection from the Entente commission, and the airplanes do not come within the provisions of the Versailles treaty, it is said.

It was declared yesterday that these machines which are made of aluminum would be held until Article 201 of the Versailles treaty directing the delivery of air material to the Allies had been complied with. At that time it was stated the German government would protest to the Allies against the action of the commission.

He was unhitching a horse belonging to Mrs. Joseph Page of Gentilly and was between the pole of the wagon and the horse, when the animal was frightened by a passing auto and started up, dragging Mr. Prudhomme some 200 feet. He dropped and two wheels passed over his shoulder and side.

PLAN DEPARTMENT OF SOCIAL WELFARE

Washington, Nov. 26.—Creation of a department of social welfare to "safeguard and promote the social welfare of the people of the United States," is provided for in a bill prepared by Senator Kenyon of Iowa, for introduction at the coming session of congress. The head of the department would be a member of the cabinet.

The new department would have transferred to its jurisdiction the public health service and the hygiene laboratory now under the treasury; the bureau of education from the department of interior; the children's bureau; women's bureau; the bureau of industrial housing and transportation; the United States employment service and the United States employes' commission, now under the labor department, and the office of home economics from the department of agriculture.

HAVE YOU JOINED THE RED CROSS?

America, during the war, and even in the year following the armistice, struck a high note of unity and patriotism and mercy and unselfishness.

If America could keep on or anywhere near that high note for a generation, it could amaze the world by a demonstration of achievements, both spiritual and material, such as history never even dreamed of before.

It could not be expected, perhaps, that the country could keep itself on that high plane of nobility and service. Some relaxation was inevitable.

But it is to be hoped that there has been no such demoralizing slump as we should have to believe in if we measured it by the present showing of Red Cross memberships in Duluth as compared with the memberships of the war years and of the year following the war.

For the present, we prefer to believe that the difference is due wholly to the fact that in former years there was a personal, house-to-house canvass, and that this year the campaign has been an appeal to volunteers. Thousands, we are sure, who want to join and intend to join and who are more than glad to give the dollar it costs, have not yet come in because they have not realized that they will not be solicited but must offer their memberships.

If this is the case with you, why not resolve this minute to send your application and your dollar to J. W. Lyder, treasurer, 507 Alworth building? Surely you do not want to be out of this great and splendidly American agency for relief and mercy, which ministers to the pain and affliction that are with us in time of peace as well as in time of war?

THE WEST END SHOULD HAVE A POSTAL STATION.

For some time a postal station for the West end has been maintained by the postoffice department in the store of John J. Moe & Son. Last evening The Herald had a local item to the effect that this firm had asked to be relieved, on the ground that it is sustaining a substantial loss every month and that it can see no reason why a private business should stand a loss to conduct a service which the government is amply able to finance itself.

Nor can we see any reason why the postoffice department should ask such a gift. The principle seems wrong and unbusinesslike.

The West end is the most populous, and the most densely populous, part of the city. Its postal business is very large. A community with a postal business as great would as a matter of course have a postoffice, adequately housed and supplied with help. The West end to a large extent is a community by itself, which the government recognizes when it establishes a postal station there.

The West end certainly needs and should have a postal station. The postoffice department should not longer ask private business enterprises, at their own cost, to provide a service which it is the department's duty to provide at its cost.

JUDGING BY THE FROTH.

The Philadelphia Bulletin reports Rabbi Krauskopf and the Rev. John R. Straton, New York's crusading minister, as giving a gloomy mental picture as they view the "Babylonic excesses" of the time in the gay, fast life of men and women in the great cities. Both foretell the "downfall" of the nation unless there is a sharp upward turn in public morality, and a quick return to the "higher tone and plainer living" of other days.

No doubt it is pretty bad. A lot of people whose tastes run that way, and who have money enough or can borrow money enough or postpone paying their bills long enough to enjoy riotous pleasures, are giving an exhibition of excesses that are, truly enough, pretty nearly "Babylonic."

But have those who are getting alarmed about this condition thought what proportion of the people, even in the great cities, are engaged in keeping it up? That's rather an important factor. If only the usual few with more money—or credit—than brains are engaging in a saturnalia of gay pleasures it isn't particularly important. If the sudden increase in rich people resulting from the war has considerably increased the number of those whose lives are wholly or almost wholly devoted to pleasure, even that isn't especially alarming. "Easy come, easy go," is a rule with a good deal of human nature in it; and it may be the main cause of this condition.

No great alarm is warranted until we know whether this saturnalia of pleasure excesses is confined to a frothy layer, flung up by the accident of sudden riches, or goes deep into the body of the nation. And we do not believe that it does go deep.

Everybody loves pleasure and gaiety. Only the frivolous few make a business of them. Before giving in to a panic about the "downfall" of the country, we should reflect that now, as always, there is a great mass of decent, hard working, self-respecting, well behaved people, who take their pleasures in due proportion, and who are therefore the brawn and sinew of the nation. Until excess in riotous pleasures taints this healthy body of the nation, there is little reason to worry about such superficial affairs as the behavior of a relatively small element whose heads have been turned by sudden wealth.

WHO WAS REPUDIATED?

There has been an assumption that if Europe was misled as to our purposes in the late war it was because it was foolish enough to listen to the president of the United States, and to presume that he was licensed to speak for the country and had the country back of him. This assumption implies that the correct view is the Harding view, which is that America didn't go to war to make the world safe for democracy, nor for humanity, nor for the principle of freedom and self-determination of peoples, but simply and selfishly to guard its national interests.

Senator McCarthy points out that Europe might reply that it was not depending only on the voice of the president, though it had a right to depend upon that, but also on the voice of Senator Lodge, the qualified spokesman for the then minority party, made audible at the very moment when the hope of the world rested most in America, and when the world's thought was directed most anxiously this way.

Mr. Harding's view that America did not go to war for freedom and democracy and self-determination and, above all, to end war—that it went to war merely as Germany might have gone to war, for purely material and selfish motives—is not the view of the president's noble utterances, which will live when his enemies are forgotten. But neither was it the view of the Republican party, as expressed by Senator Lodge on August 23, 1918. Read what he said then; read where he said that "we are fighting * * * for the right of nations, great and small, to govern themselves in their own way; for organized races and peoples to have the opportunity to govern themselves in independent states; for the sanctity and observance of treaties; FOR THE GENERAL DISARMAMENT OF NATIONS." Read, and reflect.

Who, in the light of these words, has been repudiated if America on November 2 voted to turn its back upon the world? President Wilson? Yes. Senator Lodge? Yes. But more than these, spokesmen as they are the one for America and the other for the party now dominant; if they were repudiated, then it is the very soul and conscience and honor of America that were repudiated by the vote of November 2.

But we do not believe for a moment that the words of President Wilson, or the words of Senator Lodge in a high moment which it is a pity he ever escaped from, or the soul and purpose of America, were repudiated by that election.

America still stands for freedom, democracy, self-determination, world peace and world disarmament; and if the instruments of the moment fail it, then in due time America will repudiate these unworthy instruments and find new ones that will work its high will and purpose in good faith, for the glory of God and the welfare of mankind.

Rippling Rhymes
By WALT MASON.

After the Fuss

The welkin's ceased to rattle, and calm is everywhere, and now the smoke of battle no more obscures the air; spellbinders have departed; the losers, heavy-hearted, now look for holes uncharted, where each may have his lair. And now let's be forgetting our woozy campaign ways, and do some honest sweating, as in the olden days; there's wood that calls for hewing, and hops require our brewing; oh, let us be pursuing sane tasks, like useful jays. The statesmen we've elected, I'm sure, will not be lax, and they may be expected to get right down to tacks; but they can't make the nation work out its own salvation unless the population will buckle down like wax. When at the polls I noted (I watched you, eagle-eyed!) how all you fellows voted with high and wholesome pride; and now perhaps you figure that, having thus shown vigor, it's yours to sit and snigger and let the whole works slide. This nation can't be lifted to levels fine and high by all the statesmen gifted who eat the public pie, unless Tom, Dick and Harry their divers loads will carry, and work, and cease to tarry where all the loafers sigh.

Repudiation

By C. C. McCarthy, Grand Rapids, Minn.

In addition to the many explanations of the vote cast for Mr. Harding there is another, much more serious—repudiation. History will hereafter declare that the election of 1920, turned upon the determination of the United States senate to escape from—that is, repudiate—its most solemn declaration and covenant made to and with the Allies, and the whole world, in the dark days of the great war. Not only will history so declare, but it will discuss with wonder the marvelous performance of the senate whereln by means of a general election, it shifted the responsibility for repudiation from itself to the people by an adroitly planned and skilfully executed campaign. Nor was this done in such a way as to deceive the people. The wonder of wonders will be that the Republican presidential nominee openly declared repudiation to be the supreme issue and its accomplishment to be attained only by his election. In his first public address after his nomination, in his speech of acceptance, he said:

> If the mistaken voice of America, spoken in unheeding haste, led Europe, in the hour of deepest anxiety, into a military alliance which menaces peace and threatens all freedom, instead of adding to their security, then we must speak the truth for America and express our hope for the fraternized conscience of nations.

That sentence spoke the ultimate object of the Republican platform and nominee, which was to repudiate that voice of America declared by him to have been "spoken in unheeding haste." Let us examine that voice and see what it uttered. Let us see how, when and by whom America spoke, and in speaking what America said.

This voice was spoken in the hour of deepest anxiety in Europe—in 1918, after the German legions were released from the eastern front and were being hurled against the western front. In that hour of deepest anxiety, on the 23rd day of August, America spoke through its senate, and the senate voiced America's position. Henry Cabot Lodge was the one selected by the senate and America to speak. He said:

> I am sure the American people mean to carry it (the war) through to the bitter end and to an entire completeness. It, therefore, is of importance that we should have in our minds a clear definition of what that completeness and end must be. We must face facts and strive for a complete veracity of mind. We must know just what we mean to do, for knowing what we mean to do is half the battle. * * *
> It seems to me of the most importance to know exactly what we mean by peace. Generalities will not serve. It must be, it is commonly said—we have all said it—a just and a righteous peace. But what is a just and righteous peace? What are the conditions that would make it so? What is the irreducible minimum? We intend to make the world safe for democracy. But what exactly do we mean by democracy? If we mean, as we undoubtedly do, the democracy of England, France, Italy and the United States, we can all understand it. * * *
>
> But assuming that when we say we must make the world safe for democracy we mean our own conception of democracy, how is it to be made safe? That, again, is a vague term which must be answered, and can only be answered by definition.
>
> We are fighting and our allies are fighting with us for security; for independence; for the right of nations, great and small, to govern themselves in their own way; for organized races and peoples to have the opportunity to govern themselves in independent states; for the sanctity and observance of treaties; for the general disarmament of nations. How are these things to be secured? The details are really far more important than the general propositions, in which we all agree. Broadly speaking, there is only one way to obtain this security of the nations, this safety of democracy, this preservation of freedom and civilization, and that is by reducing Germany to a condition where by no possibility can she precipitate another war for universal conquest, with all its attendant horrors, upon an unoffending world. Again we are faced by details: How is this to be done? I see only one way in which it can be done, and I will enumerate the results, the hard facts, the essential conditions, to which we must attain.
>
> Belgium must be restored.

> Alsace and Lorraine must be returned to France—unconditionally returned—not merely because sentiment and eternal justice demand it, but because the iron and coal of Lorraine must be forever taken from Germany.
>

>

> Most important of all, if we are to make the world safe in the way we mean it to be safe, the great Slav populations now under the government of Austria—Jugo-Slavs and the Czecho-Slovaks, who have been used to aid the Germans, whom they loathe—must be established as independent states.
>
> The Polish people must have an independent Poland.
>
> And we must have these independent states created so that they will stand across the pathway of Germany to the east. Nothing is more vital than this for a just, a righteous, and an enduring peace.
>
> The Russian provinces taken from Russia by the villainous peace of Brest-Litovsk must be restored to Russia. * * *
>
> Constantinople must be finally taken away from Turkey and placed in the hands of the Allied nations as a free port, so as to bar Germany's way to the east and hold the Dardenelles open for the benefit of mankind. * * *
>
> It would be a miserable outcome to have Turkey retained in Europe, a curse to her subjects and neighbors, a plague spot, and a breeder of wars. Her massacres must not under any pretense be condoned nor her iniquities rewarded. Let Turkey and Bulgaria share the fate of their master, Germany, and be so treated that they will be unable again to trouble the world.
>
> Palestine must never return to Turkish rule, and the persecuted Christians of Asia Minor—the Syrians and the Armenians—must be made safe.
>
> These are the principal conditions which alone will give us a victory worth having, and when we talk about complete peace, and a just and a righteous peace, let it be known to all the world that this is what we mean. * * *
>
> Unless we achieve this we shall have fought in vain. Congress and the president had no right to declare war unless they meant to do precisely this thing. Nothing less would justify our action.

That was the declaration of the United States senate on the 23rd day of August, 1918. Examine the congressional record for Aug. 23, 1918, pages 10,220-10,221, and note the roll call immediately before and after the above declaration. Brandegee of Connecticut and Johnson of California, Lodge of Massachusetts and Borah of Idaho, Knox of Pennsylvanian and Kellogg of Minnesota, and Harding of Ohio all were there and all joined in that declaration of America's war aims.

When we so declared on Aug. 23, 1918, America filled the horizon of the world; we occupied the center of the stage of the world; all eyes were turned towards us, all ears were listening for our voice. On that day, above the roar of a million guns, above the thunder of artillery from the Alps to the North sea, above the crash of falling kingdoms and crumbling dynasties, the voice of America, spoken by the senate, rose clear, distinct, certain, that America was going to carry the war through to the bitter end and entire completeness, and that such end and completeness was the accomplishing of the details ennumerated by the senate as above quoted. And the senate clinched the matter by declaring, "Unless we achieve this we shall have fought in vain. Congress and the president had no right to declare war unless they meant to do precisely this thing. Nothing less would justify our action."

It is a far cry from the senate that rose to the sublime heights of that declaration on Aug. 23, 1918, to the senate that passed the resolution for a separate peace in the spring of 1920.

It was the declaration of the senate Aug. 23, 1918, that Senator Harding meant when he said, "If the mistaken voice of America, spoken in unheeding haste, led Europe, in the hour of deepest anxiety, into a military alliance * * *" It was the repudiation of that voice he declared when he said, "Then we must speak the truth for America and express the hope for the fraternized conscience of nations."

Seven Objections to the Seaway

Editorial in the Chicago Tribune.

Olin H. Landreth, representing the New York Merchants' association, has presented to the commission investigating the feasibility of the St. Lawrence seaway seven "serious objections." These are:

"1. The speed retarding and dangerous element of ice and fog in the lower St. Lawrence river and gulf.

"2. Shallow depths and tortuous or at least extremely irregular channel-layout, even after improvement, will necessitate very slow speeds for large vessels.

"3. Time lost at locks.

"4. Heavy marine insurance.

"5. Short navigation season of about seven months.

"6. A largely one-way traffic.

"7. A very restricted market port."

These arguments, if left without analysis, might be of influence in preventing favorable United States action on the canal project. Therefore it is well to attempt a brief analysis.

The first objection is refuted to a considerable extent by the fact that ocean steamship lines have been for years and are today overcoming the handicaps cited by making regular and profitable voyages through the gulf and river to Montreal. They use the same route which would be used if the seaway were developed west of Montreal.

The second and third objections can be considered as one. The projected improvement will limit the "tortuous channels" to a maximum of approximately 140 miles, necessitating a loss of time due to restricted steaming estimated at only twenty-four hours between tidewater and Lake Erie. The new Welland canal alone, planned and built entirely by Canadian initiative and capital, will reduce the time between Lake Ontario and Lake Erie from twenty-four to eight hours for the average ship.

The fourth objection may be more or less valid, but it cannot be made specific until insurance rates are fixed on the proposed route. With the improved channel and safeguards contemplated it is more than likely that insurance rates will not be kept at a prohibitive figure.

The fifth objection also has some claims to validity. The through route probably will be closed for five months each year. But it will not be closed until after the ordinary season of heavy harvest shipments.

The sixth objection as to one-way traffic is largely guess work. It is true that one-way traffic is assured. That is the movement of Middle Western crops for export. But it is also true that the Middle West uses vast quantities of imported goods. These goods can be brought in by an all-water route more cheaply than by water to New York and rail to lake ports. It is logical to expect that they will provide cargoes for returning ships.

The seventh objection, that of a very restricted market port for steamers into the lakes, seems to reflect New York's egotism more than anything else. Do the demands of Buffalo, Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago, Milwaukee and Duluth, with minor lake cities and the territory which they serve, constitute a "very restricted market port?" Certainly not. Even New York will admit that if it is honest.

Concluding, Mr. Landreth objects to the project on account of the "untold millions" of New York's money and that of the nation which would be wasted in the improvement. Such generalities are seriously misleading. The improvement would not require "untold millions." A close estimate of the cost of the improvements to the United States has put it at $65,000,000. Returns from the hydro-electric power alone would more than pay the interest on this investment. There is no question of a possible waste of "untold millions."

Wilson

William Allen White in the Emporia Gazette (Rep.): Every Republican paper in the United States and many Democratic papers since the election have been pleased to lay the blame for the defeat of the Democratic party at the president's door. Probably it is not flattery to say that he is the most neglected man in America today. With all the material power which his office gives him, he is spiritually powerless. He, who two years ago was the world's greatest spiritual leader, today seems to be "with Nineveh and Tyre."

And yet there can be no doubt that the verdict of history on President Wilson will affirm his greatness. In great moments of crisis during the last eight years, President Wilson has risen to real heights and has done worthy and memorable things. His name will stand in history either as the sponsor of a great hope or the recorder of a high tide in human affairs from which impotent humanity has receded. He, the first of all world statesmen at the end of a ghastly world catastrophe, tried to make a settlement based upon justice, not on force, upon what should be rather than what could be. Either the League of Nations will rise during this century and work for peace on earth and good will among men, or it will fail, and in its failure will herald in such an epoch of horror that humanity in its decay will look back to the glorious dream which this man dreamed as the beginning of the wreck of nations and crash of civilizations. In either event Wilson's name is safe. He aspired greatly; he strove with what strength he had, and with what weapons God gave him. He lost; his powers were not sufficient for his task. His hand was not as strong as his heart. He called the spirits from the vasty deep; but alas, they did not come. His loss is mankind's loss. But even if he lost, he lost, but losing won.

He is not the first Moses left in the wilderness, even though he stood by the burning bush; nor the first Isaiah to preach righteousness vainly to a wicked and perverse generation.

Children and Coffee

Most of the prejudice which exists against coffee as a beverage is based upon nothing more than morbid fancy. People of a dyspeptic or neurotic temperament are fond of assuming that coffee must be bad because it is so good, and accordingly denying themselves the pleasure of drinking it.

Coffee is a strong stimulant to the cerebrum, the heart and the kidneys. There are conditions in which such stimulation may be desirable and beneficial, or at least not injurious; and there are other conditions in which there can be no doubt that such stimulation is harmful.

Among frequent conditions in which coffee may be injurious may be mentioned certain cases of insomnia, certain cases of exophthalmic goiter or hyperthyroidism associated with other diseases. I am speaking now of adults.

Children should never be given coffee. There is no conceivable condition in childhood in which the regular or habitual use of coffee as a beverage can be justified. There are many objections. In children the brain and nervous system are more predominant than in adults; the child's nervous system weighs more and is more active in proportion with body weight than is the adult's. That explains why a child will have a spasm or convulsion with the onset of an illness which would be ushered in with only a chill or chilliness in an adult.

Certainly no coffee (or tea, since both beverages produce the same effects) should be given any child under the age of 16 years.

Coffee and tea drinking in childhood are prolific factors of peevishness, nervousness, bed-wetting, and in my own opinion, of malnutrition and defective growth.

Fresh milk is the child's beverage. After the age of 16 years a small quantity of cocoa or chocolate may be used to flavor the milk though cocoa and chocolate have practically the same effect as tea and coffe, and can scarcely be deemed beneficial or essential for a child of any age. The addition of a small quantity of cocoa or chocolate to a considerable quantity of fresh (never canned, condensed or dry milk substitutes) often makes the beverage appeal to a child who may refuse to drink milk hot or cold or otherwise flavored. In that case the cocoa or chocolate may be justifiable.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Foaming at the Mouth.

My boy was bitten by a dog about ten days ago. Should the dog be killed? I have been told that if the dog should go mad the boy will foam at the mouth. The dog is one with an ugly disposition. (H. E. M.)

Answer: In every case of dogbite, the safe and sane procedure to follow is this: See that the dog is confined for a period of two weeks under the care of a veterinary physician. The dog's owner should provide the expense of this, of course, and if the owner refuses, then it is time to take legal action. But if the owner is fair he will pay the veterinary's fee, and when the veterinary reports to you at the end of the two weeks that the dog shows no sign of sickness, forget it. If the veterinary is unable to give such a clear report, then the dog should be killed and the head promptly sent to a pathologist or health board laboratory for examination for rabies. As a general rule it is more likely that the person who gave you the superstitious advice will foam at the mouth than the dog or the boy will.

Incipient Cancer.

I am a woman 64 years old. For years I have had on my left cheek a wart, which of late seems to be growing and it is rough and annoys me by itching and becoming sore. My doctor once said he would cut it off were it not for my age. What would you advise—should I apply that corn remedy one of your readers found so effective for warts? (O. M. A.)

Answer: By all means have the wart excised without further delay. Do not experiment with any external application. Such a thing is likely to become a skin cancer (epithelioma). After removal, perhaps a few X-ray treatments to prevent possible recurrence if it proves to be cancer.

Is there scientific foundation for the theory that goiter is caused by lime in drinking water? If so, would the habitual use of throat lozenges containing lime be likely to produce goiter? (B L.)

Answer: There is no ground for the theory. Not what is present in the drinking water, but something lacking in the water, may account for the remarkable frequency of goiter in certain inland sections of this and other countries. That something is probably iodine.

Daily Strength and Cheer.

Do not think of your faults, still less of others' faults; in every person who comes near you, look for what is good and strong; honor that; rejoice in it; and as you can, try to imitate it; and your faults will drop off like dead leaves when their time comes.—Ruskin.

Not with eye service, as men-pleasers; but as the servants of Christ, doing the will of God from the heart.—Eph. vi. 6.

"The brave man in his own soul will always try himself by the pure eyes and perfect witness of the all-judging God.

In all God's diadem
No star shines brighter than the kingly man,
Who nobly earns whatever crown he wears,
Who grandly conquers, or as grandly dies;
And the white banner of his manhood bears
Through all the years uplifted to the skies.

The Greater Victory

Louisville Courier-Journal: "America," says Motta at the league session, "which at the critical moment of the war hurled the weight of its ideas, resources and armies into the scale and thus decided the fate of the continents and Europe in particular."

Observe it was the weight of its ideas as well as of its resources and armies; and yet the man whom America has chosen to be its president says we did not fight for ideas—for democracy, for liberty, for humanity—but only for our own selfish concrete "rights."

The truth is that America's ideas won a greater victory than America's resources and armies, for its ideas conquered not only our enemies but our Allies.

And it is our victorious ideas which some of our victorious politicians would now recant and disown.

Keeping Up With Minnesota Editors

A Long Trail Ahead

Bemidji Pioneer: There comes a time when each of us must hit the long trail to a world that is hidden from mortal eyes—a world of which we hear much, but which we never see while life lasts.

The trail is plainly blazed by many markings, but it is only traveled by those who prepare themselves for the journey in advance. The guilding of our steps may rest in other hands, but the taking of them rests wholly with us.

As we aid in removing the obstacles from the paths of our neighbors and friends in this life, so will the obstructions be lessened or removed from our own paths when we take the long trail.

The Price of Politics

Fairmont Sentinel: If the League of Nations had been made strong enough at the beginning as it might have been with the entrance of the United States, something might have been done to do away with the menace of large supplies of munitions of war, located all over Europe. The Polish war might have been avoided or shortened had a general destruction or sequestration of war material been ordered a year ago. The fighting in Southern Russia at this time is said to be very largely due to the existence of arms and ammunition left over from the great war.

Sees Shock for Vierick

Sherburne Advance Standard: The election appears to have been a vindication of George Silvester Vierick, the editor of the Fatherland. He boasted that he'd deliver 6,000,000 votes for Harding and he seemed to have done even better than that. He probably didn't include the women vote in his original calculations. But—and this is one thing Vierick probably hasn't stopped to consider—he'll probably wake up some morning to find out that Harding is going to be as much of an American as he was when he voted in the senate for war with Germany. Punishing a president for being an American, as Woodrow Wilson proved himself, much to the discomfiture and disgust of such fellows as Vierick, won't get them anything. If Harding had been president during the war period the chances are the German military masters would have received even more rough treatment than Wilson gave them.

Another Minnesota Problem

Redwood Gazette: A mother who suggests to her high school daughter that the time has arrived for the putting on of something more suited to the climate of Minnesota than are Italian silk B. V. D.'s and stockings of the same material, is just about as popular with said daughter as is Lloyd George in Ireland.

CONSTANTINE TELLS OF POLICY OF GREECE

Lucerne, Switzerland, Nov. 26.—(By The Associated Press.)—Former King Constantine of Greece has officially notified England, France and Italy that he plans no change in the foreign policy of Greece and that any possible government of Greece will continue the friendly attitude of the country toward the Allies.

Members of Constantine's suite said they expected the new American administration to be favorable to Constantine's return.

Gen. Papaoulas, commander of the Greek army of Smyrna, has sent a telegram to Constantine saying the Greek troops are awaiting Constantine's leadership for fresh victories. Constantine replied, expressing his gratitude for the loyalty of the troops and saying he expects Greek military traditions to be carried out for the benefit and glory of Greece.

It was also decided that the expense of printing maps for legislators is to be borne by the appropriation for the railroad commission and not by the highway commission.

POOR FARM GETS A PIANO.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Some time ago you had an article by "R. W. N." in your paper relative to our need at the poor farm of a piano. This resulted in a piano being donated to our folks at the poor farm by Ira Coburn of 1933 Waverly avenue.

On behalf of the folks at the poor farm, I want to thank The Herald and Mr. Coburn for your interest in the welfare of our folks at the farm. We also want to thank the kind-hearted people who donated the $21.50 received by your paper towards a piano fund. It will be used to tune the piano from time to time and keep it in first-class repair. Yours truly,

FRED WARD.
Superintendent, County Poor Farm.

Subscriptions for this thoughtful purpose were made by the Woodland Epworth league, $5; the Adelphian club, $5; Marie L. Marshall, $1; Ben Olson, $1, and H. Larson of Smithville, $1. There also were a number of donations by those who preferred to make them anonymously.—The Editor.

CHRISTMAS TREES.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Who is it, an old maid or a bachelor that wants children to go without one of the joys of Christmas? He must be a crank who wants children to go without a tree. You haven't any children it's easy to perceive. What else than a tree on Christmas eve can make a child think of the birth of the greatest King. Let there be peace on earth as to Christmas trees.

LUMBER CAMP FLAPJACKS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

"Mrs. A." of Duluth asks for the recipe for the lumberjack flapjack or as it is better known, a "sour dough flapjack." Start your dough with bread dough or a yeast cake. Let stand until it turns as sour as new buttermilk. At night before retiring add flour, luke warm water, a little salt and sugar or syrup. If it is too sour; sugar is good but syrup gives the brown color. In the morning add enough soda to cause to rise. Save the butter that is over and repeat the same each evening. If batter stands too long and gets too sour start over again with yeast cake or bread dough.

As in making bread the secret is to keep it warm and lambast it. The same applies to flapjacks. If you heat the batter in the evening for five minutes you have good flapjacks; if you beat ten minutes better flapjacks; if you beat fifteen minutes the best on the market.

The writer is an old trail blazer and has made flapjacks in the cold North by camp fire and has also made them this way in the warm summer. Again I say the secret is keep it warm and beat the batter.

In the cold North, Rupert's land, the trapper makes bread, buns and doughnuts from the sour dough.

THE MILLENIUM AT HAND.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Your editorial page, though amusing, is somewhat surprising to an ordinary individual in that such Bolshevik sentiment can still exist in this enlightened period, and I must protest.

The election is over, so please accept the verdict and desist in offering your repudiated Democratic suggestions. Our president-elect, Senator Harding, will have worries enough straightening out the tangles imposed by the inefficient administration of the last eight years.

We have voted our approval of his stand on the various questions and thoroughly reproved your party's mismanaged, extravagant and autocratic administration.

A separate peace with Germany will be alliance enough in Europe, and the Irish question can and will be settled by England without our meddling, because Wilson's league is dead and all other suggested leagues are dead; we want none of them. We can go on as we have in the past, playing our own hand and maintaining our Americanism without any assistance from a degenerate Europe. As for Mexico, she now knows we are through with the wobbling policy and will use the big stick at the first opportunity. Japan can likewise take notice, because with our new policy of universal military training which we will adopt we can stand against the world if necessary.

A free Panama canal to American ships will build up our ocean trade routes and enlarge our merchant marine; the new high protective tariff will make our industries more prosperous than ever and protect the farmer and prosper him as never before and not be felt by the now overburdened taxpayer.

The Esch-Cummings bill will keep the railway unions in their places and with the just rate granted to the roads they can at last make the necessary improvements to rehabilitate the lines which were practically wrecked under your government ownership.

The open shop will give every man a right to labor for whom, when and where he pleases without any dictations from the labor trust; and by a slight change in the Federal reserve law the control of our banks will be placed in the hands of our great financiers, where it belongs, and taken out of the hands of the incompetent politicians.

The Republican party of Lincoln can be depended upon to run the country in the most benevolent manner, and the working class knows that when the business interests are on a sound financial basis and justly prosperous they are only too willing to grant labor adequate reward for efficient and conscientious production, and possibly now will further increase their happiness by allowing light wine and beer in limited quantities.

Your writings show you are provoked because the hyphen vote was intelligent enough to vote for their friends, but think it over. Let the Democratic Rip Van Winkle sleep in peace and the Grand Old Party will administer America as it always has so that everyone will share in its prosperity in the proportion deserved.

FACTS WORTH REPEATING.

To the Editor of The Herald:

The secretary of the treasury attended a recent meeting of the American Bankers' association and while there made a speech that included some facts that for the benefit of a few narrow-minded souls unable to see any good in a political enemy I should like to have repeated. He said:

"On Aug. 31, 1919, the gross debt of the United States was slightly over $26,500,000,000, of which nearly $4,000,000,000 represented loans maturing within the year. On Sept. 30, 1920, the gross debt was $24,087,000,000, a reduction of over $2,500,000,000, while the floating debt was $2,347,000,000, or approximately $1,600,000,000 less than on Aug. 31, 1919.

"These reductions were effected chiefly by the application of the proceeds of taxation and salvage, and were made possible to some extent by the reductions of treasury balances effected as a result of reduced expenditure and the retirement of large amounts of loan certificates. The treasury expects that further reductions in both gross and floating debt will be shown at the end of the current month and that by the close of the current quarter there will be a much more substantial decrease."

Not so bad, eh? A fiscal administration that pays off $2,500,000,000 of the national debt in one year in these times is going some, I'll tell the world.

Jaywalker, Duluth: A woman was struck by a skidding truck while crossing London road the other day and was so terribly injured that she died. Witnesses of the affair have stated that the machine was driven at a high rate of speed. What I want to know have the authorities paid any attention to what appears to be an exhibition of reckless-carelessness? Is a human life so cheap that the taking of one by an automobile does not even violate a city ordinance?

Ans.: So far as known no arrests have yet been made, the police department perhaps waiting for a complaint to be filed by the woman's relatives.

Athletic, Duluth: If an amateur receives money for athletic sports, is he thereafter ranked as a professional?

Ans.: Yes; he is considered a professional if he competes for money, accepts a purse of money or sells his prizes.

Inquisitive, Cloquet, Minn.: Kindly answer through your Question and Answer column the following: Did Edna Budd win against her father, whom she was suing for $50,000?

Ans.: No, the case was dismissed.

POEMS ASKED FOR.

I WILL.

Will The Herald please reprint this little verse. It seems to me that its philosophy is what a great many people need these days. It was written by S. E. Kiser, a Chicago newspaper paragrapher and appeared in the U. S. Forestry Bulletin:

C. L.

I will start anew this morning with a higher, fairer creed.
I will cease to stand complaining of my ruthless neighbor's greed;
I will cease to sit repining while my duty's call is clear;
I will waste no moment whining and my heart shall know no fear.
I will look sometimes about me for the things that merit praise;
I will search for hidden beauties that elude the grumbler's gaze;
I will try and find contentment in the paths that I must tread.
I will cease to have resentment when another moves ahead
I will not be swayed by envy when my rival's strength is shown;
I will not deny his merit, I'll strive to prove my own;
I will try to see the beauty spread before me, rain or shine—
I will cease to preach your duty and be more concerned with mine.

TO REVISE BADGER LAW

Alleged Defects in Home Work Act Will Be Corrected.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 26.—Revision of the home work law will be recommended to the next legislature by the industrial commission and the Milwaukee board of health, E. E. Witte, secretary of the industrial commission, said today. The present law has been on the statute books since 1899 without modification.

Manufacture of specified articles in the homes is prohibited except upon a license issued by the industrial commission under the present law. It makes it the duty of local boards of health to assist in investigation rooms before a license is issued, to see that they contain the specified air space and are well lighted and ventilated.

This law is defective because it applies only to certain enumerated articles and does not include a number of articles given out to home work, Secretary Witte said. Its standards are too specific to be enforceable under present conditions, and the law contains no provision for reinspection. The machinery for enforcement is also said to be inadequate because it requires co-operation of local health departments with the industrial commission.

The recommendations made by the division on sanitation of the Milwaukee health department for a revision of the home work law, include provision to make it applicable to all lines of work done in homes after being given out by factories. It is also recommended that manufacture in the homes of foodstuffs, cigars, toothpicks and the like, should be altogether prohibited. It is proposed that all permits for home work should be issued to the employers and not to the workers, and that the factory giving out home work should pay for the cost of inspection.

Much Milwaukee Home Work.

The largest number of home workers are in Milwaukee. There is a great deal of home work done, however, in La Crosse, Kenosha, Ripon, Beaver Dam, Waupun, Marinette, Waukesha, and Sheboygan, the commission finds. A study of the records of the Milwaukee health department, just completed by the industrial commission, shows 2,907 home workers in that city. Of these, 59 per cent work for knitting concerns, and 27 per cent for other textile manufacturing establishments.

Eighty-six per cent of all home workers in Milwaukee were found to be married women and over 8 per cent widows. It was found that 44 per cent of the home workers were in families with income of $100 or less per month, and 89 per cent in families with incomes of $150 or less.

The workers were found to be mostly married women who worked only a few hours each day, and 6 per cent of them work less than 100 hours a month. Wages paid by the factories were found to be low. Sixty-two per cent claimed that they were earning 20 cents an hour or less. Child labor in home work was not found to be prevalent with only seventy-three children under 16 years of age listed as assistants.

YEAR'S POTATO CROP LARGEST ON RECORD

Chicago, Nov. 26.—This year's potato crop is one of the largest on record, according to W. H. Hall, Chicago representative of the Federal bureau of markets on produce.

The same is true of cabbage, onions and apples, Mr. Hall said.

"Basing predictions on the old law of supply and demand, it would reasonably be supposed," he said, "that prices this year would be substantially lower than a year ago, when there was a short crop in each of these commodities."

The fine potato crop was due to growing conditions being unusually good and killing frost unusually late, the department of agriculture official said. There is nothing to interfere with the crop now, as potatoes are all in the bins, he added.

CANCER IS REPORTED WORSE IN WISCONSIN

Madison, Wis., Nov. 26.—Cancer is on the increase in Wisconsin according to the state board of health, which has just completed a tabulation from its records. Not only have the annual number of cancer deaths steadily increased, but the death rate per 100,000 population has likewise increased.

A table prepared by the board shows that since 1908 the deaths have been on an upward trend. There were shown to have been 65.9 fatalities per 100,000 in 1908, 75.4 in 1910, 81.1 in 1915 and 85 in 1920.

Say It Strengthens Eyesight 50% in One Week's Time in Many Instances

New York.—Dr. Smith, a well known eye specialist, and Dr. Judkins, a Massachusetts physician and medical author, make the following reports after a thorough test of a popular remedy for the eyes:

Says Dr. Smith: "When my attention was first called to it I was inclined to be skeptical. But it is a rule of mine to give every new treatment a chance to prove its value. Having specialized in eye work for many years, I feel qualified to express an intelligent opinion on remedies for the eyes. Since this one has created such a sensation I welcomed the opportunity to test it. I began to use it in my practice a little over a year ago and I am frank to say that some of the results I have accomplished with Bon-Opto not only astonish myself, but also other physicians with whom I have talked about it, and I advise every thoughtful physician to give Bon-Opto the same careful trial I have and there is no doubt in my mind that he will come to the conclusion I have, that it opens the door for the cure of many eye troubles which have heretofore been difficult to cope with. I have had individuals who had worn glasses for years tell me they have dispensed with them through the use of Bon-Opto. In my own practice I have seen it strengthen the eyesight more than 50 per cent in one week's time. I have also used it with surprising results in cases of work-strained eyes, pink eye, inflamed lids, catarrhal conjunctivitis, smarting, painful, aching, itching eyes, eyes weakened from colds, smoke, sun, dust and wind, watery eyes, blurred vision, and, in fact, many other conditions too numerous to mention in this report. A new and striking case that has just been brought to my attention is that of a girl 12 years old. Two prominent eye specialists, after a thorough examination, decided, according to her father, that in order to save the sight of her right eye, the left must be removed. While awaiting an opportunity for the operation and still undecided as to its wisdom, her father was told it would do no harm to use Bon-Opto. In less than three days a marked improvement was noticed. At the end of a week the inflammation had almost disappeared, and at the end of six weeks the eye was pronounced saved. Just think what the saving of that eye means to this little girl! Another case is that of a lady 93 years old. She came to me with dull vision and extreme inflammation of the lids and the conjunctiva was almost raw. After two weeks' use of Bon-Opto the lids were absolutely normal and her eyes are as bright as many a girl of 16."

Dr. Judkins, Massachusetts, physician and medical author, formerly chief of clinics in the Union General Hospital, Boston, Mass., and formerly house surgeon at the New England Eye and Ear Infirmary of Portland, Maine, says:

"I have found oculists too prone to operate and opticians too willing to prescribe glasses, while neglecting the simple formulas which form the basis of Bon-Opto, which, in my opinion, is a remarkable remedy for the cure and prevention of many eye disorders. Its success in developing and strengthening the eyesight will soon make eyeglasses old-fashioned and the use of Bon-Opto as common as that of the tooth brush. I am thoroughly convinced from my experience with Bon-Opto that it will strengthen the eyesight at least 50 per cent in one week's time in many instances."

Victims of eyestrain and other eye weaknesses and many who wear glasses will be glad to know that according to Drs. Smith and Judkins there is real hope and help for them. Many whose eyes were failing say they have had their eyes restored by this remarkable remedy and many who once wore glasses say they have laid them aside. One man says after using it:

"I was almost blind. Could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without any glasses and my eyes do not hurt any more. At night they would pain dreadfully. Now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for 15 days everything seems clear. I can read even fine print without glasses." Another who used it says: "I was bothered with eyestrain, caused by overworked, tired eyes which induced fierce headaches. I have worn glasses for several years, both for distance and close work, and without them I could not read my own name on an envelope or the typewriting on the machine before me. I can do both now and have discarded my long-distance glasses altogether. I can count the fluttering leaves on the trees across the street now, which for several years have looked like a dim, green blur to me. I cannot express my joy at what it has done for me."

It is believed that thousands who wear glasses now can discard them in a reasonable time and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited in this easy manner. Go to any drug store and get a bottle of Bon-Opto tablets. Dissolve one tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and use from one to four times a day. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start and inflammation and redness will quickly disappear. If your eyes bother you even a little, it is your duty to take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have saved their sight if they had cared for their eyes in time.

NOTE: Another prominent physician to whom the above article was submitted, said: "Yes, the Bon-Opto prescription is truly a wonderful eye remedy. Its constituent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists and widely prescribed by them. I have used it very successfully in my own practice on patients whose eyes were strained through overwork or misfit glasses. It is one of the very few preparations I feel should be kept on hand for regular use in almost every family." Bon-Opto referred to above, is not a patent medicine or a secret remedy. It is an ethical preparation, the formula being printed on the package. The manufacturers guarantee it to strengthen eyesight 50 per cent in one week's time in many instances or refund the money. It is dispensed under guaranty by all good druggists in this city including W. A. Abbett and Boyce Drug Stores.

GLASS OF SALTS CLEANS KIDNEYS

If Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers You, Drink Lots of Water.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.—Advertisement.

PASSPORTS ARE UPHELD

The Hague, Nov. 10.—(By the Associated Press.)—American diplomatic officials abroad who are in possession of evidence of propaganda schemes originating in Moscow are opposed to any attempt to abandon the United States passport and visa systems now in operation. This is because they are convinced that the Russian soviet government has been attempting to send hundreds of dangerous agitators to the United States.

Wartime passport regulations have been considerably modified, both for Americans and foreigners seeking American visas, in the past few months and every attempt will be made, it was said, to make travel as easy as possible abroad next summer. But, in face of the evidence which has accumulated during the past few months, believed to indicate a determined effort by the Bolshevik government to spread its jurisdiction to America, the diplomatic officials do not wish to surrender their most potent safeguard against it—passport control.

Emigrants Are Assisted.

"So far as the would-be emigrant is concerned," one American official said, "things have just been so simplified for him that in ten minutes' time, providing his own government considers him a worthy subject and has so evidenced this by giving him a passport, he can answer all the questions we want to know about him. If he is satisfactory he can get his visa the same day and be on his way to the United States speedily.

"The American traveling abroad will get all the assistance possible to give him. If he frets because of the necessity of securing visas from various other consulates, if he wishes to visit several countries and objects to frontier inspections, he must remember that perhaps the man who sat next to him in the railway car was a Bolshevik or an anarchist, en route some place with a bomb, who might be stopped at the frontier before he could throw the bomb.

"Americans coming abroad will save themselves much difficulty if, just as they go to the bank before leaving to get a letter of credit, they will secure at foreign consulates in America visas permitting them to enter all the countries they wish to visit."

Nervy Bolshevik Agents.

While most of the Bolshevik agents en route to America seek to get through on false seamen's certificates or by other surreptitious means, according to American officials here, there are a number of nervy ones who appear at American passport bureaus, from time to time, and request legitimate visas.

During a recent week at an American passport bureau in Holland, out of twenty-five persons refused visas, four were known to be revolutionary agitators, and three were international criminals.

The United States surgeon general's office has recently established at some of the big embarkation ports in Europe bureaus of sanitary inspection and quarantine, which, co-operating with the local medical authorities, seek to prevent diseased emigrants from going to the United States.

"The whole effort," one official said, "is, by passport control and medical inspection, to control the situation on this side, thus relieving Ellis Island and the other immigrant stations at home of much work."

SUGAR CROP HEAVY; PRICES TO BE LOW

Supplies of sugar will be abundant and reasonable prices will prevail in this country for an indefinite period ahead in the opinion of refiners and brokers. Reports have been received to the effect that the crop of sugar beets last season in the leading producing states was much larger than had been counted upon early in the season.

All the twenty-seven sugar beet factories in the Utah-Idaho region are now working at capacity with trainloads of beets pouring in daily at each. The season has been so favorable that it is thought every beet will be out of the ground before any freezeup overtakes farmers. Two years ago unexpectedly early frosts caught thousands of tons of beets in the ground, and they became almost an entire loss.

As a result of the special efforts being made to increase productions, it has been mentioned that the Utah-Idaho Sugar company's factory at Brigham City, Utah, has treated 25,000 tons of beets during the last five weeks. In one day 2,485 bags of sugar were turned out.

Officials of the Amalgamated Sugar company reported the completion of the seasonal digging of beets at its Utah and Idaho plants. The season's production of sugar is estimated at 1,500,000 bags of 100 pounds each. Last week the company distributed $3,000,000 to farmers at a rate of about $12 a ton for October deliveries. The distribution of a still larger sum to growers is expected on Dec. 15.

The production of beet sugar at the plant at Chisago, Minn., is expected to set a new high record this season. As a result of the returns realized, it is predicted that farmers in Minnesota will take up the raising of sugar beets upon a larger scale next year.

RECITALS GIVEN AT LOW PRICES

Chicago, Nov. 26.—Recitals by famous musicians with the best seats selling at 50 cents will be introduced in Chicago this winter.

Jacob Handelsman is sponsor for the new plan. He proposes to hold concerts in the larger theaters and halls scattered through the residential districts as an especial appeal to the adjacent neighborhood.

"There are 500,000 music enthusiasts in Chicago's residence districts," Mr. Handelsman said. "That is, one out of every six men and women here derives a soul satisfaction when hearing beautiful melodies. But the trouble is they cannot afford to pay from $2 to $10 to hear a renowned violinist, cellist or soprano. And so they either saturate themselves with the cannibalistic jazz or they go without.

"I would rather entertain 4,000 people with good music at 50 cents a seat than 1,000 at $2. Europe, in musical culture, is far ahead of us because the masses are provided with the best of musicians and singers at low prices. In Berne, Switzerland, the greatest artists appear at the workingmen's hall. The tickets are 10 cents. In many other European cities minimum prices are charged at popular concerts. It can be done in Chicago too."

Mr. Handelsman has selected Victor Young, a Chicago boy, born in the West side ghetto, as the artist for his first concert. Mr. Young recently returned from Russia, where he was conscripted by the Bolshevik army while studying the violin.

Ask Your Doctor

He knows the reason—the underlying cause. And will tell you, most likely, that what you need is a good physic.

He knows, too, that the poison germs in your system multiply by minutes when waste matter remains in the intestines. They imperil your health. They invite sickness and disease.

The waste must be removed without loss of time. A day—even half a day—is too long. That is why advanced medical science warns against old-fashioned, slow-acting cathartics. These cathartics allow time for the waste to spread disease.

When accumulated waste matter remains in the system, it quickly generates poisons which enter the blood. You know the results—perhaps too well. Foul breath, coated tongue, mental depression—and these seem unimportant when you know your health is laid open to the dangers of appendicitis!

The danger of constipation

Constipation brings on colds, headaches, influenza, rheumatism, indigestion, pneumonia and most human ills. Your physician will tell you the importance of removing the waste matter from your system at once. He will tell you the dangers in slow-acting, old-fashioned, over-night cathartics.

Thousands of well-informed physicians now recommend a harmless mineral water as the safe laxative to take. They prescribe it for their patients, young and old, because its action is sure—the results prompt and complete. This water is known as Pluto.

The effectiveness of Pluto Water is due to the minerals it contains. They soften the waste accumulation. The water helps to flush it gently away. The action is pleasant and gentle—entirely free from the griping effects of old-fashioned cathartics.

Millions have found health

Millions of people have now found health at this source. Those smiling faces you see—those ruddy cheeks and clear, healthy complexions—need no longer be the cause of envy. You, too, can keep your health at par.

See your druggist today. Ask for a bottle of Pluto Water. Use it at home—first thing in the morning or before meals. Know its pleasant, gentle action. Convince yourself of its prompt, complete results. Learn how it restores normal, healthy activity. Protect your health—feel fine again!

Thousands take Pluto Water even though the bowels move with apparent regularity. They know the health value of a periodic cleansing.

Pluto Water is the reliable home laxative. Physicians everywhere recommend it and suggest that it be kept always handy. It is equally effective for children and grown-ups. As a laxative take ¼ tumbler of Pluto; as a cathartic, ⅓ tumbler; as a purgative, ½ tumbler—add hot or cold water to fill glass. Bottled at French Lick Springs, Indiana.

GUARDING OF IMMIGRATION

New York, Nov. 26.—The following letter, with questionnaire, has been mailed to the governors of the several states by the National Civic Federation:

"Sir: Late experiences at the leading Eastern ports of entry into the United States, especially New York, show a very marked increase in immigration. It appears probable that from July, 1920, to July, 1921, not less than a million immigrants will be received.

"Latest reports, especially from Ellis Island, indicate also that the percentage of those classes which we have heretofore considered undesirable is greatly increased, owing to the present interpretations given to the immigration law, for example in favor of those who claim to be coming to this country on account of religious persecutions in their own country, and those who are members of the families of others qualified for admission, considerable numbers of the mentally afflicted and feeble minded have been admitted under bond; while the number of illiterates of women and of children and old people who are likely to become public charges has very decidedly increased.

"Many of those most familiar with the situation feel that the whole question should be thoroughly investigated immediately, with reference to prompt action by congress and the executive.

Questions Asked.

"The National Civic Federation is desirous to sound as well as it may the sentiment of the different sections of the country with reference to doing whatever may lie within its power to help to carry out plans that seem desirable. In order, therefore, that we may have a basis for judgment and a sure ground for action, may I venture to ask you to reply to the following questions?

"1. Should the 'asylum' or 'land of refuge' provision of the immigration law be employed as a pretext for the admission of those otherwise excluded, such as illiterates and diseased and feeble-minded immigrants?

"2. All things considered, do you favor a decisive restriction of immigration by further legislation? If so, which of the methods frequently proposed do you prefer?

"3. Would you favor the amendment of the immigration law in the following particulars: (a) To provide the immigration authorities with information contained in foreign criminal and police records; (b) rephrasing that part of the law which excludes criminals; (c) to provide a moderate increase in the physical requirements for admission; (d) to require all aliens to register and report once a year to some governmental authority; (e) to strengthen the law with respect to the inspection of alien seamen; (f) to provide for the examination, as to eligibility of aliens seeking admission into the United States, by consular or American immigration officials stationed abroad? Respectfully yours,

"J. W. JENKS,

"Chairman Department on Immigration."

SLIGHT INCREASE IN LUMBER BUYING

Chicago, Nov. 26.—"On the whole, purchasing of lumber," says the American Lumberman, "has shown a slight increase. The bulk of the new business is for immediate shipment and few buyers are seeking to cover their 1921 requirements. Retailers have refrained from ordering this fall and have allowed their stocks to run down. The retailers have not experienced brisk business this fall, but nevertheless a good deal of lumber has gone into consumption, with the result that now the retailers are confronted with the necessity of getting some rush shipments to take care of such business as comes in. Consequently these orders are being placed at the nearest source of supply.

"Lumber producers do not expect a rush of business until the spring; the consensus is that the next two or three months will be dull. Soft wood prices in many cases are at or slightly below the present cost of production. If they go lower a reduction in wages will be necessary; in fact, in the Southeast and in at least one case in the North decreases of wages have been announced.

"The national shortage of homes is increasing and the belief that a building boom must start unquestionably lends encouragement to all divisions of the lumber industry. The housing shortage has been growing for years, as is shown by the following table:

Year.	Families.	Dwellings.
1900	16,187,715	14,430,145
1910	20,255,555	17,895,845
1915	22,786,499	19,853,517
1916	23,292,887	20,263,051
1917	23,799,275	20,672,000
1918	24,872,051	20,829,039
1919	25,319,443	20,900,000

"From the period of 1916 to 1919 the number of families increased by 2,026,556 while the number of dwellings increased only 636,949, thus indicating clearly how the housing situation is steadily becoming worse and how a great potential market for building materials is being created."

DIVIDEND TO WHEAT GROWERS IN CANADA

Winnipeg, Man., Nov. 26.—A final dividend of 18 cents a bushel will be paid to farmers by the Canadian wheat board, according to an announcement made after a recent audit of the books of the board. The payment will be made on "participation certificates," the method used by the Canadian government to return to farmers' profit made by the government on their 1919 wheat above the guaranteed price.

This payment will bring the 1919 price, based on Northern wheat in storage at Fort William, to $2.63 a bushel or an average price throughout the year of $2.50 at points of shipment in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

The board has already distributed $38,000,000 on interim dividends and payment of the remainder of $28,000,000, it is expected, will be completed before the first of the year. More than $60,000,000 represents the share of farmers in the prairie provinces. The other $6,000,000 will go to Eastern Canada and British Columbia.

AMERICAN CANNING GIVEN GOLD MEDAL

Paris, Nov. 26.—(By the Associated Press.)—The canning unit of the American committee for devastated France won the gold medal at the horticultural exhibition just held under the auspices of the Horticultural Society of France at the Jardin d'Acclimatation in the Bois du Boulogne.

The award was made on a collection of 1,000 jars of fruit and vegetables prepared this summer under the supervision of Mrs. Bernice Davis, director of the unit, who visited twenty-six departments and gave demonstrations in home canning.

TO MAKE PALESTINE SELF-SUPPORTING

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 26.—To populate Palestine with a preponderating body of self-supporting Jews, who will develop into a homogeneous affair, ultimately becoming a self-supporting commonwealth, is the problem being dealt with by the annual convention of the Zionist Organization of America, which began here yesterday.

Practically the whole of this task must be carried out by the Jews of this country, agents of that organization say. They assert that the war and its aftermath has almost completely impoverished European Jewry, and the depreciation of the money of such countries as Russia, Poland, Austria and Roumania has compressed the remaining wealth to an almost irreducible minimum.

They add that European Jewry can contribute to the development of Palestine as the national homeland only the human material in the form of hundreds of thousands of pogrom refugees now congesting every port from Danzig to Constantinople, and even along the Pacific, awaiting opportunity to reach Palestine. While there is a small percentage of these refugees who have managed to escape with considerable capital, most of them are destined to be hewers of wood and drawers of water, farm hands and day laborers The Zionists declare that most of the money and constructive advice as well as the technical skill required for Palestine's development must come from the Jews of this country, and that the time has come for the Zionists to make it possible for all Jewish organizations and individuals to participate in the work.

BADGERS HAVE STRONG QUINT

Madison, Wis., Nov. 26.—The University of Wisconsin basket ball squad went on the floor Monday for the first official practice of the year, a well conditioned quintet with nearly two months of steady practice and training behind it. Dr. W. E. Meanwell, returned basketball coach, has been working intensively with his men since Oct. 1.

Confidence is expressed that Wisconsin will again step into the lead among the conference teams. It is recalled that Dr. Meanwell turned out five championship teams, three of them 1,000 per cent, in six year's, when here before. His record since 1916 when at Missouri he turned out three championship teams in his three years there tends to augment this confidence.

The coach, however, and his players are not expecting that they will enter the series of games as the strongest contender for the title honors. Wisconsin has fair material, the coach says. Although the men are hard workers and hard fighters, it is said to be doubtful whether the Wisconsin team will capture the championship.

From the beginning of practice it has been a problem of teaching basket ball from its foundation to the men who were trained in a different system of play. It is explained that as a result any real degree of perfection is impossible. Football players who are varsity basketball men reported for the first time Monday and still have the initial development stage to go through.

Six Old Players Back.

The Badgers came through last year with seven victories out of twelve conference games and six men from that team are on the squad this year. The freshmen have added several promising players. A squad of sixty-five reported at the opening of the season. Culling has reduced this number to eleven basket ball and the six football men. From these seventeen players the coach will select the five who are to represent the university.

Capt. Warren O. Taylor of Ashland, a junior this year, is playing in fine form at the forward position. His throwing last year in the Illinois game won for the Badgers, and he is counted on as a consistent scorer during the coming season.

Carl F. Ceaser of Boise, Idaho, and Allard C. Frogner of Rhinelander are the two regular guards of last season who are practically assured of berths on the team. These three men are the nucleus of the team, according to the coach. Harold C. Knapp of Milwaukee, captain last year, will play during the first semester of this season at forward. Frank L. Weston, captain of the football team, will also be in the lineup for the first semester as running guard, where he has played for the past two years.

The center, according to Coach Meanwell, presents the greatest problem, for there is no one of experience and ability equal to that of previous Wisconsin players. William Bloecher of Wittenberg is the only other man who is counted on as a regular. He was ineligible last year.

Freshmen Considered.

Beside Taylor at forward the coach has Franklin R. Williams of Edgerton from the football squad from the freshman team of last year. Other men who played on the freshman team last year are being considered by the coach are John M. Williams of Oberlin, Ohio, Leslie R. Gage of Peoria, Ill., freshman captain last year; Edward J. Frawley of Eau Claire, and Charles A. Horne of Stevens Point, also Edward G. Farrington of Mondovi.

From the football squad the coach has Guy Sundt of Stoughton, and Gustav H. Tebell of Plymouth, who with Otto A. Eggebrecht comprises the three men who can be used as guard.

With this lineup the coach has worked to develop a team able to take the floor against experienced Big Ten teams who have lost one or two men through graduation. Illinois is said to be the strongest contender for the championship.

The preliminary schedule of Wisconsin opens Dec. 4 against Ripon. There follows a succession of games: Dec. 7, River Falls normal; Dec. 10, Knox college; Dec. 15, open date; Dec. 17, La Crosse normal; Dec. 18, Marquette or Milwaukee normal, and Dec. 29 and 30, South Dakota university, if arrangements can be made.

COMMENT ON SPORT

BY SANDY MACDONALD.

Charley Moll, prominent in semi-pro and minor league baseball activities, is said to be the Milwaukee promoter who has kindled the fires under the old Northern league. Reports from the Cream City state that Moll expects to have enthusiasm in Winnipeg, Fargo, Grand Forks, Superior, Brandon and Duluth warmed up to a welding heat by the first of the year when he will stick together the cities named and thus reorganize the old Northern wheel.

Reports from Winnipeg are said to be especially favorable for the reorganization of the league and this is certainly welcome news to the other cities interested for the Peg was always the strongest cog in any baseball wheel to which it has belonged. Fargo and Grand Forks are said to be not only glad but anxious to get back into league ball and this is also true of Duluth and Superior, both of which have been idle, in this respect, altogether too long.

And this brings us back to the proposition of a new and modern stadium for Duluth, an athletic plant that will cost around $75,000 at least. All of the other live cities of the country are erecting plants of this kind and are especially well supported by the business interests which realize the great and lasting good that come from them. The Commercial club could lay aside a lot of its other affairs to give ear to this movement and it is hoped it will.

Harry Boyle, the veteran Philadelphia lightweight, came through with colors flying at Bovey last evening when he defeated Ed Franti, the fighting engineer of that city, in every one of ten rounds. With this victory tucked away under his belt Boyle will be idle until tomorrow night when he meets Young Ennis of Superior in a six-round bout, a private affair. Boyle has two battles arranged for next week and is angling for a third. If that bird were idle for four successive days he would spoil.

If the Duluth and Superior football teams had elected to play here yesterday there is little question but what all attendance records at Athletic park would have been smashed to bits. The weather was ideal for football and there was nothing stirring in the way of distracting amusements. The great public was idle, champing at the bit for some place to go. But, what's the use of weeping over lost opportunities.

Notre Dame university football eleven wound up its schedule in a blaze of glory when it defeated the Michigan Aggies, 27 to 0, yesterday at Lansing. The victory marked the finish of one of the greatest seasons which any American college team has had, for Notre Dame has not suffered one defeat all fall. In its triumphant march on the grid the Gold and Blue team defeated among others, the Army, Nebraska, Northwestern, Purdue and Indiana. There are many experts who firmly believe that Notre Dame could not only defeat Ohio State for the Western championship but could crack any team in the East, as well.

CORNELL BEATEN BY PENNSYLVANIA

Philadelphia, Nov. 26.—Battling on a muddy field, the University of Pennsylvania defeated Cornell here yesterday, 28 to 0. A drenching rain prevailed throughout the game.

Cornell was able to advance the ball past midfield but once during the game and presented a ragged defensive. The Red and Blue line was impregnable and succeeded in blocking the three Cornell kicks. Rex Wray, the midget quarterback, and Ward, the big tackle, were the oustanding lights of the Pennsylvania eleven. The work of Fullback Carey and Left Halfback Kaw stood out for the Ithacans.

Wray scored two touchdowns and Straus and Fitz each one. Wray kicked three goals from touchdown and Harvey one.

FOUR WINNERS IN HOLIDAY BOUTS

Jackson won from Matt Brock of Cleveland in the fourth round of a scheduled eight-round bout, the referee stopping the fight to save Brock from further punishment. Jackson weighed 133 and Brock 131 pounds.

Tendler easily defeated Johnny Tillman of Minneapolis in an eight-round bout. Tendler led all the way and had Tillman wobbling in the seventh.

Tunney beat Leo Houck of Lancaster by a slight margin in a six-round flight. Tunney weighed 175 pounds and Houck 173.

RAISE MILLION FOR STADIUM AT OHIO

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 25.—Officials in charge of the campaign to raise $1,000,000 for a football stadium at Ohio State university today were sending out notices to alumni that the stadium is assured as only $75,000 remains to be subscribed to the fund. It is expected that Saturday will find the entire amount subscribed. Preliminary construction work will be commenced within a few days, it was said. The new stadium is designed to seat 63,000 people.

CHEVROLET LOSES LIFE

Two Dead, One Dying, as Result of Los Angeles Crash.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 26.—Gaston Chevrolet was killed yesterday near the end of the 250-mile automobile race at the Los Angeles speedway when it developed at the end of the race, he had won the national automobile racing championship for 1920 on a point basis, Roscoe Sarles, winner of yesterday's race, being far behind.

Chevrolet died in a crash which cost the life of Lyall Jolls, mechanician for Eddie O'Donnell, and O'Donnell was so seriously injuried, it was announced last night he had little chance for recovery.

The accident occurred while Chevrolet, O'Donnell and Joe Thomas were fighting to make up the half a dozen laps they were behind the leaders at the 150-lap point. The three cars were bunched on the east turn.

How It Happened.

According to persons grouped about the turn, Chevrolet turned to pass Thomas, who was on the inside of the bowl, and his car struck that of O'Donnell, who was on the outside. O'Donnell's car turned and plunged down the incline and Chevrolet's, apparently out of control, shot to the top of the track, tore out 200 feet of fence, then rolled down the incline on top of the wreckage beneath which O'Donnell and Jolls were pinned.

All four men were taken to a hospital. O'Donnell was unconscious, his skull fractured and both arms broken. Attendants brought information to the judges' stand that he was dead. The officials announced that both Chevrolet and O'Donnell had been killed and it was more than an hour before the news spread that O'Donnell was still living.

Sarles led every lap but one, rolling over the 200 laps on the mile and quarter track without a stop in 2 hours, 25 minutes and 20 seconds, an average speed of 103.2 miles an hour. Edward Miller finished second in 2 hours, 27 minutes, 14 seconds, an average of 102.8 miles an hour. Eddie Hearne was third, his time being 2 hours, 27 minutes and 27 3-10 seconds, for an average speed of 101.8. Jimmy Murphy finished fourth in 2 hours, 31 minutes, 41.8 seconds, average 98.9. Thomas was placed fifth and Jim Crosby sixth, both being flagged before finishing. Al Melcher, Tommy Milton and John Thiele were forced out by engine trouble.

Sarles, in addition to taking first money of $10,000, won 199 lap prizes of $50 each offered by the Los Angeles merchants to the man first across the line on each circuit. Murphy won the second lap prize. The other prizes were: Miller, $6,000; Hearne, $3,000; Murphy, $2,000; Thomas, $1,000, and Crosby, $800.

Had Won Season Title.

Chevrolet's point total for the season in the championship competition was 1,030, all acquired previously to yesterday's races. Milton, who did not finish yesterday, had 930, with other competitors as follows: Murphy, 885; Ralph De Palma, 605; Sarles, 540; Thomas, 351; Mulford, 350; Hearne, 315; Ira Vail, 140; O'Donnell, 110.

Mulford and Vail were not entered in the race yesterday. De Palma was entered but did not start.

Gaston Chevrolet was the youngest of three racing brothers. He was a mechanic for two years before he demonstrated that he was a driver of merit at the 500-mile Memorial day race at Cincinnati, where he finished third.

After that Chevrolet drove as an "outlaw" with several other prominent drivers, but was reinstated in the ranks of the American Automobile association pilots. In 1919 he raced on many dirt tracks, winning many of the events and placing in others.

On May 31, last, he won the 500-mile Indianapolis speedway race in the best time of that annual event. He averaged a speed of 88.16 miles an hour.

Women See Accident.

Eddie O'Donnell, seriously injured, is 31 years old and a native of Whitewater, Wis. He began his racing career as a mechanician in 1912. In 1914 he drove his first race at Kalamazoo, Mich., winning second place in the 100-mile contest.

The wife of O'Donnell was in the grandstand when her husband was injured. She was rushed in an automobile to the hospital where the driver had been taken.

Jolls was 26 years old and a native of Illinois. His real name was Headen, but when he entered the racing world he decided to make professional use of the surname of his stepfather. He had been a mechanician for three years. His family resides in Detroit. He was engaged to be married to Mrs. May A. Esch of St. Paul, who saw the accident, but did not know at the time that it took the life of her fiance. She was prostrated last night.

WOULD LET 60,000 SEE ILLINOIS PLAY

Urbana, Ill., Nov. 25.—The trustees of the University of Ilinois will meet in Chicago Dec. 13 to take up plans for the erection of a new football stadium, it was announced today. Seating arrangements for 60,000 are part of the plans. Less than half that number were able to witness the game with Ohio State last Saturday, when the Western conference football championship was decided.

Title Holders Lose.

Oshkosh, Wis., Nov. 26.—Oshkosh normal school, state titleholders, were defeated, 34 to 7, by the Milwaukee School of Engineering yesterday.

DEER SLAYERS ENJOY HOLIDAY

Duluth big game hunters enjoyed one grand and glorious outing in the Northern forests yesterday, but few of them returned last evening with any trophies. Only a few of the large army of nimrods who spent Thanksgiving in the woods were successful in knocking over deer, but quite a number returned with partridge.

The big game season has about ten days more to run, but unless there is a reasonably heavy fall of snow and a lowering temperature between now and then it is not likely that many local hunters who have already been out will go back to the woods in quest of moose and deer. The does are said to be down in the swamps and stubbornly refuse to come out. As the swamps are not frozen, they make an excellent refuge for the game, for no hunter would attempt to penetrate very far into the lowlands until the latter are solidly frozen.

If the weather should turn real cold the does will start running and then it would be an easy matter to get a shot at them.

It is worthy of note that few accidents and no fatalities have been reported from the Northern Minnesota forests so far this hunting season and this is all the more surprising when it is recalled that nearly 60,000 licenses were taken out by hunters in this state, a record for Minnesota.

ST. PAUL AFTER PLACE.

Duluth Hockey Team Withdraws From Hockey League.

Calumet, Mich., Nov. 26.—A vote is being taken on the admission of the St. Paul, Minn., Hockey club to the Northern Michigan-Minnesota Hockey league, to take the place of the Duluth team, which has withdrawn.

Secretary George Cudlip of Marquette said Duluth gave no reason for withdrawing. The Zenith City was not represented at the organization meeting here, but sent word it was willing to enter the proposed circuit.

St. Paul may be the sixth team in the league. That city asked admittance sometime ago, but at that time the six-team league was intact. With Duluth's withdrawal, however, St. Paul now is offered the opportunity to enter, and the matter has been referred to Houghton, the Canadian and American Soos and Eveleth for their opinion. Calumet is expected to favor the Saint's entry as the team has always been popular with local fans.

MINNESOTA COLLEGES TALK HOCKEY LEAGUE

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 26.—Athletic representatives of the Minnesota conference colleges will meet at St. John's university at Collegeville, Minn., Dec. 6, for action on basket ball schedules.

The question of a hockey league also will be taken up, it is said, as several colleges are reported in favor of such a league. It has been stated that if the conference does not formally take up hockey, the three colleges in the Twin Cities—Macalester, St. Thomas and Hamline—and possibly either St. Olaf or Carleton at Northfield, will form an informal four-team circuit and have a championship race all their own.

John Hopkins Beaten.

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 26.—University of Maryland, College park, retained the state intercollegiate football championship here yesterday, defeating Johns Hopkins university, 24 to 7.

Wins Decision.

New York, Nov. 26.—Charlie Beecher of New York received the judge's decision in a twelve-round bout with "Dutch" Brandt of Brooklyn here yesterday. Brandt, substituting for Earl Puryear of Tulsa, Okla., who failed to appear, weighed 128 and Beecher 120 pounds.

MOSLEY WINS PULITZER CUP

American Plane Covers Distance With Speed of 178 Miles an Hour.

Mineola, N. Y., Nov. 26.—Flying at a speed of virually three miles a minute, Lieut. C. C. Mosley, piloting an American-made Verville-Packard army plane, won the first Pulitzer trophy aeronautical race here yesterday against a field of thirty-four starters. He covered the course of slightly more than 132 miles, in 44 minutes, 29 and 57-100 seconds, an average speed of approximately 178 miles an hour.

Officials of the Aero Club of America, which conducted the race, first having estimated the course as 140 miles in length, announced immediately after the race that Mosley's average speed was 189.4 miles an hour, a new world's record. However, a careful rescaling of the official map showed that the laps were slightly more than thirty-two miles in length, instead of thirty-five, the average speed on the corrected length being cut down ten miles an hour. It is expected that a survey of the course will be made in order that exact computations may be established.

The present world's average in speed record is held by Sadi Lecointe, winner of the recent Gordon Bennett trophy race in France, who averaged 187 miles an hour in a special contest at Villa Coublay, near Paris, ten days after he won the international trophy.

Capt. H. E. Hartney, flying an American army Thomas-Morse machine, came in second yesterday, flying the course in 47 minutes and 3-100 seconds.

FIGHTERS READY FOR TITLE BOUT

New York, Nov. 26.—Benny Leonard, world's lightweight boxing champion, defends his title here tonight against Joe Welling of Chicago in a fifteen-round bout to a decision. The contestants were to weigh in at 135 pounds at 2 p. m.

"I have mapped out a plan," said Leonard, "which I expect will bring Welling into quick submission."

Welling said: "I am not a bit worried; I am going in to win, and before midnight I expect to be champion."

The winner will receive a diamond studded belt to be presented by Tex Rickard.

A ten-round bout also will be fought between Panama Joe Gans and George Christian, who will contend for the colored middleweight championship, now held by Gans.

PLAN "WORKMAN DAY"; FIVE BROTHERS PLAY

Huntington, W. Va., Nov. 26.—A "Workman day" celebration will mark the Huntington high-Alumni football game here Saturday when five Workman brothers, including the two Ohio State University grid stars, will participate in the game.

The mother of the five boys has announced that she will be a spectator at the game, and will split her rooting "50-50," between the two teams.

NOTRE DAME BEATS MICHIGAN AGGIES

East Lansing, Mich. Nov. 26.—Outplaying the Michigan Aggies in every department of the game, Notre Dame's football eleven added another victory to its string yesterday, 25 to 0. The visitors scored on the kickoff in the first period, Coughlin, their right halfback, receiving the kick and racing eighty yards for a touchdown.

A series of forward passes netted two more touchdowns in the third period. A fourth touchdown came in the final quarter.

OKLAHOMA CHAMPION OF MISSOURI VALLEY

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 26.—Oklahoma university today was 1920 champion of the Missouri Valley football conference by virtue of its victory over Drake yesterday at Des Moines, by a score of 44 to 7. Oklahoma, the newest member of the conference, won all its games but one and that resulted in a tie. Missouri university finished second.

Detroit Beats Rutgers.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 26.—The plunging ability of two backfield men who smashed holes in the Rutgers' defense, almost at will, gave the University of Detroit football team a 27-to-0 victory over Rutgers here yesterday afternoon.

Safety Play Only Score.

Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 26.—Western Reserve won the annual Thanksgiving day football game from Case yesterday, 2 to 0, on a safety play by Schwier, right half for Case.

APPROVE OHIO STATE GAME AT CALIFORNIA

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 26.—President W. O. Thompson of Ohio State university last night telegraphed acceptance of the invitation for participation by Ohio State in a football game to be played at Pasadena, Cal., on New Year's day. The university athletic board and faculty yesterday approved the game and Prof. Thomas E. French yesterday wired from Chicago that sanction of the Western conference had been given.

POTTS DEFEATS BATTLING HUGO

Grand Forks, N. D., Nov. 26.—Jimmie Potts of St. Paul clearly demonstrated that he was the superior of "Battling" Hugo of Hibbing, Minn., in a six-round bout here last night. Both men strove hard for a knockout but neither was successful. In the preliminaries Don Bliven of Grand Forks tendered "Shorty" Anderson, also of Grand Forks, a knockout in the second round of a scheduled four-round go. A right hook to the jaw floored Anderson for the count.

"Rooster" Purcell of East Grand Forks, Minn., and Charlie Jennings of Fargo put on the hardest preliminary battle of the card. Purcell was awarded the newspaper decision.

In a six-round go, replete with stalling in the first five rounds, Perry Bliven of Grand Forks, who was attempting a comeback, was floored for the count by Johnnie Knauf of Fargo during the last ten seconds of the bout. The count was barely completed when the gong sounded.

WASHINGTON STATE DEFEATS NEBRASKA

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 26.—By the scant margin of a point, Washington State college of Pullman yesterday defeated Nebraska in a football game that wound up the local season. The score was 21 to 20, and it pretty accurately measured the strength of the two elevens.

It was a hard fought, clean-cut battle, with the result in doubt from the kickoff until the final whistle blew. Outplayed at the start by the heavier Nebraska men, Washington spurted and before the game was ten minutes' old reversed the early showing.

For Nebraska, the chief ground gainers were Dale, Wright, Moore and Newman. Swanson played a star game and was responsible for most of the local gains on forward passing. For Washington, Sax was a power until he was injured. Not far behind him in sensational work was McIvor, Sandberg and Gillis.

Washington	7	0	0	14—21

JOHNSON KNOCKS OUT OPPONENT

Leavenworth, Kan., Nov. 26.—Jack Johnson, former heavyweight champion of the world, knocked out Frank Owens of Chicago in the last round of a six-round bout, and then easily outboxed "Topeka" Jack Johnson in four rounds at the Federal prison here yesterday afternoon.

In his bout with Owens, a 240-pound negro, Johnson knocked his opponent down twelve times before he finally sent him to the canvas with a terrific left hook to the jaw in the last round. Before Johnson entered the ring, he exhibited a bad abrasion on his right hand and it was noticeable that he seldom used that member for his hard punches. He thus explained to newspapermen after the fight his inability to finish Owens sooner.

Johnson appeared to be in good condition and it was the opinion of fight critics that the former champion is still a formidable fighting man.

"Topeka" Jack Johnson, his second opponent, is a clever boxer of about the ex-champion's build, and their bout was more of a sparring match.

Four other bouts between prison inmates preceded the main event. The ring was pitched in the prison ball park and was witnessed by about 2,000 prisoners and a few hundred invited guests.

NEW LAURELS FOR CENTRE COLLEGE

Danville, Ky., Nov. 26.—Two outstanding features characterized yesterday's 103 to 0 victory of the Centre college football eleven over Georgetown college, Ky.

By the win the Danville "Praying Colonels" have piled up 469 points to 55 for their opponents in nine games played this season. In addition "Red" Weaver, Center's center, who played only a part of the game, kicked four goals, making ninety consecutive ones for him. He has not missed a goal kick since the first game of last year's schedule.

FOOTBALL FANS MOB WISCONSIN REFEREE

Menominee, Mich., Nov. 26.—A professional football game yesterday between the Menominee and Marinette teams broke up when Marinette fans stormed the field at the end of the first half and mobbed Referee Keyes of Niagara, Wis. The game was forfeited to Menominee, which was leading 7 to 6, when the disorder broke out.

YANKTON WINS SOUTH DAKOTA CHAMPIONSHIP

Mitchell, S. D., Nov. 26.—Yankton college won the South Dakota college conference football championship yesterday afternoon by defeating Dakota Wesleyan, 7 to 0. The lone touchdown was made soon after play started and was the first time this season that the goal line of the Wesleyan aggregation had been crossed.

ARMY-NAVY GAME STIRS NEW YORK

West Pointers Slight Favorites; Notables Will See Battle.

New York, Nov. 26.—The traditional spirit of Army-Navy rivalry began to permeate New York atmosphere today on the eve of the annual football classic between the two service institutions tomorrow at the Polo grounds. The Annapolis players, headed by Coach Folwell, arrived here late last night, but Coach Daly waited until today to bring his charges down the Hudson from West Point.

Hotels today already were taxed to capacity to house the advance guard of the crowd. Josephus Daniels, secretary of the navy, and Gen. John J. Pershing stayed over after attending the airplane race at Mineola yesterday, and Newton D. Baker, secretary of war, was expected to arrive during the day. High officers of the army and navy, and governors of several states also were numbered among the prospective spectators.

Most zealous care was being taken of the teams' mascots, the proverbial army mule and the shaggy "William" goat to the Middies. The latter spent last evening in a hotel with the navy players.

Aside from short signal practice scheduled for this afternoon at the Polo grounds, complete rest was prescribed for the players.

Favoritism among unbiased critics of the teams leans slightly toward the West Pointers, for which Coach Folwell expressed satisfaction, adding "that will give us more credit for beating them."

VALPARAISO VICTOR OVER NORTH DAKOTA

Valparaiso, Ind., Nov. 26.—Sensational football, coupled with a last minute aerial attack, gave Valparaiso a 20-to-10 victory over the North Dakota eleven here yesterday. Valparaiso was the first to break through the North Dakota defense depending on straight football tactics to put over a touchdown in the first period.

North Dakota opened up a dazzling aerial attack in the second period tying the score and in the third period increased her lead when Burkman drop-kicked a goal for three points. Valparaiso came back in the last period with the result that two touchdowns were rushed over, making the game safe for the locals.

INJURED DRIVER STILL UNCONSCIOUS

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 26.—Eddie O'Donnell, automobile racing driver, injured at the Los Angeles speedway yesterday, was still unconscious at an early hour today. O'Donnell was injured when his automobile crashed into the car driven by Gaston Chevrolet, near the end of the race. Chevrolet, national champion automobile driver for 1920, was killed as was Lyall Jolls, mechanician for O'Donnell. John Bresnahan, Chevrolet's mechanician, escaped with slight injuries.

An automobile show is also planned for the same week.

Loughlin Beats Summers.

Philadelphia, Nov. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—K. O. Loughlin, the South Bethlehem welterweight, administered a severe beating to Johnny Summers of New York in an eight-round bout here yesterday afternoon. Loughlin scored a knockdown in the second round. Terry McHugh of Allentown outpointed Jack Kid Wolfe of Cleveland in a six-round bout.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

THREE KILLED AT CLEAR LAKE, WIS.

Clear Lake, Wis., Nov. 26.—Three persons were killed and four others injured when the automobile they were riding in was struck by a passenger train on the Chicago, Minneapolis, St. Paul & Omaha railroad at a grade crossing near here late Wednesday night.

The dead are the 10 and 12-year-old sons of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Johnson, a farmer, and Johnson's father-in-law.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, their 16-year-old son and 7-year-old daughter were injured. When he regained consciousness yesterday morning, Johnson declared he had stopped at the railroad right-of-way and then started across the track in an attempt to "beat" the train. The machine with the occupants was carried 100 yards. The injured persons are in a critical condition and physicians hold out little hope for their recovery.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 26.—The Knights of Columbus state council yesterday made a Thanksgiving donation of $1,000 for the starving children of Germany.

Badger Shorthorn Sale.

Livingston, Wis., Nov. 26.—Twenty-seven head of purebred Shorthorn cattle brought $12,100, or an average of $448.14 per head, at a public sale held in the stock pavilion here yesterday. A bull brought the top price of $1,200.

NORTH DAKOTA COW IS RECORD BREAKER

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 26.—A North Dakota heifer, Carnation Pioneer Segis, No. 451370, has broken the seven-days' world record for fat production in the junior 2-year-old class, producing in seven consecutive days 24.877 pounds of butterfat, the equivalent of 31.09 pounds of 80 per cent commercial butter.

The test was made under supervision of the North Dakota Agricultural college and will be certified to the Holstein-Friesian association. The heifer is owned by Wallace Manikowske, Mooreton, N. D. She is a granddaughter of King Segis, four of whose sons have sired world-record butter cows in the seven-day division. Her dam is Johanna de Kol van Venbers, a Holstein-Friesian cow that was formerly champion in the 120-day class.

Test Made at Farm School.

The test was supervised by the North Dakota Agricultural college under the supervision of Prof. Dice. The heifer was placed in a light, roomy box stall at all times. Two forty-eight hours' constant watch verification tests were conducted. The cow was always within sight of the supervisor on duty and likewise the sample box was under constant watch, being double locked, each supervisor retaining his own key.

The milker was searched before every milking, with two supervisors present. During this verification test of forty-eight hours she produced 120.6 pounds milk and 7.760 pounds fat, which is at the rate of twenty-seven pounds fat, or thirty-four pounds butter, for the week.

Wisconsin Sorghum Production.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 26.—Wisconsin has produced a record of 300,000 gallons of sorghum during this year, according to A. H. Wright, secretary of the Wisconsin Sorghum order. An attempt is now being made to place the industry on a strictly commercial basis. The tendency is toward fully equipped commercial mills and a standardization of the grades of syrup, Mr. Wright stated.

MINNESOTA BLACK FOX FARM LARGEST

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Drs. C. P. Fitch and W. A. Riley are collaborating at university farm in a study of animal parasites of the fox.

"Up to recent times," says Dr. Riley, "a study such as this would have been regarded as useless, but with the development of fur-farming and with choice pelts of the black fox selling as high as $1,000 cash, while good breeding stock is worth several thousands of dollars, anything which may affect the quality of the fur, if not even the life of the animal, is of great importance.

"Minnesota," says Dr. Riley, "has the largest black fox farm in the United States. Many other colonies and farms are scattered over the state, some of them near the Twin Cities. A prime black fox is worth many times what a high grade horse or cow would bring in the market."

CANNOT COLLECT PAY.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 26.—Judge J. M. Becker of Green county, who was convicted on Aug. 7, 1918, under the espionage law, cannot collect his salary, as a result of having been ousted, according to an opinion rendered by Deputy Attorney General M. B. Olbrich to the district attorney of Green county, H. M. Carading.

After he had been convicted a successor was appointed to Judge Becker, under a ruling given by the attorney general's department that "such a conviction creates as absolute or legal vacancy as would the death of the incumbent." Mr. Becker later filed a claim for compensation for the time he lost.

"As has been pointed out above, the statute at the time of the claimant's conviction contained no provision for restoring to office or payment of the emoluments of office to an individual convicted, and whose sentence was reversed on appeal," the decision reads. "When the claimant was convicted of the offense, he automatically lost all right to office and to the compensation provided for the discharge of its functions."

Wadena Robber Sentenced.

Wadena, Minn., Nov. 26.—Buckley Taylor of Jamestown, N. D., third member of the four placed under arrest for the robbery of the N .P. depot here, is now serving ten years in the St. Cloud reformatory, after making a full confession implicating the two men already in custody, De Meyer and Brennan. Buckley is an 18-year-old boy, and after making a clean breast of the whole affair, was taken before Judge Roeser Tuesday morning and sentenced. The arrest of the fourth man is practically certain.

Game Law Violators Fined.

Cable, Wis., Nov. 26.—Otto Reimer and Jacob Fauber of Milwaukee, who were found by Game Warden W. S. Rogers to have carcasses of two deer hanging at their camp without the necessary tags, were fined $50 each here by Judge Ruff. The same judge fined Albert Winters, W. Kruger and Joe Ringeisen, Jr., also of Milwaukee, $50 each for killing deer out of season.

Why I like to make Troco

A. E. Hoffman speaks

"It is highly nutritious, made from coconut fat and milk, Nature's great food standbys."

All can afford it

The Coming War Between the "Closed" and "Open" Shop

In the belief that the "open-shop" crusade is intended to undo everything union labor has accomplished and to "feudalize America," the heads of the American Federation of Labor are making war plans. These labor leaders agree "that a united front must be presented to these attacks, and that every unwarranted attempt to reduce wages and working conditions to pre-war levels must be resisted with every legitimate weapon." Thus, as the Baltimore Sun notes, labor and capital are lining up for a finish fight. The leading business interests "will bargain collectively with labor only when forced to do so" and "a concentrated campaign of the employers' interests already has been launched against organized labor on the reaffirmation of the 'open shop' principle and on the stand that wages must be reduced as part of the process of deflation."

The labor situation is probably the biggest problem that confronts the great mass of the American people today, and as this article in the "DIGEST" this week—November 27th—presents opinions from all sides, it will be read closely.

Let Yours Be a Youthful, Graceful Figure

The fine lines, the alluring curves, yet with all the rather straight silhouette are artfully developed by this season's newest models in REDFERN CORSETS.

It is said that their designers are among the highest priced in the designing world, but because of their great popularity the cost is spread over so many thousands of corsets that REDFERNS really cost no more than ordinary corsets of the better class.

The low bust line is so artfully contrived that a beautiful curving contour results. Somewhat higher in back, they give support to the shoulder. The long snug fitting skirt is cleverly gored and stayed with just the right amount of free hip space.

This beautiful model is a pink broche and is offered at $10.00. Many other models in Redfern corsets are here variously priced at $5.00 to $7.50.

The Charm of the Gray Millinery

MEN TALLYING DESCRIPTION TRY HOLD-UP

Two Suspects Arrested But Not Identified as Men Wanted.

Henricksen Is Recovering From Beating; Loss Less Than First Reported.

John Persson, courthouse janitor, believes that two men who attempted to hold him up near Cascade park last evening, were the men wanted for yesterday's daylight diamond robbery of the Hendricksen jewelry store, 321 West First street.

About 8:30 o'clock while driving out of the city, two men in Cascade park shouted to him to stop his car. The automobile was climbing the hill curve at the park and was at a point between Fifth and Sixth streets.

When Persson saw that the men were strangers he speeded up and although they pursued the car for a short distance they were unable to overtake him.

Persson told the sheriff today that he had later read the descriptions of the two men in The Herald last night and that the strangers who had attempted to hold up his car tallied exactly to the descriptions.

Bandits Still at Large.

The two bandits are still at large. Two suspects, who were picked up at the Union depot last night, are not the men wanted nor has any of the other suspects which officers of the police department detained on the streets at various times met the description of the bandits.

Richard Burns, alias Robert Reid, who was one of the suspects picked up at the Union depot, gave a varied story to the different officers and is being held pending investigation. He is detained on a charge of vagrancy. E. J. Blomstrom, watch salesman for the jewelry company, looked the suspect

FEDERAL TROOPS FOR STRIKE DUTY

Chillicothe, Ohio, Nov. 27.—Four hundred and fifty soldiers of the Third and Nineteenth infantry entrained here at noon for strike duty in Mingo county, W. Va., coal strike zone. They were in command of Col. Hall of the Nineteenth infantry.

Major Consults Governor.

Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 27.—Maj. C. F. Thompson of the general staff of the Fifth army area, at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind., reached here this morning and immediately called on Governor Wornwell. No announcement was made of the purpose of his visit, but it was unofficially stated that Maj. Thompson was here in connection with the movement of Federal troops into Mingo county, ordered last night by Maj.-Gen. Reed.

BUTTER WILL BE CHEAPER

Eggs Will Probably Continue Higher Until Next February.

Chicago, Nov. 27.—Butter is and will probably continue considerably cheaper this year than last while eggs are higher and will probably continue higher, according to J. S. Brown, Chicago representative of the United States bureau of markets in charge of dairy products.

This contrasting situation Mr. Brown attributed to a surplus of butter, due chiefly to lack of export trade, and a heavy import trade in butter, and on the other hand to an actual shortage of eggs due to small production.

"The situation in butter and eggs at the present time is a little different than it is in other food commodities, because of the fact that the public is now dependent for adequate supply on stocks put away in storage months ago when prices were all high," the agricultural official said. "Present prices are therefore on that basis.

Much Storage Butter.

"There is a very liberal supply of storage butter in the country. There is more on hand now than a year ago at this time. It is being taken out of cold storage and used, but it is not going out as rapidly as last year. Export business in butter was good in 1919 but it is poor this year, and in addition butter is being received from New Zealand, Denmark and Argentina. Receipts of Danish butter have already made a heavy showing.

"Fresh butter is selling at prices 10 cents under last year and storage butter is now losing its holders money. If its price continues to decline they face the possibility of a serious loss.

"With eggs the situation is different. There was a shortage right through the producing season. Storage eggs were put away at high prices and are going out fast. This may leave a shortage later on. Eggs are the one thing in the food line that is likely to stay high, until February, when eggs usually drop because of new receipts."

REPORTS ARE DISCREDITED

No Bavarian Organization to Restore Monarchy, Says Von Kahr.

Berlin, Nov. 27.—(By the Associated Press.)—Reports that organizations have been formed in Bavaria for the purpose of restoring the monarchy and establishing Bavarian domination over Germany were discredited by President von Kahr of Bavaria today. He is in Berlin discussing Bavarian affairs with the central government, and was requested by the Associated Press to issue a statement concerning affairs in that section of the country. Assertion has been made that rumors relative to separatist and revolutionary movements of various sorts in Bavaria have been circulated by opponents of the present Bavarian coalition government, which is bourgeois and violently opposed by Communists and Independent Socialists in Germany.

"Much that is misleading has been said," President von Kahr said, "about the einwohnerwehr and the 'orgesch' in Bavaria. These rumors have placed Bavaria and Bavarians in a false light, both in other parts of Germany and abroad."

Recent reports have stated the "orgesch" which was alleged to have been formed by Herr Escherich, director of the Bavarian woods and forest department, and which received the nickname from his surname and the first syllable of the word "organization," was a nucleus about which centered a movement to restore the Wittelbach regime in Bavaria and carry out a program of far-reaching significance in Germany. The einwohnerwehr is an organization composed of citizens, and sometimes known as the "Bavarian Citizens' Guard."

Does Not Exist.

"In the first place, let me say that 'orgesch' does not exist in Bavaria," he said. "Herr Escherich is head of the einwohnerwehr, so I will confine my discussion to that organization. The einwohnerwehr is not unlike the law and order which some American communities have organized to protect themselves against rowdyism, pillage and disorder. It was brought into existence by Herr Aur, Socialist Democratic minister of the interior in 1918. He was shot by rioters and lay for a long time at the point of death. He

BISHOP HEFFRON PRAISED BY POPE

Rome, Oct. 27.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—The pope has received in private audience Mgr. Patrick R. Heffron, bishop of Winona, Minn., who, after a detailed report of the work and developments in his diocese, especially on educational lines, presented eight students who have been brought here to be educated in the American Ecclesiastical college.

The pontiff warmly congratulated Mgr. Heffron on the splendid results obtained in his small diocese. He was especially pleased to hear that 85 per cent of the school population of Winona go to Catholic schools.

The pope intrusted Mgr. Heffron to take home a special apostolic blessing to the Catholic organizations in Winona.

An Associated Press dispatch Nov. 13 announced that the pope had appointed Bishop Heffron assistant to the pontifical throne "in recognition of the splendid work he has accomplished in his diocese." Bishop Heffron received the first word of the appointment from the newspapers upon his return to Winona that morning. He spent more than two months in Europe.

SIX ARE KILLED BY EXPLOSION IN ITALY

London, Nov. 27.—Six persons were killed and twenty injured in the explosion of a plant at Vergato, thirty-five miles from Milan, yesterday afternoon, says a dispatch to the London Times. Great damage in Vergato and other villages in the neighborhood was done, roofs being blown off and buildings badly wrecked.

The plant where the explosion occurred was used as a shell factory during the war, but since the close of hostilities was being used as a manufactory of citric acid.

HARDING TO START HOME ON SUNDAY

To Leave Canal Zone After Delightful Visit to Waterway.

Will Make Brief Stop at Kingston on Way Back.

Cristobal, C. Z., Nov. 27.—(By the Associated Press.)—President-elect Warren G. Harding prepared regretfully today to bid good-by to the canal zone. His visit ends here tomorrow, when he sails on board the steamer Pastores for the United States.

Senator Harding returned here last night from the Pacific terminus of the canal, where he exchanged felicitations with officials of the republic of Panama. Today he visited the fortifications and the submarine base at the eastern end of the waterway, played golf and took a swim in an outdoor salt water pool near his hotel. A plunge in the pool was his first act after his return here last night and he was out early this morning for another dip.

The Pastores will sail at noon tomorrow, and is due to reach Kingston, Jamaica, at 8 o'clock Tuesday en route to Norfolk.

Senator and Mrs. Harding and their party will go ashore at Kingston, where they will take lunch, and later they will go on an 80-mile motor ride across the island as the guest of the governor of that British possession. They will board their ship again at Port Antonio.

Studies Problems.

Ancon, Canal Zone, Nov. 27.—(By the Associated Press.)—Problems connected with the defense of the Panama canal were studied by Senator Harding today during a detailed inspection of the fortifications at the Pacific terminus of the waterway and in conferences with army and navy officers in charge of the zone forces. He spent several hours making a round of the defenses in company with Brig. Gen. Charles E. W. Kennedy and Rear Admiral Marbury Johnston, of whom he asked many questions on the capabilities and needs of the establishment.

The operation of the big guns was demonstrated to the president-elect and many problems of strategic policy were laid before him.

Accompanying Senator Harding were Senator Frederick Hale, member of the senate naval committee, and Senator Joseph S. Frelinghuysen, chairman of the coast defense committee, his guest on the trip.

AFFIRMS DAKOTA IS LIKE BELGIUM IN WHISKY WAR

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 27.—North Dakota must be the little Belgium in the war against Canadian whisky, Lane Moloney, newly appointed Federal group chief of prohibition agents in this state said today, summarizing his observations of a trip just concluded through the north central part of the state.

"Most of the whisky running across the border is carried on by bootleggers," he said. "Very little of the liquor stays in North Dakota.

"I am asking every citizen and officer of the state to co-operate in the fight on this traffic. What Belgium was to France, North Dakota must be to the other four states in the Northwestern department—Minnesota, Iowa, South Dakota and Nebraska."

He added that liquor traffic across the Minnesota-Canadian border is comparatively small.

Mr. Moloney also declared that conditions in North Dakota had been overdrawn in newspaper articles published in the Northwest.

BIG INCREASE IN STATE TRUST FUNDS

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 27.—Minnesota has $42,961,648.16 in the state trust funds, or $3,019,828.48 more than two years ago, according to a report compiled in the office of J. A. Preus, state auditor, for the year ending June 30.

The trust fund is made up of receipts from the sale of lands, rights-of-way, sale of timber, royalty on iron ore, and profits on the sale of bonds, according to M. J. Desmond, chief clerk.

The total accumulations, according to the reports, are as follows: Permanent school funds, $30,920,032.97; permanent university fund, $1,978,191; internal land improvement fund, $2,906,270.60, and swamp land fund $7,157,153.59.

The sources of accumulation were from the sales of lands, rights-of-way, etc., which netted the trust fund $23,081,928.65; sales of timber, $10,756,073.26; royalty on iron ore, $8,757,079.81, and profit on sale of bond, $366,566.44.

The proceeds from the sale of timber, minerals and agriculture lands during the two fiscal years have added the following amounts to the permanent trust funds:

Permanent school fund	$2,035,456.50
Permanent university fund	192,620.60
Swamp land fund	791,290.68
Internal improvement land fund	460.61
Total	$3,019,828.48

SURPLUS FREIGHT CARS INCREASING

Washington, Nov. 27.—Continued increase in the number of surplus freight cars during the week ended Nov. 15, when the total reached 19,865, or 7,832 more than in the preceding week, was announced today by the car service division of the American Railway association. Data compiled by the division, it was said, shows this surplus to be located chiefly in the South and Central West.

Increase in the total surplus was shown to be due to a reduction of the car shortage continuing to exist in other parts of the country, where the average daily shortages for the week was 35,356 cars, or 4,322 less than for the week preceding.

PRESIDENTIAL SINGLE TERM IS UP AGAIN

Question May Affect the Selection of Cabinet by Harding.

Possible President-Elect May Make Single Term Pledge.

By DAVID LAWRENCE.

(Copyright, 1920, by The Duluth Herald.)

Washington, Nov. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The age-old question of whether presidents of the United States should have a single term is up again. Just eight years ago it was raised in congress when Woodrow Wilson was president-elect and he wrote a letter to A. Mitchell Palmer, then chairman of the Democratic caucus in the house of representatives, saying four years was often too short a time to complete an administration program and that often it was too long a period to keep an incompetent executive, and that the people themselves were the best judges.

Now, however, the question has arisen in connection with the selection of a cabinet by President-elect Harding. There seem to be two definite lines of thought—one that Senator Harding ought to select men who will be of benefit to him in case he has made a record entitling him to a second term, and the other is that he ought to select no men for his cabinet whose own ambitions would give birth to political intrigue or an inordinate desire for the limelight on the part of the would-be candidates for the 1924 nomination.

Johnson May Raise Question.

Senator Hiram Johnson may raise the question when he revives the whole subject of choosing presidents by preference primaries. He is determined to get legislation that will put an end to the methods by which the political conventions of both parties operated in 1920.

Incidentally Governor Lowden of Illinois pledged himself to be a single term president in the event that he were nominated at Chicago, and the idea gained considerable support because of his advocacy of it. Also it can now be told that Governor Cox was in complete sympathy with the proposal and was ready to put it in his speech of acceptance, but was dissuaded at the last moment by Democratic leaders who argued that such a declaration should not be personal but should be embodied in a constitutional amendment and would come with better grace after election than before. This proposal, by which Governor Cox planned to limit himself to a single term in the event of election, constituted the mysterious insert which was to have been telegraphed to newspapers throughout the country as an addition to the copies of the speech of acceptance which already had been printed and mailed. In support of the proposal, there were others in the Democratic fold who believed an announcement of a single term pledge would bring enthusiastic co-operation from Democrats who were themselves potential candidates for the presidency. The theory was that the would-be candidate had nothing to gain from Cox's victory because he would naturally be the nominee for a second term whereas in the event of a Harding victory, there would be an open contest

NECESSITY FOR THRIFT

To Be Discussed by Presidents of Life Insurance Companies.

New York, Nov. 27.—Presidents of life insurance companies in virtually every state of the Union and Canada will meet in this city on Dec. 9 and 10 to discuss the necessity for nation-wide application of economy and thrift in the home, in business, in industry and in the government, it was announced today by the Association of Life Insurance Presidents. The conference will form part of the proceedings of the fourteenth annual convention of the association. Companies having in force more than 95 per cent of the 60,000,000 insurance policies issued on American lives have signified an intention to send representatives to the convention. The convention will mark the seventy-fifth year of American insurance.

National Thrift.

"In giving due attention to the seventy-five-year span which American life insurance has achieved," says the announcement, "the convention will consider the extent to which that institution has stimulated individual and national thrift in this country, with a view to developing additional means of using it as a savings agency at a time when the people must economize in order to successfully meet the readjustments following the war."

The consideration of taxation and its relation to national development will occupy a prominent place on the program, the effect of the present taxes on business generally, and on life insurance in particular, being discussed.

The association announces that, "although chided for indulging in unparalleled extravagances," the American people bought in 1919 $8,600,000,000 of additional life insurance and that this was 67 per cent more than the amount purchased in 1918, which was itself a record year.

Eleven Billions Returned.

It stated also that 202 American life insurance companies have returned to their policyholders during the five to seventy-three years of their operations a total of $11,000,000,000. These companies now stand obligated to make future payments to policyholders and beneficiaries aggregating more than $38,000,000,000. To guarantee these payments as they become due, the insurance companies are maintaining reserves aggregating $6,000,000,000. These figures are given by the association to show that "life insurance has had unparalleled development in the United States," and the statement adds that "today there is more family protection outstanding in this country than in all the rest of the world."

The national convention of insurance commissioners will meet in New York the same week as the life presidents, the date of the commissioners' sessions being Dec. 6, 7 and 8. The Association of Life Insurance Counsel will also meet that week in New York, the dates being Dec. 7 and 8.

ASSEMBLY MAY FINISH NEXT WEEK

League Delegates Calculate on Adjourning Earlier Than Expected.

Rapid Progress Being Made on Adjusment of All Questions.

Geneva, Nov. 27.—(By the Associated Press.)—Optimists at the meeting of the assembly of the League of Nations are counting upon finishing the work of the session next week, or ten days earlier than was calculated by league officials. This hope is based on the fact that committees Nos. 1 and 2 have virtually finished their work, the international court is out of the way and the armaments question has been disposed of by a practical adjournment. The plan relative to the admission of new members has also been decided upon.

Some apprehension is still felt in some quarters, however, that the discussions in full assembly, which will be resumed on Tuesday, especially those on the question regarding the relations of the league council and assembly, will be prolonged.

Only One Against Austria.

Czecho-Slovak delegates are now furnishing the only argument against the admission of Austria to the league. Switzerland is strongly advocating admission, with the proviso, however, that if reaction occurs in Austria, with a restoration of the monarchy, she will insist upon the right of the province of Voralberg to decide whether to remain a part of Austria or not. Voralberg recently requested that it be attached to Switzerland, but this request was rejected by the latter country.

Approves Salaries.

Committee No. 4, which has been investigating the accounts of the league, finally has approved the comparatively high salaries paid the personnel of the secretariat, finding the high cost of living in Geneva justified them, in part, while the expenses of each worker in reaching his native country should also be taken into account.

The organization committee has decided to approve the suggestion that the four elective members of the council shall be chosen so that only one term will expire each year. It has also been decided to set up a committee to study all proposed amendments to the Covenant of the league.

Favors United States.

The United States would be the best nation to accept the mandate for Armenia in the opinion of Lord Robert Cecil, who is acting as one of South Africa's delegates to the League of Nations assembly, as expressed to the American newspaper correspondents last night. The United States, he added, probably would have more influence with Mustapha Kemal Pasha, the Turkish Nationalist leader, who is conducting a campaign against the Armenians, than any other nation.

Lord Robert said $20,000,000 would

EXHIBITS AT FAIRS HIT BY HIGH RATES

Chicago, Nov. 27.—Possibility of a serious cut in exhibits at state and district fairs will be considered by secretaries of various fairs meeting here Dec. 3 at the annual convention of the International Association of Fairs and Expositions.

"In the past the railroads have given exhibitors at fairs return transportation free for their livestock and other exhibit material," W. J. Carmichael, secretary of the National Swine Growers' association, said. "George W. Dickinson of Detroit, president of the fair and exposition association, has received notices that the railroads propose to do away with the free return. The rate set was allowed before this decision, and was calculated to get the exhibitions as large as possible for the benefit of agriculture. It applies only to freight shipment.

"The high rates proposed will work a hardship on exhibitors and will certainly curtail exhibits. In so doing they will injure the drawing value of fairs and operate against a better agriculture."

CLOTHING FOR NEEDY AUSTRIAN CHILDREN

New York, Nov. 27.—One hundred thousand pairs of shoes, 100,000 pairs of stockings to go with them and 340,000 suits of boys' and girls' underwear will be distributed to needy Austrian children this winter by the American Relief Administration European Children's fund, that organization announces.

Without this clothing, more than 100,000 children who come to the kitchens of the fund for a daily hot meal will not be able to appear as soon as winter begins in earnest. In Vienna alone, 160,000 children are fed at the American kitchens; in all Austria, 300,000. Agents of the relief administration say these children face death by starvation if the work of the relief stations does not continue through the winter. Herbert Hoover, chairman of the fund, estimates that $23,000,000 will insure the child welfare work in Austria, Poland, the Baltic states and Czecho-Slovakia until next August, when the countries can depend upon their harvests.

Benedict, and for long one of the leading yachtsmen of the world, was born in Somers, N. Y., on Jan. 24, 1834. He was a son of the late Rev. PRINTER ENDS HIS EXISTENCE

Mankato, Minn., Nov. 27.—Pressing both barrels of a sawed off shotgun against his side, William J. Eich, printer, 47, committed suicide in the rear of the old malt house here early this morning. Eich apparently had long been meditating death. He left a letter dated Aug. 16, 1920, saying he wished to be buried in a pine box with rope handles and to be taken to the cemetery on a dray. He is an old-time printer and a member of the St. Paul Typographical union. His letter stated that his wife is now residing in St. Paul at 141 West George street.

William J. Eich resided in Duluth for more than two years, making his home on Park Point. He was employed as proofreader on The Herald. He left about six months ago to take a road position as salesman for metallic window letters. While in Duluth he was affiliated with Duluth Typographical union No. 136. He was also a member of Duluth Aerie, No. 79, Fraternal Order of Eagles, and the Modern Woodmen. It is thought he was a member of Duluth camp, No. 2341, but financial officers of that camp could not be located to make certain of this.

DANCING TEACHERS RESENT ATTITUDE OF METHODIST CHURCH

Atlantic City, N. J., Nov. 27.—An open letter expressing resentment over the alleged attitude of the Methodist Episcopal church toward the amusement profession was received yesterday by the house of bishops of the Methodist church, in session here, from the New York Dancing Teachers' association and the American Conclave Dancing Teachers.

Bishop Berry announced yesterday that bishops would preside over the same districts next spring as they have been during the last year.

Reports submitted yesterday showed an increase of membership in the Methodist church of 185,000, the largest increase of any period in the history of the church.

BULLET NESTLES IN HEART; MAN LIVES

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 27.—James Freeman has a bullet in his heart and is still alive. He was shot by his wife, from whom he had been separated, when he returned home after he is said to have threatened her. She met him at the door and fired point blank, the bullet striking him in the left breast. He walked to the police station, nearly three miles away, where medical attention was given him. He was removed to a hospital and an X-ray taken which showed the bullet nestling in the heart.

EX-KAISER TO GIVE CHILDREN MONEY

London, Nov. 27.—During visits of his children at Doorn castle during the past week, Former Emperor William of Germany has taken occasion to discuss with them their financial resources, says a Doorn dispatch to the Daily Mail.

It is said the former emperor intends to present each of his children £85,000 in Dutch money, "so they may continue to live in a manner befitting the Hohenzollerns."

FARMERS PLEDGE AID TO BANK THAT CLOSED

Donnybrook, N. D., Nov. 27.—Two hundred and fifty farmers, meeting here late yesterday to discuss the closing of the Donnybrook State bank, due to depleted reserves, adopted resolutions expressing "confidence in the sincerity and business integrity of officers" of the bank and pledged $45,000 to make certain the reopening of the institution.

DELIBERATION BEGINS AT 9:51 IN FORENOON

No Indication of Agreement by Jurymen as Hours Go By.

Attorney for Defense Declares Offense Charged Was Never Committed.

The jury that has been hearing the case of the state against Max Mason, charged with participating in the alleged rape of an 18-year old West Duluth girl last June, went out at 9:51 this morning to consider their verdict. At 3 o'clock they had not come in. The taking of testimony ended yesterday and the closing arguments were made in the afternoon. The court charged the jury this morning.

Closing arguments to the jury were made yesterday afternoon, County Attorney Warren E. Greene summing up for the prosecution, and F. L. Barnett of Chicago, of counsel for the defense, arguing for an acquittal.

Mr. Greene declared in his address that the case was the most important that has ever come before the court.

"Why do we have mobs?" he said. "It is because people think that the negroes won't be convicted. That's why they take the law into their own hands. The people of Duluth and St. Louis county want to know through your verdict that when a white girl is ravished by a black or a white man and the man is proven guilty, as in this case, the man is going to be found guilty."

Attorney Barnett argued that the state had wholly failed to prove its case against Mason, the defendant on trial. He scored Sullivan, the 18-year-old escort of the girl on the evening of the alleged assault, for the attitude he claims to have taken.

"Anglo-Saxon blood never permits attacks upon its women without a protest," he said, "and it appears from Sullivan's testimony that he did not protest.

"Something might have happened on the circus grounds that night. Perhaps the girl's ring might have been stolen, or the boy's watch taken, but the offense charged in this indictment against this defendant was not committed."

Attorney Barnett rolled the county attorney by insinuating that he had schooled witnesses for the prosecution in having Sullivan and the girl identify the defendant and other negroes indicted for the rape by their form and stride.

"Is it fair to send a man to the penitentiary on that identification?" he said. "I don't ask any favors for a black man—only justice. The law says that nobody shall be convicted upon his own evidence. The law has been shamefully abused in this case. The men were compelled to testify against themselves before the grand jury before being warned."

FIND NO TRACE OF MISSING BARGE

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 2.—No trace of the barge W. J. Pirrie, reported ashore near James island, off the Washington coast, had been found early today, according to a wireless message from the coast guard cutter Snohomish, which went to the aid of the stricken vessel. Sixteen persons including the wife of Capt. A. B. Jensen and their baby, were reported on the Pirrie, which was cut loose from the steamer Santa Rita in a heavy gale south of Cape Flattery late yesterday.

The Pirrie is a barge of 2,498 tons. The Santa Rita is a wooden steamer of 918 tons, in command of Capt. J. K. Tibbetts. Crews of both vessels were shipped in San Francisco.

THIRTEEN DIE ON GRIDIRON

Chicago, Nov. 27.—Football exacted a toll of thirteen victims during the 1920 season which closed with Thanksgiving day's games, according to reports to the Associated Press today.

The number of deaths was seven greater than in 1919 and three above the list of two years ago. There were twelve lives lost during the 1917 season, eighteen in 1916, and fifteen in 1915.

The majority of the youths killed this season were high school players, who may have entered the game without sufficient physical training for so rough a sport and with only limited knowledge of the game. Only two of the dead were members of college aggregations, two on college class teams. One boy, 12 years old, was killed in a game of the "sand lot" variety. Six victims were members of high school elevens.

Defenders of the sport pointed to the fact that not a fatality occurred in the big universities of the country, where the game is conducted under expert physical direction and coaching. The development of the open style of play, instead of the smashing game of a dozen years ago, and the improved, heavily padded uniforms and head gear, is eliminating much of the danger, according to football experts. None of the dead were from Minnesota, North Dakota or Wisconsin.

Two Suspects Arrested But Not Identified as Men Wanted.

Henricksen Is Recovering From Beating; Loss Less Than First Reported.

John Persson, courthouse janitor, believes that two men who attempted to hold him up near Cascade park last evening, were the men wanted for yesterday's daylight diamond robbery of the Hendricksen Jewelry store, 321 West First street.

About 8:30 o'clock while driving out of the city, two men in Cascade park shouted to him to stop his car. The automobile was climbing the hill curve at the park and was at a point between Fifth and Sixth streets.

When Persson saw that the men were strangers he speeded up and although they pursued the car for a short distance they were unable to overtake him.

Persson told the sheriff today that he had later read the descriptions of the two men in The Herald last night and that the strangers who had attempted to hold up his car tallied exactly to the descriptions.

The two bandits are still at large. Two suspects, who were picked up at the Union depot last night, are not the men wanted nor has any of the other suspects which officers of the police department detained on the streets at various times met the description of the bandits.

BUTTER WILL BE CHEAPER

Eggs Will Probably Continue Higher Until Next February.

Chicago, Nov. 27.—Butter is and will probably continue considerably cheaper this year than last while eggs are higher and will probably continue higher, according to J. S. Brown, Chicago representative of the United States bureau of markets in charge of dairy products.

This contrasting situation Mr. Brown attributed to a surplus of butter, due chiefly to lack of export trade, and a heavy import trade in butter, and on the other hand to an actual shortage of eggs due to small production.

Much Storage Butter.

"There is a very liberal supply of storage butter in the country. There is more on hand now than a year ago at this time. It is being taken out of cold storage and used, but it is not going out as rapidly as last year. Export business in butter was good in 1919 but it is poor this year, and in addition butter is being received from New Zealand, Denmark and Argentina. Receipts of Danish butter have already made a heavy showing.

"Fresh butter is selling at prices 10 cents under last year and storage butter is now losing its holders money. If its price continues to decline they face the possibility of a serious loss.

"With eggs the situation is different. There was a shortage right through the producing season. Storage eggs were put away at high prices and are going out fast. This may leave a shortage later on. Eggs are the one thing in the food line that is likely to stay high, until February, when eggs usually drop because of new receipts."

Berlin, Nov. 27.—(By the Associated Press.)—Reports that organizations have been formed in Bavaria for the purpose of restoring the monarchy and establishing Bavarian domination over Germany were discredited by President von Kahr of Bavaria today. He is in Berlin discussing Bavarian affairs with the central government, and was requested by the Associated Press to issue a statement concerning affairs in that section of the country. Assertion has been made that rumors relative to separatist and revolutionary movements of various sorts in Bavaria have been circulated by opponents of the present Bavarian coalition government, which is bourgeois and violently opposed by Communists and Independent Socialists in Germany.

"Much that is misleading has been said," President von Kahr said, "about the einwohnerwehr and the 'orgesch' in Bavaria. These rumors have placed Bavaria and Bavarians in a false light, both in other parts of Germany and abroad."

Recent reports have stated the "orgesch" which was alleged to have been formed by Herr Escherich, director of the Bavarian woods and forest department, and which received the nickname from his surname and the first syllable of the word "organization" was a nucleus about which centered a movement to restore the Wittelbach regime in Bavaria and carry out a program of far-reaching significance in Germany. The einwohnerwehr is an organization composed of citizens, and sometimes known as the "Bavarian Citizens' Guard."

Does Not Exist.

"In the first place, let me say that 'orgesch' does not exist in Bavaria," he said. "Herr Escherich is head of the einwohnerwehr, so I will confine my discussion to that organization. The einwohnerwehr is not unlike the law and order which some American communities have organized to protect themselves against rowdyism, pillage and disorder. It was brought into existence by Herr Auer, Socialist Democratic minister of the interior in 1918. He was shot by rioters and lay for a long time at the point of death. He

BISHOP HEFFRON PRAISED BY POPE

Rome, Oct. 27.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—The pope has received in private audience Mgr. Patrick R. Heffron, bishop of Winona, Minn., who, after a detailed report of the work and developments in his diocese, especially on educational lines, presented eight students who have been brought here to be educated in the American Ecclesiastical college.

The pontiff warmly congratulated Mgr. Heffron on the splendid results obtained in his small diocese. He was especially pleased to hear that 85 per cent of the school population of Winona go to Catholic schools.

The pope intrusted Mgr. Heffron to take home a special apostolic blessing to the Catholic organizations in Winona.

An Associated Press dispatch Nov. 13 announced that the pope had appointed Bishop Heffron assistant to the pontifical throne "in recognition of the splendid work he has accomplished in his diocese." Bishop Heffron received the first word of the appointment from the newspapers upon his return to Winona that morning. He spent more than two months in Europe.

SIX ARE KILLED BY EXPLOSION IN ITALY

London, Nov. 27.—Six persons were killed and twenty injured in the explosion of a plant at Vergato, thirty-five miles from Milan, yesterday afternoon, says a dispatch to the London Times. Great damage in Vergato and other villages in the neighborhood was done, roofs being blown off and buildings badly wrecked.

The plant where the explosion occurred was used as a shell factory during the war, but since the close of hostilities was being used as a manufactory of citric acid.

HARDING TO START HOME ON SUNDAY

To Leave Canal Zone After Delightful Visit to Waterway.

Will Make Brief Stop at Kingston on Way Back.

Cristobal, C. Z., Nov. 27.—(By the Associated Press.)—President-elect Warren G. Harding prepared regretfully today to bid good-by to the canal zone. His visit ends here tomorrow, when he sails on board the steamer Pastores for the United States.

Senator Harding returned here last night from the Pacific terminus of the canal, where he exchanged felicitations with officials of the republic of Panama. Today he visited the fortifications and the submarine base at the eastern end of the waterway, played golf and took a swim in an outdoor salt water pool near his hotel. A plunge in the pool was his first act after his return here last night and he was out early this morning for another dip.

The Pastores will sail at noon tomorrow, and is due to reach Kingston, Jamaica, at 8 o'clock Tuesday en route to Norfolk.

Senator and Mrs. Harding and their party will go ashore at Kingston, where they will take lunch, and later they will go on an 80-mile motor ride across the island as the guest of the governor of that British possession. They will board their ship again at Port Antonio.

Studies Problems.

Ancon, Canal Zone, Nov. 27.—(By the Associated Press.)—Problems connected with the defense of the Panama canal were studied by Senator Harding today during a detailed inspection of the fortifications at the Pacific terminus of the waterway and in conferences with army and navy officers in charge of the zone forces. He spent several hours making a round of the defenses in company with Brig. Gen. Charles E. W. Kennedy and Rear Admiral Marbury Johnston, of whom he asked many questions on the capabilities and needs of the establishment.

The operation of the big guns was demonstrated to the president-elect and many problems of strategic policy were laid before him.

Accompanying Senator Harding were Senator Frederick Hale, member of the senate naval committee, and Senator Joseph S. Frelinghuysen, chairman of the coast defense committee, his guest on the trip.

AFFIRMS DAKOTA IS LIKE BELGIUM IN WHISKY WAR

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 27.—North Dakota must be the little Belgium in the war against Canadian whisky, Lane Moloney, newly appointed Federal group chief of prohibition agents in this state said today, summarizing his observations of a trip just concluded through the north central part of the state.

"Most of the whisky running across the border is carried on by bootleggers," he said. "Very little of the liquor stays in North Dakota.

"I am asking every citizen and officer of the state to co-operate in the flight on this traffic. What Belgium was to France, North Dakota must be to the other four states in the Northwestern department—Minnesota, Iowa, South Dakota and Nebraska."

He added that liquor traffic across the Minnesota-Canadian border is comparatively small.

Mr. Moloney also declared that conditions in North Dakota had been overdrawn in newspaper articles published in the Northwest.

BIG INCREASE IN STATE TRUST FUNDS

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 27.—Minnesota has $42,961,648.16 in the state trust funds, or $3,019,828.48 more than two years ago, according to a report compiled in the office of J. A. Preus, state auditor, for the year ending June 30.

The trust fund is made up of receipts from the sale of lands, rights-of-way, sale of timber, royalty on iron ore, and profits on the sale of bonds, according to M. J. Desmond, chief clerk.

The total accumulations, according to the reports, are as follows: Permanent schol funds, $30,920,032.97; permanent university fund, $1,978,191; internal land improvement fund, $2,906,270.60, and swamp land fund $7,157,153.59.

The sources of accumulation were from the sales of lands, rights-of-way, etc., which netted the trust fund $23,081,928.65; sales of timber, $10,756,073.26; royalty on iron ore, $8,757,079.81, and profit on sale of bond, $366,566.44.

The proceeds from the sale of timber, minerals and agriculture lands during the two fiscal years have added the folliwing amounts to the permanent trust funds:

Permanent school fund	$2,035,456.50
Permanent university fund	192,620.60
Swamp land fund	791,290.68
Internal improvement land fund	460.61
Total	$3,019,828.48

SURPLUS FREIGHT CARS INCREASING

Washington, Nov. 27.—Continued increase in the number of surplus freight cars during the week ended Nov. 15, when the total reached 19,865, or 7,832 more than in the preceding week, was announced today by the car service division of the American Railway association. Data compiled by the division, it was said, shows this surplus to be located chiefly in the South and Central West.

Increase in the total surplus was shown to be due to a reduction of the car shortage continuing to exist in other parts of the country, where the average daily shortages for the week was 35,356 cars, or 4,322 less than for the week preceding.

PRESIDENTIAL SINGLE TERM IS UP AGAIN

Question May Affect the Selection of Cabinet by Harding.

Possible President-Elect May Make Single Term Pledge.

By DAVID LAWRENCE.

(Copyright, 1920, by The Duluth Herald.)

Washington, Nov. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The age-old question of whether presidents of the United States should have a single term is up again. Just eight years ago it was raised in congress when Woodrow Wilson was president-elect and he wrote a letter to A. Mitchell Palmer, then chairman of the Democratic caucus in the house of representatives, saying four years was often too short a time to complete an administration program and that often it was too long a period to keep an incompetent executive, and that the people themselves were the best judges.

Now, however, the question has arisen in connection with the selection of a cabinet by President-elect Harding. There seem to be two definite lines of thought—one that Senator Harding ought to select men who will be of benefit to him in case he has made a record entitling him to a second term, and the other is that he ought to select no men for his cabinet whose own ambitions would give birth to political intrigue or an inordinate desire for the limelight on the part of the would-be candidates for the 1924 nomination.

Johnson May Raise Question.

Senator Hiram Johnson may raise the question when he revives the whole subject of choosing presidents by preference primaries. He is determined to get legislation that will put an end to the methods by which the political conventions of both parties operated in 1920.

Incidentally Governor Lowden of Illinois pledged himself to be a single term president in the event that he were nominated at Chicago, and the idea gained considerable support because of his advocacy of it. Also it can now be told that Governor Cox was in complete sympathy with the proposal and was ready to put it in his speech of acceptance, but was dissuaded at the last moment by Democratic leaders who argued that such a declaration should not be personal but should be embodied in a constitutional amendment and would come with better grace after election than before. This proposal, by which Governor Cox planned to limit himself to a single term in the event of election, constituted the mysterious insert which was to have been telegraphed to newspapers throughout the country as an addition to the copies of the speech of acceptance which already had been printed and mailed. In support of the proposal, there were others in the Democratic fold who believed an announcement of a single term pledge would bring enthusiastic co-operation from Democrats who were themselves potential candidates for the presidency. The theory was that the would-be candidate had nothing to gain from Cox's victory because he would naturally be the nominee for a second term whereas in the event of a Harding victory, there would be an open contest

To Be Discussed by Presidents of Life Insurance Companies.

New York, Nov. 27.—Presidents of life insurance companies in virtually every state of the Union and Canada will meet in this city on Dec. 9 and 10 to discuss the necessity for nationwide application of economy and thrift in the home, in business, in industry and in the government, it was announced today by the Association of Life Insurance Presidents. The conference will form part of the proceedings of the fourteenth annual convention of the association. Companies having in force more than 9[illegible] per cent of the 60,000,000 insurance policies issued on American lives have signified an intention to send representatives to the convention. The convention will mark the seventy-fifth year of American insurance.

National Thrift.

"In giving due attention to the seventy-five-year span which American life insurance has achieved," says the announcement, "the convention will consider the extent to which that institution has stimulated individual and national thrift in this country, with a view to developing additional means of using it as a savings agency at a time when the people must economize in order to successfully meet the readjustments following the war."

The consideration of taxation and its relation to national development will occupy a prominent place on the program, the effect of the present taxes on business generally, and on life insurance in particular, being discussed.

The association announces that, "although chided for indulging in unparalleled extravagances," the American people bought in 1919 $8,600,000,000 of additional life insurance and that this was 67 per cent more than the amount purchased in 1918, which was itself a record year.

Eleven Billions Returned.

It stated also that 202 American life insurance companies have returned to their policyholders during the five to seventy-three years of their operations a total of $11,000,000,000. These companies now stand obligated to make future payments to policyholders and beneficiaries aggregating more than $38,000,000,000. To guarantee these payments as they become due, the insurance companies are maintaining reserves aggregating $6,000,000,000. These figures are given by the association to show that "life insurance has had unparalleled development in the United States," and the statement adds that "today there is more family protection outstanding in this country than in all the rest of the world."

The national convention of insurance commissioners will meet in New York the same week as the life presidents, the date of the commissioners' sessions being Dec. 6, 7 and 8. The Association of Life Insurance Counsel will also meet that week in New York, the dates being Dec. 7 and 8.

ASSEMBLY MAY FINISH NEXT WEEK

League Delegates Calculate on Adjourning Earlier Than Expected.

Rapid Progress Being Made on Adjusment of All Questions.

Geneva, Nov. 27.—(By the Associated Press.)—Optimists at the meeting of the assembly of the League of Nations are counting upon finishing the work of the session next week, or ten days earlier than was calculated by league officials. This hope is based on the fact that committees Nos. 1 and 2 have virtually finished their work, the international court is out of the way and the armaments question has been disposed of by a practical adjournment. The plan relative to the admission of new members has also been decided upon.

Some apprehension is still felt in some quarters, however, that the discussions in full assembly, which will be resumed on Tuesday, especially those on the question regarding the relations of the league council and assembly, will be prolonged.

Only One Against Austria.

Czecho-Slovak delegates are now furnishing the only argument against the admission of Austria to the league. Switzerland is strongly advocating admission, with the proviso, however, that if reaction occurs in Austria, with a restoration of the monarchy, she will insist upon the right of the province of Voralberg to decide whether to remain a part of Austria or not. Voralberg recently requested that it be attached to Switzerland, but this request was rejected by the latter country.

Approves Salaries.

Committee No. 4, which has been investigating the accounts of the league, finally has approved the comparatively high salaries paid the personnel of the secretariat, finding the high cost of living in Geneva justified them, in part, while the expenses of each worker in reaching his native country should also be taken into account.

The organization committee has decided to approve the suggestion that the four elective members of the council shall be chosen so that only one term will expire each year. It has also been decided to set up a committee to study all proposed amendments to the Covenant of the league.

Favors United States.

The United States would be the best nation to accept the mandate for Armenia in the opinion of Lord Robert Cecil, who is acting as one of South Africa's delegates to the League of Nations assembly, as expressed to the American newspaper correspondents last night. The United States, he added, probably would have more influence with Mustapha Kemal Pasha, the Turkish Nationalist leader, who is conducting a campaign against the Armenians, than any other nation.

Lord Robert said $20,000,000 would

EXHIBITS AT FAIRS HIT BY HIGH RATES

Chicago, Nov. 27.—Possibility of a serious cut in exhibits at state and district fairs will be considered by secretaries of various fairs meeting here Dec. 3 at the annual convention of the International Association of Fairs and Expositions.

"In the past the railroads have given exhibitors at fairs return transportation free for their livestock and other exhibit material," W. J. Carmichael, secretary of the National Swine Growers' association, said. "George W. Dickinson of Detroit, president of the fair and exposition association, has received notices that the railroads propose to do away with the free return. The rate set was allowed before this decision, and was calculated to get the exhibitions as large as possible for the benefit of agriculture. It applies only to freight shipment.

"The high rates proposed will work a hardship on exhibitors and will certainly curtail exhibits. In so doing they will injure the drawing value of fairs and operate against a better agriculture."

CLOTHING FOR NEEDY AUSTRIAN CHILDREN

New York, Nov. 27.—One hundred thousand pairs of shoes, 100,000 pairs of stockings to go with them and 349,000 suits of boys' and girls' underwear will be distributed to needy Austrian children this winter by the American Relief Administration European Children's fund, that organization announces.

Without this clothing, more than 100,000 children who come to the kitchens of the fund for a daily hot meal will not be able to appear as soon as winter begins in earnest. In Vienna alone, 160,000 children are fed at the American kitchens; in all Austria, 300,000. Agents of the relief administration say these children face death by starvation if the work of the relief stations does not continue through the winter. Herbert Hoover, chairman of the fund, estimates that $23,000,000 will insure the child welfare work in Austria, Poland, the Baltic states and Czecho-Slovakia until next August, when the countries can depend upon their harvests.

COMMODORE BENEDICT.

E. C. Benedict, banker and yachtsman, is dead in his eighty-seventh year at his home, Indian Harbor, Greenwich, Conn. Elias Cornelius Benedict, known only for many years as Commodore E. C. Benedict, and for long one of the leading yachtsmen of the world, was born in Somers, N. Y., on Jan. 24, 1834. He was a son of the late Rev. Henry Benedict and Mrs. Mary Betts Lockwood Benedict, and received his education in the schools of Westport, Conn., and Buffalo, N. Y., where he spent part of his youth.

PRINTER ENDS HIS EXISTENCE

Mankato, Minn., Nov. 27.—Pressing both barrels of a sawed off shotgun against his side, William J. Eich, printer, 47, committed suicide in the rear of the old malt house here early this morning. Eich apparently had long been meditating death. He left a letter dated Aug. 16, 1920, saying he wished to be buried in a pine box with rope handles and to be taken to the cemetery on a dray. He is an old-time printer and a member of the St. Paul Typographical union. His letter stated that his wife is now residing in St. Paul at 141 West George street.

William J. Eich resided in Duluth for more than two years, making his home on Park Point. He was employed as proofreader on The Herald. He left about six months ago to take a road position as salesman for metallic window letters. While in Duluth he was affiliated with Duluth Typographical union No. 136. He was also a member of Duluth Aerie, No. 79, Fraternal Order of Eagles, and the Modern Woodmen. It is thought he was a member of Duluth camp, No. 2341, but financial officers of that camp could not be located to make certain of this.

DANCING TEACHERS RESENT ATTITUDE OF METHODIST CHURCH

Atlantic City, N. J., Nov. 27.—An open letter expressing resentment over the alleged attitude of the Methodist Episcopal church toward the amusement profession was received yesterday by the house of bishops of the Methodist church, in session here, from the New York Dancing Teachers' association and the American Conclave Dancing Teachers.

Bishop Berry announced yesterday that bishops would preside over the same districts next spring as they have been during the last year.

Reports submitted yesterday showed an increase of membership in the Methodist church of 185,000, the largest increase of any period in the history of the church.

BULLET NESTLES IN HEART; MAN LIVES

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 27.—James Freeman has a bullet in his heart and is still alive. He was shot by his wife, from whom he had been separated, when he returned home after he is said to have threatened her. She met him at the door and fired point blank, the bullet striking him in the left breast. He walked to the police station, nearly three miles away, where medical attention was given him. He was removed to a hospital and an X-ray taken which showed the bullet nestling in the heart.

EX-KAISER TO GIVE CHILDREN MONEY

London, Nov. 27.—During visits of his children at Doorn castle during the past week, Former Emperor William of Germany has taken occasion to discuss with them their financial resources, says a Doorn dispatch to the Daily Mail.

It is said the former emperor intends to present each of his children £85,000 in Dutch money, "so they may continue to live in a manner befitting the Hohenzollerns."

FARMERS PLEDGE AID TO BANK THAT CLOSED

Donnybrook, N. D., Nov. 27.—Two hundred and fifty farmers, meeting here late yesterday to discuss the closing of the Donnybrook State bank, due to depleted reserves, adopted resolutions expressing "confidence in the sincerity and business integrity of officers" of the bank and pledged $45,000 to make certain the reopening of the institution.

DELIBERATION BEGINS AT 9:51 IN FORENOON

No Indication of Agreement by Jurymen as Hours Go By.

The jury that has been hearing the case of the state against Max Mason, charged with participating in the alleged rape of an 18-year old West Duluth girl last June, went out at 9:51 this morning to consider their verdict. At 3 o'clock they had not come in. The taking of testimony ended yesterday and the closing arguments were made in the afternoon. The court charged the jury this morning.

Closing arguments to the jury were made yesterday afternoon, County Attorney Warren E. Greene summing up for the prosecution, and F. L. Barnett of Chicago, of counsel for the defense, arguing for an acquittal.

Mr. Greene declared in his address that the case was the most important that has ever come before the court. "Why do we have mobs?" he said. "It is because people think that negroes won't be convicted. That's why they take the law into their own hands. The people of Duluth and St. Louis county want to know through your verdict that when a white girl is ravished by a black or a white man and the man is proven guilty, as in this case, the man is going to be found guilty."

Attorney Barnett argued that the state had wholly failed to prove its case against Mason, the defendant on trial. He scored Sullivan, the 19-year-old escort of the girl on the evening of the alleged assault, for the attitude he claims to have taken.

"Anglo-Saxon blood never permits attacks upon its women without a protest," he said, "and it appears from Sullivan's testimony that he did not protest.

"Something might have happened on the circus grounds that night. Perhaps the girl's ring might have been stolen, or the boy's watch taken, but the offense charged in this indictment against this defendant was not committed."

Attorney Barnett roiled the county attorney by insinuating that he had schooled witnesses for the prosecution in having Sullivan and the girl identify the defendant and other negroes indicted for the rape by their form and stride.

"Is it fair to send a man to the penitentiary on that identification?" he said. "I don't ask any favors for a black man—only justice. The law says that nobody shall be convicted upon his own evidence. The law has been shamefully abused in this case. The men were compelled to testify against themselves before the grand jury before being warned."

FIND NO TRACE OF MISSING BARGE

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 2—No trace of the barge W. J. Pirrie, reported ashore near James Island, off the Washington coast, had been found early today, according to a wireless message from the coast guard cutter Snohomish, which went to the aid of the stricken vessel. Sixteen persons including the wife of Capt. A. B. Jensen and their baby, were reported on the Pirrie, which was cut loose from the steamer Santa Rita in a heavy gale south of Cape Flattery late yesterday. The Pirrie is a barge of 2,456 tons. The Santa Rita is a wooden steamer of 918 tons, in command of Capt. J. K. Tibbetts. Crews of both vessels were shipped in San Francisco.

THIRTEEN DIE ON GRIDIRON

Chicago, Nov. 27.—Football exacted a toll of thirteen victims during the 1920 season which closed with Thanksgiving day's games, according to reports to the Associated Press today.

The number of deaths was seven greater than in 1919 and three above the list of two years ago. There were twelve lives lost during the 1917 season, eighteen in 1916, and fifteen in 1915.

The majority of the youths killed this season were high school players, who may have entered the game without sufficient physical training for so rough a sport and with only limited knowledge of the game. Only two of the dead were members of college aggregations, two on college class teams. One boy, 12 years old, was killed in a game of the "sand lot" variety. Six victims were members of high school elevens.

Defenders of the sport pointed to the fact that not a fatality occurred in the big universities of the country, where the game is conducted under expert physical direction and coaching. The development of the open style of play, instead of the smashing game of a dozen years ago, and the improved, heavily padded uniforms and head gear, is eliminating much of the danger, according to football experts. None of the dead were from Minnesota, North Dakota or Wisconsin.

HARD-SURFACE ROAD BONDS

County Board Authorizes Issue of $4,000,000; More by Jan. 1.

By Jan. 1, 1921, St. Louis county commissioners will have authorized the issuance of $7,500,000 worth of bonds to finance the paving of the first fifty-six of the 270 miles of hard surfaced roads contemplated for St. Louis county under the Babcock system of state highways.

The county board yesterday afternoon at a special meeting authorized the issuance of $4,000,000 of the $7,500,000. The remaining $3,500,000 will probably be authorized at the last meeting of the commissioners in December.

Bonds for the purpose of the financing by a county of a state highway must be authorized prior to 1921, according to the provisions of chapter 265, laws of 1919, which specify that the power of a county in this respect shall lapse on Jan. 1, 1921. The law gives the county the right to issue bonds prior to that time on state roads, the plans and specifications for which have been approved by the state highway commission and for which Federal aid has been allotted. The law further contemplated the passage of Amendment No. 1 at the recent general election and the eventual taking over by the state of all county financed and county constructed state highways.

To Facilitate Construction.

The statute was enacted merely to facilitate the construction, the plan being to have the state take over further construction and financing and recompensate the counties as soon as the 1920 legislature met and provided the necessary machinery to do so.

The $7,500,000 bond issue, which will be authorized by the county board this winter, was approved by the voters of the county at a special election in 1918 by a vote of about 8 to 1. Of the $4,000,000 authorized by the board yesterday, the commissioners expect to sell the first $500,000 next month. Yesterday the county auditor was directed to advertise for bids for the first block of $500,000 to be issued in denominations of $1,000 each, maturing in 1931, with interest at 5 per cent.

The Babcock system of state highways calls for the maintenance of 270 miles of state highway in St. Louis county and eventually it is planned to hard surface all of it. St. Louis county has already undertaken the paving of the first fifty-six miles of state highway which is known as State Highway No. 1, and otherwise designated as the Miller Trunk road from Duluth to Eveleth.

First Contract Let.

The only contract which has been let so far is for the subgrading of the Miller Trunk road. This is in the hands of S. J. Groves & Sons and is reported to be about half completed. County engineers expect that the contract will be completed by spring. The contract for paving will be let this winter in all probability, but how soon the paving can be laid will depend upon the material market and labor conditions existing next year.

"In the city of Duluth, a contract for the paving of five miles of street has generally been regarded as a big year's work," declared Charles E. Adams, special counsel for the county board yesterday, "so one may easily imagine what a stupendous job the laying of fifty-six miles of concrete would be. The difficulties experienced in getting material and of getting labor will be big factors in determining how soon the job can be finished and the Miller Trunk road finally opened to traffic.

MAY BAR ALL ALIENS FROM U. S. TEMPORARILY

Washington, Nov. 27.—If congress at the coming session is unable to enact legislation to restrict immigration, it probably will be urged by the house immigration committee to bar all aliens from the United States temporarily, Representative Johnson of Washington, chairman of the committee, said yesterday. Expiration on March 4 of the passport law, he added, makes it imperative that action be taken to prevent the entry of undesirable immigrants after that time.

If the immigration bill is not enacted before March 4, it will be necessary, in the opinion of Mr. Johnson, to suspend immigration until the matter can be disposed of by congress, probably at a special session which congressional leaders expect to follow the inauguration of President Harding.

Plant Much Wheat in Kansas.

Topeka, Kan., Nov. 27.—While the growers are holding more or less wheat in hope of realizing a profitable price, a canvass just completed by the state board of agriculture shows an area sown to wheat in Kansas this fall probably ranking with the third largest in the history of the state, refutes the charge that there is a "strike" according to a report issued yesterday by J. C. Mobler, secretary of the board.

ZIONISTS APPROVE PALESTINE PROGRAM

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 27.—The Zionist organization of America yesterday approved an extensive program for the industrial, financial and agricultural development of the new homeland for Jews in Palestine. The program was outlined in eight proposals submitted to the delegates at the twenty-third annual convention of the organization by the executive committee, and it was approved with only one important amendment.

The amended proposal related to Palestine investment corporations. The executive committee's original resolution pledged the organization to instigate the formation in all parts of the United States of local Palestine investment corporations, to invest a portion of their capital in the Palestine government loan and in public utilities and financial institutes there.

The amendment provided that official indorsement shall be given preferably to companies that agree to incorporate in their charters provisions that shall favor the employment of Jewish workmen, "and shall seek the avoidance of class conflict by giving the employes a voice in the management of the corporation."

The other proposals indorsed by the convention provided for the immediate solicitation of funds for investment in the development of water power, house building and co-operative producing and consuming enterprises.

One more week remains of the Roll Call of memberships for the Duluth chapter, American Red Cross, and special arrangements are being made at headquarters to receive the flow of membership reports that are expected.

Today is Roll Call day in the business houses of the city and tomorrow and Monday will be Roll Call days for the heads of families.

Memberships have been coming into headquarters during the past three or four days in lots of more than a hundred. It is estimated that at least 70 per cent of the memberships are yet to be reported and the Roll Call managers ask that these reports be made as soon as possible.

From national headquarters the following message came to the Duluth chapter with the request that it be sent to all members:

Red Cross Spirit Lives.

"The spirit of the American Red Cross lives on, in peace as it did in war. As the war job lessened, the Red Cross partially transplanted its efforts from the soldiers, sailors, marines and the sufferers under the mailed hand of war, to those who now suffer in this country from thoughtlessness, the [illegible] of peace.

"The Red Cross Roll Call in your community gives you an opportunity to become a part of the great plan for service which the Red Cross has made and given to this country. Fifty cents of every dollar membership will stay in the local chapter, and with this money the chapter will be able to carry on its peace-time program. Members this year mean support and intelligent understanding of the aims and program of the Red Cross. The Red Cross is not coercing people to join, but does wish people to feel that it is a privilege to belong to the American Red Cross."

for the Democratic nomination in 1921. Nevertheless the plan was abandoned and was never referred to again during the campaign.

Not an Ambitious Man.

As for Senator Harding, the question of a second term enters into many a discussion of the policies of the next administration. Nobody is attributing to the president-elect a desire for a second term, for anybody who knows Warren Harding well would never characterize him as an ambitious man. He is much more concerned with making good in the term for which he has been elected and letting the future take care of itself.

Nevertheless the politicians who think they are going to have a good deal to say about the next administration are already laying lines for the retention of control after the first term shall have been ended. One man who is close to Senator Harding said he felt sure there would be a Harding organization and that it would be folly to ignore political tradition or opportunity by taking any other course after the Republican party had been cooling its heels outside the White House for eight long years. Delegates to national conventions as a rule are either Federal office-holders or former Federal office-holders. The nomination of William Howard Taft in 1908 was accomplished because the Federal office-holders under President Roosevelt were advised to choose Taft. The renomination of Mr. Taft in 1912 was possible because the Federal office-holders and the existent Republican organization were dominant in the regular convention. President Wilson had no difficulty getting a renomination in 1916, and if he had said the word he could have selected the Democratic nominee this year. The McAdoo and Palmer forces constituting two-thirds of the Democratic delegates were largely Federal office-holders or their friends.

Can Easily Get Renomination.

Warren Harding can easily get a renomination in 1924 if he makes even a fair record in the presidency, as the office-holding machinery is all powerful at a national convention. Senator Hiram Johnson intends to put a stop to this influence in national politics. But it would not be surprising to find Senator Harding himself eliminating the personal issue from consideration by making a single term pledge similar to that which Governor Lowden of Illinois gave to Republican leaders at Chicago. There are those who think Senator Harding would get along much better with Hiram Johnson and have much less trouble if the question of a single term for the presidency were disposed of, so that the California senator would feel that he had an equal opportunity to win the nomination in 1924. This is one phase of cabinet making and organization planning which Mr. Harding will find it necessary to settle when he gets back to Marion.

still is a supporter of the organization he fathered.

"It is an organization of decent citizens of all political faiths to preserve order and prevent the recurrence of Bolshevik riots. It is under oath to check revolutionary movements, whether they start from the extreme radicals or the extreme conservatives."

"How many members has the einwohnerwehr?" he was asked.

Organization Loose.

"Possibly 200,000," he answered, "and probably many less than that figure, as the organization is very loose and members are constantly joining and resigning."

"Are there any parts of Bavaria where the einwohnerwehr does not exist?"

"No," replied he. "Citizens have organized generally. Each village or farming community elects its own leader, who frequently has had no military training. Community leaders elect county leaders, who in turn elect provincial leaders. These have elected Herr Escherich as head of the organization throughout Bavaria. It is a sort of volunteer fire department which stands ready to meet emergencies which arise and threaten the public peace."

When asked about rumors that the einwohnerwehr has a general staff and that such officers as Gen. Ludendorff, formerly chief in command of German armies in France, are assisting in its direction, President von Kahr said such reports were "absolutely foolish."

"The einwohnerwehr," he continued, "is not a military organization in the usual sense of the term, but merely a home guard of civilians under military men, many of whom are over or under military age and are physically unfit for military service."

Ludendorff Not Member.

He declared reports that Gen. Ludendorff was a member of the general staff probably arose from the fact that he joined the einwohnerwehr at Ludwigshoehe, a suburb of Munich, where he lives, and he carried a rifle on guard duty just the same as other citizens determined to keep the peace.

Asked if he believed the Entente would insist that the einwohnerwehr be disbanded on Jan. 1, when Germany's military strength, under the Versailles treaty, must be reduced to 100,000 men, President von Kahr replied:

"Not if the Entente thoroughly understands the nature of the organization. With the reduction of the regular army, the need for the einwohnerwehr will be all the greater. Bavaria and all Germany must have order and peace if they are to meet the financial demands of the Entente. How can we work and restore our ruined industries if a small Bolshevik minority is allowed to foment disorder and breed unrest in Germany? The Bolsheviki are trying to extend disorder throughout the civilized world hoping to create a world revolution."

In response to a question regarding the actual numerical strength of the communistic and other factions of the extreme left which is opposing the einwohnerwehr, he replied:

He explained that communists outside of Bavaria are helping local communists in the campaign against law and order organizations by misrepresenting them as being monarchical in their aims and trying to create suspicion in Entente circles.

ASSEMBLY MAY FINISH NEXT WEEK

supply the necessary military assistance to put Armenia on her feet.

While refusing to name the number of troops necessary, Lord Robert stated it would be easy to obtain a volunteer force composed of Armenians and the nationals of neighboring states.

"The Armenian question," he explained, "resolves itself largely into whether there is any government or people in the world caring enough about Armenia to furnish the necessary money for the work."

Turkish Treaty.

The South African delegate avoided the question of a possible revision of the Turkish treaty as a means for serving Armenia. He believed that subject was being taken up by the assembly. After declaring the work of the assembly extraordinarily successful, Lord Robert continued:

"No one foresaw that the assembly would become a corporate body with real life in it.

"I think the assembly will do something of great value. It will accept the international court of justice, will pass on the admission of members, and it will review the present international situation and the work of the council. Not the least encouraging symptom is that the assembly is taking things seriously."

Lord Robert expressed the hope that there would be one woman on each delegation, but said this was not possible for the first sessions. He indicated that the assembly would make no change in the duration of mandates.

Henricksen Recovering.

A. L. Henricksen, victim of the ammonia and also the butt of the bandit's gun, is recovering at St. Luke's hospital. He was able to give a fairly accurate description of the diamonds stolen. There were eleven stones taken, ranging in weight from a half to one and a half carats, with a total valuation of about $2,300. The valuation set yesterday was much in excess of this amount because the clerks were uncertain how many of the jewels had been taken out of the vault. Mr. Henricksen stated today that he had only shown the man a small portion of the stock.

Members of the Minnesota National Guard were called into service to aid the police last night. The entire detachment was sworn in on special duty. Under the direction of Captain L. G. Moerke a number were sent to guard the hillside districts, while others watched street cars and trains in an effort to apprehend the robbers.

"The men who held up the store had every appearance of being well educated," said Mr. Blomstrom this morning. "The man I waited on and showed several high class watches, had a polished manner and spoke very good English.

"The other man was in the store last Saturday morning and looked at diamonds. Mr. Henricksen waited on him and showed him many stones. I remember that Mr. Henricksen said after this man had gone that his customer would be back. The robbers evidently chose yesterday on account of it following a holiday and at an hour when business would probably be lightest."

LOST DIAMOND MINES REPORTED AS FOUND

Mexico City, Nov. 27.—The legendary diamond mines in the state of Guerrero, which, ever since the days of Emperor Iturbide, have been sought for by the curious, are again the subject of animated discussion here. A well-known Mexican geologist recently returned from a tour of exploration of the state and, according to the newspapers, asserted he had located the lost mines. Exploring parties are now said to be in the process of organization.

Gen. Guerrero, after whom the state was named, is credited with having discovered the diamonds more than 100 years ago, presenting to Emperor Iturbide numerous gems of immense value. The general died, however, without disclosing the location of the treasure. The wild regions of that sparsely populated state have from time to time been explored in an effort to find the mines.

ROAD TRAVELED BY LINCOLN TO BE MARKED

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 27.—Monumental posts are soon to be erected in eighteen counties in Central Illinois to mark the road traveled by Abraham Lincoln in 1847 when he was most actively engaged in the practice of law.

In those days Lincoln and other lawyers of the vicinity traveled with the court, then Judge David Davis, over what was known as the Eighth Judicial circuit. Horses and buggies were used, it taking sometimes more than a day to travel from one courthouse to another.

The monuments will be erected on the county lines and boulder markers will also be erected in each county seat where Judge Davis held court.

The work has been promoted by an organization formed for the purpose called the Lincoln Circuit Marking association.

Court Meets at Night.

Philadelphia, Nov. 27.—To give working men and women a chance to present their domestic troubles to court without losing time and part of their wages, Judge Brown of the municipal court held a night session of the domestic relations branch of the court last night. This innovation will be continued every Friday night.

WEST END

SURVEY OF P. O. SERVICE

Inspectors Would Learn Needs of West End Residents.

Postal inspectors are now engaged in a survey of West end conditions to determine what recommendations should be made to the postoffice department at Washington in regard to the establishing of a branch postoffice in that part of the city. John J. Moe asked the postoffice this week to be relieved of the branch office maintained in his store. His request will be granted, and a recommendation for future action will be made within about ten days, Postmaster Thomas F. Considine said today.

"I know that there is considerable talk about the necessity of a postoffice building in the West end," said Mr. Considine, "but I believe that the merits of the proposition are not fully understood. It would be well if West end residents were to know exactly what alternatives are open to the government.

"We can do three things. We may establish a carrier classified branch, or we may open a finance classified branch, or we may again arrange for a contract branch such as we have at Moe's store."

Carrier Classified Branch.

The carrier classified branch, Mr. Considine said, is probably impractical for the West end. It would necessitate double handling of the mails, first at the downtown station and later in the West end, with consequent delay in delivery. In the winter, such an arrangement would be particularly burdensome since carriers would have almost their entire afternoon mail delivery to distribute after dark. A similar carrier classified branch was begun at Lakeside some time ago, and had to be abandoned for the same reason.

A finance classified branch, the second alternative, would necessitate the government's renting a place and placing at least two men in charge. Facilities would be provided for selling stamps, registering letters and leaving mail. The cost of such a place, however, would amount to at least several thousand dollars a year.

The contract branch, however, is the most economical of all, Mr. Considine said. He added that it should prove profitable to stores in the West end also, since it draws trade to the store where it is located.

NO GUARDS IN MANY STATES

Fourteen Have No National Guard Organizations, Says Report.

Washington, Nov., 27.—Fourteen states had no National Guard troops recognized by the Federal government on June 30, according to the annual report of Maj. Gen. Jesse Carter, chief of the militia bureau, made public yesterday.

The recognized units of the guard had a total strength of 56,100 officers and men at the end of the fiscal year, the report said, against an authorized strength of 106,300, great difficulty having been encountered in obtaining recruits during the year. Gen. Carter noted general public antipathy toward military affairs as among influences against which the re-organization of the guard was proceeding. Discontent with the National Guard service, he added, had been fostered by "tales of unfair treatment during the war, spread by men with grievances, many of which found their way into the public press."

Not Substantiated.

Such complaints, Gen. Carter said, could not be substantiated on investigation.

"There is conclusive proof," he continued, "that National Guard officers were not, as a class, discriminated against by regular officers. Individual cases of injustice have been cited by members of congress and of the National Guard to make it appear that unjust discrimination existed generally. As a general rule, National Guard officers were treated with more consideration than were regular officers under the same conditions.

"The hostility generated by these complaints has nearly disappeared, but undoubtedly it has done much to retard reorganization."

Causes which retard recruiting have been gradually overcome, with the result that in June more than 5,700 new men were obtained, the report said.

Jealousies Arose.

Jealousies between National Guard units returned from overseas and those organized as home forces during the war have arisen, the report said, the latter wishing to continue as guard troops and retain possession of the armories. Steps to remedy this situation are being taken, Gen. Carter said.

"The situation of the engineering branch of the guard was "far from encouraging, throughout the year," the report said. One reason ascribed was that "the extraordinary amount of manual labor required of the engineers' organizations in the A. E. F. makes this branch unpopular among men eligible for admission."

APPEARS AT THE ZELDA TODAY

LOUISE GLAUM.

Miss Glaum will come to the Zelda theater this afternoon for an engagement in "Love Madness," a photoplay produced from the scenario of C. Gardner Sullivan.

TEACHING OF ILLITERATES

Are Getting the Fundamentals of Citizenship as Soldiers.

Camp Dix, N. J., Nov., 21.—Thirty teachers are in charge of the Camp Dix school where the illiterate and aliens are getting the fundamentals of citizenship as soldiers.

"Tall. Short. See, this man is tall; this man is short. I write the words on the blackboard. Tall—that is for this man. Short—that is for this one."

Suiting the action to the word, the teacher points first to a six-footer standing beside him, then writes the word "tall;" then points to a chunky youth, measuring four feet six, and writes the word, "short."

The class shuffles its feet, squirms in its chairs and laboriously pencils the queer looking words in note books. And when this class shuffles its feet it means more than the shuffling in the ordinary school room, for this is one of the rooms of the recruit educational center, and the students range from the sturdy lads of Europe to the raw-boned huskies of the western part of the United States. In age they run from 18 to 45 years and in education from zero to the heights. But those with god education acquired that education in another language and have no English at their command, and those who know English have no education.

To Equalize Education.

Uncle Sam, in the person of the war department, has undertaken to equalize their education, as it were. The draft disclosed that 24.9 per cent of the men called to the colors could not read a newspaper or write a letter. Most of them were well equipped with natural intelligence, but lacking in education. This figure applied to both native and foreign born. Efforts were made then, in a rather groping way, to rectify this. That modest start has developed into the school now at Camp Dix, which was recently moved from Camp Upton, N. Y., and five others at Camp Lewis, Washington; Camp Travis, Texas; Camp Pike, Arkansas; Camp Jackson, South Carolina and Camp Grant, Illinois, all modeled on the one at Camp Dix, which was the orginal.

The Camp Dix school is under the direction of Prescott Lecky, of Richmond, Va. Maj. F. H. Burr is military commandant of the school, which occupies eighteen buildings and houses 1,800 students. Capt. Louis T. Byrne is the executive officer. The students are all regularly enlisted in the army, but during their stay in the school are known as "recruits," not privates. They have military drill three hours a day and study classes three hours a day for five days a week. Reading, writing and public speaking are taught daily. Twice a week there is group singing in the Liberty theater. The words of the song are thrown upon a screen and read aloud by an instructor, who points to each word as he pronounces it, after which the recruits sing the song.

DIGNITY FOR POLICE FORCE

No More 'Bills' and 'Jacks;' Must Salute and Use Titles.

Discipline and respect for superior officers is to be demanded of the officers of the Duluth police department, according to the bulletin posted today by order of Chief of Police Warren E. Pugh. Calling superior officers by their Christian names when on duty will be discontinued, says the order.

The order follows:

"Reports of officers indicate a great deal of laxity on behalf of members of this department with reference to discipline and proper respect for order from superior authority. Too much emphasis cannot be placed upon the necessity for prompt obedience. Lieutenants and sergeants will be held strictly responsible for the discipline and conduct of the men working under them and their orders must be explicitly complied with.

Discipline to Be Enforced.

"They will take such action as they deem necessary to correct minor infractions or regulations and will, in flagrant cases or where there are repeated infractions, report the case to their immediate commanding officer, who will forward the report with his recommendation to the captain of police. Lieutenants and sergeants will receive the support of this office in the action taken.

"When in uniform and on the street, officers will, upon meeting, greet each other with the military hand salute. All officers of superior rank will be saluted by subordinates and return the salute.

CLOQUET JOTTINGS.

Cloquet, Minn., Nov., 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Work is being rushed on the new buildings being erected by the Standard Oil company.

There will be a warehouse, an office and a garage which are all frame buildings. The tanks are three in number and the capacity of each is 16,000 gallons. Two of these are to be used for gasoline and the other will be used for oil.

Mrs. Emma Smith celebrated her eighty-first birthday anniversary Monday afternoon by entertaining a number of her friends at the home of her son, H. O. Smith.

BOARD OF APPRAISAL WILL HEAR IMPORTERS' COMPLAINTS

Complaints of importers who object to duties levied by the customs service, will be heard by a member of the general appraisal board who will visit Duluth on Dec. 13.

The Woodward-Newhouse company and Hallet & Carey company are plaintiffs in cases involving screenings. Importation of wood figures in two cases brought by the Apex Lumber company and the United Railway Customs bureau. The Duluth Creamery & Produce company charges that a clerical error was made in an assessment on one of their importations.

New Low for Flour.

WHY RUSH HOUR SERVICE NEVER PAYS

Car crews are allowed a minimum of 3 hours' pay for extra trips. Their wages average $3.15 for a rush hour extra trip. Fifteen per cent of fares collected are transfers.

It therefore takes a load of 74 passengers, 48 seated and 26 standing, to pay the wages of the car crew alone.

The income from the passengers carried in excess of 74 must pay the wages of shopmen, trackmen, office force, linemen; the cost of power, wear and tear, etc.; and the taxes, interest, insurance and depreciation on the investment in extra facilities used only at rush hours—and the balance—

There IS no balance. Crowded rush hour extras operate at a heavy loss.

ON THE IRON RANGES

RANGE BOYS WIN HONORS

Two Nashwauk Boy Scouts Win in National Essay Contest.

Nashwauk, Minn., Nov. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Nashwauk people are justly proud of their Boy Scout troop organized over two years ago by Arthur J. Souba, then school agriculturalist now assistant in plant pathology and botany, University of Minnesota. Every citizen supports the troop as does the village board, school board and other local organizations.

High honors have come to the local boys' organization as a result of the decision rendered recently by the National Board of Fire Insurance Underwriters to whom was submitted essays written by Boy Scouts all over the country upon the question of fire prevention, as Howard Caddy and Elmer Pappala, local boys, are listed among the seventy-eight national prize winners and carried off honors in competition with all parts of this state. Caddy was given first place and Pappala second. Mr. Souba furnishes the following description of the two boys:

"Howard F. Caddy is a small dark complected boy of American family, 14 years old and a sophomore in the Nashwauk high school. He is true American and looks at life in a serious manner, yet having enough boyishness in him to enjoy and get the most out of a hike or camping trip. He is a first-class scout and a first-class outdoor sport. He wears several merit badges as well as a gold medal for being the best orator of independent school district No. 9, Itasca county. He has been a member of the State Boys' Potato club, which won fifth place in the state in 1919. He also was honor student when graduating into high school.

"Elmer Pappala is the oldest son of a large Finnish family, of moderate means. He is 14 years old and a freshman in high school. He is a bright boy, full of life. He loves nature, spending much of his spare time, scouting, swimming and fishing speckled trout in season. He knows the habits and understands the best methods of catching them. He is an excellent athlete, taking part in all high school sports. He is a second class Boy Scout."

Caddy's Essay.

Howard Caddy's essay, which won first prize, purports to give a discussion of fire prevention between "a brown clad sunbrowned boy" and an old fire captain, in which the boy tells the fire fighter what the scoutmaster had related to his troop of the awful toll taken in the United States yearly by fire.

The fire captain asks the boy for his proposed method of preventing fires and this the youth does in a terse, entertaining style, emphasizing carelessness in allowing children to have matches, in not putting out fires and careless smokers throwing lighted smokes among inflammables as the chief causes. Young Caddy then goes on to tell some of the "Don'ts" a good Boy Scout will follow in fire prevention. The danger in allowing children to play around fires in pointed out, while the boy essayist points out the need for a nation-wide education by various organizations to "stimulate the public sentiment to demand national and state legislation to improve present conditions."

Fighting Forest Fires.

The old fire fighter praises the boy's description, then the latter asks him to tell something of his experiences as a forest ranger, especially during the great Moose Lake-Cloquet disaster of two years ago. The veteran's description of a forest ranger's duties, which covers the two concluding paragraphs of the essay, is well worth reprinting. It follows:

"Yes, my son, gladly would I tell you, only I care not to look back upon those terrible days. To a forest ranger the fire is a cruel, powerful and ever-present enemy whose methods of attack he must well understand to successfully combat it. To understand what a forest ranger endures is impossible unless we are with him. First he can make a backfire at the foot of a slope about one-half mile ahead and also make a firebreak by raking the leaves and litter for a space along the ridge. Roads and clearings may be used as firebreaks. The state should plant clover in forests and cut-over lands to prevent the growth of brush and weeds, which are good food for running fires. Telephones should be placed in the homes of settlers so that help can be summoned in case of need, and the employment of more forest rangers during the dry seasons. The most important forest fire preventative is for every one to be a forest ranger and extinguish every fire which is noticed in the peat bogs, hollow logs and on the ties of railroad tracks. People should be especially alert in the dry seasons for fires and also remember that the larger a fire gets the hotter it is and the faster it travels.

"Suddenly the fire bell rang and the horses and men moved almost automatically to their places and off went the hook and ladders. The old captain swayed too and fro on the wagon as the brown-clad lad ran to the scene of the fire."

GENERALLY CLOUDY; RAIN OR SNOW

The cloudy weather conditions still prevail, but as long as the temperature is moderate, as it has been for the last two weeks, no one is disposed to complain. Even the prospect or rain or snow fails to dampen the enthusiasm of the coal consumer. This morning the sun rose at 7:29 o'clock and will set at 4:23 o'clock tonight, giving eight hours and fifty-five minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Low pressure areas centered over the Gulf of Mexico and Alberta have caused rains in Gulf states, Oklahoma, East Kansas and West Missouri, and rain or snow in Iowa, Wisconsin, Upper Michigan, Minnesota and most of the region west of the Rockies except in South California and Arizona. Rainfalls somewhat in excess of 1 inch occurred in Louisiana and along the Texas coast. The barometer is high over North Atlantic states and off the Oregon coast. The twenty-four-hour temperature changes were mostly slight except for a turn to colder in New Mexico and the Texas Panhandle, freezing weather also prevailing in those sections this morning."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, Nov. 27.—Forecasts for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Sunday:

Minnesota—Rain or snow probable tonight and Sunday; warmer in south and west portions tonight.

Wisconsin—Light rain or snow probable tonight and Sunday; rising temperature.

North Dakota—Unsettled weather tonight and Sunday with possibly rain or snow; warmer in east portion tonight; colder Sunday and in northwest portion tonight.

Upper Lakes—Moderate to fresh south winds; unsettled weather with snow or rain tonight and Thursday.

LOCAL FORECAST

For Duluth and vicinity: Generally cloudy, probably rain or snow tonight and Sunday. Lowest temperature tonight near 30 deg. at Duluth, Superior and Two Harbors, and 25 to 30 deg. inland and on the iron ranges. Moderate to fresh winds, mostly southerly.

DEATH CAR DRIVER NOW BEING SOUGHT

Virginia, Minn., Nov. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Search continues for the unknown driver of the automobile that, Thanksgiving day about 4 p. m., struck Lavinia McKenzie, 8, daughter of Duncan McKenzie, as she was skiing with Margaret McCabe on Thirteenth street near the McKenzie home, injuring her so seriously that death resulted soon after at her home, where she was taken by Ernest Murray, who happened to be passing. It is believed that the driver and others in the car, after realizing what they had done, speeded away, leaving their victim dying. Efforts are being made to find a car at other points corresponding with the one that crushed the life out of the little girl.

Rev. Charles Ramshaw of Morgan Park, former local pastor, will conduct funeral services at the child's home at 2 p. m. Monday.

Death Car Studebaker.

It is said the car which struck the little girl was a large Studebaker and was well loaded with men and boys. A man was driving and in the same seat was a boy. In the back seat were three or four others. The car approached from the Higgins location and the accident occurred somewhat beyond the Alpena crossing. It does not seem possible that the car skidded.

Lavinia, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan McKenzie, was enjoying her Thanksgiving holiday, and, after finishing dinner, went out for an afternoon's skiing with Margaret McCabe. According to all accounts, the children were not in the road, the tracks of the car showing that it swerved out of the right-of-way.

John Kishel, arrested for driving while intoxicated, was closely questioned regarding his movements Thursday, but disclaimed any knowledge of the death of the little girl until yesterday morning.

HAS GOOD APPETITE AND GAINS WEIGHT
"It didn't seem possible that anyone could lose strength as rapidly as I did during an attack of influenza," says Mrs. F. L. Richardson, who lives at No. 508 South 21st street, Tacoma, Wash. "I lost flesh and was completely run down. I did not have any ambition and was tired all the time. I had no appetite and what little I ate disagreed with me and caused pain. No matter how tired I was I could not sleep well. I became very nervous and suffered from headaches. I tried several medicines to build up my system but they didn't help me.
"Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were recommended to me one day and I decided to try them. After taking one box of pills I felt a little better so I kept on with the treatment. Soon my ambition returned and I had a better appetite. It was not long before I regained my strength. My color is good now, I sleep well and no longer have headaches or nervous spells. I shall always use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills when I need a tonic and strongly recommend them to others."
Influenza leaves the blood thin and there is no way of correcting the weakness and general debility which ensue except by building up the blood. As soon as the revitalized blood courses through the system you are aware of its soothing, strengthening influence. Gradually the color comes back to the cheeks, food tastes good and is readily digested, and starved nerves become strong again.
Write today to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for the free booklet "Building Up the Blood." Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 60 cents per box.

STOLEN AUTOS RECOVERED: THIEVES STILL AT LARGE

Three automobiles were stolen since Thursday evening, all of which have been recovered by the police. The thieves who took the cars for joyriding purposes are still at large.

L. B. Hackett reported at 8:45 o'clock last evening that his Buick had been stolen from in front of St. Luke's hospital. The car was found this morning on Twelfth street between Lake and First avenue east. A package containing aluminum ware was missing.

A Maxwell car belonging to Dr. H. Hovde was stolen at 7 o'clock last evening but recovered about three hours later. The car belonging to Anton Tylenski, stolen from 13 First avenue east Thursday evening, was recovered yesterday stuck in mud about a mile from the end of the Duluth Heights street car line.

STOLEN CASH BOX FOUND: LOSS IN ROBBERY BUT $50

The iron cash box stolen from the safe of the Hunter's Park Mercantile company after the safe had been cracked by burglars Thursday night was found yesterday afternoon on the boulevard near the Twin Lakes and turned over to the police department. The box was found with all cash taken but still containing a large number of checks. Upon checking up the losses the proprietor found but one check missing. The actual loss from the robbery was about $50.

The missing check is one cashed for an employe of the Marshall-Wells company amounting to $80. Other checks, which the manager of the store had not counted on, were found in the box, bringing the loss down to about half of what was estimated yesterday morning.

ARMY ATHIRST FOR NAVY BLOOD

New York, Nov. 27.—The football supremacy of the United States army and navy was at stake today in the twenty-third annual game between the elevens from West Point and Annapolis.

New York was the neutral host to the thousands of intensely partisan supporters of the Army gray and the Navy blue. Nearly 50,000 persons had tickets for the battle ground at the Polo grounds and many thousands more tried in vain for admission. Comparatively few of the coveted pasteboards got into the hands of the speculators and these brought fabulous prices.

Almost over night the city became the center of officialdom in the service. Secretary of War Baker and Secretary of the Navy Daniels officially headed the rival factions. Generals, admirals and lesser lights all the way down to plain buck privates and gobs thronged hotel lobbies, smart clubs and other gathering places. Diplomatic Washington sent its quota of representatives and the society of the country was out in force. One of the ticket holders was a distinguished French general—Robert Georges Nivelle, "the savior of Verdun." Gen. Pershing was a box holder.

Teams Evenly Matched.

The future generals and admirals of the nation, the gray clad cadets from up-the-Hudson and the trim middies in blue from Maryland came to town in special trains, headed by their bands and mascots—the mule and goat, respectively.

Bustling New York, struck by the brilliant pre-game spectacle, caught something of the spirit of the traditions involved in this class contest and the colors of the rival academies were everywhere to be seen in the hotel and theatrical districts. Ticket holders went to the Polo grounds early to see the impressive march around the field by the student bodies of the institutions.

The opposing teams were in comparative seclusion during the morning hours. Both Coach Bob Folwell of the Navy and Maj. Charles Daly of the Army expressed confidence in victory on behalf of their teams. To impartial observers the elevens seemed to be fairly evenly matched, with the Navy ruling a slight favorite among the betting gentry.

A victory for the Annapolis players will even up the standing of the two academies, for, of the twenty-two games played, the Army has won eleven and the Navy ten, with one game ending in a 6-to-6 tie.

Middies Off for Battle.

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 27.—Long before the delivery of the milk and morning papers in this staid old town today the 2,000 odd midshipmen were astir preparing to move on New York to cheer their champions to victory in the annual service football match with the Army this afternoon. No thought of defeat was in their minds.

Breakfast over, the regiment entrained for the metropolis, the last of the four specials getting away at 5:30 o'clock.

EVERS WAS ASKED TO PILOT GIANTS

Gotham Scribe Believes Jawn Will Soon Leave Cubs.

Chicago, Nov. 27.—New York cannot get over its baseball vanity. Read what was written recently by a Gotham scribe:

"Evers, in accepting the management of the Cubs, has passed up the prize job of baseball—pilot of the New York Giants. Johnny was being groomed for that position, and Manager McGraw had this in mind when he picked him to succeed Christy Mathewson as line coach of the Gotham gang. Not that McGraw has any intention of immediate retirement, as he prefers to top his sensational career with a winner. But the plan was to carry Evers until Mac decided to lay aside the cares of active management. However, there is a possibility that Evers has been allowed to go to Chicago to exercise and develop his managerial gifts, and later will be recalled to New York."

Evers Is Here to Stay.

From this one would gain the impression that Chicago is only a training ground for managers and that New York is the only real town in which ball players of brains and skill desire to manage. They have another "think" coming in the East if they believe Evers is merely here to develop his managerial talents. He is here to stay if he makes good. The lure of New York here will not drag him out of this town if he gets away on the right foot. His friends here think he will, after the rest and experience he has had under McGraw.

There is a lot of sentiment connected with Evers' appointment. The former king of second basemen was nearly heart-broken when Charlie Murphy let him go at the end of the 1913 season. He had started his major league career on the West side, had learned to love the town and its people so well that he had planned to finish his baseball days here. Even after he left and went to Boston, he counted on the time when he would return to Chicago, and when the opportunity came, he fairly jumped at it. He gave President Veeck no chance to change his mind.

Wants to End Days Here.

Early last year when it was apparent Fred Mitchell was not getting along with his players, Evers remarked to the writer in New York that he would like to go back to Chicago, and that if he ever did get back, he would finish his days there. With Evers feeling that way there is no possibility that Manager McGraw let him come here to exercise his managerial abilities before being recalled to New York.

Evers will be in Chicago some time next week. He has written to Dan Cahill, a Cub booster, that he will come here immediately after Thanksgiving to renew old acquaintances and to prepare for the big banquet the Cub fans are to give him Dec. 7 at the La Salle hotel. Evers returned from Cuba last week to see the Yale-Harvard game. He has not missed one in years, and did not want to let this season's contest escape him. Besides he had promised to take his son, Jack, who is attending a military school in the East.

YANKS SIGN UP STAR INFIELDER

Pacific Coast League Head Says Mitchell Is Find.

New York, Nov. 27.—The New York Yankees will pick up in Johnny Mitchell, one of the finest young shortstops that ever came out of the West if William H. McCarthy, president of the Pacific coast league, is any kind of a critic and judge of ball players. Mr. McCarthy says that Mitchell is a finished infield star right now, and better than Charley Hollocher and Dave Bancroft were when they came from the same circuit.

"Mitchell is a wonderful fielder and a wonderful thrower," said the coast league president yesterday. "He is easily the class of our circuit, and we have a lot of good ones. Some baseball men seem to feel that he may not hit against big league pitching, but I am not one of them. He batted .300 in 1919 and more than .270 last year. He was working against pitchers who had been in the big leagues or were on their way there, and I want to tell you that the coast league pitching is mighty good. The Vernon club, as leaders in the league, always drew the best pitching strength from other clubs when they faced them. This would make Mitchell's showing all the more creditable. I think that he will hit well over .250 with the Yankees, and when you see his infielding, there will be no cause for complaint."

No Place for Him.

Quite a boost. The only thing that is troubling Huggins and his Yankee counsellors just now is where to play this brilliant young star provided he makes good at the training camp in the spring. Aaron Ward is a fixture at third base, Roger Peckinpaugh's brilliancy shows no sign of dimming at short field, and, despite assertions to the contrary, old timers all believe that Del Pratt will be back on the job at second base when the bell rings. With these sterling performers at work it may mean that Mr. Mitchell will have to spend a year on the bench or at utility infielding. And besides him Huggins has Wilson Fewster and Bob Meusel, who can take care of infield positions when needed.

It looks as though the Yanks are going to have a surplus of infield material and a scarcity in the outfield, for it is an open secret that Lewis, Bodie and Vick are all on the market and that Huggins aims to get in exchange a good southpaw hitter and lead-off man who can play the infield with some speed if possible.

Some folks think that Harry Hooper of the Red Sox may be the man, or Nemo Liebold of the White Sox. The Yanks and White Sox ought to be able to rig up some kind of a deal, for the Chicago team is in sore need of infielders.

No Truth in Report.

Garry Herrmann says there isn't any truth in the story that four of his stars—Groh, Ruether, Neale and Kopf—are to go to Chicago in exchange for Alexander and Hollocher and other Cubs, but he does say that he has deals pending.

Charles H. Ebbets knows upon which side of his bread there are large lumps of butter. He had a conference with the Yankee owners the other day and when he found that they were averse to going again to Florida for a training trip, he canceled his own option on Miami and declared that he would stick close to the train that totes Babe Ruth's big bat bag. So Ed Barrow, when he goes to Louisiana and Texas, will look out for a training camp for the Robins right near the Yankees, so that the teams may play their usual spring games together. Col. Ebbets knows there will be bundles of gate receipts wherever Ruth shows next spring, and he wants to get his share. Who of the magnates can blame him?

GOPHER FOOTBALL MEN AWARDED "M"

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 27.—Twenty-three members of the 1920 University of Minnesota football squad have been awarded M's by the athletic board of control, it was announced today. The annual banquet of the Gopher gridiron men will be held here Dec. 8, when a captain to lead the 1921 eleven will be selected.

Those awarded M's are Capt. Arntson, Brown, Clement, Cole, Dvorak, Eckberg, Enke, Fraser, Gruye, Millen, McLaury, McClintock, Noland, Oss, O'Brien, Regnier, Ruben, Larson, Teberg, Tierney, Weblen, Gilstad and Atwood.

Giant Star Signs.

New York, Nov. 27.—Frank Frisch, star third baseman of the New York National league team, has signed a 1921 contract, Manager McGraw announced today. Frisch will be shifted to second base next season if Rapp, the infielder purchased by the Giants from St. Paul of the American association, makes good at third base.

CORNELL GETS READY TO SAIL

American Runners Will Meet British in England Dec. 27.

Ithaca, N. Y., Nov. 27.—Refreshed by a few days rest after a rather strenuous eight weeks of training which culminated last Saturday in their winning the intercollegiate cross country championship, Cornell's harriers were called out again today by Coach Jack Moakley and practice for the coming cross country meet in England with a team of Oxford and Cambridge stars is under way.

A team of seven Cornellians in charge of Coach Moakley will sail from New York on Dec. 14 on the Aquitania to meet the representative runners of the two great English universities on the course of the Thames Hare and Hounds club at Roehampton, near London, England, on Dec. 27.

Although the race was not arranged as an international meeting, but as a courtesy to Cornellians, in appreciation of the hospitality extended last spring by the university community to the Oxford and Cambridge athletes who came over to compete in the Pennsylvania relay carnival, Cornell's recent victory in the intercollegiate championship race gives to the coming meeting the flavor of a contest between the champion college distance runners of the two countries. By winning at New Haven last Saturday the Cornellian's won the right to be classified as truly representative of the best of contemporaneous American college distance runners.

England Features Runners.

England, he said today, has been the mother of this great sport. In England it has been developed into a national pastime. Valuable lessons are to be learned from this competition with the English runners in their own sport on their native heath, lessons that will inure to the benefit not only of the Cornellians who will take part in the race, but to American cross country running generally.

The Cornell squad now training for this meet is composed of the seven men who ran in the championship race at New Haven, McDermott, N. P. Brown, R. E. Brown, Bonsal, Irish, Dickinson and Lentz, and four others, Carter, Richman, Ward and Morrison, who have been among the leaders in the trials here this fall.

Using Special Race Course.

In order to familiarize the Cornellians with the type of course they will cover in England, a special practice course was laid out here this fall with the assistance of Ellis Schutt, Cornell '05, a former Rhodes scholar and one-time varsity cross country runner at Oxford. The course about Ithaca is admirably adapted for such cross country running as the English pursue, including water jumps, ditches, fences, hill and dale, grass land plowed land, etc. The Cornell runners have gone over this course on several occasions during their fall training.

In addition, a steeple chase course of about three miles was laid out for the interscholastic race this fall, containing water jumps, fences, ditches, rough land, etc. On account of the short afternoons and early darkness it will not be feasible to use the longer course to any extent except perhaps on Saturdays, so Coach Moakley will send his men around this shorter steeple chase course for two or more laps as the basis of daily practice.

BADGERS WILL HAVE BUSY SPORTS YEAR

Madison, Wis., Nov. 27.—Minor sports at the university are starting their season again with large squads reporting for practically all events. Schedules will soon be arranged with other conference schools for events to be held during the winter months and into next spring, it was announced.

Wrestlers and swimmers reported this past week. Few veterans put in an appearance, but both coaches are expecting to develop good teams. Coach J. C. Steinauer has only M. J. Bach of Milwaukee and J. W. Kech of Milwaukee as veterans around which to build his swimming team, but is counting on a number of other tank men later on in the season. Their first meet is against Milwaukee Athletic club on Dec. 17.

Forty wrestlers were on hand for the first tryouts under their new coach, C. H. Hitchcock of Omaha, Neb., protege of Farmer Burns, who has come to the university this year as an engineering instructor and wrestling coach. Only two veterans are among this number, Ivan H. Peterman of Cecil and L. Glenn Culvor of Eau Claire. Coach Hitchcock will round out a team from this material in time for the first meet which is to be held against Lawrence on Dec. 1.

MORE GAMES IN BIG TEN

Coaches Will Ask Faculty Committee to Approve Longer Schedule.

Chicago, Nov. 27.—Requests for a longer playing schedule for Western conference football teams will be presented to the faculty committee, which meets here in annual session Dec. 1, according to reports today. Several of the Big Ten coaches are said to favor a nine-game schedule instead of seven, as at present, adding perhaps two preliminary contests to fit the elevens for the important battles late in the season.

The increased interest taken in the Big Ten games is shown by the big increase in receipts this year at many of the colleges, advocates of the longer season declare. Chicago and Northwestern showed greatly increased receipts over any previous year, and Ohio State and Illinois are planning vast new stadiums.

Increases Receipts.

The reduction of football interest in 1905-1906 led the conference committee to cut the schedule to five games, but some years later this schedule was changed to seven. Coaches who favor the longer schedule point out that many teams are inclined to schedule as many as four games away from the home grounds, generally with teams of great drawing power. This inclination to play games which are assured of heavy receipts, some of the coaches declare, works a hardship on the home rooters, who would receive the chief benefit of a longer schedule.

Another great advantage, it was asserted, would come to the weaker elevens of the Big Ten through the additional practice games, as they would not be called upon to face the stronger teams so early in their season, with the elimination from the championship race almost certain.

NO INVESTIGATION OF AUTO ACCIDENT

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 27.—Certificates of accidental death were issued from the coroner's office here yesterday in the cases of Gaston Chevrolet and Eddie O'Donnell, automobile race drivers, and Lyall Jolls, mechanician, killed in Thursday's 250-mile championship race on the Los Angeles speedway.

It was stated no inquest was considered necessary and no official investigation of the accident would be conducted by the coroner's office. Officials of the Los Angeles Speedway association stated the deaths would not halt future racing events. The deaths of Chevrolet and Jolls, who was O'Donnell's mechanician, came almost immediately after the crash between Chevrolet's and O'Donnell's cars. O'Donnell died in a hospital early yesterday, about sixteen hours after the accident. He did not regain consciousness.

The body of Chevrolet will be taken to Indianapolis for burial.

A. S. Duesenberg, head of O'Donnell's racing team, announced last night that plans for O'Donnell's funeral depended on the wishes of his parents, who reside in Whitewater, Wis. He said the widow was willing to have the burial here, but had telegraphed O'Donnell's parents to learn their wishes.

Duesenberg said he would take Joll's body to Detroit, the home of the mechanician's parents, for burial, and would leave here probably on Sunday.

FIGHTS TO DRAW; TOLD MOTHER DEAD

Eau Claire, Wis., Nov. 27.—Buddy McDonald of St. Paul and Lester White of Eau Claire fought ten rounds to a draw here last night. After finishing the fight White was handed a message saying his mother died in Oshkosh, Wis.

In the semi-finals Tommy Wyandot of Menomonie, Wis., and Fred Brick of Chippewa Falls fought eight rounds to a draw.

Receipts Increase.

Chicago, Nov. 27.—Receipts of the four football games at Northwestern university this season totaled $60,000, an increase of 33 1-3 per cent over 1919, Dana Evans, director of athletics, announced. The Notre Dame-Northwestern game, the biggest of the season, drew $16,000 and the Minnesota-Northwestern game $10,000.

FIFTY MEN ON GOPHER SQUAD

Oss and Arntson Will Probably Start at Forward Positions.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 27.—Basket ball will get well under way at the University of Minnesota next week when the members of the football squad are due to report to Dr. L. J. Cook, basket ball coach.

Capt. Oss, Arntson, Enke, veterans of last season's team, with Harry Brown, Donald McClintock and Lawrence Teberg will be rested sufficiently from the hard football season by the opening of the coming week, Dr. Cook said, to take up the hard work ahead of the basket ball squad.

Fifty men are working out daily at the gymnasium. Most of the work has been confined to blocking and dribbling, with some actual scrimmage. Beginning next week will start the business of forming a team, capable of giving close contests to other members of the Big Ten.

It is almost certain that Oss and Arntson will start at forwards, when the team takes the floor, unless they are eliminated by injuries. At guards, Adrian Kearney, Bill Foresell and Fred Enke are veterans of last year's campaign, and Rudolph Hultkrans is showing especially good form. Center is the only position which is in doubt so far as the student body is concerned. Donald McClintock and Harry Brown, both fast, shifty men, are promising material and there is little doubt but that the variety will find plenty of opposition in scrimmage work.

Two practice games have been scheduled, St. Olaf college team being the first to meet the Gophers. The conference schedule begins Jan. 15 and before that date Minnesota is arranging a schedule of preliminary games which may include Hamline, Macalester and St. Thomas colleges of St. Paul, the University of North Dakota and the University of South Dakota and the Milwaukee Technical school.

CHICAGO TO HAVE BUSY MAT SEASON

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 27.—Wrestling fans are in for a treat this winter if the plans of the mat promoters here go through. Three clubs have organized in different parts of the city and it is the plan of each to give Chicago the best talent that can be secured. The first big show of the season will come on Dec. 8 at the Coliseum, where a classy bout in which Stanislaus Zbyszko will be the headliner and William Demetral are booked. Stanislaus Zbyszko will be the headliner and an effort is being made to get Joe Stecher, Ed Lewis or some other leader.

Nov. 30 Paul Fitzsimmons will stage his first big show at the Ashland Boulevard Auditorium on the West side, Van Buren street and Ashland avenue. Paul incidentally is manager of Gardini. He offers this card: Renato Gardini vs. Orlando; William Demetral vs. Tony Hatches; Marion Plestina vs. Pat Conley and Lou Talaber vs. Bill Fritz. All in all it is one of the best cards offered the fans this winter.

Friday night at the Haymarket theater William Demetral and Jack Linow battle again. This is a match that carries with it a world of interest to Chicago fans and packs the West side show house every time they meet. The winner will meet Joe Stecher.

Meyers Meets Parcaut.

Chicago wrestling fans will get an opportunity Dec. 4 to judge the real worth of Ralph Parcaut, claimant of the middleweight championship, and to see whether he is Johnny Meyers' superior. After much bickering Parcaut finally accepted a match with Meyers and the pair will clash as the feature attraction to be staged by the Spanish War Veterans at the Seventh regiment armory a week from Saturday.

Parcaut, whose home is in Spencer, Iowa, did not accept until the war veterans had made him no less than ten offers. Meyers gave up to the Iowa wonder on Aug. 25, when he went temporarily blind in the ring. Johnny believed at the time it was better to lose the title than to go blind. Each had gained a fall and Meyers seemed to have the advantage for the third down when his eyes gave way on him.

CALIFORNIA "U" OHIO OPPONENT

Pasadena, Cal., Nov. 27.—Ohio State and the University of California are the teams that will fight it out in the annual East vs. West football classic here on New Year's day.

The Tournament of Roses association, under whose auspices the game is held, last night asked the University of California to represent the West and it was said at the university that President David Barrows undoubtedly would accept for the university. Ohio State had already accepted an invitation to represent the east.

RECORD SEASON FOR BASKETBALL

Greatest Year Sport Has Ever Had in Duluth About to Open.

From the preparations that are being made Duluth fans are promised the greatest season of basket ball ever featured in this city. From the grade schools on up to the several professional teams that will be organized come reports of especially brisk activity all along the line.

Roy Farah, former Cathedral high star, and who played last season with the Knights of Columbus quint, is now organizing a city team which will be made up of a collection of local stars which will play one of the heaviest schedules ever staged here. Plans are being made for bringing in big Eastern teams which will be touring the West and Northwest this coming winter.

The Central Y. M. C. A. is preparing for the most active basket ball season in its history and expects to have things underway in about ten days. The Auto league, with five cars represented, will open its fifth season. The Chandler team, which won the championship last season is tuning up. The Buick team, which will be captained by George Boyer, is perfecting its lineup as are the Northern, Foster Motor company and Paige teams. The Auto league games will be played every Tuesday evening the same as last season.

Four teams—Stone-Ordean-Wells, Peyton Paper company, Northwestern Telephone company and the Standard Oil company—will make up the Industrial Basket Ball league this coming season, with a possibility that Rust-Parker, Marshall-Wells and the Wolvins may come in later.

The Bank league is also being reorganized, with the American Exchange, First National, Northern National and City National represented with fast quints.

The opening of the West Duluth Y. M. C. A. will surely develop a number of fast teams which will give the uptown quints plenty of competition. Plans are under way for the forming of an Industrial league at West Duluth.

A city-wide Sunday school basket ball league will be formed here the first week in January.

PULITZER TROPHY TO CALIFORNIA CLUB

Mineola, N. Y., Nov. 27.—The Pulitzer aeronautical trophy, won here Thursday by Lieut. C. C. Mosley, piloting an American-made Verville-Packard army plane, was awarded yesterday to the Aero club of Southern California, which he represented in the event.

The victory in the De Haviland class, won by Lieut. John H. Roullot, was disallowed yesterday by the referee, who upheld protestations that Roullot had made certain unauthorized changes in his plane. First place was given Lieut. Carl Bliss.

After waiting from early morning for favorable weather, Lieut Mosley late yesterday postponed a special flight he planned to make in an attempt to lower the world's average in speed record. He announced he would try today if conditions permitted.

Others who participated in the trophy event made flights against time yesterday. Capt. H. E. Hartney, who finished second in the Thanksgiving day event, made four flights of a mile each in his Thomas-Morse plane. He flew one of the miles in 20 2-5 seconds. Lieut. St. Clair Street and Lieut. Roullot also made flights against time.

PILOT OF RESOLUTE WILL SAIL SLOOP

New York, Nov. 27.—Charles Francis Adams, who piloted the victorious Resolute in the last international yacht races, has announced he will return to small boat sailing next season. He has purchased the Class R sloop Rogue which was built in 1917 and won the championship of her class that year. Mr. Adams plans to give the Rogue a lighter rig and enter her in 1921 class R sloop events.

DULUTH CURLER WILL PLAY IN SCOTLAND

Winnipeg, Man., Nov. 27.—Ron McLeod, veteran curler of Duluth, will accompany the Canadian Curling team to Scotland this winter for a series of games, it was announced here yesterday. McLeod will take the place vacated by the resignation of Dr. McGregor of Butte, Mont.

LEONARD WHIPS JOE WELLING

Lightweight Title Holder Has Easy Time in Retaining Crown.

New York, Nov. 27.—Benny Leonard, the world's lightweight champion, successfully defended his title and won the $2,500 diamond belt, emblematic of the title of the championship, which was presented to him by Tex Rickard, when he scored a technical knockout over Joe Welling of Chicago in the fourteenth round of what was to have been a fifteen-round bout at Madison Square Garden last night.

Leonard did not show the effectiveness of his punches until the thirteenth round, when he sent Welling down three times, Welling going through the ropes on two of these occasions and being groggy in going to his corner.

Leonard seemed overanxious to finish his task at the opening of the fourteenth and simply battered his opponent to the floor with lefts and rights for a count of nine. Welling, showing remarkable gameness, tottered to his feet.

The referee, John Haukop of Brooklyn, however, decided that Welling had received sufficient punishment and stepped between the men, although Welling and his seconds protested that he was able to continue.

Other Bouts.

In the opening bout of six rounds Harvey Bright, Brooklyn featherweight, was given the decision over Jimmy Powers, Hoboken.

The attendance was estimated at 12,000.

WHITE SOX ARE PICKING STARS

Owner Comiskey Has Started Rebuilding His Shattered Team.

Chicago, Nov. 27.—Fans are finding time to talk baseball, although the Christmas shopping days are rapidly approaching. They are beginning to speculate on what President Charles Comiskey is going to do in the way of securing players for his White Sox team next season. It is reported by persons who say they are on the inside that the South side boss will be able to cope with any in the American league.

Comiskey had a wonderful season financially. He probably made more money than in any other preceding single year. Some of that coin, a big portion of it, is going to be spent for material with which to rebuild the club that was almost totally wrecked by the expulsion of eight ball players. Where the men are to come from is a matter of conjecture at present, because Secretary Grabiner will not verify any reports and Comiskey is out of town. However, negotiations are said to be on for the purchase of several athletes who will make the White Sox a championship outfit.

Third Sacker in Sight.

The White Sox have always had a great third baseman. They will have one in 1921. The player they are believed to be seeking and will probably get is Joe Dugan, from Connie Mack. Negotiations were started, it is said, while the joint session of the National and American league was held here. How far they have progressed cannot be learned, but the tip is that President Comiskey is willing to pay almost any price Mack may ask for the star third baseman.

It is a foregone conclusion among baseball men that Manager Mack will sell any player on his team if given the proper price. He broke up one of the greatest clubs in the American league several years ago, when he sold Eddie Collins, Stuffy McInnis, Jack Barry and Frank Baker. He disposed of them because he got his price. Comiskey paid him $50,000 for Collins, the highest sum ever given for a player up to that time. It is contended that the White Sox owner will give a big amount for Dugan to rebuild his team after paying the above price for Collins.

Dugan, of course, is not the player that Collins is, but he is one of the star third basemen of the American league and promises to develop into the greatest. He is like a bantam weight on his feet, is a sure fielder, throws with speed and accuracy and can hit. The White Sox would be well fortified at third base if he were obtained. Buck Weaver will be missed, but Dugan with his flashy style of playing and tendency to hit in the pinches will, if secured, make the South side rooters forget Buck.

Short in Fair Shape.

The White Sox will be in pretty good shape if Dugan is landed. Gleason needs a shortstop, but he can get along nicely with McClellan, who is a nifty fielder and thrower, but rather weak at the bat. He may develop his hitting, however, as he is only a youngster. Collins will be back at second, while John Collins will be ready to occupy the initial sack again if Comiskey is unable to dig up a great youngster before the season begins.

Reports have it that Heilman of Detroit may come to Chicago. He is one of the heaviest hitters among the first basemen, but he will not join the White Sox if Clarence Rowland, who will probably manage the Tigers, has anything to say about it. Rowland loves to win and to make good, and it is a certainty he will not let any of his hitting strength escape him unless he is assured of getting something equally good in return. Detroit had a bad season and it will be a task for a new manager to be successful there.

FIGHTER MUST PUT UP FORFEIT OR BE BARRED

Toledo, O., Nov. 27.—The Ohio boxing commission today notified Chuck Wiggins at his home in Indianapolis that unless the forfeit for his scheduled twelve-round bout with Tommy Gibbons here Dec. 6 is not in the hands of the commission tonight, steps will be taken to bar the boxer in all cities of Ohio under the state commission rule.

Wiggins' contract arrived several days ago, but was not accompanied by the forfeit usually demanded by the commission.

ALL-CONFERENCE FOOTBALL TEAM

Chicago Daily News Gridiron Expert Picks Stars of West.

BY FRED A. HAYNER.

Chicago, Nov. 27.—Picking an all-star team for the Big Ten college conference football season of 1920 is a task which is bound to do injustice to certain players not selected. The difficulty lies in the inability of any critic to see all the games. A player should be observed throughout the season, that it might be noted when he arrives at the climax of his game.

Illinois and Ohio State lead with three players each on the first eleven selected, Wisconsin coming next with two. Michigan, Indiana and Iowa each get one player. The Maroons, Northwestern and Minnesota have no place on the first team, but Chicago has two players eligible for the second eleven and Northwestern one. The Gophers do not succeed in breaking into either lineup. Ohio State has three on the second eleven and Illinois has one.

Depler Leader at Center.

Beginning at the center of the line Capt. Depler of Illinois is chosen, because of his faultless passing to the Zuppke intricate formations, his skill in protecting the center, and in attack. Other high class centers have been Bungue of Wisconsin, Vick of Michigan, Nemecek of Ohio, Minnick of Iowa, and Hathaway of Northwestern. The last named is aggressive but light. Chicago's center, Reber, was out of condition most of the season.

At guards, R. Dunne of Michigan and Taylor of Ohio stand out prominently. The other guards have been aggressive, especially Redmon of Chicago. Hartong of the same team is a strong player. Capt. Penfield of Northwestern has been sturdy on defense. Mohr and Smith of Illinois are great guards, excellent in defense and good at making holes in the line. Wilson of Michigan, Kauffman of Iowa, McCaw and Mumby of Indiana, Taylor and Dunne have aggressiveness, with weight sufficient to withstand hard knocks and worry an opposing line.

Good tackles are plentiful in the West. Capt. Huffman of Ohio appears to have developed the idea that a tackle can cross the line of scrimmage and invade the secondary with damaging results to the opponents. Scott of Wisconsin, big, fast and aggressive, looks the part for the other tackle. His strength gives his end, Weston, much latitude.

H. D. Penfield of Northwestern, the Illinois tackles, Ems and Orlander, Claypool and Birk of Purdue, Goetz and Wieman of Michigan all displayed elements of high class ability. Wieman was hurt at Michigan or he might have made a great name for himself this season. Teberg and Frazier of Minnesota played hard football against Wisconsin. Slater of Iowa was strong and was used to head the interference on line bucks. He was not up to his last year's standard, although his work was excellent. Capt. Jackson and McGuire of Chicago were heavy, fast and excellent defensive tackles. McGuire was injured too often to do himself justice. Block of Iowa was steady.

Weston and Hanny at Ends.

The ends were highly successful this season. Weston and Hanny of Indiana appeared to be the best all round men in the positions. Hanny was the livelier of the two. Belden of Iowa, an excellent forward pass receiver, and Slyker and Myers of Ohio are fast ends. Strohmeier of Chicago is a promising player. Hinkle and Crissler are stars at the forward passing game, but both suffered waist injuries, showing they do not get their heads down into plays, but are kept up on their feet either by coaching or choice.

Carney of Illinois is an exceptional end and comes pretty close to being the best in the conference. His reception of forward passes is better than that of Belding of Iowa. Capron and Goebel worked fast for Michigan. Hellstrum of Illinois is developing fast. He is really a backfield man in ability to punt and forward pass.

Turner of Northwestern, an ex-tackle, was a tower of strength at end, but was disabled by injuries most of the season.

Back of the Line.

Back of the line the material is brilliant. The selection of first string men in Aubrey Devine for quarter, Stinchcomb of Ohio and Wahlquist of Illinois for backs, with Prangle for fullback, makes a good all around combination. Another group of Bob Fletcher at quarter, for his generalship; Ralph Fletcher at right half; Steketee of Michigan at full, and Elliott of Wisconsin for the left half would give a combination only a little inferior to the first named.

Lane of Northwestern, for his punting and general all around work, is a good back, as is also Grausnic, his partner. Oss of Minnesota, a great runner, had a bad season. Jack Dunn of Michigan is an exceptional back and a great open field runner. Williams and Holmes of Wisconsin are fleet and above the average. Glen Devine of Iowa is fast and was much used as a receiver of passes.

Among the fullbacks are Sundt of Wisconsin, a splendid punter and line bucker. Locke and Jaqua of Iowa, fine line buckers. Reuben of Minnesota is a high-class fullback. Hanisch of Chicago is strong on defense and can punt. Palmer is a comer. Willaman of Ohio was out with injuries. His understudy, Taylor, was a hard line plunger. Patterson of Northwestern is developing fast.

Tatge Is Sure Tackler.

Tatge of Chicago edged out the others for the position at Chicago on his sure backfield tackling and handling of punts, and in feeding the ball. He has far to go as a director of team play, but is improving. Wisconsin has a clever pair in Barr and Davey. Davey's toe won the Minnesota and Chicago games with a drop kick.

Matheys of Indiana, H. Workman of Ohio, Palmer of Northwestern, and Arntson of Minnesota were stars in particular features. Workman is leading long distance passer of the conference and is a comer in generalship. Arntson's only weakness was in handling punts. Palmer is a hard player, a long passer, and has learned much football this year which may aid him next season.

BATTLING NELSON'S ESTATE IN COURTS

Chicago, Nov. 27.—Property valued at $150,000 which Oscar "Battling" Nelson says he earned in the ring from 1900 to 1912 is at stake in a suit filed in superior court by the former lightweight boxer to restrain his brothers and sisters from interfering with his control of the property.

Nelson's suit declares that the estate, left to him by his father, was entirely his own, and that he turned it over to his father during the latter's lifetime to be managed for him. The father's will left it all to "Bat" and the suit states that brothers and sisters are seeking a share in the estate. Robert E. L. Woods, who was named administrator, also is named as a defendant.

GRAND BOWLERS SHOW THE WAY

Straightaway and Steel Plant Teams in Interesting Contests.

Two bowling leagues, the Straightaway and the Steel Plant, were busy last evening, the former staging three contests and the latter two. The Grand team was the class of the Straightaways, defeating the Elcoras two out of three and copping all of the high team totals. They took the single game team count with 993 and the high three-game count with 2,764. In this same league, the Guthmanns took every one of three games from the Proctor Juniors and the Kenny-Anker men defeated the El Prouctos two out of three.

In the Steel Plant league, the Electricians took the odd game from the Tall Cedars and the Police copped two out of three from the Open Hearths.

SOUTH DAKOTANS MAY HAVE LEAGUE

President Cantillon Has Called Meeting of Club Owners.

Sioux Falls, S. D., Nov. 27.—When Mike E. Cantillon of Minneapolis, president, calls a meeting of representatives of five South Dakota baseball clubs to order on Wednesday, Dec. 15, South Dakota's baseball populace will be watching for the action of the committee, named to select three remaining clubs to complete the desired eight-club circuit.

At a conference at Aberdeen a committee consisting of representatives from the Sioux Falls, Mitchell, Aberdeen, Redfield and Madison clubs, with Mr. Cantillon as chairman, was named to consider the dropping of Miller, Wessington Springs and Huron and to choose other South Dakota, Minnesota or North Dakota clubs in their places.

Therefore, in the hands of this committee rests the fate of the three cities that early in the spring of 1920 hustled up sufficient cash to post a forfeit and took their initial plunges into organized baseball.

That everything was not smooth operating has been admitted by directors of these three clubs and their beliefs have been borne out by contentions of the five leading clubs that they were a great financial drawback and added materially to the financial strain on the Sunshine State league's initial season.

Ran Heavily Into Debt.

Even though indebtedness of thousands of dollars was accumulated during the 1920 season, directors of the clubs arose in the face of strenuous protests from other clubs and sought retention of their respective franchises during 1921. After a short session at Aberdeen in November, President Cantillon decided to have representatives of the five best established clubs financially confer separately with him regarding the remaining clubs.

With Watertown and Yankton, left out of the 1920 circuit through a mere technicality, clamoring for admission to the league and several other South Dakota cities also seeking a franchise, close followers of the league are of the opinion that the several cities in adjoining parts of Minnesota and North Dakota will not gain entrance to the league, as they desire. Curtailment of traveling expenses by having all eight clubs more evenly aligned and the desire to have the circuit continue as a purely South Dakota affair instead of an interstate league, it is believed, will have a strong bearing on the final decision.

Regarding Wessington Springs and Miller, during the 1919 season it was proved that neither city had a sufficient baseball populace as a general thing to insure better than expenses for the visiting team; that transportation facilities to these cities were inadequate and that accommodations in the cities were insufficient to provide for the visiting team.

Shortly after the close of the 1919 season, at the instigation of M. E. Cantillon, a North Dakota-South Dakota league was proposed. Inclusion of Fargo and Bismarck and possibly another North Dakota city, according to backers of the plan, promised a better future for the league, but the proposition apparently received little consideration around the original circuit and at the recent meeting at Aberdeen the subject was barely mentioned.

TWO CASUALTIES FROM AUTO RACE

Savannah, Ga., Nov. 27.—H. L. Capps, automobile race driver, was in a serious condition yesterday as a result of injuries received in an accident during Thursday's race here conducted by the Savannah Automobile club. Neal Bolton, Capps' mechanician, was killed in the accident which occurred when the machine burst into flames during the eighth lap.

COLLEGE BASKET BALL SCHEDULE IS ISSUED

New York, Nov. 27.—The complete schedule of the Intercollegiate Basket Ball league has been issued from Columbia late. Thirty games have been listed, extending over a period of four months. Princeton and Cornell will open the season at Ithaca on Dec. 21 and Princeton will also be a party to the closing of the schedule when Pennsylvania meets the Tigers on March 19 at Princeton. Columbia, Yale, Dartmouth, Princeton, Cornell and Pennsylvania are members of the league.

The Intercollegiate Basket Ball league has been in existence twenty years. During the last ten seasons the famous Heppe trophy has been the goal of every team's ambitions until Penn finally carried off the cup. Columbia has presented a new trophy known as the Alexander cup, which will be competed for the first time with the opening of the present schedule. Three legs must be won for permanent possession.

Coincident with the announcement of the schedule, changes in officers for the coming year were also made known. William McK. Barber of Yale, who has been a member of the executive committee of the league for the last six years, has succeeded Dr. Joseph Raycroft of Princeton as president. The latter will still maintain his position as a member of the rules committee and executive committee.

The complete schedule follows:

Dec. 21, Princeton at Cornell.

March 2, Columbia at Yale; March 5, Princeton at Columbia; March 5, Yale at Penn; March 9, Columbia at Cornell; March 12, Princeton at Penn; March 12, Yale at Cornell; March 12, Dartmouth at Columbia; March 16, Penn at Dartmouth; March 16, Princeton at Yale; March 19, Penn at Princeton.

DARTMOUTH READY FOR WASHINGTON

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 27.—When Dartmouth college and University of Washington football elevens meet on the gridiron at Washington stadium today for the first East vs. West contest of the year on the Pacific coast, spectators will see two teams built almost on opposite lines. Dartmouth's forwards are light, supported by a heavy backfield, while the Washington line is heavy, with light backs.

Landis in New York.

New York, Nov. 27.—Judge K. M. Landis, new head of organized baseball, arrived here today on the first official visit to the East. Judge Landis came especially as a guest of the Giant owners to attend the Army-Navy football game. He returns to Chicago tomorrow.

GAMBLERS MUST TAKE THE GATE

New York, Nov. 27.—"The only way to clean up baseball is to go after the sure-thing gamblers. I think the players have received such a shock from the Chicago exposure that they will stay straight for years, but the club owners and league officials must prevent association with the despicable type of creature that always seeks an ace in the hole whenever he bets, and the only way to do that is to bar them from the grounds of every club in organized baseball. That is what we did in the West, and it has worked wonders."

So said William W. H. McCarthy, president of the Pacific Coast league, who reached this city yesterday on a short tour of the East, following the meeting of the minor leagues in Kansas City a fortnight ago. Mr. McCarthy is a clean-cut, firm-jawed, keen-eyed individual who apparently knows how to say things and apparently means what he says. With him yesterday at the offices of the New York Yankees was Charles H. Strub, president of the San Francisco club of the Pacific Coast league and a live wire young magnate. Mr. Strub had a few things to say about the way the gambling evil in baseball was handled on the coast also.

Let Good Pitchers Go.

"The San Francisco club had heard a lot of rumors and after we investigated we found we would have to let two of our best pitchers go or have a suspicion of crookedness about our club. These men were Tom Seaton and Casey Smith, both effective pitchers. They won forty-four games for us in 1919. Seaton was worth $15,000 to us and Smith $7,500. We suspended them both, practically tossing the money over our shoulders, and it looked as though we had wrecked our chances for the pennant and for a prosperous season.

"But the newspapers and the general public backed us up. We have never been sorry for the action we took, for our attendance seemed greater even with a weakened team than it had been before and we made a grand fight for the flag. I think it would be the same way in the big leagues next year when people see that the owners mean business in their effort to keep the game clean."

"Our procedure in the Pacific Coast league has been to bar the gamblers from every park in the circuit," said Mr. McCarthy. "The newspapers helped us. Any player seen talking to a gambler was immediately under suspicion and we found that the sure thing men didn't like to have their names in black type in the papers. We have had to suspend five men—Babe Borton, Seaton, Smith, Maggert and Bill Rumler. We have also barred Hal Chase. He threatened to sue me for $50,000 for defamation of character, but he hasn't sued yet. We learned that he approached a pitcher of the Los Angeles club with a proposition to make some 'easy money,' but the pitcher was honest and turned it down.

Borton Made Confession.

"Borton recently made a confession in which he explained his handling of large sums of money by saying that he was acting as agent of the Vernon team last year, which had raised a fund to be spent in inducing other teams to 'lay down.' I have investigated the story, have seen personally nearly every man who was implicated and I am sure from the character of their denials that the yarn has nothing in it. Still, the Los Angeles grand jury is looking into the case."

From Cincinnati yesterday came the report that there were persistent rumors there of a big trade between the Reds and the Cubs. It was stated that Heinie Groh, Earl Neale, Larry Kopf and "Dutch" Ruether, the left-handed pitcher, were to go to Chicago in exchange for Grover Cleveland Alexander, Charley Hollocher and other Cubs not yet decided on.

"Nothing in it," said Johnny Evers, the new manager of the Cubs at the offices of the New York Giants yesterday. "I'm the manager of the Chicago team and I think I would know if anything like that was contemplated. I'm going to Chicago on Wednesday."

As a matter of fact Evers is figuring on building up a new infield around Hollocher and a revivified pitching staff around Alexander. The trade would be a bad one for him.

Mike Kelley having declined to commit baseball suicide and take the management of the Phillies which William F. Baker handed him on a golden platter, it is rumored that Bill Donovan, former Yankee pilot and now the manager of the Jersey City club of the International league, may get the job. Bill doesn't mind hard assignments and it might be that he is the Moses to lead the Phils out of the wilderness of eighth place they have been in so long.

Another little news nugget from Philadelphia. Connie Mack denies that there is any chance of Joey Dugan going to the Yanks or anywhere else. He says he is not going to do any trading that will weaken the Athletics and strengthen another club. That makes it look as though Dugan and Perkins and Scott Perry and Ed Rommel, who really are stars, will have to serve a long sentence in Quakertown.

HOCKEY MEN TRAIN.

Candidates for Duluth's hockey team expect to take to the ice next week for the first time this season. Weather of the last few days has not been conducive exactly to sharp, keen ice, but preparations for laying the big sheet are now under way at the Curling club. A drop in temperature will start the ice making and the hockey team on skates will be close in the wake.

Trainer Andy Grenner declared it could not be before the latter part of next week, but hinted that no time would be lost once ice was available. Grenner is considering taking the squad out to one of the West Duluth slips or to some small inland lake for some stick handling and ankle-stiffening, if snow doesn't interfere.

Wins Billiard Preliminaries.

Chicago, Nov. 27.—Jess Lean of Denver, yesterday won his final game in the preliminaries for the national three-cushion billiard championship, defeating Hugh Heal of Toledo. Pierre Maupome of Milwaukee defeated Charles Morin of Chicago.

Cleveland, Ohio—Before leaving for his home in Hubbard City, Tex., Tris Speaker, manager of the Cleveland Americans, intimated that only ten exhibition games will be played by the Indians on the spring training trip.

Speaker has received invitations from about a dozen towns in Texas, Florida and New Mexico to bring the world's champions there to train. It is regarded as doubtful if New Orleans, where the teams trained for several years, will be selected as the 1921 camp.

"With a world's championship team," Speaker said, "ten games ought to pay all our training expenses and I do not care to play more than ten, as I can get better results by sticking to regular practice."

Cincinnati has asked for two games and probably will be accommodated.

Biggest Good Time in Duluth Tuesday Night

◇ What Society Is Doing Here and Elsewhere ◇

The women of the First Methodist church have made elaborate plans for the annual church bazar which will be held Tuesday in the church parlors. A business men's lunch will be served at noon and reservations are being made for a turkey dinner in the evening.

Many useful and beautiful articles will be on sale at reasonable prices during the day. Women who wish to do their Christmas shopping early will find fancy aprons, hand-crocheted lingerie, silk brassieres, pillow cases, laundry bags and novelties in the way of dressed dolls at the general booth. Exquisite Christmas baskets and potted plants will be exhibited at the Christmas booth and strictly home-made confections may be purchased at the candy booth. One of the prettiest booths will be that in charge of the senior Philathea class of the Sunday school. A bevy of pretty girls in Japanese costume will have some new ideas in the way of Christmas gifts to offer.

The cooking booth will be in charge of Mrs. J. W. Kreitter, who will have on sale her own make of choice mince meat for which orders are already being taken, and the famous Martha Washington doughnuts.

A tea garden where friends may have a quiet chat over the proverbial tea cup will be in charge of Mesdames T. A. Reynolds, H. A. Dancer, Watson S. Moore and Isaac Moore, assisted by a group of attractive Puritan maids.

Following the dinner, a half hour's musical program will be given by George H. Madison, accompanied by Mrs. L. Dworshak. Mr. Madison, who has been East during the last few years, has received much favorable comment by the press for his rich bass voice. Following are the numbers which he will sing: "Friend o' Mine," "Beloved, It Is Morn," "Off to Philadelphia," "The Little Irish Girl," "If All the Young Maidens," "My Lord, What a Mornin'," "I Stood on the Ribber of Jordan," "Exhortation," "I Am a Roamer."

King's Daughters Prepare For Christmas Follies

With the charity ball mere history society has focused its attention on the Christmas Follies to be given by the King's Daughters at the Shrine Wednesday, Dec. 29, a benefit for the day nursery in the West end.

Great secrecy and mystery shrouds the affair and the secrets of all plans are carefully guarded, but one gathers from hints dropped here and there, that it will equal if not eclipse anything of like nature undertaken by that society heretofore.

But by no means the least of the entertainment will be the formal dancing party which promises to be one of the most brilliant affairs of the season, and in which members of the college group will gather with those who have arrived at post-college days, and make merry together.

As to the rest one has only to draw his own conclusions, but it is probably not far amiss to say that the entertainment will include a panorama similar to that which has made New York's hippodrome famous.

The Follies will mark the first undertaking of anything in the nature of general entertainment, since the garden party given in midsummer in the lovely gardens surrounding the home of Mrs. Chester A. Congdon, London road, and which was one of the chief social successes of the season.

Committees in charge of arrangements are: Tickets, Miss Edith Dight; collecting tickets, Mrs. Carroll Steele; check room, Miss Cordelia Collins; music, Miss Ethel Bunnell; punch, Mrs. William Preston White; vaudeville, Miss Isabel Jacobi; decorations, Miss Mary Towne; costuming, Miss Mabel Neimeyer.

HER PUPILS WILL PRESENT TYPICAL INDIAN MUSIC

MRS. STELLA PRINCE STOCKER.

Much of her time and energy has been spent by Mrs. Stella Prince Stocker in furthering Indian lore in song and dance. In two entertainments to be given in the near future, two of Mrs. Stocker's pupils will be presented.

'One, the beautiful "Sunrise Call," written down by Mrs. Stocker from the singing of an Indian of the White Earth reservation, will be sung by Wilbur Riegert, tenor, who will open one of the scenes in the masque to be presented at Pilgrim Congregational church Dec. 16 and 17 in a benefit entertainment for the European children's fund, America's self-imposed charity for the starving children of Europe.

As recording secretary of the Duluth Choral society, Miss Winifred Ulsrud holds an important office. With the several other officers of the choral society she was re-elected to office at the annual meeting held Tuesday evening. The club is particularly anxious this year to enlist all musicians of the city in its membership.

Three very worthy oritorios are promised during the season. The second number will be presented in Saint-Saens "Samson and Delilah," to be sung in April, and the final number will be given in May, when Rosini's "Stabat Mater" will be sung.

THESE YOUNG WOMEN LARGELY RESPONSIBLE FOR C. H. S. AUCTION SUCCESS

MISS DOROTHY BUSH.

MISS ISABELLE HICKEN.

MISS LOLITA CARLSON.

Among the group of enthusiastic workers for the success of the auction at Central high school Wednesday afternoon were Misses Dorothy Bush, Isabelle Hicken and Lolita Carlson.

Miss Bush won particular favor when she was presented in the leading role in a comedy farce presented by the students during the auction.

"Spirit of the Auction" is the name which her classmates feel is best fitted to Miss Hicken as a result of the unusual skill she displayed in arousing school spirit among her colleagues.

Her aptitude in making attractive and very artistic articles which found ready sale on being presented by the auctioneer won very favorable comment among her colleagues for Miss Carlson.

Boys and girls of the auction committee, with Miss Margaret Taylor, class adviser, and who headed the auction committee, are rejoicing over the auction, which netted $1,200, which was used in providing Thanksgiving dinners for needy families and making donations to the several charitable organizations in the city, as well as the hospitals, and which is an unprecedented success in the annals of Central high school history.

Side Talks

By Ruth Cameron.

"I SHALL WORRY!"

THERE is a certain class of tyrant whose rod of rule consists of a three-word sentence, "I shall worry." She (it is more often a "she" so I will simplify matters by using that pronoun, although, as it happens, the very worst case of this kind of tyranny that I have ever known was exercised by a man) uses this rod to stop those whom love or custom has made her subjects, from doing things that she permits to trouble her peace of mind.

I remember a girl friend of mine who was never allowed to go boating with the rest of us, although she was a good swimmer and the boating was supervised by an adult, because her mother had once been in a boat accident and had conceived a horror of the water. "Mother says she would worry every minute while I was gone," she would report after she had once more made a plea to be allowed to go on some boat picnic, "so I can't go."

Let Us Hope She Learned Better From a Bad Example.

She was a good child, she never seemed to question or think there was any way around that rule. I often wonder what she thinks now when she looks back at it, and whether she governs her children with the "I shall worry" rod.

Mind you, I do not mean to imply that mothers and fathers are not sometimes justified in holding their children back from sports that seem dangerous to them. But I think the restriction should be based on a really intelligent knowledge of the danger. I think the parents should carefully consider the fact that even where there is some slight element of danger (and when you come to think of it, it would be hard to find anything in which possibilities of dangers do not lie—men are killed at golf and tennis, and walking across the street has its own hazards), it may be their duty not to interfere because the child has a right to experience. For instance, children do break their arms falling out of trees, but is it right to forbid a boy the great experience of tree climbing because of that element of danger? Aren't you running a greater danger of making a mollycoddle out of him?

Be Careful You Aren't Thinking of Yourself.

Secondly, one should be mighty sure that the reason one interferes is that one really feels that the danger run is great enough to make the experience cost too dearly, and not because one knows that oneself is going to have the misery of a troubled mind.

If one has not strength enough of mind to conquer the habit of worry, I think one should make oneself the sufferer and not try to make others bear the burden.

It is not always children who are the slave of this "I shall worry" tyranny. Husbands sometimes suffer from the rod, also.

Some years ago the postmaster of Boston made the trip from Boston to New York by airplane. Airplanes were looked on with even greater apprehension then than now, and it was a big adventure. His wife might well have opposed it, but she did not.

She Was a True Sport.

Later Postmaster Murray said to a friend, "She did not want me to go, but she knew I wanted to, and she never said one word in opposition. When I kissed her goodby as I left the house, before I started for the airplane, I knew her heart was in her throat. But she didn't say one word in opposition to the trip. The moment the machine landed in New York I rushed to a long distance phone: 'Am in New York safe, sweetheart,' I said. Then she broke down and cried. I am through worrying that little woman! I have taken my last joy ride in an airplane."

This picture of the pride and honor that a woman who would try to control her fears, can arouse in her husband, is respectfully commended to the women who rule by the rod of "I shall worry."

Efficient Housekeeping

By Laura A. Kirkman.

WHEN PLAIN FOODS ARE SERVED IN A COMPANY MEAL.

When plain foods are served in a company meal they must be "dressed up" in some such way as the squash and pork in the following delicious and inexpensive guest dinner:

Clear Soup
Pork Cutlets With Potato Border
Creole Stuffed Squash
Coffee Apple Jelly

Pork Cutlets—Cut a tenderloin of pork into rather thin (half-inch) slices and season with a little table oil, pepper, salt and onion salt or grated raw onion. Then dip each piece into beaten egg to which a little cold water has been added; dip them into bread crumbs and let them cook thoroughly in a frying pan, covered. When tender, place them in the center of a large meat platter and put a border of seasoned mashed potatoes around them.

Creole Stuffed Squash—One crookneck or patty-pan squash, 1 cup bread crumbs, ½ cup chopped tomato (the canned variety may be used, selecting only the fairly firm pieces to chop and reserving the rest of the can for a sauce to pour over this dish when done), 1 tablespoon chopped onion, 2 tablespoons chopped red pepper, ¼ tablespoon salt, 2 tablespoons melted butter and 2 tablespoons minced ham. Cut out a piece of the squash at the stem end and remove seeds and soft pulp carefully. Estimate the amount of filling you will need, and to each cup of bread crumbs required add the proportion of other ingredients given in the above recipe, with the one cup of bread crumbs mentioned. Run all these ingredients through the food chopper and fill the squash with this mixture, not packing it in too solidly. Fasten the cover on with toothpicks and steam until tender. Serve cut in slices crosswise and pass the following tomato sauce with it:

Tomato Sauce for Creole Stuffed Squash—1½ cups canned tomatoes, 1 tablespoon salt, 1-6 teaspoon pepper, 2 whole cloves and a tiny bit of onion or 1-6 teaspoon of onion salt. Put the tomatoes, onion flavoring, cloves, salt and pepper in a saucepan and place over the fire; let this mixture cook for 10 minutes after it has begun to simmer. Now put the butter in a small pan over the fire and when it is melted and hot add the flour to it and stir until smooth and frothy. Pour this butter and flour mixture into the tomatoes and let simmer for 4 minutes longer. Rub the sauce through a sieve fine enough to keep back the seeds and serve hot.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman in care of the "Efficient Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be inclosed with the question.—The Editor.

TINKER BOB PLANS TO LEAVE.

TINKER BOB, King of the Forest, called Major Pole Cat and Chief Porky to his side and said: "Now I am going to the Land of the South, and into your hands I give the care of the Forest. If anyone does wrong you must punish him, and if it is necessary for you to see me just do as O Possum did—climb to the top of the wonderful corn stalk and take a ride with the Moon. He will bring you to the land where I am and I will see you, and let you down to the earth. You will remember?"

Chief Porky and Major Pole Cat said they would remember and do as the King said. Then the King sent for another fellow of the Forest. Yes, it was the same old troubler who had done so many things to disturb the Dwellers of the great woodland. It was Red Fox, of course!

Did I hear you ask why he sent for Red Fox? Well, he wanted to tell him some things that were important, and caution him about running wild in the Forest just because the King would be gone. It was some little time before Red Fox arrived to see the King, and when he did appear his mouth was covered with blood and a few feathers clung to his teeth.

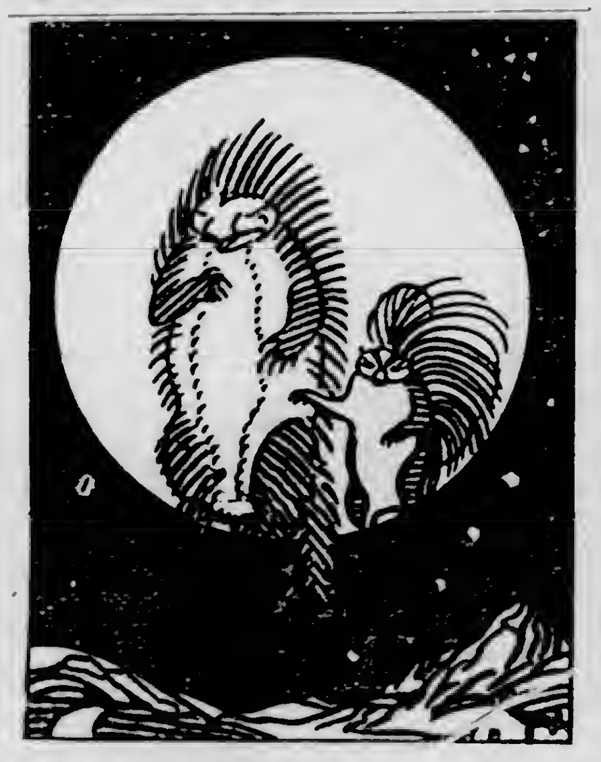
"What does all this mean?" asked Tinker Bob, as he looked at Red Fox.

Red Fox did not answer, for he knew not what to say. Then the King said, "Mr. Red Fox, I say again, what does all of this mean?"

"It means, Oh King, that I am tired of listening to the story of that saucy fellow who always tries to make me think he is the only one in the Forest!" Tinker Bob thought at once of poor Jerry the Jay. For he could think of no other that was such a saucy creature.

"You don't mean to tell me, Mr. Red Fox, that you have killed poor Jerry the Jay Bird?" questioned Tinker Bob somewhat excited. Although Jerry was a saucy fellow, the King didn't want to see anyone do him harm. Tinker had taken Jerry to the Realm of Healing once to get him his lost feathers, and poor Jerry had had many narrow escapes. But was it really possible that Red Fox had put an end to Jerry's life? If he had, he would have to take the punishment that would be given him.

"Why, Mr. Red Fox, did you kill Jerry the Jay Bird? Even if he is a saucy fellow you have no business to do him harm." Tinker Bob was not in a good mood at all, and Lady Duck could see it—so could Red Fox, and he was sorry that he had come into the presence of the King before he had brushed his teeth and washed the blood from his lips.



"Take a ride with the Moon. He will bring you to the land where I am and I will see you."

Then suddenly there was heard a familiar cry in the Forest, "Thief! thief!" The call was loud and clear, and it was Jerry the Jay! Tinker Bob was much relieved to think that Jerry was still alive—but who could the creature be that had suffered at the hands of Red Fox?

We rise on behalf of the poor working girl—the lowly stage and screen star. A local merchant says cotton stockings are more serviceable than silk. But could this cold, hard statement of fact justify the thought of seeing Constance Talmadge without her silken hose or Marie Prevost without her rose-tinted tights. Far be it from us to demean feminine beauty thusly.

But seriously now, how are these lowly stars to keep up appearances on their pittances. Take Alice Brady, the Talmadge girls, Miriam Cooper and Anna Q. Nilsson—they make only $1,500 to $3,000 a week and work only fifty weeks in the year.

It is doubtful if Alla Nazimova makes over $3,000 a week. With such a salary how is she to live in Peacock alley and carry an ostrich-feathered fan. Perhaps some of these girls have husbands, but why should a movie star make her husband work?

Irene Castle, also, has been struggling along with only twenty-five trunks full of wearing apparel, and when Olive Thomas died she had only a few hundred diamonds and sapphires to leave to her husband.

Some of the male stars fare a little better. Caruso, for instance, has never had to regret that he didn't become a plumber. With business good, Caruso can draw $12,000 for a concert, but the exertion is so great that he can't sing more than one night a week. Keeping up an entire floor in the Biltmore hotel, paying laundry bills and so on, eats a big hole into this income. And one must allow for misfortune. A couple of seasons ago he got a particle of dust in his throat. He was unable to keep several engagements and the newspapers refused to give him more than $2,000,000 worth of free advertising.

John McCormack is one of the hardest hit of all. He can't find a hall big enough to insure more than $50,000 receipts for a night. His management gets part of this, and in addition he has adopted some poor "relations," so to speak, which wear down his daily wages.

Galli Curci is in the working girls' class. She never gets more than $6,000 a concert, and at that she can't sing more than four times a week. Recently a Rolls Royce car was sold for $30,000. How can a prima donna of such meager income pay for a Rolls-Royce and keep up her income tax?

Al Jolson is doing fairly well now, although a few years ago he was considered just an ordinary black-face comedian averaging two to four shows a day. By thrift and economy he has got out of the bush league and is now holding down a job in "Sinbad." He has hung on for three years, but he seldom makes over $2,000 a week and sometimes not more than $1,500. If Al had a good screen face, he might do better.

Looking at these figures and realizing that a cold winter is coming on, makes one envy the industrious ant and the busy bee, where economy always proves a safeguard against rainy weather. The legislatures should get busy this winter and pass minimum wage laws to protect the lowly stars against cotton stockings and the cootie cars.

High Rail Fares and War Tax Hit Theaters

Two things that will receive a lot of attention are the excessive railroad fares for traveling theatrical productions and war tax. High rail fares are driving producers to the wall and the war tax is hitting every person who spends a dime for amusement.

In considering these problems, two questions are pertinent. Shall the railroads charge reasonable fares and get a lot of business, or shall they charge excessive fares and make little or nothing? Railroad men admit that fares are excessive and theatrical men know that business cannot be done successfully if fares continue at their present levels. A majority of all road companies have already been forced to quit the road or will do so by New Year's.

Regarding war tax on admissions, one must look at the question from a business point of view. Shall those who have no means of recreation save the picture show continue to pay 10 per cent tax for enjoying an evening. Amusement to a moderate degree is one of the necessities of life just as much as food and clothing. No person can be normal, do his work efficiently and be congenial in society without a certain amount of amusement. Money is not as plentiful now as it was and it will not be long before the theater tax will be felt more keenly than it is at present.

During the war and long after the war the public as a whole was eager to do its bit in paying tax, but the situation is changing and men who have given the subject close study are beginning to feel that the war tax problem should be given careful consideration and removed as soon as possible.

Features at the Duluth Playhouses

Looking over the show calendar for the coming week will reveal several distinctive features worthy of more than cursory notice.

The Orpheum and New Grand are going strong, and the shows scheduled are interesting. If you don't like vampires, remember it's only a "vamp," "Little Miss Vamp," coming to the Orpheum tomorrow. This is the title of a one-act musical comedy, not a musical revue. Manager Edward Furni says he just has to get the money on this show, as it will cost about $1,000 more than any seen here in a long time. Those clever Lightner Sisters, Newton Alexander and other artists of repute are in the cast.

Jazzland, Animalland and Manikinland will be moved to the New Grand stage, and Manager Sutton sees a big week ahead. The animal circus is said to be one of the biggest features of its kind on the road, and Nellie de Onsonne and her Jazzland Five will provide pep and spice.

Little need be said of the New Garrick symphony concert tomorrow afternoon. A full house is always assured.

The play in which Viola Dana appears at that playhouse shows her in a "different" role—that of a blackmailer and adventuress.

But in watching for the big features, sometimes the smaller ones are overlooked. To many the most interesting and important attractions at the New Garrick are the Edgar comedies. There is no character in American literature that is receiving more attention than this portrayal of boyhood by Booth Tarkington. One could study psychology for months and not receive as much correct information about child life as one of these Edgar comedies reveals. Johnny Jones, who plays the part of Edgar, is only 12 years of age.

Olive Thomas-Jack Pickford week will be observed at the New Lyric. Miss Thomas in her last picture, "Darling Mine," opens today, and her husband, Jack Pickford, will follow Wednesday in "The Man Who Had Everything." Few actresses have so endeared themselves to the public as Olive Thomas, whose untimely death cut short a wonderfully bright career.

C. Gardner Sullivan, who has been making a tour of the world in quest of new film pilots, has a new picture play at the Zelda. It stars Louise Glaum, who played in "Sahara," "Sex" and other plays of Mr. Sullivan.

Once more a Griffith picture will come to Duluth. It's "Broken Blossoms," the great film classic that was the sensation of America last year. The Griffith picture and Griffith favorites will be at the Astor.

ORPHEUM.

In next week's bill at the Orpheum, opening tomorrow afternoon, vaudeville goers will have one that is so top heavy that the headliner crowds down two acts that are generally given headline position to that of "feature" acts. That's the way it starts off, and the supporting acts are declared to be far above the average.

The headliner is a musical comedy, "Little Miss Vamp," which has been something of a sensation over the circuit this year, and during last week and this in the Twin Cities has been standing up the crowds. The features are none other than Howard Langford and Ina Fredrick in "Shopping," and Elsa Ruegger, the eminent cellist. The latter, in particular, who has been heard here before, is regarded as indisputably entitled to headline position, and her former appearances in Duluth were wonderful successes.

But "Little Miss Vamp" is the big card. It features the Lightner sisters and Newton Alexander. The latter is author and composer and has apparently made a ten-strike. The Lightner sisters will be remembered as exceptionally clever, and Miss Winnie is the bright particular star of this year's appearance. With them are ten more vamps and William Taylor.

Langford and Fredrick are offering a song skit "Shopping," and it is said to be very clever and funny. Mr. Langford is a musical comedy star, having held the principal roles in some of the biggest of these successes of late years.

Miss Ruegger has been called the world's greatest virtuoso on the cello and is internationally famed as a musician. She is accompanied by Miss Valerie Ruegger, an eminent pianist, and Edmund Lichtenstein is the conductor.

Of the rest of the bill much can be expected, it is claimed. Eddie Clayton and Frank Lennie, the chappie, the chap and the hat, make their hits and their living by making people laugh, and they are said to be very successful. They have a dancing and singing act.

Fred Whitfield and Marie Ireland, who starred for a long time in "The Belle of Bingville," this year have as their act "Umpha Villa," which, it is claimed, is better than their previous vehicle to put over their particular brand of yokel fun.

William Mandel and company, gymnasts, have an act which they call "An Unusual Occurrence," and it is said that their act is not only amazing but decidedly comic.

Topics of the Day and kinograms promise much for the coming week and the musical program will be fully as good as usual.

NEW LYRIC.

Peculiarly typical of the star, and most suitable for her last picture is "Everybody's Sweetheart" the last new picture starring Olive Thomas to come to the screen, opens at the New Lyric today. Her role is that of a little nobody on the county poor farm, who, in spite of her lowly position, wins the name of "Everybody's Sweetheart," through her unfailing cheerfulness and radiant personality.

Although she has no reason to believe her dreams will ever come true, the little waif, Mary, thinks continually of the day when she and her boy companion, John, also an inmate of the poor farm, will be married and rich. But fate plays strange tricks, sometimes, and her dreams come true in a most unexpected but decidedly satisfactory manner. Lawrence Tremble, who directed "Darling Mine," also staged "Everybody's Sweetheart." It is claimed that it is one of the most beautiful pictures in which any feminine star has recently been seen, beautiful not only pictorially but in its theme and presentation.

A very capable cast is seen in the various roles with Willie Collier, Jr., as leading man in the juvenile role of John.

By an odd coincidence Jack Pickford, whose wife Miss Thomas was, will come to the New Lyric screen Wednesday, immediately after "Everybody's Sweetheart," in "The Man Who Had Everything," which is said also to be typical of him and his station in life.

There will be a number of short subjects, including comedy and Lyric News Events, shown with both pictures, and special music will be provided by the New Lyric concert orchestra. A whistling specialty by Miss Geraldine La Valliere, is featured on the program starting today.

Mary Going to London.

Mary Pickford will go to England Feb. 15 to make pictures. Lord Northcliffe is said to be interested.

Hippodrome Feature at the Grand

MISS ALICE WRAY.

Miss Wray will come to the New Grand tomorrow for a four-day engagement in Wray's Manikin and Marionette Hippodrome, one of the attractive and successful acts on the Marcus Loew circuit.

The Show Calendar

NEW GRAND.

An all-star bill promising an extremely wide range of variety, with features which will make a special hit with "kids from 6 to 60," comes to the New Grand tomorrow. The offerings run the gamut of vaudeville with a little of nearly everything, including an animal circus and such a rarity as a marionette show.

Nellie de Onsonne and Her Jazzland Five will present "In a Syncopated Studio." Miss Onsonne has a number of new and original vocal selections, while her jazz quintet will prove not only masters of syncopation, but entertainers in other ways.

Jimmy Lyons is known to fame as "The Hebrew Soldier-Statesman" and he has a line of witty chatter in which topics of the day are discussed. Better than a laugh a minute is his record, and all over the circuit he has been finding difficulty closing his act, so unwilling are his audiences to let him go.

Fun, novelties and specialties in animal land are what a wonderful troupe of trained dogs, monkeys and ponies known as Selina's Circus will offer. It's a great act not only for the kiddies, but for the grownups, too, as animal acts are increasing rarities in vaudeville due to the heavy transportation expense.

Glick and Bright present a comedy skit that should be one of the especially bright spots on the bill. Smiles and tunes fill it, with brisk, breezy chatter, songs, dance and pep making it notable.

Wray's Manikins and Marionette Hippodrome is not only one of the most beautiful acts on the vaudeville stage, but one of the very few of its type, among which it stands almost alone. A complete miniature theater is placed on the stage for the offering, with a stage in that upon which the manikins act almost every sort of role. There are some spectacular features, including the bombing of an airship by an airship.

The motion picture features include not only the last of the series of "Third Eye" stories, but also a Rolin comedy, with Snub Pollard, the Grand News Weekly and the Screen Magazine.

NEW GARRICK.

The inside workings of the schemes and plots of a band of "silk-stockinged" crooks is disclosed in piquant Viola Dana's newest starring vehicle, "Blackmail," which comes to the New Garrick tomorrow on a program, also including Buster Keaton in his latest comedy-riot, "Convict 13" and other attractions. The production is adapted from a story by Lucia Chamberlaine which appeared in the Saturday Evening Post.

The photodrama features the attempts of a beautiful adventuress to blackmail a wealthy young man into marrying her but when success seems assured love upsets the plot and with the aid of a brilliant young lawyer an entirely different turn is given the carefully laid plans of the band of underworld confederates.

In "Convict 13" Buster Keaton "starts his career of crime" as an ardent golf bug and the places this leads him include the county jail, while the tight situations it gets him into are innumerable. Keaton is said to be funnier than ever in this picture, and to those who saw him in "One Week" the statement is enough.

This evening's showings will close the engagement of Bill Rogers in "Honest Hutch" and Johnny Hines in "Torchy Turns Cupid." As an added attraction tomorrow afternoon from 2 to 3, the twelfth symphony concert will be given with the new show.

STRAND.

The feature attraction at the Strand theater, commencing Sunday, aside from telling an exciting story, contains artistic scenes that are a delight. It is "The Right to Love," produced by George Fitzmaurice and featuring Mae Murray and David Powell, the same talented players who were in "On With the Dance."

Mr. Fitzmaurice has taken a drama of mismated husbands and wives, with scenes laid in Turkey, and made a picture that holds the interest throughout. Lovely Mae Murray is the ill-treated wife of Lord Falkland, the British representative at Constantinople. The climax is reached when he installs his mistress in their home and at the same time imports a Prince Stanislaus, whose mission is to compromise Lady Falkland. Col. Loring, well played by David Powell, is the American who foils Lord Falkland, though not until he has killed the nobleman in a row. But the story ends happily.

Miss Murray is an excellent emotional actress. David Powell is suave and easily at home in his role. The other members of the cast include Alma Tell, Holmes E. Herbert and Macey Harlan. Ouida Bergere wrote the photoplay from a French original. It is a Paramount release.

"The Branded Woman," with Norma Talmadge, will be shown for the last times today.

ZELDA.

That there is much more to the making of a motion picture than the part which the actors play is shown in the careful regard for atmospheric detail evident in the photoplay attraction which comes to the Zelda theater today.

Because of "detail" motion picture producers have established in their organizations research departments for the purpose of obtaining unimpeachable data for use in their productions.

J. Parker Read, Jr., who presents Louise Glaum in "Love Madness," has one of the most elaborate research departments on the Pacific coast.

S. Lincoln Lawrence, world traveler and student, was placed in charge of this important branch of the J. Parker Read, Jr., organization during preparations for the filming of "Love Madness," personally spent several weeks in exhaustive study and investigation prior to the actual "shooting" of scenes on Miss Glaum's new vehicle.

Mr. Lawrence's visits to Chinatowns' haunts, both in Los Angeles and San Francisco, where he studied conditions, were fruitful. He also explored the mystic recesses of the underworld on the once-famous Barbary Coast. Although the far-famed resort is no longer "wide-open," the "coast" is reputed to be infested with many of its old habitues. How Lawrence gained his various objectives no one definitely knows, but certain it is that he gathered a considerable mass of valuable data. It is no wonder that J. Parker Read, Jr.'s, film productions are models of artistic, scientific and technical correctness.

NEW ASTOR.

Lillian Gish has again proved her remarkable talent as a screen actress in her portrayal of the role of Lucy, the child in "Broken Blossoms," D. W. Griffith's art sensation, which comes to the New Astor tomorrow for a two-day stay. Few who see her performance as the daughter of Battling Burrows, a brutally cruel resident of the slums of London, will forget that tragic moment when, at her bullying father's command she tries to push her wan lips into the semblance of a smile.

Mr. Griffith declares that this was purely involuntary acting, for when during the making of the first scene of cruelty of her father to her, she was in real tears, so much did she feel the part she was acting. Mr. Griffith suggested that she "smile through her tears." She was so wrought up over the scene that she tried to smile, but could not and then, quite naturally, without thought of artifice, with trembling fingers tried to push up the drooping corners of her mouth. It was so pathetic, and yet so human, that Mr. Griffith at once realized its value and it remains one of the striking notes of this picturization of the greatest of Thomas Burke's story from "Limehouse Nights."

The cast in addition to Miss Gish included Richard Barthelmess, Donald Crisp and Norman Selby, known to the prize ring as "Kid McCoy." There will be other attractions shown with "Broken Blossoms."

Tonight for the last times will be shown Douglas Fairbanks in "His Majesty, the American." Starting Tuesday the featured attraction for three days will be "When Bearcat Went Dry," a thrilling romantic drama of the West with an all-star cast. The fourth of "The Son of Tarzan" stories will be an added feature.

"ERMINIE" REVIVED WITH WILSON AND HOPPER

Francis Wilson and De Wolf Hopper made their first joint appearance on the stage recently at the Academy of Music in Baltimore when a revival of "Erminie" had its premiere under the direction of George C. Tyler and William Farnham.

The event had unusual sentimental interest. For one thing, it marked the return to comic opera of Mr. Wilson, who deserted that field after the last revival of "Erminie"—in 1903, to be exact—and who has been appearing since that time in light comedy and farce, with occasional interludes of more serious drama. In "Erminie" he plays his original role of Cadeaux, a part which he has acted several thousand times. Mr. Hopper is his majestic companion in knavery, Ravennes, following in the footsteps of such favorites of other days as W. S. Daboll, William Broderick, Edwin Stevens and Henry E. Dixy.

Mr. Wilson is not the only member of the original cast in the revival. Jennie Weathersby, who created the eccentric comedy role of the elderly princess when she was a very young woman, again plays that part. The title role is sung by Irene Williams, who was the prima donna of the American Singers during their Gilbert & Sullivan revivals at the Park theater, New York, a year ago, and the leading tenor role is sung by Warren Proctor. Madge Lessing, fresh from triumphs in London and Paris, has the role of the jaunty Capt. Delauney, a part once sung by Jessie Bartlett Davis and Rosamund Whiteside, daughter of Walker Whiteside, sings the soubrette role of Javotte, formerly played by pert Marie Jansen.

OLIVE THOMAS-JACK PICKFORD WEEK AT LYRIC

OLIVE THOMAS.

Miss Thomas will open an engagement today in "Everybody's Sweetheart," the last picture in which she starred before making her fateful trip to Paris.

JACK PICKFORD.

Mr. Pickford will follow Miss Thomas at the Lyric, coming Wednesday in "The Man Who Had Everything." Both will be seen in roles well suited to their talents.

KUBELIK TWINS INHERIT GENIUS OF THEIR FATHER

JAN KUBELIK.

Jan Kubelik, who will play in Duluth Dec. 7, stands ready to contravert the popular belief that art and married life are at variance. The famous violinist has eight children, and among them are the Kubelik twins, Anna and Mary, aged 16, who rival their father in playing the violin. Kubelik not only teaches them but accompanies them as well on the violin and piano. He is already composing a double concerto for them and when they play with an orchestra, he will conduct.

Kubelik's manager, Ottokar Bartik of New York city, writer as follows: "Now about the twins. One day I heard some one playing the Wienlawski concerto, and playing it so beautifully that I asked if it were Kubelik himself. I was told no, that it was one of the twins. So I asked to hear them play. There was a great amount of formality over it, as they were exceedingly modest about their work, and although they consented to let me hear them, I had to sit in another room with the door open. I was so amazed at their playing that I at once asked their father to let me sign them up for a tour of America.

"They were pleased but not greatly excited about it, but finally agreed. They made one stipulation, however, and that was that I promise not to say one single word in advertising them that was not absolutely true! A good beginning for an artist, I thought. I told one of them that I did not like the way they did their hair, as it was unbecomingly plain. She said 'What difference does it make to our playing how we do our hair?' The singing of the contract was quite an affair, almost as if it were a marriage contract. They are to play together and will be billed as 'The Kubelik Twins.' They will not come out, however, until season after next."

Jan Kubelik will be the fourth attraction on Mrs. George S. Richards' All-Star course, Armory, Duluth.

GREAT PAVLOWA AND COMPANY HERE JAN. 6

Some years ago when the great Russian dancer, Anna Pavlowa, first came to America, it was for the brief stay of one month, the period of absence granted her by the Imperial Russian government. New York, Boston and Baltimore were the only cities favored with the divine Anna. These favored cities clamored for more, and all the large cities of the United States appealed for bookings of the great Russian artists, but the month was up, and the dancers returned to Russia. At that time Pavlowa, solo dancers and corps de ballet came direct from the Imperial opera houses of St. Petersburg and Moscow.

Now the great star and her splendid company come to this country direct from Drury Lane theater, London, where they scored the most brilliant successes. It is due to the enterprise of Mrs. Stephen H. Jones that Duluth and surrounding towns are to have the privilege of seeing Pavlowa and her company of artists. Pavlowa is accompanied by Alexander Volinine and by many solo dancers. The music is furnished by a large symphony orchestra, each musician an artist, with Theodore Stier as conductor.

In order to present this entertainment satisfactorily, Mrs. Jones is having the stage at the Armory raised fourteen inches and built clear across the auditorium. Mrs. Jones is having this done, not only that the entertainment may be presented in all its gorgeous artistry, that Pavlowa and Volinine may not be handicapped in the aerial leaps made in some of their wonderful dances, both solo and duo, but that her patrons shall have good seats, no matter in what part of the big auditorium they may sit. Mrs. Jones gives assurance that every seat in the Armory will command a perfect view of the stage. For the lighting effects that make the stage a fairyland of bewitching colors, Pavlowa brings special electrians and special people to arrange draperies for scenic effects. Scenic effects that delight the eye in a series of exquisite pictures of color and form. All the great company that surrounds the brilliant star are artists. It takes $7,000, it is announced, to bring Pavlowa and her artists to Duluth.

Eight performances given in New York city this month were marked by capacity houses. Duluth is to have the same splendid company in its entire personnel, Jan. 6, it is said.

GENTLE BLACKMAILER HAS CHANGE OF HEART

MISS VIOLA DANA,

Heretofore known best as a dancer, will come to the New Garrick tomorrow in a thrilling photoplay, "Blackmail," in which she is starred as an adventuress. A sudden change in fancy brings the play to a close with a big surprise.

Musical Comedy—Plaza.

A mirthful, tuneful phantasmagoria of light-hearted love and beauty is "Take It From Me," coming to the Plaza, Superior, for an engagement of one week, direct from a six months' run at the Forty-fourth street theater, New York, and a five months' run in Chicago at the Studebaker theater. It is a Twentieth century miracle—a well-church, Third avenue and Second street played musical comedy.

Will B. Johnstone, a young newspa- Mrs. Elizabeth Mirton Dworshak is York World, wrote the book and lyrics, and in doing so instilled into them the rare humor and subleties that only a newspaper man can see and convey through constant rubbing of elbows with humanity.

Will R. Anderson caught this same spirit in composing the melodies. Tinkling and tuneful, they have a rhythm that makes them readily hummable and whistley.

"Take It From Me" is brilliantly and gorgeously costumed, and is seasoned with some of the most tuneful melodies that the stage has offered in many a day.

One of the best of the collection is "Good, Bad, Beautiful Broadway." Others that are always encored over and over are "Tanglefoot," "The Call of the Cozy Little Home," "I Like to Linger in made, wonderfully bright and perfectly morrow," "Take It From Me" and "Camouflage."

New Plays in Gotham.

From this list, largely, will New York's new plays of the next six weeks be drawn:

"Erminie," Robert Warwick in "The Spider," Mrs. Fiske in "Wake Up, Jonathan," Henry Hull in "When We Are Young," Alexander Carr in "The Dreamer," Grant Mitchell in "The Champion," "The Young Visitors," "Daddy Dumplins," Tom Wise in "The Proper Spirit,' Otis Skinner in "At the Villa Rose," Ruth Chatterton in "Mary Rose," George Arliss in "The Green Goddess," "Princess Virtue," "Here and There,' Madge Kennedy in "Cornered," Mitzi in "Lady Billy," "Sonya," Arthur Byron and Martha Hedman in "Transplanting Jean," "She Needs the Money,' "Honors Are Even," "June Love,' Lionel Atwill in "Deburau," "Sally in Our Alley,' Nora Bayes in "The Family Tree," and "The Mack Sennett Revue."

Fatty Arbuckle to Wed.

Supposedly reliable sources here are buzzing with word of the matrimonial plans of "Fatty" Arbuckle and Dorothy Wallace, former Ziegfeld show girl, now said to be in New York buying a trousseau.

The marriage will take place in New York, according to the bridegroom's confidants, though starting talk to this effect may be another of his practical jokes or a return play on the part of his friends.

BURNS MANTLE TO WRITE TITLES FOR TALMADGES

The Norma and Constance Talmadge Film company have signed a contract with Burns Mantle, dramatic editor of the New York Evening Mail, motion picture editor of the Photoplay magazine and a contributor on stage topics to magazines, to write the titles and assist in the editing of twelve Talmadge pictures.

Mr. Mantle has already titled "Yes or No," "The Branded Woman" and Good References." His next picture will be "Satan's Paradise," on which Norma Talmadge is now at work in the West Indies. Burns Mantle is a great believer in the simple, direct and what he describes as the "sane" titling of pictures. While primarily the picture should tell its own story, he believes that when the diversified imaginations of a theater full of people are permitted to run wild the result is to cloud rather than clarify the purpose of both author and director and, naturally, to weaken the story.

Maurice Tournier Recovers.

Maurice Tournier, the French producer, who has been dangerously ill for the last seven weeks, has recovered and has left California for New York, where he will be present at the premiere of his new picture, "The Last of the Mohicans," taken from the novel of James Fenimore Cooper. This story is credited as being the greatest novel of Indian life ever written.

Mabel Normand Better.

Mabel Normand is recovering from her nervous breakdown at the Glen Springs sanatorium, near Elmira, N. Y. Last week Miss Normand was able to go to Elmira to see Madge Kennedy in "Cornered" and visited Miss Kennedy back stage.

Dancing Taught by Films.

Dancing will be taught by means of the screen if negotiations now under way between Hyman Hirsch, the Manhattan dancer, and the Special Pictures corporation, are completed. Hirsch with his partner, Flo Duval, arrived recently for an engagement at a dance studio and during his stay the Special Pictures plans to make several hundred feet of film using a slow motion camera to show on the screen different steps.

To Offer East Indian Plays.

William Faversham is to present a number of East Indian plays by the Hindu poet, Sir Rabindranath Tagore. On learning that Tagore had written several plays Mr. Faversham, who is conversant with the literature of India through having spent part of his youth there, offered to take a hand in producing them.

She Had But One Consolation

MAE MURRAY.

Miss Murray, with David Powell, will come to the Strand tomorrow in the Paramount picture, "The Right to Love," a play of strong heart appeal.

Dippel Loses Fortune.

Unsuccessful business ventures have melted away several hundred thousand dollars, and he is now selling life insurance in Chicago. His old grand opera friends are getting up a benefit for him.

Divorces Stage for Films.

Henry Arthur Jones arrived in New York this week on the Imperator announcing he was now more interested in pictures than plays. He had been won to this view, he said, by watching John Barrymore's performance in "Jekyll and Hyde."

Lady Diana for Films.

J. Stuart Blackton has engaged Lady Diana Manners, daughter of the duke of Rutland, wife of Dr. Cooper, and England's most famous beauty, for pictures. She will make several specials early next year. Blackton will return from America after Christmas to give the matter his undivided attention.

Post Breaks Own Record.

Guy Bates Post, in the "Masquerader," who closed a week's engagement at the Shubert theater, Kansas City, broke his last season's record with the same play in the same house. With the prices ranging from $3 the week's business went over the $20,000 mark, which is capacity at the prices played.

The latest rumors about John Barrymore are that he will not act on the stage for another year and then probably in "Hamlet." It is also whispered that his latest matrimonial venture is not an unqualified hit.

Arthur Byron's Father Dies.

Oliver Doud Byron, well-known tragedian of former days and father of Arthur Byron, seen here last year in "Tea for Three," died recently at his home in Long Branch, N. J. The elder Byron supported Edwin Booth, J. H. Hackett, Mrs. Scott Siddons and other famous players of bygone days. His wife was a sister of the late Ada Rehan. Arthur Byron is starring this season in a Chicago production.

ANNA PAVLOWA.

Pavlowa, with her great company of artists, will come to the New Armory Jan. 6 as an additional feature of the International Celebrities series being presented by Mrs. Stephen H. Jones.

Kellerman in Vaude Film.

Annette Kellerman is to return to vaudeville—but this time through an educational single-reel picture, "The Art of Diving," in which she demonstrated her art before the standard motion picture camera and then by the slow motion process. The picture has been booked over the U. B. O. and Keith circuits in New York and New England and will be shown in vaudeville theaters all through the country.

Films Scenes of Ancestor.

Robert C. Bruce, who produces Scenics Beautiful for Educational, is returning from the British Isles in a few days after having an experience that has not fallen to the lot of any other picture maker—that of creating a scenic around the life of an ancestor. The picture in question was made in the home country of Robert Bruce, the hero of all Scotland.

Carillo Begins His Harvest.

Leo Carillo, who appeared last season in "Lombardi, Ltd.," at $350 a week, has opened a vaudeville tour over the two-a-day circuit in the East for $2,000 a week. This stipend is about six times what he drew in the legitimate. Carillo will appear as a dialect monologist. Before becoming a stage star, Carillo was a newspaper cartoonist in the West.

Sophie Tucker to Tour.

Following the engagement of Sophie Tucker in the big-time vaudeville theaters of Chicago and the ending of her cabaret engagement in that city, Miss Tucker has made a figure of $2,500 weekly salary to play the Orpheum circuit. The route is being held up pending an agreeable arrangement on the salary.

Dyar Melodrama in Films.

The mystery melodrama, "A Voice in the Dark," written by Ralph E. Dyar, is being made into a photoplay by the Goldwyns. The story is one of those mysterious plots in which the suspense is held to the very end, and Director Frank Lloyd is not permitting even a scene to be photographed for publicity. The play was presented here by the Orpheum Players last summer. Mr. Dyar, the playwright, is a Minnesota man, and is known by many former students of the University of Minnesota who were his classmates.

This merry musical comedy has just had a successful engagement in the Twin Cities, following a long run in New York and Chicago. It will come to the Plaza Sunday night.

Vera Gordon on Stage.

Vera Gordon, the beloved mother of "Humoresque," returned to vaudeville last week after an absence from the American speaking stage of three years. She registered a sensational hit, appearing simultaneously in two theaters and receiving a burst of applause on her every appearance that literally stopped the show. Miss Gordon's vaudeville vehicle is "Lullaby," a sketch by Edgar Allan Woolf.

Woman as Film Hamlet.

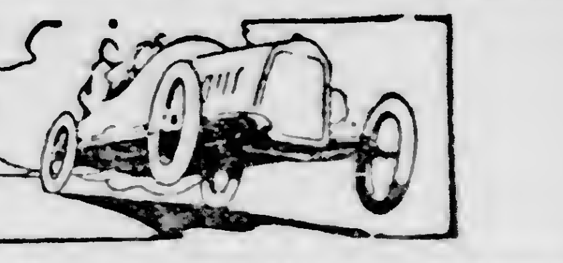
AUTOMOBILE NEWS



BIG REVENUE FROM AUTOS

Half Million Freight Cars Needed Each Year to Move Them.

The railroads are well up in the long list of industries that profit from activity in the motor car trade. Both in its own production and through operations incidental to its growth the automobile industry has been a great boon to the long-haul transportation lines. To build automobiles and motor trucks requires heavy materials, steel, wood, metals, fuel, tires—thousands of tons annually. It is on such activities that our railroads thrive.

Although the amount of freight paid by the industry to the railroads cannot be stated with accuracy owing to the diversified and tremendous amount of shipping to and from plants engaged in the manufacture of engines, wheels, bodies, tires and other parts and materials, some indication of the industry as a supporting factor of the rail lines may be had from figures given out by J. S. Marvin, general traffic manager, National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, in connection with shipments of finished automobiles and trucks from the factories.

Should Yield $100,000,000.

Based on the number of carload shipments of completely assembled machines recorded in 1919 and allotting them to the several territories in about the proportion of registration, the estimate indicates a total freight bill of $56,000,000. In addition to this it is believed that not less than $10,000,000 was paid on carload shipments of parts forwarded from the main automobile plants to branch plants for assembling, which would increase the total to $66,000,000. Applying the increased freight rates recently authorized by the Interstate commerce commission, this sum, it is estimated, will be raised $22,000,000 on an equal volume of shipments during the ensuing year, or a total of $88,000,000.

Many Over Highways.

This figure should exceed $100,000,000 with adequate car supply, because in 1919 130,000 motor vehicles were delivered to buyers over the highways under their own power, to points as far from the factories as 1,000 miles and over. This is equal to 40,000 carloads. But in the first nine months of 1920 so severely did the car shortage strike the motor car industry that 410,730 machines, equal to 130,000 carloads, were delivered to buyers in this manner. Allowing 10 per cent of this quantity as nearby or local deliveries and $100 per carload as an average freight charge on the remaining 117,000 carloads, the amount of freight revenue lost to the carriers through inability to furnish freight cars during these nine months was nearly $12,000,000.

Finished Cars and Parts.

Shipments of finished automobiles and motor trucks from the main plants reach a volume of about 300,000 carloads per year, but according to the freight commodity this figure, including, however, wheels and parts as well as shipments of motor cars from all sources, will be nearer 500,000 carloads. Since Jan. 1 the commission has required railroads to report this as one of the principal items of traffic recorded separately. Figures for the first quarter are now available and indicate 126,621 carloads; this does not include rubber tires nor does it include unfinished materials. Motor cars move largely in trainload lots from the centers of large production, and loading and unloading of freight cars is accomplished with great rapidity, all of which adds to the attractiveness of this traffic from a railroad viewpoint.

The earnings shown above, however, cover only the charges on finished machines and take no account of the immense tonnage in and out of the factories engaged in making tires, engines, frames, bodies and various other parts. In getting their fuel and materials and shipping their output, these plants require thousands of freight cars each month. The shipping by freight and express of automobile parts and other articles and accessories used by automobilists has reached a tremendous volume.

Gasoline and Oil Traffic.

There is also the transportation required to supply gasoline and oil to some 8,000,000 machines that are now registered in the various states. The growth of plants and communities with the incidental building operations and hauling of the necessaries of life, the building of modern highways and many kindred developments create freight traffic for railroads that is traceable directly to this industry, and passenger trains carry daily hundreds of people directly connected with the industry or operations incidental to its development.

STAGING SPEEDWAY IS ONE BIG TASK

Although the running of the 500-mile automobile derby at the Indianapolis motor speedway each year occupies but a few hours of a single day, it requires months of preparation for the staging of this extravaganza of sporting events.

Already plans are being laid for the 1921 race, which will be held over the bricks of the historic Indianapolis track, the most successful of all auto race courses. The big dash for glory and gold will be held Monday, May 30.

Scarcely had Gaston Chevrolet dashed across the finish line a winner in this year's classic before the first ticket buyer for the 1921 race placed his order in the mail. He is an Indiana man and his order will be the first one filled. Scarcely a day has passed that orders for tickets have not been received. Tickets will go on sale Jan. 31, but all orders are filed and will be filled in the order of their receipt.

NEW PIERCE-ARROW ENTIRELY DIFFERENT FROM FORMER CAR

No Pierce-Arrow announcement of recent years has created more interest than the news of the introduction of a complete line of improved Dual-Valve passenger car models.

In concentrating on the production of one chassis type, the Pierce-Arrow company has improved the Dual-Valve engine to a point where a more economical gasoline consumption yielding power, speed and flexibility is found. The left-hand drive has been adopted, inasmuch as the majority of American motorists have become accustomed to its use.

To meet every motoring need, four open models and six closed types of cars are offered.

TWO RACE DRIVERS KILLED IN CRASH ON WESTERN TRACK

GASTON CHEVROLET.

EDDIE O'DONNELL.

Gaston Chevrolet, who was killed Thanksgiving day in a crash with Eddie O'Donnell, another race driver, who was severely injured and died yesterday, held the world's record for the century mark. This was made on Sheepshead Bay speedway, July 4, 1919. The time made for the 100 miles was 54 minutes and 17 8-10 seconds, an average of 110.53 miles an hour, and three seconds lower than the best previous record.

In a large field of drivers, Chevrolet took the lead at the start and was never headed off, although Dave Lewis and "Howdy" Wilcox gave him a real battle all the way. His wonderful speed and driving ability enabled him to maintain his lead and he crossed the finish after a wonderful non-stop run, possessor of the world's fastest record for a 100-mile race. He won a number of dirt track records also last year.

On May 31, last, he won the 500-mile Indianapolis speedway race in the best time of that annual event. His average speed was 88.16 miles per hour. His last race before the Thanksgiving day race at Los Angeles, was at Uniontown, Pa., on Sept. 9, where he took fifth place.

WILL LOWER GAS PRICES

WHY GASOLINE PRICES WILL BE LOWER

This year's domestic production will be about 450,000,000 bbl. of oil, and our imports from Mexico will probably be for this year 125,000,000 bbl., a total of 575,000,000 bbl.—American Petroleum Institute.

300,000,000 gal. of gasoline can be saved annually by reducing evaporation of fuel being delivered to refineries.—United States Bureau of Mines.

Gasoline in August reached the highest production of the year with a daily average of 14,327,143 gal.—United States Bureau of Mines.

Standard Oil company of New York has contracted for 150,000,000 bbl. of gasoline from Mexico in 1921, one of the largest oil contracts on record.

Motorists are expecting a nationwide reduction in gasoline prices to follow the action of the Standard Oil companies of New Jersey and Louisiana which announced a drop of 1 cent per gallon recently.

The statement of Walter C. Teagle, president of the New Jersey company, gave credence to prophecies made in motor circles during the summer that the unprecedented production of fuel would ultimately bring lower price levels.

Official government reports and figures of the oil authorities show that fuel production will break all records in 1920. The American Petroleum Institute predicts a domestic oil output of 450,000,000 barrels, plus a Mexican production of 125,000,000 barrels. This means a gain of 19 per cent in the United States fields.

Highest Production.

The United States Bureau of Mines figures show that in August the highest production figures of the year for gasoline were reached with a total of 14,327,143 gallons.

In addition to the gain in production much of the fuel formerly wasted can be saved. The bureau of mines has pointed out how 300,000,000 gallons of gasoline can be saved out of the 600,000,000 gallons which evaporates from oil on the way through pipe lines to refineries.

Local and national associations of car owners are also encouraging users to keep their carburetors adjusted and engines overhauled so as to get fullest mileage from the gallon. Much fuel loss can be saved in this way.

Greater Oil Output.

Refining companies have augmented the general production due to greater oil output by introducing better "cracking" processes to get gasoline from petroleum. As a result, in some fields the gasoline output from the same amount of oil is now doubled.

Heavy investments are being made by the oil companies not only in new refining machinery, but also in exploration, drilling and research. Faced by a possible serious shortage early in the present year, the petroleum has achieved a degree of growth never before experienced within so short a period.

One of the largest oil contracts on record has been closed between the Mexican Petroleum company and the Standard Oil company of New York under which the former is to deliver to Standard of New York 150,000,000 barrels of gasoline during 1921.

Added to the possibilities of the North American fields are those in South America, Egypt and the East Indies. Russia is also a great potential source of oil.

The flexibility of the oil industry in meeting rapidly increased demands leads the motorists to look forward to ample gasoline supplies at lowered prices.

Returns to Cadillac.

Frank Johnson, designer of the Lincoln car, has returned to the manufacturing department of the Cadillac Motor Car company, to resume an association which began with the planning and building of the first single-cylinder Cadillac, back in 1902.

GOOD ROADS ADVOCATE DECLARES OPEN ROADS MORE VITAL IN WINTER

"It is unthinkable that we should permit the life of the nation to become paralyzed by limiting the use of trucks during the winter months," says a good roads advocate. They are required then more than ever. It is vital to the welfare of the country that the motor routes be kept open during the winter months. Heavy trucks are the best instrument for this purpose, and the heavier models have been successfully used as roadbreakers during the past winters, and are expected to serve the same useful purpose this winter."

TAX PLAN FOR AUTOS KILLED

Proposed Million and Half Added Burden Is Abandoned.

The suggested plan of the national industrial conference board committee to add $150,000,000 to the tax burden of the automobile industry has been abandoned by this body at least, as a result of a hearing. The case for the industry was presented by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, the National Automobile Dealers' association, the Rubber association and the American Automobile association. The meeting was held Oct. 23 at Hotel Astor, New York.

Would Tax Gasoline.

The committee plan, which was explained in detail in N. A. D. A. general bulletin No. 39, was to levy a Federal tax of 50 cents a horsepower on every automobile now in use, to be paid for by the owner, which it was believed would produce $100,000,000 and a tax of 1 cent a gallon on gasoline sold to automobiles, which would raise another $50,000,000. These taxes were to be in addition to the 5 per cent excise tax now paid by the manufacturer and passed on to the dealer.

After the meeting an announcement was made by the committee that the two tax schemes would be eliminated from the committee report to the national industrial conference board.

Autos "Third Best Bet."

For information of dealers we will note that the preliminary statement of the internal revenue collections, 1920, by the commissioner of internal revenue, dated Oct. 8, 1920, show that $144,494,448.79 were collected in taxes from the sales of automobiles for the fiscal year ending July 1, 1920. As a revenue producer for the government we were Uncle Sam's "third best bet." His "ace" was the income, war profits and excess profits tax, which netted $3,957,699,870.70. His second best source was the sale of cigarets, which netted $151,512,415.92. Alcoholic beverages netted $139,853,072.55; non-alcoholic beverages, $57,480,366.44, and theaters, $81,931,780.64.

The taxes on musical instruments returned $13,625,671.69, approximately one-eleventh the revenue from automobiles.

MUST BE CAREFUL ON COUNTRY ROADS

So used does the usual automobile owner-driver become to gauging the speed of motor-driven vehicles, especially if he is a resident of any large city, that he frequently has difficulty in adjusting his ideas of speed when he gets out in the country where the horse-drawn wagons are met with more frequency.

"Unless the motorist watches himself, he is likely to find himself involved in serious difficulty as a result of this natural failing," according to a warning issued by Liberty Six dealers.

"A man will become accustomed to figuring on passing vehicles moving at least better than ten or twenty miles an hour. Along will come a wagon creeping at less than five miles an hour. If the motorist is figuring on passing another car, or worse yet, another wagon, at about the same point on a narrow road, he should slow down a bit and get his bearings pretty carefully, unless he has become an adept at this sort of thing.

"From time immemorial residents of the rural districts have had the habit of drawing up alongside one another on the road for the interchange of gossip. If Mr. Motorist is purring along at thirty-five or forty miles an hour, figuring on passing between two farmers' wagons approaching each other, he should be warned from the experience of others, if he has not been in a similar situation before himself."

Patching Made Easier.

Owners who have experienced difficulty in holding the tube in position for patching or vulcanizing may resort with success to one of the common implements of the housewife. Four patent spring clothespins clamped on the tube will greatly facilitate the preparation of the tube for repairs.—Motor for October.

"IN THE NAME OF GOD, AMEN."

This year is the three hundredth anniversary of the coming of the Pilgrims of the Mayflower, and it is being observed in many ways not only in this country wherever descendants of the Pilgrims live but in England, from whence they came, and in Holland, where they tarried for awhile on their way.

Tomorrow, as a part of this observance, and as a most significant part, is "Universal Mayflower Bible Sunday."

It is fitting indeed that a Bible Sunday should be a part of the tercentenary celebrations of the pilgrimage of the Mayflower, for the Bible was the rock upon which the faith of these Pilgrims was solidly founded, and the spirit of God was upon them in their pilgrimage as truly as it ever was upon the movers in any great advance in human progress.

At the head of the second column on this page appears the compact signed by forty-one adult males in the cabin of the Mayflower on November 21, 1620. It is worth noting, and remembering, that it was dedicated thus: "In the name of God, amen."

And above all, it is worth remembering that it was the worship of God, and the pursuit of freedom to worship God as their reason told them they should, that led them upon the perilous pilgrimage to the grim landing on the bleak autumn shores of New England—the beginning of the history of this great nation.

And, in the sanctity of the Bible Sunday that is to commemorate the devotion and the hardy fiber of these men and women of the Mayflower, let America and Americans mark this well:

That in Plymouth colony America had its beginning in the toil and devotion and sacrifice and strong fiber of men and women who founded their enterprise upon the Bible, and who did what they did "for the glory of God and advancement of the Christian faith."

That America has done well or ill since that autumn three centuries ago, accordingly as it has clung to or departed from the faith of these fathers.

And that all nations, and all men, will fare well or ill accordingly as they cling to or depart from the God these Pilgrims worshiped and the Bible on which they founded their enterprise. Let the test be applied where and when it will, and the result will be the same. The one charter of human happiness is that which God Himself created in the Bible which the Pilgrims of the Mayflower made the constitution of their society; and when man or nation departs from the shelter of its spirit, it has ever been and always will be that the change is from good to evil, from well-being to destruction.

DOES JAPAN ASK TOO MUCH?

California's adoption by popular vote of a law forbidding Japanese to buy or even to lease land in that state has created an issue between the two countries that, with jingoes of both colors at the elbows of the governments all the time, may easily become very dangerous.

Should America heed the jingoes and get ready for war—thereby MAKING war a fact—or should it decide to do the decent thing no matter if it does irritate the people of a state or two?

Of course California can't go to war without the rest of the states, and equally of course if California should get us into a war we would have to fight as best we could. But before thinking of war, why not as a matter of fairness think of the Japanese viewpoint as well as of the California viewpoint?

The Tokio correspondent of the New York Evening Post, after interviewing high officials in Japan, puts the Japanese view thus: Japan isn't vitally interested in whether or not a few thousand Japanese are permitted to own land in California. If California's law forbade any alien, of whatever country or race, to buy or lease land, Japan wouldn't say a word. What hurts is the discrimination, the act of singling out Japanese only for this special form of prejudicial legislation. Japanese immigration, says the correspondent, is not an issue at all. Japan has no desire to send emigrants to this country, and it is not sending them. It has met all our wishes in this respect fully, and has kept good faith with us. Japan's point is that, so far as those already here are concerned, they ought to be treated exactly like all others in a similar situation.

Is there anything wrong with that wish? Wouldn't we expect it of Japan if our own people were affected? If we would expect it for our people, should we not grant it to other peoples—even to the Japanese?

The Herald believes that we should; not to avert a war, but to be right and as a matter of decent fairness.

Editorially the New York Evening Post, commenting on its correspondent's report, says:

> Japanese who have entered California legally should receive exactly the same treatment as members of any other race who are there. They should be admitted to citizenship on the same terms; they should be allowed the same property rights; their children should have the same opportunities for schooling. The law should know no difference between a Japanese resident in this country and an Englishman or a Spaniard. Let us place such restrictions as we think wise upon immigration from Japan, but let us not be false to our professions by refusing to treat with impartiality Japanese whom we do admit or have admitted.

Prejudice may take a different view. Jingoism WILL take a different view. The fairness and the decent consideration for others that are due from every decent citizen and every honorable nation can take no other view than this.

The Mayflower Compact

IN THE NAME OF GOD, AMEN.

We, whose names are underwritten, * * * having undertaken for the glory of God, and advancement of the Christian faith, and honor of our king and country, a voyage to plant the first colony in the northern part of Virginia; do by these presents solemnly and mutually, in the presence of God and one of another, covenant and combine ourselves together into a civil body politic, for our better ordering and preservation and furtherance of the ends aforesaid; and, by virtue hereof, to enact, constitute and frame such just and equal laws, ordinances, acts, constitutions and offices, from time to time, as shall be thought most meet and convenient, for the general good of the colony, unto which we promise all due submission and obedience.

—Signed in the cabin of the Mayflower November 21, 1620.

DAYLIGHT ROBBERIES.

Two facts about the type of crime that occurred in the heart of Duluth in broad daylight yesterday forenoon make it both dangerous and unusually difficult to deal with: First, its boldness; and, second, the readiness for violent if not murderous methods which the criminals display.

Men who rob banks and jewelry stores in daylight are naturally desperate and ready to assume all the chances involved in their enterprise, even the chance that their attacks may result in murder. Moreover, they are cool and shrewd and their plans are well worked out in advance. What those plans may be the police may only conjecture.

The two men who did yesterday's bold job might easily be members of an organization which plans robberies in various towns, traveling leisurely from one town to another, pausing long enough to pick their victims and plan the deed and the escape, and then strolling along to the next town and the next victims, who have not, naturally, any warning of what is coming. They might have an automobile in an alley near by to carry them quietly through the streets and far away; or they might have a spot to lie still in until the hue and cry is over and their departure can be modestly effected.

If the theory that these crimes are committed by migratory bands is correct, then about the only way to cope with them is through the associated work of the police of many cities. In the meantime it hardly need be said that banks and jewelry stores everywhere will be, for a time at least, so nervously on the alert that daylight robberies will be difficult.

A DRASTIC OPERATION NEEDED.

Those innocent and uninformed citizens who have taken the talk of "Democratic inefficiency" too seriously of course are expecting that when the Republicans take full charge of the government next March there will be a magical change over night.

We shall do the Republicans the service of warning such people that they are likely to be greatly disappointed; for though we sincerely hope there will be a great change in the business methods of government, it will not come simply because one party goes out and another goes in. For the curse of government business methods is politics, and in this respect the difference between the two parties is the difference between Tweedledum and Tweedledee.

The only thing that will produce the needed change in the business methods of government is a revolutionary change in the machinery of government.

The machinery of government at Washington is cumbersome, intricate, slow to act and in many cases as likely to act wrongly as rightly. The fact is, though few people know it, that so baffling is this machinery that it makes astonishingly little difference whether the best man imaginable or the poorest man imaginable is at the head of a department as a member of the cabinet. The machine grinds creakingly on, just about the same, so strong in its momentum that the best man possible can't improve its workings much, and the worst man possible can't make it much worse than it is.

What that machinery needs is scrapping. What the country needs is a new set of machinery dated 1920 instead of a machine still dated 1789 though clogged with trimmings and attachments added from year to year.

A business enterprise couldn't run a month with such business machinery.

What is needed is to have business experts start anew and build anew. The government has certain necessary things to do. Let a simple organization do those things and no more be created. That's all there is to it. If it could done, the government's work probably could be performed much better with half the employes now in service.

It sounds and looks simple enough. We sincerely hope the Republicans, who now have full power, will do it. Yet if they attempt it, they will find Politics barring the way and disputing every step. And the dickens of it is that those whom we must look to for the job are largely politicians, too.

So, though the need of a drastic operation is definitely indicated, we are not too sanguine that it will be done. Politics is the root of governmental inefficiency, and it is a political government that is going into power.

It would take a Hoover, with the whole people back of him, to do what needs to be done; for every step of it would have to be taken over the dead bodies of slain politicians.

BETTER STAY OUT THAN SPOIL IT.

It seems likely that there will be no amendments to the Covenant of the League of Nations during the present session of the League.

The committee on general organization has voted not to submit any amendments at this time. Arthur J. Balfour, the chairman, wisely suggested in the committee meeting that it is too early to draw conclusions as to the working of the League or to form an idea how the Covenant may be improved. His idea is that it would be better to watch it work for awhile, and that then, if amendments are suggested by defects thus developed, it will be time enough for changes. The Scandinavian delegates, who presented four amendments, wanted them considered, but they were outvoted. The South American delegates agreed readily to this postponement, their idea being that it would be best to wait until Mr. Harding makes up his mind, after consultation, what changes he considers the necessary price of America's entrance into the League.

The League so far has worked well. It has produced no miracles, but man-made arrangements do not produce miracles. But it has disappointed those who expected it to be unworkable, and the fact that all the civilized world is in it outside the late enemy countries and Turkey, Russia, Mexico and the United States, gives promise that it will be fruitful and useful.

The League cannot reach its possibilities of usefulness unless the United States is in it. It needs the detached and distinterested viewpoint of this country, and we hope it will soon have the benefit of that support.

But whether America should enter the League depends upon the price Mr. Harding sees fit to ask. If he asks changes that would materially diminish the League's chance of efficacy and survival; if he asks in behalf of America special exemptions that would impair the validity of the Covenant and that would induce other nations to begin asking special exemptions of like or different nature for themselves; if he asks any radical changes that would weaken the League and lessen the usefulness of its machinery, then we sincerely hope that the League will refuse to grant him his price, and will go ahead with America left out.

For though we want America to be in the League, and realize that without this country its prospects are greatly impaired, we would rather see America blackballed than have America admitted at a price that would make the League of no valid effect as a protection against war and the causes of war.

A League that embraces all there is of European civilization outside of late enemy countries that soon will and should come in, and Russia, which will come in when it finds itself again, together with the full support of South American civilization, has a fair chance of success even without the United States. A League so weakened by America's example of asking special exemptions that it could not be expected to work much good nor to last long would have infinitely less chance of success.

What Mr. Harding's price is to be we do not know. He has said that he would consult with the "best minds" of the country and decide soon. The list of those whom he has asked to consult with him so far includes few but men who are either against any League at all or for changes plainly destructive; and this is not at all encouraging. Neither is his repeated assertion that "the League is dead"—when it palpably is far from dead—nor his indifference, from the beginning, to the fundamental purpose of the League.

It all depends on what his price is to be. If it is too great to leave much hope that the League will be able to do what humanity wants it to do if the price is paid, then the rest of the world had better go ahead without us, trusting that later on we may come with a different spirit. But because the hope of ordered peace is much weakened with a League lacking this country, it is to be hoped that the price Mr. Harding asks for American participation will not be fatally great.

"The Balance of Power"

By Savoyard.

Washington, Nov. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—It is perfectly natural for a man like Marshal Foch, the French hero, who was in command of the Allied armies when Germany was necessitated to surrender—it is natural that such a man should prefer a treaty of peace founded on the "principle" of the centuries and called "the balance of power." A man of the sword, this great French soldier would depend on the sword for the safety as well as for the glory of France. He feels with the heart of Richelieu and he sees with the eye of Napoleon. He pleads the lex talionis and he would fashion a treaty of peace concluding the World war on plans invented by ancient Rome and lately practiced by Otto von Bismarck.

There is some question as to when the "principle" of the balance of power was first declared, but the epoch beginning with the birth of Charles V, emperor of Germany and king of Spain, and closing with his abdication of the imperial and royal purple, 1500-1555, may be cited as the period when this "principle" was permanently established. It was a mighty age, that first half of the Sixteenth century. Charles V was the mightiest monarch the world had then seen. He was a valiant and a capable soldier, and, according to his lights and the spirit of the age, he was a sagacious and successful statesman. The knightly and chivalrous Francis I was king of France, a hero always, who at Pavia lost all save honor. Henry VIII was king of England. He might have been a great ruler had he given less heed to the passions of his intensely selfish and impulsive heart. Solyman the Magnificent was sultan of Turkey, a foeman worthy the steel of any and all his adversaries. It was the age of Gonsalvo de Cordova, of the Constable Bourbon, of Gaston de Foix, of Martin Luther. William the Silent had just reached man's estate. Francis Bacon was a babe in arms. Francis of Guise and Alexander Farnese were youths at school. The mother of Henry of Navarre was the bride of a petty king. Cervantes was a private soldier and Napoleon had not shed his baby clothes.

There was perpetual war and oceans of human blood were shed to establish a "balance of power" that would stay fixed. Spain, the mighty state, the first on whose dominions the sun never set, was nearly 100 years dying, and so dread was her name and so formidable her fame, that long after her virility had vanished even Cardinal Richelieu, and later, Oliver Cromwell, shrank from contest with her. Spain died of that malady "the balance of power." Henry of Navarre and his great minister, Sully, were preparing to extend the domain of France to the Rhine when the assassin's dagger vetoed that tremendous and magnificent enterprise. Thereafter for years the royal houses of Bourbon and of Austria fought a hundred bloody battles to establish a balance of power that would stay established. The victories of Conde and Turenne, of Marlborough and Eugene, were all in vain to make a balance that was a fixed balance. And so also failed the statecraft of Richelieu and Mazarin. And so, too, failed Napoleon, the mightiest genius of the Christian era. Bismarck likewise failed as did his miserable successor, William Hohenzollern.

Thus for centuries the "principle" of the balance of power has only produced blood and terror. Yet there are great men in the world, some of them in our own beloved land, who hold that the balance of power is the correct principle to settle international dispute. Foch believes that the peace of the world would be far more secure than it ever has been if the domain of the German could be confined to the right bank of the Rhine. And there is reason in it, too; but unfortunately there are some millions of Germans on the left bank, Germans as loyal to the "Fatherland" as Alsace is to France. Foch would annex these to France, though men yet living recall what a blunder it was when Bismarck annexed Alsace-Lorraine to Germany.

The plan of Foch might succeed if it was followed by a century of peace. There is a radical difference between the temperament of your German and your Frenchman. It is impossible for your German to absorb an alien. The Frenchman has a genius for that sort of thing. The Poles in Prussia never became German. On the other hand, millions of Basques at the Pyrennes have become the most loyal of Frenchmen. Alsace is pure Teuton, but was annexed by Louis XIV, and Alsace is now as loyal to France as is Picardy or Provence. And France might be able to make Cologne and Coblenz French as she made Strasburg French; but it would take many years to accomplish it and years of peace at that.

The safety of France and of the world depends on peace, and peace can only be secured by a League of Nations resolute to maintain it and powerful to enforce it.

To the Land

Cleveland Plain Dealer: There is at least one hopeful indication in the present immigration tendency. While the number of new arrivals in the country is regarded by some as alarming in view of the unsettled labor situation, the fact that a considerable proportion of them are not settling in the Eastern industrial centers is encouraging.

This is largely the result of the fact that increasing proportions of the new immigrants are coming from Northern instead of Southeastern Europe. Being made up largely of Scandinavians, English and Dutch, they seek out the agricultural communities of the West. The latest available statistics show that at least 55 per cent of the new arrivals go West. Only 12 per cent now seek out the industrial centers outside of New York. About 33 per cent remain for considerable periods at least in the metropolitan district of New York and its suburbs.

While this last figure is high it should be remembered that many of the arrivals from Italy and Greece do not expect to enter the mills or the factories, but to become small tradesmen or craftsmen of various kinds on their own account. They do not accordingly put as large a burden on the labor market as is commonly supposed.

By WALT MASON.

There's No Rule

Old Gaffer Jinks should be a wreck; for eighty years he's been on deck; and when a man has lived that long his cylinders are hitting wrong in thirteen cases out of ten, but he's a wonder to all men, for he is chipper, blithe and spry, and we all stare when he goes by. And if you ask him for the truth concerning how he's kept his youth, he'll say, "I never smoked or chewed, and no one ever saw me stewed." And this should teach us how to hold the health of youth, which is life's gold. Beware the flagon and the pipe if you would reach an age that's ripe! But now old Gaffer Todd appears, and he has lived for ninety years, and he's so brisk and full of pep it thrills us when we see his step. "How have you dodged," I ask this Todd, "a resting place beneath the sod?" "I've always chewed and smoked," says he; "I like a drink, and sometimes three." And thus we learn, so help us Mike, that we should do just as we like, if we would live to wintry years with supple joints and active gears. Some men, methinks, are predesigned to leave a hundred years behind, and they will see the journey through—makes no diff'rence what they do.

Health Talks

By William Brady, M. D.

Why Be Vaccinated?

If inoculation with the virus of cowpox (vaccination) is a real preventive of smallpox, why are not the health authorities more stringent about vaccinating every seven years, as I understand after that period the subject is again susceptible? (Query of A. S. F.)

The seven year notion is about as sensible as the conception of "seven year itch," or the superstition that broken bones "knit" on the seventh or ninth or some other mystic day, or the tradition that a young mother should remain in bed until or not remain in bed after the ninth day, or the popular fallacy that a fever "turns" or a crisis comes on the ninth or twenty-first day

Inoculation with the virus of cowpox is an unscientific, always risky procedure, because we do not know what the virus is or what it contains. Unquestionably accidental infection in connection with it has brought about some tragic deaths. Unquestionably it subjects the child to a certain risk. Notwithstanding all this, I like to keep myself, my children and all who are dear to me well vaccinated, because I believe in this very unscientific protection.

If the next door neighbors do not believe in it, I cannot blame them. If they do not wish to submit to vaccination, I am bound to admit that they act within their rights. It would be departing far from the principle of fairness and justice for me to insist or for any citizen or legally constituted authority to insist on vaccinating my neighbor's children against his wishes. I'd fight to the last tooth and nail before submitting to such an assault if I did not wish my children vaccinated.

But my unbelieving neighbor has still another grievance. Since he refuses to be vaccinated or to have his children vaccinated, some health departments insist that he and his children shall be strictly quarantined or isolated in time of smallpox epidemic or fear of such epidemic. They assume this position on the ground that the unbeliever might otherwise spread smallpox through the community when coming down with the disease.

I formerly agreed with that view. It seemed to me that the unbeliever should not be permitted to endanger the well being of other persons. But I no longer see it in that light.

If cowpox inoculation (vaccination) is the preventive we believe it to be, let us offer it without fee to everybody who desires to be protected. Then let us discard the isolation or quarantine of smallpox cases. That is no more important than the isolation of scarlet fever or whooping cough today. Let us give the unbeliever carte blanche to go and come as he chooses. All of us who believe and are vaccinated have nothing to fear from him; all of those who do not believe and are not protected are surely entitled to take the risk involved.

It is inconsistent to oppose the anti-vaccinationist. Give him all the rope he wants. Why should we who are protected worry?

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Beauty Sleeps.

I am a girl 14 years old and uncertain as to the number of hours sleep I should have each night. Please inform me about that. (Alma.)

P. S.—This child is of nervous temperament and we have set 9 o'clock as her bed time. She thinks that is too early. We find when she gets less sleep she is peevish and irritable. I have intercepted her letter, as I wished you to understand, for she abides by your decision. Sincerely yours, Alma's mother.

Answer: Assuming that you get up at 7:30 every morning, in order to keep well—and have the finest complexion into the bargain—you must be abed by 9:30 every night, Alma. Not less than ten hours sleep every night till you are 20 years old. And even at that, a wee bit of beauty sleep after dinner, if possible, is a secret worth having.

Ginger Ale.

Please tell me whether it is all right to allow children of from 2 to 13 years of age to drink ginger ale, moxie, kokolo and such beverages freely, as a daily habit. (W. E. M.)

Answer: It is all wrong. Grape juice, orange juice, lemonade or any other unadulterated and noncarbonated beverage may be taken daily by children of that age. The carbonated beverages, the beverages containing various condiments and drugs (ginger is both) are absolutely bad for anyone to use habitually, and particularly for young children. Ice cream, the various sundaes, are all right as an occasional indulgence. We must not forget that growing children who expend a great amount of energy also in their play, crave, need and should have more sugar and sweets than their parents require, as a rule.

Just a Moment

Gracious God and Father, enable us so to live that our home may send forth a Christian influence, and that all who enter into our family circle may be made better because Christ is manifested. Teach us to be more loyal to the church and more faithful in the performance of our duties in order that we may bring the church into our home and take the life of Christ in our home out into the church. Teach us to be more loving, tender-hearted, and helpful. Enable us to make the hospitality of our home not only a blessing to others, but a message of the gospel of salvation to all who share it. We commit ourselves and our home and all with whom we are connected into Thy keeping. Guard and protect us through this day, and give us strength to perform its duties and to do Thy will in all things. We ask it in the Name, and for the sake, of Jesus Christ. Amen.—Mark A. Matthews, D. D.

The Horrors of Science

Egyptian Mail: We had looked upon a long ocean voyage as one of the few means left of escaping for a while from what is apt to become at times an exceedingly tiresome world; and we confess that it is with mixed feelings that we read of our fellow journalists who were regaled in midocean with the strains of the national anthem sung for their delectation 2,000 miles away. These things must be, no doubt, yet, without wishing to adopt an ultra conservative pose, we hope we may be allowed to register the sentiment of sadness occasioned by the thought that the day is at hand when there will be no spot in the world from the Antarctic ocean to the highest peak of the Himalayas where one will really be safe from the infliction of "Little Gray Home in the West" or the latest details of Miss Mary Pickford's taste in hats.

The Future of Labor

Editorial in the Washington Post.

With reports of unemployment increasing in many industrial sections and evidence on every hand that the country is passing through a period of economic readjustment, the leaders of organized labor assembled in Washington face a future as full of uncertainties for the workingmen of America as it is full of uncertainties for business. They are in the same boat, and neither can gain any advantage by rocking it. Both will weather the storm safely together if they will but realize that their interests are identical and that neither can profit permanently at the expense of the other.

Radicalism is deplorable, whether it be preached and practiced by labor or capital, and charges and counter charges calculated to stir up animosities will lead to no good end. Business knows that during the war period labor succeeded in raising the wage level to unheard of heights. That it is the intention of labor to keep wages up as high as possible has been virtually admitted, but there is lacking evidence of the existence of a plot or a conspiracy to reduce wages and to put all industry on an "open shop" basis.

The issue of collective bargaining through representatives chosen by the unions was the rock upon which President Wilson's first industrial conference split. It was an issue forced by labor, and when the point was not conceded it was the labor group which emphasized the breach by bolting the assembly. Certain elements in labor have overstressed the importance to organized labor of the concession of this point, but it must be remembered that collective bargaining, as between employers and their own employes, is a pretty generally recognized institution and that there is no conspiracy in this country against trade unionism and never will be. Public opinion supports the union idea.

It will be recalled that at the first industrial conference called by the president there were three groups—labor, capital and the public—and neither labor nor capital should for one moment forget that in all their disputes the public is the third party, equally interested with them. The public, long suffering from high taxes and higher prices, from excessive living costs and inadequate housing facilities, has a right to expect relief from the burdens patiently borne by all classes of people of fixed incomes. In the readjustment which has been going on in this country for about five months a certain amount of unemployment was an inevitable consequence. The people of the United States could not go on forever supporting a labor edifice the cornerstone of which was the production of nonessential luxuries. When the people came to their senses—with the assistance of the banks—and ceased throwing their money away on the silk-shirt things of life, industries founded on popular extravagance were hurt, and with them their work men and women.

The reaction also slowed up the buying of essentials, but folks must have clothes and houses and the essentials, and the unmistakable tendency is toward normal conditions. If labor furnishes the brains and the brawn and capital the motive power of industry, the public, in the last analysis, holds the whip hand over both; it furnishes the demand, and without demand there can be no production, and hence no profits for either labor or capital. The basis of the whole economic structure is what President Roosevelt called a "square deal," and this includes a square deal for the public.

Any extreme measures taken by labor or capital will hurt the public, and the public will fight back by refusing to buy. It is in that mood today.

There are some ugly signs of storm clouds on the horizon. Certain labor leaders are talking belligerently, and in some quarters are coming rumors of retaliatory measures by large employers. Both courses are dangerous. The country needs industrial peace, not economic-social war, and it looks to the leaders of thought in the ranks of capital and labor to work together for the common welfare, not to pull apart.

ADULT BIBLE CLASS CAMPAIGN CLOSES SUNDAY

Tomorrow marks the close of the first city-wide Adult Bible class campaign conducted on the "Four-Square" basis. Much has been accomplished in the campaign period. Duluth was not strong on organized adult classes. Some new classes have been organized; others have taken new life; a fine spirit has been put into all, and they are now prepared to render vital service to the church and community.

Among the outstanding achievements the Glen Avon Presbyterian Women's class had an attendance of 95 per cent, home Bible study, 92 per cent, and church affiliation, 100 per cent. Bethel Sunday School Training class started with seven members, now has twelve, with a fine record attendance, home Bible study and church affiliation. Merritt Memorial Methodist Episcopal, Twentieth Centurys, gained 66 per cent, with a steady record in other features. Bethel Swedish Baptist Anti-Cant's averaged 95 per cent in attendance and 96 per cent in home Bible study. Lester Park Methodist Bereans gained 96 per cent in seven weeks, and will doubtless pass 100 per cent gain. Splendid general records have been made by all the classes which cluster around the top of the list and by those well down the list. Fine work has been done all along the line.

By unanimous vote of the representatives of the classes, it has been decided to hold another campaign beginning Dec. 5 and continuing through the winter to Easter, March 27. For the seven weeks of the current campaign the leading thirty-three classes stand as follows:

Tomorrow is Mayflower Universal Bible Sunday. This phase of the celebration of the tercentenary of the landing of the Pilgrims is one in which every man and woman who appreciates what the Bible has meant to this nation can take part. The adult classes of the city extend a broad invitation to all men and women to attend the class of their choice tomorrow. Whether a member of a church or not, whether a student of the Bible or not, they ask that the day be honored by attending some church and taking part in the Bible study and discussion. In these adult classes, all present have the right to ask questions and express opinions. The classes invite you to attend tomorrow and to make a practice of regular Bible study.

GRAND FORKS, FARGO PROTESTS ARE HEARD

Grand Forks, N. D., Nov. 27.—Concluding arguments were made in the district court here yesterday in the action brought by the cities of Grand Forks and Fargo to obtain temporary injunctions against the light, heat and power companies of the two cities to prevent the imposing of the surcharge of electricity, gas and heat rates allowed by order purported to have been issued by the state railway commission. The case was taken under advisement by the judges.

William Lemke, special assistant attorney general, in behalf of the citizens of Fargo, and W. J. Mayer, city attorney of Grand Forks, argued that the order had never been legally issued by the railroad commission on the ground that it was merely signed by two of the three commissioners as individuals and was not passed at a formal session of the commission.

Defend Commission's Act.

Robert Fowler of Fargo, and Tracy R. Bangs of Grand Forks appearing for the power companies, argued that the state law provides that acts of the commission are not invalidated by an informality of procedure.

Attorneys Lemke and Mayer intimated that they would be willing to allow the surcharge to go into effect pending a final hearing of the case on its merits providing proper guarantees for a refund in case the final decision is adverse to the companies are given.

Judges C. M. Cooley, M. J. Englert and A. T. Coole heard the case.

MANY SCANDINAVIANS GETTING PASSPORTS

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 27.—Approximately twice as many applications for passports for travel in foreign countries have been issued this year as compared with 1919, it is shown by records in the office of Thomas E. Howard, Federal court clerk here.

With more than a month left to this year, 1,147 passports had been issued by the local office up to Nov. 19, while but 644 applications were favored during the entire preceding year.

The Scandinavian countries—Sweden, Norway and Denmark—are the destinations of a large portion of passport seekers, Mr. Howard believed. Business trips, a desire to tour the native homeland, the travel trips are causes for the increase in foreign expeditions, he said.

In the first six months of 1919 applications for passports were not very numerous, but with each succeeding month, up to April, 1920, more requests were received for them. In April 210 passports were issued, surpassing any other month in the two years.

During the last four months there has been a decided decrease in the number of passports issued. The comparative figures follow:

During 1919—January, 23; February, 15; March, 22; April, 28; May, 27; June, 32; July, 77; August, 68; September, 73; October, 94; November, 90; December, 95.

During 1920—January, 80; February, 68; March, 176; April, 210; May, 174; June, 118; July, 69; August, 60; September, 58; October, 83; up to Nov. 19, 51.

FINDS BOOZE BOTTLES.

Then Asks Attorney General What to Do With Them.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 27.—"Should I advertise two bottles of whisky which I found by the railroad tracks in an attempt to find the owner?" was the unique question put to Col. Albert F. Pratt, assistant attorney general, yesterday.

The questioner had found two old bottles of whisky along with a broken bottle on the railroad tracks. Mr. Pratt advised the man that he should not transport the whisky, but declined to state what he told him to do with it.

The bottles were not carried to the capitol.

Col. Pratt said that there are numerous instances of whisky bottles being thrown from trains by persons who fear that they may be detected when they enter the Twin Cities on trains that have come from Canada.

All Others Have Failed

MR. IVAR NEIRO

Dr. Wentworth,
2031 W. Superior St.,
Duluth, Minn.

Dear Doctor:

About 3 years ago I was taken sick with pneumonia, and just as I was getting well, rheumatism attacked me. I went to about twenty-five doctors, but could not find relief. I became very weak, and, to add to my misery, also grew acutely nervous.

One day I happened to see your advertisement in a paper and decided to try you as a last resort. Now, at the time I write this letter, I have been under your care for two weeks, and already feel like a new man—am stronger and healthier than before and have gained several pounds in weight.

I shall advise all sick and unhealthy people to come to you, as I know that you can relieve them when all others have failed, and by wonderful, natural methods.

I do not know how to thank you, but I certainly do feel grateful, for I think you saved my life.

(Signed) IVAR NEIRO.
68 High St., Lanesville, Mass.

Mr. Neiro's letter is one of many similar letters which Dr. Wentworth receives. It speaks for itself. Dr. Wentworth does not claim to be a "cure-all," but there are many cases similar to the above in which he has caused the trouble to entirely disappear. If you are a sufferer from any disease, do not delay, but go to see him at once, and he will tell you frankly if he can help you.

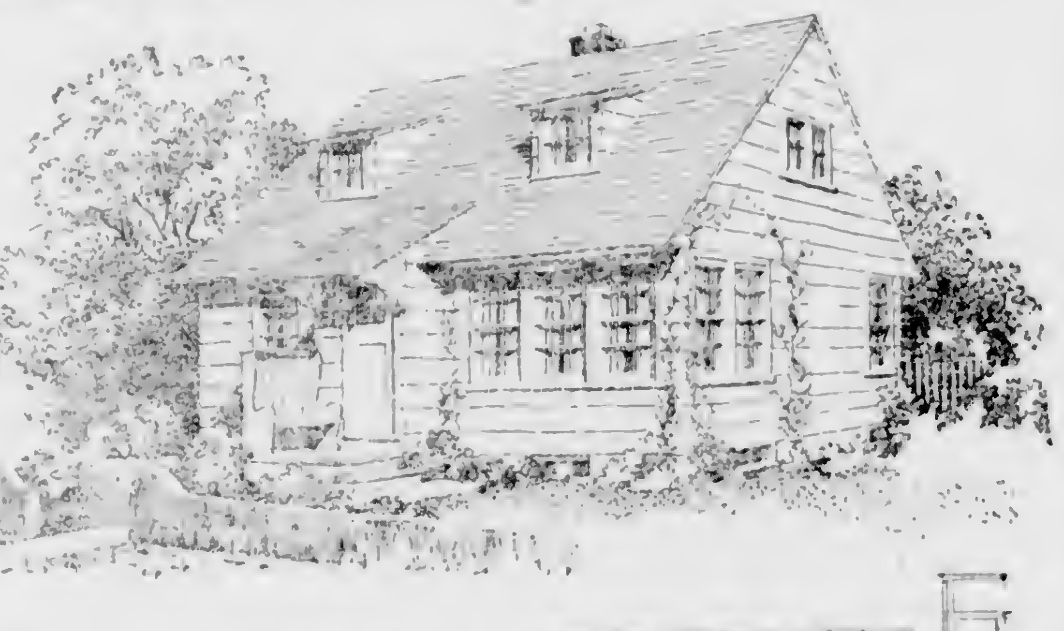
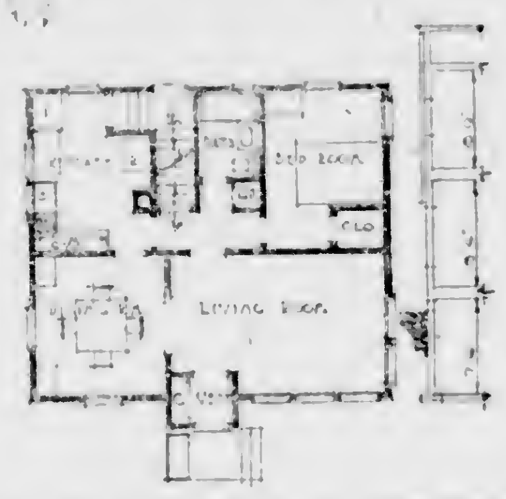
Every Inch of Space in This Home Is Used to Advantage

The plans, specifications, complete working drawings and details for this home, are ready to use and offered to home builders by the Architects' Small House Service Bureau, Inc., of Minnesota, 716 4th Ave. South, Minneapolis, for minimum cost. The cost includes personal counsel and professional advice concerning all problems in connection with the erection and equipment of this home.

No. 133





The idea in this plan was to provide a home of four rooms and bath on the lines of a bungalow. Every inch of space has been used to advantage and yet the outside appearance has not been neglected.

The quaint hooded entrance, the hospitable, inviting seat placed at the side of the front door, the massing and grouping of windows in the living room—these features make this home unusually attractive externally and give you a sunny, pleasant interior.

The windows in the living room are grouped in one corner. This arrangement makes the room cool and pleasant in summer and it also provides plenty of sunshine in winter.

The dining room is on the front of the house. By using a colonnade the dining and living rooms can be opened up into practically one large room. This will add spaciousness to the appearance of the home.

The bath and bedroom open off a private hall and are, therefore, separated and removed from the living room. By this arrangement the bedroom is quiet and private and can be kept at a lower temperature than the rest of the house. A linen closet in the hall is convenient to both bedroom and bath.

There is plenty of space on the second floor for a comfortable, large bedroom and storage. Stairs leading to the second floor adjoin the kitchen and also open from the private hall. This assures private access to the bath for people occupying the upstairs bedroom.

In a small home pantry room occupies valuable space. In this kitchen there are plenty of cupboards and closet room. The kitchen is light, airy and cheerful because of the three windows which give cross ventilation and light from both sides of the house.

Even though this home may be classed as a small one, it offers an unusually large amount of space for living and working purposes. Considering the second floor and its possibilities for sleeping purposes, you have a house which might easily be converted into six rooms if necessary. This home is Colonial in spirit with simple, dignified and good proportions. As it stands, it is a frame house with heavy exterior bungalow.

The dormer windows serve three purposes—light, ventilation and attractiveness to exterior design. They break the broad expanse and decided pitch of the roof and are important factors in achieving the beautiful external appearance. The plan, even though it calls for frame structure with bungalow siding, can be interpreted in stucco on hollow tile, wire lath or keyboard. It might be built of cement blocks and treated with a dashed stucco finish.

HOUSES IN GOOD DEMAND

Sales for Week Make Good Showing; Industrial Drive Coming Soon.

House properties bulked up largely in the list of transactions put through in real estate circles during the last week. The records show that a substantial number of sales were recorded, mainly in the moderate-priced types of houses, and operators were busy upon many prospects.

An interesting development in the week was the turning up of inquiry for improved and semi-improved farms by farmers from the Middle West desiring to locate on cheaper lands up this way. An operator mentioned that he has an inquiry in hand for a block of 7,200 acres of land in the upper part of St. Louis county. The prospective buyer proposes to utilize it for sheep grazing and later to divide it up into small tracts for sale to farmers.

Another dealer concluded a preliminary agreement with an Illinois buyer for a parcel of 250 acres of improved land in Carlton county. Taken on the whole, specialists in farming lands are looking forward to the most active movement in years next spring in farming lands in this vicinity.

The setting is being staged for a broad industrial development campaign to be inaugurated early in the new year. Members of a Duluth Commercial club committee asserted that they are working on a number of new industrial projects for this city, and it is hoped that interesting announcements in connection with them will be forthcoming in the near future.

Other business in the hands of real estate operators includes a long term ground lease of a central business frontage and the sale of a block of industrial property in West Duluth.

The Kenneth S. Cant company reported the sale for F. A. Barber to A. E. Halverson of a house and lot at 5614 London road at $6,500, and of a house and lot on Lombard street for L. R. McLachlan to a local investor at $7,500. Earnest money was also received on the sale of an East end home at $15,000.

The Field-Frey company reported the receipt of earnest money on the sale of an apartment house property in the East end. The transaction is being made with a view to closing out an estate.

Wabasha, Minn., Nov. 27.—Funeral services were held here Friday for Cyprian Buisson, pioneer Mississippi river pilot, who died in St. Paul Wednesday, aged 72. He was born here, his father, Joseph, having emigrated from a Canadian-French settlement to Prairie du Chien, Wis., and then to Wabasha, being an agent for the American Fur company at Mendota in the early '40s. In 1864, the junior Buisson pulled an oar on a floating raft for an old pilot at Wabasha. When the steamboats came he became pilot on the "Clyde," working for many years on the river. Mr. Buisson is survived by his wife, Lillian, and one sister, Mrs. J. A. McLaughlin, wife of an Indian agent at Fort Totten, N. D.

BIG SUM FOR THEATER JOB

A permit for $60,000, issued to the Clinton Investment company in connection with the improvements that have been under way in the Lyceum building since early in the year, was a feature in building operations during the last week. It is estimated that the reconstruction of the building will entail an ultimate expenditure of $300,000. The work is expected to be completed within the next two months.

Building operations in Duluth and in towns over the Northwest promise to attain large proportions next year, according to information received by Frederick W. Armstrong, secretary of the Duluth Builders' exchange. Several large schools and other public building projects in the iron range towns and at other points over Northern Minnesota are expected to be taken up early in the new year.

The erection of the United Protestant church at Morgan Park will be proceeded with as early in the spring as weather conditions will permit. It is understood the contract for the church will be carried through by George H. Lounsberry, the contractor for the other units of building in Morgan Park. The building is estimated to cost $125,000.

Duluth contractors propose to figure upon many outside jobs to come out after the beginning of the year. Included in the list is a Baptist church at Brainerd, Minn. It will be of brick, and is estimated to cost $125,000. George Beale, Brainerd, is the chairman of the building committee.

* * *

A large brick passenger and freight depot is to be built for the Northern Pacific at Cloquet, Minn. It is understood that the concrete foundations will be put in at once, and that the brick and steel superstructure will be proceeded with next spring.

* * *

Plans are expected to be received at the Duluth Builders' exchange shortly for a three-story brick and tile high school to be built at Jamestown, S. D. The building is estimated to cost $200,000. Shannon, Boyd & Boyd, Jamestown, are the architects.

* * *

The plans have gone out to contractors for figures for the Second Presbyterian church to be built in the West end. The bids are scheduled to be opened next Monday and it is thought likely the contract will be awarded shortly by the building committee. Holstead & Sullivan are the architects.

John Olson is building a $4,000 frame dwelling at 300 Chestnut street, and Knute Preva a $3,500 house at 4025 West Eighth street.

MAN WHO RECKLESSLY WOUNDED EGDAHL UNKNOWN

Ashland, Wis., Nov. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The identity of the hunter who shot and wounded Egdahl, the Cornucopia hunter who was brought into Ashland Thanksgiving day, is a matter of interest to hunters and game wardens. Like the auto driver who knocks a man down and runs away, hunters who shoot others are apt to shirk the responsibility resulting from their carelessness by disappearing, as was done in the case of the Egdahl shooting.

Egdahl was carrying a rifle when a bullet struck his hand, carried away three of his knuckles, broke the lock of his gun and glanced off, pieces of the broken lock entering his hip and making a wound as large as a bullet would have done. He was picked up by some hunters, taken to Iron River and from thence to an Ashland hospital.

LACK OF SNOW IS DEER'S PROTECTION

Ashland, Wis., Nov. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Little or no snow has doubtless decreased the slaughter of deer in the Northern woods during the present season, which will end next Tuesday. Plenty of deer have been seen, however, usually singly, but sometimes in small herds, a herd of ten deer, for instance, having passed a camp near Spider.

The present system known as the "one buck law," under which it is lawful only to shoot bucks, and only those having horns over three inches in length, results in hunters who are over eager shooting quite a number of does and young bucks, whose carcasses are often left in the woods to feed the wolves, but the continued protection of does is necessary if the Wisconsin deer are not to be exterminated.

Hunting by torchlight and also with hounds, which prevailed until the nineties, have long disappeared under the pressure of public opinion and the laws of the state, although isolated cases sometimes occur, but the worst form of illegal hunting, is that of the set gun. The set gun, is equally dangerous to hunter and hunted, more than one hunter having been shot through the body by a set gun covering a deer trail. On a par with this, is the illegal practice of hunting wolves by dynamite, a dynamite cap or other explosive fastened by a stout cord to a piece of frozen meat exploding when the meat is touched. At least two cases of mangled hands have occurred in this vicinity, but none of late years.

ST. PAUL PLUMBERS' STRIKE CALLED OFF

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 27.—The St. Paul plumbers' strike has been called off by officials of the Journeyman Plumbers' local union, according to statement made by M. J. O'Neill of the arbitration committee.

The strikers return to work at a wage of $8 a day and with no recognition of the closed shop by the master plumbers. The strike started last May, the demands of the strikers being a $10 a day wage and the recognition of the closed shop principle by the employers. Previous to that time the wage scale was $7 a day. The strikers were offered an $8 a day wage at that time which they refused.

WHEAT PRICES CLOSE HIGHER

Market Active on Export Demand; Crushers' Interest Support Flaxseed.

Duluth Board of Trade, Nov. 27.—A turn came in the wheat market today with prices showing advances on reported bidding by exporters at the seaboard and the working of a fair volume of trade in that department. The market promptly responded to the better sentiment and hopes were entertained in some quarters that the downward course of the market has been arrested.

December spring wheat closed 1¾c up at $1.47¼ asked, March 2½c up at $1.49¾ asked, December winter 1¾c up at $1.46¼ nominally, December durum ½c up at $1.48¾ nominally, and March 2¼c up at $1.52¼. The cash wheat market was better and all the offerings of both spring wheat and durum on the tables were disposed of.

The rye market was slow and its tendency easier. Spot rye closed 1c off at $1.38; December 1c off at $1.28 and May ½c off at $1.29.

Oats were strong with active inquiry. Spot oats closed 1⅝c up at 42@43c. Barley was practically unsalable. Its spot market closed unchanged at 50@67c.

Flaxseed Steadier.

"The worm seems to have turned in the flaxseed market," remarked a specialist. It was noted that crushers were in the market persistently during the session and boat space was reported to have been taken for another cargo to go East.

November flax closed unchanged at $1.90 nominally; December unchanged to 1c up at $1.90@1.91; January unchanged at $1.93 nominally and May unchanged at $2.03.

At Winnipeg, November flax closed 3c up at $1.88 and December 3¾c up at $1.85¾.

A New York wire said: "Sales of gulf wheat yesterday were placed on very high authority at over 2,000,000 bu and did not include foreign acceptances made after the market had closed. The buying of wheat for export this week both from America and Canada for foreign countries is well over 9,000,000 bu, which with flour sales, would amount to 10,000,000 bu."

* * *

Russell's News, New York, said: "Fresh sales since the close yesterday were 1,000,000 bu, mainly to Germany. Premiums were stronger. Gulf and nearby 22c over; January, 21c over; February, 20c over, and No. 2 Manitoba, 2c to 3c over."

A Chicago wire said: "Wheat sold off on an erroneous report that 3,000,000 bu had been cleared from Fort William, headed for Chicago. It is probable tat a large amount will be sent to Buffalo and seaboard for export."

* * *

A New York wire said: "It is intimated that the British bought some wheat under cover; reporting 250,000 bu rye taken and more orders are here. Exporters are finding difficulty securing wheat and rye to fill sales."

CHICAGO MARKET.

Chicago, Nov. 27.—Initial strength was shown in all grain futures at the opening of today's session of the Chicago Board of Trade. Unusually large export sales, further buying for that account, big trading at Canadian centrs, a falling off in Northwestern receipts, reduced acreage in Kansas and reports of very light country offerings at Kansas City combined to bring about fractional advances at the start. One report had it that gulf export sales of more than 2,000,000 bushels were recorded yesterday and that there were further foreign acceptances after the market closed. Southern Europe was given as the principal buyer, it being understood that the British food commission had abandoned American markets for Canadian because of the foreign exchange situation.

December wheat opened 1½c to 1¾c higher at $1.54 to $1.55 with March practically unchanged at $1.48 to $1.18½. On the buying, December worked to $1.54½ and then jumped to $1.56, while March showed a greater relative gain by touching $1.52.

Light offerings on the advance and persistent commission house buying tended to keep the market on an upward trend. The close was fairly steady at $1.55½@1.55¾ for December and $1.51¼@1.51½ for March.

Corn and oats followed slowly in the wake of the wheat rally, their firmness being accentuated by continued short covering through commission houses. December corn opened unchanged to ⅛c lower at 65c to 64⅞c, then rallied to 66½c. May corn opened at 71c to 71¾c, progressed to 73¼c. May oats started at 48¼c to 48⅛c, advancing to 48¾c.

There were some recessions in the closing trades in corn. December went to 66¾c, but closed at 66½@66¼c. May corn closed at 72⅞@72¾c. Oats remained fairly firm, May closing at about the top.

Provision markets were dull but steady. Trading was light and mostly in lard.

WEAKER TONE IN COPPER STOCKS

Commenting on the current situation in the mining stocks market, Skillings' Mining Review of today says: "The stock market may be expected to discount the return of sound conditions in business but that is not looked for immediately. Prices of standard issues have gone much lower than was expected. As an example of the disregard for values, it is figured that Calumet & Arizona, which sold at $44 recently, has an intrinsic value of $75 to $80 per share. Cash and quick assets account for about $40 and mines and smelters and other property for as much more. In arriving at values of quick assets copper metal is put at 12½ cents, Liberty bonds at 90 cents on the dollar, and New Cornelia stock at $13. One can take the list of standard copper issues and make a showing for each that is all out of proportion to the prevailing prices. Greene-Cananea, Utah Copper, Anaconda, Nevada Cons., Shattuck and many others are now very attractive. The Shattuck has excellent speculative possibilities on account of the silver property which is being developed in Mexico. The feeling that this will be a bonanza is becoming well grounded in some well informed quarters."

W. W. Lytzen, superintendent in charge of the Big Ledge copper properties in Arizona, reports to the officers that the preliminary tests of the new concentrator have been very satisfactory. The principal test was with 100 tons of average mine run ore, and Mr. Lytzen reported that the recovery was above expectations, and that the mill in every respect is exactly suited to the treatment of the ore, as intended it should be. The mill has a capacity of 100 tons per day.

Sentiment Adversely Affected by Cuts in Commodity Prices.

New York, Nov. 27.—Stocks were unsettled at the outset of today's short session, sentiment being more adversely influenced by overnight developments. These indicated further revision of industrial and commercial conditions and additional reduction of commodity prices. Several specialties were weak in connection with reports affecting the financial status of a former prominent operator. Chicago Pneumatic Tool fell 12 points but later recovered the greater part of its loss. Stromberg Carburetor, Crucible Steel, Mexican Petroleum, Virginia-Carolina Chemical, Atlantic Gulf and kindred specialties reacted 1 to 4 points. There were a number of substantial rallies later on short covering. The closing was irregular. Sales approximated 350,000 shares.

CLOQUET MILL WILL START AGAIN MONDAY

Cloquet, Minn., Nov. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Next Monday will see the start of the winter sawing season at the Johnson-Wentworth company mill. This mill, which was overhauled most thoroughly during the summer and the engine and boiler house rebuilt and enlarged, is now in the very best of condition to make a record cut. Two crews will be employed at the mill, which is to run day and night throughout the winter.

It was expected that the mill would get an earlier start for the winter cut, as it was ready on Nov. 15, but the mild weather made the log supply uncertain, so a delay occurred from this cause.

The plant of the Berst Manufacturing company resumed operations this week, the butter dish and physicians' supplies departments starting at full capacity on Wednesday.

McMANUS A JINX TO CITY IN DAMAGE SUITS

Attorney A. E. McManus is proving himself a "jinx" to the city attorney's office when it comes to trying and settling law suits against the city.

Attorney McManus figures that in the last three personal injury cases he has tried against the city in the district court his clients have received about $4,800 more than they would have been willing to settle for.

The case of Levina Stimson against the city could have been settled for $250. It went to trial and a jury awarded a $1,000 verdict against the city.

The case of Ada P. McManus against the city might have been disposed of for $600, but the city attorney insisted upon trying it and the verdict was for $3,160.

Yesterday a district court jury awarded Amanda M. Cullen $2,000 in a personal injury case against the city. The plaintiff offered to settle this case for $500.

RESTRAINS R. R. FROM RAISING STATE RATES

New York, Nov. 27.—All railroads operating in New York State have been restrained from raising their interstate rates next Monday, Deputy Attorney General Edward A. Griffin announced here today in making public temporary injunctions issued by Supreme Court Justice Cropsey late last night.

Buys Baudette Bakery.

Baudette, Minn., Nov. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—George Welch of Toronto, Ont., purchased the J. L. Donahue bakery store on Friday and will take possession at once. His family will move here from Canada in a few weeks. Mr. Donahue will remain here and is dealing with some parties for a business trade.

REDUCTION IN STEEL PRICES

Independent Companies Make Reductions to Industrial Board's Basis.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 27.—Most of independent steel companies already have followed the lead of the Jones & Laughlin Steel company of Pittsburgh, which reduced prices on bars, plates and structural shapes yesterday to the level of the United States industrial board's prices of March, 1919, or about to do so, according to high steel authorities here. Several of the larger independent interests have advised their sales officers in other cities, it was said, to accept new business at the industrial board's prices.

Steels bars, $2.35; structural shapes, $2.45; plates, $2.65; base Pittsburgh. Adjustments in prices of wire and cold rolled steel are to follow.

No reduction in wages is contemplated immediately, according to the best information obtainable. It was freely predicted by steel officials, however, that a wage reduction is inevitable within the next few weeks.

Not Comparable.

The new selling prices are not comparable with previous prices on any fixed basis, as some of the independents have been asking as high as $4 for bars, plates and shapes, it was reported, and others have been receiving more conservative prices, ranging between $3 and 3.25.

The general feeling throughout the trade here is one of satisfaction at the decision to reduce prices. It is believed here now that the immediate result will be to stabilize the steel market. The sentiment here seemed to be that the bottom level of prices has been reached.

A feature of the situation is the continued steady demand for steel pipe and all tubular goods, steel officials said, for which there is heavy buying in the oil industry and also in the building trades. A firm demand for these, it was said, and for certain wire products, notably nails, has resulted in the prices on these commodities not being reduced to the industrial board's prices.

North Dakotan Buys Farm.

Ladysmith, Wis., Nov. 27.—The Frank Langenbach place of 440 acres, northeast of here, has just been sold to Frank Wisherd, North Dakota farmer and stockman, who will bring his blooded horses and cows here. The defendants were also ordered by the court to destroy certain old sacks filled with vermin and other refuse which they had piled in the passage way. DAILY AERIAL MAIL SERVICE ON MONDAY

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 27.—Daily aerial mail service between the Twin Cities and Chicago will be inaugurated Monday with a mail plane leaving Speedway field at 10 a. m. for Chicago and a plane departing from Chicago at 8:30 a. m. for Minneapolis, Postmaster E. A. Purdy announced this morning.

The first plane from Speedway field is expected to carry 200 pounds of mail bound from the Twin Cities to Chicago and Eastern points. It will be piloted by William Carroll, veteran Minneapolis flyer and former member of the Royal Flying corps.

The temporary schedule under which the planes start their flight calls for five and one-half hours between the Speedway field and the Checkerboard field in Chicago. This includes a stop of thirty minutes at La Crosse, Wis., and will be reduced when the pilots become more experienced with the De Haviland planes.

Only first-class mail will be carried by the planes. There will be no additional charge for postage, but the phrase "via air mail" must be plainly marked on each letter.

PLAN PROBE OF RYAN AFFAIRS

Committee to Inquire Into Financial Condition of Capitalist.

New York, Nov. 27.—Plans for forming a committee of bankers to inquire into the affairs of Allan A. Ryan, capitalist, whose corner in Stutz motors stock startled Wall street last April and resulted eventually in his expulsion from the stock exchange, after he had himself announced his resignation, were considered today at a conference of bankers and attorneys at the offices of the Guaranty Trust company.

The action, it was understood, is being taken in an effort to prevent a receivership, as the recent depression of the stock market is reported to have contracted the value of securities on which Mr. Ryan's exetnsive loans were based.

Liabilities involved are reported to approximate $16,000,000, while Mr. Ryan's assets are given as between $20,000,000 and $25,000,000. He is confined to his home by illness.

Banks Interested.

The banking interests reported in the movement include the Guaranty Trust company, the Chase National, Mechanics and Metal National and First National banks, the Empire Trust company, the Lawyers' Title Trust company and several others. These institutions are reported to hold Mr. Ryan's paper for large loans to finance his various interests.

The corner in Stutz engineered by Mr. Ryan last April gave the stock exchange one of the most exciting periods in its recent history. Stutz went up and up, under Mr. Ryan's pressure on "shorts" until a corner in the stock resulted.

Ends in Expulsion.

The board of governors of the exchange promptly suspended dealings in the stock and Mr. Ryan, in a statement bitterly criticizing the governors, announced his resignation. Instead of accepting the resignation, the governors conducted hearing which ended in his expulsion. Mr. Ryan now has pending a large suit for damages against the board.

The Ryan interests include in addition to the Stutz Motor Car company of America, the Stromberg Carburetor company, the Continental Candy company, Chicago Pneumatic Tool company, and Hayden Chemical company.

The meeting today was informal becaue of the absence of over the week-end of many bankers and interested lawyers, but it was decided to hold another conference Monday at which all the financial interests are expected to be represented. At this time formal plans for taking charge of Mr. Ryan's affairs will be considered.

WILL FIGHT WIFE'S SUIT FOR DIVORCE

Julius Merzwiki, aged 33, is going to oppose the attempt of his 21-year-old wife, Bertha Merzwiki, to get a divorce from him on the grounds of cruelty.

He filed counter charges against her today accusing her of being in the habit of associating with men of loose character and branding her story about him owning $5,000 real estate in Boston as "a myth, existing only in her vivid, but altogether too fertile brain."

As to his wealth, he alleges he has a $5 bank balance in one of the local banks and that he has an income from the Singer Sewing Machine company of $150 a month.

Mrs. Merzwiki in a divorce complaint filed yesterday charged that he had slapped her on numerous occasions and that he used vile language in addressing her.

They were married on June 6, 1913, and are parents of one child, a son, aged eight and a half months.

Seven or eight months after their marriage, Merzwiki claims in an affidavit filed today, she ran away from him and joined a traveling carnival show. With the assistance of her mother, he traced her as far as Huron, S. D., where they found her in a dance hall, he alleges. Promises of numerous gifts and other concessions induced her to reluctantly return to her home in Duluth, he asserts.

After that she began to run out nights and was often seen with men and women of low character. About eighteen months ago, he claims, she was found in the room of a man called "Mandy" Harris in the Hammond block, Superior, "under circumstances pointing strongly to the fact that illicit relations had been had between them."

Merzwiki also alleges that another time, at the Elgin hotel in this city, she was with another man under similar circumstances. He further charges that she has been in the habit of making trips with men in automobiles to Iron River, Wis. On Jan. 1 last she left him, he said, saying that she was going to Pennsylvania to close up an estate left by her father.

Past Masters' Night.

The Past Masters of Euclid lodge, No. 198, A. F. & A. M., will be the guests of honor at a meeting of the West Duluth Masonic lorge at the West Duluth Masonic temple. WILL CLEAN UP BAD GANG Court Sentences One, Suspends Two and Warns Others.

West Duluth boys who have been giving the authorities considerable trouble for the last few months and who have been responsible for crimes committed in that section of the city to a large extent, were given a warning by Judge Bert Fesler in district court yesterday when he announced in disposing of the cases against several West Duluth boys that reformatory sentences would be imposed by the court until the crowd of trouble makers had been cleaned out.

Mell Anderson, Felix Rice and Ed Goneau all of West Duluth were arraigned before Judge Fesler and pleaded guilty to an information charging them with burglary in the third degree. Mason M. Forbes, first assistant county attorney, appeared for the state and T. J. Doyle for the defendants. The three boys and Joseph Baudin, also of West Duluth, were jointly charged with having, on Nov. 6 last, broken into the shoe shining parlors of Frank Langlus, 313 Central avenue, and to have stolen $43 in cash, $10 worth of cigarettes and a pistol.

Attend Dances and Church.

They told the court that after the burglary they got into Anderson's Ford car and attended a public dance at the Shrine auditorium after which they drove to Two Harbors and attended another dance there, later driving back to Duluth. That morning being Sunday, Anderson testified that he drove the boys to church to attend an early mass.

Baudin was on parole from the Red Wing reform school and previous to yesterday's hearing had been returned to that institution for violation of his parole. Anderson, Rice and Goneau were each sentenced to terms of not more than five years in the St. Cloud reformatory. In view of the fact that Anderson and Rice had not been in serious trouble before, the court suspended their sentences and placed them on parole for one year.

Goneau to Reformatory.

Goneau was on parole from the work farm where he was sentenced to six months for taking an automobile without the owner's permission. He was also under indictment for riot in connection with the June 15 lynching of three negroes. The court committed him to St. Cloud. Upon his release from that institution he will be liable for the other two charges against him.

In paroling Anderson, Judge Fesler stipulated that he must keep away from all public dances and that furthermore he must not ride in automobiles, his own or that of any one else. Rice was also ordered to keep away from all public dances. Both Rice and Anderson claimed that all the money which had been stolen after the burglary was $17 and that no cigarettes or gun was removed from the place. They were ordered to each pay the owner one-half of the amount they admitted taking.

More Are Sentenced.

Judge Fesler sentenced James Kelly to a term of not more than five years at St. Cloud. Kelly admitted the theft of $133 from Nels J. Benson, fellow worker at a Duluth dairy, on Nov. 18 last.

The court deferred sentence for a few days in the cases of William Henry Owen, charged with forgery, and Willard Conklin, accused of having had carnal knowledge of a 15-year-old girl. Both pleaded guilty.

"NO MONEY," SAYS WARREN

Faced with a demand that street car service be improved immediately and the prospect of increased demands to be made for improvement in lines on main business streets and Woodland avenue next summer, Herbert Warren, general manager of the Duluth Street Railway company, admitted to the city council yesterday that he saw no way in which the work could be done, as the company was showing at present a profit of only 1 mill to the operating mile.

The conference was called yesterday to discuss complaints regarding the extent and quality of service being given. Mr. Warren appeared for the company and a number of citizens appeared and took part in the general discussion. Commissioner J. A. Farrell was commissioned by the council to go into the matter at length and report to the council. A comparison of the 1917 and 1920 schedules will be first made. These will be furnished Commissioner Farrell by the company next week.

Earnings and Equipment.

Mr. Warren, in response to inquiries, went into detail as to the present equipment and the earnings of the company. He explained that since the recent election, when the people voted against an increase in the rate of fares charged, the company had given employes an increase in wages of 10 per cent. To do this it had been forced to cut its service wherever it would stand it and also take from service six cars, which were being rented at considerable cost. This, he explained, was the cause of complaints of early morning and late evening service.

The congestion on the East end and West end lines, he said, was occasioned by the natural increase in street car traffic at this time of the year and would last only a short time. Many owners of automobiles tie up their cars at the first snowfall and this throws a heavy burden on the street car company. This year the heavy increase came on Nov. 12, when there were more than 3,000 increases overnight.

The question of service during the early morning and late evening hours on Sundays was discussed, and Mr. Warren explained that it was true that the company had cut its service. He said it was forced to eliminate all cars that would not show a profit, but had continued certain cars to accommodate those who must get to work early in the morning.

At the present time, he said, there were 104 cars being used by the company. About eighty-five of these were being used all the time. Part of the others were continually in the shop being overhauled and others were held in reserve for special pullouts. He admitted the company had shipped six cars back to Minneapolis after the recent election, but these cost the company a high rental and when the service was cut it was a useless waste to keep them.

Every point that could be cut in the operating expenses was pared down as low as it could and still give the best service possible without showing a loss. As it is, the company's books show only a profit of 1 mill to the operating mile, he said.

Further Work in Doubt.

When questioned as to the possibilities of being able to go ahead with the relaying of the rails on Superior street between Third avenue east and Eighth avenue west next summer, he admitted he did not know where the money was coming from. The company could not borrow, nor could it sell its bonds, without showing it could pay the interest on them, and this it could not do under the present conditions. The proposed improvement on East Superior street and on Woodland avenue would require considerable expenditure by the company, but he said he did not see how the company could get it. The question of the city allowing $15,000 for the work on Grand avenue last summer was discussed and in answer to Commissioner Voss' inquiry as to whether and when the money could be paid back, Mr. Warren said he did not know, as the company had no surplus. Commissioner Voss notified Mr. Warren that the city could not advance the cost of relaying the rails in the downtown section and that the company would have to figure the problem out for itself.

Mayor Hugo suggested that Commissioner Farrell be named to confer with Mr. Warren over the possible solution of the problem and to report the findings to the council. Commissioner Farrell asked for the schedules of former years and for this year. These were promised by the middle of next week.

VICTIM OF BLACKMAIL

New York, Nov. 27.—John T. Meehan, deputy chief of the shipping board's bureau of investigation, testified before the Walsh commission yesterday that charges of alleged division of money by R. W. Bolling, President Wilson's brother-in-law, Lester Sisler and Tucker K. Sands, obtained from the Downey Shipbuilding corporation of New York for a "favorable contract" were not "thoroughly investigated" by the board. Sisler is a former secretary of the board and Sands a former Washington bank official.

He explained the department's failure to go deeper into the charges as due to his opinion that Mr. Bolling, now treasurer of the shipping board, "was the victim of attempted blackmail."

Meehan testified, however, he had received no instructions to halt the investigation and that it was still open.

Meehan had testified previously, but he was recalled by the committee after Sands had repeated his allegations that Bolling and Sisler were involved in the division of the money, the proceeds of notes given to him by Wallace Downey.

Investigated in June.

The extent of his bureau's inquiry, Meehan testified, was to talk to Bolling, Admiral Benson, Martin Gillen, special assistant to Former Chairman Payne and to ascertain if the department of justice had investigated the subject. The investigation, in so far as the shipping board's men went into it, he said, took place about June 1 this year.

Meehan added that his opinion that the charges were without foundation was, to a certain extent, induced by the "reputation of the men from whom he believed the charges emanated." He admitted he did not examine Sands' books and that he did not go to the Downey corporation to ascertain why it would be necessary for them to pay $40,000 to secure a contract when they had previously been awarded one by the board for a much larger sum.

Chairman Walsh asked him if he knew of a single investigation that the shipping board made prior to 1920 and Meehan replied that he did not.

Meehan said his first knowledge of the charge came to him in January, 1920, when he was at Philadelphia. He went to Washington, saw Alonzo Tweedale, comptroller of the board, and told him of the reflection on Mr. Bolling's character and standing.

Nothing to It.

"I was informed by Mr. Tweedale," the witness said, "that it had been investigated, and that he, Tweedale, was satisfied there was nothing to it."

He then said he went to Bolling, and Bolling readily agreed that his private books should be examined, which Meehan did. He said he saw an anonymous letter addressed to Secretary McAdoo, touching on the matter, and he also ascertained that the department of justice investigation of the matter had disproved the allegations.

The summing up of the matter was, as he stated, that Bolling, to his mind, was an attempted victim of blackmail on the part of Sands.

He also said he had talked with Gillen and that he also gathered from Gillen that the investigation had gone far enough—that Bolling was straight.

Meehan agreed with Chairman Walsh that, in view of the seriousness of the charges, it was "right" that they should be publicly investigated.

ONTONAGON CHURCHES ARE TO GIVE MOVIES

Ontonagon, Mich., Nov. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Methodist and Presbyterian Federated churches of this village have purchased a modern motion picture equipment and will use is extensively in connection with the services of the churches and community programs.

A committee of four, appointed by the officers of the churches, have the whole matter in hand. They selected a type of machine which can be used anywhere without a booth.

It is the plan of the churches to have one weeknight program when from two to five reels of the best pictures available will be shown and on Sunday evenings one or two reels of a religious and moral character will be used in connection with the regular services.

When Mr. Hood, pastor of the churches, was asked if it were not a new venture for churches to get into the moving picture game, he said that it was only so far as Ontonagon was concerned. Reports recently sent out show that nearly 3,000 churches are now regularly using the moving picture machine in various services.

In Memoriam

GUSTAFSON—In sad memory of my brother, Robert H. Gustafson, who died in the service of his country, Nov. 27, 1918.

And we know that he little thought
When leaving home,
That he would never return,
That he so in death would sleep,
And leave us here to mourn.
Could he have raised his dying head
And bade us his last farewell,
The blow would not have been so hard
To us who loved him so well.
Mrs. JOHN O. SHOLUND.

READ THIS CAREFULLY

If you are interested in buying a fully equipped, 1-man's farm, or if you have a Duluth property that could be used for a rooming house with good location, we would consider an exchange. The owner of this farm has made considerable money. The farm and stock are all clear of encumbrance, and on account of his age and his family all being grown up he wants to retire from farming and run some small business in the city. This farm consists of 100 acres with 50 acres absolutely clear of sticks, stumps and stones and under cultivation; first-class soil; close to nice lake; 30 acres more all cut off and ready to be broken up next spring, and 20 acres into nice maple, oak and basswood; a good 6-room house with post foundation; cellar under the house large enough to hold 800 bushels of potatoes; stable room for 15 head of stock; a good granary, chicken house and machinery shed. The farm is practically all fenced and cross-fenced with oak posts and wire. A small orchard of apple trees, currant bushes, gooseberries and cherry trees. Stock: Five graded milch cows, 7 heifers, 3 young cattle, 1 2-year-old Holstein bull, 5 horses, 2 hogs, 70 Plymouth Rock chickens. Machinery: One binder, mower, hay tedder, hay rack, silo, manure spreader, sulky plow, 2 steel harrows, 2-horse cultivator, single cultivator, walking plow, potato digger, potato planter, 2 wagons, 2 buggies, 2 sets of double harness, 1 set of single harness, 1 disk sharpener, steel stock tank and heater, dimension stuff and lumber all on the ground for a large barn; 40 tons of hay, several hundred bushels of oats and barley. A lot of small tools and articles valuable on a farm and too numerous to mention. Location 4 miles from Carlton, 3 miles from Wrenshall, rural mail route, telephone in the house. If you will call at our office we will present you free with a 1921 calendar.

STORM NOW SUBSIDING AND OUTLOOK BRIGHTER

Ship of Business Has Not Foundered or Gone Ashore.

Condition of the Country Is Sound and Improvement Seen.

By THEODORE H. PRICE,
Editor, Commerce and Finance.
(Copyright, Theodore H. Price Publishing Corp.)

New York, Nov. 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—It is to be doubted whether America ate its turkey and celebrated its distinctive holiday in a very thankful spirit last week. Our blessings are many and our opportunities are innumerable, but the pain to which we have been subjected by the recent decline in prices has not left us in an entirely grateful mood.

But the storm is subsiding, the weather is clearing and it is possible for us to get our bearings and estimate the damage that has been done. The ship of business has not foundered or gone ashore, and while some of her crew may have been seriously injured the fatalities have been few and those who have been hurt are being nursed back to health again by financial specialists of great reputation. Some surgery and amputation has been necessary, but it is surprising that the gale did so little harm, and with favoring breezes we should soon be on our course again.

The mercury of the financial barometer is rising, for at 44.1 per cent the reserve ratio of the Federal reserve banks was higher last week than it has been for many months and there is every reason to expect a still higher figure soon.

Call money has loaned as low as 4½ per cent, the ruling rate has been 6 per cent and time loans on collateral are offered at 7½ per cent. The deposits of the savings banks of the state of New York which now exceed two and a half billions, show an increase of 10 per cent in the last twelve months and what is more significant, a gain of from 3 to 5 per cent within the last three months.

Less Extravagance.

As the loudly proclaimed reductions in prices have not made much impression on the cost of living until very recently, these figures must be accepted as indicating less extravagance and greater thrift. The result may be unpleasant for those who profited while the people were "splurging" but in the long run the effect will be salutary.

On the stock exchange prices have recovered somewhat and none of the failures predicted have occurred, although it is generally understood that the holdings of some over-extended speculators have been taken over en bloc by bankers' syndicates. Some castles in the air may have been demolished in the process, but no real wealth has been destroyed, and while the

APPEALS ARE BEING HEARD

Boston, Mass., Nov. 29.—The controversies within the Christian Science church came before the full bench of the supreme court of Massachusetts today, for arguments on questions of law. The disputed points largely represented exceptions taken to the findings of Judge Frederic Dodge, who, as master in the original suit brought by the trustees of the Christian Science Publishing society against the board of directors of the church, sustained the plaintiffs in their main contentions.

Since the litigation began in March, 1919, it has assumed various phases through intervening suits, but broadly speaking the outstanding issue is whether the authority of the board of directors of the Christian Science church extends over the trustees of the publishing society, which publishes the Christian Science Monitor and other church periodicals. Judge Dodge held that it did not.

The arguments will occupy the time of the court today and tomorrow, the total of ten hours alloted being divided among counsel.

Six Cases to Be Heard.

Although not consolidated, the docket contains six cases, which were to be heard in sequence. First to be argued was the suit of the trustees of the Christian Science Publishing society against the directors of the Christian Science church, in which the plaintiffs ask that the respondents be enjoined from interfering with the affairs of the publishing society. The trustees claim that under a deed of trust made by Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy, founder of the church, they are independent of control by the directors, who, in the exercise of powers which they maintain are conferred under another deed of trust made by Mrs. Eddy and in conformity with the plan of church government which they maintain was laid down by Mrs. Eddy in the church manual, have sought to remove Lamont Rowlands from his office as trustee.

Judge Dodge, who heard the evidence, held that the directors did not have authority to remove Rowlands, and that such removal could be made only by the concurrent action of the directors and the First Members of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston (the Mother Church). The First Members on Jan. 10, 1901, adopted a bylaw transferring all their powers to the directors, and whether they can now regain their former status is an issue before the court.

Although a bill in equity brought by John V. Dittemore, who was removed by the directors, to compel the latter to recognize him as a fellow member of their board, was not fully heard by Judge Dodge, he decided the removal of Dittemore was illegal. This ruling is among the exceptions taken by coun-

BRITISH WILL NOT HALT THEM

Passports to Be Issued to the American Irish Inquisitors.

By DAVID LAWRENCE.
(Copyright, 1920, by The Duluth Herald.)

Washington, Nov. 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—The committee of five Americans who plan to investigate conditions in Ireland will have no difficulty about their passports. The British government has determined to take no official cognizance of the matter, and the British embassy here is treating the request for the "visa" or approval of passports in much the same way as it would treat the request of any American citizens.

Similarly the department of state will issue passports to the committee in the same routine way that passports are given to any Americans who want to go to Great Britain on pleasure or business. There has been some talk in the last few days that the department of state might decline to issue passports on the ground that the visit of the commission might be regarded as an interference in the politics of another country, but the commission on the other hand is an entirely private affair and its request for passports does not differ from that of five newspaper men or any other group of individuals who want to write about conditions in another country. The department of state will not be responsible for the reports or utterances of the commission any more than it is for the writings of American correspondents residing in Ireland or anywhere else in Europe.

Britain Could Have Refused.

Of course it was entirely within the right of the British government to refuse approval to the passports of the commission. Frequently during the war the United States government would issue passports, but the French or British governments would refuse to approve them and there would be passengers turned back at the steamship by the officers of the ship, because none of the steamship companies would accept passengers who did not have their passports approved in advance by the consular or diplomatic representatives in the United States of the country of destination.

The British government might have refused to approve the passports of the investigating commission without necessarily giving any reasons but such a step, it was felt, would only aggravate Irish-Americans in this country and add fuel to the flames. On the

SENATE COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE CABLES

Washington, Nov. 29.—The whole question of cable landings in the United States, including the present controversy between the Western Union Telegraph company and the state department, is to be investigated by a senate committee, it was announced today by Senator Kellogg, Republican, Minnesota.

Senator Kellogg said the inquiry would be held in connection with his pending bill proposing to empower the state department to regulate cable connections in this country. He added that he already had requested Newcomb Carlton, president of the Western Union, and other cable companies to have representatives at the hearing. State department officials also will be invited to attend.

OBJECT TO TAKING OF YARDS FROM PACKERS

Washington, Nov. 29.—Opposition to any plan for divorcing the five big meat packing companies from their stockyard properties by court decree, as tending to interfere with enactment of controlling legislation, was expected in a joint statement issued here today by Charles A. Lyman, secretary of the National Board of Farm Organization, Florence Kelly, secretary of the National Consumers' league, and Mrs. Maud Wood Park, president of the National League of Women Voters.

The statement was also signed by representatives of the Farmers' National council and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. Control of the meat packing industry must be "exercised as a whole," the statement said, adding that congress "can and should" promptly enact legislation to that end when it convenes next week."

GOVERNMENT OF GREECE SEEKS FAVOR OF ALLIES

Hope to Pave Way for Return of Former King Constantine.

Ex-Monarch Will Not Come to Athens Until After the Plebiscite.

Gounaris Believes Benefits of Turkish Peace Should Come to Greece.

Athens, Nov. 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—It is probable that Former King Constantine will not return at once to Greece, but after the plebiscite to be held on Dec. 5 a number of deputies and ministers may go to Switzerland to notify him of the result of the vote. Every effort is being made to win the favor of France and Great Britain, which is taken to be evidence that Greece is disposed to remain pro-Ally.

"The benefits of the Turkish treaty," said Demetrios Gounaris, minister of war, to the Associated Press today, "should in any case come to Greece, because they were not given her because of the personal influence of Former Premier Venizelos."

Followers of the former premier, as a party, are officially requested by leaders of the organization, not to take part in the plebiscite. They point out the plebiscite will be held in order to clear the present cabinet and also Constantine of responsibility, and to make the Greek people responsible for whatever consequences the return of the former king may have.

No Unfavorable Word.

The newspaper "Estia," official organ, states the present Greek government has received no unfavorable word from the Allies regarding its actions.

Returns from the vote cast by the army in the election of Nov. 14 show that it will give the followers of Constantine a larger majority in the chamber. It is reported that 50,000 ballots cast by the army were fraudulent.

Constantine Still at Lucerne.

Lucerne, Switzerland, Nov. 28.—(By the Associated Press.)—Reports that Former King Constantine of Greece has already left for Athens are officially denied here. He has no intention of leaving Lucerne before the Greek plebiscite next Sunday. Present arrangements, which are tentative, are that Constantine, his family and suite will leave on a special train for Brindisi a week from next Tuesday or Wednesday, and it is intended to embark there on a Greek warship. Should a deputation be sent here from Athens to announce to Constantine the result of the plebiscite, however, it is probable he will await it before leaving.

EXTRAORDINARY JURY IS BEING SELECTED

New York, Nov. 29.—Selection of an extraordinary grand jury ordered to inquire into criminal evidence uncovered by the joint legislative committee in its investigation of the alleged "building trust" was begun today before Supreme Court Justice McAvoy.

Samuel Untermyer, chief counsel for the committee, indicated a request to Governor Smith for a second extraordinary grand jury would be made within a short time. The mass of evidence accumulated by the committee was declared to assure several weeks' work for two grand juries in addition to the present jury which has returned several indictments.

FEDERAL TROOPS IN CONTROL AT MINES

Williamson, W. Va., Nov. 29.—Federal troops brought into Mingo county yesterday at the request of Governor Cornwell were today disposed at strategic points throughout the district where miners have been on strike since last July. The situation is well in hand and no disorders were reported.

Coal operators estimated today that of the 5,000 miners in Mingo county the strikers numbered between 1,500 and 2,000 and that production had increased from 3,500 tons in July, when the strike was called, to 60,000 tons for the first half of November.

David Fowler, representing the international organization of mine workers, denied the strike was broken, declaring:

"We have just begun to fight."

The tent colonies established by the United Mine Workers for striking miners and their families are still well filled.

SPECULATION CAUSE OF COTTON ADVANCE

Cairo, Nov. 29.—Extravagant speculation following the armistice was responsible for the advance in cotton prices in 1919, which carried the product to a point 300 per cent higher than normal, says a statement by the Egyptian government. The present world wide check in expenditures, it says, has arrested speculation and compelled the owners of cotton to enter the market.

"The United States," it continues, "which last year bought one-third of the Egyptian crop, is now taking only a very insignificant quantity. This is exercising a depressing effect upon prices."

DOUGHTY BROUGHT BACK TO TORONTO

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 29.—John Doughty, former secretary to Ambrose J. Small, Toronto's long-missing millionaire theatrical magnate, arrived here today in custody of officials from Oregon, where he was arrested in connection with Small's mysterious disappearance.

Doughty seemed cheerful and chatted with his counsel immediately after his arrival.

Mentioned as Albanian King.

Athens, Nov. 29.—Serious consideration is being given Admiral Coundouriotis, former regent of Greece, for the throne of Albania, says the newspaper Embros.

WEALTHY N. Y. BUILDER IS ON TRIAL FOR PERJURY

GEORGE BACKER.

BANKS ARE PROTECTED

Have Sufficient Collateral to Cover Any Loans Made Ryan.

Washington, Nov. 29.—Comptroller of the Currency Williams announced today that there were no loans to Allan A. Ryan of New York, or his firm, by banks under supervision of the comptroller's office, which did not at the present seem to be covered sufficiently by collateral.

The comptroller made his announcement after a conference with Mr. Ryan. The comptroller's statements added that so far as he knew Mr. Ryan was in debt to very few national banks.

Few National Banks.

"As far as I am advised," Comptroller Williams' statement said, "there are no loans to Mr. Ryan or his firm held by banks under the supervision of this office, which do not at this time appear to be sufficiently covered by collateral. I will also add that there are very few national banks, as far as my information goes, to whom Mr. Ryan owes a dollar."

The comptroller added that his statement explained itself and gave concretely the result of the conference at which he said Mr. Ryan laid before him his financial condition. Mr. Williams said he did not expect any further conferences with Mr. Ryan, but refused to say whether any action would follow from the meeting. He added that information on which he recently charged New York banks with exacting unjustifiable interest rates came from other sources than Mr. Ryan.

Would Retain Untermyer.

New York, Nov. 29.—Allan A. Ryan, financier, who several months ago aroused the financial world through his alleged manipulations of a corner in Stutz motor stock, today announced he had conferred with Samuel Untermyer with a view to retaining the attorney to take charge of the readjustment of his financial affairs. Mr. Ryan said that Mr. Untermyer would make known his decision later in the day.

It is announced that an informal conference of representatives of the banks and trust companies representing the largest creditors of Mr. Ryan will take place today, but no further statement dealing with his assets and liabilities is likely to be issued at this time.

PRESIDENT TO DEVOTE HIS TIME TO WRITING

Washington, Nov. 29.—Although it has been understood that President Wilson, after he leaves the White House on March 4, will devote his time to writing, this became known today with a degree of finality. Mr. Wilson will make his home in Washington, but he has not obtained a residence.

Joseph P. Tumulty, the president's secretary, plans to remain in Washington after March 4 and he intends to write some books about the president, with whom he has been associated ten years. Mr. Tumulty has been offered a place on the customs court of appeals, but he has reached no decision as to accepting the appointment.

SECOND TRIAL IN RAPE CASE; JURY DRAWN

Testimony is being taken this afternoon in district court before Judge A. E. Giddings of Anoka in the case of the state against William M. Miller, negro, charged with rape. A jury to try him was selected shortly before noon today.

Miller is the second of seven negroes indicted for assaulting an 18-year-old white girl at the Oneota circus grounds on the night of June 14 last, to face trial.

Max Mason, the first, was found guilty by a jury in Judge L. S. Nelson's division of the court on Saturday afternoon. The jury retired at 9:51 a. m., and brought in a verdict of guilty at 3:25 p. m. The court granted a forty-day stay of sentence.

The crime, for which the negroes are being tried and for which Mason has been convicted, carries with it a penalty of a penitentiary term of not more than thirty years.

Appeal in Mason's Case.

Attorney F. L. Barnett of Chicago, of counsel for the defense, announced Saturday that a motion for a new trial would be sought and, if denied by the court, an appeal to the supreme court would be taken.

Jurors selected this morning to try Miller, the second of the negroes indicted, are: J. C. Fisher, 1927½ East Fifth street; John E. MacGregor, 1518½ Jefferson street; Eben S. Spencer, 2105 East Second street; J. W. Lent, 1810 Piedmont avenue; J. G. Luxon, 1600 Woodland avenue; Harold Wold, 1025 East Eighth street; George Sternal, 2801 Wellington street; Carroll F. Graff, 1601 East First street; Paul C. Filbert, 5812 Cody street; Benjamin Sher, 311 East First street; P. J. Mulohand, Hibbing, and Emil C. Strauss, Virginia.

In outlining his case to the jury, County Attorney Warren E. Greene declared that the complaining witness and her 18-year-old escort, James T. Sullivan, will probably testify that Miller did not actually carry out his designs against her himself, but that he was present and assisted others to make the assault upon her. This, the state claims, is equivalent under the law to the crime charged under the indictment and the prosecution will build its case against Miller along this line of testimony.

FIRING OF LUMBER YARDS NEAR LONDON AVERTED BY POLICE

London, Nov. 29.—Half a dozen men who were preparing to set fire to a large lumber yard in the district of Finsbury, an important section of the city of London, less than a mile north of London bridge, were surprised by a policeman Saturday night. This attempt was almost coincident with the breaking out of incendiary fires in Liverpool.

The policeman challenged a loiterer, who immediately attacked the officer and shouted for help. Five men, with revolvers answered his call, emerging from behind some empty wagons and rushing the policeman, who was compelled to liberate the man he had seen. All the men escaped. Searching behind the wagons, the policeman found cotton waste soaked with gasoline had been pushed through a gateway of a lumber yard and he also discovered two revolvers and 100 cartridges. One of the supposed incendiaries was later arrested.

VOTE ADHESION TO THE THIRD INTERNATIONALE

Strasbourg, France, Nov. 29.—The congress of the Unified Socialist party of the district of Strasbourg and its suburbs has voted adhesion to the Moscow third Internationale by a vote of 657 to 178.

(Yesterday the congress of the Unified Socialists in the Paris district voted for adhesion to the third Internationale, as a result of which fifty-eight delegates from Paris will go to the national congress of the Socialist party pledged to the support of the Moscow organization.)

MINESWEEPER'S CREW BROUGHT SAFE ASHORE

Duxbury, Mass., Nov. 29.—The minesweeper Swan, famous as a wartime figure for its part in laying the North sea mine barrage, was a wreck on Gurnet sandpit today, but her crew was safe ashore as a result of the life-saving exploits of Capt. Jack Glynn and his Gurnet coast guard crew.

After the Swan was driven onto the shoals yesterday the guards brought the fifty-six men aboard to safety through mountainous seas. The rescue work was accomplished by breeches buoy and surf boat.

SAYS LIVERPOOL FIRES RESULT OF CONSPIRACY

EDWARD SHORTT.

London, Nov. 29.—Edward Shortt, the home secretary, declared in the house of commons this afternoon, in reply to questions regarding Saturday night's incendiary dock fires in Liverpool, that there seemed no doubt that the fires were the result of an organized conspiracy in which members of the Sinn Fein party were engaged.

COMMISSION OF MANDATES

Geneva, Nov. 29.—(By Associated Press.)—The council of the League of Nations today approved the final draft of the project for the permanent mandates commission, definitely accepting the tentative proposal to have the commission comprise five nonmandatory and four mandatory powers. It was decided that all the members be chosen by the council.

The permanent commission, it is forecast, will probably meet once a year at Geneva and review the administration of the mandate holding countries. Detailed rules for the commission also were ratified.

The council did not consider today the proposed invitation to the United States for its participation in the discussion over disarmament.

Important Questions.

Among the important questions which will come before the assembly this week is the question of admitting Austria and Bulgaria to the League of Nations. Despite the strong opposition of Serbia, Roumania and Greece, to the granting of membership to Bulgaria at this time, a large majority of the delegates seem in favor of taking that step. There is virtually no opposition in the case of Austria, the application of which probably will be favorably acted upon in a few days.

Discussion of the detachment of troops to be sent into Lithuania and the organization of a medical force to be dispatched to Vilna were also to be considered by the council today. The council also intended to take up the guarantees extending racial and religious minorities in Jugo-Slavia and Slovakia.

Poland-Russia Conflict.

Delegates are awaiting with interest the probable discussion tomorrow of a motion promised by George Nicoll Barnes of Great Britain, regarding the conflict between Poland and Russia. It is reported Mr. Barnes may attempt to put the league in a position of defending its inactivity in that war, but there is a disposition on the part of

FAMOUS SPECIALIST VICTIM OF X-RAYS

Paris, Nov. 29.—Dr. Charles Infroit, famous X-ray specialist, is dead, it is announced.

One of Dr. Infroit's hands became infected, in 1898, as a result of his constant use of the X-ray, and an operation was performed. Since then he has undergone twenty-four operations.

The last was on Aug. 1, when his right arm and left wrist were amputated. His announcement in 1915 that he had extracted a shrapnel bullet from the heart of a soldier was received with interest throughout the world.

MEMBER REPARATIONS COMMISSION IS DEAD

Signor Bertolini entered public life in 1894, when he became under secretary of state in the ministry of finance. In November, 1907, he became minister of public works in the Giolitti cabinet. He was a member of the chamber of deputies, but in November, 1919, was defeated for re-election. He was named senator in October this year.

Sig. Bertolini took a prominent part in restoring peaceful relations with Austria and was one of the leading Italian statesmen participating in the study of the Adriatic problem, recently settled by the treaty of Rapallo.

AUTHORITIES LOOKING FOR ASSASSINS

Numerous Strangers Reported Idling About the Streets of Liverpool.

Outbreak of Violence Starts With Disastrous Fires in Warehouses.

Macroom, County Cork, Ireland, Nov. 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—Fifteen auxiliary police cadets were killed and one cadet mortally wounded as a result of an ambush by between 70 and 100 men near Kilmichael, southwest of here, last evening. Another of the cadets is missing.

London, Nov. 29.—American "gunmen" are said to have made their appearance in Londonderry, Ireland, according to advices today. The presence of these mercenaries in Dublin and other Irish cities have previously been reported. The military authorities of Londonderry are taking all precautions in the events of attempted assassinations.

The police of Liverpool, dispatches say, also believe American "gunmen" have invaded Liverpool. The police claim to have established connection between Sinn Fein headquarters and numerous strangers who are idling about the streets in groups of two or three and having the appearance of desperadoes.

Alarming Outbreak.

A dispatch to the Press association from Liverpool says: "An alarming outbreak of Sinn Fein violence occurred Saturday night shortly before 9 o'clock. Fires broke out simultaneously both in the south and north ends of Liverpool and also in Bootle.

"There were seven fires in Bootle and eleven in various parts of Liverpool.

"Subsequent discoveries revealed a well-planned Sinn Fein plot to spread a holocaust of fire among the warehouses in the whole seven miles of the dock area.

Flames Spread Quickly.

"Owing to the inflammable nature of the contents of the warehouses, the flames quickly gained a strong hold. The local fire brigades were unable to cope with the situation and were obliged to call brigades from other suburbs. The police commandeered all telephone wires and took all steps to prevent further outbreaks by concentrating policemen along the line of docks.

"Three youths watching the suspicious movements of two men at the cotton warehouse in Parliament street warned the police, who challenged the suspects. Thereupon the latter bolted and fired upon the police, who pursued them. The policemen were unhurt, but a bullet pierced the heart of a youth, Daniel Ward, who was among those who had warned the police, and he fell dead.

Some Quickly Quenched.

ITALIANS HEAR PROTEST OF IRISH

Rome, Nov. 29.—Members of the Italian chamber of deputies and senate have received a strong protest concerning the latest serious events in Ireland from the Irish clergy, headed by Cardinal Logue, archbishop of Armagh. Facts enumerated in the protest have produced a profound impression, especially among members of the Catholic party, who, it is asserted have taken a decided attitude in favor of Ireland.

It is expected interpellations will be presented in the chamber and senate, asking the government if it is not possible for a friendly power to interfere to obtain a solution that would end the present condition of affairs in Ireland.

CARE FOR ALL LIABILITIES

Assets of Closed North Dakota Banks Will Meet All Debts.

Bismarck, N. D., Nov. 29.—Assets of the sixteen North Dakota banks recently closed on account of depleted reserves are expected by state banking officials to care for all liabilities of the affected institutions, according to estimates made today to the Associated Press.

Many of the closed banks will reopen, according to these officials, while others are expected to suspend business permanently after completely liquidating their assets and closing up all accounts.

The bank deposit guaranty fund, according to officials, will not suffer as a result of the closing of the banks. The capital of the banks and the soluble liabilities of the bank stockholders will cause losses to those interested in the banks through forced liquidation, it is said, but the assets are expected to care for all liabilities.

Cannot Continue Service.

In a statement to the Associated Press today O. E. Lofthus, state bank examiner, said:

"Prior to the passage of the Initiated laws the Bank of North Dakota was of great assistance to state banks in bridging over a temporary depletion of reserve. However, on the passing

STORM NOW SUBSIDING AND OUTLOOK BRIGHTER

Ship of Business Has Not Foundered or Gone Ashore.

Condition of the Country Is Sound and Improvement Seen.

By THEODORE H. PRICE.

Editor, Commerce and Finance.

New York, Nov. 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—It is to be doubted whether America ate its turkey and celebrated its distinctive holiday in a very thankful spirit last week. Our blessings are many and our opportunities are innumerable, but the pain to which we have been subjected by the recent decline in prices has not left us in an entirely grateful mood.

But the storm is subsiding, the weather is clearing and it is possible for us to get our bearings and estimate the damage that has been done. The ship of business has not foundered or gone ashore, and while some of her crew may have been seriously injured the fatalities have been few and those who have been hurt are being nursed back to health again by financial specialists of great reputation. Some surgery and amputation has been necessary, but it is surprising that the gale did so little harm, and with favoring breezes we should soon be on our course again.

The mercury of the financial barometer is rising, for at 44.1 per cent the reserve ratio of the Federal reserve banks was higher last week than it has been for many months and there is every reason to expect a still higher figure soon.

Call money has loaned as low as 4½ per cent, the ruling rate has been 6 per cent and time loans on collateral are offered at 7½ per cent. The deposits of the savings banks of the state of New York which now exceed two and a half billions, show an increase of 10 per cent in the last twelve months and what is more significant, a gain of from 3 to 5 per cent within the last three months.

Less Extravagance.

As the loudly proclaimed reductions in prices have not made much impression on the cost of living until very recently, these figures must be accepted as indicating less extravagance and greater thrift. The result may be unpleasant for those who profited while the people were "splurging" but in the long run the effect will be salutary.

On the stock exchange prices have recovered somewhat and none of the failures predicted have occurred, although it is generally understood that the holdings of some over-extended speculators have been taken over en bloc by bankers' syndicates. Some castles in the air may have been demolished in the process, but no real wealth has been destroyed, and while the

Boston, Mass., Nov. 29.—The controversies within the Christian Science church came before the full bench of the supreme court of Massachusetts today, for arguments on questions of law. The disputed points largely represented exceptions taken to the findings of Judge Frederic Dodge, who, as master in the original suit brought by the trustees of the Christian Science Publishing society against the board of directors of the church, sustained the plaintiffs in their main contentions.

Since the litigation began in March, 1919, it has assumed various phases through intervening suits, but broadly speaking the outstanding issue is whether the authority of the board of directors of the Christian Science church extends over the trustees of the publishing society, which publishes the Christian Science Monitor and other church periodicals. Judge Dodge held that it did not.

The arguments will occupy the time of the court today and tomorrow, the total of ten hours alloted being divided among counsel.

Six Cases to Be Heard.

Although not consolidated, the docket contains six cases, which were to be heard in sequence. First to be argued was the suit of the trustees of the Christian Science Publishing society against the directors of the Christian Science church, in which the plaintiffs ask that the respondents be enjoined from interfering with the affairs of the publishing society. The trustees claim that under a deed of trust made by Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy, founder of the church, they are independent of control by the directors, who, in the exercise of powers which they maintain are conferred under another deed of trust made by Mrs. Eddy and in conformity with the plan of church government which they maintain was laid down by Mrs. Eddy in the church manual, have sought to remove Lamont Rowlands from his office as trustee.

Judge Dodge, who heard the evidence, held that the directors did not have authority to remove Rowlands, and that such removal could be made only by the concurrent action of the directors and the First Members of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston (the Mother Church). The First Members on Jan. 10, 1901, adopted a bylaw transferring all their powers to the directors, and whether they can now regain their former status is an issue before the court.

Although a bill in equity brought by John V. Dittemore, who was removed by the directors, to compel the latter to recognize him as a fellow member of their board, was not fully heard by Judge Dodge, he decided the removal of Dittemore was illegal. This ruling is among the exceptions taken by coun-

BRITISH WILL NOT HALT THEM

Passports to Be Issued to the American Irish Inquisitors.

By DAVID LAWRENCE.

(Copyright, 1920, by The Duluth Herald.)

Washington, Nov. 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—The committee of five Americans who plan to investigate conditions in Ireland will have no difficulty about their passports. The British government has determined to take no official cognizance of the matter, and the British embassy here is treating the request for the "visa" or approval of passports in much the same way as it would treat the request of any American citizens.

Similarly the department of state will issue passports to the committee in the same routine way that passports are given to any Americans who want to go to Great Britain on pleasure or business. There has been some talk in the last few days that the department of state might decline to issue passports on the ground that the visit of the commission might be regarded as an interference in the politics of another country, but the commission on the other hand is an entirely private affair and its request for passports does not differ from that of five newspaper men or any other group of individuals who want to write about conditions in another country. The department of state will not be responsible for the reports or utterances of the commission any more than it is for the writings of American correspondents residing in Ireland or anywhere else in Europe.

Britain Could Have Refused.

Of course it was entirely within the right of the British government to refuse approval to the passports of the commission. Frequently during the war the United States government would issue passports, but the French or British governments would refuse to approve them and there would be passengers turned back at the steamship by the officers of the ship, because none of the steamship companies would accept passengers who did not have their passports approved in advance by the consular or diplomatic representatives in the United States of the country of destination.

The British government might have refused to approve the passports of the investigating commission without necessarily giving any reasons but such a step, it was felt, would only aggravate Irish-Americans in this country and add fuel to the flames. On the

Washington, Nov. 29.—The whole question of cable landings in the United States, including the present controversy between the Western Union Telegraph company and the state department, is to be investigated by a senate committee, it was announced today by Senator Kellogg, Republican, Minnesota.

Senator Kellogg said the inquiry would be held in connection with his pending bill proposing to empower the state department to regulate cable connections in this country. He added that he already had requested Newcomb Carlton, president of the Western Union, and other cable companies to have representatives at the hearing. State department officials also will be invited to attend.

OBJECT TO TAKING OF YARDS FROM PACKERS

Washington, Nov. 29.—Opposition to any plan for divorcing the five big meat packing companies from their stockyard properties by court decree, as tending to interfere with enactment of controlling legislation, was expected in a joint statement issued here today by Charles A. Lyman, secretary of the National Board of Farm Organization, Florence Kelly, secretary of the National Consumers' league, and Mrs. Maud Wood Park, president of the National League of Women Voters.

The statement was also signed by representatives of the Farmers' National council and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. Control of the meat packing industry must be "exercised as a whole," the statement said, adding that congress "can and should" promptly enact legislation to that end when it convenes next week."

GOVERNMENT OF GREECE SEEKS FAVOR OF ALLIES

Hope to Pave Way for Return of Former King Constantine.

Ex-Monarch Will Not Come to Athens Until After the Plebiscite.

Gounaris Believes Benefits of Turkish Peace Should Come to Greece.

Athens, Nov. 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—It is probable that Former King Constantine will not return at once to Greece, but after the plebiscite to be held on Dec. 5 a number of deputies and ministers may go to Switzerland to notify him of the result of the vote. Every effort is being made to win the favor of France and Great Britain, which is taken to be evidence that Greece is disposed to remain pro-Ally.

"The benefits of the Turkish treaty," said Demetrios Gounaris, minister of war, to the Associated Press today, "should in any case come to Greece, because they were not given her because of the personal influence of Former Premier Venizelos."

Followers of the former premier, as a party, are officially requested by leaders of the organization, not to take part in the plebiscite. They point out the plebiscite will be held in order to clear the present cabinet and also Constantine of responsibility, and to make the Greek people responsible for whatever consequences the return of the former king may have.

No Unfavorable Word.

The newspaper "Estia," official organ, states the present Greek government has received no unfavorable word from the Allies regarding its actions.

Returns from the vote cast by the army in the election of Nov. 14 show that it will give the followers of Constantine a larger majority in the chamber. It is reported that 50,000 ballots cast by the army were fraudulent.

Constantine Still at Lucerne.

Lucerne, Switzerland, Nov. 28.—(By the Associated Press.)—Reports that Former King Constantine of Greece has already left for Athens are officially denied here. He has no intention of leaving Lucerne before the Greek plebiscite next Sunday. Present arrangements, which are tentative, are that Constantine, his family and suite will leave on a special train for Brindisi a week from next Tuesday or Wednesday, and it is intended to embark there on a Greek warship. Should a deputation be sent here from Athens to announce to Constantine the result of the plebiscite, however, it is probable he will await it before leaving.

EXTRAORDINARY JURY IS BEING SELECTED

New York, Nov. 29.—Selection of an extraordinary grand jury ordered to inquire into criminal evidence uncovered by the joint legislative committee in its investigation of the alleged "building trust" was begun today before Supreme Court Justice McAvoy.

Samuel Untermyer, chief counsel for the committee, indicated a request to Governor Smith for a second extraordinary grand jury would be made within a short time. The mass of evidence accumulated by the committee was declared to assure several weeks' work for two grand juries in addition to the present jury which has returned several indictments.

Williamson, W. Va., Nov. 29.—Federal troops brought into Mingo county yesterday at the request of Governor Cornwell were today disposed at strategic points throughout the district where miners have been on strike since last July. The situation is well in hand and no disorders were reported.

Coal operators estimated today that of the 5,000 miners in Mingo county the strikers numbered between 1,500 and 2,000 and that production had increased from 3,500 tons in July, when the strike was called, to 60,000 tons for the first half of November.

David Fowler, representing the international organization of mine workers, denied the strike was broken, declaring:

The tent colonies established by the United Mine Workers for striking miners and their families are still well filled.

SPECULATION CAUSE OF COTTON ADVANCE

BANKS ARE PROTECTED

Have Sufficient Collateral to Cover Any Loans Made Ryan.

Washington, Nov. 29.—Comptroller of the Currency Williams announced today that there were no loans to Allan A. Ryan of New York, or his firm, by banks under supervision of the comptroller's office, which did not at the present seem to be covered sufficiently by collateral.

The comptroller made his announcement after a conference with Mr. Ryan. The comptroller's statements added that so far as he knew Mr. Ryan was in debt to very few national banks.

Few National Banks.

"As far as I am advised," Comptroller Williams' statement said, "there are no loans to Mr. Ryan or his firm held by banks under the supervision of this office, which do not at this time appear to be sufficiently covered by collateral. I will also add that there are very few national banks, as far as my information goes, to whom Mr. Ryan owes a dollar."

The comptroller added that his statement explained itself and gave concretely the result of the conference at which he said Mr. Ryan laid before him his financial condition. Mr. Williams said he did not expect any further conferences with Mr. Ryan, but refused to say whether any action would follow from the meeting. He added that information on which he recently charged New York banks with exacting unjustifiable interest rates came from other sources than Mr. Ryan.

Would Retain Untermyer.

New York, Nov. 29.—Allan A. Ryan, financier, who several months ago aroused the financial world through his alleged manipulations of a corner in Stutz motor stock, today announced he had conferred with Samuel Untermyer with a view to retaining the attorney to take charge of the readjustment of his financial affairs. Mr. Ryan said that Mr. Untermyer would make known his decision later in the day.

It is announced that an informal conference of representatives of the banks and trust companies representing the largest creditors of Mr. Ryan will take place today, but no further statement dealing with his assets and liabilities is likely to be issued at this time.

SECOND TRIAL IN RAPE CASE; JURY DRAWN

Testimony is being taken this afternoon in district court before Judge A. E. Giddings of Anoka in the case of the state against William M. Miller, negro, charged with rape. A jury to try him was selected shortly before noon today.

Miller is the second of seven negroes indicted for assaulting an 18-year-old white girl at the Oneota circus grounds on the night of June 14 last, to face trial.

Max Mason, the first, was found guilty by a jury in Judge L. S. Nelson's division of the court on Saturday afternoon. The jury retired at 9:51 a. m., and brought in a verdict of guilty at 3:25 p. m. The court granted a forty-day stay of sentence.

The crime, for which the negroes are being tried and for which Mason has been convicted, carries with it a penalty of a penitentiary term of not more than thirty years.

Appeal in Mason's Case.

Attorney F. L. Barnett of Chicago, of counsel for the defense, announced Saturday that a motion for a new trial would be sought and, if denied by the court, an appeal to the supreme court would be taken.

Jurors selected this morning to try Miller, the second of the negroes indicted, are: J. C. Fisher, 1927½ East Fifth street; John E. MacGregor, 1518½ Jefferson street; Eben S. Spencer, 2105 East Second street; J. W. Lent, 1810 Piedmont avenue; J. G. Luxon, 1600 Woodland avenue; Harold Wold, 1025 East Eighth street; George Sternal, 2801 Wellington street; Carroll F. Graff, 1601 East First street; Paul C. Filbert, 5812 Cody street; Benjamin Sher, 311 East First street; P. J. Mulohand, Hibbing, and Emil C. Strauss, Virginia.

In outlining his case to the jury, County Attorney Warren E. Greene declared that the complaining witness and her 18-year-old escort, James T. Sullivan, will probably testify that Miller did not actually carry out his designs against her himself, but that he was present and assisted others to make the assault upon her. This, the state claims, is equivalent under the law to the crime charged under the indictment and the prosecution will build its case against Miller along this line of testimony.

FIRING OF LUMBER YARDS NEAR LONDON AVERTED BY POLICE

London, Nov. 29.—Half a dozen men who were preparing to set fire to a large lumber yard in the district of Finsbury, an important section of the city of London, less than a mile north of London bridge, were surprised by a policeman Saturday night. This attempt was almost coincident with the breaking out of incendiary fires in Liverpool.

The policeman challenged a loiterer, who immediately attacked the officer and shouted for help. Five men, with revolvers answered his call, emerging from behind some empty wagons and rushing the policeman, who was compelled to liberate the man he had seen. All the men escaped. Searching behind the wagons, the policeman found cotton waste soaked with gasoline had been pushed through a gateway of a lumber yard and he also discovered two revolvers and 100 cartridges. One of the supposed incendiaries was later arrested.

MINESWEEPER'S CREW BROUGHT SAFE ASHORE

Duxbury, Mass., Nov. 29.—The minesweeper Swan, famous as a wartime figure for its part in laying the North sea mine barrage, was a wreck on Gurnet sandpit today, but her crew was safe ashore as a result of the life-saving exploits of Capt. Jack Glynn and his Gurnet coast guard crew.

After the Swan was driven onto the shoals yesterday the guards brought the fifty-six men aboard to safety through mountainous seas. The rescue work was accomplished by breeches buoy and surf boat.

SAYS LIVERPOOL FIRES RESULT OF CONSPIRACY

EDWARD SHORTT.

London, Nov. 29.—Edward Shortt, the home secretary, declared in the house of commons this afternoon, in reply to questions regarding Saturday night's incendiary dock fires in Liverpool, that there seemed no doubt that the fires were the result of an organized conspiracy in which members of the Sinn Fein party were engaged.

COMMISSION OF MANDATES

Geneva, Nov 29.—(By Associated Press.)—The council of the League of Nations today approved the final draft of the project for the permanent mandates commission, definitely accepting the tentative proposal to have the commission comprise five nonmandatory and four mandatory powers. It was decided that all the members be chosen by the council.

The permanent commission, it is forecast, will probably meet once a year at Geneva and review the administration of the mandate holding countries. Detailed rules for the commission also were ratified.

The council did not consider today the proposed invitation to the United States for its participation in the discussion over disarmament.

Important Questions.

Among the important questions which will come before the assembly this week is the question of admitting Austria and Bulgaria to the League of Nations. Despite the strong opposition of Serbia, Roumania and Greece, to the granting of membership to Bulgaria at this time, a large majority of the delegates seem in favor of taking that step. There is virtually no opposition in the case of Austria, the application of which probably will be favorably acted upon in a few days.

Discussion of the detachment of troops to be sent into Lithuania and the organization of a medical force to be dispatched to Vilna were also to be considered by the council today. The council also intended to take up the guarantees extending racial and religious minorities in Jugo-Slavia and Slovakia.

Poland-Russia Conflict.

Delegates are awaiting with interest the probable discussion tomorrow of a motion promised by George Nicoll Barnes of Great Britain, regarding the conflict between Poland and Russia. It is reported Mr. Barnes may attempt to put the league in a position of defending its inactivity in that war, but there is a disposition on the part of

One of Dr. Infroit's hands became infected, in 1898, as a result of his constant use of the X-ray, and an operation was performed. Since then he has undergone twenty-four operations. The last was on Aug. 1, when his right arm and left wrist were amputated. His announcement in 1915 that he had extracted a shrapnel bullet from the heart of a soldier was received with interest throughout the world.

MEMBER REPARATIONS COMMISSION IS DEAD

Signor Bertolini entered public life in 1894, when he became under secretary of state in the ministry of finance. In November, 1907, he became minister of public works in the Giolitti cabinet. He was a member of the chamber of deputies, but in November, 1919, was defeated for re-election. He was named senator in October this year.

Sig. Bertolini took a prominent part in restoring peaceful relations with Austria and was one of the leading Italian statesmen participating in the study of the Adriatic problem, recently settled by the treaty of Rapallo.

AUTHORITIES LOOKING FOR ASSASSINS

Numerous Strangers Reported Idling About the Streets of Liverpool.

Macroom, County Cork, Ireland, Nov. 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—Fifteen auxiliary police cadets were killed and one cadet mortally wounded as a result of an ambush by between 70 and 100 men near Kilmichael, southwest of here, last evening. Another of the cadets is missing.

London, Nov. 29.—American "gunmen" are said to have made their appearance in Londonderry, Ireland, according to advices today. The presence of these mercenaries in Dublin and other Irish cities have previously been reported. The military authorities of Londonderry are taking all precautions in the events of attempted assassinations.

The police of Liverpool, dispatches say, also believe American "gunmen" have invaded Liverpool. The police claim to have established connection between Sinn Fein headquarters and numerous strangers who are idling about the streets in groups of two or three and having the appearance of desperadoes.

Alarming Outbreak.

A dispatch to the Press association from Liverpool says: "An alarming outbreak of Sinn Fein violence occurred Saturday night shortly before 9 o'clock. Fires broke out simultaneously both in the south and north ends of Liverpool and also in Bootle.

"There were seven fires in Bootle and eleven in various parts of Liverpool.

"Subsequent discoveries revealed a well-planned Sinn Fein plot to spread a holocaust of fire among the warehouses in the whole seven miles of the dock area.

Flames Spread Quickly.

"Owing to the inflammable nature of the contents of the warehouses the flames quickly gained a strong hold. The local fire brigades were unable to cope with the situation and were obliged to call brigades from other suburbs. The police commandeered all telephone wires and took all steps to prevent further outbreaks by concentrating policemen along the line of docks.

"Three youths watching the suspicious movements of two men at the cotton warehouse in Parliament street warned the police, who challenged the suspects. Thereupon the latter bolted and fired upon the police, who pursued them. The policemen were unhurt, but a bullet pierced the heart of a youth, Daniel Ward, who was among those who had warned the police, and he fell dead.

Some Quickly Quenched.

ITALIANS HEAR PROTEST OF IRISH

Rome, Nov. 29.—Members of the Italian chamber of deputies and senate have received a strong protest concerning the latest serious events in Ireland from the Irish clergy, headed by Cardinal Logue, archbishop of Armagh. Facts enumerated in the protest have produced a profound impression, especially among members of the Catholic party, who, it is asserted have taken a decided attitude in favor of Ireland.

It is expected interpellations will be presented in the chamber and senate, asking the government if it is not possible for a friendly power to intervene to obtain a solution that would end the present condition of affairs in Ireland.

CARE FOR ALL LIABILITIES

Assets of Closed North Dakota Banks Will Meet All Debts.

Bismarck, N. D., Nov. 29.—Assets of the sixteen North Dakota banks recently closed on account of depleted reserves are expected by state banking officials to care for all liabilities of the affected institutions according to estimates made today to the Associated Press.

Many of the closed banks will reopen, according to these officials while others are expected to suspend business permanently after completely liquidating their assets and closing up all accounts.

The bank deposit guaranty fund according to officials, will not suffer as a result of the closing of the banks. The capital of the banks and the double liabilities of the bank stockholders will cause losses to those interested in the banks through forced liquidation, it is said, but the assets are expected to care for all liabilities.

Cannot Continue Service.

In a statement to the Associated Press today O. E. Lofthus, state bank examiner, said:

"Prior to the passage of the initiated laws the Bank of North Dakota was of great assistance to state banks in bridging over a temporary depletion of reserve. However, on the passing

FINCH OFFERS SUGGESTIONS

President of Commercial Club Talks to Civic Division Members.

The civic division of the Duluth Commercial club's activities will be governed by a more aggressive policy this year than formerly if plans of President Benjamin Finch as outlined to directors, committees and other members of this division at a meeting held today noon, are carried out. President Finch advocates closer co-operation between the committees and the city officials in bringing about many of the objects that the club is working for. His address to officers and members of this division follows:

"This is the first time that you have been called together as a unit of the club's organization, but it is our belief, that with the committees of the club thoroughly understanding the scheme of organization and by co-operation, good progress can be made for both our club and city.

"The club, as you will observe from the chart, is divided into three well defined divisions: Yours, the civic division, under Vice President Holmes, devotes its activities to city planning, education and social welfare, public health, legislation and taxation, conventions and publicity. In other words, its activities are planned for the development of our city's internal affairs. We all realize that in such an organization as ours many things can be done or at least planned for city betterment that neither trade associations nor individuals can do as well.

Invite City Officials.

"Would it not be well for the committees of the city planning sub-division to ask the city officials interested to meet often with them? Their interests and your interests are identical. At the recent hearing between the street railway company and city officials, our street railway committee was present to gather first hand information. During the next few months the summer improvement program of our streets, parks, etc., will be planned, and therefore immediate and continued co-operation is essential.

"Our public health committee is already making a study of garbage disposal and should co-operate with the city officials in making a careful survey of our health problems.

"During the coming session of the legislature there will be many problems presented in which we are vitally interested, especially the tonnage tax and increased rates for the board of education. The mining and educational committees can be of assistance to our legislative committee.

"The charity committee last year made an extensive study of the 'Charity Chest' which has been very successful in many cities. It is my idea that this committee should make further investigation and endeavor to get the many local charities together and secure their approval of this system.

"Our educational committee should have sufficient funds to publish a fine report which they had studied and prepared last year.

"They should investigate today the generous offer of David Ericson of one of his oil paintings as a nucleus for an art gallery in Duluth, or an addition to those which are now in our public library.

"Last year our conventions committee reported that eighty conventions were held in Duluth with an estimated attendance of 30,000 who spent some $600,000 to $800,000. All this meant actual results, especially to our hotels, cafes and retail trade. The total direct expense, excluding overhead, of this and the publicity committee was less than $3,000. Did you ever know of any business getting such a result for so small an expenditure in services and advertising?

Need Advertising Money.

"But, gentlemen, last year in some instances we had to depend on sources outside of our club for printed matter and now your club has none left for its supply is exhausted. Is it not a shame that we did not have the necessary funds to prepare and provide this very necessary advertising?

"Our publicity committee should be provided with proper information and get up new booklets showing our resources, industries and advantages for distribution not only to conventions, but to auto and vessel tourists, for we practically have none today. In order to promote conventions and procure publicity this club should have a bureau or department devoted exclusively to this work. Now, how is this to be done? How are the funds to be provided so that all who benefit by our growth and activities should participate in the expense? It can only be done through this club's organized effort.

"We ask that each committee prepare a budget based upon past years' experience and your probable demands—back up your budget with your efforts and it is then up to our ways and means committee to sell your program to ourselves and citizens of Duluth. This can be done through our sustaining memberships, but it must be clearly understood that such funds will only be used for civic and commerce activities, thus enabling the division of organization affairs to enlarge our quarters and take care of its additional expense from the individual memberships and departmental profits.

Will you at this time set your regular monthly meeting day, or oftener if you wish? Your directors meet on the first and third Fridays of each month, so they are only requesting that which they are also doing, and we believe that better progress can be made in this way for most of us to lunch here anyway.

"I want to thank you for your attendance today and assure you that I want to be of service to you during the ensuing year."

WILL NOT VOTE TO REPEAL NEW LAWS

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 29.—The Fargo Forum today prints a story to the effect that more than a third of the members of the North Dakota house of representatives have declared that they will not vote for a repeal of the initiated public funds law passed in the recent elections.

Because of the financial situation in North Dakota there have been discussions in the state of such a repeal. The Forum declares it made a canvass by telephone and telegraph of the members of the house classed as independents and that thirty-nine representatives are accounted for as being opposed to a repeal or will not atend a special session should one be called to amend or repeal an initiated law passed by the people.

It is necessary to obtain a two-thirds affirmative vote in each house of the legislature to repeal a law. There are 113 members of the house of representatives, necessitating an affirmative vote of seventy-six to repeal or change an initiated law.

IS CALLED BY DYING GIRL

Phone Operator Testifies in Fire Cases of Heart-Rending Incident.

When a great wall of forest fire swept through lower Carlton county and bore down upon the village of the lake, was an attempt to get a long- Oct. 12, 1918, the last act of Miss Eunice Peterson, village telephone operator, before she was compelled to desert her post and run to a place of safety in the lake was an attempt to get a long distance telephone call through for a farmer girl who wanted to say good-by to her father before she was burned to death.

Miss Peterson so testified this morning when she was called as a witness for the plaintiffs in the Moose Lake group of fire cases against the railroad administration now being tried before a court of five district judges.

"This girl gave her name as Nellie Berud—she said she wanted to get her father on the line—he was in Superior and she was on the farm west of Moose Lake—she said she wanted to say good-by to him before she died, for she expected to be burned to death. I tried to get the connection through. The clock which punched the ticket showed the time as 7:20 p. m. Then her line went dead and we were not able to get the connection for her."

Rushed in Exchange.

Miss Peterson described the busy scene in the telephone exchange on the afternoon of the fire. She was supposed, she said, to be relieved at 6 p. m., but she called her relief in to help her long before that and then remained on duty answering calls which came in thick and fast from the rural lines until 7:20 when she was obliged to escape from the telephone exchange to a place of safety in the lake.

The cases which are being tried are known as the Moose Lake-Soo line cases. One of the group has already been tried and judgment for the plaintiff has been affirmed by the supreme court. Judgment was entered in district court in this case today. Jacob Anderson, the plaintiff, will receive $3,072.46. He was awarded a verdict on Dec. 28, 1919, for $2,162.83. To this amount interest amounting to $112.11 has been added and other costs. Witness fees were allowed by the court at $797.52.

Deportation of aliens who refuse to learn English within three to five years of their arrival is the suggestion of R. K. RIGID RULES FOR TRAFFIC

Ordinance Would Authorize $250 for Conviction of Violators.

An ordinance authorizing the payment of a reward of $250 for the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who drove an automobile through the crowd awaiting a street car at Forty-eighth avenue west and Grand avenue last night, was to be introduced at the meeting of the city council this afternoon by Commissioner P. G. Phillips, he announced this morning.

This action was brought about by the many accidents and near accidents that have taken place on the city streets during the last few weeks. Some provision must be made whereby the fear of the law, if nothing else, would restrain such recklessness, declared Commissioner Phillips.

Commisioner W. F. Murnian of the safety division said he was in favor of some more severe method of dealing with reckless drivers. The suggestion that an ordinance providing for the penalizing of the driver either with a straight work farm sentence, prohibiting him from operating a motor vehicle for a certain period, or possibly the confiscation of the car, met with his approval, and he declared he would consider the question and see if such an ordinance would be legal. The present ordinance is not severe enough, he declared.

Would Revoke Drivers' License.

Judges of the municipal court are in favor of different laws regarding violations of the traffic ordinance. Judge Cutting questioned whether a municipal judge would have the power to order the confiscation of a car, but believed a board could be appointed to revoke the license of the driver after conviction. The jurisdiction of the municipal judges is limited to handling cases where the fine shall not exceed $100 or ninety days' imprisonment, he said. Confiscation of a car would have to be provided by an act of the legislature, was his opinion.

He said each case of traffic violation was different from others and would have to be judged according to the merits of the case and not according to any certain rule, there were so many variations of the law violated. A violation of the speed law in one case may be a trivial case, while another may have serious consequences. The penalty in these cases should be different.

WOULD LET TURKISH TREATY REVISE ITSELF

Paris, Nov. 29.—To let the Turkish treaty revise itself, if the Allies cannot agree upon its revision, is the official French plan that Premier Leygues will present to Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain and Count Sforza, the Italian foreign minister when M. Leygues returns to London tomorrow for the resumption of the conferences between these representatives of the three powers, it was indicated in official quarters today.

By letting the treaty revise itself the French foreign office means, it was explained, that if French and British support is withdrawn from Greece, the Turks can regain much of the territory taken from them by the treaty, although the Allies would make sure of retaining their hold upon the Straits of the Dardanelles and the Turkish finances. Of the five big powers which signed the treaty—Great Britain, France, Italy, Belgium and Japan—three must ratify the pact to make it effective.

Attention was called by the foreign office that none of these has ratified the treaty and that it appeared unlikely that any three of them would do so now, nor was there expectation that Turkey herself would effect ratification in the present circumstances.

Cutting as to where he got his liquor he would not give the information.

Bail of $20 each was forfeited by Peter Nelson, Alfred Fredin, Erick Kokko, John W. Kari, Sam Nelson, Peter Nelson, Carl Rennan, Tim Shehan, Edward Southerland, James Fitzgerald and Nels Afren. TO RELIEVE CONGESTION

County Junior Colleges Suggested to Help State University.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov 29.—A junior college in nearly every county in the state would do much toward relieving the crowded conditions at the University of Minnesota, in the opinion of its new president, L. D. Coffman.

Conditions at Minnesota, where there are 7,437 students enrolled, are similar to those existing at other educational institutions in the United States, President Coffman said.

He explained that there are more secondary pupils in this country, counting a four-year high school course, than in all the other civilized countries of the world combined. About 24 per cent of these pupils matriculate in some college or university, he said.

"There are two causes for this overcrowding," he continued. "There are the war and a faith on the part of the people of the state in education. The war delayed registrations more than one year in many cases, resulting in great piling up of matriculations at its end and this growing confidence in education itself has done even more to increase the number of students. Even had there been no war, the registration in 1920 would have been about the same—7,437."

Asked if he thought the present overcrowding would produce any new forms or systems of education in Minnesota, Dr. Coffman said he did not believe it would, but added that the University of Minnesota had always been eager for a system of junior colleges and that there "was not a county in the state that could not support a junior college."

Prevent Overcrowding.

These junior colleges, he went on, would make it possible for the university to handle the upper classmen only and doing away with the overcrowding, most of which exists in the lower classes.

President Coffman also said that he would like to see a state educational commission created, whose duty it would be to outline a state educational plan for all grades from the kindergarten to the college.

"Three problems resulting from overcrowding," President Coffman said, "are housing, maintaining of a competent staff and financing, and no university has solved any one. The housing situation at the University of Minnesota is handled by the women's dormitory and co-operative cottages, by fraternities and sororities and by student boarding houses.

"Maintaining of a competent staff is the chief difficulty, after all, for upon it rests the welfare of the university. A state university suffers two kinds of competition in keeping its professors, especially the more able ones: competition from business, such as manufacturing and mercantile establishments, and great foundations; and competition from private schools with foundations and endowments.

Drained of Able Men.

"The state institution is drained of many of its more able men as a result of this competition, and the University of Minnesota has lost about 150 professors and instructors a year since 1917.

"There are two effects of this drainage of able men in the upper grades of the teaching profession from the state institutions. The first, of course, is that it reduces the force of men on hand, and causes immediate inconvenience and difficulty. The second is the more far-reaching, for it is the discouragement of new men who might have entered the profession had they not seen the fatal monetary difference between the returns of the profession and the outside lines of endeavor.

"The University of Minnesota must be made able to compete with other schools and with business for men if it is to remain the high standard scholastically that has been its portion.

"In spite of these disadvantages, the state university has been fortunate, many of its best men remaining at lower wages than they were offered elsewhere, because they felt confident that Minnesotans would meet the market price in time and because they, in case of the older men, had homes and friends here they were loath to part from. But after all, loyalty must be requited, for a man cannot pay taxes, rent, or the grocer without money.

"The Univeristy of Minnesota," President Coffman said, "may get the money it needs by benefactions, by increasing the tuition and by increased legislative appropriations. It is apparent that most benefactions are given to private or endowed schools and colleges rather than to state institutions.

Against Higher Tuition Fees.

"In a state university, I believe it is a mistake to go on adding indefinitely to tuition fees when money is needed, and the board of regents has been loath to do this. It tends to create a limitation or enrollment, which is aristocratic, and which has no place in a democracy.

"At the same time, the University of Minnesota, with its present equipment and that immediately in sight, ought not to have more than 60 per cent of its present enrollment of 7,437.

"The state must give in proportion to the growth of the institution. Classrooms, laboratories and libraries are comparatively easy to obtain, for their usefulness is apparent to all. But companies, chapels and stadiums are just as necessary to get loyalty to a university, just as necessary for a higher education, but it is not so easy to get those from the state.

"The University of Minnesota has a ten-year building program mapped out and the money appropriated. Ten annual appropriations of $530,000 were arranged, and one payment of $550,000 was given last year at the time of the passage. This amounts in round numbers to $1,600,000 and was to have done a specified amount of building, but the great increae in construction costs will prevent some of its accomplishment."

In discussing remedies for overcrowding in use at other institutions, President Coffman mentioned two. At Yale university, he said, an all-freshmen year is being used, that is, all freshmen take the same course, no matter what profession they may plan to take up, and then choose their lifework near the end of the first year. "This standardization," he said, results in a great saving in time.

At Washington university, according to Dr. Coffman a standard "teaching load" is used. That is, all teachers are expected to teach the same number of hours in class as students are expected to attend in a week. Allowances are made for routing, executive, and laboratory work. Were this plan to be adopted, University of Minnesota professors would teach an average of fifteen hours a week in class, unless specially exempted a certain number of hours for marking themes, departmental work, research, or other special duty.

RESTORATION OF NEW SALEM

Village Where Abraham Lincoln Lived Has Been Reproduced.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 29.—Restoration of the village of New Salem, where Abraham Lincoln worked as grocery clerk, fell in love with Ann Rutledge, carried the postoffice in his hat and whipped the champion of the "Clary's Grove Boys," will be completed by next spring and with the addition of the Old Salem museum, will be thrown open as the Old Salem State park, according to announcement of State Architect Edgar Martin.

Log huts, as they were in Lincoln's day, have been rebuilt. Their location and arrangement is exact. Foundations were found undisturbed except by the wear of time, and the houses reconstructed over them. Atmosphere of 1831 tao 1837 in so far as possible is re-embodied. The store where Lincoln was clerk, the mill on Sangamon river and all other structures of "New Salem" so rich in memories of the great American have been completely restored and lack only the finishing touches.

State Museum Added.

Despite reproducing the actual village, the state has added a large frame house of the better class in Lincoln's day, which will serve as a state museum to house Lincoln relics. This house is modeled after a fine old residence in St. Genevieve, Mo., which village, Mr. Martin said, is as a town lifted bodily out of the last century. The architecture is of the best of Lincoln's day.

In restoring New Salem the department was forced to follow the same tactics used in restoration of more ancient cities. New Salem dwindled rapidly after Lincoln moved away, and shortly after 1837 was entirely deserted. When the last general assembly authorized the creation of the Old Salem State park, only the weather-beaten foundations could be found.

The sixty-two acres of the restored village and state park are twenty-three miles northwest of Springfield in Menard county.

LATE ASHLAND LAWYER ONCE FIGURED IN DUEL

Ashland, Wis., Nov. 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—J. J. Miles, old Ashland lawyer, who was killed here Saturday, his 83rd birthday, while returning home in the dusk of early evening, by being run over by an Omaha railroad switch engine within a block of his home, was not only the Nestor of the bar of this section, having lived in Ashland forty-eight years, but once figured in a duel when he incurred the enmity of an opposing lawyer who threatened to kill him on sight.

Mr. Miles promptly secured a revolver, and at their first meeting, the gunman drew his weapon and an exchange of shots took place, in which the latter was routed.

Mr. Miles was a life-long Democrat, a frequent contributor to the newspapers, and took an active part in municipal affairs up to the time of his death, being a member of the city council and of the county board. He was noted for his integrity, and for his pronounced views on various subjects. He had no children, Mrs. E. E. Bissett of this city having been his adopted daughter. The funeral will occur Tuesday.

Mr. Miles was a Civil war veteran and the last surviving member of the Ashland Masonic lodge.

WOULD OBTAIN MORE ROOM

Commercial Club May Take Over Quarters of Utility Department.

The present quarters of the water and light department may be taken over by the Duluth Commercial club when the department moves to its new quarters May 1, 1921, it was announced by officers of the club. This plan, if carried out, will give the club considerable additional space on the first floor and allow for rearranging the upper floors to accommidate large gatherings and more committee meeting as well as provide for additional sleeping quarters on the third floor.

At present the club membership exceeds 1,500 and there is hardly a day that the rooms and accommodations of the club are not taxed to the utmost, according to W. I. Prince, secretary. The new officers, who have only recently assumed their positions have taken the question up seriously and will endeavor to bring about some solution within a short time.

At a recent meeting of the board of directors, a committee was appointed to take the question up with architects, who were to draw plans of the club under this new arrangement, adding to the first floor. The tentative plans as suggested call for the billiard and card rooms, checkroom and women's waiting rooms on the first floor, where the present water and light offices are now situated. This will allow the present women's waiting room and the check rooms on the second floor to be rearranged into dining and committee rooms. The shifting of the card and billiard rooms to the first floor will allow a greater portion of the third floor to be used for sleeping rooms, something the club has been in need of for sometime. According to officials of the club there is a long waiting list of applications for rooms, and in many instances members who have applied for rooms at the club have had to wait as long as nine months before obtaining quarters. The present billard room would be used as the assembly room and the present assembly room made into sleeping rooms. The billiard room is much larger and would accommodate much larger crowds than the present hall.

Should this plan go through, it was intimated that large civic organizations would arrange to hold meetings there and absorb some of the overhead that the Commercial club meets. With the large assembly room available, the club could accommodate many of the larger conventions that have in the past been compelled to seek quarters in hotels and other buildings.

Await Committee Report.

Whether or not this new arrangement will be worked out will not be determined until after the committee makes its report to the board of directors and the architects have submitted their plans and specifications. Other suggestions have been made for larger quarters, one of which is to join with the Builders' exchange in erecting a large civic organization building, which would be intended to house all civic organizations of the city. If such a building is erected it would include all the facilities for civic as well as social activities of the different clubs and also provide for quarters for the many conventions that meet in the city. It would also have a gymnasium and baths and all conveniences, similar to the Athletic club building of St. Paul, which houses the St. Paul association, it was suggested.

transfers involved may have a personal interest for the persons concerned and their followers they are otherwise without significance.

One of the most encouraging incidents of the week has been the sharp advance in Liberty bonds, reflecting as it does the expectation of a permanently easier money market and an early reduction in the Federal reserve rate for discounts.

Of course there are some unfavorable items in the week's news. Cotton and wheat have both made new low records. Thirteen banks in North Dakota have been closed in the last ten days, but whether their suspension is due to the unsound fiscal policy imposed upon the state by the Nonpartisan league or to individually reckless management is not clear.

The Cotton Situation.

In the South the decline in cotton and the difficulty in marketing the large stock of low grades left over from last season present problems that still vex the bankers. A solution for them has not yet been found, and the genius who can devise a plan by which cotton can be exchanged for European products that we can use will perform a very great service to all concerned. The textile manufacturers of New England are reported to be considering a general reduction of 20 per cent in wages, which may, if agreed to, result in the stoppage of some machinery but William M. Wood, president of the American Woolen company, asserts that "it is only a question of time when there will be a famine in cloth and some people will have to pay much higher prices for immediate delivery." Mr. Wood adds that it cannot be expected that either the cost of commodities or the wages of textile operatives will return to pre-war levels.

Bank clearings for the week show a decrease of 8.3 per cent as compared with last year, but as commodity values as indicated by Bradstreet's index number have declined 21.2 per cent in the same period, no reduction in the volume of trade is to be inferred. Business failures for the week as reported by Bradstreet's number 200, as compared with 307 last week and 101 last year. Sugar is slightly lower and some refiners are selling granulated at 9 cents.

Increase in Retail Trade.

In the larger retail stores where prices have been really reduced a decided increase in trade is reported, and a bargain sale advertised by one of the best known carpet concerns in New York, if not in the world, attracted an enormous attendance.

Foreign exchange, especially sterling, is slightly higher, but in so far as continental currencies are concerned, the improvement is chiefly reflective of the Christmas demand for the remittances which the foreign-born wage earners in this country are in the habit of sending to their less fortunate relatives in Europe. There was a sharp decline and a partial recovery in Italian exchange, due, it is supposed, to a rumor of serious industrial trouble in Milan that was subsequently contradicted. More or less speculative liquidation and some minor failures are also reported from England, where short time is also being discussed in the Lancashire cotton trade.

The income tax returns for 1918, which show that only 20,994 persons reported incomes of $40,000 or more, as compared with 26,190 in 1917, have been mistakenly construed as indicating a decrease in the number of American millionaires. What they probably show is that those whose income is derived from the return upon their investments have been putting their money into nontaxable securities from which they get a smaller gross but a larger net income. As has been pointed out, a nontaxable return of 5¾ per cent equals a taxable yield of 21½ per cent for those having gross taxable incomes of $1,100,000, 16 per cent for those having gross taxable incomes of $200,000, 13 per cent for those having gross taxable incomes of $100,000, and so on down the line.

As a result the large fortunes of the country are being driven into state, county and municipal securities, and constructive private enterprise languishes because it is compelled to pay burdensome rates for the capital it requires.

Changing Tax Laws.

Attention is called to these facts as congress convenes in the hope of inducing speedy action upon the tax question by our legislators. The income and excess profits taxes as at present imposed are paralyzing business and destroying initiative. They operate as a deterrent to enterprise and a brake upon progress. As the former commissioner of internal revenue has pointed out, bankruptcy now threatens some merchants because they may be compelled to pay taxes on inventory profits they have never received unless the law is immediately modified.

Our prosperity depends upon the development of our resources and opportunities. For this capital and brains must have the incentive of which they are deprived by our present tax laws. The condition of the country is sound, but a genuine business revival is not to be expected until men of constructive ability have some inducement to undertake constructive work.

The moment this is provided or assured activity will succeed apathy and the fear of a prolonged depression will disappear.

Business is meantime disposed to mark time with confidence, but without enthusiasm.

Red Lake Poultry Show.

Red Lake Falls, Minn., Nov. 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Red Lake county's second annual poultry show will be held under the auspices of the Red Lake County Poultry association at Plummer, Nov. 30, Dec. 1 and 2, and all is in readiness for handling the largest exhibition of standard bred poultry ever shown in this part of the state. Cash premiums of $400 and special merchandise premiums worth $300 more will be offered, according to President G. A. Krueger of Plummer.

MORE BUILDING; CHEAPER MATERIALS

Substantial improvement in building operations over the country is predicted after the beginning of the new year. Financial conditions are expected to adjust themselves in such a way that funds will be available to carry through new construction on a larger scale.

The recent reductions in prices of lumber, ample supplies of brick, and the more satisfactory labor situation is expected to result in many deferred projects being carried through.

Improved demand for cement and greater readiness of large distributors to contract ahead for supplies is regarded with satisfaction by manufacturers in that line. Cement manufacturers are reported to have been doing a good business during the last few weeks, and contrary to the public belief, there is said to be no shortage in that line.

For the ten months ended Oct. 31, shipments of cement totaled 16 per cent more than last year at the same time, and it is estimated that the total production for this year will reach 95,000,000 barrels, which would be a new high mark for the cement industry. No reductions in cement prices are looked for in the near future owing to the high price of coal. It is pointed out that it requires 200 pounds of coal to make a barrel of cement, so that fuel is a large factor in its production.

DUFFY'S ACTION AGAINST McRAE HEARD IN COURT

Judge W. A. Cant in district court Saturday heard final arguments by attorneys in the suit brought by James P. Duffy against C. J. McRae to recover one-half of a 5-cent royalty interest which the courts have held that McRae is entitled to from the Thomas M. Feigh holdings on the Cuyuna iron range.

Duffy claims a partnership with McRae which entitles him to one-half of any royalty which McRae might have recovered. Washburn, Bailey & Mitchell are attorneys for Duffy and H. B. Fryberger and A. T. Rock are attorneys for the defense.

ROCKEFELLER FUND FOR CANADIAN SCHOOLS

New York, Nov. 29.—The Rockefeller Foundation last night announced the preliminary apportionment of $3,000,000 in aid of medical education in Canada out of the $5,000,000 previously set aside for the purpose.

The apportionments now made are of two classes: First, contributions toward increasing the permanent resources in buildings and endowments of schools already well established; second, contributions to annual income of institutions which are undergoing reorganization. These allotments have been made:

McGill university, Montreal, $1,000,000; University of Toronto, $1,000,000; Dalhousie university, Halifax, $500,000, and University of Manitoba, Winnipeg, $500,000.

Schools in process of reorganization to receive aid from the income of the $2,000,000 reserve are:

University of Alberta, Edmonton, for 1920-21, $25,000, and Universite de Montreal, 1920-21, $25,000.

Of the $2,000,000 reserved for future distribution, the income is to be used toward current expenses, fellowships and other forms of aid to medical education.

POSTAL RAISES RATES AND ALSO SALARIES

New York, Nov. 29.—Increases of 20 per cent in rates and 10 per cent in salaries to employes, effective Dec. 1, were announced yesterday by the Postal Telegraph and Cable company, through its secretary, William H. Deegan.

In a statement sent to its offices throughout the country the increases are announced "as necessary to meet increased operating expenses, to properly care for our employes and give better service to the public."

Under the increase the rates will be on a level with those charged by other telegraph and cable companies in the United States, Mr. Deegan said.

Home-Made and Pure

MOTHERS! Give Pure Medicine to your sick child. Make it at home with concentrated Mentho-Laxene and simple sugar syrup. Directions with each bottle. So many cough medicines contain narcotics—not enough, perhaps, to poison—but enough to deaden the nerves which cause coughing.

Mentho-Laxene contains no narcotics. It is all purity, with Wild Cherry, Tolu, Menthol, Cascara, Grindelia, Ammonian Chloride—a highly concentrated, pure compound.

Give children and aged folks this pleasant first home-made mixture, and see how the very first dose does a world of good, for severe cough, tight cold, bronchitis, hoarseness, whooping cough, throat tickle, etc. It is antiseptic; it loosens the tightest cough, and sleep, restful sleep comes.

Mrs. M. L. Martin, 993 Prospect Ave., Buffalo, N. Y., writes: "I have taken your Mentho-Laxene for a short time and found it to be just as you said—only better—for I had a very bad cold and it made me well in four days." Quick results, quick relief, gotten cheaply, too—as anyone saves two to three dollars by making Mentho-Laxene cough syrup at home. Your druggist has it—you should have it, too.—Advertisement.

INFANTRY IS THE BACKBONE

Washington, Nov. 29.—The post-war reorganization of the army marks a new era in the military history of the country, Secretary Baker declares in his annual report, made public yesterday, as it provides an effective model on which great armies could be swiftly built in times of emergency.

Reviewing the military activities of the nation since 1776, Secretary Baker says that although the United States was "the most peace-loving of all nations" it had been engaged in major domestic or foreign wars about one out of every four years during that period and that the military power of the country had been in active use in war or military operations of some kind about three out of every four years.

"It is apparent, therefore, that while we do not need a great standing army we must live in the world as it is while we struggle to make it what it should be," Mr. Baker says. "We must have a body of trained men large enough in numbers to be an effective working model upon which great armies can be swiftly built in event of emergency.

"A justice loving people may be forced by tragic necessity to resort to war, but it has no right to ask its sons to fight its battles unarmed and outshielded by an adversary."

Lesson of World War.

In studying the lessons of the World war the war department had proceeded on the accepted theory that the infantry remained the backbone of the army, the report said, although the importance of other arms of the service had been greatly increased by the swift developments of war.

"Profound and fundamental changes in armament were introduced and many of the instrumentalities devised are apparently only at the beginning of their development," said the war secretary. "The infantry itself is no longer the foot soldier armed with the musket but the foot-soldier with the long-range, high-power repeating rifle, the automatic rifle and the machine gun, which, in some of its uses, is analagous to light artillery. The advance of the infantry is no longer merely covered by protecting artillery fire but the path of the advance must be cleared of obstructions and its position, once attained, must be protected by artillery of great power and extreme mobility."

Mr. Baker makes no comment on universal military training, a plan rejected by congress in enacting the new army reorganization bill, but in reviewing the provisions of the new military law, he says that one of the most important features of the legislation is the provision for a "constant and systematic relationship between the National Guard and the regular army."

Will Prevent Antagonism.

This provision, Mr. Baker declares, will do much to "prevent antagonisms which have in the past been the not unnatural but nevertheless unhappy characteristic of the relationships of the two forces."

"The army is essentially a new army," Mr. Baker continues "not merely another army than that which existed prior to the war, but new in its attitude toward the country and the country's attitude toward it. The extent to which a new era has dawned for the army is shown by recruiting. The difficulty in securing the necessary enlistments for our small pre-war army has in a large part disappeared, and although the stimulus of active operations has now entirely disappeared, the total strength of the army Nov. 3, 1920, was 213,067."

Mr. Baker declares that the one-year enlistment period authorized by congress has not justified itself and asserts that "from the point of view of the efficiency of the army, one-year enlistment periods are of little value."

The report reviews at length the new educational and recreational program established since the war and declares that "the time will come soon when the peace-time army will be throughout an educational institution from which men will graduate better equipped to enter civilian pursuits and with a larger and firmer grasp on citizenship and its responsibilities and privileges."

Total Cost of War.

The total cost of the war through the war department is placed by the secretary at about $13,730,300,500, and it is stated that in the liquidation of claims and contracts the department saved the government 87 per cent of the outstanding obligations at the end of the war.

Discussing the disposal of surplus war stocks, Secretary Baker recommends that in the future the department's plans keep in mind an effort to have on hand at the termination of a war supplies of a character, so far as consistent with army needs, that could readily and quickly be absorbed into the country's commerce.

Declaring that he is happy to leave to his successors in the war department the assurance that "in any national emergency they have but to use and direct the limitless capacity and willingness of the American people which spontaneously offers itself when a crisis comes," Mr. Baker concludes his report with a tribute to the navy and civilian war organizations for co-operation during and after the war, and declares that:

"In equipment, personnel and spirit the army of the United States today is an object of just pride to the country."

The Most Competitive Business in the World

—said Judge Fred W. Freeman recently. Continuing, he added "The oil business today in all its phases from production to refining, to marketing, is the most competitive business in the world."

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is but one of 16,000 organizations interested in the petroleum industry in the United States. Each of these is performing a useful service or it would not be in business. Competition eliminates the unfit in the oil business, as it eliminates the unfit in every other line of endeavor.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is here today because it has made good.

The territory served is probably the most important farming territory in the world. The Company's opportunity for service is great, and the need for its service is ever present.

Every year the farmers of the Middle West need petroleum products in greater volume. They demand products of standard quality, delivered at regular intervals and at reasonable prices. Only through a complete organization of men, trained by years of experience, can so complicated and important a service be rendered.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is such an organization, and by concentrated, co-ordinated effort, from refiner to tank wagon delivery, it is able to render a service to the farmers and others who depend upon the Company for material which enables them to perform tasks essential to the public welfare.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is directed by a group of seven business men, trained in every phase of the oil industry, and is operated by 23,000 loyal men and women, who are devoting their lives to the business.

Its owners, the stockholders, are 5526 in number, no one of whom owns as much as 10 per cent of the total stock.

Any one may become a part owner in this Company, by buying its stock in the open market.

CHANUKAH TO BE OBSERVED

Jews Will Begin Celebration Sunday: Services in Duluth Planned.

The Feast of Dedication, known in Hebrew as Chanukah, will be celebrated in Jewish circles beginning Sunday evening, Dec. 5. Among orthodox congregations the festival lasts for eight days and is observed with joy and gladness in the Jewish home. The Reform Jews recognize only one day as a holiday.

Services, in which the younger people particularly will play an active part, will be held at Temple Emanuel. The regular orthodox ceremonies will be observed at the Adas Israel synagogue. Rabbi Israel Lebendiger will conduct services at the Talmud Torah.

The origin of Chanukah is traced to an historical event of tremendous consequence to the Jewish people. In the year 168 B. C. the Syrian King Antiochus IV, or Epiphanes, had resolved upon an imperialistic policy of unifying all the provinces and peoples in his domain. As a preliminary measure towards this consummation of his ambition an edict was promulgated compelling all his subjects to adopt a common religion, that of the Greeks.

Opposed by Jews.

This decree met with unexpected opposition among his least powerful subjects, the Jews. The polytheism of the Greek religion, its lax morality and debasing influences incited the Jews to rebellion. Under the leadership of the aged priest, Mattathias, and after his death, his son, Judas Maccabeus, armed resistance was arrayed against the powerful armies which Antiochus sent against the inhabitants of Palestine. The valor of this heroic band triumphed over the mighty hosts of Syria. The temple at Jerusalem which had been defiled by idolatrous practices was rededicated to the worship of the one God. The rededication took place on the twenty-fifth day of Kislev, according to the calendar of the synagogue, in the year 165 B. C. E. In commemoration of the victory the Fast of Chanukah is celebrated even unto this day.

Legends impressive of this triumph and the festive character of the celebration have been preserved. An old legend recounts the miraculous preservation of a single cruse of undefiled oil, found in the temple at the time of the rededication, which burned for eight days. The kindling of lights in the home and in the synagogue is a distinguishing feature of the festival. The traditional practice is to light one candle on the first night, two on the second and so on until eight are kindled on the last day of the feast.

The special prayers recited in the synagogue in connection with Chanukah stress the triumph of the spirit of God over the might and power of godless man.

The festival is utilized by the modern synagogue as an occasion for participation of the children of the religious schools in plays or pageants which express the glorious victory of the few and feeble over the mighty hosts of oppression.

MANY PRISONER-PUPILS AT THE STATE PRISON

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 29.—Nineteen different nationalities were represented among the 170 prisoner-pupils of the school conducted last year at the Stillwater state prison, according to the report of J. C. Davies, superintendent of the school at the prison, as well as superintendent of the Stillwater city schools, made to the state board of control.

The total enrollment for the year was [illegible], but the highest average attendance for any month was 170, as several of the prisoner-pupils completed their sentences and gained their freedom, while others were admitted.

A textbook course in general agriculture to train those prisoners who plan to take up farming when they complete their terms was a new course added to the prison school curriculum last year.

"We were fortunate in having a man for teacher who had taken special courses in agriculture in college," Supt. Davies said. "Several prisoners took this course."

LICENSE BENEFIT FUND NOW TOTALS $352,638

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 29.—Approximately 96,600 employes are affected by the state license benefit fund, according to the biennial report prepared in the office of John P. Gardiner, commissioner of labor and industries. There were eighty-one licenses issued, involving $352,638 as total contributions making up the insurance fund.

The report says that no recommendation for additional legislation in connection with the benefit funds department will be made. However, stress is laid upon the need of voluntary action upon the part of employers to adapt these funds to furthering the rehabilitation movement.

TO ISSUE NEW TREASURY SAVINGS SECURITIES

Washington, Nov. 29.—Two new treasury savings securities—a $1 treasury savings stamp and a $25 treasury savings certificate—will be issued during the coming year, Secretary Houston announced yesterday. They will complete the line of government savings securities and place operations on a peacetime basis.

The $1 savings stamp will be non-interest bearing and will carry the portrait of Alexander Hamilton, first secretary of the treasury. The $25 certificate will be similar in design and terms to the $100 and $1,000 certificates, which also will be offered in 1921 to mature Jan. 1, 1926. The new securities will supply a $1 unit for saving and a registered government security in the $25 denomination, which may be purchased through accumulation of $1 savings stamps.

EX-SERVICE MEN STAYING ON FARM

Pierre, S. D., Nov. 29.—Although a number of South Dakota ex-service men have "seen Paree" they are staying "down on the farm" in opposition to the thought in the popular song. This result has been achieved partly by the successful workings of the South Dakota land settlement plan, which provides for the loan of any sum between $500 and $10,000 to former service men for use in paying 90 per cent of the appraised value of land and 80 per cent of the cost of equipping it with machinery and livestock, a system similar to that which the American Legion has embodied in its fourfold national compensation plan.

Col. Boyd Wales, who led the One Hundred and Forty-seventh F. A. regiment of the Thirty-second division and who is land settlement commissioner, is enthusiastic over the results in the short time the plan has been in operation. Up to Oct. 1, 140 former soldiers had received loans and been located on lands. Of this number, Col. Wales declares that "100 per cent are making good and they all made some improvements and raised some grain." The loans to individuals have averaged about $4,500 each. Most of the men have put in about 10 per cent of their own capital, using the balance of it for stock and improvements.

In the course of their farming operations, forty-three of these men have raised 1,671 acres of corn, an average of thirty-nine acres each; twenty-six have raised 685 acres of oats, an average of twenty-five acres each, and twenty-five have raised 912 acres of wheat, an average of thirty-six acres each.

EQUITY NOT VERY FLUSH

National and Badger Branch of Society Reported in Bad Way.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 29.—The present condition of the National Society of Equity and of the state union was brought out here Saturday in discovery proceedings preparatory to a trial of former officers of the society before the circuit court of Dane county. Anton M. Miller of Outagamie county, plaintiff, is suing to recover any funds that may have been dissipated by those directing the organization.

The suit is the result of implications made by members of the equity society after their convention in Madison last year that J. Weller Long, then secretary and treasurer, had misused funds. Testimony at the hearing Saturday completely cleared Mr. Long, and the attorney for the equity stated that the society had made no claims, nor would it make claims, for funds of any kind against its former officer, J. L. Johns of Appleton, attorney for the plaintiff said.

Examination of Arthur Sampson, present secretary and treasurer, brought out that the national union now has liabilities of approximately $18,000 and that on Oct. 30, 1920, its assets amounted to $6,780.95, leaving a deficit of slightly over $12,000. Membership at present was shown to be 45,000, with 28,358 who have paid dues. Nearly 10,000 are ninety days past due in their payment.

It also developed that the Wisconsin state union has refused to pay dues to the national union since July, 1920, because of the claim that the national society was in debt to it. Besides Wisconsin, on July 1 Iowa, Minnesota, Montana, South Dakota, Washington, Wyoming, Illinois and Michigan unions had failed to contribute. The national union had collected $6,643.49 up to July 1 and $1,161.91 since then.

Year's Profit Only $150.

The testimony of Mr. Sampson showed that the profit of the business department of the national union during the last year was $150 and that loss from publication of the official paper amounted to approximately $13,000. The Wisconsin union has made claim against the national for unexpired subscriptions to the paper, which was taken from its hands by the state union after Dec. 1, 1919.

Mr. Long testified Saturday afternoon relative to the condition of the society books when he left them. In 1918 there was a surplus of over $24,000, which dwindled to practically nothing in 1919. It was this condition that gave rise to a number of declarations against the handling of affairs by the treasurer. Mr. Long explained where the surplus was used, according to figures which were accepted by the society.

The examination developed that there had been depreciation of assets and surplus during 1918-1919 partly because of a loss of $3,600 on the official paper and also through cancellation of a claim against Montana state union on a note for $1,946.76 by the 1918 convention. Organization expense during that year exceeded the organization account by $9,000. Dues were lowered from 50 cents to 30 cents, causing an additional loss of $1,800. The testimony brought out that a further note to Montana of $1,800, loaned by the national board, had not been paid.

It was brought out that J. H. Carnahan, elected president in 1919, resigned because of conditions in the society and had his resignation accepted on Aug. 3 of this year.

PRESIDENT'S SECRETARY IS OFFERED JUDGESHIP

JOSEPH P. TUMULTY.

Washington, Nov. 29.—Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary to the president, has been offered by President Wilson, an appointment to the customs court of appeals, but has reached no decision with regard to its acceptance. This was disclosed last night in a statement issued by Mr. Tumulty, prompted by various published reports as to what he planned to do when his duties at the White House cease next March.

The statement also took notice of reports that Mr. Tumulty planned to enter a law partnership here with Former Representative T. T. Ansberry of Ohio.

"I have made no definite plans for the future and have not under consideration a law partnership of any kind," Mr. Tumulty said.

"It is true that the president had generously offered to me the judicial post made vacant by the death of Chief Justice Montgomery of the customs court of appeals. I have this matter now under consideration, but have reached no decision regarding it."

CO-OPERATION FOR FARMERS

Badger Laws Are Needed to Better Handle Their Products.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 29.—There is a period of financial depression ahead which will result in hardship for Wisconsin farmers, according to Elward Nordman, director of the division of markets. With a view to determining the cause for this coming depression, the division of markets has made a careful study of the situation, and will present definite recommendations to the legislature when it convenes.

These recommendations will be given with a view to establishing an economic system in the state that will prevent a recurrence of the impending conditions, Mr. Nordman explained. Taxation that will burden the holders of nonproducing land, and lessen the weight of the burden on productive land, extension of co-operative enterprises, establishment of public storage houses in consuming centers, destruction of monopoly, and a system of state aid for credit, will be among the measures backed by the marketing division.

The system of taxation resembles the Nolan bill introduced in the Federal congress which calls for a 1 per cent tax on land values over $10,000. This tax will be urged, Mr. Nordman said, to get the farmers on the land, especially in Northern Wisconsin, where vast cut-over areas are now uncultivated because of their ownership by speculators. It is explained that the tax would probably be set high enough to exempt the average farmer, while catching the man who has large holding of land not under cultivation. The levy would be set against land values and not improvements.

Produce storage houses, municipally or state controlled, will be urgel located the legislature. These will be located in population centers, it is said, if the movement passes. Co-operative organizations of producers and consumers are most urgently backed by the division which is making particular effort to assist in the organization and operation of the co-operative schemes.

The most serious obstacle encountered in the extension of this work has been a lack of business organization among the farmers. Effort is now being made to establish uniform accounting and bookkeeping systems throughout these enterprises, and to have competent business managers put at their head.

LARGE CROWDS AT "Y" SUNDAY MEETINGS

Two large crowds attended the Sunday rallies at the boys' department, Y. M. C. A. yesterday. Rev. Howard Hare spoke to the Knights of Sir Galahad, his topic being "Snakes." From that subject he drew many valuable lessons that left a deep impression on every boy.

Julius Nolte spoke to the largest number that the Sunday club has had this year. His topic was "The Ideals of Life." He contrasted a life of service to one lived purely for self, and from historical character showed that the selfish life was always a failure while the life lived for others proved a success. Boyd Spencer was the leader of the meeting and the boys' department orchestra of seven pieces rendered a musical program.

The Western Union boys, who have been organized into a club, will meet at the boys' department tonight for dinner at 6:30. The boys' department cabinet will meet Tuesday at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. J. H. Hearding, 2305 East Third street. This will be an important meeting to outline the program for December, which will include many new features.

Secretary N. D. McLeod will leave Thursday for Faribault to attend the state boys' conference. A delegate from the boys' department will be selected Tuesday. Ed Kent was elected from the First Methodist Sunday school to represent his school at the conference. The Denfeld boys' club will elect delegates tonight and the Central high school club will elect Wednesday.

FOUR HEARINGS BY BADGER COMMISSION

Madison, Wis., Nov. 29.—Four hearings were held today by the Wisconsin railroad commission, three of them dealing with applications for rate increases, and the other with an argument between the highway commission and the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad, concerning the relocation of the Mosinee highway.

Nineteen hearings are on the calendar for this week. Thirteen of these are for consideration of applications to increase rates. Applications will be heard to increase street car, water, gas and electric light charges in the city of Appleton. There is an application to increase electric rates in Oshkosh to be held Thursday.

TABASCO GOVERNMENT SEIZED BY GREEN MEN

Mexico City, Nov. 29.—Supporters of Gen. Carlos Green, deposed governor of the state of Tabasco, forcibly disarmed the police at Villahermosa, the state capital, yesterday and appointed Tomas Garrido as governor. The seizure of power was carried out without loss of life.

A letter was directed to the state senate stating that the seizure was in retaliation for Gen. Green's deposition two decks ago, after soldiers alleged to be acting on his orders, killed two members of the chamber of deputies and wounded several spectators while attempting to arrest Deputy Lascano, who had fled into the chamber after shooting an army captain. Gen. Green is now in a Mexico City prison awaiting trial.

Minister of War Calles, in announcing the new overturn, asserted it was the result of delay by the national senate in confirming the appointment of Aguilar Suarez as provisional governor. Suarez has been serving in that capacity since Gen. Green's accession.

EARTHQUAKE ROCKS HOUSES AT SPOKANE

Spokane, Wash., Nov. 29.—An earthquake which rocked houses and awakened sleepers was experienced between 3:30 and 3:40 this morning. So forceful was the trembler that patients at a local hospital were awakened when the beds and picture frames were jarred.

Reports from Leavenworth, Yakima, Colfax and other inland cities report shocks of various degrees of mildness.

CHRONIC CATARRH

Follows Repeated Colds When Blood Is Impure.

Your body suffering from a cold does not properly attend to digestion and elimination. As a result your blood becomes impure, it inflames the mucous membrane and brings about the condition in which chronic catarrh occurs and on which it depends.

Purify your blood, make it clean, by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and if your bowels are not healthily active, take Hood's Pills. These medicines have relieved and prevented thousands of cases of chronic catarrh. Economy is one of the strong points of Hood's Sarsaparilla—100 doses in a bottle. EX-SERVICE MEN STAYING ON FARM

Pierre, S. D., Nov. 29.—Although a number of South Dakota ex-service men have "seen Paree" they are staying "down on the farm" in opposition to the thought in the popular song. This result has been achieved partly by the successful workings of the South Dakota land settlement plan, which provides for the loan of any sum between $500 and $10,000 to former service men for use in paying 90 per cent of the appraised value of land and 10 per cent of the cost of equipping it with machinery and livestock, a system similar to that which the American Legion has embodied in its fourfold national compensation plan.

Col. Boyd Wales who led the One Hundred and Forty seventh F. A. regiment of the Thirty-second division and who is land settlement commissioner, is enthusiastic over the results in the short time the plan has been in operation. Up to Oct. 1, 140 former soldiers had received loans and been located on farms. Of this number, Col. Wales declares that "100 per cent are making good and they all made some improvements and raised some grain." The loans to individuals have averaged about $4,500 each. Most of the men have put in about 10 per cent of their own capital, using the balance of it for stock and improvements.

In the course of their farming operations, forty-three of these men have raised 1,671 acres of corn, an average of thirty-nine acres each; twenty-six have raised 685 acres of oats, an average of twenty-five acres each, and twenty-five have raised 912 acres of wheat, an average of thirty-six acres each.

EQUITY NOT VERY FLUSH

National and Badger Branch of Society Reported in Bad Way.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 29.—The present condition of the National Society of Equity and of the state union was brought out here Saturday in discovery proceedings preparatory to a trial of former officers of the society before the circuit court of Dane county. Anton M. Miller of Outagamie county, plaintiff, is suing to recover any funds that may have been dissipated by those directing the organization.

The suit is the result of implications made by members of the equity society after their convention in Madison last year that J. Weller Long, then secretary and treasurer, had misused funds. Testimony at the hearing Saturday completely cleared Mr. Long, and the attorney for the equity stated that the society had made no claims, nor would it make claims, for funds of any kind against its former officer, J. L. Johns of Appleton, attorney for the plaintiff said.

Examination of Arthur Sampson, present secretary and treasurer, brought out that the national union now has liabilities of approximately $18,000 and that on Oct. 30, 1920, its assets amounted to $6,780.95, leaving a deficit of slightly over $12,000. Membership at present was shown to be 45,000, with 28,358 who have paid dues. Nearly 10,000 are ninety days past due in their payment.

It also developed that the Wisconsin state union has refused to pay dues to the national union since July, 1920, because of the claim that the national society was in debt to it. Besides Wisconsin, on July 1 Iowa, Minnesota, Montana, South Dakota, Washington, Wyoming, Illinois and Michigan unions had failed to contribute. The national union had collected $6,613.49 up to July 1 and $1,161.91 since then.

The testimony of Mr. Sampson showed that the profit of the business department of the national union during the last year was $150 and that loss from publication of the official paper amounted to approximately $13,000. The Wisconsin union has made claim against the national for unexpired subscriptions to the paper, which was taken from its hands by the state union after Dec. 1, 1919.

Mr. Long testified Saturday afternoon relative to the condition of the society books when he left them. In 1918 there was a surplus of over $24,000, which dwindled to practically nothing in 1919. It was this condition that gave rise to a number of declarations against the handling of affairs by the treasurer. Mr. Long explained where the surplus was used, according to figures which were accepted by the society.

The examination developed that there had been depreciation of assets and surplus during 1918-1919 partly because of a loss of $3,600 on the official paper and also through cancellation of a claim against Montana state union on a note for $1,946.76 by the 1918 convention. Organization expense during that year exceeded the organization account by $9,000. Dues were lowered from 50 cents to 30 cents, causing an additional loss of $1,800. The testimony brought out that a further note to Montana of $1,800, loaned by the national board, had not been paid.

It was brought out that J. H. Carnahan, elected president in 1919, resigned because of conditions in the society and had his resignation accepted on Aug. 3 of this year.

Among the other large operators are the Von Platen-Fox company of this city and the Northern Sawmills company of Sagola. The companies cut about 20,000,000 feet of logs each winter in addition to their summer input, both concerns operating logging camps the year around.

JOSEPH P. TUMULTY.

Washington, Nov. 29.—Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary to the president, has been offered by President Wilson, an appointment to the customs court of appeals, but has reached no decision with regard to its acceptance. This was disclosed last night in a statement issued by Mr. Tumulty, prompted by various published reports as to what he planned to do when his duties at the White House cease next March.

The statement also took notice of reports that Mr. Tumulty planned to enter a law partnership here with Former Representative T. T. Ansberry of Ohio.

"I have made no definite plans for the future and have not under consideration a law partnership of any kind," Mr. Tumulty said.

"It is true that the president had generously offered to me the judicial post made vacant by the death of Chief Justice Montgomery of the customs court of appeals. I have this matter now under consideration, but have reached no decision regarding it."

CO-OPERATION FOR FARMERS

Madison, Wis., Nov. 29.—There is a period of financial depression ahead which will result in hardship for Wisconsin farmers, according to Elward Nordman, director of the division of markets. With a view to determining the cause for this coming depression, the division of markets has made a careful study of the situation, and will present definite recommendations to the legislature when it convenes.

These recommendations will be given with a view to establishing an economic system in the state that will prevent a recurrence of the impending conditions, Mr. Nordman explained. Taxation that will burden the holders of nonproducing land, and lessen the weight of the burden on productive land, extension of co-operative enterprises, establishment of public storage houses in consuming centers, destruction of monopoly, and a system of state aid for credit, will be among the measures backed by the marketing division.

The system of taxation resembles the Nolan bill introduced in the Federal congress which calls for a 1 per cent tax on land values over $10,000. This tax will be urged, Mr. Nordman said, to get the farmers on the land, especially in Northern Wisconsin, where vast cut-over areas are now uncultivated because of their ownership by speculators. It is explained that the tax would probably be set high enough to exempt the average farmer, while catching the man who has large holding of land not under cultivation. The levy would be set against land values and not improvements.

Produce storage houses, municipally or state controlled, will be urgel located the legislature. These will be located in population centers, it is said, if the movement passes. Co-operative organizations of producers and consumers are most urgently backed by the division which is making particular effort to assist in the organization and operation of the co-operative schemes.

The most serious obstacle encountered in the extension of this work has been a lack of business organization among the farmers. Effort is now being made to establish uniform accounting and bookkeeping systems throughout these enterprises, and to have competent business managers put at their head.

LARGE CROWDS AT "Y" SUNDAY MEETINGS

Two large crowds attended the Sunday rallies at the boys' department, Y. M. C. A. yesterday. Rev. Howard Hare spoke to the Knights of Sir Galahad, his topic being "Snakes." From that subject he drew many valuable lessons that left a deep impression on every boy.

Julius Nolte spoke to the largest number that the Sunday club has had this year. His topic was "The Ideals of Life." He contrasted a life of service to one lived purely for self, and from historical character showed that the selfish life was always a failure while the life lived for others proved a success. Boyd Spencer was the leader of the meeting and the boys' department orchestra of seven pieces rendered a musical program.

The Western Union boys, who have been organized into a club, will meet at the boys' department tonight for dinner at 6:30. The boys' department cabinet will meet Tuesday at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. J. H. Hearding, 2305 East Third street. This will be an important meeting to outline the program for December, which will include many new features.

Secretary N. D. McLeod will leave Thursday for Faribault to attend the state boys' conference. A delegate from the boys' department will be selected Tuesday. Ed Kent was elected from the First Methodist Sunday school to represent his school at the conference. The Denfeld boys' club will elect delegates tonight and the Central high school club will elect Wednesday.

CHARGED WITH KILLING HER FORMER HUSBAND

Macon, Ga., Nov. 29.—Mrs. F. E. Elmer, arrested Saturday at Fort Valley, Ga., on a warrant charging her with the murder of her former husband, Fred D. Shepard, known as the "Georgia peach king," was placed in the county jail here yesterday and was said to be in a highly nervous state. Her arrest came at the conclusion of the inquest at Fort Valley at which testimony was presented to show the presence of poison in the dead man's viscera. Two other persons, Mrs. Ione Henry, Mrs. Elmer's sister, and Ernest Hopson, Mrs. Elmer's son by a former marriage, also are under arrest at Perry, Ga. They were visiting at the Shepard home when Mr. Shepard was stricken with the illness that caused his death.

FOUR HEARINGS BY BADGER COMMISSION

Madison, Wis., Nov. 29.—Four hearings were held today by the Wisconsin railroad commission, three of them dealing with applications for rate increases, and the other with an argument between the highway commission and the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad, concerning the relocation of the Mosinee highway.

Nineteen hearings are on the calendar for this week. Thirteen of these are for consideration of applications to increase rates. Applications will be heard to increase street car, water, gas and electric light charges in the city of Appleton. There is an application to increase electric rates in Oshkosh to be held Thursday.

TABASCO GOVERNMENT SEIZED BY GREEN MEN

Mexico City, Nov. 29.—Supporters of Gen. Carlos Green, deposed governor of the state of Tabasco, forcibly disarmed the police at Villahermosa, the state capital, yesterday and appointed Tomas Garrido as governor. The seizure of power was carried out without loss of life.

A letter was directed to the state senate stating that the seizure was in retaliation for Gen. Green's deposition two decks ago, after soldiers alleged to be acting on his orders, killed two members of the chamber of deputies and wounded several spectators while attempting to arrest Deputy Lascano, who had fled into the chamber after shooting an army captain. Gen. Green is now in a Mexico City prison awaiting trial.

Minister of War Calles, in announcing the new overturn, asserted it was the result of delay by the national senate in confirming the appointment of Aguilar Suarez as provisional governor. Suarez has been serving in that capacity since Gen. Green's arrest.

EARTHQUAKE ROCKS HOUSES AT SPOKANE

Spokane, Wash., Nov. 29.—An earthquake which rocked houses and awakened sleepers was experienced here between 3:30 and 3:40 this morning. The seismograph at Gonzaga university reported the radius of the trembler to be about 300 miles. So forceful was the trembler that patients at a local hospital were awakened when the beds and picture frames were jarred.

Reports from Leavenworth, Yakima, Colfax and other inland cities report shocks of various degrees of mildness.

Counsel in the Cases.

Former Governor John L. Bates, who was alloted two hours, appeared to argue exceptions for the directors, and a similar length of time was given to counsel for the trustees. Charles E. Hughes was expected to address the court in support of the report of Judge Dodge.

Charles F. Choate, Jr., on behalf of Mrs. Emilie B Hulin of Brooklyn, N. Y., whose petition to intervene in the suit of the trustees against the directors was denied by Judge Pierce of the supreme court, will argue that Mrs. Hulin, who is one of the original First Members of the Christian Science church, should become a party to the suit of the trustees. The contention of Mrs. Hulin is that the church manual is the supreme law of the Mother Church; that the manual in all respects is final authority over all members of the Mother Church, including the First Members and the trustees of the publishing society; and that the manual controls the provisions of all deeds of trust and other written documents of Mrs Eddy which may seem in conflict with it. But if the powers of the trustees are broader than is provided by the church manual, or if the directors without joint cation by the First Members have not the power to declare vacancies in the trusteeship, then Mrs. ters without joint action by the First Members to take such action as may result in the effective exercise of the powers of the directors in removing trustees.

Attorney General Appears.

State Attorney General J. Weston Allen will ask the court to declare that under the will of Mrs Eddy a public charitable trust was created when the First Church of Christ, Scientist, was established; that the trust was organized and existed under the usage and discipline of the church, as set forth in the manual, for the promotion and extension of the religion of Christian Science. The attorney general wishes all issues raised in other suits tried out in his information, as the multiplicity of suits, he says, will result in a great waste of the substance of the subsidiary charitable trust and a great loss to the dominant charitable trust, the Mother Church. Mr. Allen further asks the court to hold that the directors are the governing body of the church and have power to declare vacancies in the trusteeship of the publishing society and to determine what literature shall be published.

Other matters before the court are the bills of Daisy and Edwin A. Krantzoff proclaiming the manual as the supreme authority of the church; and of the trustees of the publishing society to restrain individual members of the Mother Church from influencing other members to cancel subscriptions to Christian Science publications.

other hand, even with those who have no particular prejudices on the Irish question, refusal of passports might have created the impression of an unwillingness to let the outside world know the truth about happenings in Ireland. So the British government determined to make no incident out of the request for passports and to let the committee go its way.

The attitude of the British officials here is probably an index of the position that will be adopted when the American commission reaches Ireland. Every opportunity will be given the commission to make its own investigation, unhindered by the British government.

Those Who Compose Commission.

The members of the commission are insistent that they approach the question impartially. Maj. Oliver P. Newman, who was in the artillery in the A. E. F., was president of the board of commissioners of the District of Columbia under President Wilson and before that was a prominent newspaper writer and investigator. His ancestry is English on both sides. Rev. Norman Thomas of New York is a Presbyterian clergyman. During the war he was prominently identified with the efforts of a group which championed the cause of the conscientious objectors. He is a graduate of Princeton university, and while one brother was detained in camp as a conscientious objector, another who had volunteered on the outbreak of the war, saw service as a combatant officer in France.

James Maurer, president of the Pennsylvania State Federation of Labor, is a radical labor leader and a conspicuous opponent of Samuel Gompers. His passport was revoked a year ago when he contemplated visiting England and European countries to make a study of labor conditions, and it was generally believed the action was a consequence of some of his inflammatory utterances against President Wilson and the American government. Arthur Gleason, a New York writer, who has recently spent much time in England studying the labor party, and Dean Robert Morse Lovett, head of the English department of the University of Chicago, are the other members of the commission.

Dean Lovett was one of the pacifist group and was frequently criticized during the war for his attitude toward it. On the other hand, he took no part in any effort to obstruct war operations, and his own son volunteered and was killed in action in France. The special committee of five was chosen with the idea that it would not be subject to criticism for religious prejudices, as none of the commission is a Catholic. The committee of five is a sub-committee of a larger committee of 100 for the investigation of conditions in Ireland. Oswald Garrison Villard, editor of The Nation, is the originator of the movement.

BISHOP COADJUTOR PREACHES TWO SERMONS

RT. REV. G. G. BENNETT.

In his first appearance in Duluth as bishop coadjutor of the Episcopal diocese of Duluth, Rt. Rev. G. G. Bennett, now rector at St. Paul's church, Minneapolis, delivered two sermons yesterday at St. Paul's Episcopal church, Seventeenth avenue east and Superior street.

His text at the morning service, taken from St. Paul's Epistle to the Corinthians, was "I Am Determined to Know Nothing Among You Save Jesus Christ and Him Crucified." Bishop Bennett called attention to the fact that America is now seeking normal times. Not things, but men, he said, constitute normal times, and the only perfectly normal man who ever lived was Jesus Christ. He declared that times are abnormal just as people get away from Christ.

At vespers, Dr. Bennett's text was "The Lord Added Daily Unto the Church Such as Were Being Saved." He defined the church as a body of people who believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God. Its members must be animated by a desire to bring God's will to pass among men here and now. Being saved was explained by Bishop Bennett to mean being efficient and knowing why one is on earth. Only Christ, he said, could give the answer to the why of human life.

Bishop Bennett will speak at 8 p. m. every day through Friday.

delegates not to permit the subject to reach any decisive issue.

For the last two days European delegates have been dividing their attention between the sessions of the assembly here and the meeting of Premiers Lloyd George and Leygues in London. The decision of France and England regarding Greece and the Near East is awaited with much concern. Many delegates continue to discuss the probability of Greece losing its place on the council of the league if Constantine returns to the throne.

Most of the delegates have the impression that the first reply of President Wilson to the council's note relative to Armenia will be perfunctory, not committing the United States in any way, nor definitely rejecting the offer. Mr. Wilson's answer is expected to arrive within the next few days.

Natural Resources.

The question whether countries shall be allowed to control and dispose at will of their natural resources is the subject of a sharp conflict in a committee of the assembly. The contest arose over a resolution by Gustave Ador of Switzerland, setting up a permanent economic and financial commission one of the duties of which would be to examine measures for preventing monopoly in raw materials and the means of controlling their distribution.

The resolution is based on Article 23 of the Covenant, which assures all states equitable treatment. It is supported chiefly by Italy, Switzerland and other countries not rich in raw materials.

One of the strongest opponents of the resolution is Sir George E. Foster of Canada, who has taken the same attitude as N. E. Rowell also of Canada, who served notice on the assembly in an impressive speech recently, that any attempt to exercise such control would be regarded as interference in internal affairs, to which Canada would never submit.

Mr. Rowell at the same time said that the entry of the United States could not be hoped for if any such interference were attempted.

of these laws the Bank of North Dakota can no longer give this service, as it has to prepare to meet withdrawals that will take place under the law.

"Being unable to get relief from their collections, the state banks turned to their correspondents, where collections were also tardy, and the latter find themselves unable to function properly with increased loans.

Refuse to Sell Grain.

"The decline in the value of farm products and the refusal of the producers to sell at this low price is responsible for the lack of liquidation of loans at this time of the year, but not responsible for the fact that the depositor now decided to withdraw his deposit instead of renewing, as has been his custom in other years.

"I expect that several of the state banks recently closed will reopen, as the criticism has not been with the security they hold but with the depleted reserves brought about by the unusual withdrawals of time deposits. Had sales of farm products been normal, conditions could have been met this time, although it would have left nothing to finance farm operations the coming season. I believe that all closed banks eventually will pay out in full."

quickly quenched. Others, in stocked cotton warehouses, burned fiercely the night long. One in the South end and another in Bootle, at the North end, are taken as proving that there was careful organization. It was found that all locks on the warehouses had been cut. Many empty petrol cans were found on the scene. Each fire started at more than one place. At one timber yard there were three separate outbreaks."

Fifteen Warehouses Burned.

Liverpool, Nov. 29.—(By Associated Press.)—Fifteen cotton warehouses in Liverpool and Bootle, a suburb, were set on fire Saturday night. Two of the warehouses in Liverpool were burned out. Gasoline cans and paraffine were found about the premises. It was stated in police quarters that there was strong evidence that the fires were the work of Sinn Feiners. Some shooting occurred after the outbreak of the flames. Constables on the scene were fired at and bullets passed through the clothing of some of them, but none was injured. One civilian was shot dead.

Five men were arrested in connection with the incendiary outbreak.

Statement From Castle.

Belfast, Nov. 29.—A statement issued last night from Dublin castle, after giving an account of the Liverpool fires and accompanying incidents adds:

"Read in conjunction with the documents discovered last week in which plans for Sinn Fein reprisals against the English towns of Manchester and Liverpool, among a number, were detailed, these things have a very sinister aspect. The fact of the police being fired on suggests that the methods of the Sinn Fein murder gang in Ireland are being employed against the English people, even if the personnel of the murderers is not the same."

EMPLOYES MEMBERS OF BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Cincinnati, Ohio, Nov. 29.—H. H. French, vice president of the Proctor & Gamble company, in speaking of the plan of the company of having its 5,000 employes represented on the board of directors by three of their number, said it is still in the experimental stage, but evidences a tendency to bring the mass of the employes closer to the management. He stated the innovation has now entered on its second year, is full of promise and that it is a helpful step in the right direction.

The employes of the three plants of the company at Ivorydale (Cincinnati) Port Ivory (New York) and Kansas City each elected their own representative and recommended him to the stockholders who elected the three as directors.

W. G. Rose, a machinist at the Ivorydale plant for many years, was elected to succeed Fred W. Steingrube on the board for the coming year. Frank M. Sells, a pipe fitter at the Kansas City plant since 1903, was re-elected and Cornelius Mills, for nine years a bricklayer at Port Ivory, was chosen to succeed Carl M. Finke, who represented Port Ivory employes.

They come to Cincinnati on the third Tuesday of each month to attend the meeting of the board, in which they have full voting power, the same as the other directors.

HOG ISLAND VESSELS TURNED INTO TANKERS

Philadelphia, Nov. 29.—A scarcity of tank steamers in the oil and molasses carrying trade has resulted in the conversion of seven of the Hog island cargo carriers into tankers. Two of the converted ships have already had the necessary work and are now operating from Gulf ports with excellent records. They are the Kishacquillas and the Inspector. The former vessel recently established a new record for three trips between Matanzas and Mobile and New Orleans, carrying 26,670 tons of molasses.

The five vessels which are being converted into tank steamers for the oil trade are the Manatawny, Catahoula, Castana, Carrabulle and Cassimir. They are now having longtitudinal bulkheads installed and the necessary angles and swash plates placed to enable them to carry crude oil. The work is being done at the Globe Shipbuilding company's plant, Baltimore.

The shipping board sold the vessels, at a price said to be $184 per deadweight ton, the owners receiving a 7,825 dead-weight ton tanker, delivery being made in about one month's time, about five weeks being required to make the changes.

CROOKSTONITE DIES OF COLLISION HURT

Thief River Falls, Minn., Nov. 29.—Carl Gjesdahl, 22 years of age, died at a local hospital this morning from injuries received last Friday when his father, A. G. Gjesdahl, and two other occupants, Peter Beltad and W. Riel, were instantly killed when their automobile was struck by a Great Northern passenger train.

BRITISH GOVERNMENT ON GREEK SITUATION

London, Nov. 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—The British government will insist on the Greek army being maintained at its present strength and that the Rhallis cabinet shall not include men viewed with disfavor by the Allies.

The foregoing views are set forth in a memorandum which Earl Curzon, secretary for foreign affairs, has handed to the French premier, M. Leygues, for perusal by the French cabinet when he returns to Paris today.

Great Britain disapproves the return of Constantine to the Greek throne being made the subject of a formal protest, but nevertheless wishes that the British views shall be emphasized to the new Greek government. This is a firmer attitude than the British government held a few days ago, and it is believed in conference circles that it will appeal to the view of the French government. It is further interpreted as meaning that Great Britain at present does not favor revision of the Turkish peace treaty.

BELIEVED TO BE ONE OF MAIL CAR ROBBERS

Muskogee, Okla., Nov. 29.—Keith Collins, said by Federal authorities to be wanted in connection with the robbery of a mail car near Council Bluffs, Iowa, two weeks ago, was arrested in the home of his uncle, near Westville, Okla. The arrest was made by Postoffice Inspector Adamson and two other Federal officers from Kansas City, and C. W. Duncan, a special deputy.

Collins is being brought to Muskogee. According to Postmaster G. C. Whitmire of Westville, who was informed of the capture by Adamson, Collins put up a fight when the officers attempted to arrest him.

When one feels always tired out without working, or suffers from backache, lumbago, rheumatic pains, sore muscles or stiff joints, it is not always easy to locate the source of trouble, but very frequently it can be traced to overworked, weakened or diseased kidneys. Mrs. L. Gibson, 12th & Edison St., La Junta, Colo., writes: "My kidneys were giving me a great deal of trouble for some time. I took Foley Kidney Pills and they helped me right away."

MOVIE ACTORS ATTEMPT TO PASS BARRICADES

London, Nov. 29.—What at first might have been mistaken for a genuine move upon the government building in Whitehall was made this morning, when a small crowd attempted to pass the barriers erected at the entrances of Downing street and King Charles street. The crowd, however, was made up of about 150 supernumeraries sent by a moving picture company for photographic purposes.

SPANIARDS OBJECT TO SENDING TROOPS

Madrid, Nov. 29.—Attacks upon the project of sending Spanish troops to Lithuania in execution of the plans of the League of Nations were renewed today by the newspaper Eldebal. It declares the project is "of serious significance" for Spain, "whose people were not consulted beforehand about this decision regarding their army, which was reached by foreigners." The newspaper argues this is a "peculiar manner in which to inaugurate open diplomacy."

PIPES, CIGARETTE HOLDERS CLASSED AS JEWELRY

Ornamented pipes and cigarette holders are classed as jewelry by the United States government. A decision by the income tax division to this effect put an end to a long-standing controversy instituted by pipe manufacturers.

Local cigar stores were warned by Joseph Shartel, in charge of income tax collections for the northern part of the state, that a war tax must be collected hereafter on certain sales. The text of the decision follows:

"That all pipes, cigar and cigarette holders ornamented, mounted or fitted with precious metals or imitations thereof, or ivory or precious or semiprecious stones, or imitations thereof, are subject to tax when sold by a dealer for consumption or use."

A CITY PLANNING COMMISSION.

Speaking of Duluth's need of a city plan and a city planning commission with authority enough to amount to anything, we are reminded that the public welfare committee of the Duluth Commercial club this year had a sub-committee on city planning at work, and that its recent report to the main committee contains some very pertinent suggestions.

After pointing out the lack and the painful need of a city plan, and therefore of a city planning commission with power to get somewhere, this sub-committee, of which Francis H. Fitzgerald was chairman, said:

> A city planning commission must have authority to act. The commissioners should be chosen by the judges of the district court from men who are free from political affiliations and who are not influenced by selfish motives in seeing the city develop along practical and economic lines. The commission would employ a city planning expert as is done in Chicago, Cleveland, Portland, Washington, etc., who will prepare the plans, arrange the zones and advise the commission on all architectural, engineering, landscape, water front, main arteries, streets, parks, etc.; he will employ his own experts, and will co-operate with and receive all assistance from the city engineer's and water and light department engineer's offices. He will also act for the city as between the electric light, street car and telephone companies, co-operate with the traffic squad of the police department and with the fire department and the mail carriers' division of the postoffice, unite all the requirements of these bodies and consider the same in relation to alterations of the present main arteries and future extensions, the platting of new districts and subdivisions. Such a commission can organize the development of zones so that property-owners will feel reasonably sure of the maintenance of their property values. There is no such assurance at present.

This sets forth the right idea. Appointment of the commissioners by the district judges would be an ideal way if it is legal for them so to act—a point about which there is a doubt that should be disposed of.

The Herald believes that the city commissioners should give careful consideration to the idea of creating such a commission to help it meet the problems of the city's future growth. Probably under the charter it could create such a body and give it necessary power, and if not the charter could be amended so far as necessary at the next election.

Certainly Duluth needs a plan to grow by. It cannot have such a plan without a commission to make it. And probably no commission not empowered by law or city ordinance will ever get anywhere with a city planning project.

TWO OBSERVATIONS.

Perhaps it is not untimely to make these two reflections:

First—That the slump in the stock markets and the fall in farm products and the beginning of unemployment didn't happen because the Republican party won the election. True, they have been shocking to many who voted the Republican ticket expecting something very different; but they happened because they were due to happen under the old law that "whatever goes up must come down." But—

Second—That if the Democratic party had won the election, the air this minute would be full of the clamor of Republicans asserting that these things had all happened simply and solely because the Democrats had won.

HE REFUSES A MILLION.

A young Boston man, Charles Garland, has refused a million dollars due him from his father's estate.

He doesn't base this refusal on any assertion that the money is tainted because of its origin and the manner in which it was gotten together. His view is that private property is the chief cause of the world's unhappiness, that he did nothing to earn the money, and that to take it would be to accept responsibilities he does not wish to bear.

Though many—Socialists like himself—will agree with him that private property is the cause of the world unrest, still isn't it nearer the truth that so far as private property has anything to do with it, the trouble is due more to the manner in which the owners of that property handle it in its relation to others than it is to property itself?

It is true that the young man did nothing to earn the money his father gathered, and that is the best reason he offers for his refusal, for his third reason, that he doesn't want the responsibilities it entails, sounds like timidity. Surely a young man with his altruistic views could do a good deal of good with a million.

> I have often regretted my speech, never my silence.
> —Publius Syrus (42 B. C.)

Whether you disagree or agree with his act and with any or all of his reasons for it, certainly you must admire the consistency and firmness of his stand. But how much greater our admiration could be if he had simply said: "I did not earn it, therefore it is not mine. I would rather start at scratch and win my own fortune for the joy of working and winning." That, indeed, would be something everybody could applaud without discussion or analysis of motives.

A LITTLE THAT HELPS A LOT.

Nobody should neglect the Red Cross Christmas seals this year because he thinks that the little he contributes in that way doesn't amount to much and can't do much.

If he were the only one contributing, his dime or dollar wouldn't accomplish much. But when thousands do the same thing, as thousands have grown accustomed to doing, then the net result is a big help in the cause to which these funds are devoted—the cause of better health and longer and happier lives.

The National Tuberculosis association declares that a business investment of two billion dollars in the control of tuberculosis would not only add two and a half years to the average American life, but would save the country in cash about twenty-three billion dollars!

Who, having a chance to invest his money so that it would not only add two and a half years to his life but would bring cash returns a dozen times as great as his investment, would hesitate?

The cent you put into a Christmas seal helps toward the making of such an investment on the part of the American people. The receipts are divided so that local health agencies get their share for local work, and that is an additional incentive to co-operation.

If only one Christmas seal were purchased by or for every one of America's hundred million people, it would mean a million dollars to fight disease. Ten such would mean ten million dollars, a hundred apiece would mean a hundred millions.

So don't think that your dime or dollar's worth of Christmas seals will not help. It will help a great deal. The fight it will finance may even—you never can tell—mean saving your own life or the life of one of your loved ones.

TOO MUCH OF A GOOD THING?

It was rather generally agreed that it was a good thing, and right, and necessary, to raise railroad rates.

But certain developments from the increase in passenger tariffs seem to be creating doubts in the minds of some of those in touch with passenger traffic.

For instance, it was noted in The Herald last week that very few of the local teachers went home for Thanksgiving. Probably in some cases that was because home was too far away; but it is altogether probable, too, that in very many more cases the trouble was that it costs too much to travel now.

Indeed, we hear from railroad sources that passenger traffic is showing marked signs of an adverse reaction from the present high cost of traveling. The cost is enough to make people think twice before they take a journey; and if they think twice they are likely not to take it, unless it is important or they don't care about expense.

Whether it has gone or is going that far or not we do not know, but there has been enough already to indicate the possibility that passenger rates were put up so much that so far as profits are concerned the railroads may find themselves worse off than they were before. That can be done, of course. A tariff higher than the traffic will bear naturally means less traffic, and possibly traffic so much less as to be less profitable than it would be at somewhat more moderate rates.

It seems worth the while of railroad and interstate commerce authorities to look into it and see whether perhaps the raising of passenger rates wasn't overdone.

Immigrants

Chicago Tribune: Eighty per cent of our immigration settles in thirty-two great American cities. In other words, it makes almost a maximum addition to our most serious social and economic difficulties. Perhaps as large a percentage is drawn from regions of Europe in which history, culture, and existing condition are most remote from our own and therefore the processes of assimilation by American society are most difficult.

If we are to have immigration on a large scale without aggravation of existing weaknesses of the nation we must contrive to select more intelligently and to distribute more efficiently. The growth of our cities by natural causes existing here at home is serious enough. We cannot afford to have the balance between city and country still further turned against our welfare by large alien contributions who do not become basic producers nor increase the fundamental strength of a nation, which is a people rooted in the soil.

We ought to consider and adopt a far-sighted and definite policy on immigration without further delay. The problem is difficult, and a solution based entirely on considerations of the welfare of the American republic—the preservation of its purposes and its principles—will be complicated, and, if we are not careful, defeated by the professional alienism existing in this country which exercises an undue influence upon the timidities of politics.

A Bid for the Labor Vote

Nashville Banner: Another reason why the laboring classes finally lined up for Harding and Coolidge may have been that the Republicans promised them cheaper gasoline.

The Dagger in the Hyphen

Editorial in the Springfield Republican.

George Sylvester Vierick, in the letter printed in an adjoining column, tells us: "I know of no American of German descent who voted for the Wilson-Cox ticket." No one will dispute him. The election returns indicate that some 6,000,000 Americans of German origin, as he asserts, voted against Cox (meaning Wilson).

Field Marshal Hindenburg, two years after the armistice, is quoted in a Berlin cablegram to the Chicago Tribune as saying, in explanation of Germany's defeat, "American attacks in the Argonne, our main line of retreat when we were shortening the line in Belgium and Northern France, actually won the war."

What Hindenburg now credits America with having done explains in part the huge election plurality of Mr. Harding. George Sylvester Viereck's 6,000,000 citizens of German descent had their revenge on Mr. Wilson for the American attacks in the Argonne which, according to Hindenburg, "actually won the war."

These 6,000,000 voters, whose spokesman Mr. Viereck professes to be, began their political reprisals in the fateful congressional elections of 1918, when the war president was denied the legitimate advantage of a congress organized by his own political party. The Viereckian passion to get square with the president of the United States for finally taking America into the war motivated enough voters of German descent probably in the elections of 1918 to wrest control of house and senate from the administration party.

The basis of that opinion is that here in New England the Wilson party did well, polling a plurality of votes in four New England senatorial elections and sending a Democratic senator to Washington from Massachusetts for the first time in about 100 years. As one followed the election returns of 1918 westward and southwestward, however, the effect of the German vote was easily apparent.

The effect of the votes of American sympathizers with the country's war enemies upon American policy and government, as disclosed in the two elections of 1918 and 1920, should be carefully studied by future students of this extraordinary period of our nation's history. With such a study should go an equally careful investigation of the political reactions of all nationalistic or racial groups in this country in the same elections. Never before was hyphenated voting in terms of some mother country's interests rather than in terms of America's interests so widespread as in the recent election of our next president.

Is it not significant that Italy and Jugoslavia should have reached an agreement regarding Fiume so soon after the American election revealed the disappearance of the power of Mr. Wilson, who had supported Jugoslavia's claims, and had disclosed the triumph of Mr. Harding for whom every Italian citizen of the United States is assumed to have voted?

The final thrust that politically destroyed Woodrow Wilson was given by the hyphen. He is the first American president to be stabbed to death with the powerful aid of a hyphenated Americanism. It is a fact of historical moment and a political portent of which the last has not been heard.

Root on Russia

Philadelphia Public Ledger: Elihu Root has expressed the opinion that Bolshevism in Russia has but a short time to live. Mr. Root's interest in Russian affairs began long before he went as the head of the special mission sent by President Wilson to study conditions in the distracted country. Mr. Root says that in conserving the lives of those who will go back to their land to help it his committee is "saving the seed-corn which will bring forth the future harvest of real freedom, security, peace and prosperity for Russia." These blessings cannot be realized too soon. The present era, as H. G. Wells is pointing out in his illuminative description of what he saw, is an era of ruin. Mr. Wells puts the blame chiefly on antecedent capitalism and imperialism and not on contemporary communism; but whoever is responsible, the result is the same. That result offers a "spectacle of misery and ebbing energy," of "harsh and terrible realities" that "cannot be camouflaged." Both Mr. Root and Mr. Wells, from wholly different standpoints, but with the best will in the world for the future of the country, admit the dreary and appalling condition that obtains; and Mr. Root, true statesman of international outlook that he is, is eager to help in the reinstatement not of a defunct and impossible autocracy but of those finer impulses and inspiration that represent the better self within the vast, unwieldly bulk of Russia.

Mr. Root is a friend of the country on the basis of knowledge and not of mere benevolent sentiment. He has faith in Russia. Political conditions have undergone a drastic alteration since he returned from his journey of 1917, and yet he still could say, as he then declared of the people: "They have a noble idealism which is developed and exhibited in the minds that are enlarged by education, and they have a strong sense of the mission of liberty in the world and an extraordinary capacity for concerted action." If (to borrow Mr. Root's own memorable phrase uttered in Philadelphia) there is at present a "corrupt and criminal combination masquerading" as Russians, they must not delude us into misreading the real character of the real people.

The Usual Luck

I bought a hundred-dollar suit one day when I was feeling flush; and people said I looked the plute, arrayed in costly dark green plush. I proudly loafed around the town, and told how much my raiment cost, and then the price of clothes came down, and life became a killing frost. Then Jinks and Jimpson fell in line, and so did Smith and Brown and Jones, and bought them suits the same as mine, and only dug up sixty bones. I to the tailor went, in tears, and handed him some hot abuse, whereat he smote me with his shears, and roundly soaked me with his goose. I bought a handsome limousine (and placed a mortgage on my shack), and it was painted Brewster green; two thousand plunks it set me back. Then for a week I rode around, inflated with a foolish pride, on vain and giddy errands bound; I gave her gas and let her slide. And then the price of cars was cut by makers who were fond of fun, and Johnson, Perkins and McNutt bought cars like mine for half the mon. And so no smiles my face bedeck, I spring no glad and joyous yips; I always get it in the neck when I go forth on shopping trips. No matter what I buy today, the price goes down tomorrow noon; then wiser shoppers go their way, and save the groat and picayune.

The Coal Profiteers

Richard Spillane in the Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Do you want nationalization of the coal mines? You'll have it if the plundering of coal users is not ended. That's certain.

One of the largest users of coal in this country is the group of properties made up of the United Gas Improvement company and its allied interests.

The U. G. I. is sick and tired of coal gougers.

The U. G. I. and its associates use from 2,000,000 to 2,500,000 tons of coal a year. It has suffered as have others.

Read the following, which is the expression of Paul Thompson, vice president of the U. G. I.:

"The suggestion of Senators Calder and Edge of a senatorial investigation which might result in a plan for the nationalization of the coal mines of the country, or of some real way to protect the consumer on this vital necessity, seems to me to be about the only way left to insure to public utilities a supply of fuel at reasonable prices, in order that they may continue to supply the public at reasonable rates with the service which is required.

"The public service commissioners fix a rate to the utility based on normal prices of raw materials. If the coal suppliers manipulate their business so as to take for themselves inordinate profits, then the utilities who must buy coal must pay to the coal men this excess profit or discontinue serving the public.

"I do not like the idea of any governmental control of business, and if the coal operators were only moderate in their demands I would have no comment to make. But when they are entirely inconsiderate of the public, it seems there is only one remedy, and that is some government control, whereby a fair profit is secured to them, but it is made impossible for them to impose unfair burdens on the users of their commodity. They are but one step removed from the public utility field, which is controlled by governmental agencies. They should be included in it if they continue to show, as they have shown, an utter disregard of the public generally.

"There are some coal men who have always recognized what seems to me to be the proper point of view, and it is not my desire that these high-grade operators should be included in anything I have said, but the majority have apparently only one viewpoint, and that is to take the very last cent."

Pretty strong talk from such a man as Mr. Thompson, but who, outside the coal circle, would disagree with him?

There is going to be many a person this winter who will damn the coal people. There will be bitterly cold days, when shivering persons will ask why they should be made the victims of unconscionably greedy men.

There is a charity in Philadelphia which, among other properties, owns anthracite coal lands. The income of this charity from its coal mines is said to be $700,000 greater this year than last. The amount the charity receives is based on the price of the coal at the mouth of the mine. That is bad. It tends to increase the burden of the people. Punishing the poor to add to a charity's overflowing money hoard is queer business.

Where does the salaried man who has to put in six or eight tons of coal get off? His fuel bill for the winter would be from $95 to $125. That may mean 8 or 10 per cent of his income.

Luxury at Home and Abroad

New York Globe: When professors and their wives come back from distant parts—say, Holland or China—and take jobs in New York city their friends are likely to discover in them a vague dissatisfaction with American life. On the whole, they confess, they want to stay here, but there is a far-away look in their eyes and an impatience with our codes and manners which they are at pains to conceal. Are they longing for the art and culture of The Hague, for the subtle indirections of phrase and meaning that twine and flower round the customs of Canton? Partly, of course. We are a rude people, with no art to speak of. We are also, in comparison, a drab, self-satisfied, unemotional people, harnessed to the business of making money, materially minded and abysmally unlearned. We are unadventurous and incurious. It hasn't occurred to many of us that existence could be made more interesting than the average commuter finds it. All this comes as a shock to the returning New Yorker.

Yet this is not the whole of his unrest. There is a more devastating contrast between Shanghai and Rotterdam on the one hand and New York and Chicago on the other. A professor in Rotterdam university is the peer of ministers of state, and his salary is as high as that of any government official. It buys much more in the way of luxury than it would buy in this country. It is only about $5,000, but it means four servants, unlimited respect, luxury which only multi-millionaires experience here, and an end to carking cares. It is a change, indeed, to come to the United States with the same rank and an increased salary and find one's self not only unimportant but obliged to take care of his own furnace. For the wife the transition is an even greater shock. To get meals, tend babies, and wash dishes, after the recent four-servant regime, is almost more than she can bear.

He who comes back from China has the same difficulties of adjustment to face, but as his elevation has been greater his fall is farther. In the Orient his five thousand a year was the income of a prince of the blood, and his retinue was limited only by his desire. The fattest of the land was his for the asking. He was pampered like a mandarin and treated like a god.

New York, to say the least, is different.

Money Is Not Wealth

C. Reinold Noyes in the Yale Review: The first expedient was inflation. This is a popular method of beating the devil around the bush. The delusion arises from the common confusion of money with wealth. Hence the more money, the more wealth. If there is needed a great excess quantity of goods and property, which is wealth, simply create more money—and, presto! you have the wealth. Ordinarily, our money is based upon the current supply of goods and property on the way to the market. In other words, the right to demand—money—is quite accurately measured by the ability to supply—goods and property. Inflation adds to the supply of money—the right to demand—an element which is based, not upon the goods and property to supply this demand, but upon promises to pay. These may be notes, government bonds, or any other form of mere I O U. Supply no longer matches demand. The right to buy exceeds the capacity to sell. Naturally, the right to buy depreciates in nearly exact ratio to the inflation. There is more money, but in the aggregate we are no better off than before. Money is not wealth.

Forgot About the Election

Gus F. Karger in the Cincinnati Times-Star: A terrible controversy has been raging between Josephus Daniels, secretary of the navy, and Representative Blanton of Texas. Some time ago Daniels announced that in June he would send the American fleet around the world. Blanton attacked the plan in language positively sulphurous. And a day or two after the election Daniels came back, declaring that in spite of Mr. Blanton he'd send the fleet anyhow next June.

He must have had his tongue in his cheek when he wrote that rejoinder or must have forgotten about the election. For next June Mr. Daniels will have nothing to do with the American fleet. He will be an ex-secretary of the navy. His successor in office will determine on the policy of world-cruising.

The Arrest of Tuberculosis

In a contribution on arrestment of tuberculosis, read before the National Tuberculosis association and published in the New York Medical Journal, Dr. F. M. Pottenger gives this definition of the disease: Tuberculosis is a chronic infectious inflammatory process in which there is a long interval between the time of infection and the clinical manifestation of the disease. While tubercles undergo much the same type of evolution that is noted in a boil on the body surface—implantation (of the germs) followed by induration (hardening around the focus of infection), necrosis (death of the "core"), rupture, and healing—these changes take place extremely slowly, taking weeks, months or years for the cycle instead of a few hours or days. Often the stage of necrosis and rupture fails to appear, the process remaining as an induration for a long period and then changing into scar. * * * The infection does not become a clinical disease (that is, does not noticeably impair health) until sufficient toxins (the poisons produced by the tubercle bacilli) have passed out from the focus of infection in the lung into the blood; or until it produces some local change which makes its presence known, such as pleurisy, sputum or spitting of blood.

There is room here to quote only a few pearls of wisdom from Dr. Pottenger's contribution. Patients or potential patients should read them over now and again.

"Strength must be conserved to fight the infection in every way possible. If the patient exercises when the disease is active this principle is disregarded.

"Toxemia (poisons produced by the bacilli and passed out into the blood stream) should be eliminated as soon as possible because of its deleterious influence on the body functions. * * * If the patient exercises when the disease is active this principle, too, is disregarded."

It has been found a good rule to "treat patients until physical exercise, such as walking from one to ten miles, according to the condition of the patient, produces no sign of toxemia, and until the chest signs are no longer indicative of a lesion likely to reactivate and spread. The patient may then be allowed to interrupt treatment, following a restricted regime with only occasional supervision for a period of from three to nine months, when he should return for another period of strict guidance."

The length of time required to bring about arrest depends on the extent to which the disease has progressed before diagnosis and treatment are obtained, and on the patient's mentality and deportment. "The length of time required for this is far longer than is usually believed. In early cases this may take two years or more, and in advanced cases the time is proportionately longer."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Laugh and Grow Fat.

If you were a girl 17 years, 66 inches tall, a freshman at college, and weighed but 108 pounds when you should, according to your gym teacher, weigh 130 pounds, what would you do? (M. B. McK.)

Ans.—I dunno. Maybe I'd cry. Or maybe I'd write to this department and say, "Dear Dr. Brady: Please tell me how I can gain weight," and I'd enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope for the doctor's convenience.

The Constipated Habit.

Is constipation listed—as I suppose it is—among that vast number of diseases or ailments for which you refuse to prescribe in individual cases? (W. G. R.)

Ans.—No. Constipation is just a bad habit and I'll be pleased to send you detailed suggestions for overcoming the habit if you will accompany your request with a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Vinegar's a Pizen.

Is vinegar harmful? My husband insists upon using it on almost everything he eats. (Mrs. O. G. D.)

Ans.—It is chiefly dilute acetic acid, which comes under poisons, not foods. Lemon juice is a wholesome substitute if the sourness is craved. The moderate use of vinegar as a condiment is harmless, so far as I know.

Just a Moment

Daily Strength and Cheer.

We bless Thee, dear Lord, for these precious messages from Thy Word. We thank Thee for what Thou art to us. We pray that we may receive Thee afresh into our hearts. May we see Thee anew as the Lamb of God that taketh away the sin of the world. May we realize anew that Thou didst die, the just for the unjust, that Thou mightst bring us to God. In adversity, help us to be patient; in prosperity, keep us humble; and when we cannot see the way before us, may we fear no evil, knowing that Thou art with us. May Thy grace be sufficient for us, and Thy strength be made perfect in our weakness. Grant us, in all our duties, Thy help; in all our difficulties, Thy counsel; in all our dangers, Thy protection, and in all our sorrows, Thy peace. Comfort the sick, succor the tempted, give joy to those who mourn for sin, bind up the broken-hearted, and save such as be of a contrite spirit. And may all of us trust Thee, and rest in Thine atonement. We ask it in Thy Name. Amen.—From "Guidance in Prayer."

Common Sense Economics

The Nation's Business: Talk of stabilizing prices no longer interests any one save a few theorists. The laws of supply and demand have come back on the job and will in time regulate matters after the old fashion of nature's creation.

The entire business world is trending to that readjustment which we have talked about so long. We have been through it before and we will go through it again and successfully. This time it is robbed of its greatest terror, financial panic and ensuing disaster. Theories of great and startling changes in the framework and organization of manufacturing life are dying out, in view of the exigencies of the occasion as to how to maintain adequate production at reasonably remunerative prices. Industrial life in time doubtless will be more democratized than at present. But we are not headed in the direction of running factories by committees. Winning football games are democratic affairs, but discipline, order and obedience are the essentials of their success. For we have learned, as in the Book of Job, that a man cannot fill his belly with the east wind. And last, the millennium still lies at the end of the rainbow.

Out Among the Neighbors

Rambling Comment on Northwest Men, Newspapers and Communities.

North Dakota is a big state with tremendous resources and the failure of a few small banks in the more recently settled sections of the state will have little effect on the general situation. F. W. Cathro, director general of the bank of North Dakota, in commenting on conditions the other day said that "if North Dakota could sell her grain alone at 1919 prices she could pay all the mortgages in the state five and a half times over." Those prices are gone beyond recall, but even at present prices it stands for an enormous asset that can be converted into cash as soon as the farmer chooses to sell.

* * *

There may be doubt in some editorial minds regarding the state's primary law, but there is absolutely none in that of Fred Hadley of the Winnebago Enterprise. Fred, like every other rock-ribbed reactionary, not only knows but is willing to tell others that he knows. He says: "We want to go back to the days of the convention. We want to place every official in the state, from governor to coroner, on a party basis. We have become exceedingly weary of this lily-white, touch-me-not, holier-than-thou stuff in politics. Let's go back to the good old red flannel, hair-on-the-chest days when a man was elected because he was a Democrat or Republican."

* * *

"Get the names, boys, people like to see theirs in print," has been the injunction of many a successful newspaper publisher to his reporters. Bill Verity of the Wadena Pioneer-Journal must have been handing it out last week to his enterprising local editor, who "came through" with about three columns of names of those who entertained and were entertained Thanksgiving day. Frank Day of the Fairmont Sentinel had a similar feature. There's no better stunt when it's as well done as they did it.

* * *

A down-state paper reported an unusually large church attendance the Sunday after election in spite of disagreeable weather, and the hopelessly Republican Moreaux of the Luverne Herald remarks, "they just couldn't wait until Thanksgiving."

* * *

An indignant parent writes the International Falls Journal that "any child that is able to crawl to school is allowed to remain, no matter what its condition may be," and demands a school doctor in daily attendance. Whether the charge is true or not it is a good sign of intelligent interest and if parents all over the state would show similar anxiety about their schools there would be a marked improvement in many directions.

* * *

The Arlington Enterprise recently reported a man celebrating his fifty-ninth birthday and commented that "he will easily reach the 100-mark if his present good health continues." The Belle Plaine Herald is unable to resist retorting: "We will guarantee to exceed that mark ourselves if our present good health continues."

* * *

Regarding the alleged news that a submarine chaser was to hunt bootleggers on the Great Lakes, the Fairmont Sentinel observes "they'll have to put skates on it in about three weeks." They may need to catch the bootleggers first.

* * *

A number of things may have inspired it, but whatever they were most of the boys will indorse their eloquent sentiment: "We editors are at heart a truthful bunch of fellows," says the Little Falls Herald. "And yet when death overtakes some skate, we have to pay glowing tribute to his virtues when we know darned well he is shaking hands with the devil."

* * *

Will women shine in politics? Only Billy Noonan of the Baudette Region could give the correct answer. "Not as long as there is a powder puff handy," says Bill.

Twenty Years Ago

From The Herald of This Date, 1900

United States Senator Cushman K. Davis, chairman of the committee on foreign relations of the senate, died at his home in St. Paul at 8:48 p. m. on Nov. 27, after an illness of two months. Grouped about the death bed were Senator Davis' immediate family, including his devoted wife, his aged father, Maj. H. N. Davis, and his two sisters, Mrs. Morford and Mrs. Bartlett Tripp. His law partner, C. A. Severance, and wife were also present. The senator's last conscious utterance was the expression of a wish to live, not for the sake of life itself, but because he believed his country needed him. His words were: "Oh that I might live five years more for my country's sake." Messages of sympathy have been received by Mrs. Davis from President McKinley and many prominent men and personal friends.

A. A. Armstrong will leave West Duluth in a few days for Tacoma, Wash., where he is to be employed by a railroad company. His family will join him in the spring.

It was announced yesterday that the big corn "squeeze" on the Chicago board of trade, which has been conducted by George Phillips, is off. Phillips, it is stated, made private settlements with all the big shorts on the basis of 50 cents a bushel, and today he is said to hold not more than 25,000 bushels of corn. When the announcement was made the price quickly dropped from 49 to 41 cents. Phillips' profits must have reached into the hundreds of thousands.

Miss Ollie Colvin, a sister of F. S. Colvin, the lumberman at Biwabik, was married to Capt. Ball of Ely today at Biwabik. Capt. Ball is one of the pioneer mining men of the ranges. The bride is well known in Duluth, having been cashier for Phillips & Co. at one time.

Miss Bertha Newman and Guy Carruthers were married on Nov. 27 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. L. Newman in Oneota. The ceremony was performed by Rev. R. A. Saunderson of the Oneota M. E. church.

Samuel F. Fullerton is circulating a petition among Duluth friends for appointment as executive agent of the Minnesota game and fish commission, a position which he formerly held. L. R. Helbing of Duluth is also a candidate for the place and will have the support of the political leaders in St. Louis county.

PLUMBER DEFENDS LICENSE ORDINANCE

To the Editor of The Herald:

In an editorial appearing in The Herald of Nov. 11 you take exception to the proposed ordinance to license journeymen and master plumbers. You say that such is wrong in principle and you attempt to prove it by declaring that "the issue has been studied out, fought and decided adversely." You say that the city in its new building code chose to rely on the inspection system rather than the license system. You further argue that the proposed license would virtually limit the community to its own master and journeymen plumbers, and "that it would be awkward if outside help were actually barred," in the event of a building boom.

You also hint at the probability of a monopoly between the journeymen and master plumbers, in spite of the fact that we have in Minnesota a very stringent anti-trust law.

All of the arguments you have advanced are those of the real estate dealers, cheap labor employers and rent gougers who have developed a business habit of putting dollars in advance of public health at all times.

In the first place, the city attorney advised that a building code could not have incorporated into it a license feature. That would have to be done, he ruled, by separate ordinance. It was never seriously considered as a part of the building code. So, therefore, the issue was not "studied out, fought out and decided adversely" on its merits.

In the second place, the ordinance would not keep out of the city any reliable master plumber or competent journeyman, to whom licenses shall be granted upon proof of their competency. It will not even be necessary for them to wait for the action of the license board. They merely make their application for license when they come to the city and before they begin work. They are then given a permit to work until the board meets and gives them the required examination.

It is but natural for artisans and professional men to keep their callings on a high plane and the journeymen plumbers in particular in this instance are moved by a double consideration in originating and advocating the passage of the license ordinance. We want to protect our trade, it is true, but we deem it our public duty to call attention to the fact that every office building, shop and home in Duluth occupied by tenants is a breeding place for disease, due largely to the fact that sanitary principles are not followed in the installation and replacement of plumbing fixtures.

The ordinance has nothing to do with water connections. It applies only to sewer connections. All an unconcerned real estate agent or an incompetent workman cares anything about is that the sewage will run off freely. He don't give a thought to proper ventilation; he is not trained in its purpose, and he knows nothing about escaping sewer gas, always dangerous because it is odorless and cannot be easily detected, but escaping every day, playing its havoc insiduously.

It does not require a license law to effect a plumbing monopoly. The journeymen plumbers would not be party to such under any circumstances, but we are vitally interested in keeping our trade on a high standard. Even the schools recognize the importance of doing such by the introduction of vocational training. We are blamed for poor plumbing and we ask the passage of the license ordinance so that the blame may be properly fixed.

We believe your editorial to be unfair. Its merits were not discussed. You gave out the viewpoint of the property interest and ignored entirely the question of the public health. You are ready to find a selfish motive in our course, but you very adroitly conceal the motive of the opposition to this ordinance, which is to get the cheapest plumbing at the lowest price with incompetent and untrained workmen without regard to the effect of improperly installed plumbing on the health of the occupants.

FORD'S PAPER AND THE JEWS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I desire permission to express appreciation of your editorial entitled "Despicable Business," which appeared in The Herald of Nov. 25, 1920. This editorial, I firmly believe, truly reflects the attitude of the average straight-thinking Gentile on the subject with which it deals. Unfortunately, to date, few editors have deemed it necessary, or seen fit, to touch the point at all.

Henry Ford, in his libel suit against the Chicago Tribune, told the world all it had to learn about his qualifications in regard to passing judgment upon the subject with which his Dearborn Independent is now filling so much space.

In my own behalf, both as an American citizen and as a member of the race of people which Mr. Ford is now libeling, I want to afford myself the pleasure of thanking you for your attitude on the subject, as expressed in the editorial under discussion.

I cannot refrain from concluding by quoting as follows: "The end of the matter is, let us hear the whole." Long after Mr. Ford's sloshings in his ink pots cease to be even a memory, the race of people whom he is now so vilely traducing will still be a people no better and no worse than other peoples, yet a people distinctive for their attainments and contribution toward the sum total of present and future civilization. Very sincerely yours, HARRY E. WEINBERG.

RESENTS INTERFERENCE WITH WIDE-OPEN SUNDAY

To the Editor of The Herald:

What is this I hear? A law for the strict enforcement of the Christian Sabbath to be passed in thirty-five states during the coming year. And what a lot of confidence the article carries which was introduced by Bowlby of the Lord's Day alliance. Think of it! Movies, baseball and automobiling to be prohibited on Sunday. Are people losing their senses? Their object is very evident—to take all the enjoyment out of Sundays and leave people with the option of either going to church or sitting at home. (It may even be dangerous to go out for a stroll in the park; you never can tell.). Let me quote you an old one. "You can lead a horse to water but you cannot make him drink."

I do not mean that the average person is reluctant to go to church, as far as the religion is concerned, but the church of today lacks something, and that, in my opinion, is sincerity.

Now we come to the article in The Herald of Nov. 25. The Lord's Day alliance, which is only one of the different titles which they have been using, having taken the booze away, realize that they have reached the limit in tormenting the people that way, now deliberately turn on Sunday sports. Do they want people to attend church, pray, read the Bible, etc., the entire Sunday? I ask you, did Christ ever advocate such a thing? All wrong, Ingersoll, all wrong.

Let me try to analyze the people as a whole and see how you agree with me. Divide them into three classes: First, the modern Scribes and Pharisees; second, the average individuals, and third, irresponsible people. The second class, average individuals, which is by far in the majority, are progressive so far as business is concerned, live a clean wholesome life, in spite of the fact that some are never seen in church. The third class, a relatively small number, provide the material for the first class to prosecute the majority with.

Lastly, we take the first class, which provides itself with ideals that do not interfere with their own pleasures. Baseball, movies, automobiling and booze do not interest them just as intensive reading, psychology, reforming, etc., do not appeal to me. Why not live and let live?

Stop right there now. I know what you intend to say. You are an appointed disciple of Christ. Are you carrying the word of God to all nations? If that is the case, then why misinterpret the Bible? Many people are probably ignorant of the Bible's version on many points, but that gives you no license to take advantage of them.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

This department does not pretend to be infallible. It will endeavor, however, to answer questions sent to it by readers of The Herald to the best of its ability, reserving the right to ignore all that are trifling or of concern only to the questioner, or that ask for advice on legal or medical questions.

To receive attention, every inquiry must bear the name and address of the person asking it. This is not wanted for publication, but as an evidence of good faith.

E. E., Rockland, Mich.: Will you please settle this dispute. (1) A says an American woman who marries a man who has not taken out his citizenship papers, becomes a noncitizen. B says she is still a citizen. Who is right? (2) If she moved to Canada and lived there for nine years, would she become a citizen of Canada if she did not register with the United States consul in Canada?

Ans.: (1) She loses her American citizenship. A is right. (2) The question is not clear. If you mean an American woman lives in Canada as the wife of a Canadian or other noncitizen of the United States, registration with the consul is of no consequence as she has no American citizenship to lose. A native-born American woman, unmarried, may live in Canada or any other country indefinitely without losing her citizenship unless she marries or forswears allegiance to her own country.

Inquisitive, Duluth: I have heard the statement that Milwaukee gave Debs more votes than any other presidential candidate; is it true?

Ans.: No; Mr. Debs received 42,914 votes in Milwaukee; Mr. Harding 73,410, and Mr. Cox 25,464.

Interested, Cloquet, Minn.: On Jan. 1 next a law goes into effect that prohibits the sale of any sleigh the width of which from runner to runner is less than four feet, six inches; now what I want to know is does that law apply to the use of old or second-hand sleighs?

Ans.: No, the law applies to new sleighs only. The purpose of the act is to gradually eliminate from use upon the highways of the state sleighs of a width less than four feet six inches from center to center. This is in accordance with the recent ruling of the attorney general's office.

L. Knoll, Lake Nebagamon, Wis.: Please be so kind as to print the name and address of the Dutch consul at Chicago, because I have got some money coming from Holland.

N. J., Two Harbors, Minn.: 1. How long may a person stay in the old country after living here eleven years and obtained first papers? 2. If one has all citizens' papers would they be able to come back?

Ans.: 1. First papers are merely evidence that an alien has declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States and do not convey citizenship rights. If he should live two years in his former home in the old country the law presumes that his place of abode is his residence. 2. Yes, as a full American citizen, if every two years during his residence abroad he has registered with an American consul.

Reader, Tower, Minn.: If some children's father dies and their mother marries again, do the children under 18 have to be called by their stepfather's name? If the youngest baby was 5 months old when he died and the mother married again inside of three months, does the baby's name have to be called by the stepfather's name?

Ans.: The children are all entitled to their own father's name, regardless of their age when he dies. A stepfather's name is taken only if the children prefer it.

Reader, Duluth: Would you please print the address of Miss Viola Dana, movie actress, and her name when she is not on the stage?

CONDENSED DISPATCHES

Dublin—Cardinal Logue, primate of Ireland, in a pastoral letter denounced the murders in Ireland and declared he believed if a balance was taken the principal blame would rest with the forces of the crown.

Philadelphia—The price of bread here will be reduced from 11 to 10 cents for a small loaf and from 15 to 14 cents for a large loaf on Dec. 1, it was announced today.

Paris—An international council binding together the war veterans' associations of the Allied countries was organized here by delegates from the countries concerned.

Paris—Hugh C. Wallace, American ambassador, proved "best gun" of fifteen prominent hunters who attended President Millerand's first official game shooting party on the presidential preserve.

London — The agreement whereby England supplied France with 45 per cent of England's output of coal has been canceled.

Worcester, Mass.—One hundred delegates to the state convention of the Friends of Irish Freedom walked out of the meeting when it was announced that Judge Cohalan was to speak. Judge Cohalan recently had a disagreement with Eamon De Valera over the plank to be presented to the national political conventions.

Tokio—A man imprisoned in connection with the Korean independence died as the result of a hunger strike. This is said to be the first hunger strike in connection with the movement. His fast lasted thirteen days.

DETROIT HIGH SCHOOL AIDS STARVING CHILDREN

New York, Nov. 29.—The cry of three and a half millions of starving children in Central and Southeastern Europe for food to keep them alive this winter is finding warm-hearted response among the schools of America. The teachers and students of Detroit junior college and Central high school have just sent to the Literary Digest child-feeding fund a contribution of $1,148.13. Many other schools are preparing to boost the fund, which has already passed the first million mark.

BADGER RAIL LEGISLATION FORECAST BY LAWMAKER

Madison, Wis., Nov. 29.—Railroads and the railroad commission are coming in for consideration by the next legislature, according to Senator J. Henry Bennett of Viroqua. An effort will be made to curtail or repeal the power of the commission to set rates and to require separation of grade crossings from highways. There will also be an attempt to establish a train limit and full crew law, it was declared.

Alteration of the section of the railroad commission law which provides for the control of public utilities is probable, in the opinion of Senator Bennett, who feels that the law permits the utilities to hold up the people.

"It is wrong," Senator Bennett says, "for the state to be deprived of the advantages of competition in electricity, gas and street car service. Telephone service may be properly monopolized."

Few Sawyer County Deer.

Couderay, Wis., Nov. 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Many deer hunters in Southern Sawyer county went home disappointed this year, not getting their deer, and prospects are that not more than one out of every six or eight hunters got a deer to ship home. Other years they used to ship out about 150 deer a day from this line, while this year the average is about twenty-five and the hunters are going home. Less than 200 deer were shipped from the county up to Saturday.

Keep Your Blood Pure
Nature Will Do the Rest

Did you know that ninety per cent of all human ailments depend upon the condition of your blood?

Nature gives her warnings in various unmistakable ways, so that when the appetite fails, and you become weak and listless and a general run-down condition seems to take possession of the whole body, it is an unfailing sign that impurities will steadily accumulate until your general health will be seriously affected. You should recognize the importance, therefore, of very promptly cleansing out the system, and keeping the blood supply pure and robust.

For this purpose, no remedy can equal S. S. S., the fine old blood purifier that has been in constant use for more than fifty years. Being made from the roots and herbs of the forests, it is purely vegetable, and contains no mineral substance.

Get a bottle of S. S. S. at your drug store today, and note how promptly it builds up the appetite and gives new strength and vitality. Write for free literature and medical advice to Chief Medical Adviser, 830 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

Society and Women's Clubs

THE three-piece suit is the peninsula of smart apparel that separates the sport suit from the evening gown. It is the betwixt and between of rough-and-ready and ultra-refined wear. Without it a woman must resort to intrigue to get along in planning her winter wardrobe, though getting along without it, it must be admitted, can be done, the substitute being the familiar semi-tailored coat, skirt and shirtwaist.

Nevertheless, the three-piece costume is extremely desirable. It serves so many varied purposes; for church services, calls, other women's afternoon teas—one would scarcely select it for a tea one was giving—the matinee, the women's club, the card party, and so on. Unlike the blouse worn with the coat-and-skirt suit, and which more often than not is not a matching garment, the waist of the three-piece effect harmonizes with the whole and enhances a more formal impression.

Woman Rebukes Society For Giving Benefit Dance

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 29.—Ascribing public school dances as the first cause of the downfall of "fully half the girls in our care who went wrong last year," Mrs. Henrietta Hunt, superintendent of the Springfield Redemption home, is at an open break with the Springfield Improvement league over her refusal to accept contributions of "dance money."

The league had advertised a "Redemption home benefit dance" for next Tuesday night, receipts from which were to go entirely to the home. Mrs. Hunt informed the league officers the institution would accept none of the "benefit" fund.

"I notified the league," Mrs. Hunt said, "that I would accept any free-will offering. But we cannot think of taking money secured at dances.

"Dancing drags down more girls than anything else. Fully half of those who came to us last year went wrong at the public school dances in Springfield. I believe it is high time someone was coming out against such evil."

Following the rebuke the president of the league declared the dance would go ahead as planned, "but not one cent would go to the Redemption home," she added.

Reappointment Causes Mill City Controversy

DR. MABEL ULRICH.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 29.—Reappointment of Dr. Mabel Ulrich as a member of the Minneapolis board of health public welfare is now with the health and hospitals committee of the city council. The council late Saturday failed to confirm the reappointment submitted by Mayor J. E. Meyers last August, after Dr. J. M. Kistler, alderman and board member and chairman of the health and hospitals committee, asserted Dr. Ulrich sought to have the council "rubber stamp" the inefficient administration of Dr. F. E. Harrington, health commissioner, and charged that she had been "playing politics," was "largely responsible for extravagant operation of the health division," and that the aldermen were being intimidated into supporting the reappointment. His motion to refer the matter to the health and hospitals committee prevailed and, aldermen said, it probably will rest there indefinitely.

Parts of it will be shown at the annual convention. Other suggestions include: Special bibliographies on special subjects; state speakers on local problems; movie films to further good citizenship; a pamphlet on "City Government" by Mrs. W. J. Marcley, with special reference to Minneapolis; bulletins on proceedings of the legislative council to be issued from time to time; a manual for Minnesota voters, issued by the University of Minnesota; schools of political education or citizenship; the community service bulletin issued by the University of Minnesota, and the "Good Citizenship Course" of the Woman's Home Companion.

In suggestions for "What to Do in the County," Miss Kneubuhl gave the following: Membership committee, publicity committee, program committee, a speakers bureau, where the speakers practice on each other; an excursion committee which makes trip to local centers, the courthouse, city council, courts, naturalization court, municipal plants for light and water, to parks, playgrounds, community centers, pool halls, dance halls, movies.

Side Talks

By Ruth Cameron.

HOW SHALL YOU GET THROUGH IT?

"Well, how did you get through it?" Last year, on the day after Christmas, I heard one woman ask another that in all seriousness.

And the other answered wearily, "Oh, pretty well."

We hear a great deal said about the Christmas spirit. Presumably we mean thereby a spirit of love and rejoicing, a sense of peace on earth, good will towards men.

Yet I am afraid there are many people whose Christmas spirit is better expressed by the above.

Two Kinds of Christmas Spirit.

Which kind of Christmas spirit have you?

Or better, which kind are you going to have this year?

There is yet time to make up your mind that you will have the peace-on-earth Christmas spirit and not the "get through it" kind.

Do your Christmas shopping at once if you have not done it already.

Allow an evening a week for the next few weeks to writing your Christmas cards and letters.

Leave Time for Christmas Customs.

Leave some place in your Christmas schedule for hearing Christmas music and for enjoying some of the pretty Christmas ceremonies, such as carol singing and candle lighting. Nothing develops the real spirit of Christmas more than these sweet and tender customs that have no commercial side to them.

Do all you can for children, and especially for children who won't have more than they can enjoy anyway.

Do something in the name of old friendships—write a letter to some old friend with whom you have been too long out of touch, or go and make a Christmas call at some home from which some friend of yours is gone and where your coming will mean the precious assurance that the loved one is not forgotten by others.

Pretend It's the Day Before.

Plan your whole schedule as if the day before Christmas were Christmas and thus have everything done a day early and avoid that last-minute rush.

Don't think of a dozen extra things to crowd in just because you have this extra day, but keep it for rest and get into the right state of mind for enjoying Christmas.

No one who is utterly weary can enjoy Christmas as it should be enjoyed, or make others enjoy it. Make up your mind that you will not let yourself get into that state of exhaustion where frayed nerves make the day a burden instead of a joy.

Make up your mind that you will have the peace-on-earth-good-will-towards-men Christmas spirit this year, instead of the "get through it" Christmas spirit.

MORE ONE-EGG RECIPES FOR ECONOMICAL HOUSEWIVES.

"I appreciate your recipes calling for only one egg," writes a reader friend who asks for my article on "Filling the Dinner Pail." "I am the wife of a hard-working man and cannot even consider a recipe containing two or three eggs. I have to make a very little money stretch a very long way. I don't find your recipes expensive."

This is the finest bit of praise I have had in a long while. For I am running this column to help women—and such a letter as the above tells me that I am succeeding, at least in some measure, in my purpose. The following supper menu contains a baked fish calling for only one egg as well as a one-egg hot bread which is so good that it takes the place of cake.

Escalloped Bread and Cheese
Cocoa Potato-Cornmeal Spoon Bread

Escalloped Bread and Cheese: A glass baking dish is splendid to use for this dish, although an earthenware one will do as well or even a graniteware pan. Butter crustless strips of bread sparingly and line the bottom and sides of the dish with these. Fill the middle with alternate layers of bread, also buttered and grated cheese. Mix together 1 cup milk, 1 well-beaten egg, ¼ teaspoon ground mustard, ½ teaspoon salt and a little paprika. Pour this mixture over the bread and cheese, cover with more buttered bread-strips and bake in a moderate oven for about thirty minutes. Serve in the same dish, very hot.

Potato-Cornmeal Spoon Bread: This is a fine way to use up a cup of left-over mashed potato. Pour 1 2-3 cups of hot milk over 1½ cups of uncooked cornmeal in a good-sized bowl, then add 1 tablespoon of butter. Add 1 well-beaten egg and let the mixture cool for five minutes. Then mix in 4 teaspoons of baking powder, 1 teaspoon of salt, 1 tablespoon of sugar, and 1 cup of mashed potato (cold), beating the potato in well. Bake in a greased shallow pan—a round pan about 8 inches in diameter is a good one to use. Have the oven hot and allow from 30 to 40 minutes in baking it. Serve it with a spoon, as it will be quite soft even when done through.

Rice and Cheese Croquettes: Wash ½ cup of rice in several waters, drain and pour it slowly into 1 quart of boiling water. Add 1 teaspoon of salt. Let it boil briskly for 20 minutes, then add 2 cups of milk and cook until the liquid is absorbed. To 2 cups of this cooked rice add ½ cup of grated cheese, 1 tablespoon of butter, 2 drops of tabasco sauce and the beaten yolk of one egg. Cool, form into croquettes, roll in crumbs, then in the egg-white (diluted with a very little water) and then in crumbs again. Lower a few of these croquettes at a time into deep, hot fat and when a golden-brown serve at once—either with or without tomato sauce.

The housewife will find it a convenience to own one of the wirefrying baskets on the market, although a clever woman can make one of these herself out of fine-meshed wire. With one of these baskets, the article of food to be fried may be lowered into the hot fat without the fear of its breaking or meeting with any other disaster.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman in care of the "Efficient Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

"TINKER BOB" STORIES

By CARLYSLE H. HOLCOMB

THE FOREST GROUCH.

YOUNG RED FOX did not tell Tinker Bob, king of the forest, who it was that he had killed, in our last story, and the king was somewhat puzzled. It wasn't Jerry the Jay, for Jerry had come along just at the time when the king thought he was the fellow Red Fox had destroyed. But, of course, the reason for Tinker thinking it was Jerry, was because Red Fox had said the fellow he'd destroyed was a saucy creature. Naturally, the first one any forest dweller would think of would be Jerry the Jay! "You must tell me, Mr. Fox, who you have destroyed?" demanded Tinker Bob.

Red Fox was getting a little worried for fear the king might make him hang by his toes, or stand on his nose for a whole long day. It was not pleasant to think of missing the good things to eat in the forest, while hanging by one's toes.

"Oh, King, it was a creature that busies himself trying to disturb everyone else, and I put him out of the way." Red Fox stood upon his hind feet and talked just as impressively as he could, for he didn't want the king to punish him right before he took his long journey to the Land of the South.

"Let me look at your teeth," said the king, and Red Fox went close to Tinker Bob and opened his mouth wide. "Those feathers look familiar to me, but I cannot think to whom they belong just now. It was a small creature for those feathers never came from a large bird. I thought, Mr. Fox, that it might have been one of the hunter's chickens, but the feathers are too large. Then again, I thought it was a cousin of Mr. Bob White, but the feathers are not the right color—they are too dark. Now if you don't tell me I will call Jerry the Jay, and he will tell me all about it, for he saw you do it."

"Oh, King, I don't know this worthless fellow's name. He isn't important enough to have a name. I just put him out of his trouble for he is always making a scene when he thinks anyone else in the forest wants something to eat." Red Fox didn't know what else to say.

"Well," said Tinker Bob, "I'll call the Jay and let him tell me." So Tinker Bob called Jerry and it was only a moment before he was there. "Look into this fellow's mouth and see what kind of feathers are on his teeth." Jerry was afraid to get very near, but at last he plucked up sufficient courage.

Red Fox opened his mouth and Jerry looked in. "Thief! thief! I know who it was, and I'm so glad that he has been put out of the way for no one in the forest likes a grouch and that's just what he was."

"Well, tell me who it is, for even the king cannot think of his name?"

"Thief! thief! Why, that fellow's name is Mr. Sparrow, the Forest Grouch."

AT THE THEATERS

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

ORPHEUM—"Little Miss Vamp" with Lightner Sisters; other acts.

ORPHEUM—Generally speaking, it is a rather unreasonable undertaking to say whether a vaudeville show is good or bad when it is about average, for what one person may think is a crackerjack offering, another will consider impossible and vice versa. But it is easy enough to give a verdict when a show is so good that everybody who sees it goes rather wild over it. That's why it is safe to say this week that the bill which opened at the Orpheum yesterday is a winner. Even the Sunday afternoon audience, admittedly one of the chilliest of the week, grew enthusiastic; and when a bill can get the Sunday crowd into that condition there's not much more comment needed.

If one is to pick a weak place on the bill the spot would be occupied by Fred Whitfield and Marie Ireland in their skit "Umphs-ville." Of its kind it is good, but it is too old and needs freshening badly. Only the name of the act is changed and its operation is stilted and strained.

As to the rest of the bill, from the opening to the close, it is a top-liner. Even the athletes have something new and give one of the best parts of the entertainment. They are William Mandel and company in "An Unusual Occurrence."

The headliner is deserving of the place. Lightner Sisters and Newton Alexander present in their clever way a one-act musical comedy, "Little Miss Vamp," a creation of Mr. Alexander's and one that he may be proud of. It is bright, brisk and tuneful throughout, the comedy is fast and fetching and the costuming is in fine taste. Winnie Lightner is, if anything, funnier than ever and as full of pep as of yore. She has better opportunities in this act than she has formerly had, and she makes the most of them. William Taylor, the dancing MacDonalds and the ten vamps make their hits in a sure-fire way and Mr. Alexander and the other of the Lightner sisters share in the honors.

Another clever skit, and one which scored well yesterday, was "Shopping," in which Howard Langford and Ina Fredrick are appearing. This act has an unusually good setting and the dialogue, while necessarily rather inane, is sprightly and much better than is usually served up in such skits. It's laughable anyway and, of course, the act is built with that object in view. Some good dancing is given and pretty fair singing.

To many, no doubt, the best of the bill will be the playing of Elsa Ruegger, the noted Belgian cellist. Miss Ruegger has been heard here before and has scores of admirers in Duluth. She is so good that she wins signally even with a vaudeville audience while providing a classical, or at least semi-classical, program—and that's going some. Yesterday she was one of the big hits of the bill and was recalled several times. She is well assisted by Miss Valarie Ruegger at the piano and Edmund Lichenstein on the violin.

Eddie Clayton and Frank Lennie in "The Chapple, the Chap and the Hat" give a few minutes of diverting nonsense in which a hat figures prominently, and the men give pretty fair comedy, bordering on the slapstick order, but nevertheless amusing. The audiences of yesterday laughed themselves into an uproar over the antics back of the footlights.

The opening feature on the bill, "An Artistic Treat," lived up to its title. It is a posing act, giving ten scenes, each of which is beautiful. It is presented by Margaret Stewart and William Downing, with an assistant.

Topics of the Day, the kinograms and the orchestral program were the usual hits.

NEW GRAND—After setting a new attendance record at the New Grand last week, Manager Chester Sutton has brought another bill of vaudeville and pictures that has a strong popular appeal, being varied in its makeup and possessing many excellent features. For those who like jazz, Nellie de Onsonne and her Jazzland Five fill the bill; for those who like novelty, Wray's Manikins and Marionettes are interesting, and for the children, Selina's circus is a joy.

"The Evil Eye," a serial starring Warner Olund and Eileen Percy, closes with a final thrill this week, ending the suspense that has enthralled serial followers for fifteen weeks.

The young folk had a wonderful time in viewing the ponies, dogs and monkeys in Selina's show.

Nellie de Onsonne and her Jazzland Five made a big hit last night, introducing some catchy, tuneful music and injecting some other features of the popular sort. The act promises to go strong as the boys can sing and Nellie herself is a clever entertainer.

The pictures include a strong comedy, cartoons, news and the final episode of "The Third Eye."

PHOTOPLAYS

NEW GARRICK—Viola Dana in "Blackmail."

ZELDA—Louise Glaum in "Love Madness."

STRAND—Mae Murray and David Powell in "The Right to Love."

NEW LYRIC—Olive Thomas in "Everybody's Sweetheart."

NEW GARRICK—Viola Dana, with a remarkably strong cast, in "Blackmail," and Buster Keaton, to whom has come the mantle of "Fatty" Arbuckle in all-comedy productions, in "Convict 13," feature one of the most entertaining programs seen at the New Garrick this season. These pictures, with a number of short subjects as added attractions, opened a four-day engagement yesterday, and if the crowds are not capacity at every performance it will be for some other reason than any lack of amusement quality. In "Blackmail" Viola Dana is the scheming daughter of a master crook who ensnares a wealthy young man to separate him from part of his bankroll. But the mother of the youth steps in and, with the aid of a resourceful lawyer, gives the plot a twist which makes a most surprising and yet decidedly satisfactory climax. The star is more winsome than ever, which is going some. The supporting cast includes Wyndham Standing and others. Buster Keaton's picture is indescribably funny.

NEW LYRIC—The New Lyric has been thronged with admirers of Olive Thomas since her last picture, the only new one in which one can see her, "Everybody's Sweetheart," which opened there Saturday, to remain until late Tuesday night. The story, by John Lynch, is a clever one and ideally suited to the winsome personality of the star. The role of the "little nobody" she portrays is not only one of the best of her long list of successful characterizations, but one which most truly reflects the loving and thoughtful disposition for which she was noted. In spite of her position as the inmate of a poor farm, she is a constant emblem of optimism in the production. Those who have been fond of Olive Thomas' pictures will find more reason than ever in her last to regret that they can never see another new one. The comedy feature on the same program is a Chester, with Snooky, the Humanzee, entitled "You'll Be S'prised." Miss Geraldine La Valliere pleases with a whistling solo, "Sweetie o' Mine," on the special musical program.

STRAND—With "The Right to Love," his second independent production, George Fitzmaurice has definitely established his reputation as a motion picture producer who can combine lavishly artistic backgrounds with dramatic action. This picture, which opened at the Strand theater yesterday, was received with unusual favor.

Mr. Fitzmaurice has taken a drama of mismated husbands and wives, with scenes laid in Turkey, and made a picture that holds the interest throughout. Lovely Mae Murray is the ill-treated wife of Lord Falkland, the British representative at Constantinople. The climax is reached when he installs his mistress in their home and at the same time imports a Prince Stanislaus, whose mission is to compromise Lady Falkland. Col. Loring, well played by David Powell, is the American who foils Lord Falkland, though not until he has killed the nobleman in a row. But the story ends happily.

PLAZA—"Take It From Me," playing a one-night engagement at the Plaza theater, Superior, last night, packed the house. Many Duluth people were present. The show was one of the best musical comedies seen at the Head of the Lakes in several seasons, and many expressions of regret were heard that it could not play in Duluth. The Gardiner trio, consisting of Edgar, Arline and Helen, who, as small children, played an entire season with the Metropolitan stock company in Duluth seventeen years ago, are the stars of "Take It From Me," and redeem the promise given them that they would develop into top-liners in the business. Their dancing is an outstanding feature, in addition to which they have other parts in the show, Edgar playing the leading male role with ability. Marjorie Sweet as Queenie La Belle was particularly good, and the other roles were well presented.

ZELDA—Known as among the most artistic as well as the most financially successful producers of motion pictures, J. Parker Read, Jr., has woven one of the noblest themes in the history of the screen in his newest production, "Love Madness," in which Louise Glaum plays the stellar role. Mr. Read's rise in the silent drama has been phenomenal. It was Mr. Read who presented Louise Glaum in "Sahara," "The Lone Wolf's Daughter" and "Sex"—three productions destined to be long-remembered because of the lavishness of production, artistry and popular appeal. "Love Madness" is now showing at the Zelda theater.

SYMPHONY CONCERT AT NEW GARRICK WELL RECEIVED

The symphony concert given yesterday afternoon by the New Garrick orchestra was one of the very best of the series, and in makeup and variety was ideally suited to the tastes of the large audience, which was made up of music lovers from all parts of the city. The orchestra is showing constant improvement in harmony and solo work, due to constant rehearsals and capable direction of Charles Helmer.

Among the most popular numbers yesterday were "Air de Ballet" and "Margie," the latter being a popular song introduced in Duluth recently. The music took hold on the public's fancy at once and is now being whistled everywhere.

"Morning, Noon and Night," by Suppe, provided the overture, and it was featured with a charming cello solo. "Orientale," by Cui, an odd bit of music, and selections from "The Chocolate Soldier" provided excellent variety to the program. Mendelssohn's Scherzo, op. 15, No. 2, and bits from "Lucia de Lammermoor" were among the classic hits.

BREAD DROPS ANOTHER CENT

Twenty-Three Ounce Loaf Now 16 Cents; Minneapolis Lower.

The Federal bakeries today announced a drop of another cent a loaf in retail bread prices. This is the second drop within the last ten days. A twenty-three-ounce loaf is now being retailed at 16 cents.

"We are following the market closely," the manager of the Federal system, said today, "and if the prices of flour, sugar and other essential commodities continue to drop, there will be further readjustments in bread prices. Our prices now are as low as they are in our stores at Minneapolis, Chicago, or anywhere. We are also making reductions of several cents a dozen on sweet rolls, cinnamon rolls, doughnuts and so forth."

Managers of several other leading bakeries are out of the city at present and whether there will be further readjustment in prices cannot be foretold until their return. All companies have dropped the price of bread from a cent to a cent and a half a loaf within the last few weeks.

One Minneapolis bakery system today announced a drop in the price of a twenty-four-ounce loaf to 15 cents. Other companies have stated that they contemplate a decrease about Dec. 1.

WILD AUTO HITS CROWD

Three Injured, Two Badly; Two Knocked Under Street Car.

Mr. and Mrs. Nels P. Tangwell, 4806 West Fifth street, are in the Duluth hospital seriously injured, and their niece, Miss Alice Magnuson, of the same address is at her home nursing minor bruises and injuries as the result of being deliberately run down by a large high power automobile at 7:15 o'clock last evening while standing at Forty-eighth avenue west and Grand avenue, waiting to board an east bound street car. Instead of stopping to see the extent of injuries caused, the driver gave the machine more gas and disappeared in the darkness.

An east bound street car was about to stop on the corner when the automobile, traveling at the rate of about thirty-five miles an hour, drove up. The driver sounded the horn, but did not slow up and before the several people were able to get out of the way the machine had thrown Mr. Tangwell and his niece under the street car and dragged Mrs. Tangwell about fifty feet. Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Casler, 1020 North Fifty-sixth avenue west, who were also waiting for the car and witnesed the accident were unable to get the number of the car.

The motorman of the street car applied the brakes on his car at once, bringing it to a sudden stop, thereby preventing Miss Magnuson and Mr. Tangwell from being ground under the wheels.

All Three Injured.

Mrs. Tangwell sustained a compound fracture of the left leg, her left arm was broken, right wrist dislocated and she got an ugly cut from the paving over the left eye. Mr. Tangwell sustained no broken bones but received a badly wrenched back and a number of bad bruises. Miss Magnuson was only slightly bruised and was able to go to her home after receiving medical treatment at the hospital.

The West Duluth police station was not notified of the accident until 9:10 o'clock, almost two hours after it had occurred. Police headquarters was then notified but this was too late to attempt to locate the persons responsible. The only description that the police have of the auto is that it was a large car with bright lights and apparently had high power.

Chief of Police Pugh expressed regret that the department did not hear of the accident until too late to apprehend the driver. He said that he is preparing a bulletin in instructing all officers to check up closer on reckless drivers.

"If the fair weather continues, the department will place a motorcycle policeman back to work," said Chief Pugh. "In cases like the accident last night, where none of the witnesses were able to get the number of the machine, it is next to impossible to capture the persons responsible. In the darkness witnesses are unable to get the number of the car and unless another machine is right on its heels they get away."

Citizens State Bank

"The Bank on the Corner"

OBJECTS TO LETTER ON BONUS BONDS

"I believe that the inference to be had from the letter of Adjt.-Gen. Walter F. Rhinow, made public in the morning paper of Nov. 20, to be both unfair and misleading," L. A. Barnes, cashier of the Western State bank, said today in speaking of the sale of the state soldier bonus bonds.

"The letter reads to the effect that the banks of the state have purchased bonds to an amount sufficient to keep the board busy until Jan. 1 when the legislature will assemble and amend the bonus law making the bonds bear such a rate of interest as to make them readily salable in the open market. The letter further says that the state bonus board will not permit any bank to forward any more money to the board to cover the amount due any soldier and to enable the state to pay off the soldier specified by the bank because it would be unjust to the soldier to allow a bank to discount his claim which he will receive directly from the state without any discount just as quickly now as if he were to place his claims in the hands of a bank.

"A survey of the situation here in West Duluth shows that not one of the three banks has discounted a claim of this kind. I do not know what the situation is over the state but Gen. Rhinow's letter is obviously unfair to the banks in West Duluth and I dare-say to hundreds of other banks over the state.

"The Citizen State bank has put $18,000 in these bonds; the Home State bank, $7,300, and the Western State bank, $9,200. These banks have not discounted a single claim included in these amounts. It has meant a loss to these banks to buy these bonds which bear 5 per cent when they do not experience any difficulty in getting 8 per cent for money and they have not discounted the claims to make up this difference. Yet Gen. Rhinow's letter implies that it is the custom of all banks without exception to discount these claims."

GETS SIXTY DAYS AT FARM: WIFE'S COMPLAINT

Henry Harding, a Gary resident, who was arrested last night on a charge of conducting a blind pig, pleaded guilty this morning when arraigned before Judge Harry W. Lanners. He was sentenced to a straight 60-day term at the county workfarm. Harding was arrested at the instigation of his wife who objected to three barrels of mash, which the police found in the basement of their home. The mash is said to have been taken there for safe keeping for a friend.

NEAR DEATH IN ST LOUIS RIVER

Walter Walkowiak, 4005 West Fifth street, who narrowly escaped drowning in attempting to cross the St. Louis river Saturday, when the ice gave way, was discharged from the Morgan Park hospital this morning. Walkowiak was in a state of great exhaustion when he was brought to the Morgan Park hospital late Saturday night after having clung to the edge of the ice in the St. Louis river for several hours.

Walkowiak, who was to have joined a hunting party on the Wisconsin shore, started across the river as a short cut to the meeting place. He had gone only about 100 feet when the ice gave way. He remained in the water until his cries attracted the attention of Edward Banker, a fireman of New Duluth. Banker with Lieut. Robert McDermott of the New Duluth police station, Gilbert Crotty and Charles Bune of the New Duluth fire station effected the rescue.

MRS. BRETT TO KEEP CHILD.

Habeas Corpus Action Deferred Pending Settlement of Family Trouble.

Mrs. Mae Brett will retain the custody of her 8-year-old daughter for the present at least and habeas corpus proceedings instituted by her husband, W. L. Brett of West Duluth, in district court last week will be held in abeyance until a settlement of the domestic troubles over the child can be made.

The writ of habeas corpus returnable Saturday before the court was not disposed of by Judge H. A. Dancer at the request of attorneys for the husband and wife who suggested that a settlement might be made out of court. An arrangement is now being worked out to permit the father to visit the child at his mother-in-law's home at reasonable intervals.

URGE RENEWAL OF RED CROSS MEMBERSHIPS

People who desire to renew their memberships can do so at all of the banks and at several other business places in West Duluth. As was announced from the local headquarters there will be no personal solicitation for memberships in this campaign, but people are expected to go to these places and take out their renewals, Mr. Getchell stated today. The Union Match company and the Klearflax company are the only two industries to have made a report thus far.

OFFER REWARD FOR COWARDLY DRIVER

One hundred dollars reward was offered by the board of directors of the automobile club, at its meeting today, for the arrest and conviction of the driver of the automobile which crashed its way through a crowd at Forty-eighth avenue west and Grand avenue last night, injuring three persons, and then drove off without stopping. Members of the club were emphatic in their condemnation of this reckless and cowardly driver and intimated that the club should keep a standing reward for the arrest and conviction of persons guilty of similar recklessness. It was declared that such actions were little less than murder and should be put a stop to.

Many complaints of reckless driving throughout the city have been made to the automobile club officers and steps will be taken to obtain some drastic legislation that will tend to curb such carelessness in the future. The suggestion that an ordinance be adopted by the city council providing for either a straight work farm sentence, confiscation of the driver's car, or prohibition against driving for a certain period of time, met with the indorsement of all the directors. It is expected that some such a request will be submitted to the city council in the near future.

A request was made of the laws and ordinance committee for data on the new law providing for a certain tread for sleighs, and for information as to what provision is made in the state and city laws regarding the patrolling of the state highways.

Complimenting Coleman Naughton for the good work that has been done on the Vermilion road and the manner in which the work was performed while traffic was not interrupted, the directors instructed the secretary to request that the road through his district be plowed after a snow storm.

OUTLOOK WAS NEVER BETTER

Chicago, Nov. 29.—Bishop Wilbur P. Thirkield, first resident bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church in Mexico, who recently returned from that country, declares that "Mexico, first in neighborhood, must be made first in brotherhood" to the people of the United States. The bishop traveled extensively throughout Mexico during the last few months.

"Never at any time during the past ten years," he said, "have conditions been as stable, or the outlook for peace and progress been so hopeful. The country is whole-heartedly behind the new president, Gen. Obregon, to be inauguartaed in December, and the Provisional President de la Huerta has a strong hold on all classes.

"The aspect of peace in Mexico today is in striking contrast to the bristling guns and disturbances evinced in my visit of two years ago. Then, every train was guarded by soldiers. During the last two months I have traveled extensively through six states of Mexico and did not find a soldier on guard on any train.

No Organized Opposition.

"There is no organized opposition to the present government, and no man is in sight around whom any opposition can center. Just as noticeable and gratifying is the friendly feeling toward the United States.

"This feeling prevails on both sides of the border, and was manifested in a striking manner in the recent visit of President-elect Obregon at El Paso.

"The border states have changed entirely their attitude toward intervention. The governors and the press are solid for peaceful co-operation with Mexico. For the first time in ten years a train has crossed the International bridge. Also for the first time in ten years officers of the Mexican and United States army are exchanging courtesies across the border.

"The election held during the summer at which Gen. Obregon was elected president was extremely quiet. I could not help noticing its contrast to the primary election held in Chicago at about the same time, at which one man was killed and many were severely injured and attacked. Had such violence taken place in Mexico there is little question but that it would have widely heralded as an evidence of anarchy.

Failed to Make Impression.

"Much was made of the Bolshevist manifesto which was read from the front porch of the palace by revolutionists, who got into the building through a ruse and who waved the red flag and made incendiary speeches, particularly attacking the newspapers. The whole manifesto failed to make any impression. Yet had such an outrage as the recent bomb explosion in Wall street occurred in Mexico, there is no doubt but that it would have been followed by an outcry against the weakness and the inefficiency of the government.

"I had an interview for an hour with President-elect Obregon," he said, "and found him in most cordial sympathy with the program for Methodist work which I discussed with him. Gen. Obregon is modest, mild mannered and entirely frank. He wears no uniform, as if to emphasize the civil character of the government for which he stands.

"Under the present government the pulpits and platforms are now open to all Protestant ministers, and many of the priests exiled under Carranza are returning. Education is the great need of Mexico today, and it is very encouraging that the government realizes it."

WILL FIGHT TO GET BANK RAID SUSPECTS

POSITIVELY IDENTIFY SUSPECTS AS ROBBERS OF BANKS AT SUPERIOR

This afternoon word came from Omaha that H. E. Erickson, cashier, and Martha Nelson, stenographer of the Superior State bank, today positively identified Charles Stewart, J. J. Bohmer and Herbert Ryan at Omaha as the three men who held up the bank on Nov. 16 and escaped with more than $7,000.

Miss Nelson nearly fainted when she picked Ryan out of a group of ten men. A hearing will be held Wednesday before Governor McKenzie of Nebraska at Lincoln to determine whether extradition papers should be issued.

District Attorney Archibald McKay of Douglas county left this morning for Lincoln, Neb., to prosecute a fight for the extradition of J. J. Bohmer, H. Ryan and Charles Stewart, who have been identified as the men wanted for the robbery of the Superior State bank on Nov. 16. Word was received yesterday that the men propose to fight extradition. Two of the men wanted have criminal records.

H. E. Erickson, cashier of the bank, and Miss Martha Nelson, stenographer, are also on their way to Omaha, Neb., to complete the identifications. It is believed that on the testimony of these two employes of the bank the extradition papers will be granted by Governor S. R. McKelsie of Nebraska.

* * *

The December (Christmas) number of Scribner's has rather more than the usual holiday flavor this year. There are several Christmas poems, and Henry van Dyke, in his department known as "Guide-Posts and Camp-Fires," writes delightfully of "Christmas Greens," recalling the old Yuletide customs of England, and asking the question, "Do you think the World war has spoiled Christmas?"—to which he emphatically replies in the negative. The number opens with an article about "Robert Louis Stevenson's Contribution to Literature and Life," by Lauchlan MacLean Watt, author of "Hills of Home" and "Stevenson's Pentland Essays." He is the vice-president of the Stevenson club, Edinburgh. The article recalls Stevenson's early days in Scotland and presents a charming picture of Stevenson's old nurse, Cummie, to whom he owed so much all his life. Madame Waddington, who never writes anything without a special and individual flavor, describes a memorable winter in Algiers. This article begins with a description of Christmas day. There are many picturesque impressions of the North African people and background. Winnifred Kirkland, in her article on the "Weakness of Psychic Research, an Examination," gives an analysis of what has been thought and said about the subject, and points out some of the weak points of arguments in favor of the life beyond. Psychic investigation has followed three lines of study, she says, "the mysterious nature of matter, the mysterious nature of the subconscious, the mysterious nature of post-mundane intercourse, showing us the equal weakness of all three."

NEW IDEA OF BOLSHEVISTS

Kansas Man Finds Russians Are Not Hairy and Unsanitary.

Manhattan, Kan., Nov. 29.—A somewhat different picture of the Russian Bolshevist from that set forth in popular cartoons and literature of the Western world is drawn by Dr. R. K. Nabours, head of the Kansas State Agricultural college, who has just returned to America from a year's trip to territory under Bolshevist rule.

Dr. Nabour headed a mission looking toward the establishment of a trade route from Southern Russia to the United States. He was in the employ of a fur company which was interested in obtaining skins of the Karakul lamb. The Karakul are grown principally in Bokara, Central Asia, formerly a principality of Russia, now under Bolshevist authority. During the war this trade was suspended, but through the efforts of Dr. Nabour's mission a trade route has been reopened and commerce resumed between Bokhara and the Western world.

Not Hairy and Shabby.

Contrary to popular conception, the Bolshevist, Dr. Nabour says, is not hairy, shabby and unsanitary. He wears the same kind of clothes as the average American city dweller, and the popular term "hairy Bolshevist" is a misnomer, according to the Kansas scientist.

"I was unable to reach the interior of Russia," said Dr. Nabours, "but I saw the typical Bolshevists in Tiflis, capital of Transcaucasia. Of those I saw of the soviet adherents none wore beards nor had allowed their hair to grow long.

"I was unable to secure a passport to travel in Russia, so had to content myself with standing on the edge and talking to those who had been in. I spent some time in the northwestern part of India, across the border from Bolshevist Russia. For the most part I was able to learn facts about Bolshevist Russia first hand from army officers, American, British and French observers and traders and Russian refugees.

"Nothing we have read or heard probably overdraws the bad conditions, economically, that exist over there—starvation, ravages of disease and looting. This looting phase has brought about a condition whereby only enough produce is raised to supply the farmers' actual needs. Their farms are likely to be looted at any time, though no more likely by the Bolshevists than the anti-Bolshevists. For instance, it is well known that the anti-Bolshevists and Bolshevists get together and assign the towns and territory they should not loot respectively. I do not mean that this procedure is taken under orders from Moscow or from Derekin, but this condition exists among individual groups. My point is that they are all, so far as can be ascertained, equally bad. It is simply a country where law and order have been adjourned."

DISCRIMINATION IN CONTRACTS CHARGED

New York, Nov. 29.—Discrimination in awarding contracts for shipping board supplies was charged by Samuel M. Hildreth, an official of a packing supply company, testifying today before the Walsh congressional committee investigating shipping board affairs. Mr. Hildreth alleged his firm was unable to obtain contracts from the shipping board because it was not on an "approved list."

The witness declared he had never been able to find out why his firm was not on the list, but admitted he had never taken the matter up with the chairman of the shipping board.

William E. Cass, formerly a traveling auditor for the board testified to alleged minor irregularities in shipping board accounts.

CHANGES IN POLICE WILL BE ANNOUNCED SHORTLY

Civil service examinations for appointments to the police force and for promotions will be held early in December for appointments to be made shortly after Jan. 1, according to Chief of Police Pugh. The examinations will be held for a number of men who are now working as specials or under temporary appointments, as well as for new applicants.

A few minor changes in the working forces of the department will be announced within a few days, Chief Pugh said today. These changes may be announced so as to take effect Dec. 1. It is probable that the changes to be made will be decided on late today or early tomorrow.

"The changes to be made will be of a minor nature," said the chief. "Just what these are I have not fully decided as yet, but it will be nothing radical. What changes will be made will be for the betterment of the service."

A KING'S PARTY.

London Chronicle: The king has decided to entertain all the living holders of the Victoria cross at a garden party at Buckingham palace, and a committee is considering the final arrangements. The date is not yet fixed. Each recipient will probably be invited to take one or two members of his family with him.

As the guests will include all those surviving to whom V. C.'s were awarded in previous years, some fine veterans will be present. It will be a happy sight to see the union of Britain's bravest of two different centuries.

At present there are about 117 surviving who received the Victoria cross before the last war, and since August, 1914, more than 580 further awards have been made. Only about half of these are now living, so it is expected that the attendance at the coming event will be approximately 400.

BIG MUDDY BREAKS.

Bismarck, N. D., Nov. 29.—The ice broke in the Missouri river here Sunday and within an hour the stream had risen five feet, eight inches. The breaking ice carried out a large portion of a temporary piling bridge used by a construction company in building a bridge across the river here. Several men at work on the bridge barely escaped before it went out, so quickly did the ice break up.

Practically all the bridge machinery was saved, but it was estimated the damage to the temporary pilings would reach $10,000.

O. W. Roberts, weather observer here, said that this is the first time in the history of the local bureau that ice has broken up at this time of the year. The maximum thickness here was about nine inches until a week ago, when a spell of unusually warm weather set in.

Warnings were sent up and down the river earlier in the day, when it was reported that the ice had gone out at Washburn. Fears were expressed that livestock herds in the river bottoms might be caught in the sudden rise.

GOPHER FINALLY GETS PARENT FROM RUSSIA

Backus, Minn., Nov. 29.—After years of effort on the part of Theodore W. Isajeff of Backus, he has been able to get his aged father from Riga, Russia, to this country. The son, who is a properous farmer and business man of this community, sent his father money over a year ago through Berlin for his passage to America. The money lay unclaimed in the bank of Berlin and depreciated, because of fluctuations of the mark, one-quarter of its value.

The elder Isajeff eventually managed to cross through to Berlin and take a ship to America. The son met his father at the depot in Minneapolis and so changed was his appearance from years of suffering, privation and almost starvation, that neither recognized the other and it was only through questioning that the young man was able to identify his parent.

Women of Middle Age

Owing to modern methods of living not one woman in a thousand approaches this perfectly natural change in her life without experiencing a train of very annoying and sometimes painful symptoms. Those dreadful hot flashes, smothering spells, fainting spells, nervous troubles and irregularities are symptoms that should have prompt attention. These two letters prove what a successful remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is for women at this time of life.

These Two Women Helped During Change of Life.

Taunton, Mass.—"I could not eat or sleep for six months, had fainting spells and could not walk without help for three months, caused by female trouble. My cousin, who was a doctor, told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it helped me greatly. Then during the Change of Life I used the same remedy. I am seventy years old now and am able to do my own housework and walk one mile to church every Sunday morning and evening. I am recommending the Vegetable Compound to my friends having the same troubles as I had. Your remedy is the best on earth. I cannot find words to express my gratitude for it."—Mrs. Susan C. Staples, 157 B School St., Taunton, Mass.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I want to let you know what good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me. I had organic troubles and am going through the Change of Life. I was taken with a pain in my side and a bad headache. I could not lie down, could not eat or sleep. I suffered something terrible and the doctor's medicine did me no good at all—my pains got worse instead of better. I began taking the Vegetable Compound and felt a change from the first. Now I feel fine and advise any one going through the Change of Life to try it, for it cured me after I had given up all hopes of getting better. I will tell any one who writes to me the good it has done me."—Mrs. Margaret Danz, 743 N. 25th St., Philadelphia, Pa.

ST. PAUL STARS BEST BATSMEN

Rapp and Hargrave Tie for Swat Honors in Association.

Chicago, Nov. 29.—Official batting averages of the American association announced today place Geldie Rapp, third baseman with the championship St. Paul club, and Catcher "Bubbles" Hargrave also with St. Paul, in a tie for the 1920 championship, each with an average of .335.

Although Brazil, a pinch hitter with St. Paul, topped the list of batters with an average of .378, he only participated in fifty-two games, as compared with 155 for Rapp and 142 for Hargrave. Grover Hartley of Columbus in eighty games batted for an average of .351, and "Reb" Russell of Minneapolis had an average of .339 for eighty-five games.

Rapp, who will join the New York Nationals next season, gave Leo Dressen, his teammate, a spirited race for honors in base stealing, falling one short of the record of fifty established by Dressen. In home run hitting, Bunny Brief of Kansas City nosed out Hargrave. Brief connected with twenty-three homers, and Hargrave, who was sold to the Cincinnati Nationals, banged out twenty-two.

Dressen proved to be the best scorer in the association, registering 131 runs in 154 games. Mostil of Milwaukee was next in line with 125 runs. Hyatt of Toledo led in drawing bases on balls. He was passed 112 times in 152 games. Brief was passed sixty-nine times. In sacrifice hitting, Davis of Minneapolis topped the list with a total of fifty-seven.

The championship of St. Paul club, which made a runaway race of the pennant scramble, lead the clubs in batting with percentage of .301. The Saints scored 961 runs in 165 games, as compared with a total of 597 runs scored by their opponents.

DULUTH HUNTER KILLS BIG BUCK

Proctor Copper, 1612 East Superior street, well known Duluthian, is the champion deer slayer of Northern Minnesota, and has a 350-pound buck, decorated with six-prong horns to prove his contention. This is not only the largest deer carcass brought to Duluth this season, but is said by veteran hunters to be the biggest they have heard of in ten years.

Cooper killed this prize trophy one mile back in from Finland, a small station on the Alger line, last Friday afternoon. After slaying the animal Cooper was in a quandary as to how he would get the prize out to the railroad. After failing in several attempts he finally got a toboggan and with the aid of three other men hauled the trophy out of the forest.

MINNEAPOLIS MAN HEADS NAVY ELEVEN

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 29.—The members of the naval academy football team have named Emery Larson of Minneapolis captain for the coming year. This involves a change of custom at the academy, it having been usual to delay the selection for two weeks or more after the army game. The election was made in the train coming to Annapolis.

Larson has played regularly for two seasons and is also a member of the la crosse twelve. Bob Folwell will accept the offer to coach the eleven next year, but some details remain to be settled.

NATIONAL SKATING TOURNEY AT GOTHAM

New York, Nov. 29.—Skaters are getting ready for the national outdoor skating championship tournament to be held at Newburgh on New Year's day. Scores of entries from this city have been made, among the most prominent being Joe Moore, winner of many national and international laurels last year. The principal entrant from the West is McGowan of St. Paul, who was the principal point getter in these events last year.

RECONSTRUCT HOLE.

Roslyn, N. Y., Nov. 29.—The short fourteenth hole on the golf course of the Engineers' Country club here, considered one of the most freakish in the country, is to be reconstructed.

The hole, nicknamed "The Battleship," and the "Two or Twenty," has broken the winning stride of many stars in tournaments, and proved to be the fatal obstacle for many promising contenders in the national amateur championship tournament held on the links last fall.

BURNS AND MOORE BOX FAST DRAW

Mark Moore, Minneapolis middleweight, and Bill Burns, Duluth welterweight, fought a fast ten-round draw last Saturday evening in a private entertainment given before one of the local clubs. Harry Boyle of Philadelphia, veteran lightweight boxer, and Young Ennis of Superior, who made his first bow as a professional, went through six fast rounds, Boyle winning with something to spare. Ennis, for a beginner, looks mighty good. He has a lot of natural cleverness, a fine physique and is a snappy puncher. Young Ryan and Young Nemo, a pair of 120 pounders, fought a fast six-round draw, both boys battling hard all the way.

Aside from a handicap of from seven to eight pounds which Burns gave away to Moore after the club had failed to get a welterweight to oppose him, the Duluth boy was further penalized by having to box on a moving canvas which would slip every time he moved a foot. This robbed Burns of his speed and almost completely tied up his left hand, forcing him to get in close to hit when it would have been to his advantage in fighting a bigger man, to have worked at long range.

In the exchanges Burns outhit Moore two to four to one, dropping him to the canvas after a lively exchange in the sixth round in which Burns hit Moore four times with but one return.

In the open fighting Moore landed several stinging rights to Burns' jaw and mouth, which, aside from shaking him up did no damage. In the tenth round Moore dropped Burns with a straight right to the jaw, the Duluthian taking a count of eight, while resting on his knees and gloves. Burns held during most of the remainder of the round.

JACK DEMPSEY IS TAKING A CHANCE

BY HARRY NEWMAN.

Chicago, Nov. 29.—Has Bill Brennan a chance with Jack Dempsey?

Ordinarily a person who would suggest that Bill has a good chance against the champion would be pegged as mad. Yet in boxing, as in baseball or football, you must never take anything for granted.

What an awful upset, what a tragedy in pugilism, so to speak, if Mr. Brennan were to knock Jack sprawling when they meet at Madison Square garden Dec. 14 next.

Not Conceded Chance.

We don't think that the big Chicago heavyweight has any more chance against Dempsey than a pair of deuces has in a Juarez poker game, yet it is within the range of possibilities for Brennan to kick in with a "wild" one and blow Dempsey out of the picture.

Have you thought what such an occurrence would mean to Dempsey? Should Brennan release a knockout haymaker the blow no doubt would cost the title holder close to $1,000,000 for he is yet in his prime and purses for topnotch fighters are high.

Let us look at the situation in a cold, sober way. Brennan is a big man physically, and behind all this brawn there must be concealed some driving force. Supposing Bill should let one go with no particular objective in view and this wild effort should find a resting spot on Jack's jaw. What then?

Punch on Bell Turns Trick.

It is not unlikely to expect that the champion would take the same kind of a dive that most of his opponents have taken of late. When a punch is on its way it has no respect for the propeller or the person who is likely to intercept it in its course. If the blow lands on the bell, it is curtains, that's all. So it would be were Brennan to hang one on Jack.

It has happened before in the ring, when the rank outsider has sneaked through and smashed the dope right in the faces of those who ought to know.

We remembered an occasion when Kid McCoy, the old heavyweight, was looking around for some one to box. The Kid was a little short of kale and struck upon a fellow by the name of Jack McCormick. He coaxed McCormick into the ring and the latter was primed for a killing. But what did McCormick do but unbuckle one from his knees in the first round and knock the well known Kid flatter than a stein of near-beer. McCoy had a hard time squaring himself with the public after that.

That McCoy Bout.

Another case of the unexpected was when Al McCoy whaled George Chip, the middleweight champion. McCoy was a 100 to 1 shot, but he furnished the fight fans with the surprise of their lives when he knocked George cold in the first round.

Young Corbett got very little attention when he was matched to meet Terry McGovern, but we all know what happened in that memorable bout. That is the way of the unexpected happenings in the prize ring and when they come along, there is nothing left but regrets.

We are not mad enough to predict that Dempsey is going to receive such a surprise, but at the same time his case affords grounds for speculation. That $1,000,000 row with Carpentier would be wiped out of reckoning as far as Dempsey is concerned and the name of Bill Brennan would be substituted in the new articles of agreement.

Think it over. Can Brennan drop one over on Dempsey or will the great Jack clean him up just as easily as he has all the other aspirants?

BADGER ATHLETES GETTING READY

Sundt Greatest All-Around Athlete Wisconsin Ever Had.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 29.—Indoor track work will soon be started at the University of Wisconsin with the outlook for an excellent team, providing the men go through their final examinations for the semester without becoming ineligible, according to T. E. Jones, coach and director of the athletic department. Only preliminary training will be held before Christmas.

Cross-country men, following their race in the conference at Urbana, Ill., where they finished fifth, have been letting down on training for a rest before taking up the distance runs in the indoor track. Individual men on the team, it is said, will be almost sure point winners in the two-mile run.

Nineteen old men are available for the squad, with a list of fifty-one varsity men picked from a field of several hundred, and it is expected that some of the new men will show up well after careful training.

The Badgers have at least one outstanding man in each of the events. However, there appears to be little chance to build up star performers despite the abundance of material. The team will be well balanced with consistent point winners in nearly every event, but without any glaring track heroes, it is stated.

The Distance Men.

For the distance runs will be Willard Dayton of Rhinelander, track and cross-country man, who has placed in nearly all meets in which he has been entered; Henry C. Dennies of Courtland, N. Y., another cross-country man, and Wellington Brothers of Evanston, Ill., captain of this year's cross-country team, all of whom will be entered in the two-mile or in the one-mile run.

For the half-mile will be Mark H. Wall of Eau Claire, and Clyde Nash of Eau Claire, both "W" men. Wall was on the cross-country team this year, while last year he was a star track performer. He has proven to be an almost certain point winner in any meet. R. F. Spetz of Milwaukee is the mainstay in the 440-yard run. He placed in all of the meets last season, his first of competition, and he is expected to be in top form this year. Carl Keisey of Stevens Point will run the 220-yard dash with Spetz and W. J. Pukard of Evanston, Ill. Keisey will figure prominently in the 100-yard dash with Spetz again to be counted on.

Sundt a Great Man.

In the hurdles A. J. Knollin of Pocatello, Idaho, and G. B. Stelloy of Milwaukee are the outstanding men. The broad jump has Guy Sundt of Stoughton, captain-elect of the 1921 track team. Sundt is said to be the greatest all-around athlete Wisconsin has ever had. H. W. Armstrong of Muskegon, Mich., will figure in the broad high jump and the pole vault.

The weights will be handled by Sundt, J. J. Liskovec of La Crosse, and Malcolm Mecartney of Hillsdale, Ill.

New York, Nov. 29.—Judge K. M. Landis, new head of organized baseball, has accepted an invitation to attend the opening game of the 1921 season of the New York Giants, it was announced today.

WISCONSIN HAS NATIVE RIDERS

Fifteen Norwegian Ski Jumpers Attending Madison School.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 29.—Ski jumping, made prominent as a winter sport last year by Norwegian students, will receive an impetus at the University of Wisconsin by the construction this winter of a forty-foot jump. Fifteen men here from Norway have already started work on the structure that will be the scene of the jumping feats.

While there is little prospect that ski jumping will be made a minor sport at the university, regular meetings are planned with other schools. Last winter Minnesota sent down her jumpers, only to have them outdistanced by the Wisconsin men. It is probable that a similar contest will be held this year.

Interest of the student body has been stimulated by the advent of the ski jumpers. Not only did large groups of students turn out to the exhibits, but a number of them took up the sport, with what are said to be satisfactory results.

A snow is now awaited to put the slide, which will soon be completed, in condition for use.

McGOWAN WILL SKATE.

St. Thomas College Football Star Leaves for the East.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 29.—Announcement is made that Everett McGowan, national amateur ice skating champion, has canceled his registration at St. Thomas college and will go East to enter the season's skating campaign.

During the football season McGowan was the star of the local college backfield, carrying the burden of the St. Thomas attack. He showed flashes of the speed which carried him to the top in ice skating before he closed what may be his last year as a college football player.

Several offers have been made him by various clubs to skate under their colors this season. After the holidays McGowan intends to enter the ranks of professional skaters, according to one announcement.

MAY GO TO LONDON.

Carpentier-Dempsey Fight May Be Taken From America.

London, Nov. 29.—The Carpentier-Dempsey fight will take place near London if obstacles arise in the United States to prevent its success there, according to Promoter Cochran. In announcing to the English newspapers that the two fistic artists had signed articles and posted $50,000 each for a fight in America, he added that the tentative dates selected were Memorial day and the Fourth of July. He then declared that if obstacles arise in America the fight would be held in a specially erected arena near London.

ON THE IRON RANGES

SUNFLOWER ENSILAGE IS BOOSTED BY BERGH

Grand Rapids, Minn., Nov. 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Otto I. Bergh, superintendent of the North-Central experiment station here, has just issued a bulletin on the growth of sunflowers for ensilage, showing that sunflower ensilage is as good, pound for pound, as corn ensilage in milk production. Experiments with sunflowers have been carried on by the station since 1916, Mr. Bergh says, and the results of feeding trials were so successful that last year and this year more than half the area planted to silage crops was devoted either to sunflowers exclusively or to sunflowers in mixture with other crops, the sunflowers being drilled in rows like corn.

Stand Frost Better Than Corn.

Mr. Bergh says:

"We have found that the sunflowers are more frost resistant than corn. The sunflowers are also ready for harvest earlier than Minnesota No. 13 corn. That is, when planted together the Mammoth White Russian sunflower will be in bloom with many heads having well-formed seeds ten to fifteen days before the Minnesota No. 13 corn is in the glazing stage. Sunflowers can, therefore, be planted for silage at a later date than corn. Our results also indicate that sunflowers planted ten to fifteen days later than corn planting time will produce rather larger yields than when planted at corn planting time.

"Sunflowers will produce good yields of silage where corn will not, though it does best under conditions that are favorable to corn. Sunflowers will yield fairly well on peat lands where the peat is not deeper than three feet. On similar land corn makes little or no growth at all. Sunflowers can also be recommended in preference to corn on clay lands where the conditions are too cool and the drainage is not adequate for corn.

Stock Like Sunflowers.

"Sunflower silage has been fed alone, as well as in mixtures with corn and with corn and soy bean silage. Very satisfactory results have been obtained in all cases. The silage was eaten readily both by cattle, sheep and swine. The record shows that when a mixture of sunflowers, soy bean and corn was fed the cows would consume a daily maximum of forty-two pounds of silage against a daily maximum of thirty pounds of exclusive sunflower silage. The cows were at the same time receiving all the clover and timothy hay that they would eat up clean, besides concentrate foods fed at the rate of about one pound of food for every three pounds of milk produced.

"A comparative test between corn silage and sunflower silage was carried out in the winter of 1919 and 1920. The results would indicate that the sunflower silage is as efficient, pound for pound, for milk production as corn silage. However, as stated above, when sunflowers are fed exclusively the cows will not consume it in so large quantities as they do corn silage, or a mixture of sunflowers, corn and soy beans."

If You Need a Medicine You Should Have the Best

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain—the article did not fulfill the promises of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited, to those who are in need of it.

A prominent druggist says "Take for example Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend, for in almost every case it shows excellent results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy has so large a sale."

According to sworn statements and verified testimony of thousands who have used the preparation, the success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is due to the fact, so many people claim, that it fulfills almost every wish in overcoming kidney, liver and bladder ailments, corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by parcels post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents; also mention this paper. Large and medium size bottles for sale at all drug stores.

SOUTH HIBBING BUILDING CONTINUES

Hibbing, Minn., Nov. 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Bricklayers employed by the Haglund company, which has the contract for the laying of brick in all of the new Oliver buildings in the Central forty, have completed their work for the winter and left for home.

During the several months they were employed here they laid 3,000,000 bricks. The maximum number of men at work totaled twenty, while the minimum was only six. The bricklayers came from Minneapolis and St. Paul. They did all of the terra cotta work, stone work and bricklaying. The men were employed on the Oliver hotel and the majority of the business structures.

They will return in the spring, when work will be resumed. Interior work is now being carried out in the Central addition, although the plumbing and heating work is not going at a rate expected. The plumbers who were previously at work struck for higher wages. They were the skilled laborers and steamfitters and their places have been hard to fill.

With the moderate weather prevailing, there has been no let-up in the building operations in South Hibbing, and the Central addition is humming with activity.

The sun rose this morning at 7:31 and will set this evening at 4:22, giving eight hours and fifty-one minutes of sunlight. Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Seasonable to mild temperatures continue in most districts except that freezing weather includes the Texas Panhandle and New Mexico. A moderate turn to colder occurred last night from Saskatchewan southward to Colorado. Areas of low pressure are centered over West Missouri and North Alberta. During the last 24 to 48 hours there was precipitation throughout the Northwest, to the eastward of the Mississippi Valley, and over Iowa, Missouri, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, East Texas and the Texas Panhandle region. HOLD TWO SUSPECTS IN VIRGINIA CASE

They may have a hearing today.

Vidmar admits the ownership of a Studebaker but says he did not drive it Thanksgiving day. Lupis is credited by the police with admitting he drove Vidmar's car that day, taking it from its parking place near the Oak hotel to take some friends to the Higgins location between 12 and 1 p. m., the hour the child was injured, and driving by the McKenzie home on Thirteenth street near where the child was hit. ORE SEASON NEARS CLOSE Shipping to End This Week; Few Carriers Remain for Cargoes.

The ore shipping season at the Head of the Lakes will be over before the end of the present week, according to information given out from a reliable source this morning.

Just one carrier, the steamer Cowle, remains to be loaded at the Missabe docks and it is said she will be ready to clear by this evening or tomorrow morning at the latest. This will be the last vessel to get a cargo at the Missabe docks this season.

Three steamers the J. C. Wallace, Oakes and Harvester, are loading today at the Great Northern docks at Allouez. The Wallace and Harvester are expected to clear before this evening and the Oakes will get under way on her final trip tomorrow. The departure of these boats will wind up loading at the Allouez docks. The Northern Pacific and Soo docks in Superior have already closed their seasons.

Loading at Ashland.

The steamers Taurus and Mather are loading at Ashland. The former will be ready to clear tomorrow and the latter will have her load by Thursday.

With the ore traffic closed vessel movements at the Head of the Lakes will be noticeably less for the remainder of the season. It is expected that quite a number of coal boats will reach here before the winter sets in in earnest. The package freighters will continue to run in here just as long as possible, which may be several weeks yet.

ALMOST WILD WITH HEADACHE

"My Whole System Was Rundown," States St. Paul Woman.

Health Restored by Tanlac: Gains Wonderfully in Strength and Weight.

"It is simply wonderful how I have gained in health and strength since I began taking Tanlac," said Mrs. O. Krause, 243 Winefred St., St. Paul, Minn.

"For three years I have had the worst kind of stomach trouble. My digestion was bad, I had scarcely any appetite, and what little I ate soured and formed gas that kept me in misery all the time. My head ached constantly and so bad at times as to almost set me wild.

"My back over my kidneys hurt me continually, and sometimes I would get so dizzy I'd have to take hold of something to keep from falling. My whole system was so badly run down that I was hardly able to get about at all.

"I have taken three bottles of Tanlac so far and I can truthfully say all my troubles have disappeared. My appetite is fine, my digetion is good, gas doesn't form now, and my stomach is all right. Dizziness never bothers me. I am free of headaches and the trouble in my back is gone. I never felt better in my life than I do right now, and never tire telling what Tanlac has done for me."

Tanlac is sold in Duluth at the W. A. Abbett drug stores under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative. Also the leading druggist in every town throughout the Northwest. Wm. GOOD BULGES IN ALL GRAINS

December spring closed 1¾c up at $1.49 asked; March, 1½c up at $1.15 asked; December winter, 1¾c up at $1.48 nominal; December durum, 2¼c up at $1.51 asked, and March, 2¼c up at $1.54½ asked. Rye closed unchanged at $1.38 for spot; December, 3c up at $1.31, and May unchanged at $1.29 bid. Oats closed ½c up at 42½@43½c for spot, and barley unchanged at 50@67c for spot.

A marked reversion of form was shown in the course of trading in the wheat market today. Advances extending all the way up to 6¼c were set during the first two hours operation and sentiment generally was more bullish than in some time. Buying by Eastern operators and the picking up of grain to cover shipping contracts before the close of the lake navigation season were factors. Shipping sheets showed that 2,000,000 bu of all grains had been loaded out of the elevators that had not as yet been reported out of stocks and an aggregate of 650,000 bu is now being loaded.

December spring wheat advanced 4¼c up till the noon hour at $1.51½ and March stood 5¼c up at $1.55, after having sold 1c higher. December durum advanced 4¼c at $1.53 and March 4¼c at $1.56½. A price of $1.58 however was set earlier.

A better demand than in some time came in rye on reported export sales on German account. December rye gained 6c at $1.34 and May 2½c at $1.31¾.

There were on track here for the day 495 cars of all grains including: Spring wheat, 43, durum, 298; winter, 5; oats, 10, rye, 105; barley, 15, and flax, 19. From present indications it is thought that the elevators will be cleaned out when the season of navigation closes. Milling inquiry for wheat has shown an eleventh hour revival.

Flaxseed Higher.

While trade in flaxseed was comparatively light, it was persistent and with limited offerings, substantial advances were recorded. Another load of seed was loaded out of the elevators today for the East and further boat chartering was reported.

November flax closed 8c up at $1.98 nominally; December, 8c up at $1.98; January, 8c up at $2.01 nominally, and May, 7c up at $2.10. A Winnipeg, November flax closed 12c up at $2.00, and December, 5¼c up at $1.91 bid. At Buenos Aires, December flax opened at $1.54.

Broomhall: Linseed review, Liverpool: Situation in the United Kingdom was weak during the greater part of the week. Later the market steadied, due to shorts covering.

"Indian crop prospects are pessimistic. Drought continues and rains are urgently needed in many sections Holders are much firmer in their views. Argentine weather is fine.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "Today's opening was December 10s 7d, up 4d; January 10s 4½d, up 4d; February 10s 4d firm, up 4d. Oversold shorts are covering.

"Corn market opened firm with a continued brisk demand from the continent. The bullishness is attributed especially to fewer Plate offers and the strength at Buenos Aires. Spot corn advanced 3d and cif parcels up 1 to 6d per quarter."

Simons Day & Co. wired from Chicago: "It was another bear week in grains, although the decline was not held. The week-end found considerable change in sentiment which is inclined to look for higher prices. The big break has discounted many of the bearish features and constructive news is being given more attention. Important among these is that the producer refuses to liquidate, and unless forced to do so, small receipts will tend to strengthen the situation. Wheat exports for the week are estimated at 12,000,000 bu. The eleventh hour $1.50 wheat bear will find little consolation in the fact that Europe is taking our surplus far more rapidly than expected."

Weather forecast: Illinois, Missouri, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Iowa—Unsettled tonight and Tuesday; rain or snow, somewhat colder.

North and South Dakota, Nebraska and Kansas—Generally fair tonight and Tuesday, colder.

Trading in the May wheat future will be inaugurated on all the American markets on Dec. 15. That action was decided upon at a meeting of the committee of sixteen of the American grain exchanges held at Chicago on Saturday. H. F. Salyards, representing the Duluth board of trade suggested Dec. 1 as the opening date but Minneapolis and Chicago favored a later period.

W. D. Jones, representing the Hallet & Carey company on this market, was on the trading floor today after a lay-off through a nervous collapse. He is fully recovered.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Chicago, Nov. 29.—Fresh strength manifested itself today in the wheat market. Signs of further buying for European interests had much to do with the upward tendency of prices. Besides offerings were small and the impending close of navigation from Canadian ports attracted some attention. Opening quotations, which varied from 1c to 4c higher, with December $1.58 to $1.59¼ and March $1.52½ to $1.54, were followed by slight additional gains and then something of a reaction.

Susequently absence of selling pressure was a more noticeable feature and the market acquired a new upward impetus, which, however, failed to last. The close was unsettled, ¾@1¾c net higher, with December $1.56¼@1.56¾, and March $1.52½@1.53.

Enhancement of corn values accompanied the rise of the wheat market. After opening ⅝c to 1¼c up, including May at 73½ to 74c, corn continued to harden.

Disappointing husking returns from Illinois, together with Iowa reports of rural efforts for higher prices led subsequently to transient additional gains. The close was ⅛@⅜c net higher with May 73¼@73⅜c.

Oats reflected the upturn of other grain, starting unchanged to ⅜@¾c higher, May 49c to 49½c, and showing additional firmness later.

Provisions were lifted by the action of hogs and cereals.

MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

NOTE CLEARS MYSTERY OF MISSING HUNTER LOST IN YEAR 1903

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Nov. 29.—Discovery of a note and watch in a tree by Archie Barle of Flint, Mich., while hunting in the woods near Hulbert, practically clears up the mysterious disappearance of Arthur Kahler of Marquette, Mich., in 1903.

Attention of Barle was arrested by flashes of light from a metal object. Investigation proved this to be a watch hanging from a tree with the note inside, which read as follows:

"I have been lost three days. I have shot three deer and placed the same note in every deer.

(Signed) "ART KAHLER."

Mr. Kahler has never been found.

Court Action Considered.

Washington, Nov. 29.—Court action to compel the treasury department to make payments to railroads under the guaranty provision of the transportation act is under consideration by the carriers.

STOCKS ARE IRREGULAR

New York, Nov. 29.—A steadier tone prevailed at the opening of today's stock market, last Saturday's rally in oils, shipings and steels making further progress. American Linseed was the strongest feature, rising 1¾ points. Atlantic Gulf gained 1 point and Bethlehem Steel, Mexican Petroleum, Houston oil, Southern Pacific and Norfolk & Western advanced large fractions. Within the first half hour, however, a reaction set in wiping out initial gains in oils and shippings. Heaviness developed in Virginia-Carolina Chemical, American International, Pan-American Petroleum and various specialties. Foregn exchange was irregular, but the money market indicated a continuance of last week's easier conditions.

Alternate rallies and declines occurred, but trading lacked the feverish activity of last week's sessions. Losses of the first hour included Crucible Steel, Chino Copper, Chicago Pneumatic Tool and some of the food specialties at reactions of 1½ to 4 points. Oils, equipments and tobaccos offset this movement at gains of 1 to almost 3 points, but yielded to renewed pressure against shippings. Mercantile Marine preferred and United Fruit fell 1 to 2½ points with Atlantic Gulf and American International. Rails were the only shares to pursue an independent course, Reading, Norfolk & Western and Southern Pacific rising 1 to 1½ points. Call money opened at 6 per cent.

Excepting shippings, which continued heavy, the market rallied briskly at midday, oils, motors and motor specialties were the strongest features showing gains of 1 to 4 points over last week's final prices and steels and equipments advanced 1 to 2 points.

Specialties and minor rails, including New Orleans, Texas & Mexico, hardened later, but recoveries in steels and equipments failed to hold. The closing was irregular. Sales approximated 550,000 shares.

FRENCH MAKE BIG PROGRESS IN TWO YEARS

Much of Ruin Produced by the Great War Is Effaced.

Industrial Productive Capacity of Nation Rapidly Becoming Normal.

New York, Nov. 29.—Armistice day two years ago released France from the grip of the invader, removed the menace of conquest, but left the most productive regions, and with them the earning power of the country, in a state of ruin.

France this year celebrated the anniversary of the armistice with much of that ruin effaced and her industrial productive capacity rapidly becoming normal.

The extent of France's recovery from unparalleled war ravages in the space of two armistice anniversaries is reflected by the restoration of her textile trades, the rehabilitation of her merchant fleet; by great strides in mining activities, resumption of agriculture, increasing railroad operation, by her enlarged revenues and by the progress of French foreign trade.

Trade Balance Improved.

The improvement in these various activities up to Armistice day has been summarized by the French commission in the United States from its special cable dispatches giving the latest official figures. In her foreign commerce France, during the first nine months of the current year, has improved her trade balance by over 7,000,000,000 francs. The figures are, exports, 16,557,711,000 francs; imports, 27,189,071,000 francs, an excess of imports of 10,600,000,000 francs compared to 17,863,000,000 francs excess during the corresponding period of 1919.

Improvement in the trade balance is also indicated by the fact that exports in 1920 were 60.8 per cent of the imports, while in the same period of 1919 they were only 36.6 per cent of the imports. During August and September, 1920, French exports equalled 84 per cent of the imports, a ratio not previously reached since 1910.

Further detailed returns show that France is exporting increasing amounts of food stuffs and manufactured articles. This further emphasizes the progress made in the restoration of her industries and agriculture. The figures disclose a 116 per cent increase in exports of foodstuffs and a 154 per cent rise in exports of manufactured products in nine months of 1920 compared with 1919.

Textile Industries Revive.

French textile industries which, with the coal industry, suffered most heavily through the invasion of France, are leading in the national reconstruction. Two years ago France's great textile centers had, because of the war, ceased production. Many of them were wiped out. Lille, Roubaix and Tourcoing in the invaded regions had furnished 92 per cent of the pre-war total French production of wool, cotton and linen textiles. Eleven billion francs, at present money values, represents the war damage to the textile industries in these centers.

Armistice day this year found the ravaged textile industries operating at from 68 to 94 per cent of their normal capacity. The French government spent 458,000,000 francs, to March 15, for the reconstruction of these industries.

In the Lille region 409 out of 478 mills employing twenty or more persons have resumed operation and 8,000 out of 14,500 cotton looms are at work. Of 146,351 persons employed before the war 98,884 have been re-engaged. Seventeen wool combining mills in Roubaix and Tourcoing are operating practically at normal, and of 1,000,000 spindles, 950,000 are in service. Roubaix is producing two thirds of the pre-war weekly output of carded wool and woolen cloth.

Coal Production Restored.

Two years ago France had lost in destruction of coal mines more than half of the country's total coal producing capacity. Twenty-two mines with pre-war output of 20,000,000 tons annually, or half of France's total coal production, were destroyed in the departments of Nord and Pas de Calais.

One-half of these mines are now operating, those in the Nord department being expected to produce 50 per cent of their normal output by the end of the year and to reach normal production next year. These mines produced in January last only 85,883 tons. In September their output was 299,819 tons. In October, 18,653 miners, out of 44,418 normally employed, were working in the mines.

Including Alsace-Lorraine, French coal mines averaged 2,000,000 tons per month production during the first nine months of the present year. The production for September was 2,419,015 tons.

On Armistice day 1918, 7,000,000 acres of French agricultural land lay pitted and scarred beyond usefulness. At present all but 280,000 acres have been restored and will permit of sowing next spring. Some 4,000,000 acres of this remade farm land are already under cultivation. The harvests have been so good that France, this year, is virtually able to supply sufficient home grown cereals to feed her people. In 1919 it was necessary to import 41,000,000 hundred weight of wheat.

French Railroads [illegible].

French railroads are showing improving operating efficiency. In a recent month the daily average number of freight cars loaded was 35,612 compared with 20,923 in May. The significance of these figures will be apparent when it is recalled that 1,800 miles of former French railroads in the north and east were non existent when the war ended. All but a few miles of these roads have been rebuilt and are in full operation almost all on [illegible]-war service schedules.

Despite France's heavy tonnage losses during the war, the French merchant marine has practically been restored to prewar standing. At the first of the present year the total merchant tonnage was 2,406,886 tons, or approximately the same tonnage as previous to the war. To this must be added the tonnage of German ships provisionally under the French flag. Construction of 513,119 tons of ships was [illegible] by orders in French yards at the beginning of 1920.

Supplementing the reconstruction work, France has progressed with the improvement of her national finances. The heaviest budget in the history of the nation has been approved this year and estimates are that the revenues because of increased taxation, will exceed 21,000,000,000 francs. In pre-war years the budget was 5,000,000,000 francs.

Revenues Increase.

October returns of receipts from indirect taxes, revenues and monopolies for the ten months of 1920 show that the total receipts, 9,802,871,700 francs, exceeded the receipts of the same period of 1919 by 3,416,507,400 francs and were 1,797,626,500 francs in excess of this year's budget estimates.

Finally, France is now in the midst of a loan campaign to raise a vast sum from her own resources, for the further improvement of her physical and financial position. This loan was opened to subscription in October, and advance subscriptions totaled over 2,000,000,000 francs. The subscriptions of the Bank of France alone will, it is estimated reach 7,000,000,000. Armistice day was in part, dedicated to the loan as a memorial to France's fallen heroes.

BIG BREAKS IN FLAXSEED

Slumps Followed by Quick Recoveries; Week Ends With Firming Up.

Demoralization developed at periods in the flaxseed market during the last week. A flood of selling came on Monday and, with the outpourings enhanced by the catching of stop-loss orders, breaks extending all the way to 28c were staged. The selling came mainly from country holders, some of whom, reports said, had carried their trades all the way down from $5. Margins in many cases had been exhausted through the unprecedented breaks in quotations, and commission houses were forced to let them go by the boards to protect themselves. Buying of a good character came on Tuesday, resulting in recoveries of 15c. Slumps of 14c came during the next two days, but the trade took a brace on Saturday, prices holding with buying from crushers' interests in evidence.

Operators Dubious.

Even at the present low level operators regard the flaxseed market as a difficult proposition to figure out. With a probable falling off in receipts and a possible picking up in demand for linseed oil, it is thought quite likely that a sharp upturn in prices might be brought about at any time. An operator remarked at the end of the week that he would not care to be tied up with short contracts at present market levels.

Receipts during the week were 114,212 bu and stocks in the elevators were 1,453,000 bu after allowing for the loading out of a cargo of seed by a crusher for Toledo, Ohio, delivery.

Closing prices of flaxseed on the Duluth market on Saturday, as compared with the previous Saturday and the corresponding period last year, were:

One Hundred Investment Bargains in Railroad Bonds

In a circular prepared by one of the greatest bond authorities in this country, which we have just had printed, the bond situation is not only thoroughly covered, but there is a list of one hundred bargains in high grade railroad bonds yielding as high as

Ten Per Cent

Among this list are many unusual investment opportunities, and inasmuch as underlying factors are now favorable to rising bond prices, a selection of these bonds would unquestionably result in excellent market profits, in addition to an attractive income return.

The circular will be sent without obligation, together with a booklet describing a convenient method of purchasing the bonds.

Read Them Daily

It makes no difference in what particular direction your interest lies, you will find among the want ads in today's Herald something that will probably interest you.

As new advertisements are being added daily, the best way to keep thoroughly posted is to read the want ad columns every day, for unless you make it a regular practice, the advertisement that might interest you most may appear on the very day you neglect to read the want ads.

If you have a proposition in mind, why not advertise the fact instead of waiting for someone else to let you know that they can be interested in a similar one? There is nothing to be gained by the delay. Those who are in the market for anything read the want columns as well as those who have something they wish to dispose of.

PRESIDENT NOW HOPING TO ADDRESS CONGRESS

Would Speak Next Week, If Not Opposed by His Family.

Will Recommend That Congress Reduce the Burden of Taxes.

Republican Majority Likely to Begin Hearings on Question.

By DAVID LAWRENCE.

(Copyright, 1920, by The Duluth Herald.)

Washington, Nov. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Congress gets back next week for its regular December session, but whether President Wilson will deliver his annual address in person, as he has done so many times before, or whether he will send it to be read by a clerk as other presidents used to do is still undetermined.

The president himself wants to make a farewell appearance at the capitol and is said to be well enough to do so. Yet there is always a risk with one who has had a nervous breakdown that excitement might bring on a recurrence of the same trouble. Whenever any decision has had to be made involving a risk to the president's health, the members of the president's family have always played safe by avoiding the risk altogether. That's why it seems unlikely that Mr. Wilson will go to congress, though he is strong willed and may insist upon doing it. There are, on the other hand, those who think the president might be persuaded to postpone his visit until the close of the session in March and say good-by then.

What Will President Say?

As for the contents of the presidential message which is being prepared no inkling has been given. From a political viewpoint, if for no other, there will be recommendations that congress reduce the burden of taxes and also cut the cost of living. Of course it is unlikely that the Republicans who are in the majority in both houses will permit any action to be taken on the recommendations of a Democratic president, since their own president will take office in three months and call an extra session of congress to adopt a legislative program. The Democrats, however, talk of wasted time and opportunity and will not lose the chance to accuse the Republicans of dilatory tactics and political expediency. On the other hand, the Republican leaders already counter with this query: Would President Wilson sign a Republican tax bill, especially one that proposed the raising of revenue by the imposition of a protective tariff? White House officials say Mr. Wilson would sign a tariff bill if it followed the lines of suggestions on that question which he has already made to congress. The president has favored protection for infant industries and others whose economic relationship to the tariff question has been disturbed by war, but he has by no means indicated that he would sanction the kind of a tariff bill which the Republicans would put before him.

Compromise Bill Probable.

To work out any kind of tariff bill would take practically all of a session of congress and leaders of both sides agree that unless there was an assurance of compromise the time would be wasted. But the Republicans who want high protection care nothing about a compromise bill and, without

U. S. LEADS IN CHEMICAL GAS

In Foreground in Development of That Phase of Warfare.

Washington, Nov. 30.—Declaring that the world war demonstrated that an "enemy bent on aggression cannot be trusted to live up to any set rules for war," Brig.-Gen. Amos A. Fries, chief of the chemical warfare service of the army, in his annual report to Secretary Baker today, asserts that the development of this branch of the United States army to a point "where it is impossible for any nation to go further" will do much toward deterring other nations from forcing hostilities against the United States.

This country is in a position to manufacture and deliver on the field of battle more chemicals than any other nation or group of nations, says Gen. Fries, adding that the "United States has wisely decided to continue the chemical warfare service with sufficient powers and funds to develop its possibilities, not for aggression, but to insure that if American boys must ever again shoulder arms in defense of the liberty of their country they will do so on an equal footing with any other nation so far as chemical warfare is concerned."

Experiments of Value.

During the past year the service has conducted experiments of great value in the production of new gas and chemical instruments of war, the report says, and has effected a close liasion with chemists and chemical societies in civil life.

All formal war contracts of the service have been settled and informal contracts are more than 98 per cent liquidated, the report asserts. Of the formal contracts 1,214 have been settled for slightly more than $287,000, a saving to the government of more than $6,000,000. The salvage and sales section of the service disposed of plants and materials representing an expenditure of nearly $7,500,000, the report said, the sales averaging 27 per cent of the cost price.

ERSTWHILE PROMOTER TO SERVE FIVE YEARS IN JAIL

CHARLES PONZI.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 30.—Charles Ponzi, promoter of the quick-rich scheme in which thousands of persons invested millions of dollars before it collapsed last August, pleaded guilty to using the mails in a scheme to defraud in the Federal district court today.

Sentence of five years in the Plymouth county jail was imposed by Judge Hale. The court took into consideration only the first count of one indictment of forty-four counts in which it was charged that Ponzi had represented falsely that he was able to pay interest at the rate of 50 per cent in forty-five days from profits made in international postal reply coupons.

ASKS HELP TO OBTAIN FUNDS

President Finch Presents Case to Commercial Club Organization Division.

Larger quarters for the Duluth Commercial club, sustaining memberships to care for the work of the civic and commerce divisions of the club's activities, each division to be self-sustaining, is the plan of President Benjamin Finch, as outlined in an address to directors, chairmen and members of the organization division of the club's affairs, today noon. President Finch declared it was necessary to have larger quarters, but the maintenance of the quarters should not come out of either the civic or commerce division funds.

"This is the last of a series of meetings of the three divisions of the Duluth Commercial club. Your division of organization affairs, under Vice President Dacey, had entirely to do with the membership, meetings and entertainments and finance of our club.

"This club has almost 1,500 members, some interested in civic and commerce affairs principally, but all of them interested in a real live Commercial club which has its social side as well, and it is the duty of the meetings and entertainment committee to provide these features which interest so many.

No Deficit in Cafe.

"Do you realize that this is one of the very few organizations that does not have a deficit in its cafe, and that over one quarter of our members come here daily—serving nearly 11,000 monthly? We know our quarters are crowded, a really good sign of appreciation, but we must provide larger quarters and this is now under consideration by your Vice President Dacey and a special committee.

"This can be done if we increase our sustaining membership to take care of the expenses and work of our civic and commerce division, for we will then have money for organization affairs from our individual memberships and departmental activities heretofore used for civic and commerce work. Our ways and means committee has a well defined plan for increasing our sustaining membership through systematic effort. Our investigations show that many, who are interested, have not provided their share to civic and commerce funds while others have probably contributed to many solicita-

MADERO'S ASSASSIN ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

Guatemala City, Guatemala, Nov. 29.—Francisco Cardenas, former general in the Mexican army and accused of the assassination of President Francisco Madero in February, 1913, inflicted fatal injuries upon himself today.

Cardenas was recently arrested on a charge of being an accessory to the murder of a man and woman escaped from jail. He was surrounded at Madrugado. When he found his escape cut off he fired two bullets through his head. Cardenas confessed in 1915 to having assassinated Madero and also Pino Suarez, vice president of Mexico during the Madero administration.

BOLLING IS POSITIVE IN HIS DENIAL

Tells Committee He Never Assisted Any Corporation to Secure Contract.

New York, Nov. 30.—A denial that he had ever taken money for influencing the disposition of contracts or machinery by the United States shipping board, as charged by T. K. Sands, former Washington banker, coupled with a request that all of his business transactions with Sands be investigated, "both for my own and my family's sake," was made before the Walsh congressional committee here today by R. W. Bolling, President Wilson's brother-in-law and now treasurer of the shipping board.

Mr. Bolling told of business transactions with Sands dating back to 1916 and earlier years, out of which grew several financial transactions. He told the committee that his personal records were all available to its inspection. Sands has testified that he received $40,000 from the Downey Shipbuilding corporation for "representing" before the board, out of which he paid money to Mr. Bolling.

Mr. Bolling said that after banking with the institution with which Sands was connected for several years he had taken a contract in 1916 to build a house for the banker and in settling its cost had foregone any profits because of objection by Sands to a charge for extras.

Banker's Wife Worried.

"However, a short while afterward Mr. Sands told me that he did not want me to lose any of my commissions for building the house and that he had accepted this reduction only because his wife was very much worried that the house should have cost more than they had originally planned, and that he intended paying me an additional $600," Mr. Bolling said.

"Early in 1918, Mr. Sands sent a Mr Cranor to see me in regard to some machinery, which was to be used in connection with construction of vessels. Mr. Cranor told me that the machinery in question was 'bending rolls' and was to have been shipped to his company from the factory, but at the last minute some other company succeeded in having the order changed and that this machinery would be diverted to them; that a great injustice was being done to his (Mr. Cranor's) company. I called up Mr. Sisler, who was then secretary of the shipping board, and explained the matter to him.

"He said he would look into it, and subsequently told me that he found upon inquiry that the rolls had been promised to Mr. Cranor's company and would be shipped to them.

Sands Made $1,000.

"A short time after this Mr. Sands told me that he had made, or would make $1,000 in connection with this transaction—though he now states he has no recollection of the matter—and that he would 'take care of me.' I told him I would accept nothing. He then mentioned the $600 which he still owed me in connection with the changes made in his house, saying that

WOULD CLOSE MORE CHICAGO SALOONS

Chicago, Nov. 30.—Suits compelling the closing of thirty-five more saloons, cabarets and drugstores charged with selling illicit liquor, were ready to be filed today by Attorney General Brundage of Illinois. Included in the list are two of the most notorious "black and tan" cafes in the city.

The "drive" to force closure of places selling intoxicants is directed especially at the "black and tan" resorts, Attorney General Brundage said, quoting a letter from a down-state colored attorney predicting race trouble if they are allowed to remain open.

Not Against Liquor.

"This is not a fight against liquor," the attorney general said, "but an effort to enforce the law. In the days gone by the public received $1,000 annually from each saloon in Chicago for the privilege of doing business. Many saloonkeepers seem to think they can continue doing business almost as openly without the payment of a license fee and with no regulations whatever.

"Fifty cents to $1 is charged for a drink of whisky. In many instances the 'whisky' is pure alcohol artificially colored. The smokey flavor so much admired by connoiseures of 'Scotch' is sometimes added by a slight mixture of creosote. Many of the concoctions approach near the line of being a deadly poison. The effect is to speedily benumb senses. His condition is not that of intoxication; it is the effect of being drugged.

"Another batch of bills is being prepared for presentation to Judge Landis. This work will continue until the saloon will cease to flourish in Chicago."

FIND TWO SURVIVORS FROM MISSING BARGE

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 30.—Two surviving members of the crew of the missing barge W. J. Pirrie and the body of a third were found by an Indian searching party near Cape Johnson, Wash., last night, according to a telegram from Clallam Bay, Wash., to the Seattle Merchants' exchange, received today.

The Indians arrived at Clallam Bay today, bringing the news of the finding of the two sailors, the message said. They were unable to find any trace of the barge, which when last seen carried twenty-three persons, including the captain's wife and baby.

The Indians said the two sailors told them they had come ashore Friday night on the lumber from the Pirrie after the barge had sunk off Cape Johnson. They said they had seen the bodies of Capt. Alfred Jensen and the first mate, but knew nothing of the fate of the other members of the crew or of the wife and infant son of Capt. Jensen, who were aboard the boat.

DAMAGES BY FLAMES SAID TO BE HEAVY

Bomb Explosion at London Not Believed of Sinn Fein Origin.

Belfast, Nov. 30.—The city hall at Cork was set on fire this morning and reports from that city state that the Thomas Ashe Sinn Fein club and the Charlott quay are ablaze. Much damage has been done, it is stated.

Buildings Closely Guarded.

London, Nov. 30.—Public buildings in London and in many of the other large cities of England were closely guarded against apprehended Sinn Fein attacks by heavy detachments of police and detectives last night. In this city the patrol was not limited to streets, but armed motor boats moved up and down the Thames in front of parliament buildings. With Downing street and its immediate neighborhood shut off from the rest of the city by a big fence, which was constantly under the eyes of uniformed men, and with the parliament buildings sentineled, government sections of London today assumed the atmosphere of an armed camp.

Bomb Exploded.

There is nothing to connect the Sinn Fein with the explosion of a bomb in a warehouse in Old Swan lane, this city, early this morning, but people ascribed it to that organization. The bomb, which apparently was carried into the warehouse in a traveling bag and left there to explode by means of a time fuse, was heard over a wide area and blew out the windows of buildings nearby. It started a fire, but police and firemen succeeded in extinguishing the flames before they gained headway. The street where the warehouse is situated has been closed by the police. It is a narrow thoroughfare near London bridge and contains no dwelling houses.

Experts at Work.

Experts from Scotland Yard examined the building today, nobody being permitted to enter the offices on the upper floors. Damage from the fire was slight. Several firms, shipping agents and manufacturers, used the building.

Several men suspected of setting fire to warehouses in Liverpool on Saturday night are under arrest. It is claimed by police that American "gunmen" are in that city, and assertion is made that men wanted in Ireland for shooting policemen and soldiers have crossed the Irish sea to Liverpool. The financial loss occasioned by Saturday night's fires in Liverpool is estimated at a million pounds sterling.

Followed by Reprisals.

The killing of fifteen police recruits at Macroom, Ireland, yesterday, has already been followed by reprisals by the "black and tans," and it is reported there is an exodus of frightened people from towns near where the recruits were attacked.

Masked men entered and set fire to the building housing the Dublin Freeman's Journal last night. Considerable damage was done the building. Scores of new arrests have been made in various districts of Ireland, among the places raided by military forces being a lunatic asylum near Ennis.

Glasgow and the Clyde shipbuilding district have been placed under close guard, and it is declared by the authorities that many Sinn Feiners are known to be in Scotland.

COMMITTEE ON WATERWAY

Governor Appoints Delegation to Attend Rivers and Harbors Congress.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 30.—Governor Burnquist today named a committee to attend the meeting of the national rivers and harbors congress to be held at Washington, D. C., Dec. 8, 9 and 10. This committee will meet jointly with all delegates of the West on Dec. 7 to complete plans which they will propose at the congress for the furtherance of the St. Lawrence deep waterways project. The committee is also instructed to block every effort which is expected to be made by a New York delegation to discourage the working of the St. Lawrence project. New York and other states on the Atlantic coast have a similar plan of a deep-water route and apparently fear that if the West is successful in obtaining the St. Lawrence project considerable shipping would be diverted from their shores.

The committee as appointed by the governor consists of:

Charles S. Mitchell, formerly of the Duluth News Tribune; C. P. Craig and A. H. Comstock of Duluth; Michael Dowling, Olivia; Hugh J. Hughes, marketing director, department of agriculture, St. Paul; J. L. Record, Minneapolis, and E. V. Willard, state drainage and waters engineer, St. Paul.

The governor also named the congressmen and senators as delegates to the congress.

JAPAN TO PATIENTLY BIDE TIME

Next Week Will Mark Critical Period in League Assembly.

Geneva, Nov. 30.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Japanese delegation will not make any proposal for racial equality at this session of the assembly of the League of Nations, it was announced by Viscount Ishii at this morning's session of the assembly.

"Japan will patiently bide her time," said Viscount Ishii, "until an opportune moment shall present itself."

The Japanese delegation, he added, had decided to withdraw its protest against annual meetings of the assembly, although it requires five months for a delegation from Japan to make the long journey and return. He recommended meetings every two years, with special meetings in emergencies, but said he would not press the point.

The Japanese delegate made these declarations in speaking on the report of the committee on rules, which was read to the full assembly by Delegate Ferrari of Italy.

Critical Period Approaches.

Geneva, Nov. 30.—(By the Associated Press.)—Many delegates to the assembly of the League of Nations regard the coming week as the most critical period in the history of the organization. Questions which have been settled in committee by a majority vote must be decided in the assembly by a unanimous vote. The only exception is in the case of the election of new members and amendments.

If the assembly proves capable of agreeing without a dissenting vote on the difficult problem to be placed before it during the next few days, it will, in the estimation of some of the leading members, have passed a most dangerous point.

The council of the league was engaged during its entire session with the question of mandates, and could not proceed to the election of a successor to Sir Reginald Tower as high commissioner at Danzig.

Blockade May Go Over.

It seems probable that definite solution of the question relative to the economic blockade will not be reached at this session. A resolution passed by the subcommittee on blockades yesterday proposed that an international commission on blockades be appointed by the council, and this body shall report to the assembly the measures it would put into effect against an aggressive nation.

Debate Goes Over.

The expected debate on the failure of the council to intervene for prevention of the war between Poland and soviet Russia has been put over to Friday's session.

The report of the committee on amendments to the Covenant was expected to contain a recommendation that a commission be appointed to which all amendments proposed should be referred for study and reported upon to the next assembly, which it is considered will certainly be held during the summer or early fall.

Such a committee would have sufficient latitude to consider any propositions emanating from the United States. Some of the delegates have considered the advisability of giving the committee the express authority to enter into negotiations with Washington at a favorable moment.

Delegates Deleon of Spain and Aguero of Cuba have agreed to withdraw for the time being their proposition for the inclusion of Spanish among the official languages of the assembly. They have indicated they would not press their suggestion for a discussion of the subject at the present session of the assembly.

FOOD CANS TO BEAR INSPECTION SEALS

Chicago, Nov. 30.—A new sanitary inspection seal, attesting to clean and healthful conditions in packing, will appear on millions of cans, bottles and jars of the 1920 food pack, the output of 600 food packers all over the country, according to an announcement made by the educational committee of the National Canners' association. This seal will be placed on containers reaching the market Jan. 1, 1921.

The sanitary seal is the mark of approval by an inspection service first inaugurated by the association five years ago. The inspection service, with headquarters in Washington, is now organized in seventeen districts over the United States. Daily inspections are made by association inspectors. This examination covers cleanliness, wholesomeness and suitability of raw materials and finished products and sanitation of the cannery and equipment.

Every can labeled by the inspector, according to the committee's announcement, will give the purchaser the association's assurance that the materials are sound and properly cleaned before canning; that the cannery and equipment are kept in a clean and sanitary condition; that ample sanitary provisions are made for cannery employes and that they are cleanly in habits and dress, and that the can is filled as full as practicable with food that is clean, palatable and wholesome.

Kills 404-lb. Buck.

Swanzey, N. H., Nov. 30.—The killing of two deer with a single bullet is reported by Marshall Hill. Hill fired at a large buck which bolted. When he reached the spot where the buck had stood he found he had killed a doe. Following the trail he came upon the body of the buck.

NEAR TOP FOR INVESTMENTS

Duluth Second Best Place in Nation, Financial Authority Declares.

On account of the diversified undeveloped resources in the territory surrounding it and its strategical position as a distributing point, Duluth is coming in for increasingly favorable notice from the leading Eastern financial, industrial and commercial interests.

Duluth is listed as the second best bet in the country as a point for investment by Roger W. Babson's statistical organization, a noted Eastern financial authority. In a confidential letter just issued by that organization regarding points where it is advisable to look up business, it say:

"Among the best cities for immediate results, we suggest a consideration of those given below. These cities, which are listed approximately in the order of their desirability, appear to be the best from a general business standpoint: Pueblo, Colo.; Duluth, Minn.; Oklahoma City; San Diego, Long Beach, Cal.; Cedar Rapids, Iowa; Fresno, Cal.; Denver, Kalamazoo, Pittsburgh, Portland, Me.; Scranton, Waco, Tex.; Bangor, Me.; Pasadena, Bartlesville, Okla.; Erie, Evansville, El Paso, Tampa, Youngstown, Tulsa and Great Falls, Mont.

Cities With Good Business.

Continuing the letter says:

"Clients should not overlook the fact that there are a number of cities in which business is relatively good. That will always be true even when conditions throughout the country, as a whole, are at their worst. Concentrate your energies in those cities, but in the case of securities do not place all your eggs in the one basket. Distribute sales efforts among them.

"The trade readjustment was first apparent in the textile, shoe and leather centers of New York and New England districts. Reaction will continue to spread. The leading industrial sections of the Central states and Middle West, and the lumber section of the Northwest are on the decline, and more recently the cotton manufacturing cities of the South have declined. The agricultural parts of the West and South are in a pessimistic mood. Before the long pull takes place in the crop regions, however, we look for a minor upward movement. That should take place near the turn of the year."

ITALIANS WOULD PROBE SITUATION IN IRELAND

Rome, Nov. 29.—Inquiry into the Irish situation is favored by Catholic members of the Italian parliament, who declare there is a basis for demanding such an inquiry. Assertions are made that the situation in Ireland is quite similar to those in the Congo region of Africa, the Putumayo district of South America, Bulgaria and Armenia, which in the past were investigated. It is recalled that Sir Roger Casement who was executed for high treason in London during the war, conducted on behalf of England the inquiry into the conditions prevailing in the Putumayo region.

FORMER EMPRESS IS MUCH WORSE

Doorn, Holland, Nov. 30.—Augusta Victoria, the former German empress, who has been suffering from a grave heart attack, was much worse this morning. She had a high fever and was only semi-conscious.

Frederick William, the former crown prince, has again been summoned and this morning was hurrying here from his residence at Wieringen.

INKINEN IS CAUGHT IN MICHIGAN

On Way Back to Duluth in Charge of Deputy Sheriff Hoel.

Mike Inkinen, Duluth, charged with two murders—the slaying of Axel Nygaard, farmer, in Aitkin county on May 10 and the killing of Johnny Jones, Duluth taxi driver, in Carlton county, on June 4, has been captured.

Sheriff Frank L. Magie of this city, who has been assisting the authorities of Aitkin and Carlton counties in hunting down Inkinen and his accomplices in crime, received word last night from Deputy Sheriff G. A. Hoel that Inkinen had been placed under arrest at Rock, Mich., thirty miles north of Escanaba, and that he had confessed.

"Will leave Escanaba 4:30 a. m. Nov. 30. Meet South Shore train. Inkinen confesses," read the telegram which the sheriff received from his deputy.

Deputy Hoel and his much-wanted prisoner are on their way back to Duluth today. They will arrive here about 6 o'clock this evening. Inkinen spent last night in the Escanaba jail, having been brought there on an afternoon train from Rock, Mich., shortly after his arrest.

Employed at Camp.

Inkinen was employed in the Lehtinen camp at Rock, according to information received by the sheriff. Prospects of obtaining a $500 reward, which has been offered by Governor Burnquist for Inkinen's capture and conviction, prompted the informer, a Finn employed in the same camp, to turn Inkinen up to the authorities.

The informer, according to Sheriff Magie, knew Inkinen in Duluth and ran across him by accident in the Michigan camp. He returned to Duluth and was furnished information concerning the reward offered through Walter Oates, a local employment agent, who in turn notified the sheriff. Last week Oates received a letter in Finnish from the man in the Michigan camp which stated that if an officer would come from Duluth he would show him where to get his man. Deputy Sheriff Hoel, armed with a warrant for Inkinen's arrest on a murder charge, left Sunday night for Michigan and yesterday located Inkinen. Whether Inkinen has confessed to both crimes charged against him or not has not been learned.

Last of Trio.

Inkinen, alias Mike Nelson, alias Mike Koski, who has successfully eluded capture for many months, is 28

RECOVER $23,800 FROM MAIL LOOT

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 30.—Postal Inspector W. M. Coble of Omaha announced today that Keith Collins returned from Oklahoma to Council Bluffs last night in connection with the mail car robbery in the latter city Nov. 13, led Federal officers to a cache in Council Bluffs where $23,800 of the loot taken from the train was recovered.

The money was all in $10 bills, according to Inspector Coble. Recovery of this sum, he said, accounts for $50,000 taken which was the only known shipment of cash on the train. It was being shipped east by a San Francisco bank.

Collins Bound Over.

Council Bluffs, Iowa, Nov. 30.—Keith Collins, arrested in Oklahoma for complicity in the Burlington mail car robbery in this city, was arraigned before United States Commissioner W. A. Byers early today, waived examination and was bound over, his bond being fixed at $50,000. Collins, still under heavy guard, was taken to jail.

STATE RESTS IN RAPE CASE

The state rested its case shortly before noon today in the prosecution of William M. Miller, negro circus hand, charged with the rape of an 18-year-old West Duluth girl on June 14 last.

Witnesses called by the state today told virtually the same story that they gave last week at the trial of Max Mason, the first of the seven negroes tried for the assault.

Besides the girl and her escort, James T. Sullivan, who were on the stand yesterday afternoon, County Attorney Warren E. Greene called as witnesses the parents of the girl, John Murphy, former chief of police; F. A. Schulte, chief of detectives; Dr. David Graham, who attended the girl, and Dr. M. A. Nicholson, who examined the negroes at the jail.

The testimony of Dr. W. A. Coventry given at the Mason trial was read to the jury without objection on the part of the defense. It was to the effect that the physician on July 10 last found the girl suffering from an infection, apparently recently communicated to her.

The defense will put in its case this afternoon and it is expected that the case will reach the jury tomorrow.

PRESIDENT NOW HOPING TO ADDRESS CONGRESS

Would Speak Next Week, If Not Opposed by His Family.

Will Recommend That Congress Reduce the Burden of Taxes.

By DAVID LAWRENCE.

(Copyright, 1920, by The Duluth Herald.)

Washington, Nov. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Congress gets back next week for its regular December session, but whether President Wilson will deliver his annual address in person, as he has done so many times before, or whether he will send it to be read by a clerk as other presidents used to do is still undetermined.

The president himself wants to make a farewell appearance at the capitol and is said to be well enough to do so. Yet there is always a risk with one who has had a nervous breakdown that excitement might bring on a recurrence of the same trouble. Whenever any decision has had to be made involving a risk to the president's health, the members of the president's family have always played safe by avoiding the risk altogether. That's why it seems unlikely that Mr. Wilson will go to congress, though he is strong willed and may insist upon doing it. There are, on the other hand, those who think the president might be persuaded to postpone his visit until the close of the session in March and say goodby then.

What Will President Say?

As for the contents of the presidential message which is being prepared no inkling has been given. From a political viewpoint, if for no other, there will be recommendations that congress reduce the burden of taxes and also cut the cost of living. Of course it is unlikely that the Republicans who are in the majority in both houses will permit any action to be taken on the recommendations of a Democratic president, since their own president will take office in three months and call an extra session of congress to adopt a legislative program. The Democrats, however, talk of wasted time and opportunity and will not lose the chance to accuse the Republicans of dilatory tactics and political expediency. On the other hand, the Republican leaders already counter with this query: Would President Wilson sign a Republican tax bill, especially one that proposed the raising of revenue by the imposition of a protective tariff? White House officials say Mr. Wilson would sign a tariff bill if it followed the lines of suggestions on that question which he has already made to congress. The president has favored protection for infant industries and others whose economic relationship to the tariff question has been disturbed by war, but he has by no means indicated that he would sanction the kind of a tariff bill which the Republicans would put before him.

Compromise Bill Probable.

To work out any kind of tariff bill would take practically all of a session of congress and leaders of both sides agree that unless there was an assurance of compromise the time would be wasted. But the Republicans who want high protection care nothing about a compromise bill and, without

U. S. LEADS IN CHEMICAL GAS

In Foreground in Development of That Phase of Warfare.

Washington, Nov. 30.—Declaring that the world war demonstrated that an "enemy bent on aggression cannot be trusted to live up to any set rules for war," Brig.-Gen. Amos A. Fries, chief of the chemical warfare service of the army, in his annual report to Secretary Baker today, asserts that the development of this branch of the United States army to a point "where it is impossible for any nation to go further" will do much toward deterring other nations from forcing hostilities against the United States.

This country is in a position to manufacture and deliver on the field of battle more chemicals than any other nation or group of nations, says Gen. Fries, adding that the "United States has wisely decided to continue the chemical warfare service with sufficient powers and funds to develop its possibilities, not for aggression, but to insure that if American boys must ever again shoulder arms in defense of the liberty of their country they will do so on an equal footing with any other nation so far as chemical warfare is concerned."

Experiments of Value.

During the past year the service has conducted experiments of great value in the production of new gas and chemical instruments of war, the report says, and has effected a close liasion with chemists and chemical societies in civil life.

All formal war contracts of the service have been settled and informal contracts are more than 98 per cent liquidated, the report asserts. Of the formal contracts 1,214 have been settled for slightly more than $287,000, a saving to the government of more than $6,000,000. The salvage and sales section of the service disposed of plants and materials representing an expenditure of nearly $7,500,000, the report said, the sales averaging 27 per cent of the cost price.

ERSTWHILE PROMOTER TO SERVE FIVE YEARS IN JAIL

CHARLES PONZI.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 30.—Charles Ponzi, promoter of the quick-rich scheme in which thousands of persons invested millions of dollars before it collapsed last August, pleaded guilty to using the mails in a scheme to defraud in the Federal district court today.

Sentence of five years in the Plymouth county jail was imposed by Judge Hale. The court took into consideration only the first count of one indictment of forty-four counts in which it was charged that Ponzi had represented falsely that he was able to pay interest at the rate of 50 per cent in forty-five days from profits made in international postal reply coupons.

ASKS HELP TO OBTAIN FUNDS

President Finch Presents Case to Commercial Club Organization Division.

Larger quarters for the Duluth Commercial club, sustaining memberships to care for the work of the civic and commerce divisions of the club's activities, each division to be self-sustaining, is the plan of President Benjamin Finch, as outlined in an address to directors, chairmen and members of the organization division of the club's affairs, today noon. President Finch declared it was necessary to have larger quarters, but the maintenance of the quarters should not come out of either the civic or commerce division funds.

"This is the last of a series of meetings of the three divisions of the Duluth Commercial club. Your division of organization affairs, under Vice President Dacey, had entirely to do with the membership, meetings and entertainments and finance of our club.

"This club has almost 1,500 members, some interested in civic and commerce affairs principally, but all of them interested in a real live Commercial club which has its social side as well, and it is the duty of the meetings and entertainment committee to provide these features which interest so many.

No Deficit in Cafe.

"Do you realize that this is one of the very few organizations that does not have a deficit in its cafe, and that over one quarter of our members come here daily—serving nearly 11,000 monthly? We know our quarters are crowded, a really good sign of appreciation, but we must provide larger quarters and this is now under consideration by your Vice President Dacey and a special committee.

"This can be done if we increase our sustaining membership to take care of the expenses and work of our civic and commerce division, for we will then have money for organization affairs from our individual memberships and departmental activities heretofore used for civic and commerce work. Our ways and means committee has a well defined plan for increasing our sustaining membership through systematic effort. Our investigations show that many, who are interested, have not provided their share to civic and commerce funds while others have probably contributed to many solicita-

MADERO'S ASSASSIN ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

Guatemala City, Guatemala, Nov. 29.—Francisco Cardenas, former general in the Mexican army and accused of the assassination of President Francisco Madero in February, 1913, inflicted fatal injuries upon himself today.

Cardenas was recently arrested on a charge of being an accessory to the murder of a man and woman escaped from jail. He was surrounded at Madrugado. When he found his escape cut off he fired two bullets through his head. Cardenas confessed in 1915 to having assassinated Madero and also Pino Suarez, vice president of Mexico during the Madero administration.

BOLLING IS POSITIVE IN HIS DENIAL

Tells Committee He Never Assisted Any Corporation to Secure Contract.

New York, Nov. 30.—A denial that he had ever taken money for influencing the disposition of contracts or machinery by the United States shipping board, as charged by T. K. Sands, former Washington banker, coupled with a request that all of his business transactions with Sands be investigated, "both for my own and my family's sake," was made before the Walsh congressional committee here today by R. W. Bolling, President Wilson's brother-in-law and now treasurer of the shipping board.

Mr. Bolling told of business transactions with Sands dating back to 1916 and earlier years, out of which grew several financial transactions. He told the committee that his personal records were all available to its inspection. Sands has testified that he received $40,000 from the Downey Shipbuilding corporation for "representing" before the board, out of which he paid money to Mr. Bolling.

Mr. Bolling said that after banking with the institution with which Sands was connected for several years he had taken a contract in 1916 to build a house for the banker and in settling its cost had foregone any profits because of objection by Sands to a charge for extras.

Banker's Wife Worried.

"However, a short while afterward Mr. Sands told me that he did not want me to lose any of my commissions for building the house and that he had accepted this reduction only because his wife was very much worried that the house should have cost more than they had originally planned, and that he intended paying me an additional $600," Mr. Bolling said.

"Early in 1918, Mr. Sands sent a Mr Cranor to see me in regard to some machinery, which was to be used in connection with construction of vessels. Mr. Cranor told me that the machinery in question was 'bending rolls' and was to have been shipped to his company from the factory, but at the last minute some other company succeeded in having the order changed and that this machinery would be diverted to them; that a great injustice was being done to his (Mr. Cranor's) company. I called up Mr. Sisler, who was then secretary of the shipping board, and explained the matter to him.

"He said he would look into it, and subsequently told me that he found upon inquiry that the rolls had been promised to Mr. Cranor's company and would be shipped to them.

Sands Made $1,000.

"A short time after this Mr. Sands told me that he had made, or would make $1,000 in connection with this transaction—though he now states he has no recollection of the matter—and that he would 'take care of me.' I told him I would accept nothing. He then mentioned the $600 which he still owed me in connection with the changes made in his house, saying that

WOULD CLOSE MORE CHICAGO SALOONS

Chicago, Nov. 30.—Suits compelling the closing of thirty-five more saloons, cabarets and drugstores charged with selling illicit liquor, were ready to be filed today by Attorney General Brundage of Illinois. Included in the list are two of the most notorious "black and tan" cafes in the city.

The "drive" to force closure of places selling intoxicants is directed especially at the "black and tan" resorts, Attorney General Brundage said, quoting a letter from a down-state colored attorney predicting race trouble if they are allowed to remain open.

Not Against Liquor.

"This is not a fight against liquor," the attorney general said, "but an effort to enforce the law. In the days gone by the public received $1,000 annually from each saloon in Chicago for the privilege of doing business. Many saloonkeepers seem to think they can continue doing business almost as openly without the payment of a license fee and with no regulations whatever.

"Fifty cents to $1 is charged for a drink of whisky. In many instances the 'whisky' is pure alcohol artificially colored. The smokey flavor so much admired by connoiseurs of 'Scotch' is sometimes added by a slight mixture of creosote. Many of the concoctions approach near the line of being a deadly poison. The effect is to speedily benumb senses. His condition is not that of intoxication; it is the effect of being drugged.

"Another batch of bills is being prepared for presentation to Judge Landis. This work will continue until the saloon will cease to flourish in Chicago."

FIND TWO SURVIVORS FROM MISSING BARGE

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 30.—Two surviving members of the crew of the missing barge W. J. Pirrie and the body of a third were found by an Indian searching party near Cape Johnson, Wash., last night, according to a telegram from Clallam Bay, Wash., to the Seattle Merchants' exchange, received today.

The Indians arrived at Clallam Bay today, bringing the news of the finding of the two sailors, the message said. They were unable to find any trace of the barge, which when last seen carried twenty-three persons, including the captain's wife and baby.

The Indians said the two sailors told them they had come ashore Friday night on the lumber from the Pirrie after the barge had sunk off Cape Johnson. They said they had seen the bodies of Capt. Alfred Jensen and the first mate, but knew nothing of the fate of the other members of the crew or of the wife and infant son of Capt. Jensen, who were aboard the boat.

DAMAGES BY FLAMES SAID TO BE HEAVY

Bomb Explosion at London Not Believed of Sinn Fein Origin.

Belfast, Nov. 30.—The city hall at Cork was set on fire this morning and reports from that city state that the Thomas Ashe Sinn Fein club and the Charlott quay are ablaze. Much damage has been done, it is stated.

Buildings Closely Guarded.

London, Nov. 30.—Public buildings in London and in many of the other large cities of England were closely guarded against apprehended Sinn Fein attacks by heavy detachments of police and detectives last night. In this city the patrol was not limited to streets, but armed motor boats moved up and down the Thames in front of parliament buildings. With Downing street and its immediate neighborhood shut off from the rest of the city by a big fence, which was constantly under the eyes of uniformed men, and with the parliament buildings sentineled, government sections of London today assumed the atmosphere of an armed camp.

Bomb Exploded.

There is nothing to connect the Sinn Fein with the explosion of a bomb in a warehouse in Old Swan lane, this city, early this morning, but people ascribed it to that organization. The bomb, which apparently was carried into the warehouse in a traveling bag and left there to explode by means of a time fuse, was heard over a wide area and blew out the windows of buildings nearby. It started a fire, but police and firemen succeeded in extinguishing the flames before they gained headway. The street where the warehouse is situated has been closed by the police. It is a narrow thoroughfare near London bridge and contains no dwelling houses.

Experts at Work.

Experts from Scotland Yard examined the building today, nobody being permitted to enter the offices on the upper floors. Damage from the fire was slight. Several firms, shipping agents and manufacturers, used the building.

Several men suspected of setting fire to warehouses in Liverpool on Saturday night are under arrest. It is claimed by police that American "gunmen" are in that city, and assertion is made that men wanted in Ireland for shooting policemen and soldiers have crossed the Irish sea to Liverpool. The financial loss occasioned by Saturday night's fires in Liverpool is estimated at a million pounds sterling.

Followed by Reprisals.

The killing of fifteen police recruits at Macroom, Ireland, yesterday, has already been followed by reprisals by the "black and tans," and it is reported there is an exodus of frightened people from towns near where the recruits were attacked.

Masked men entered and set fire to the building housing the Dublin Freeman's Journal last night. Considerable damage was done the building. Scores of new arrests have been made in various districts of Ireland, among the places raided by military forces being a lunatic asylum near Ennis.

Glasgow and the Clyde shipbuilding district have been placed under close guard, and it is declared by the authorities that many Sinn Feiners are known to be in Scotland.

COMMITTEE ON WATERWAY

Governor Appoints Delegation to Attend Rivers and Harbors Congress.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 30.—Governor Burnquist today named a committee to attend the meeting of the national rivers and harbors congress to be held at Washington, D. C., Dec. 8, 9 and 10. This committee will meet jointly with all delegates of the West on Dec. 7 to complete plans which they will propose at the congress for the furtherance of the St. Lawrence deep waterways project. The committee is also instructed to block every effort which is expected to be made by a New York delegation to discourage the working of the St. Lawrence project. New York and other states on the Atlantic coast have a similar plan of a deep-water route and apparently fear that if the West is successful in obtaining the St. Lawrence project considerable shipping would be diverted from their shores.

The committee as appointed by the governor consists of:

Charles S. Mitchell, formerly of the Duluth News Tribune; C. P. Craig and A. H. Comstock of Duluth; Michael Dowling, Olivia; Hugh J. Hughes, marketing director, department of agriculture, St. Paul; J. L. Record, Minneapolis, and E. V. Willard, state drainage and waters engineer, St. Paul.

The governor also named the congressmen and senators as delegates to the congress.

JAPAN TO PATIENTLY BIDE TIME

Next Week Will Mark Critical Period in League Assembly.

Geneva, Nov. 30.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Japanese delegation will not make any proposal for racial equality at this session of the assembly of the League of Nations, it was announced by Viscount Ishii at this morning's session of the assembly.

"Japan will patiently bide her time," said Viscount Ishii, "until an opportune moment shall present itself."

The Japanese delegation, he added, had decided to withdraw its protest against annual meetings of the assembly, although it requires five months for a delegation from Japan to make the long journey and return. He recommended meetings every two years, with special meetings in emergencies, but said he would not press the point.

The Japanese delegate made these declarations in speaking on the report of the committee on rules, which was read to the full assembly by Delegate Ferrari of Italy.

Critical Period Approaches.

Geneva, Nov. 30.—(By the Associated Press.)—Many delegates to the assembly of the League of Nations regard the coming week as the most critical period in the history of the organization. Questions which have been settled in committee by a majority vote must be decided in the assembly by a unanimous vote. The only exception is in the case of the election of new members and amendments.

If the assembly proves capable of agreeing without a dissenting vote on the difficult problem to be placed before it during the next few days, it will, in the estimation of some of the leading members, have passed a most dangerous point.

The council of the league was engaged during its entire session with the question of mandates, and could not proceed to the election of a successor to Sir Reginald Tower as high commissioner at Danzig.

Blockade May Go Over.

It seems probable that definite solution of the question relative to the economic blockade will not be reached at this session. A resolution passed by the subcommittee on blockades yesterday proposed that an international commission on blockades be appointed by the council, and this body shall report to the assembly the measures it would put into effect against an aggressive nation.

Debate Goes Over.

The expected debate on the failure of the council to intervene for prevention of the war between Poland and soviet Russia has been put over to Friday's session.

The report of the committee on amendments to the Coverant was expected to contain a recommendation that a commission be appointed to which all amendments proposed should be referred for study and reported upon to the next assembly, which it is considered will certainly be held during the summer or early fall.

Such a committee would have sufficient latitude to consider any propositions emanating from the United States. Some of the delegates have considered the advisability of giving the committee the express authority to enter into negotiations with Washington at a favorable moment.

Delegates Deleon of Spain and Aguero of Cuba have agreed to withdraw for the time being their proposition for the inclusion of Spanish among the official languages of the assembly. They have indicated they would not press their suggestion for a discussion of the subject at the present session of the assembly.

FOOD CANS TO BEAR INSPECTION SEALS

Chicago, Nov. 30.—A new sanitary inspection seal, attesting to clean and healthful conditions in packing, will appear on millions of cans, bottles and jars of the 1920 food pack, the output of 600 food packers all over the country, according to an announcement made by the educational committee of the National Canners' association. This seal will be placed on containers reaching the market Jan. 1, 1921.

The sanitary seal is the mark of approval by an inspection service first inaugurated by the association five years ago. The inspection service, with headquarters in Washington, is now organized in seventeen districts over the United States. Daily inspections are made by association inspectors. This examination covers cleanliness, wholesomeness and suitability of raw materials and finished products and sanitation of the cannery and equipment.

Every can labeled by the inspector, according to the committee's announcement, will give the purchaser the association's assurance that the materials are sound and properly cleaned before canning; that the cannery and equipment are kept in a clean and sanitary condition; that ample sanitary provisions are made for cannery employes and that they are cleanly in habits and dress, and that the can is filled as full as practicable with food that is clean, palatable and wholesome.

Swanzey, N. H., Nov. 30.—The killing of two deer with a single bullet is reported by Marshall Hill. Hill fired at a large buck which bolted. When he reached the spot where the buck had stood he found he had killed a doe. Following the trail he came upon the body of the buck.

NEAR TOP FOR INVESTMENTS

Duluth Second Best Place in Nation, Financial Authority Declares.

On account of the diversified undeveloped resources in the territory surrounding it and its strategical position as a distributing point, Duluth is coming in for increasingly favorable notice from the leading Eastern financial, industrial and commercial interests.

Duluth is listed as the second best bet in the country as a point for investment by Roger W. Babson's statistical organization, a noted Eastern financial authority. In a confidential letter just issued by that organization regarding points where it is advisable to look up business, it say:

"Among the best cities for immediate results, we suggest a consideration of those given below. These cities, which are listed approximately in the order of their desirability, appear to be the best from a general business standpoint: Pueblo, Colo.; Duluth, Minn.; Oklahoma City; San Diego, Long Beach, Cal.; Cedar Rapids, Iowa; Fresno, Cal.; Denver, Kalamazoo, Pittsburgh, Portland, Me.; Scranton, Waco, Tex.; Bangor, Me.; Pasadena, Bartlesville, Okla.; Erie, Evansville, El Paso, Tampa, Youngstown, Tulsa and Great Falls, Mont.

Cities With Good Business.

Continuing the letter says:

"Clients should not overlook the fact that there are a number of cities in which business is relatively good. That will always be true even when conditions throughout the country, as a whole, are at their worst. Concentrate your energies in those cities, but in the case of securities do not place all your eggs in the one basket. Distribute sales efforts among them.

"The trade readjustment was first apparent in the textile, shoe and leather centers of New York and New England districts. Reaction will continue to spread. The leading industrial sections of the Central states and Middle West, and the lumber section of the Northwest are on the decline, and more recently the cotton manufacturing cities of the South have declined. The agricultural parts of the West and South are in a pessimistic mood. Before the long pull takes place in the crop regions, however, we look for a minor upward movement. That should take place near the turn of the year."

ITALIANS WOULD PROBE SITUATION IN IRELAND

Rome, Nov. 29.—Inquiry into the Irish situation is favored by Catholic members of the Italian parliament, who declare there is a basis for demanding such an inquiry. Assertions are made that the situation in Ireland is quite similar to those in the Congo region of Africa, the Putumayo district of South America, Bulgaria and Armenia, which in the past were investigated. It is recalled that Sir Roger Casement who was executed for high treason in London during the war, conducted on behalf of England the inquiry into the conditions prevailing in the Putumayo region.

FORMER EMPRESS IS MUCH WORSE

Doorn, Holland, Nov. 30.—Augusta Victoria, the former German empress, who has been suffering from a grave heart attack, was much worse this morning. She had a high fever and was only semi-conscious.

Frederick William, the former crown prince, has again been summoned and this morning was hurrying here from his residence at Wieringen.

INKINEN IS CAUGHT IN MICHIGAN

On Way Back to Duluth in Charge of Deputy Sheriff Hoel.

Mike Inkinen, Duluth, charged with two murders—the slaying of Axel Nygaard, farmer, in Aitkin county on May 10 and the killing of Johnny Jones, Duluth taxi driver, in Carlton county on June 4, has been captured.

Sheriff Frank L. Magie of this city, who has been assisting the authorities of Aitkin and Carlton counties in hunting down Inkinen and his accomplices in crime, received word last night from Deputy Sheriff G. A. Hoel that Inkinen had been placed under arrest at Rock, Mich., thirty miles north of Escanaba, and that he had confessed.

"Will leave Escanaba 4:30 a. m. Nov. 30. Meet South Shore train. Inkinen confesses," read the telegram which the sheriff received from his deputy.

Deputy Hoel and his much-wanted prisoner are on their way back to Duluth today. They will arrive here about 6 o'clock this evening. Inkinen spent last night in the Escanaba jail, having been brought there on an afternoon train from Rock, Mich., shortly after his arrest.

Employed at Camp.

Inkinen was employed in the Lehtinen camp at Rock, according to information received by the sheriff. Prospects of obtaining a $500 reward which has been offered by Governor Burnquist for Inkinen's capture and conviction, prompted the informer, a Finn employed in the same camp, to turn Inkinen up to the authorities.

The informer, according to Sheriff Magie, knew Inkinen in Duluth and ran across him by accident in the Michigan camp. He returned to Duluth and was furnished information concerning the reward offered through Walter Oates, a local employment agent, who in turn notified the sheriff. Last week Oates received a letter in Finnish from the man in the Michigan camp which stated that if an officer would come from Duluth he would show him where to get his man. Deputy Sheriff Hoel, armed with a warrant for Inkinen's arrest on a murder charge, left Sunday night for Michigan and yesterday located Inkinen. Whether Inkinen has confessed to both crimes charged against him or not has not been learned.

Last of Trio.

RECOVER $23,800 FROM MAIL LOOT

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 30.—Postal inspector W. M. Coble of Omaha announced today that Keith Collins returned from Oklahoma to Council Bluffs last night in connection with the mail car robbery in the latter city Nov. 13, led Federal officers to a cache in Council Bluffs where $23,800 of the loot taken from the train was recovered.

The money was all in $10 bills, according to Inspector Coble. Recovery of this sum, he said, accounts for $50,000 taken which was the only known shipment of cash on the train. It was being shipped east by a San Francisco bank.

Collins Bound Over.

Council Bluffs, Iowa, Nov. 30.—Keith Collins, arrested in Oklahoma for complicity in the Burlington mail car robbery in this city, was arraigned before United States Commissioner W. A. Byers early today, waived examination and was bound over, his bond being fixed at $50,000. Collins, still under heavy guard, was taken to jail.

STATE RESTS IN RAPE CASE

The state rested its case shortly before noon today in the prosecution of William M. Miller, negro circus hand, charged with the rape of an 18-year-old West Duluth girl on June 14 last.

Witnesses called by the state today told virtually the same story that they gave last week at the trial of Max Mason, the first of the seven negroes tried for the assault.

Besides the girl and her escort, James T. Sullivan, who were on the stand yesterday afternoon, County Attorney Warren E. Greene called as witnesses the parents of the girl, John Murphy, former chief of police, F. A. Schulte, chief of detectives, Dr. David Graham, who attended the girl, and Dr. M. A. Nicholson, who examined the negroes at the jail.

The testimony of Dr. W. A. Coventry given at the Mason trial was read to the jury without objection on the part of the defense. It was to the effect that the physician on July 10 last found the girl suffering from an infection, apparently recently communicated to her.

The defense will put in its case this afternoon and it is expected that the case will reach the jury tomorrow.

"COLLEGE BRED" STOCK CARRIES AWAY HONORS

Chicago, Nov. 30.—"College-bred" livestock carried away honors over entries of professional stockmen at the international livestock exposition yesterday, nine of the twelve championships going to animals entered by American universities. Pennsylvania State led with three.

The most coveted honor went to Purdue university, winner of the students' livestock judging contests, when Black Ruler was adjudged the grand champion steer of the exposition. Black Ruler is a 2-year-old of the Aberdeen-Angus class and was bred at Purdue university.

Pennsylvania State won first place for three Leicester wether lamps, for three Shropshire wether lambs and for the best Berkshire swine, while the blue ribbons for the champion Oxford wether and for the best Leicester wether went to Iowa State. Oklahoma university agricultural experimental station entered the best Dorset wether, Illinois the best Rambouillet and Wisconsin the three best Shropshires.

WILL CONFER WITH IRISH PRESIDENT

Fred L. Ryan of Duluth will leave tonight for St. Paul to attend a conference of Irish sympathizers who will meet with Eamonn de Valera to discuss plans for gaining recognition of the "Irish republic" of which de Valera has been elected president. It is possible that one or two other Duluthians may also be in attendance.

Leaders of the movement for Irish independence representing Minnesota, Iowa, North and South Dakota have been invited. Mr. de Valera is making a tour of the country and holding regional conferences in many places. E. T. Foley of St. Paul will be chairman of the meeting.

Organization of a state branch of the American Association for the Recognization of the Irish Republic will probably be the next move of the Friends of Irish Freedom, Mr. Ryan said today. A temporary national organization has now been effected. State conventions are being planned everywhere, and representatives to be chosen will then meet to make the national association permanent. The Iresh republic, as now constituted, includes 90 per cent of the Irish people, Mr. Ryan explained.

DOUGHTY TURNS OVER $105,000 TO POLICE

Toronto, Nov. 30.—John Doughty, former secretary to Ambrose J. Small, Toronto's missing millionaire theatrical magnate, yesterday was arraigned, charged with conspiracy to kidnap Small and with the theft of $105,000 worth of Small's Victory bonds, the hiding place of which he revealed upon his arrival in custody from Oregon.

Doughty went to the home of Mrs. Thomas Lovatt, his sister, where he showed the authorities where the bonds were hidden. They were transferred to the police vault.

Upon arraignment Doughty made no statement, contenting himself with nodding to acquaintances. His counsel obtained a week's delay for pleading and the prisoner was sent to a cell, held without bail.

The Victory bonds were said by the police to be still the "property of Small."

WILL ASK SOLONS FOR DRASTIC LAW

Minnesota lawmakers have twice turned down a bill making the crime of injuring or maiming persons by reckless driving of an automobile or motor vehicle punishable by a sentence of not more than five years in the state's prison, but Mason M. Forbes, first assistant county attorney, announces that the bill will be introduced again next session. The recent case of an autoist running down three people on West Third street is a case which might be covered by such a law.

Discussing the present law on motor vehicles, Mr. Forbes said:

"The present statute makes it a gross misdemeanor punishable by a year in prison or $1,000 fine or both, if an autoist does not stop and return to the scene of an accident and make known his name and license number and the names and addresses of all the male occupants of the car to anyone who demands the information," Attorney Forbes said.

"Another section of the law makes it possible to prefer a charge of manslaughter against an autoist accused of causing the death of a person through reckless driving. But there is no adequate provision in case an autoist only maims or injures a person while recklessly driving. He can then only be tried on a charge of speeding.

"The bill I have been advocating would make it possible to charge an autoist who injuries a person by reckless driving with the crime of assault, punishable by a sentence of five years in prison.

The present law makes it possible to prosecute a man accused of reckless driving that caused injury on three different charges: First, speeding; second, failure to stop and return to the scene of the accident! third, a civil action to recover damages.

"In regard to speeding, the law says it is prima facie evidence that a man is speeding if he drives faster than ten miles an hour for an eighth of a mile in a crowded business section, more than fifteen miles an hour in a residence district, or more than twenty-five miles an hour in the country. The autoist can be found guilty of speeding, regardless of how fast he is going, if he is driving his auto at a speed greater than is reasonable and proper under the circumstances."

REPORTS BUSINESS CONDITIONS BETTER

Cloquet, Minn., Nov. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—James T. Mix, general sales manager for the Northwestern Paper company of this city, returned today after a ten days' business trip to New York.

Mr. Mix says that despite contrary reports he found a better feeling in Eastern business circles and a general belief that temporary business checks will soon disappear.

Safe Thieves Frustrated.

Chippewa Falls, Wis., Nov. 30.—Thieves here, instead of blowing safes at the scene of the offense are carting them away to blow at leisure. Two men Monday burglarized a local concern and were about to place a safe in a waiting machine when frightened away.

N. D. BANK TO BE EXAMINED

State Board of Auditors to Probe State Concern Next Month.

Bismarck, N. D., Nov. 30.—The state board of auditors late Monday decided to make an examination of the Bank of North Dakota early next month. The board has authority to make such an examination under an initiated law adopted at the November election and which becomes effective Dec. 2.

The state canvassing board, at a meeting yesterday afternoon, certified the five initiated laws adopted in November, including that providing for an examination of the state bank and other state industries. The other laws permit counties to withdraw deposits from the Bank of North Dakota, limit real estate loans by the state bank to actual farmers who are residents of the state, permit publishing of private legal notices in other than official county papers and one defining the duties of the superintendent of public instruction.

The auditing board is composed of Thomas Hall, secretary of state; Carl Kositzky, state auditor, and William Langer, attorney general. Only Hall will remain in office after Jan. 1. Although no provision is made in the law to pay the cost of the examination, board members said they would look to the state emergency board to meet the expenses. They expect the examination to be finished in time to present to the legislature when it meets in January.

Believes New Board Should Examine.

Governor Lynn J. Frazier declared last night that in his opinion the board of auditors which takes office Jan. 1 should make the examination. Members of the new board will be Hall, William Lemke, attorney general-elect, and David Poindexter, auditor-elect.

"The bank examination is a matter which could best be taken care of by the recently elected and not by the present board of auditors," said Governor Frazier.

Governor Frazier stated that a special session of the legislature to consider the advisability of repealing or acting on the initiated laws passed at the November election is unlikely.

A. Johannsen, director of audits of the Bank of North Dakota, stated that some drafts had gone out yesterday on banks which have redeposits of the Bank of North Dakota, but said that no general withdrawals of funds to meet the withdrawals which are expected to result when the initiated laws become effective on Dec. 2 have been made as yet.

WHO IS THIS GUY? WHERE'S HIS CELLAR?

In an article on "whisky running in Northern Minnesota" a Twin City paper has the following account of how a "Duluth efficiency expert" beat the game. Doubtless many Duluthians would become quite friendly with him were his identity revealed. That part of the story dealing with his exploit says:

> Recently a well known Duluth efficiency expert was returning from Winnipeg, and, being an efficiency expert, he planned well to outwit the boundary agents. He had observed that the American customs inspector boarded the southbound train at Fort Frances, Ont., examined the baggage of "through" passengers while crossing the boundary, and left the train at Ranier on the Minnesota side of the line.
>
> This train is scheduled to reach Fort Frances about 2:45 a. m., so the efficiency man concealed his bottles in his berth and went to sleep. But something happened to delay the train eight hours north of the boundary, and the Duluth man was compelled to remain in bed with his uncomfortable cargo until after 11 a. m. But the scheme worked.

PIONEER SUPERIOR ATTORNEY CALLED

H. H. Grace, president of the American Exchange bank of Superior, pioneer resident and one of Superior's prominent attorneys for many years, died last evening at the home of his son, Clarence Grace, 867 West Fifth street. Mr. Grace came to Superior in 1886.

Mr. Grace was selected attorney for the village of Superior in 1887 and had the distinction of being the first and only village attorney that the community had prior to its being incorporated as a city.

Mr. Grace after practicing law alone for some time, became associated with the firm of Reed, Grace & Rock. When this firm was dissolved Mr. Grace became associated with George B. Hudnall and later with C. R. Fridley. Mr. Grace retired from active law practice in 1914 on account of ill health. He was a member of the Wisconsin and Douglas County Bar associations. Mr. Grace was a thirty-third degree Mason.

He leaves one daughter and three sons. They are: Mrs. George Hawley of Buffalo, N. Y.; Clarence Grace of Superior, Harry Grace of Tampa, Fla., and Robert Grace of Everett, Wash. Arrangements for the funeral will be made on the arrival of out-of-town relatives.

BOY HIT BY AUTO; DRIVER GOES RIGHT ON

Last evenig at about 8 o'clock Donald Fox, age 9, son of Roy D. Fox of 410 West Fourth street, was hit by an automobile making a sharp turn down Fifth avenue west from First street, and knocked to one side. The driver went on without trying to ascertain how badly the lad was injured. The boy was taken home where an examination by a doctor disclosed some severe bruises but apparently nothing of a serious nature.

"It would seem that the driver of an auto who will hit a boy, which, of course, possibly sometimes can't be avoided, but who will then slide out without stopping to see how much damage has been done, leaving someone else to take care of the boy, should have a good private beating administered to him, which can be procured by calling at my address," said Mr. Fox, the boy's father, this morning.

BURY IRON RIVER BOY RIFLE VICTIM

Iron River, Wis., Nov. 30.—Funeral services were held in St. Michael's Catholic church today for Charles Moran, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Moran, pioneer residents, who shot and killed himself while hunting alone nine miles north of here. From appearances of the body and rifle when found it is the theory that the weapon went off as he was working his way through tangled brush.

Besides his parents young Moran is survived by four brothers, James Moran, Jr., a senior at the Superior state normal school; William, Richard, John, Joseph and Thomas; four sisters, Mrs. George Pudas, 2205 Tower avenue, Superior; Eva, Lucy and Helen, all of Iron River; also an aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. H. Adsit, residing at 1293 North Eighteenth street, and a cousin, Miss Helen Grass, 246 East Third street, Superior.

Oil Concern in Trouble.

Marquette, Mich., Nov. 30.—The Cloverland Oil company, with officials in Manistique and distributing stations in Marquette, Escanaba and Manistique, has been placed in the hands of V. I. Hixon, receiver, by Judge Louis H. Fead of the Schoolcraft county circuit court. Although the company has been doing a prosperous business, lack of capital with which to increase its facilities is given as the reason for the receivership, in a statement made by A. R. Moore of Escanaba, president.

ARE YOU DRIVING YOUR BODY TOO HARD?

Are Long Hours of Work, Worry and Nervous Strain Sapping the Iron From Your Blood and Leaving You Tired, Weak, Nervous and Run Down?

There can be no rich red blood without iron. Nature put plenty of iron in the husks of grains and the skins and peels of vegetables and fruits to enrich your blood, but modern methods of cookery throw all these things away—hence the alarming increase in recent years in Anaemia—iron starvation of the blood with all its attendant ills.

When you get up feeling tired in the morning; when you find yourself nervous, irritable and easily upset; when you can no longer do your day's work without being all fagged out at night; when your digestion all goes wrong, or you have pains across the back and your face looks pale and drawn, do not wait until you go all to pieces and collapse in a state of nervous prostration or until in your weakened condition you contract some serious disease, but consult your family physician and have him take a specimen of your blood and make a "blood count" of your red blood corpuscles, or test the iron-power of your blood yourself by adding plenty of spinach, carrots, or other iron-containing vegetables to your daily food and take organic iron with them for a while and see how much your condition improves.

Thousands of people have surprisingly increased their strength, energy and endurance in two weeks' time by this simple experiment. But in making this test be sure that the iron you take is organic iron and not metallic or mineral iron which people usually take. Organic iron is like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples, while metallic iron is iron just as it comes from the action of strong acids on small pieces of iron filings. Organic iron may be had from your druggist under the name of Nuxated Iron. Nuxated Iron represents organic iron in such a highly concentrated form that one dose is estimated to be approximately equivalent (in organic iron content) to eating half a quart of spinach, or one quart of green vegetables. It is like taking extract of meat instead of eating pounds of beef.

If you are not feeling quite up to the mark telephone for a package of Nuxated Iron today.

Your money will be refunded by the manufacturers if you do not obtain perfectly satisfactory results.

For sale by all druggists.

NUXATED IRON ENRICHES THE BLOOD-GIVES YOU NEW STRENGTH AND ENERGY

Harper Outlines Commercial Club Plan for New Era.

Classing the work of the Duluth Commercial club as a business proposition and selling its products to business interests of the city, is the plan of the ways and means committee of the club for this year. Business houses and professional men will be classified and the plan laid before them and their support asked. There will not be a drive or campaign for funds, but a straight business transaction in which the services of the Commercial club will be sold to the business interests of the city, according to James H. Harper, director-chairman of the ways and means committee.

Mr. Harper outlined his plan to members of the organization division of the club at a meeting of directors, committeemen and members held at the club today noon. His address was as follows:

The United States finds itself looking out upon a world depleted financially, materially and in man power and morale, due to the late war. It is the opportunity of this country to furnish the nations of the world with our products in the way of raw materials and labor for rebuilding, and in connection therewith the establishment of a merchant marine that will carry our products to all parts of the globe.

"The railroad companies are in a deplorable condition, due to government ownership during the late war. There has been no new trackage laid during the last ten years; there is a deficiency of motive power and rolling stock which makes the railroads clearly inadequate to the needs of the nation's commerce. During the last three years there has been no building of any consequence in any direction in the country.

Duluth Will Benefit.

"The rebuilding of the foregoing, and the natural requirements of the nation is going to bring the greatest prosperity to the United States it has ever known, and there is no city that will be a greater beneficiary of that prosperity than the city of Duluth. Situated as it is midway across the continent, looking to the East for manufacturing enterprise, and to the West for the wonderful fields of distribution, perhaps unequaled by any part of the United States.

"The opportunities that are waiting to be taken in by the Head of Lake Superior are almost innumerable, and it is for this city to get its house in order and be ready to take its place among the large cities of the country and avail itself of those opportunities. Duluth has been geographically at the head of Lake Superior, but commercially 150 miles south. The commercial Duluth is being returned; the city for the past thirty years has lived on faith and hope, but the next ten years will without question be years of realization of that faith and hope.

"The fact that Duluth has initiated the deep waterway to the sea has given it an advertising prominence of almost incalculable value. Its name is connected with a world-wide enterprise which ranks with the Suez and Panama canals, and other great undertakings of the world. The opening of this waterway will give this country an enormous water power and a commercial pathway from the center of the continent to the sea. With the coming of that waterway, which is inevitable, Duluth will become the great inland seaport of the world, and as a result one of the leading manufacturing and commercial cities of the Northwest.

Only Organization Ready.

"The Commercial club of the city of Duluth is the only civic organization through which the citizens as a whole can reach out and use the opportunities that are naturally coming to them. The business requirements of the city and the opportunities presenting themselves have entirely outgrown our ability to cope with them. Last year the Commercial club spent $30,000 in this class of development work, $25,000 of which was raised through a system of sustaining memberships and $5,000 was taken from the operating funds of the club. This amount was entirely inadequate to carry on the ordinary requirements of the work, without initiating any other activities that might ultimately be a benefit to the city.

"The board of directors proposes to enlarge the development of external affairs by concentrating on the following departments:

Traffic Department—Increase, and extended scope.

Deep Waterway—To maintain the city's position in connection with the project.

City Terminals—Largely in the way of preliminary work on the undertaking.

Publicity—Scientific advertising of the city to the outside world, not within the city.

The establishment of a convention bureau, with a full paid man to bring conventions to the city, and aid in increasing hotel facilities.

Development of agricultural work.

Good roads.

Necessary Club Budget.

"It is estimated that the club's budget for the coming year will be close to $50,000, which will call for an increase in the sustaining memberships of $25,000. At the present time Duluth is only contributing to this class of work 25 cents per capita, whereas other cities are using from 75 cents to $1. There will be a strict accountability by the officers of the club for the expenditures of all funds. Sustaining memberships cost from $50 to $2,000, and are payable quarterly. It is thought that this plan of obtaining subscriptions will do away with the annoyance of business men by numerous appeals.

"In order to raise the additional amount of $25,000, the ways and means committee of the club has devised a plan whereby this amount can be raised by the manufacturing, commercial and professional interests of the city. The work is organized by grouping these interests into divisional units. For instance, the doctors, attorneys, hotel men, real estate dealers, automobile and insurance men, wood workers, iron manufacturers, bond houses and banks, wholesale, retail and individuals, and thus down the line, forming in all thirty-five divisions. For each divisional unit there will be a committee of three selected, consisting of a chairman and two others, who will have charge of, and be responsible for the subscription of their respective divisions; and they will see that the amount allocated to each division is forthcoming, or very good reasons shown why it cannot be had. In this manner it is proposed to place all divisional units on a competitive basis as to percentage of subscriptions to allotment. In like manner it will be shown just what support each divisional unit is bringing to the city for the greater development of its opportunities. When the canvass is completed, every one engaged in business or a profession in the city will have had the privilege of supporting this great work.

Not Gift; Investment.

"Everyone should bear in mind that this is not a gift, or even a contribution to the support of the Commercial club; it is an investment of the business and professional men of the city, for the better development of the city. The Commercial club, being the only civic organization, is simply the instrumentality through which these funds can be expended for the greatest good of all our citizens. Any feeling toward the club, if any exists, should be submerged in the general good of all; in other words, all should pull together for the big result.

"We wish also to call your attention to the fact that the members of the board of directors of the Commercial club are an active bunch of men, giving of their time freely, and bringing the same care and thought to the club's work that they bring to their own business; and when they are willing to do this much, and to develop the club into a healthy working organization for the benefit of the city, they should not be handicapped for want of funds to carry on the work they are undertaking.

"This is not a drive, nor will there be any attempt made to stampede anyone into taking a membership; it is a business proposition, pure and simple, and should not be considered as an unnecessary expense, but rather given the dignity of an overhead charge, and placed alongside taxes, interest on bonded indebtedness and other charges that must absolutely be paid to maintain a business."

Meat Prices Cut.

Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 30.—A general cutting of retail meat prices ranging from 3 to 11 cents a pound was in evidence here yesterday. Prices that have been coming down gradually for two weeks reached new low levels. Bacon was cut from 46 to 35 cents.

HIGH ENOUGH OR TOO HIGH?

Local Opinion Divided on Increase of Minimum Wage.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 30.—The minimum wage for women and minors in cities of 5,000 or more population in Minnesota was increased late Monday to $12 from $11 by the state minimum wage commission. The announcement was made after a secret meeting of the commission. No action was taken on wages for women and minors employed in cities of less than 5,000 population.

The new wage, which goes into effect about Jan. 1, will give apprentices who are 18 years or over $9 for the first three months, $10.50 for the second three months, and $12 for after six months. Apprentices under 18 years of age will receive $8 for the first three months, $9 for the second three, $10.50 for the third three months, and $12 after nine months' service.

The commission, according to John P. Gardner, commissioner of labor, will consider the minimum wage in cities of under 5,000 in about sixty days.

While representative employers expressed themselves as satisfied that the increase was reasonable in view of the downward tend of the cost of living, John E. Jensen, representing the Duluth Trades and Labor assembly, condemned the increase as wholly inadequate.

"Since 1913 the cost of living has increased 97 per cent," he said today. "The minimum wage was set during the same year at $9 and last year it was increased to $11. Now that it has been made $12, the total increase over 1913 is $25 per cent. And the cost of living has gone up 97 per cent. The figures speak for themselves.

"The low wages paid to aprentices are also inexensable. When employers argue that they are justified in paying low wages to apprentices because they stay at home, then they are expecting the girl's family to pay the balance of the girl's wages and contribute to the upkeep of the store. The minimum wage should have been set at $15. But it's too late now."

Miss Amy J. Fagundus, secretary of the Y. W. C. A., who together with Mr. Jensen spoke in favor of an increase when the commission met in Duluth, refused to comment on whether the increase was satisfactory.

"I can only repeat my testimony," she said today. "We know from experience that a girl's board and room alone costs $10 a week."

E. A. Silberstein, who also appeared before the commission on behalf of the employers, said that the scale set was exactly the one he had recommended. He declared that the Federal trade commission figures showed that the cost of living had increased 17 per cent since August, 1919, when the wage was set at $11, and that the increase in wages takes care of the higher costs.

"Besides, the trend of living costs is downward," Mr. Silberstein said. "As a matter of fact, too, a survey of our five largest stores shows that only 6 per cent of the girl employes are receiving only the minimum of $11 a week."

I. Freimuth, while admitting that the increase was not very large, declared that it would have been wiser possibly not to have made any increase at this time in view of the fall in prices. He assisted that only the bundle girls in his store would be affected by the increase, since others were already receiving more than the minimum.

NITRE COCKTAIL NOW POPULAR AT BOSTON

Boston, Mass., Nov. 30.—Nitre cocktails, as a substitute for once-popular Bronx have come into favor since the advent of prohibition, according to information given out yesterday by W. S. Biry, director of registration in the state department of drug control. He said the department had noticed a tremendous increase on the sale of sweet spirits of nitre, and had found that the drug was being used as a substitute for liquor "among the better classes."

He called attention to the danger in the practice as he said the drug contains alcohol, sodium nitrate and sulphuric acid, which is a solvent of metals.

AGED DULUTHIAN DIES.

Gustaf Gafvert, Aged 93, Succumbs After Short Illness.

Gustaf Gafvert, aged 93, one of Duluth's oldest residents, died yesterday at the home of his son, Otto Gafvert, 112½ West Fourth street, following a short illness. Mr. Gafvert, despite his age, had been in good health until recently.

Mr. Gafvert came to Duluth in 1899 direct from Sweden to make his home with his sons. He leaves one brother in Sweden, five sons, Otto of this city, Olof T. of Chicago, Axel W. of Kimberly, Minn., and Gustaf and Carl of Sweden.

The body was taken to Fred Olson's undertaking rooms, 2117 West Superior street. The funeral will be held from the undertaking rooms Thursday afternoon.

WHEW! STORM PASSES, MILD WEATHER GOOD FOR FEW DAYS MORE

The storm that threatened this region yesterday and last night did not develop to the extent that was expected, according to H. W. Richardson, local weather observer. As a result there is no severe cold weather on the map this morning and the prospect is that the mild weather will last for another few days, although it is likely to break at any time, he said. Tomorrow will be partly cloudy and temperature will remain about the same.

MINISTERS NEED GOOD WAGE, SAY BISHOPS

Atlantic City, N. J., Nov. 30.—The house of bishops of the Methodist-Episcopal church, in final session yesterday a presentment that a wage for the minister "which will enable him to live and maintain his family at least as well as if he were engaged in everyday business," must be provided by the Methodist laity to meet the shortage of ministerial material.

This presentment, it was announced, will be sent to the head of every Methodist-Episcopal congregation in the world, as the first step in a drive to create an adequate pastoral working force.

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and Nobody Will Know.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied, with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is mussy and out of date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.—Advertisement.

A REAL REMEDY FOR FALLING HAIR

Keeps Scalp Fresh and Healthy—Prevents Dandruff.

If your hair is falling out badly, or is faded, dry, streaked and scraggly and new hair does not grow, the roots must be immediately vitalized and properly nourished.

To do this quickly, safely, and most effectively, get a bottle of Parisian Sage from your druggist and follow the simple directions for home use.

Parisian Sage is guaranteed to quickly banish all dandruff, stop itching scalp and falling hair and stimulate a new growth, or money refunded. It's in great demand by discriminating women because it makes the hair so soft, lustrous, and easy to manage, and appear much heavier than it really is.

A massage with Parisian Sage is a real delight—easy to use, not sticky, a daintily perfumed antiseptic liquid that does not change the hair's natural color.

If you want a clean, healthy scalp, and plenty of thick, good-looking hair, start using Parisian Sage now—tonight.—Advertisement.

REWARD FOR AUTO DRIVER

City Would Capture Reckless Autoist; Would Curb Future Offenders.

A reward of $250 for the apprehension and conviction of the driver of the automobile that ran down and injured three persons at Grand avenue and Forty-eighth avenue west Thursday night was authorized by the city council at its meeting yesterday. While the ordinance was first introduced by Commissioner Phillips, it carried the provision that it would be paid out of the general fund and this could not be legally done, according to John E Samuelson, city attorney.

The only way in which a reward could be offered and paid would be through the contingent fund of the chief of police, Mr. Samuelson asserted, and in view of this Commissioner Murnian took over the ordinance and had it introduced under his name. He informed the council that he would instruct Chief of Police Pugh to offer the reward at once.

To Benefit West Duluth.

Commissioner Phillips in introducing his ordinance declared it was not for the city but in the interest of West Duluth residents that he was submitting the ordinance. Commissioner Phillips did not welcome the switching of the ordinance to Commissioner Murnian, he declared he wanted it to be entirely separate from the police department. Commissioner Murnian said that his reluctance in offering a reward was that there was no provision in his appropriation for the payment of such rewards and his department was compelled to 'sail close to the wind' to come within the amount appropriated.

City Attorney Samuelson gave the opinion that the contingent fund of the chief of police could be replenished from the general fund when depleted. With this understanding, Commissioner Murnian announced he would take over the ordinance and submit it under his name.

The commissioners then discussed means of curbing recklessness in driving and Commissioner Murnian announced that special traffic officers would be kept on duty as long as the weather permits or until automobiles were forced off the streets by the cold and snow.

It developed in the discussion that the state traffic laws prohibit driving past open gates of a street car, making no provision for safety zones. According to Mr. Samuelson, everyone who drives past a safety zone while street car gates are open, is placing himself liable under the law and that if an accident occurs the state is liable.

Urge Better Traction Service.

Another complaint of the service of the Duluth Street Railway company was read to the city council yesterday. It dealt with the service on the Woodland line and asked for better service during the morning and evening hours.

"Service on the Woodland car line between 6:30 a. m. and 8:30 a. m. and from 5 p. m. to 7:30 p. m. is entirely inadequate," the letter read. "Would also suggest a better connection at Twenty-fourth avenue east. The practice of passing up people at the street corners should be stopped. Sometimes these people have been waiting a long time for a car, only to see one pass them by."

A report of the condition of the toilets and washrooms of 248 public business places, such as stores, restaurants and office buildings, was presented by Commissioner Murnian.

"This report has been compiled because I understood that there was some criticism of the conditions of the toilets and washrooms in public buildings," Mr. Murnian explained. "It was made up by the health department and shows the conditions that exist exactly."

A few of the buildings were rated as "good," but the majority received ratings of "fair" or "poor." Mayor Hugo suggested that the owners of the property be given the opportunity to improve conditions before public announcement was made of those places being below the average.

"If they do not bring them up to the 'good' standard in a short while the names and locations of those still below par should be given to the newspapers," he said.

Buys New Car.

Leonard McNamara will supply the health department with a new six-cylinder automobile for a consideration of $1,600 and the old Chevrolet touring car. The contract to furnish the fire department with 225 yards of eighteen-ounce cloth will be awarded to Carey, Deuscher & Denis on their bid of $4.75 a yard. The commissioner of public safety will advertise for bids on 4,000 feet of lead-covered cable for the fire department.

Sanitary sewers will be constructed in Central alley from a point opposite lot 10, block 3, Sharp's addition, to Albion street and in Albion street to Fifty-third avenue west and in Fifty-third avenue west to a sewer in Medinah street. The estimated cost is $2,720.85. Sewers will also be constructed in Ninety-eighth avenue west from Peary street to Prescott street at an estimated cost of $8,364.40, and in One Hundred and Second avenue west from Peary street to a point opposite lot 22, block 10, New Duluth, First division, at an estimated cost of $2,014.87.

The claim of Catherine Stephens for damages which she alleges were sustained on Oct. 18 will be settled in the sum of $43.50. Nellie Tucker claims $500 damages for injuries she alleges she sustained when thrown from an automobile at 2:30 a. m. Nov. 1. She alleges the accident occurred at North Central avenue and Elinor street and that the car crashed into some building materials which were left on the street at night with no lantern to point out their position.

OBJECT LESSON IN ANIMAL RAISING

Chicago, Nov. 30.—While one of the most important purposes of the international livestock exposition which is being held here is to promote better breeding of livestock and consequently the production of better meat animals, even more important than that, perhaps, is the judging of meat itself—the result of better breeding and growing activities.

At the exposition this year the judging of the carcass meat is being done by W. B. Margerum, a retailer of Philadelphia.

Prior to the show individual cattle were slaughtered for the exposition. These carcasses represent what in the opinion of the expert buyers of the packers in the stock will "dress out" to the greatest percentage and best quality of edible meat products.

Differs From Judging on Hoof.

Then at the exposition he determines from which of the animals has been produced meat of highest quality and finish, irrespective of the manner in which the animal has been fed or raised. These carcasses as judged will then be placed on display at the exposition, so that livestock producers, as well as the packers' representatives and retail butchers, may have an object lesson in the best kind of animal to raise, buy and sell so far as its utility for meat alone is concerned.

This judging of the carcass differs from the judging of the animal on the hoof in that it does not take into consideration the fine points of breeding, such as carriage and marking, or the quality of the hide or the worth of the other by-products. It is strictly the judging of an animal on its merits as the raw product for meat.

Two Farmers Kill Wives.

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 30.—Charles Davis and Samuel Shadrick, farmers, were arrested yesterday and brought here in connection with the killing of their wives yesterday. Although the men live ten miles apart, it was said that the women were slain almost simultaneously.

Finds Something to Do the Business

"I tried everything that I heard of for the stomach and bowel trouble and bloating, but got no permanent help until I struck Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, and that did the business. My son in Canada has also taken it and writes it has done him a lot of good." TWO MINNEAPOLIS DETECTIVES SHOT

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 30.—Two Minneapolis city detectives were shot, a Mexican bandit suspect was probably fatally injured and a former Canadian soldier, now a patient in a Minneapolis hospital, was arrested after shooting a detective from his hospital bed, in two shooting scrapes last night.

J. L. Levans, detective, was shot through the hand by Antone Antonio, a Mexican, in a rooming house when he found three bolts of stolen cloth in his possession. In self-defense, Levans shot the Mexican through the abdomen, fatally wounding him.

Melvin Fassel, who witnessed the first shooting, was himself shot a few hours later by Howard Blaikie, 40, from his bed in a local hospital. The bullet grazed the detective's cheek, but resulted in no serious injury. Blaikie is a former Canadian soldier under the care of the Federal health service. He was believed to be temporarily deranged from shell shock.

Fassett had gone to the hospital to quiet a disturbance said to have been created by Blaikie. Neither detective was seriously injured.

CRACK CORN RAISERS.

Two Minnesota Boys Raise Over 100 Bushels Per Acre.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Minnesota boy and girl corn club members apparently do not find it difficult to grow 100 bushels of corn to the acre. Winners of the five-acre and the single acre corn contests have just been announced at the offices of T. A. Erickson, state leader of boys' and girls' club work, at University farm.

Orval V. Zimmerman, 17, of Tracy, Lyon county, raised 502 bushels on his five-acre lot which he had planted with Silver King seed on May 15. Figuring rent of land at $5 an acre and his own time at 10 cents an hour, the boy's total cost in producing the five acres was $75.10. The total value of his crop, including forty bushels which he had picked for seed, was $360.80, leaving him a profit on the five acres of $285.70.

Adelbert Clapp, 18, son of George L. Clapp of Appleton, won the acre corn plot contest, producing 114 bushels and 16 pounds of corn, valued, including corn reserved for seed, at $114. With expenses placed at $32.10, he had a profit of $81.90 on his acre plot.

Both Zimmerman and Clapp won free trips to the international livestock show in Chicago and are now doing the sights of that metropolis.

URGES FINANCIAL RELIEF FOR FARMERS

Sioux Falls, S. D., Nov. 30.—Senator E. S. Johnson of South Dakota has sent a telegram to President Wilson, urging immediate financial relief for farmers and livestock producers of the Northwest. The message said "conditions are extremely serious."

BURLEIGH COUNTY, N. D.. WHEAT HOLDERS FORMED

Bismarck, N. D., Nov. 30.—At a meeting of about 100 Burleigh county wheat growers here Monday, it was decided to continue to hold wheat for higher prices.

Howard Thomas of Driscoll, chairman of the Burleigh county branch of the National Association of Wheat Growers, expressed the opinion that farmers will be unable to obtain the $3 a bushel price sought, but along with other farmers favored holding wheat until the prices advance. The Burleigh county branch will organize into township units. This movement is said to be general over the state.

DE VALERA WILL MEET IRISHMEN OF NORTHWEST

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 30.—Eamonn De Valera, president of the "Irish republic," will hold a conference here Wednesday with leaders of the movement for Irish independence from Minnesota, Iowa and North and South Dakota, to discuss plans for gaining recognition for the Irish republic.

BELOIT MAN KILLED BY SHARON, PA., NEGRESS

Beloit, Wis., Nov. 30.—Clarence E. Alcock of Beloit was shot to death at Sharon, Pa., by Maud Floyd, a negress, to whose home he had gone in an effort to recover some money reported stolen from him, according to information received in a telegram from an official of the company which employed Alcock.

Appleton, Wis., Saloon Raid.

Appleton, Wis., Nov. 30.—Three saloons were raided here by Federal agents yesterday, and evidence secured taken to Milwaukee for presentation to the grand jury now in session. Federal officials who conducted the raid declared that their investigation had shown unofficial charges purporting to connect local police with liquor running operations were unfounded.

PREPARE TO FIGHT FOR DEEP WATERWAY

Chicago, Nov. 30.—The council of states of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Tidewater association yesterday began what it announced would be a "fight against Eastern organizations which are opposing the plan to open a way into the interior for freight carrying steamers."

A campaign committee, of which Governor Peter Norbeck of South Dakota, is a member was appointed. A statement said "it was expected that the first fight would come at the national rivers and harbors congress in Washington next week" and that the committee would attend the congress prepared to do everything within its power to further inland waterways projects.

Urges Commission.

Governor W. L. Harding of Iowa, in an address, urged that each state in the association create a tidewater commission and appropriate money to push the work.

B. R. Inman of Indianapolis, and other speakers urged the necessity for opening the interior of the United States for foreign trade and declared that the loss to the country as a result of the inability of farmers to market their grain during the last year was fully $1,000,000,000.

The report of the association's work, presented by C. P. Craig of Duluth, urged Governor Harding's recommendations for tidewater associations and financial aid be carried out. It also urged that speakers volunteer for addresses in various cities boosting the association's plans.

RAILROAD WANTS PAY FROM GOVERNMENT

Washington, Nov. 30.—Mandamus proceedings against the secretary of the treasury were instituted yesterday in the District of Columbia supreme court by the Grand Trunk Western Railway company to require payment of an interstate commerce commission certificate calling for $500,000 as due the road under the guaranty provisions of the transportation act. Justice McCoy issued an order returnable Dec. 7, requiring Secretary Houston to show why the writ should not be granted. While the Grand Trunk is the only petitioner, approximately $400,000,000 claimed by railroads is involved, according to a statement issued last night by the Association of Railway Executives.

"This proceeding grew out of the opinion rendered Oct. 7, by the comptroller of the treasury," the statement said, "based on certain certificates presented by the Interstate commerce commission to the treasury department in favor of the Grand Trunk Western Railway company and the Detroit, Grand Haven & Milwaukee railroad, in which opinion the comptroller held partial payments could not be made by the secretary of the treasury to a carrier in advance of final settlement.

"The comptroller held that the interstate commerce commission was empowered to issue only one certificate to each carrier, which must be for the full amount of the wianl settlement."

MILL CITY LANDMARK HOTEL FIRE DAMAGED

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 30.—The Stratford hotel, located at Twelfth and Nicollet avenue, one of the city's landmarks, was badly damaged by fire late Monday. The loss is estimated at $10,000.

The hotel, a three-story structure, was built more than fifty years ago. The blaze started on the third floor but there were no guests there. Others in the building had no difficulty in escaping.

THE CRIMINAL AUTO-DRIVER.

The city commissioners did the right thing in offering a reward of two hundred and fifty dollars for the arrest of the cowardly criminals who ran down a crowd in West Duluth Sunday night and then sped on to escape detection.

The Duluth Automobile club did the right thing, too, and upheld the good name of the decent great majority of auto-drivers, when it offered a hundred dollars more.

Here's hoping somebody earns both rewards, and that soon.

But if somebody does earn these rewards, and the guilty ones are caught, they can't be punished as they should be because there is no law that properly covers their crime.

They could be given minor sentences for speeding.

They could be fined a thousand dollars and sent to the penitentiary for a year for failing to stop and return to the scene of their crime.

But that isn't enough.

Simply because they killed nobody, they could not be adequately punished; yet they are just as guilty as though they did kill somebody because, from all accounts, it was not their fault that they didn't.

The council proposes more drastic ordinances, and that will help. A stronger state law is needed, as pointed out by Assistant County Attorney Forbes, who has a bill, which has been before the legislature already but not passed, that would provide a punishment in such cases of five years in the penitentiary.

That law ought to be provided by the legislature very early in its coming session.

In the meantime, what laws there are should be enforced more drastically by far than they have been, that the habit of lawbreaking and negligence approaching the verge of criminality may be broken up. Once a driver has grown accustomed to violating a minor regulation, such as passing street cars with open gates, if he is at all given to recklessness it is not a long step to such grossly criminal acts as that of Sunday night.

Certainly it is time that a serious effort were made to make laws to cope with the frame of mind that permits or impels the driver of an automobile to hurl his powerful machine across the bodies of helpless people.

Everybody knows that the majority of drivers are careful and have as much horror of striking or injuring a human being as they would of shooting one, but there is a reckless and irresponsible minority that must be suppressed with an iron hand.

Every few days somewhere a speeding car plunges through an unsuspecting crowd, or strikes down with cruel abandon a playing child and then, with incredible cowardice, hurries away to escape the consequences.

Whether carelessness or indifference is responsible for this kind of accidents, a serious crime has been committed and the law, both state and city, must be revised to meet the menace of such recklessness. Life is too precious a thing to its possessors to be so shamefully sacrificed to help make a holiday for a class of people who belong to the jungle.

But laws are not self-acting, and we can conceive of nothing more likely to spread habits of caution in driving automobiles and trucks than the spectacle of one criminally negligent driver behind prison bars for a good, stiff term. That is a thing that we all talk about a great deal, but all too seldom see.

Whoever it was who drove through that crowd Sunday night, it is to be hoped that he will be caught and given the full benefit of whatever law there is ready for him. It will not be anywhere enough for a potential murderer, but it will be better than the slap on the wrist of a light fine, which has happened to too many such violators of automobile regulations.

WEATHER ICONOCLASTS.

These weather bureau scientists have no consideration whatever for popular superstitions. We may cling to them as stoutly as we will, but the weather bureau sharps refuse to give us the slightest sympathy.

For instance, the ordinary citizen who does not believe wholeheartedly in "equinoctial storms" is rare indeed. But do you suppose he can get any comfort from the weather men? Not a bit. They don't believe in equinoctial storms at all. When it storms at the equinoctial period, your ordinary citizen may in triumph exclaim: "There! Look at that rain! Don't tell me that there isn't such a thing as an equinoctial storm, for there is one right before you." And not even when the weather man turns to his records and shows that there are at least as many equinoctial periods without storms as there are with storms does the believer in equinoctial storms abandon his confidence in them. Indeed, our own Mr. Richardson has been callous enough of the feelings of superstition-followers to look up his records and report that of sixty-six spring and fall equinoxes in thirty-three years, only fourteen altogether have been stormy.

> A man should BE upright, not be KEPT upright.
> —Marcus Aurelius.

And now a weather bureau man is trying to tell us that the animals don't know in the fall anything about what sort of weather we are going to have in the winter!

"The muskrat is building a warm house; we are going to have a hard winter." Or, "the muskrat is building his winter home flimsily, so it is going to be an open winter." Everybody hears such things every fall, and nearly everybody likes to believe them. Though it was straining credulity a little when a Minnesota Indian weather sage based his prediction of a long, hard, cold winter on his observation that the white man was buying more coal than usual.

Yet the New York weather man, writing to the Evening Post, says there is nothing to this, either. "In a state of nature," he says, "the conditions or movements of animals are more likely to be the result of past or present weather than an indication of future conditions." In other words, if the muskrat is building a warm house in October, it doesn't mean that he has a straight tip that it is going to be a hard winter, but merely that it is cold when he is working at it.

Is nothing sacred to science?

YOUR CHRISTMAS SHOPPING.

As you have gathered from the advertisements in The Herald, the wonderful assortment of Christmas goods is now ready for you, and you will find it more fascinatingly interesting than ever before.

And, speaking of that, the case for early Christmas shopping is as good this year as it ever was; and it is still true that the wise ones are doing theirs early for these obvious reasons:

Because they get the pick of the display before it is depleted by buying and perhaps worn by handling.

Because it gives them a long period over which to string the cost of it, thus lessening the burden of its expense.

Because they can plan their buying more at leisure, and thus reduce the chance of mistake by making possible a wiser and more careful choice for Willy and Mary and Aunt Harriet and Uncle Tom and the rest.

Because—we hope there are a lot of people kind enough to be guided by this reason—by getting their buying out of the way early they lessen the last-minute burden on the stores and their employes who sell, wrap and deliver purchases.

The wise ones are planning it all now, and have begun their buying while assortments are unbroken and a leisurely choice can be made and the goods are fresh. Long before that painful last week which is such an infraction of the Christmas spirit, their Christmas buying will be all done, and they will be in a position to watch the frantic scrambling of the less wise ones with a consciousness of superiority and better fortune due to their own good sense.

THE MYSTERY OF A FLIRTATION.

Recently Frank A. Day said in his Fairmont Sentinel: "We would like to see Fred Hadley in knee breeches and powdered wig at the court of St. James."

Whereupon Claude Atkinson remarked in his Hibbing News: "No matter what other qualifications Fred may be lacking, he surely has a fine leg for the position."

Not to be outdone, Frank Day then responded with the following tribute: "There isn't a thing about Fred physically that isn't perfect, and at that his long suit is his manners, which are Chesterfieldian at every move."

Now this is all exceedingly pretty and pleasant to witness, but it is a bit puzzling.

Fred Hadley is an ardent Republican in season and out of season, with a party loyalty that is proof against any manner of shock. He is the kind of party man whose motto, recognized or unrecognized, is: "My party! May she ever be right, but right or wrong, my party." So, without speaking of his indubitable loveliness of form and manners, there can be no doubt that he is a man whose influence with national and state administrations will be worth courting.

But what can such ornary outlanders—politically—as Frank Day and Claude Atkinson expect from a Republican administration, even with the help of the courtly manners and pulchritudinous personality of Fred Hadley?

Ireland Today

Extracts From a Statement by the Cardinal Primate and the Archbishops and Bishops of Ireland.

It is not easy for the pastors of the flock to uphold the law of God and secure its observance when oppression is rampant in a country. Where terrorism, partiality and failure to apply the principles which its members have proclaimed are the characteristics of government, the task is rendered well-nigh impossible. And, unhappily, by such means as these, in a most aggravated form, Ireland is now reduced to a state of anarchy.

With no feeling of complacency do we recall the fact that when the country was crimeless we warned the government that the oppressive measures which they were substituting for their professions of freedom would lead to the most deplorable consequences. The warning was in vain; and never in living memory has the country been in such disorder as it is now.

Before the war began, and especially before the drilling and arming of Ulster, Ireland, however insistent on reform too long delayed, was in a state of order and peace. Now there are murders, raids, burnings and violence of various kinds.

On a scale truly appalling have to be reckoned countless indiscriminate raids and arrests in the darkness of night, prolonged imprisonments without trial, savage sentences from tribunals that command and deserve no confidence, the burning of houses, town halls, factories, creameries and crops, the destruction of industries, to pave the way for want and famine, by men maddened with plundered drink and bent on loot, the flogging and massacre of civilians, all perpetrated by the forces of the crown, who have established a reign of frightfulness which, for murdering the innocent and destroying their property, has a parallel only in the horrors of Turkish atrocities, or in the outrages attributed to the red army of Bolshevist Russia.

Men have been tortured with barbarous cruelty. Nor are cases wanting of young women torn, undressed, from their mothers' care in the darkness of night.

For all this not the men, but their masters, are chiefly to blame. And it is not a question of hasty reprisals which, however unjustifiable, might be attributed to extreme provocation, nor of quick retaliation on evildoers, nor of lynch law for miscreants, much less of self-defense of any kind whatsoever. It is the indiscriminate vengeance of savages, deliberately wreaked on a whole town or countryside, without any proof of its complicity in crime, by those who ostensibly are employed by the British government to protect the lives and property and restore order in Ireland.

This went on month after month, and there was no sign of restraint or reproof or public investigation or deterrent punishment on the part of the authorities. It went on unchecked and unabated until the world was horrified at the deeds perpetrated under a regime called government in Ireland. Then it was palliated and excused, more than half denied and less than half rebuked, by a minister of the crown, on its way to being presented in a false light, and in that light equivalently condoned and approved by his superior in the British government. Outrage has been connived at and encouraged, if not organized, not by obscure and irresponsible individuals, but by the government of a mighty empire, professing the highest ideals of truth and justice.

All the time the carnage of sectarian riots on a vast scale has been allowed to run its course in the cities and towns of Ulster, resulting in woeful slaughter on either side, in deprivation of employment, in the burning of shops and hopes, and therefore in extermination, for the weaker party. In Belfast, a fortnight ago, 8,100 persons had registered as expelled workers, and over 25,000 people were receiving daily relief. In no other part of Ireland is a minority persecuted. Only one persecuting section can be found among the Irish people; and perhaps recent sad events may, before it is altogether too late, open the eyes of the people of England to the iniquity of furnishing a corner of Ulster with a separate government, or its worst instrument, a special police force, to enable it all the more readily to trample under foot the victims of its intolerants.

But it would be idle to be too confident of that. The governing classes across the water, instead of encouraging Ulster Unionists to coalesce with the rest of the country, have used that section for centuries as a spearhead directed at the heart of Ireland. Oppression, as everyone knows, generates crime, and leads to further oppression. But more potent than even the rule of brute force, in reducing Ireland to anarchy, has been the grossly partial course taken by the British government in regard to the Northeast.

The whole British administration sat complacently while a provisional government was formed and an army drilled in Ulster, the police and customs officials held up, the roads and wires seized. Let anyone contrast the inaction of the government on the landing of arms at Larne with the onslaughts of the military when arms were landed at Howth, or the treatment of the Ulster Volunteers as compared with the Irish Volunteers, which resulted in the arming of Orangemen and the disarming of the rest of Ireland. * * *

In these days we have formal approval reported of the Belfast pogrom from a minister of the crown, and his promise of protection under the new Belfast parliament for all who are true to the colors. * * * If there is anarchy in Ireland the ministers of the British crown are its architects.

The plausible sentiment of not coercing Ulster is founded on false pretense, but on false pretense with a purpose. Anyone of ordinary judgment can see how undesirable it is to coerce a minority if in reason the process can at all be avoided. But to give a guaranty to a minority, in advance, against all coercion is to put a premium on unreasonableness and to make a settlement impossible. Had such pledge been given and made good to the minorities in Canada, which clung to Downing Street and resisted the concession of responsible government at home, that blessing would never have matured and created the great Dominion of our time.

It is no hatred of coercion that operates in Ireland, but partiality for the Northeast. "Ulster" must not suffer the contamination of a Dublin parliament. But all Ireland must be coerced for the sake of the Northeast, and especially Tyrone, Fermanagh and Derry City must be put under a Belfast parliament against their will. That is the outcome of the very acme of cruel false pretense, and if it be pressed we warn the British government of the danger of bitter and prolonged civil strife, with far greater reason for it than for the hostility to a single parliament which, at the bidding of intolerance, the government indorses in advance.

Not by inhuman oppression will the Irish question be settled, but by the recognition of the indefeasible right of Ireland, as of every other nation, to choose the form of government under which its people are to live.

But, as more immediately urgent than anything else, we demand, in the name of civilization and national justice, a full inquiry into the atrocities now being perpetrated in Ireland by such a tribunal as will inspire the confidence of all, and with immunity to witnesses from the terrorism which makes it impossible to give evidence with safety to life or property.

The press is gagged in Ireland, the right of public meeting has been interdicted, and inquests suppressed. There has been brutal treatment of clergymen; and, certainly, to ban a distinguished archbishop of Irish birth, who is the trusted leader of democracy in Australia, is one of the most unwise steps that purblind and tyrannical oppression could take. * * *

In existing circumstances it would be idle to say to our people that the outlook was anything but menacing. It is not, however, idle, it is only what is right, to say to them that there never was a time when they should rely on God with more confidence that He will prosper their struggle for freedom while they remain steadfast to the ideals and requirements of Holy Faith. It is for a nation of martyrs to cultivate constant self-restraint. Our people were a great Christian nation when pagan chaos reigned across the channel. They will remain, please God, a great Christian nation when the new paganism that now prevails there has run its evil course. * * *

Rippling Rhymes

Human Nature

The climate here is luscious, very, and even winter days are warm; but my old heart is so contrary I sometimes long to see a storm. Where I abide the weather wizard provides the smoothest goods he owns; and yet I long to hear a blizzard whoop past the house, with maudlin tones. The tourists come, a cheerful legion, and visit me a while and say, "This is the finest, grandest region—here every day's a perfect day!" They dance around, the joyous friskers, ecstatic over things they see; and I remark, "You bet your whiskers, this country's good enough for me." But when the tourists leave my shanty, in genial pairs or blocks of five, I say to Jane, my spinster auntie, "I wish a cyclone would arrive! Oh, for a good old Kansas twister, destroying barns, uprooting trees! Oh, for a hot wind that would blister; oh, for a cold wind that would freeze!" And were I back where winds are blowing, and winter's white with snow and rime, some grievous fits I would be throwing, denouncing such a beastly clime. There is no bliss for any mortal until he quits this vale of woe, and enters, through the shining portal, the land where all the righteous go. And that bright land—perhaps he'll scan it, and mutter to his saintly guide, "This place looks cheap beside the planet where I grew up and loved and died."

Evidently Guilty

Editorial in the Louisville Courier-Journal.

It is evident from the prepared statement of the secretary of war, Mr. Baker, that the war department was guilty, at the time the armistice was signed, of having assembled and drilled too many men and purchased and stored too many millions of dollars worth of supplies. It is evident that the army of 5,000,000 men which America was to have to put into khaki for the campaign of 1919 was entirely too large. It got in the way of a wonderful war and stopped it.

The war was stopped by the preparation which America achieved in an amazingly short time and at a really indecorous gait. Germany had intended to continue it. France and Great Britain and Italy had expected to continue it, when, as Gen. Hindenburg says, the action of America in the Argonne made it impossible for Germany to continue and therefore unnecessary for France and Great Britain and Italy to continue.

Energetic castigators of the Wilson administration have asserted that this country was not sufficiently prepared for war in 1917. Between April, 1917, and November, 1918, preparedness waxed in America like a snowball rolled down hill. It gathered momentum as it went. When the armistice was signed, because American efficiency in action made it necessary for the Germans to sign up, and give up, we were just about to roll up an army of 5,000,000. Compared with it the army of Xerxes would have looked like a sheriff's posse.

In course of preparation the war department bought right and left what would be needed by 5,000,000 red-blooded fighting men; men of a greater army, in point of size and effectiveness, than the world had ever seen, an army which proved a deciding factor in the greatest war in the history of mankind before it got half through its growing pains.

The war department, with its immense supplies on hand, was caught red-handed in the act of ending the war by making it too hot for the enemy. There was too much preparedness. There were too many military stores. There were lots too many men. There was not exactly too much Johnson, but too much Brother Jonathan, altogether too much.

In the circumstances the Courier-Journal suggests that the New York Herald be empowered, by joint resolution of the congress which will convene next month, to hang Secretary Baker in effigy in every state whose sons contributed to the strength of the army that stopped the war, and to hang him on a sour apple tree in Washington.

No secretary of war, no war department, no country in Christendom or in Pagandom, ever was guilty of beating up an enemy so extravagantly large and buying for that army so many millions of tons of supplies.

That Secretary Baker, as well as others, was guilty of this outrage, Von Hindenburg and Wilhelm Hohenzollern of Doorn, Holland, and George Sylvester Viereck cordially agree.

That nearly half of the computed cost of the war will be turned back into the Federal treasury may surprise, even disappoint, the cavillers, but the surprise and disappointment cannot be as great as the surprise and disappointment of the forces behind the Hindenburg line when the American army got into action in France, and disinterested Americans are glad to hear that $12,000,000,000 is to be saved from the $25,000,000,000 which, as Mr. Baker says, "Congress provided with an unstinting hand for the supply of our soldiers."

Why Begrudge the Silk Shirt?

Johnstown, Pa., Democrat: In the McKinley days it was the proud boast of those who ruled us that the American workingman was able to buy pianos for his home and silk dresses for his wife. That, said the politicians, denoted prosperity. In our day, the workers have been able to buy automobiles, silk underwear for the wife and silk shirts for themselves. That denotes waste, woeful waste, according to all of the Republican economists.

Now the campaign is over. Republicans have been victorious—overwhelmingly victorious. There is no longer any need for secrecy. Will some Republican on the inside answer us this simple question? Why have Republican writers and speakers so begrudged the worker his silk shirts? Did the Pittsburgh steel millionaires want the silk shirt as a uniform of their class? Why was it that the worker was supposed to be stepping over the line when he bought a silk shirt?

The men who have a large supply of silk shirts on hand should begin treating the garment with a great deal of consideration. They will be a bit more difficult to obtain after Harding has been on the job a year or so. Just paste that in your hat and see if it does not become true. Unemployment, we understand, is due to Democratic inefficiency. All right. If that is so, there is no reason why Republican efficiency should not give every man in the country a good year at good wages—a four-year contract beginning March 4, 1921.

Health Talks

By William Brady, M. D.

The Gallsac

The gallsac or gallbladder, the size and color of a small or trial size lemon, lies just under the edge of the ribs a bit to the west of the depression that marks the tip of the brestbone. It is filled with gall. It has but one nozzle through which it squirts the gall into the main gall channel, which conveys gall from the liver to the intestine. Gall is not a disease, you understand; it is the bile, the natural secretion of the liver. But the gallsac is rather superfluous today, if it ever served any essential purpose in the upright animal. Like other structures which have become more or less superannuated in the course of human progress from the all-four to the fore all state, notably the wisdom teeth, the vermiform appendix and the tonsils, the human gallsac seems to be particularly vulnerable to disease. For which we, the medical profession, may be grateful.

Infection of the lining of the gallsac by various bacteria from various parts of the body produces inflammation thereof, called, for the sake of euphony, cholecystitis, merely the doctor's resounding and ponderous way of saying gallsac inflammation. Then sometimes a few million of the responsible germs in an idle moment get together in a clump, roll around and gather a coating of mucus, which in time becomes coated or plated over with a layer of crystalline material deposited by the bile, then more layers week by week and month by month, until eventually there is a hard body called a gallstone. The delighted physician now terms the trouble cholelithiasis.

A famous Baltimore physician who would be too greatly embarrassed by newspaper publicity recently cited an interesting example of the curious process I have just been describing. He told of the removal from his own person of four large gallstones thirty-five years after a typhoid fever attack he had suffered when eight years old, and on cutting through the stones and making cultures from the centers the bacteriologist demonstrated the presence of living typhoid germs.

That's perseverance, even for typhoid bacilli!

You see, in typhoid fever the germs are freely eliminated through the bile tract. Months and years after the fever, in some cases, the living germs are still eliminated into the intestine through the bile tract, through the gallsac—and such individuals, to all appearances well and strong, are the typhoid carriers who innocently cause epidemics of typhoid if they have anything to do with handling or preparing food. But what is more to the point here, a considerable share of gallstone cases are encountered in persons who have had typhoid fever (recognized or mistaken for some other illness) in years past.

An individual who has a sack of gallstones in his midst does not necessarily suffer any serious trouble therefrom. In something like one of each ten cases of gallstone disease no symptoms are complained of by the subject.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

The Graham Cracker Myth.

So many young mothers seem to think that, if any food is to be given the baby besides Mother Nature's Peerless Infant Food or the bottle, a graham cracker is about the simplest and most easily digested thing. As a matter of fact a plain soda cracker is more digestible. Graham crackers contain some indigestible material—they are therefore more laxative than soda crackers but not so completely digested. However, fruit juices and later stewed fruit pulp and well cooked vegetable pulp (strained through a seive) and fresh meat broths are better foods to begin feeding the baby than any kind of cracker.

Glasses.

Should I wear glasses constantly? I am very near-sighted, but * * *

Ans.—Yes. Glasses every moment when you use the eyes will save the eyes; omitting the glasses with a vague fancy that the eyes need "exercise" or that the glasses weaken the sight, will hasten impairment of vision. Wear your glasses every minute of the day if you are near-sighted and wish to retain the best possible vision in later life.

Why Wouldn't She?

Why should a girl blush constantly? On any and every occasion or rather without occasion my face turns crimson and it makes me just miserable at a dinner or in conversation with old friends even. (Miss S. E.)

Ans.—I don't see how she can help blushing if she is dressed after the present fashion. Self-consciousness, an attribute of youth, is the only explanation we have for blushing, and aside from growing old our only remedy is the cultivation of outside interests and altruism.

Fairmont Sentinel: Wall Street wolves are after the Federal reserve bank and the new congress contains a lot of creatures who will do whatever Wall Street asks.

The system is not perfect and mistakes in its operation have been made and will be made, but it carried us through the most costly war in the world's history and it will carry us safely through the period of readjustment. It stands today as a bulwark against financial chaos that without it would sweep the world.

An Aggravating Mystery

Luverne Herald: Chicago packers, according to press reports, claim that wages must go down because the cost of living is going down. With meat selling at the peak of war prices in the face of a 50 to 75 per cent reduction in the price of live meat animals, the packers must have eliminated their own products in figuring the decline of prices. The way the prices of meats are maintained regardless of the tremendous slump in the prices paid for cattle and hogs is one of the aggravating mysteries of the day.

Men, by the grace of God, are powerful as they have characters, rather than manners.

Keep 'Em Out

Carlton Vidette: Preliminary work on drastic immigration laws have already started in Washington. It is high time that this country takes a tumble and safeguards our homes and institutions from the radical element which came near disrupting our recent war program by preaching disloyalty and defying our courts.

Public "Goat" Long Enough

Middle River Pioneer: Rates on both passenger and freight traffic have been advanced from time to time to enable the railroad companies to meet the demands of the railway employes for bigger wages, and now in the face of a general downward trend of prices, it would seem that it is only logical and fair that the employes submit to a reduction in wages in the interest of increased revenue to the railroads rather than that the public be continuously made the goat.

Expensive Experience

Stillwater Gazette: Farmers around Aberdeen, S. D., blew in $51,000 in the attempt to keep a Socialistic-Nonpartisan paper alive. All they have to show for it is a $6,000 mortgage and a heap of experience. There are other farmers who are going through the same experience—nothing to show but a mortgage for about all the plant cost. Farmers know no more about running a newspaper than the average newspaper man knows about how to conduct a farm, successfully.

Nothing to Worry About

St. Cloud Journal-Press: The Railway Age says the railroads since they came back to their owners have done seven months' business for six months' pay. Many an editor has done a year's work for a month's pay, and is still on the job.

Twenty Years Ago

From The Herald of This Date, 1900

L. Trumbull Kelly, left tackle of the Capital Culture Football club, died at Johntown, Pa., today as the result of injuries received in a game with the Indiana State normal school team there yesterday. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kelly of West Superior and was nearly 22 years old. He graduated from the Duluth high school in the spring of 1896 and was a prominent member of the high school football team. He graduated from Yale last spring and since then had been employed as a draughtsman by the Cambria Iron company.

Senator Lodge, according to a Washington dispatch, probably will be advanced to the chairmanship of the committee on foreign relations to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator C. K. Davis. Senators Frye of Maine and Cullom of Illinois both outrank the Massachusetts senator on the committee, but they are chairmen of other important committees.

A Cape Town dispatch says: Gen. Knox, by a rapid march of twenty-six miles, succeeded in getting in front of Gen. De Wet, placing himself between the Boers and the Orange river. De Wet is now believed to be going westward to join Hertzog at Boomplaatz.

A committee representing the M. A. Hanna Republican club of Cleveland, Ohio, which recently adopted resolutions indorsing Senator Hanna for the presidency in 1904, called upon the senator yesterday and presented the same. Senator Hanna expressed his appreciation of the honor, but said he was growing old and expected to retire after his senatorial term expired. His candidacy for the presidency, he said, was absolutely out of the question.

Capt. J. H. Triggs of the Triggs Mining company of the Lake of the Woods district arrived in Duluth yesterday and spent Thanksgiving with the family of Capt. Coburn at 322 Fourth avenue west. The primary object of Capt. Triggs' visit is to negotiate for the purchase of a twenty-five-stamp mill which the company hopes to get to Rat Portage over the ice this winter.

Charles A. Towne is being boomed for appointment by Governor John Lind to succeed the late Cushman K. Davis as United States senator. Mr. Towne was the nominee of the Democratic legislative census two years ago when Senator Davis was re-elected.

When the legislature sits this winter it will have brought before it again the question of apportioning the gross earnings taxes of the railroads among the counties and communities. A number of Duluth men, who have become interested in the proposition, will work in its behalf.

Charles Butler, a woodsman, slipped and fell yesterday morning on Superior street between Lake avenue and First avenue west. His head struck with terrific force, splitting the skull open on the left side and close to the base of the brain. He was taken to St. Luke's hospital and his recovery is doubtful.

St. Cloud Commission Summoned.

St. Cloud, Minn., Nov. 30.—Summons to appear before Judge Page Morris in Federal court at Fergus Falls within twenty days from Monday was served upon the city in connection with the proceedings filed by the gas company in their suit to raise the gas rates in this city.

THE OPEN COURT

Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about topics of general interest, but discussion of sectarian, religious differences is barred. Letters must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.

All letters must be written on one side of the paper only.

The Herald does not publish original verse. Contributions of this nature that are submitted for the editor's perusal must be accompanied by a stamped and addressed envelope, if their return is desired. Otherwise no manuscript will be returned.

EVELETH HOCKEY FAN RAPS DULUTH TEAM

To the Editor of The Herald:

After reading some of your publicity as regards the program outlined for the Duluth hockey team this year, I have been inclined to wonder what class of hockey Duluth is going to play. Of course there was not the slightest bit of prejudice shown against Eveleth when Duluth withdrew from the league of first class hockey teams of which the local organization was and is a member. This we have forgotten in view of the tactics that Duluth has been using the past few years. We realize that Duluth is using a lot of good sound judgment in arranging a schedule which will not include this city, for we know what a bitter dose it is for your city to lose to any of the range towns in any kind of sport.

I do not care to go into that at this time, however, but would deeply appreciate it if some of your hockey officials will explain in a more detailed way just whether you intend to play first or second-rate hockey. From the schedule that has been given out, it would appear to be the latter, in view of the fact that none of the better teams have been included.

Having lived in Canada for several years and having always been very much interested in hockey, I dare say that I am as well posted on the subject as anyone else and for your information, if you are not already conversant with the facts, I will tell you something about these teams that you have scheduled games with and, meantime, let those who read this judge for themselves the class of teams you expect to play.

In Winnipeg there are four classes of hockey; namely, senior, intermediate, junior and juvenile. Some of the senior teams have teams as intermediate playing under the same name as the Monarchs Senior. There will also be a Monarch intermediate, etc. This year there is only one team of the old Monarch Victoria and Winnipeg league and that is the Winnipegs. This team, so far as I am able to learn, has not been included in your schedule, although I notice that you have them scheduled in your publicity matter. The management of this organization declines to acknowledge that he has made any arrangements for games with you and cites examples of treatment received by you when you have played them in previous years.

This is only an inquiry. I would like to have someone who knows what Duluth's plan is on this matter to write in regards to it so that we will all be better informed on the subject, as many here and in other towns on the range would like to know more fully concerning it.

UNRESTRICTED IMMIGRATION MAY HURT U. S. LABOR

To the Editor of The Herald:

Since you allow all kinds of foreign freaks to prattle in your Open Court, I wonder if you would be so kind as to allow an American laboring man to say a few words? The subject I wish to speak about is Americanism. We were told during the war that we were fighting against foreign invasions. Now the reverse is proven, for the same war that pauperized Europe is bringing a flood of immigration to America that is exceeding all records. If Americanism means smothering America with all the degradation of Europe for the purpose of reducing the American laboring man to the lowest level, then I think we had better take in our flag, for a country that is every man's country is no man's country.

It has long been the practice of large corporations to either import or encourage immigration for the purpose of creating a cheap labor supply, and then creating race hatred among them for the purpose of promoting rivalry, which is their meat and drink. If this kind of doings is Americanism I would like to suggest that we substitute the word traitorism. It is easier said and spelled. And while we are deporting enemies I would like to suggest that we could save cargo space by deporting the importers of such enemies, who are giving foreigners preference on all kinds of work. In the meantime certain interests are busy throwing out a smoke screen by eulogizing the foreigners who fought in our army during the war, but many people will forget that the foreigners who fought in our army are not the ones that are coming over now and that the ones who fought in our army against foreign invasion are the ones that will be walking the street looking for a job during the coming depression, while later importations are being coddled and given all the work. Americanism, bah! Where is it?

MORE OVERLOAD FOR UNCLE SAM

To the Editor of The Herald:

Election's over! What now?

If we want liberty, we must pay its price—eternal vigilance. Uncle Sam's enforced burdens are heavy and threaten to become far heavier.

Our swollen national budget already represents a tax of $50 upon every man, woman and child in the U. S. A., say $250 for every family of five persons to pay annually.

Of the billions thus gathered the United States bureau of standards tells us that 93 cents of every dollar this year goes for war, past, present, or to come. Only one cent goes for education and sanitation.

Now comes a proposal for compulsory military service, borrowed from Prussia, to add $1,125,000,000 per annum to the load. Can our uncle bear up under it? Do "our boys" want to be conscripted? Let the voice of the voter be heard by the votaries of Prussian militarism! Otherwise section 69 of the Wadsworth army reorganization act will be resurrected and fasten conscription upon the country whenever the president or congress declares a "national emergency" to exist.

THE "YELLOW PERIL."

To the Editor of The Herald:

The editorial on the "Yellow Peril" in The Herald of last Wednesday caused me to think that the editor forgot the plain lesson found in Exodus i, 5-7. Only seventy souls went into Egypt, as against the 70,000 Japanese already in California, but the seventy "increased abundantly, and multiplied, and waxed exceeding mighty; and the land was filled with them." If the United States is to continue as an independent nation, its people must not think only in the selfish terms of peace during the next decade, but weigh carefully the fruit that will ripen during the next several hundred years as the crop from the sowing during the life of the generation now controlling our national affairs.

How long can we safely continue to say: "Hush, hush. Keep your eyes closed and your ears stopped. What you don't know won't worry you. Let the future build its own bridges over the torrents we allowed to grow from tiny rivulets?"

THOS. JONES DAVIS.

IRON COUNTY, MICH., MINE IMPORTS MEN

Iron River, Mich., Nov. 30.—For the first time since before the war mining labor was shipped into Alpha the other day. Until the present slump started, it was impossible to get men for mining labor at the different Alpha agencies. A shipment of thirty-five was brought from Detroit by the Pickands Mather people for work at their mines on the east side of Iron county. About fifteen were assigned to Alpha and put at work at the Balkan mine, the balance being taken to Amasa.

LARGE SUM TO FIGHT PLAGUE

Sale of Seals Must Be Heavy; St. Louis County Quota Is $11,000.

Some idea of the need for a large sale of 1920 Christmas seals, which are sold annually to help meet the cost of the fight against tuberculosis, is expressed in the proposed budget of the St. Louis County Health association, which has been made up for the coming year. The minimum amount that will allow the work to go on along the lines planned for next year call for at least $11,000. The quota for Duluth has been set for $22,000, and it is the intention of the association to obtain this amount if possible, as the program of education in the prevention of this disease will call for almost half of this amount that is allotted the city, while the other half will go to the state and national organizations.

Budget for Next Year.

According to the budget as arranged for the county's work during the coming year, $1,050 will be spent for educational work as follows: Pamphlets for distribution by health departments and public health nurses, $300; printing, including the annual report, $250; health exhibits at St Louis county fair, $250; rural exhibits and expenses of speakers, $250. There will be $1,000 spent for clinics, such as institutional, dental and child welfare. There will be $2,000 spent for open air schools and open bureaus, for demonstration of methods only. The central health bureau will spend $1,000 in co-operation with the Red Cross and $450 will be spent for administration as follows: supplies, $50, typewriting, correspondence, notices will take $150 and $250 will be spent for expenses of handling the Christmas seal sale.

This makes a total of $5,500 and as only 50 per cent of the proceeds of the sale are available for use in St. Louis county the carrying out of this program involves the obtaining of a sale amounting to $11,000. The association has planned a much more extensive program for the coming year and has accepted the quota of $22,000, confident that this can be obtained before the expiration of the sale, which comes to a close on Christmas day.

MANY BADGER POULTRY SHOWS ARE SCHEDULED

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 30.—Sales of fancy poultry at the Greater Milwaukee Poultry show here amounted to more than $900 during the forenoon last Friday, it was announced by officials of the show. Poultry shows are to be held throughout Wisconsin during December and January, and it is announced that the official American Poultry association show will be held at Fort Atkinson, Dec. 29 to Jan. 3, according to a recent announced program.

Other annual shows which will be held in the state this year are: Watertown, Dec. 1 to 5, Uri J. Laskey, secretary; La Crosse, Dec. 1 to 6, J. E. Kuehols, secretary; Cedarburg, Dec. 2 to 5, P. W. Hilgren, secretary; Sheboygan, Jan. 4 to 9, Jesse Daniels, secretary; Superior, Jan. 13 to 16, John Tyson, secretary; Fond du Lac, Jan. 20 to 23, H. L. Warbie, secretary.

WILLISTON, N. D., MAN IS OLDEST STATE OFFICER

Bismarck, N. D., Nov. 30.—C. A. M. Spencer of Williston, who has been appointed by Governor Frazier to the workman's compensation bureau, is the oldest state official in a responsible position, it was said at the state house. Mr. Spencer, whose age is said to be about 70 years, practiced law when North Dakota was a territory. Mr. Spencer is named to the place of L. J. Wehe, who was ousted by the governor.

TO START FIGHT TO MAKE CANDY CHEAPER

Chicago, Nov. 30.—A fight to make Christmas candy cheaper was started yesterday by the city council high cost of living committee. Alderman Max Adamowski, chairman, said despite reduction of nearly 20 cents a pound in sugar, candy manufacturers were not lowering prices.

"They are planning to reap a harvest during the holidays, but we intend to see their plans are thwarted," he said.

Charles Clyne, United States district attorney, announced his agents had gathered evidence of profiteering in butter and eggs in Chicago and that a Federal drive to punish profiteers would be started.

BOARD RECOMMENDS PAROLE FOR ATWOOD

Boston, Mass., Nov. 30.—The board of parole yesterday recommended release on parole of Dr. Elridge D. Atwood, osteopathist, who is serving a life sentence for killing Dr. Wilfred T. Harris, president of the Massachusetts College of Osteopathy in June, 1916. Dr. Atwood was engaged to marry Dr. Celia H. Adams, also an osteopath, who committed suicide. As his trial evidence was given she had admitted improper relations with Dr. Harris.

Upon learning of her death, Atwood went to Harris' apartment and shot him five times. The parole is recommended on the ground that the courtship of Dr. Adams and Atwood had been "exceptionally idealistic," and that Atwood killed Harris in "a fit of remorseless brooding."

Plans Wireless Telephone System.

Minot, N. D., Nov. 30.—Without telephone wires for inter-city communication, the Commercial club of the city of Malta, Mont., plans to solve the difficulty through establishment of wireless telephone service, according to Max F. Kemper, formerly of Minot, but now a resident of the Montana city.

The wireless telephone system, Mr. Kemper said, is planned to connect Lovejoy, Zortman, Phillips, Landusky, Lonesome and several other inland towns, as well as a number of large ranches within a radius of sixty miles of Malta.

Badger Stock Judges at Chicago.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 30.—The University of Wisconsin stock judging team is in Chicago representing the university at the International Livestock exposition. Twenty-one agricultural schools have teams entered. The Wisconsin group of six judges, coached by Prof. J. G. Fuller, is made up of Arthur F. Carmody, Mt. Hope; Alois A. Fix, Reedsburg; George O. Toopfor, Madison; James R. Ballentine, Bloomington, Wis.; Phillip W. Gates, Madison, and George H. Clapp, Madison. All members of the team are seniors.

The combination of two great foods

Troco is a pure, dainty, appetizing product made from two of the most nutritious natural foods the world produces—snowy fat from coconuts and pasteurized milk.

Vigorous tropic races depend upon coconuts for their principal food. Milk is the standby of the temperate zone.

Combined you get fancy Troco

Churn this rich coconut fat with milk—twice pasteurized—develop perfect flavor by exacting care and supreme skill.

Do this churning in a brand new plant up-to-the-minute in every detail of equipment—

A butter expert, Mr. A. E. Hoffman, who has spent 30 years making and judging butter and teaching butter making, has put the true butter flavor into Troco.

He supervises every detail of the making, has standardized Troco quality.

It may cost more

This standardized perfection may cost a trifle more, just as finest butter does.

MANY TO GO TO FINLAND

Arrangements Made Here for Big Excursion on S. S. Olympic.

More than 500 Finnish residents of Duluth, the iron ranges and the Copper country will participate in a business men's and singers' excursion to Finland next summer. The pleasures of the tourist trip will be supplemented by commercial arrangements, which will be completed in order to promote a better race understanding between the peoples of Finland and the United States.

The party will sail on the White Star line steamship Olympic on June 4. The Olympic, with a displacement of 46,359 tons, is the largest oil-burning ship in the world. It has recently made the Atlantic trip in five and a half days, a record time for big vessels crossing the ocean. C. A. Okstad, traveling representative of the White Star line in the Northwest, represented the steamship company in arranging for the trip.

An International Business Men's fair at Helsingfors, the capital of Finland, will be one of the great features which the tourists will be privileged to visit. Many are also planning trips throughout the country. A number of singing societies who will be members of the party will co-operate with similar choral organizations in Finland for numerous singing festivals.

Arrangements Made Here.

Sixty business men who are most actively interested in the organization of the tour met at dinner at the St. Louis hotel last night. Among the speakers were O. J. Larson, congressman-elect; F. Tolonen of Hancock, the manager of the tour; Victor H. Gran, Duluth attorney, and J. H. Jasper of Hancock. Among other prominent Finnish residents of the Northwest in attendance were Dr. J. Raihala of Virginia, A. Haaboja and K. W. Kilkka, Ironwood; S. Mustonen, Calumet, and Emil Saastanoinen and Matt Mattson, Hancock.

Practically all of the tourists will be accompanied by their families. It is expected that the party will remain at least several months, returning in time to permit the children to return to schools and colleges.

MOST ATLANTIC TRAVEL WESTBOUND THESE DAYS

That there is little truth in stories published about an extensive exodus of aliens to Europe, is the statement of C. A. Okstad, traveling representative of the White Star line, one of the biggest of the international steamship companies.

"Most of the ocean traffic nowadays is westbound and not eastbound," said Mr. Okstad today. "We have taken as many as 3,000 people to America on one ship, but the traffic to Europe usually reaches about half that total."

MORE JUNIOR HIGHS START IN WISCONSIN

Madison, Wis., Nov. 30.—Junior high schools have been extending since they were given a legal status by the 1919 legislature, according to the biennial report of the superintendent of public instruction. Schools are now in operation at Ripon, Monroe, Waukesha, West Allis, Marshfield, Washburn, Cudahy, Prairie du Sac and Augusta.

In most of these places the junior high school is conducted as a part of a six-year secondary school, which includes two grades in the elementary school. This arrangement is recommended by Thomas W. Gosling, supervisor of high schools, where the total enrollment does not exceed 500 pupils.

The extension of junior high schools to rural districts is urged by the supervisor in his report. He says that the next development should establish high school facilities in sections where it is not yet advisable to establish a four-year high school. Consolidation of schools in the open country is recommended as a possible means of developing junior high schools.

While Madame and Mademoiselle New York squirm through the jams of Christmas shoppers, the fashion world which makes styles is concerning itself about suitable clothes for springtime. Practically every clothing manufacturer is working upon raiment for balmy days. Although they will not give decisive style ultimatums as concerns the coming season, they do lift the cover, so to speak, from the pot-pourri of colors, line and fabric and give tantalizing little whiffs of what the feminine kind may expect.

There is a whiff of color. The color card for fashions announces its spring colors. These colors are very gay and rainbowy. Orange yellow combinations verging from lightest to medium shades are very good. These hues are named honeydew, shrimp and tangerine. Red-orange-yellow combinations continue in favor. There are three shades of these, known as tomato, paprica and pimento. There are some wonderfully soft new dull greens and blues. There are reds ranging from the brilliant jelly to a maroon.

Music Boosts Milk Yield, Women Are Told

Mitchell, S. D., Nov. 30.—When you need an extra quart or two of milk at an evening's milking, take along the old fiddle when you hie to the barnyard or cowshed. For all bossie wants to produce the extra quota is a touch of jazz or even a plaintive tune from a violin.

This is the statement of Mrs. Septimus Smith, given before a meeting of a Mitchell club of women. She said if South Dakota dairymen followed her advice the state's dairy products would be valued far in excess of their present rating of $20,000,000 annually.

"It has been proven by experiment," Mrs. Smith said, "that the net amount of milk obtained at one milking is sometimes increased by as much as two quarts by the influence of music."

But bossie is particular as to the instrument that furnishes the music. The violin produces best results, Mrs. Smith said, and in one experiment the bovine showed marked objection to the strumming of a ukelele.

"The best means of meeting this suggestion," she said, "is to install cheap phonographs with plenty of violin records in the dairy barns."

County Community Councils

Madison, Wis., Nov. 30.—County community councils authorized by the special session of the legislature last June are now commencing to function, and are making extensive plans for the future, it is announced by Mrs. T. C. Thompson of La Crosse, chairman of the community council committee.

Under the provisions of the plan the counties co-operated with the state departments and with the university to promote civic betterment. The resources of these departments are thrown open to the communities who may write for information, or may arrange to have speakers appear to address gatherings.

WEDDINGS AND ENGAGEMENTS

The marriage of Miss Estelle Phillips, daughter of T. E. Phillips, and Albin L. Malmo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Malmo, took place this afternoon, Rev. George Brewer reading the service at the home of the bridegroom's parents, 1601 East Fifth street, at 2 o'clock. The bride was gowned in white georgette and carried a shower bouquet of sunburst roses. She had as her bridesmaid, Miss Doris Johnson and Walter Malmo attended the bridegroom. Miss Lucille Malmo in yellow organdie was the flower girl, and little Billy Phillips, the ringbearer.

Orchid and white was the color note used in the dining room where a wedding breakfast was served after the ceremony to thirty-five guests. Lavender and white pom pom chrysanthemums centered the table. The out-of-town guests were Miss Helen Reed of Davenport, Iowa, and Mr. and Mrs. Ingalls of Kelly Lake, uncle and aunt of the bride. After a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Malmo will be at home in the Ashtabula apartments.

Princess Bride Already Married

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 30.—Capt. Wallace Schutze, war hero and prominent engineer and club man of Milwaukee and Green Bay, who a few months ago married a Russian princess, Nadejda Troubetzkey, said to be the most beautiful Red Cross nurse in Europe, has filed a complaint for divorce at Green Bay, it became known here Monday.

The action is based on the accusation that the princess has a former husband, Victor A. Turin, at one time an officer in the imperial Russian guard, credited with being dead, but who is now believed to be alive and residing in New York state.

The plaintiff recites in his complaint that no divorce decree has ever been awarded the princess for her former marriage.

Side Talks

By Ruth Cameron.

A FAMILIAR QUESTION ANSWERED.

It is a familiar experience to have someone say to me:

"How can you find something different to write about every day?"

So familiar in fact that I keep an answer on hand ready to offer:

"How is it possible that different things should happen every day?"

No Day Just Like Another.

Even in the most commonplace life no day is just like another. One may have to pass through a routine, but even little monotonous duties can arrange themselves in a new pattern from day to day so that no two days are ever just the same.

You have doubtless seen one of those little tin kaleidescopes which we all had given us when we were children. You apply your eye to one end and in the other you see a lot of vari-colored, vari-shaped particles arranged in a gay pattern. You give the little instrument a twist, and behold the particles arrange themselves anew in a different pattern. Then you give it another little twist and a different arrangement comes into being. You can continue this as long as you will.

We Might Like a Larger Pattern.

Now aren't one's days very much like this? A little twist gives you a different pattern of thought and experience. True, the particles are not always as bright colored nor the pattern always as beautiful as you would like it to be, but it is at least different from day to day. You don't think the same thoughts one day that you did the day before. You don't have just the same emotions; you don't feel just the same towards your friends every day. Life gives the kaleidescope a little twist and the pattern changes.

How Many Ways Can Twenty-Six Letters Be Combined.

In a recent magazine was a series of mental tests. One of them consisted in taking a combination of four figures, shutting one's eyes and seeing how many different ways one could arrange that series in a minute. "But there can't be but four ways," said one woman. "At that rate," answered another woman, "you could only make twenty-six words out of the alphabet." Most of us do not realize into what infinite combinations even a few factors can fall. How many words are there in your big dictionary? I do not know exactly but there must be tens of thousands. And all these are made out of just twenty-six different letters. And as many more combinations could probably be made that would not be recognized words.

To return to the main road, life is like this—and since I write, or try to write, about life and the pattern that is made by the reaction of one personality and emotion and experience on another, it is not so strange, is it, that I should not have exhausted all the possible patterns in a few years.

True, I may sometimes have presented the same pattern, but if I have, it has either been done because I thought it worth presenting twice or because I forgot I had presented it before. I hope I don't do the second very often, but surely, if I who write, forget, you who read, must have also forgotten. Am I not right?

Efficient Housekeeping

By Laura A. Kirkman.

ANSWERED LETTERS.

Mrs. W. W.: "My asparagus fern has become scaly between the thorns on the stems. What shall I do for it?"

Answer: You should give the stems a soap-and-water bath. Use ordinary laundry soap mixed quite strongly with water. If this is applied the scales will soon disappear.

Bride: "My husband and I are very fond of cornmeal mush as a supper dish, but I cannot seem to make it without lumps. Is there any way to avoid these? I boil the water and then stir in the cornmeal; is this the way to make it?"

Answer: You will not be troubled by lumps if you mix the cornmeal with a little cold water before adding it to the boiling water.

Miss L. L. S.: "Kindly tell me through your column how to curtain casement windows. I expect to furnish a bungalow soon which has casement windows in the living room and don't know whether to put the shades on each individual window or not, or what to do about side draperies."

Answer: Shades are seldom put on casement windows. Usually some opaque material is used, as draw-curtains on a rod on each individual "door" of the windows, and this heavy material is drawn at night, as one would use a shade. If I were you I would have buff-color silk draw-curtains on rods on each half of a window and have these curtains lined with green. Then I would have a valance surrounding the top and sides of the outside "trim" of the window—not touching the little "doors" that open. The color of the valance will, of course, depend upon the color scheme of the room.

Young Housekeeper: "Please give me a banana filling for a two-layer white cake."

Answer: The following is a delicious banana filling: Mash two bananas and add to them two tablespoons of sugar, a few grains of salt and one tablespoon cornstarch. Put over fire and stir until hot and thick (about one minute after it begins to boil up), then take from range and add one-half teaspoon lemon extract or one tablespoon lemon juice. Spread between the layers while hot and frost the cake with a plain boiled icing.

Saleswoman: "I have just taken a position as traveling saleswoman, but shall not go on the road for a couple of months. I shall stop at the best hotels in the large cities and would like to know if it is possible to register in my room rather than in the hotel office, as I shrink from the idea of walking up to the desk and registering there. I would also like to know if it will be necessary to give my street address in registering. I shall travel all over the United States. I have never traveled before."

Answer: You will soon get over your reluctance to walk up to a hotel desk and register. Women do it every day. Some hotels keep a second register small enough to be sent to a room for the accommodation of invalid and elderly persons. In some states it is required that a street address be given, a special column being ruled off in the register for this information. On Friday of this week I will publish an article, requested by another reader, on "When the Home Woman Goes to a Hotel." This may interest you also.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman in care of the "Efficient Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be inclosed with the question.—The Editor.

"TINKER BOB" STORIES

By CARLYSLE H. HOLCOMB

BILLY SEES THE KING.

It was on the further side of the swamp and behind a clump of grass. A little pink nose sniffed the air, and then a pair of eyes looked across the marsh to see if anyone was in sight. There was someone in sight. But that someone was not able to see this little creature because of his close resemblance to the grass and weeds in which he lived. He watched silently as any creature could, for he knew that this someone was coming toward him, and if it was the person this little creature thought it was, he would run back into a tunnel under the grass and wait until the danger was over.

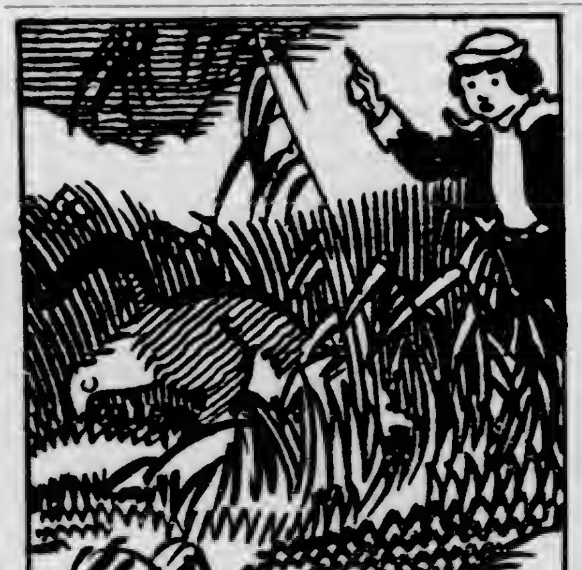
He watched from his hiding place. No one could see him, for he was very careful about that—that is, no one of the forest creatures, nor anyone who might be hunting in the forest. The Hunter thought himself wise enough to catch sight of this little fellow, but he could walk right by and never know that such a creature was about!

There was one in the forest who was wiser than the Hunter or any of his friends, and who could see such creatures a great way off! This troubled the little fellow, for he could not see very far away. Such knowledge bothers all such creatures who travel a great deal at night. They can see in the dark and daylight also, but not anything far distant.

If this forest dweller knew for sure that it was the Hunter coming toward him, he could feel safe, for the Hunter would walk by with his gun on his shoulder and never see him in the clump of grass.

Suddenly, however, the one whom this fellow of the forest was watching stopped dead still. He only wished he could see far enough to tell who it was, but he couldn't. Yet he thought if he was out of the grass a little farther he might see better. At least he ventured to take a few steps forward which lifted him higher. Even this did not afford him the opportunity of seeing the person who was standing so still. He could get the outline, but could not tell which way he was looking.

Then the thing happened that this little forest creature did not expect. A voice called out: "I see you, come on out here, I want to tell you something!" The little pink nose was silent for a moment thinking the call was for someone else. Then the voice sounded again. "I'm talking to you, Billy Mink, over there in the clump of grass." This time the forest dweller, who was anxious to see who the visitor might be, knew that whoever it was they were talking to him. Being there was only one person in all the world who talked so he could understand. Billy knew it must be Tinker Bob, king of the forest. And Billy Mink went right over to see him, for the king had something very important to say.



"I'm talking to you, Billy Mink."

AT THE THEATERS

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

ORPHEUM—Few musicians have reached the height attained by Elsa Ruegger, the Belgian 'cellist. She is generally considered the world's greatest virtuoso and is included in the very small circle of eminent musicians. For the past few years, Miss Ruegger has devoted all of her time to vaudeville. Until then, however, she was an internationally famed concert artist. Her artistic career has been a succession of triumphs. Both as a 'cellist and a member of various symphonies, Miss Ruegger has achieved unqualified success and now probably nine out of every ten musical critics would name her first if called upon to recount the greatest contemporary 'cellists. Miss Ruegger is assisted by Edmund Lichtenstein, the celebrated conductor and Valerie Ruegger an eminent pianist.

NEW GRAND—Jazz, real jazz from way down in New Orleans, and a "shimmy dance," that is—well don't think you know all about the shimmy either until you have seen and heard Nellie de Onsonne, the fascinating little chanteuse, and her Jazzland Five at the New Grand for the first half of the week. There have been few acts on tour this season that can touch the offering, and many patrons are insistent that it is in a class by itself. It has pep, melody of the tuneful variety and girls who surely impress. Miss de Onsonne has "a way of her own" with a personality which her coal black hair, her flashing dark eyes and slender figure just fit. "Kids" from 6 to 60 will find the entire performance real entertainment. For the little folks Selina's circus is one of the special offerings with monkeys, dogs and ponies, and Wray's Manikins and Marionette Hippodrome is making a hit with both young and old. The other acts are every one of the top-notch variety of type.

PHOTOPLAYS

STRAND—Mae Murray and David Powell in "The Right to Love."
ZELDA—Louise Glaum in "Love Madness."

NEW GARRICK—Viola Dana as the shrewd daughter of a master crook who dies, leaving her to maintain the family "reputation," makes a charming adventuress in "Blackmail," one of the features of the great double bill at the New Garrick for the first half of the week. The more so as in the end love is triumphant over the criminal teachings of the parent, and the way it all comes about is so interesting, so unexpected and so utterly astounding, as well as immeasurably appealing that many are declaring this the best picture in which they have seen this piquant favorite. Wyndham Standing, Florence Turner, Lydia Knott and many others are in the supporting cast. Buster Keaton is increasing his already big following by his work in "Convict 13," his second big comedy, built on funnier lines than his first, "One Week."

STRAND—Beauty, splendor, magnificence—those are the marks by which you may know a George Fitzmaurice production. "The Right to Love," the feature attraction now playing at the Strand theater, is an artistic delight. Opening with an allegorical prelude that has been staged with all the splendor that its mythical parentage would permit, Director Fitzmaurice has swung into the real dramatic meat of his subject with every element working at high pitch of perfection. Suffice to say "The Right to Love" is real entertainment. The cast is excellent. Mae Murray and David Powell do their usual good work as the featured players, Miss Murray taking credit as the wife and mother, Lady Falkland. David Powell has the role of Col. Richard Loring, the hero of the play. The youngster, Lawrence Johnston, is destined for bigger work in the silent drama. A tingling romance of all that human hearts experience, beating with adventure, suffused with the subtle lure of Turkish palace and perfumed boudoir. Every scene a thrill or a feast of loveliness.

ZELDA—The new Louise Glaum picture, "Love Madness," now showing at the Zelda, is the greatest success of her artistic career. In the course of the picture Miss Glaum wears many of the remarkable dress creations for which she is noted, which she herself designed expressly for this production. A fascinating love story runs its course throughout and the production proclaims the mastery stage-craft of Mr. Reid, the producer, as well as Miss Glaum's superb art.

NEW LYRIC—After playing to capacity business every day since the opening, "Everybody's Sweetheart," Olive Thomas' last picture, will close its run at the New Lyric this evening. Starting tomorrow Jack Pickford, who was Olive Thomas' husband, will be seen in his remarkable picture, "The Man Who Had Everything." It is a mixture of just the proper amount of humor, pathos, thrills, wonderful settings and the best screen talent obtainable. In the supporting company are such stars as Lionel Belmore; Shannon Day "the baby vampire," the Ziegfeld Midnight Frolics girl engaged especially for the production, and Priscilla Bonner. The story is strikingly original one, telling what happens to a rich young man when his father starts out to cure him of worldliness by giving him everything. The added attractions with the program closing tonight include "You'll Be S'prised," a Chester comedy, and a whistling solo by Miss Geraldine La Valliere.

Film Director Fox Here.

F. D. Fox, who will direct the making of the photoplay to be produced from the winning scenario of The Herald-New Garrick scenario contest, arrived in Duluth today and is arranging to meet with the judges named for the selection of a scenario. Persons who wish to take part in the play may forward their names to The Scenario Editor of The Herald. Nearly 100 Duluthians have already forwarded their names, addresses and telephone numbers which shows that the work is to be of wide interest. The judges will now hold a meeting and decide upon the best scenario as soon as possible. Persons who have sent in their names will be called as soon as Mr. Fox can find time to meet them.

JUDGE CHANGES MIND.

Decides to Go to La Crosse in Response to Grand Jury Summons.

Hurley, Wis., Nov. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Controversy over the summons issued for Judge Griff Thomas of Hurley to appear before the grand jury in La Crosse ended when the Hurley judge decided to leave today with Sheriff Mike White to appear before the jury. When Judge Thomas was summoned, he announced he would not attend because of pressing business here and also because all of the evidence he was ordered to take with him was destroyed. His decision to go ends what promised to become a case of contempt of court.

MUCH DONE FOR SOLDIERS

RedCross Northern Division Handles 40,000 Cases; Roll Call On.

Forty thousand soldier cases have been handled by the Northern division of the American Red Cross during the last two years—18,000 of them in Minnesota.

This runs a statement made yesterday by the officers of the Red Cross in Minnesota in connection with the last week of the annual roll call of the Duluth chapter.

This is the last week that memberships can be renewed and every one who held a membership last year and has not renewed it is being urged to attend to the matter at once. A special committee of the roll call organization is checking over the lists at roll call headquarters, 507 Alworth building for the purpose of determining how many of last year's members have failed to renew. A special appeal will be made to them.

Much More to Do.

The work of attending to the needs of the soldiers in the World war has not been finished by the Red Cross and it may be several years before it is finished, according to the statement from Northern division headquarters. There are thousands of cases in Minnesota—and a number of them in the jurisdiction of the Duluth chapter—that will be looked after by the Red Cross until the need for relief or advice is past. Many of the men who were wounded are being cared for in connection with reconstruction work and vocational training. Matters relating to back pay, bonuses, reinstatement of insurance, etc., are also being cared for by the Red Cross.

Chairman W. A. McGonagle of the Duluth chapter roll call organization of the Duluth chapter, is making a special call this week for the renewal of memberships by all those who were connected with the organization at the time of the forest fire two years ago. Mr. McGonagle states that these people are probably more fully acquainted with what the Red Cross has done and is prepared to do in an emergency than any others and that therefore they should appreciate the value of keeping the Duluth chapter prepared to meet the emergency.

For the remainder of the week the stations for the reception of memberships will be kept in operation at the department stores, hotels, clubs, at the temporary headquarters in the Lonsdale building, ground floor, and in the office of J. W. Lyder, Northern National bank.

BIG DEAL MADE IN MICHIGAN TIMBER

Ontonagon, Mich., Nov. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Porterfield-Ellis company of Plato, Ontonagon county, recently sold for the Von Platen Fox Lumber company of Iron Mountain, 8,610.17 acres of timber land, all of which is tributary to their railroad, to the J. W. Wells Lumber company of Menominee. Porterfield-Ellis company has entered into a contract with the J. W. Wells company whereby they will log this timber and participate in the profits. This is the second large group of timber land that the Porterfield-Ellis company has handled this year. About 6,000 acres were transferred to the Northern Paper mills last year.

It is expected that it will take about eight years to remove this last tract and market it. John W. Porterfield of Oconto, Wis., will have charge of the operating of the railroad and logging outfit at Plato during the time of this contract. Porterfield-Ellis company usually has work for experienced woodsmen and has an office with D. W. Britton Cooperage company at Green Bay, Wis.

Joseph De Hut of Oconto is walking boss at Plato and Bert Mahon is bookkeeper and postmaster. Britton spur is the railroad station on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway and the Copper Range Limited stops at the camp.

TEACHER SHORTAGE IN U. S. IS CRITICAL

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 30.—To point his illustration that the teacher shortage in the United States is critical, P. P. Claxton, United States commissioner of education, today declared that if all the graduates of the normal schools of the United States were alive and teaching there would still be a shortage of 110,000 teachers.

In an arraignment of the "injustices perpetrated on the school child of the rural districts and the pathetically inadequate pay given the rural teacher," Mr. Claxton quoted statistics which laid open the "menace of the coming generation."

Confining the majority of his figures to Minnesota, Iowa, North and South Dakota, he hastily sketched the present situation.

"The teacher vacancies reported in Minnesota this year total 437," he said, "and in North Dakota there are 244.

"The average pay of the rural and urban teachers is $750 a year. In some states this is below $400 a year. The Western Union messenger averages $900 a year; a stenographer, $1,200 to $1,500 a year; a Pullman porter, $1,500 a year, and a rural mail carrier, about $1,800 a year.

"It is no wonder that we are not able to get good teachers under these conditions of pay. Yet it is all a question of education of the people and the legislators. One good sign of increasing attention is the fact that nearly every time a school question for the betterment of conditions is put to the people by vote it carries with a big majority."

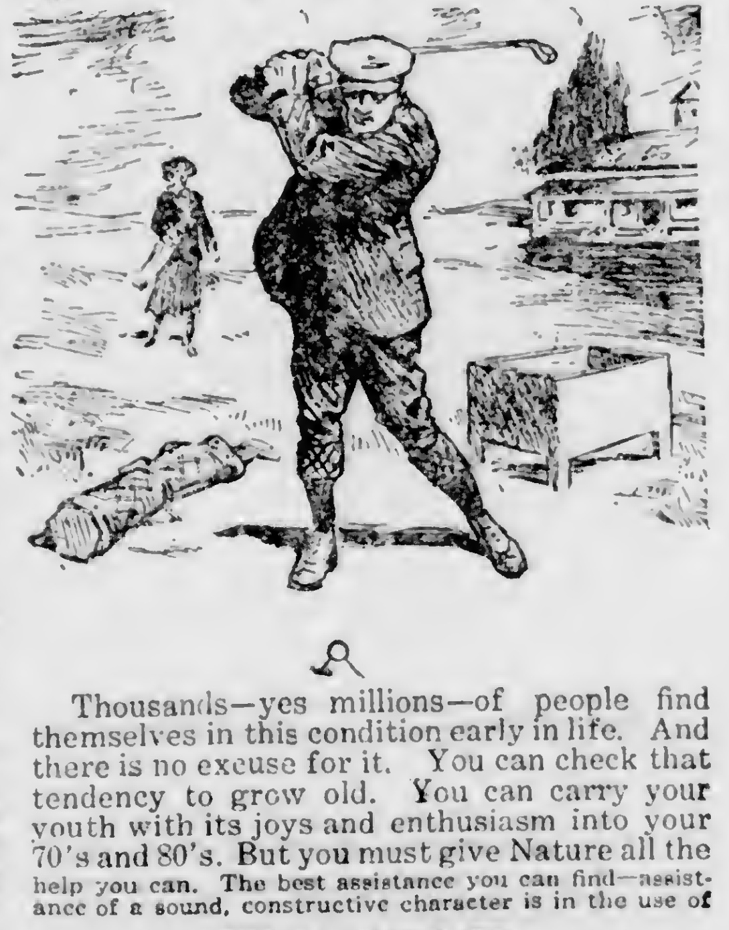
Be Young In Body, Mind and Looks Despite Your Years

How often you have wished that you could indulge in the strenuous exercise of out door sports with the vigor and enthusiasm of youth! But the end of the week finds you all in—you are tired, listless and lack the energy to go out for a vigorous walk or a round of the links—or any other exercise that requires much physical exertion. Many a man, even in his middle forties, has a vague feeling that he is "getting old"—and right at a time when he should be at his very best physically.

And he is growing old, not in the sense that the years are pressing heavily upon him—but in the sense that his vital forces are wasting away faster than Nature replaces the worn out tissues.



Thousands—yes millions—of people find themselves in this condition early in life. And there is no excuse for it. You can check that tendency to grow old. You can carry your youth with its joys and enthusiasm into your 70's and 80's. But you must give Nature all the help you can. The best assistance you can find—assistance of a sound, constructive character is in the use of JOHN H. BERNS of Cincinnati, Ohio, who says his wonderful restoration to health since taking Tanlac has astonished all his friends, has gained twenty pounds.

"My friends are all astonished over my wonderful restoration to health since taking Tanlac," said John H. Berns, of [illegible] East Front St., Cincinnati, Ohio, recently.

"I don't know what it is, but there is something about Tanlac that certainly does the work," he said, "and I firmly believe if it hadn't been for this medicine I wouldn't be here now. It completely restored my health and I have gained twenty pounds besides. I have a splendid appetite now, and can eat anything I want without being troubled in the least afterwards.

"Before taking Tanlac my health was dreadfully rundown. My main trouble was indigestion, and I suffered misery night and day. I never seemed hungry and the little I ate upset my stomach. I was nervous and couldn't get a good night's sleep. I lost thirty-four pounds and was going down hill rapidly. It seemed like the more medicine I took the worse I got.

"But since taking Tanlac I am like a brand-new man. I sleep like a farm hand all night and feel just fine all day. In fact, I'm a perfectly well man once more. Tanlac certainly beats anything I ever saw in my life."

any influence from the White House, the tariff bill that would be drawn would be strongly protectionist. Even Warren Harding will have his troubles keeping the advocates of a high tariff from going to extremes, so the prospects of a compromise bill are brighter under the next Republican administration than in the short session of congress about to begin.

Practically the same situation exists with regard to taxes. Efforts will surely be made to get relief from tax burdens and it will be more difficult for the Republicans to ignore the tax question than the tariff. It is fully expected, for instance, that the president will in his message take occasion to approve the suggestions for a reduction of taxation to be made by Secretary Houston in his annual report of the treasury department. If those suggestions meet with popular approval, it is thought the Republican majority will be compelled at least to begin hearings and make a start on the question, lest it too be long delayed or swallowed up in the mass of questions sure to be coming up in the extra session under the Harding administration.

Pressure Is Growing.

Some definition of policy will be required from the Republican leaders as soon as the session opens next week, for the pressure from all parts of the country seems to be growing for some kind of an emergency resolution to take care of the December payments of income taxes. The suggestion has been made that instead of adopting a policy which would enable the treasury department to exercise discretion as to the individual cases of firms absolutely needing a postponement, a resolution be adopted postponing the payment of all December taxes to February or March and rearranging the time of payment of 1921 taxes. The Republicans would prefer to tackle the whole tax question afresh in the extra session of congress, but they may be compelled to permit the passage of an emergency resolution. The treasury department is opposed to the idea, but it is doubtful whether President Wilson would feel justified in exercising a veto if congress took full responsibility for the postponement and the consequent effect upon the government's resources.

tions for club and other public activities. If successful in our efforts, it will not be necessary for extra solicitations as all our activities will be taken care of annually, thus enabling our committees to do their work without the added burden of raising their own funds.

"It is our plan to provide a budget and I can assure the ways and means committee that such sustaining memberships will only be used for civic and commerce work and its necessary overhead, but not one cent for organization affairs, club entertainments, etc., and you of the finance audit committee, I know, will assist in carrying out this agreement. All budgets will be carefully considered by the finance committee before being submitted to the board of directors for action and approval.

Asks Co-operation.

"Now, gentlemen, may I ask your co-operation in our efforts to provide these funds for work, which only this club can do for the betterment and advancement of Duluth, and we then can provide our members with such quarters and entertainments to which they are well entitled.

"The committees in other divisions have set regular meeting days. Will you do the same, although I know that some of you will have to get together more than once a month.

"Let me state to you of the ways and means that cities of Duluth's size raise and wisely spend $75,000 to $100,000 annually for civic and commerce activities. Our present sustaining membership amounts to about $25,000; our club spent about $30,000 and about $10,000 more was raised by club committees and others for such work as the club should do and provide for, so if we can procure again the $10,000 raised outside last year we would have more than $35,000 for civic and commerce activities, and it does seem that the plan of Director Harper should enable us to raise enough more to provide a convention bureau with its necessary publicity matter which we need.

"We do not ask the membership committee to make a drive for new members. During the past few years we have had a steady, healthy growth, but there are always some who would be glad to become members and who only need an invitation, so will you see that they are not disappointed, for all are welcome.

"Before closing I want to say that we have a most efficient force, and that our club's affairs have been most capably handled by Secretary Prince, and it gives me the greatest pleasure to work with him. In Duluth we have this one organization that has accomplished much in the past and I hope this year will be another of good results.

"It has been very gratifying to see the co-operation in the plans of your officers and directors, and I know that all desire to be of service to our Commercial club and city."

he had not forgotten it, and would pay it. I gave no thought as to what Mr. Sands' relationship was to the principal, but looked upon him as the vice president of a large bank, and a man who was justly indebted to me. I, therefore, told him that I would be glad to have him pay what he owed me, but that it could in no way be connected with fees or commissions involving government work—and this was clearly understood. Upon my request he paid me subsequently the $600 as follows: Feb. 18, 1918, $300; June 26, 1918, $200, and Aug. 5, 1918, $100. I have no knowledge of where this money paid me came from.

Made Loan of $300.

"Mr. Sands also made me a loan of $300 on May 21, 1918, for which I gave him my note. This was repaid by me to him July 14, 1919, with interest, at which time Mr. Sands said he was unable to find my note. However, I have my canceled check bearing his indorsement. This represents every cent Mr. Sands has paid me since Dec. 31, 1917.

"Of the $40,000 which, Mr. Sands says, was paid for procuring contracts, I never heard until it was mentioned in anonymous letters coupled with threats that unless something was done to stop the proceedings of the department of justice against Mr. Sands, my name would be brought into it. Upon the receipt of these letters I personally reported the matter to the department of justice, requesting that an investigation be made of my transactions with Mr. Sands.

Never Assisted Any Company.

"I feel that it is unnecessary for me to say that I never, by word or deed, tried in any way to assist the Providence Engineering corporation or any other company to procure a contract.

"Regarding the testimony given before the committee by Benjamin Fuller, who has been indicted for forging and sentenced to the penitentiary for four years, in which he stated that Mr. Sands gave me a check in his presence, I beg to say that that statement is absolutely and unqualifiedly false. I, therefore, most urgently request the committee to require Mr. Sands to procure all of his checks made to me since Jan. 1, 1918."

Mr. Bolling said the committee would find available an anonymous letter addressed to W. G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, and all other records in connection with the affair.

Ten Per Cent Graft.

Testimony that 10 per cent of the $7,000,000 shipping board repair bills in the South Atlantic district was "graft," was given yesterday to the committee. The allegation was made by Charles Benzahf, a traveling auditor of the board. It was contained in a letter written by the witness to the general comptroller of the board last July, read by Chairman Walsh.

Means by which the alleged "graft" was made possible, the witness testified, included lack of inspection, failure to check repair work, overcharges for materials and labor and unnecessary repair. A repair engineer, he said, had approved repair bills for "thousands of dollars," without looking at the work. He declared inspectors had been told "costs" were none of their business, and that there was a spirit of make, rather than cut down, repair work.

Check Up on Hamburg.

Banzahf asserted he had been instructed to check up bills for the reconditioning of the former German liner Hamburg, now the New Rochelle. This ship was sold on a charter-purchase contract to the Baltic Steamship corporation. The sale price, he understood, was approximately $985,000 and the shipping board had advanced for its reconditioning about $400,000. The bill of repairs, he added, was about $1,500,000 which an audit of accounts reduced approximately $337,000. The discrepancy between the sale price and the cost of reconditioning, he said, he could not explain without the contract of sale.

The contract for the reconditioning, he said, was awarded to the Morgan Engineering company of Jersey City. He also testified the steamer Mercury, formerly the Barboes, was taken to the same yard for reconditioning, but after $175,000 had been expended, work was stopped because of lack of funds.

Services Not Rendered.

Up to six or seven months ago, he continued, repair work in New York yards showed many irregularities, including charging of hundreds of hours that were not rendered, excesses of class labor, excess in materials and other abuses.

Wooden ship construction contracts promulgated by the Emergency Fleet corporation in its early days were gone into by Eads Johnson, who was district officer of the fleet. He condemned the wooden ship idea and said he resigned because he could not conform to it. In describing an experience with a Southern contractor who wanted to build such ships, Johnson said the idea seemed to be "build one million wooden ships that would take one million German torpedoes to sink."

Johnson said when the cost-plus plan of building wooden ships was changed to a "lump sum" contract, applications for contracts which had been as high as 155 a week took a decided slump.

FIRE-PROOF BOOTHS FOR FILM MACHINES IN SCHOOLS

Fireproof booths for moving picture machines will have to be installed in the Duluth schools before any more moving pictures may be shown, according to A. C. Ringsred.

The state fire marshal has notified the board of education that booths now being used do not comply with regulations. In some of the schools the machines have been used without any booths at all.

The building and grounds committee yesterday recommended that booths be installed at schools where they are needed.

THIRD OF MURDER TRIO UNDER ARREST

years old and the last of the trio wanted for the Jones murder to be apprehended.

Swan J. Luikkonen, aged 18, and John Kujala, aged 32, the other two men sought in the Jones case, were arrested during the first week in November, and one of them, Luikkonen, confessed at the time, implicating the other two.

Inkinen, however, is also wanted for another murder, that of Axel Nygaard in Aitkin county on May 10 last. Nygaard and his wife lived on a farm near East Lake. Inkinen, Mrs. Nygaard's lover, came there and shortly afterwards Nygaard disappeared. Confessions later made by Mrs. Nygaard to the Aitkin county authorities implicated Inkinen as the murderer of her husband. The body had been hidden near a barn on the Nygaard farm.

Shielded Inkinen.

Mrs. Nygaard had successfully shielded Inkinen up to the time that the grand jury met in October, when she broke down and told her story. She had accounted for Nygaard's disappearance by reassuring neighbors that he had gone to Canada. Later she had added that she heard that Nygaard had drowned there. Following her confession detectives unearthed the corpse on the Nygaard farm.

Inkinen and Mrs. Nygaard lived together as man and wife for several weeks after the killing of Nygaard, according to the story which Mrs. Nygaard has told to the authorities at Aitkin. They spent five weeks together in Duluth. When the authorities picked up Inkinen's trail here, he left the city and Mrs. Nygaard returned to the home of her father in Aitkin county.

Brutal Murder of Jones.

The killing of Jones was another brutal murder. The Duluth taxi driver was asked by three men to drive them from Duluth to Cloquet on the afternoon of June 4. Three weeks later his body was discovered by the roadside on the Thomson road about one mile and a half over the Carlton-St. Louis county line. The car, all blood-stained, was found some time later in a garage at Tamarack.

Whether Inkinen will be tried for the Nygaard murder before the Jones killing has not been determined. It is believed that he is under indictment in Aitkin county for the murder of Nygaard and it is possible that he will be required to answer to that charge first.

Authorities are visiting the scene of the Jones' murder this afternoon with the view of fixing the exact location of the spot where Jones was shot with reference to the St. Louis-Carlton county line and determine which county will have jurisdiction in the trial of the Jones murder cases.

Swan J. Luikkonen, who has made a complete confession of his part in the Jones killing, will accompany Sheriff Frank L. Magie, Mason M. Forbes, first assistant county attorney; Deputy Sheriff John C. Brown, and County Surveyor Roy J. Rich to the spot where Luikkonen claims that Jones was shot.

This is believed to be far enough across the county line in Carlton county to be without jurisdiction of the St. Louis county courts. According to Mr. Forbes this county may have jurisdiction of the case if Jones was shot in St. Louis county or within a distance of 100 rods after passing the county line, regardless of where he died. The matter will be definitely determined this afternoon.

That Sore Throat Needs Begy's Mustarine

When your throat is sore, it's a sure sign you need Begy's Mustarine.

That is, if you want to get rid of it in the quickest possible time.

It's really marvelous how this real yellow mustard improvement on the old-fashioned mustard plaster will end sore throat, tonsilitis, chest colds, pleurisy and bronchitis.

It's no exaggeration to say that it often conquers them over night, and it's just as speedy a remedy for neuralgia, lumbago, stiff neck, aching feet, sore muscles and swollen joints.

Rub it on freely. It cannot blister, but it surely will ease the pains of rheumatism and gout, and you won't have to wait till tomorrow for relief. You'll get it today—often in an hour.

30 or 60 cents buys a yellow box full of Begy's Mustarine and one small box will do the work of 50 blistering mustard plasters.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

ELEVATOR INSPECTION.

Badger Industrial Commission to Learn Whether Law Is Observed.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 30.—Recent investigation by the industrial commission revealed that insurance companies have reported relatively few violations of the state elevator code, although later inspections have found numerous faults, it was declared today by officials of the commission.

Directions have been issued by the commission that inspection will be made of elevators insured by the companies and that where it is found that the elevators are not up to standard, the policy holders will be charged with the expense of the investigation.

An investigation made by the commission of ninety-three elevators previously inspected by insurance companies where forty-eight violations were reported, brought out 525 violations on these same machines. The company, it was stated had reported only 9 per cent of the existing violations.

Elevators, it is said constitute one of the most dangerous classes of machinery in the state. A large percentage of the accidents caused by them are death cases or serious permanent disabilities.

Named Chief Law Examiner.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 30.—Judge A. H. Long of Prairie du Chien was yesterday appointed chief law examiner for the state railroad commission. Judge Long, who is one of the best known figures in Southwestern Wisconsin, will assume his duties next Monday, taking the place of Ray Clarke, who resigned recently to become an examiner for the interstate commerce commission at Washington.

Zeigler's Trial Starts.

Stillwater, Minn., Nov. 30.—Trial of Chris Zeigler, former national treasurer of the Sons of Herman, on a charge of embezzling $5,000 of the organization's funds, began in district court here yesterday. A jury was obtained and taking of testimony began.

SIX BADGER GUARDSMEN CANDIDATES FOR POINT

Madison, Wis., Nov. 30.—Six Wisconsin National Guardsmen will be chosen to start training at West Point when the course opens July 1, according to Lieut.-Col. Byron Beveridge of the adjutant general's office. Six applications for appointment had been received by the adjutant general when the date for filing expired Friday.

While under the law these six men are required to take a competitive examination before being assigned to the school, there is but small opportunity for competition, inasmuch as there will be no one to compete with, it was announced. The following men will take the civil service examination, and then, in all probability, will be assigned to West Point, Mr. Beveridge said:

Sergeant Donald E. Carleton, Troop A, First cavalry, Milwaukee; Sergeant Clarence E. Cleasby, Troop L, First cavalry, Eau Claire; Private, First Class, George J. Conklin, Battery B, Second field artillery, La Crosse; Private, First Class, Stanley J. Horn, Company B, First supply train, Abbotsford; Wagoner Everett Hanson, First separate supply company, Oshkosh; Private Melvin Tufts, Twenty-seventh separate company, Sheboygan.

All of these men are high school graduates, except one who is in his junior year, it was said. Each one has been recommended for the training, and has signified his desire to take up the course at West Point.

Applications are already coming in for the examinations that will be held next year. These, it is said, may be filed with the adjutant general at any time.

GOPHER JONATHANS ARE PRIZE WINNERS

St. Paul, Min., Nov. 30.—Horticulturists at university farm rejoiced when word came that Minnesota grown Jonathan apples had won all of the first and second prizes as well as the sweepstakes for that variety of apples shown at the mid-west horticultural exposition held at Council Bluffs, Iowa.

The Jonathans were grown in the orchard of D. C. Webster of La Crescent, Minn., and were in competition at Council Bluffs with Jonathans of Missouri, Arkansas and Southern Iowa. Growers from those three states thought they had a walkaway until the Minnesota man opened his barrels and boxes.

Summarized, Mr. Webster's winnings on various apple varieties were five big sweepstakes, nineteen firsts, three seconds and two thirds. He returned to Minnesota with $134 in cash premiums and five loving cups. In his orchard at La Crescent he has more than 200 Jonathan trees.

The Minnesota potato exhibitors, all from the counties of Itasca and St. Louis carried off 66 per cent of the prize money at the Council Bluffs exposition.

CINCINNATI IS ALL STIRRED UP

Herrmann's Desire to Reorganize "Reds" Meets With Opposition.

New York, Nov. 30.—Cincinnati has another progressive and "standpat" fight on her queenly hands and it's all over the avowed intention of Garry Herrmann to dismember, tear up, disjoint or rend apart the world's champion Reds of 1919.

A few of the citizenry are behind Herrmann apparently, but the big majority are "standpatters" despite the showing of the team in 1920.

"It wasn't the players' fault the Reds blew last summer so much as it was the management's," said a prominent Cincinnati attorney and a dyed-in-the-wool Red fan, yesterday. "Herrmann and Moran gave them too much leeway. They let some bad actors on the club get out of hand in the training camp at Miami, and that started a whole train of misfortune.

"In the first place, Miami should not have been selected as a training spot at all. It's too convivial a place. Booze is too easily come by, for Miami is right near the Bahamas and the rum runners bring in big quantities and it's cheap. The boys got it, and they were wined and dined as champions besides.

"Then during the season Moran let them do too much umpire baiting. He should have laughed at their alibis and made them play ball. They were the best team in the league, even playing indifferent, careless baseball till the last month, and then, when he should have had them in shape for a big drive such as Brooklyn put on, they weren't there. The release of Sallee and the fining of Ruether were only alibis for the management. If Moran and Herrmann had done a little of it early in the spring the result would have been different.

"Most of us out home think the Reds can be made the best team in 1921 if properly handled, and we want to stand pat and try again."

Will Not Go to Cubs.

Herrmann has denied that Groh, Neale, Kopf and Ruether are to go to Chicago, in exchange for Alexander, Hollocher and some unnamed Cubs, but he also said that deals were on with other clubs, but that nothing would be announced till he saw his manager, Pat Moran, at the annual meeting of the National league. If the four Reds mentioned are traded the old Moran machine will need a lot of tinkering.

Allan Russell, the Red Sox pitcher who suffered a paralytic stroke after a hot game with the Yankees at the Polo grounds last spring, has entirely recovered, friends in Baltimore say, and will endeavor to "come back" next spring. Russell pitched wonderful ball for seven innings in the game referred to, holding the Yanks runless and striking out Ruth a couple of times, but a fly that should have been caught by his outfielders upset him and he was taken out of the box. He went home for a day's rest and the loss of the game affected him so that that night he was stricken. Toward the end of the season he recovered his health but the Boston club wouldn't allow him to play. The doctors now say there's no reason why he shouldn't be as good as ever.

Discarded Sox After Money.

The Chicago dispatches referring to the demand of the seven indicted White Sox players for a share in last year's third place money lay some stress on the fact that the men "have not been convicted," leaving the inference that if they should escape the law's punishment by some technicality they would be free to return to baseball. Nothing of the kind should be allowed to happen. Chase, Magee, Zimmerman and Joe Gedeon haven't been convicted, but they will never be allowed in the game again. The five Coast league players haven't been convicted, either. If any of the indicted seven is allowed to wriggle back to baseball, owners will deserve to lose every last shred of the confidence of the public.

Chaney Defeats Belmont.

Philadelphia, Nov. 30.—Andy "Young" Chaney of Baltimore defeated Gene Delmont of Memphis in a ten-round bout here last night.

BIG FIGHT MAY GO TO ENGLAND

Dempsey-Carpentier Scrap Fails to Get Located on This Side.

New York, Nov. 30.—In the event that no suitable place can be found in this country to hold the forthcoming heavyweight boxing championship bout between Jack Dempsey, world's champion, and Georges Carpentier, European titleholder, the contest may be staged in England, it was reported in generally well-informed circles here today.

The promoters are known to have held a number of conferences on the choice of a battleground within the past few days, and it was intimated today that an official announcement may be made within a short time.

Neither Tex Rickard, one of the trio of promoters, nor Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager, would admit that negotiations had been started to hold the contest abroad, but Kearns said Dempsey's formerly expressed antipathy to going outside the United States had been virtually overcome.

The proposition to shift the fight abroad was said to have been prompted by coldness exhibited by members of the state boxing commission toward holding it in this state. It was admitted that Charles B. Cochran, the English promoter, is tentatively negotiating for a suitable site near London in case plans to hold it in this country are not consummated.

HEYDLER TO ASSIST BASEBALL CLEANUP

New York, Nov. 30.—John A. Heydler, president of the National league, will aid in efforts of Judge Landis, new head of organized baseball, to clear the game of dishonest players, he announced yesterday.

Mr. Heydler said the names of many players had been associated with gossip since the scandal of the 1919 world's series had been uncovered. He has made a list of the names, many of whom are National league players, as well as everyone he could connect with gossip.

"I intend to present them," he added, "as well as certain investigations I have made, to Judge Landis. I am sure the American league and all the minor leagues will pursue a like course."

DUNDEE-JACKSON BOUT HELD DRAW

New York, Nov. 30.—Johnny Dundee and Willie Jackson, New York lightweights, fought fifteen rounds to a draw here last night. The judges disagreed and the referee made the decision.

Jackson, who weighed 132 pounds, four more than his opponent, forced the pace most of the contest, and administered much punishment. Dundee's customary spectacular jumping tactics featured his work. Many newspaper men were of the opinion that Jackson had earned the honors, but at the end of the bout only one of the judges picked him, while the other called it a draw.

DEMPSEY SPARRING PARTNER TO BANTAM

New York, Nov. 30.—Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight boxing champion, is acting as sparring partner to Jack Sharkey, local bantamweight, in preparation for the latter's bout here next Thursday with Joe Lynch.

Dempsey has also begun daily workouts for his bout with Bill Brennan here on Dec. 14.

Decision on Points.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 30.—Bud Christiano of Chicago was awarded a decision on points over Otto Wallace of Milwaukee, according to the consensus of opinion by experts at the ringside here last night, in a ten-round fight.

NOTRE DAME HAD CHAMPION TEAM

That Notre Dame university had the greatest football team in the West this season and a machine that could have vanquished Ohio State, winner of the Big Ten conference championship, is the opinion of Elmer McDevitt, Duluth attorney, who has just returned to his local law practice after spending the fall season at Evanston, Ill., where he was head coach of the Northwestern university eleven. McDevitt, who is a native of Duluth, was an all-around star athlete at Duluth Central high years ago, later attending Yale, where he proved to be one of the greatest linemen Old Eli ever had.

"There were some mighty football elevens in the West this season and some of the greatest material I have ever seen," said he this morning. "Indiana university had the best material for a football eleven that I have come across since 1909 at Yale, when the latter was featuring Ted McCoy. The Hoosiers were almost all fourth-year men, big, strong and fast and well coached.

"The Notre Dame team, which I look upon as the champions of the West, had one of the best balanced elevens I have seen in recent years, every man being especially powerful in his particular position. Their offense was truly great, yet simple. The team had wonderful driving power. Iowa, Illinois and Wisconsin all had grand teams. Iowa will be formidable again next season, for she will have back most of her players of this year, including the Devine brothers and Slater, the great colored tackle. Illinois always has a raft of good material to draw on and should be up in front next fall. Wisconsin, I understand, loses most of her seasoned men through graduation next spring.

"Northwestern will lose but two members of this year's team, Lassiter, a tackle, and 'Bud' Lane, halfback and punter. We have the prospects of a strong eleven for next fall and, unless signs fail, we will be right up in the first division."

ASK SECOND STATE TO BAR FIGHTER

Toledo, Ohio, Nov. 30.—The Toledo boxing commission today took further action to limit the activities of Chuck Wiggins, Indianapolis light-heavyweight, by asking Commissioner Bigger of Michigan to bar Wiggins from participating in bouts in that state.

Wiggins was first barred here when he failed to post a $200 forfeit for his scheduled bout with Tommy Gibbons on Dec. 6. The commissioner gave him until 6 o'clock last Saturday night to post the money and voted to bar him when he failed.

A telegram, purporting to come from Wiggins' manager last night, said the amount of the forfeit had been sent by wire. The commission had received no word of its arrival this morning and decided on drastic action.

FOOTBALL RECORD.

Seven Consecutive Forward Passes Believed to Set World's Record.

Marietta, Ohio, Nov. 30.—What is believed to have been established as a world's record for consecutive forward passing was made by Don Whiting, star of the Marietta college football team, in the game with Boston college Nov. 20. Whiting completed seven consecutive forward passes for seven straight first downs. The eighth attempt was incomplete.

City Footballers to Meet.

Members of the Duluth City football eleven will hold their final meeting of the year this evening at Owls' hall, West Superior street, at 7:30. All of the officers and players are urged to be present, as much important business will be transacted.

Walquist to Lead Illinois.

Urbana, Ill., Nov. 30.—Lawrence Walquist of Rockford, Ill., last night was elected captain of the 1921 University of Illinois football team. Walquist played halfback and next season will be his last.

NOTABLE ENTRIES FOR BIG FUTURITY

New York, Nov. 30.—More than 2,500 nominations have been made for the Pimlico futurity, a new fixture for 2-year-olds offered by the Maryland Jockey club.

The race, which will be at one mile and which with its $10,000 added money value will be the richest juvenile event in the country, will be inaugurated at the autumn meeting in 1921. Five hundred and twenty-six yearlings from the leading stables in the country have been nominated. At the same time the books for the 1922 race closed with an entry of 705 weanlings.

The biggest entry, of course, was made for the 1923 race, which will be the first run under futurity conditions. For this 1,332 entries were made.

H. P. Whitney, who was the most liberal nominator for the event, led the list with ninety-two entries for the 1923 race.

Maj. August Belmont has named nine weanlings and twenty-three mares. Others who have made nominations for the event are E. R. Bradley, J. N. Camden, W. R. Cox, A. B. Hancock, the Greentree stable, Sam Hildreth, Max Hirsch, W. S. Kilmer, A. K. Macomber, John E. Madden, J. K. L. Ross, E. F. Simms, John Sanford, L. S. Thompson, J. E. Widener, George D. Widener, R. T. Wilson, Ral Parr and Phil Chinn.

A new stake will be offered by the Saratoga association for the improvement of the breed of horses at its August meeting next year. It will be known as the Consolation, and is designed to be a sporting fixture, in that it will be a consolation for those 2-year-olds which, named now for the bigger races, are found not to be quite good enough to carry colors with the best in the Hopeful, Grand Union, United States Hotel or Spinaway stakes.

The race, which will be under selling conditions and will have a guaranteed value of $7,500, will be run in two divisions, one event being at five and a half furlongs and the other at three-quarters of a mile. In the first division the top price will be $3,500 and be graded down to $500, and the second will start at $7,500 and run down to $1,500.

Entries for the big 2-year-old fixtures for 1921 and the Travers for 1922 will close with A. McL. Earlocker, the racing secretary, on Nov. 27.

SUPERIOR REFUSES STATE TITLE GAME

Green Bay, Wis., Nov. 30.—Superior high school of Superior yesterday refused to play the East high school of this city for the state high school football championship. Negotiations for the game were started when East high defeated the Appleton high team two weeks ago. According to telephone conversations with Superior school officials, the game was called off because of lack of interest.

WELLING SUSPENDED FOR TENDLER FIGHT

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 30.—Joe Welling, Chicago boxer, was yesterday suspended from fighting in Wisconsin for one year by the state boxing commission after Referee Walter Houlehen and other witnesses testified that Welling had made no effort to do his best in a recent bout here with Lew Tendler. Tommy Walsh, Welling's manager, admitted that his protege had made a poor showing, but ascribed failure to get him to speed up to an injured hand, said to have been sustained by Welling in an early round.

The movement was started by the Alexandria, La., chamber of commerce and has been taken up actively by the Pine Bluff chamber of commerce.

McGuire Chicago Captain.

Chicago, Nov. 30.—Charles McGuire was elected captain of the 1921 University of Chicago football team last night.

MAT MEN ARE TROOPING IN

Bobbie Janquin, Featherweight Champion, Now in Duluth.

By SANDY MACDONALD.

With a temporary lull in the boxing sport at the Head of the Lakes, the herculean lads of the mat are popping up from here and there eager to go to the canvas.

Some time back George Hill, the "Iowa Tiger," sent a flaring challenge broadcast throughout the Northwest in quest of heavyweight opponents, but up to this morning no Davids came out of the wilderness to accept the defi. Much to our surprise, Gus A. Gustafson, a giant son of Sweden, who won three different amateur championships in the wrestling sport at Chicago last winter, came in today, announcing that he would like nothing better than to meet Hill. Gustafson, who is one of the best wrestlers developed in late years at Illinois A. C. in Chicago, is now making his home in Duluth, being employed by a West end printery.

Accepts Hill's Challenge.

"I saw Hill's challenge when it was issued, but was in some doubt as to whether I could get in shape," said Gus. "I started light training several weeks ago and now find that I can come back to my old-time form in a hurry. I know Hill's reputation. He is a hard, fast wrestler, but I think I can beat him. Hill weighs about 190 pounds, while I usually go in at about 188."

Gustafson is a tall, well-built athlete who took a prominent part in various branches of athletics during the World war, in which he participated as an American soldier.

McCurdy Meets Thompson.

Matt McCurdy, the Two Harbors welterweight, who is about to launch a campaign which he expects will net him the American title in that division of the mat sport, has signed to meet Charley Thompson of Drenen, Iowa, at Two Harbors on the evening of Dec. 10. Thompson is said to be one of the best in the country at his weight and if McCurdy can defeat him new honors will await him in his chosen profession. McCurdy is a native of Two Harbors and has taken a prominent part in various sports there for years. His friends say he has shown special talent for the wrestling game and they firmly believe he will be a big success as a grappler.

No sooner had McCurdy and his manager departed through the portals of The Herald sports sanctum than in whisked Bobbie Janquin, a 125 pounder, who claims the featherweight mat championship of the world. His home is in Waverly, N. Y. He has enough class to attract Louis Zorbas, former holder of the lightweight wrestling championship of the Northwest, and the latter will manage him.

Threw Daly in Hurry.

Duluth fans will recall Owen Daly of Iowa, holder of the American lightweight title, who defeated Zorbas several years ago. Well, Janquin took on Daly and beat him three falls in thirty minutes. No wonder, then, that Louis wants to manage Bobbie. Janquin won his featherweight spurs in New York city last winter when he defeated Jack Tretlotti, one of the best little wrestlers of recent years.

"I will give away a lot of weight to McCurdy of Two Harbors if he will meet me," said Janquin when he learned that the North Shore grappler was in our midst. "I think I can spot him twenty pounds and defeat him. I hope they will let me try.

LEGION QUINTS TO PLAY BY DISTRICTS

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 30.—American Legion basket ball in the state this year will be played for district championships and the playoff for the state championship held late in the year, if present plans are carried out.

Almost every post in the state is represented by a basket ball team, many of which are composed of men who have college or high school training. Those interested in the development of the state championship series declare that the working out of the series is only a matter of perfecting schedules.

B. D. Grogan of Mankato, commander of the Second district, with the support of the Seventh, Eighth and Ninth districts has begun a campaign which is expected to develop the state-wide league.

The office of the state commander has not taken action in the matter, but has expressed a desire that the district organizations be perfected. As soon as this is done the state office will begin work for the playoff of the district championships leading to semi-final and final games which will decide the championship.

Britton Wins Decision.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 30.—Jack Britton, welterweight champion of the world, was awarded the referee's decision in a ten-round bout last night with Jake Abel, Atlanta welterweight. Abel was knocked down in the third, but continued fighting hard throughout.

Team Travels Far.

Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 30.—The Cleveland West Tech high school football team will play the Fitchburg, Mass., high school team in that city next Saturday, it was announced today.

Will Not Defend Title.

New York, Nov. 30.—William Plant, national seven-mile walking champion, will not defend his title in the annual pedestrian championship contest at Yonkers on Dec. 5, he announced today. Business cares, he said, had prevented sufficient training for the event.

Navy Loses Only Three Men.

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 30.—Navy's football team loses but three men by graduation next year—Capt. Ewen, right end, and the guards, Moore and Wilkie.

UNIVERSITY FOR LABOR

Idea Evidenced in Formation of Trade Union Colleges.

Chicago, Nov. 30.—Organized labor's interest in educational facilities of its own, illustrated by the authorization of a committee by the American Federation of Labor to study the possibilities of a central labor university, is evidenced in the formation of "trade union colleges" in a number of the large cities of the country and elsewhere in other educational enterprise, according to Charles B. Stillman, president of the American Federation of Teachers.

Among the trade union colleges established are those at Boston, Washington, Philadelphia and Seattle, Mr. Stillman said.

In New York city he said the ladies' garment workers' union had secured the co-operation of the board of education in providing school rooms and teachers and had supplied a number of lecturers of their own. More recently, he added, various unions there have united in developing this educational work on a larger scale.

Classes Weekly.

In Chicago the schools committee of the Chicago Federation of Labor and the educational committee of the Women's Trade Union League are co-operating with the board of education holding classes once a week at the rooms of the offices of the Women's Trade Union league. The board of education supplies the teachers, with the exception of the public speaking teacher, who is a University of Chicago professor and not on the public school payroll. Besides public speaking, parliamentary law, essentials in English, and short stories constitute the material offered.

"The increasing interest in the establishment of labor colleges is a very hopeful sign in this reconstruction period," Mr. Stillman said. "There is the most urgent need for trained civic and industrial intelligence. Organized labor has always recognized this, as is shown by its vigorous part in the creation and development of our public school system.

Provided Only by Workers.

"But hundreds of thousands of workers have been prevented by economic reasons from continuing their education as far as they desired. The night school classes of the public schools partially meet the situation for large numbers, but often the special subjects and character of instruction needed can be provided only by the workers themselves, in co-operation with members of public school, college and university faculties.

"Courses in English, literature, public speaking, history (political and industrial) civics and citizenship, labor legislation, history of the labor movement, economics, mathematics, sanitation and social hygiene, have proved most in demand.

"The movement has already demonstrated not only that labor will extend this educational work under its own auspices, but that the public schools will broaden their educational facilities for adults to help meet this growing demand."

$250 Reward

Knight, storekeeper at the Duluth steel plant, has been appointed his local assistant, according to information given out today. Mr. Rhodes will not come to Duluth but will leave Mr. Knight in charge of the local office.

The purchasing offices of the company have been located in the Wolvin building, but are being transferred today to the company's administration building at Morgan Park. Mr. Knight will assume charge of the office at once. The successor to Mr. Knight as storekeeper at the local plant has not been announced as yet.

NORTH DAKOTA BANKERS MEET

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 30.—Bankers representing all parts of the state, members of the executive committee of the North Dakota Bankers' association, are considering ways and means for the stabilizing of banks and finances at an executive session at the Fargo Commercial club today. J. J. Early of the Bank of Valley City, chairman of the committee, and about twenty other bankers are in attendance.

Among the problems under discussion are:

The effect of the wheat strike in preventing small banks from liquidating loans.

The effect of the initiated laws on bank reserves.

Discussion of the offer of Twin Cities and Eastern farm mortgage companies to return to the farm mortgage field in North Dakota if the initiated laws are not repealed.

The advisability of repealing initiated laws.

A group of Northwestern North Dakota bankers is said to favor the repeal of the law to allow withdrawals of public funds now deposited in the Bank of North Dakota. A majority of the bankers are reported to favor the retention of the initiated laws, and a canvass by the Fargo Forum of the legislators indicates the repeal of the law is not favored.

The closing today of the Farmers' & Merchants' bank of Cogswell, Sargent county, was announced in messages received by Fargo banks. Depleted reserve was given as the cause, officials of the bank saying that the closing is temporary.

TESTIMONY RESUMES IN BANKRUPTCY CASE

How he had removed marks on lumber which designated it as reserved for other companies and had placed the marks of the Rathborne, Hair & Ridgeway company on it was described by Emil E. Erickson, an employe of the company, in the hearing before Referee W. O. Pealer to determine how the assets of the bankrupt Wilcox Lumber company should be distributed.

Erickson claimed he worked under instructions given him by Frank Long, who was at the time employed by the Wilcox company. He claimed Long showed him a letter from the Wilcox people directing him to have sufficient lumber marked up to fill the Chicago company's order for 3,400,000 feet. A few days later Long is said to have given his directions, he changed employers and went to work for Rathborne, Hair & Ridgeway.

In all, Erickson marked up 3,400,000 feet, he testified today. There were only 4,000,000 feet of lumber in the yards. Much of the lumber already bore marks showing that it had been reserved for other companies, but whenever he found these, he substituted the "RHR", he testified.

The hearings were resumed today after adjournment last Wednesday to permit attorneys for the seven claimants to go home for Thanksgiving. Many of the companies are represented by Minneapolis and Chicago firms. Erickson had not completed his testimony early this afternoon.

NORTH DAKOTA FARMERS PERFECT ORGANIZATION

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 30.—Nearly 500 farmers representing all agricultural counties of North Dakota gathered here today to perfect the states organization of the National Wheat Growers' association, a league of the farmers of eight states in the wheat belt to secure a better price for wheat.

The statement by Abraham Slaughter, Oklahoma organizer for the association, that the farmers "must attend to the business end of their business if the Middle West is to prosper," brought cheers.

Wisconsin Gets $118,750 Inheritance Tax.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 30.—The inheritance tax check of the late H. C. Frick, Pittsburgh steel magnate, amounting $118,750, was received here today by County Treasurer Rinder. Mr. Frick owned stock in the Chicago & Northwestern railroad and was a large real estate holder in Northern Wisconsin.

Leavenworth, Kan., Nov. 30.—Bruno Castarello, sentenced from Milwaukee, Wis., to serve four years on a charge of white slavery, was released this morning from the Federal prison here upon completion of his term. He immediately was taken into custody by an immigration officer and held on a warrant for deportation to Germany. Castarello was received at the prison Nov. 6, 1917.

ACTION AGAINST SANDLER FUR SHOPPE ON TRIAL

The action of Mabel Hamilton against the Sandler Fur Shoppe is on trial before District Judge L. S. Nelson and a jury today. The action was filed to recover $150 claimed as the value of a seal muff and neckpiece and $90 damages for alleged retention of the furs.

The plaintiff alleges that she took the two furs to the Sandler Fur Shoppe for repairs on Oct. 10, 1919, and that Sandler converted the property to his own use. She not only demands the value of the furs but damages for their retention.

ON THE IRON RANGES

WOUNDS COMPANION TAKING HIM FOR DEER

Two Harbors, Minn., Nov. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fred E. Bergren of Proctor is in the local hospital as the result of another careless shooting accident which took place near Mile 60 on the Iron Range yesterday afternoon, when Charles Hackbrath, his hunting partner, shot him through the groin.

When Hackbrath discovered his error he summoned assistance as quickly as possible and the wounded man was moved to Fairbanks and thence to the hospital in this city on a freight train where the bullet was removed and his wounds dressed. This morning physicians in charge say that unless complications set in he will recover.

Hackbrath, who accompanied his victim to this city, says that he was walking along through the brush and claims he distinctly saw an object which he concluded was a deer and after taking careful aim he fired. His victim shouted and upon rushing to the scene Hackbrath discovered his mistake. Bergren had killed a deer and was in the act of dressing it when he was hit. Apparently Hackbrath got a glimpse of the deer as it was being moved by Bergren in the process of dressing it and took what hunters often call a "chance shot" in hopes that he would accidentally hit it or drive it out to where he could get a better shot at it.

MAKE IMPROVEMENTS AT RAPIDS PAPER MILL

Grand Rapids, Minn., Nov. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—The new paper machine is being installed in the mill of the Itasca Paper company here under the direction of F. H. Fuller, an experienced machine man, who has made a specialty for many years of installing paper machines and kindred machinery.

The management is making other improvements. A new concrete floor is to be put down in the beater room to replace the old wooden floor which is being torn away.

A new second floor was completed last week in the generator house on the river. This floor of concrete was put in to keep the water from coming up upon the belts. A niche, 8 by 12 inches, had to be cut in the concrete wall all the way round in order to put in this flooring and it was a job of considerable proportions.

Work is about completed on the extension of the hot pond. An addition, sixty feet long, six feet deep and fourteen feet wide, is being made of concrete and in the spring a further extension of seventy or eighty feet will be made.

McEACHIN'S APPOINTMENT PLEASES HIBBING FOLKS

Hibbing, Minn., Nov. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—D. D. McEachin, whose appointment to the position on the state fair board to succeed the late John Dwan of Two Harbors is just announced, has left for Chicago to attend a meeting of members of the International Association of Fairs and Expositions. He will also attend the international live stock show.

Coincident with the announcement of Mr. McEachin's appointment comes word from Michigan that John Doelle of Houghton, a life-long friend of McEachin, is being groomed for a place on the Michigan state fair board. The Michigan man is well known among many Hibbing people.

Boosting Cloverland will be McEachin's motto as a member of the state board, he says. Northern Minnesota as an agricultural country will be boosted in particular.

The appointment of the local man to the position is considered a tribute to Mr. McEachin's efficient work as treasurer of the St. Louis County Fair association, and gives general satisfaction here.

Makes a Family Supply of Cough Remedy

Really better than ready-made cough syrups, and saves about $2. Easily and quickly prepared.

If you combined the curative properties of every known "ready-made" cough remedy, you probably could not get as much real curative power as there is in this simple home-made cough syrup, which is easily prepared in a few minutes.

Get from any druggist 2½ ounces of Pinex, pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with syrup, using either plain granulated sugar syrup, clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, as desired. The result is a full pint of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Tastes pleasant and never spoils.

This Pinex and Syrup preparation gets right at the cause of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the phlegm, stops the nasty throat tickle and heals the sore, irritated membranes so gently and easily that it is really astonishing.

A day's use will usually overcome the ordinary cough and for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma, there is nothing better.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations to break up severe coughs.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

VIRGINIA STORE THIEF CAPTURED

Virginia, Minn., Nov. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Three boys entered an army goods store here today and while two engaged the proprietor in conversation a third helped himself to goods and made for the door but Manager Wright outran him and turned him over to the police. His companions were not taken.

The boys' names are withheld and it is expected the one caught will be turned over to the juvenile court.

LIVED THREE YEARS LESS THAN CENTURY

Grand Rapids, Minn., Nov. 30.—Funeral services have just been held for Thomas Adams, native of New Hampshire, aged 97, Minnesota Civil war veteran, who died at his home here Friday and is survived by his widow and two children, a daughter, Mrs. Mae Swanson, residing at Cloquet, who came immediately to Grand Rapids upon receiving news of her father's death, and a son, Guy C. Adams of Dunn Center, N. D.

Mr. Adams came to Zumbrota, Goodhue county, in 1859, and served during the Civil war in Company F of the First Minnesota infantry. Later he operated a farm near Bemidji for a number of years until he became feeble from old age and came to Grand Rapids in 1913, making his home here ever since.

MUCH LOGGING BY SETTLERS PREDICTED

Hibbing, Minn., Nov. 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—According to Forest Ranger D. L. McIntosh, who issues permits for the cutting of timber in this portion of St. Louis and Itasca counties, there will be more logging this winter than in a number of years.

The Duluth & Iron Range Railroad company has sold considerable timber lands in the Meadowlands, Tiovola and Floodwood districts and many small loggers will cut timber on their holdings. The Northern Lumber company will have logging camps in the Goodlands country, south of Hibbing. George Harvey will have camps north of Chisholm in section 60-18.

The cut of pulpwood will be extensive this winter as the shortage of paper has compelled the mill owners to offer big prices for pulpwood and allowances have been made for a mixture with balsam, so much in demand are the paper ingredients this year.

Why Be Afraid of Good Food?

Eat What You Like Best But Follow It With a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet.

When the stomach sours or becomes gassy, with heartburn, it needs the alkaline effect to offset the acid condition. This you get from one or two Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Relief is usually very prompt. The regular use of these tablets after meals gives the stomach and small intestine substantial help to digest food and you will then be bold enough to eat baked beans, fried eggs, sausage, buckwheat cakes and many other things you thought would make your stomach miserable. Get a 60-cent box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at any drug store and you will then eat whatever you like and be fortified against the acid, sour stomach due to indigestion or dyspepsia.

INCOME TAX RULING IS OF VITAL INTEREST TO MERCHANTS; INVENTORY

Merchants should apply at once for permission to take advantage of a new ruling of the income tax department which permits them to take inventory on a market basis. J. J. Robinson, who, for several years, has conducted the income tax department of The Herald, has pointed out the necessity of such action on the part of merchants that they may save themselves something, and in doing so through The Herald, said today:

"The committee on appeals and review of the income tax department recently issued a memorandum of great importance to merchants and manufacturers. The ruling allows a taxpayer, who had been taking his inventory at the close of 1918 and 1919 upon a cost basis, to elect to take his inventory at the close of 1920 upon a market basis.

"However, in order to take advantage of this ruling a taxpayer must file with the commissioner of internal revenue a request for permission to change his basis of pricing inventories from cost to cost or market, whichever is lower.

"The merchant or manufacturer who fails to apply for such permission may find himself obliged to value his inventory at the close of 1920 at cost for income tax purposes. This will prove to be a very costly experience for any business man in these days of dropping markets."

STANDARD OIL HELP MAY BE SHAREHOLDERS

Chicago, Nov. 30.—The 25,000 employes of the Standard Oil company (Indiana) may become shareholders in the company with the aid of the company after Jan. 1, according to an announcement last night by W. H. Stewart, chairman of the board of directors.

The company operates in Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Michigan, Montana, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Missouri, Kansas, Wyoming, Oklahoma and Wisconsin. Men and women in all states connected with the company will be concerned.

Two hundred representatives of the 25,000 employes heard the plan outlined last night at the close of the second annual caucus between employes and employers.

The company purposes to permit an employe to buy shares during the next five years in accordance with the amount of his salary. Mr. Stewart said a man drawing $2,000 a year would be permitted to buy $1,000 worth of stock. Of that amount, the company will pay half, the employe the remainder.

"We believe the man with the cash interest in the company will realize that part of his work is for himself, thereby increasing the efficiency of the organization," he said.

Negro Hanged.

Miami, Fla., Nov. 30.—J. B. Harris, a 19-year-old negro, was lynched by a mob yesterday near Princeton, following an alleged attack upon a white woman. He was led into a forest where it was reported the body was left hanging to a tree.

ACHES AND PAINS DROVE AWAY SLEEP

Illinois Man Tells Others How They Can Save Themselves Much Misery.

"I was so run down that I ached all over my body," says Mr. Patrick Dillon, who lives at No. 1102 North Neil street, Champaign, Ill. "My blood was thin and I always felt cold. There was a constant pain in the back of my neck and I had rheumatism in my legs. Sometimes I got cramps in my feet and soreness in my joints. I woke up many nights suffering intense pain and was unable to get back to sleep. I would have to get up and walk about my room to restore the circulation before I was able to lie comfortably in bed. I was unable to work for seven weeks.

"I had read about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills many times and finally decided to try them. I felt a little better after taking one box so I kept on with the treatment. The pain gradually became less severe and then disappeared. I am able to work now. I sleep soundly and no longer have chills. I have told many of my friends about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for I have great faith in them."

Keeping the blood built up is the secret of being well in winter. The blood goes to every part of the body and if it is rich and red it carries health and strength to every organ, the digestion is toned up, the nerves are strengthened and aching muscles are made strong. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will supply the blood with the needed elements. Do not delay but get a box at your druggist's today and see how surely Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will give you new vitality.

Write today to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for the free booklet "Building Up the Blood." Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 60 cents per box.

RHEUMATISM

Rheuma, the wonderful rheumatism remedy sold by druggists everywhere, gives quicker and more lasting relief than other remedies costing many times as much.

Rheuma helps pass the deadly poisonous secretions into the bowels and kidneys, from which they are quickly thrown off in a natural, healthy way.

Read what a reputable physician says about Rheuma: "I have made a most careful investigation of the formula employed in the manufacture of Rheuma, and I heartily recommend it as a remedy for all forms of rheumatism. I find Rheuma far in advance of the methods generally employed in the treatment of rheumatism, and altogether different in composition from the remedies usually prescribed."—Dr. M. C. Lyons.

This should give any sufferer from rheumatism confidence to try Rheuma. Lyceum Pharmacy will supply you and guarantee money refunded if Rheuma does not give complete and lasting relief.—Advertisement.

GRAIN PRICES CLOSE LOWER

Duluth Board of Trade, Nov. 30.—The wheat market slumped around the close. December spring wheat closed 2¼c off at $1.46¾ asked; March, 1¼c off at $1.49¾ bid; December winter, 2¼c off at $1.45¾; December durum, 2c off at $1.49 bid, and March 3c off at $1.51½ askde.

Rye closed 2c off at $1.36 for spot; December, 2c off at $1.29 bid and May, ½c off at $1.29½ asked.

Oats closed 1c off at 41½@42½c for spot and barley unchanged at 50@67c for spot.

After selling off 2c during the early trading, the wheat market became strong today on reported export demand and the development of Eastern inquiry. Some grain was sold to be loaded out under extended insurance. December spring wheat gained 1c up til the non hour at $1.50 after selling off to $1.47. March advanced 2c at $1.53. December durum broke 2c, and then recovered to $1.51. March broke 2c, and then braced up 1¼c at $1.54.

Good inquiry turned up in rye, with foreign trade a factor. A fair business was put through on this market. The cash wheat market was fairly active, with operators bidding for the grain on the tables to complete loading contracts. The basis was unchanged. There were on track here for the day 321 cars of all grains, including spring wheat, 26; durum, 217; winter, 3; oats, 1, rye, 55, and flax, 19.

Shipping conditions were far below par for the close of the regular season which ends at midnight tonight. On account of the lack of stocks in the elevators, a number of steamers were compelled to clear light for the Canadian Head of the Lakes for loads for Buffalo delivery. A good tonnage of grain is in store over there and a boat was reported to be loading at every elevator this morning. Grain men are of the opinion that the elevators at Fort William and Port Arthur will not fill up before about next March. It is thought that the elevators here will have space to take care of everything coming in all winter as they will start in practically empty.

Flax Closes Weak.

Trade in flaxseed was stagnant and the market narrow. Prices moved up moderately at start with fair support from crushers and limited offerings. Another cargo of flax is being loaded out of the elevators today for the East. The close was weak and declines were shown in absence of any bidding.

November flax closed 3c off at $1.95 nominally; December, 3c off at $1.95 asked; January, 3c off at $1.98 nominally, and May, 1c off at $2.09 asked.

At Winnipeg, November flax closed 8c off at $1.92, and December, 1c off at $1.90 bid.

At Buenos Aires, December flax opened at $1.53½.

E. W. Wagner of Chicago says his advices from over the Northwest are to the effect that the territory would pass through the winter without financial disturbance as a result of the banks being connected with the Federal reserve system.

Parker Paine of Logan & Bryan, Chicago, was a visitor on the Duluth board of trade today. He did not express any views regarding the future course of prices, but said a fair movement of wheat and other grains is looked for by Chicago operators during the winter months.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Chicago, Nov. 30.—Rural bank failures put bulls at a disadvantage today in the wheat market. Besides, there was considerable disposition to regard the advance during the last few days as sufficient for the time being. On the other hand, cash houses were moderate buyers of the December delivery. Opening prices, which ranged from the same as yesterday's finish to 1¾c lower, with December $1.55 to $1.55½ and March $1.52 to $1.53, were followed by brief rallies and then by setbacks all around.

Scarcity of red winter wheat in all markets was a strengthening factor later, together with meagerness of country offerings and continued export demand. Note of the failure of a Seattle grain firm, however, led to renewed weakness after midday. Prices closed unsettled at the same as yesterday's finish to 3c lower, with December $1.56 to $1.56½ and March $1.50 to $1.50½.

Corn sympathized with wheat. After opening ¼c lower to ⅜c higher, including May at 73c to 73½c, the market hardened a little, but then underwent a general sag.

In the better dealings, the market continued to be swayed by wheat. Prices closed heavy, ½c to 1¼c net lower, with May 72⅝c to 72¾c.

Oats were easier, like other grain, starting ⅛c to ½c down, May 49⅛c to 49¼c, and descending a trifle more.

Higher quotations on hogs gave firmness to provisions.

MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 30.—Wheat futures held within the narrowest price range in some time today. The opening was lower on scattered commission house selling and poor buying power and a decline of 2⅛c was scored. Rumor of export buying started a rally, but the market dragged on the advance and reacted frequently. At best the futures were 1@1½c over yesterday's close.

Good spring wheat was in brisk demand at unchanged premiums. Coarse grains were irregular and nervous without much fluctuation. Corn futures dragged a fraction for a time but later advanced ¾c to 1c over last close on Liverpool strength. Oats lacked support and dragged ½c to ⅝c under yesterday's close with local pit trade quiet. Rye dipped 1c to 1½c and rallied with wheat, but December held poorly under liquidation. Barley eased and rallied with the leaders. Flax futures bulged on light offerings and scattered buying orders.

DECLINES IN STOCKS

Lowest Prices of the Session Made in the Last Hour.

New York, Nov. 30.—Apart from moderate recessions in the copper group, stocks were variably higher at the opening of today's session. Oils were the strongest issues, Mexican Petroleum adding 1⅝ points to yesterday's substantial rally. Crucible Steel and General Electric led the popular industrials at large fractional gains and Norfolk & Western and Southern Pacific, both selling ex-dividend, were in demand. Beet Sugar and Virginia-Carolina Chemical featured the firm specialties. Preliminary quotations for foreign exchange were irregular.

Shorts made a series of drives against speculative issues. Replogle, Vanadium and Bethlehem Steels, Stromberg Carburetor and Chile Copper were depressed 2 to 6½ points. Montana Power and the cheaper rails, including New Haven, Seaboard Air Line preferred and Texas-Pacific also were heavy, but United States Steel, dividend-paying rails and high-grade oils were only slightly affected. Mexican Petroleum increased on early gains, while Pan-American and Invincible Oil rose 4 points. Call money was unchanged to 6 per cent.

The market became more irregular at noon, rallies in steel, shipping, rubber and textile shares being offset by further selling of rails. Western Pacific, Minneapolis & St. Louis, Western Maryland, second preferred, and New Orleans, Texas & Mexico fell 1 to 2 points.

Lowest prices of the day were made in the last hour when Southern Pacific broke sharply, steels and coppers extended their losses and oils canceled their gains. The closing was heavy. Sales approximated 775,000 shares.

Paine, Webber & Co. wired from New York: "Subsidence of liquidation has apparently developed and an oversold condition has naturally appeared with the improved technique, indicating a bear tendency to retire short contracts and elevate prices further. As heretofore suggested, with bankers desiring to get rid of weak accounts taken over and with both merchants and bankers anxious to make a holiday market for goods heretofore unsalable, it is logical for them to begin to co-operate for a more cheerful atmosphere generally, something that ought to create moderate improvement in the stock market during the next few weeks, especially in view of the strong technical condition and the prospect for easing money rates."

DENFELD AUCTION IS BIG SUCCESS

Last evening the Denfeld Boys' club held a basket social at the high school. One hundred and fifty of the Denfeld students and members of the alumni attended and made the affair most successful.

Much credit was given the girls of the school for the novel and original ideas worked on the baskets to be auctioned. The bidding for the baskets was fast and spirited from start to finish, due to clever auctioneering by Edward Hosted.

Immediately preceding the auction a short program was given. Miss Strong, music supervisor at the school, sang a solo. Temple Carter played a cello solo, and Miss Arthur gave a reading. All the soloists were accompanied by Miss Strong, and responded to several encores.

Following the program the auction was staged and all the baskets disposed of in record time. Sixty-two dollars were netted for the expense fund of the Denfeld delegates to the state older boys' conference at Faribault.

Delegates were to be elected late this afternoon at the high school and these representatives will leave Friday for the three-day convention. At the next regular meeting of the club the delegates will report and give the club the benefit of the new ideas in high school work that they gained at the conference.

Delegates from Denfeld, together with representatives from Central high school and the Central boys' department Y. M. C. A., assure a strong representation from this city.

COMPLETE STILL AND LIQUOR SEIZED

Twenty-six gallons of moonshine and a complete still were the spoils gathered in last night by the Duluth police in a raid at the home of Tony Mastakaski, 9508 House street. Tony was placed under arrest on a charge of having illicit liquor in his possession and pleaded not guilty when arraigned before Judge Harry W. Lanners in the West Duluth division of the police court. Trial was set for Dec. 7 at 10 a. m. His bail was set at $100.

The raid was conducted at 9 o'clock last night by Sergeant David Perry, assisted by Patrolmen Walker and Dillon and Federal Officer Fred Davis. Information had been given the police that there was moonshine in the house and that it was being manufactured there.

A search of the premises failed to bring forth any of the liquor until one of the officers made a demand for it. The information then brought to light the fact that the still was in the barn. A search of the barn failed to bring forth anything until the officers began digging in the hayloft. The still was found underneath six feet of the hay.

The officers returned to the house and after a search found a loose step in the stairway leading to the second floor. Removing this step, brought to light the twenty-six gallons of moonshine. A barrel, three-quarters full of mash, was found in the basement.

BLIND EVANGELIST AT CENTRAL BAPTIST CHURCH

Ian MacDonald, the blind Scotch evangelist and Bible teacher, will be at the Central Baptist church for six nights, beginning this evening and closing Sunday evening. The services will begin with a song service each evening at 7:45.

Mr. MacDonald was born in the West Indies, where his father was a physician. According to his own story, he had drifted into all kinds of life, drinking fastened itself upon him until his experience in an accident in bridge building. In an explosion six of his men were instantly killed. He was thrown over an embankment of some twenty feet, his leg was broken and both of his eyes were gone. After his release from the hospital, being led around by a boy, he accidentally found himself in a religious service, where Dr. F. B. Meyers of London, England, was preaching. When he got back to his room he says he "cursed God and the Bible," but after a few days, like Saul of Tarsus, the light came and MacDonald was converted. Since then he has been giving his services all over this country. Meetings are open for everyone.

To Avoid Rough, Coarse, Chapped, Blotchy Skin

Most skins require constant grooming at this season to keep them from becoming unduly red, blotchy, coarse, rough or harsh, or if such condition has developed, to overcome it. In such cases it is particularly inadvisable to keep piling on cosmetics which clog the pores and make the complexion worse than ever.

It's a lot more sensible to use ordinary mercolized wax, which literally absorbs a spoiled complexion. Apply the wax, like cold cream, before retiring. Next morning, in washing it off, you'll wash away fine, flour-like particles of the unsightly cuticle. Repeat for a week or more and you'll have an entirely new skin—soft, white, spotless and beautiful as a child's. One ounce of mercolized wax, procurable at any druggist's, is all you'll need.—Advertisement.

FARM LANDS

THE QUESTION OF INCOME

We have solved the question of income for the man of moderate means who wants to go to California and enjoy the wonderful balmy days of the winter months among the orchards and gardens. Our ten and twenty-acre poultry and fruit farms in the suburbs of beautiful Sacramento, Cal., offer the way. Our new book, "Poultry and Orchards," describes these little farms and tells how the same opportunity is offered to you as to those of your old friends and neighbors now living there. How they have their modern bungalows, schools, churches, theaters, libraries and markets close at hand, with their growing orchards and steady CASH INCOME from poultry, while their trees are coming into bearing. We mail this book on request. Write us.

FARM LANDS

THE QUESTION OF INCOME

We have solved the question of income for the man of moderate means who wants to go to California, and enjoy the wonderful balmy days of the winter months among the orchards and gardens. Our ten and twenty-acre poultry and fruit farms in the suburbs of beautiful Sacramento, Cal., offer the way. Our new book, "Poultry and Orchards," describes these little farms and tells how the same opportunity is offered to you as to those of your old friends and neighbors now living there. How they have their modern bungalows, schools, churches, theaters, libraries and markets close at hand, with their growing orchards and steady CASH INCOME from poultry, while their trees are coming into bearing. We mail this book on request. Write us.
